136

136

INDEX

A

B

C

D

E

F

G

H

I

J

K

L

M

Mc

N

O

P

Q

R

S

T

U

V

W

X Y Z

MISCELLANEOUS

Another Styled-by-HANSON feature — this alphabetic index for your convenience

Naimo Named To Regatta Post

Tony Naimo, Astoria insurance man was unanimously elected to head the 38th annual Astoria Regatta at a meeting of the Regatta board this week.

Officers elected to work with Naimo include Jean Hallaux, vice-president; Ron Graves, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club representative to the board, who was chosen secretary for the association.

Election of directors for the year was postponed pending re-organization of the Regatta board. Dates for the celebration will also be set in the near future.

Dr. John Hickman, outgoing president, pointed out in his statement to the directors that it was doubtful how long the association can continue to operate with the present pattern of loss and use of reserve funds. He did say, however, that the association would have more than $2000 with which to start the year's operations.

Naimo stated that he would meet soon with his new slate of officers to outline plans for the board's re-organization, which he believed has thrown too much responsibility on one man in the past. He expressed his hope that a plan could be adopted that would use past presidents of the association to guide the planning of the [illegible]bration, thus maintaining [illegible]gatta "heritage."

River Ramblings: Latourell Channel Seen as Overnight Boating Anchorage

This 47-foot Stephens Brothers cruiser, Gaylee II, was delivered during the holidays to Mr. and Mrs. John Trullinger, of Portland Yacht club. Interior is completely finished in teak, very unusual for large yachts. Boat has two main staterooms, with temporary sleeping quarters in pilothouse and galley. It has shower, hot water, deep freeze, galley on pilothouse level, two Chrysler V-8 engines, and latest navigational devices.

BY LAWRENCE BARBER
Marine Editor, The Oregonian

The channel into Latourell creek, which skirts the base of Rooster rock, 20 nautical miles east of Portland, can serve as a comfortable overnight anchorage for wintertime cruising parties when the Columbia river stands at a stage of six or seven feet at Vancouver or north Portland yacht clubs, according to a survey made by this department last week.

Mindful that the Oregon state parks department had converted the Rooster Rock area into a great summer playground, with boat launching ramp, parking, and a newly dug boat harbor, the cruiser Rambler made a run to the site to see how conditions now stand when the swimmers, outboarders and tourists are far away.

The entrance to the creek was found to be shoaled sufficiently to make entry impossible for a boat drawing three feet when the Vancouver and yacht club gauges show five feet, as they did last Sunday. Two feet more of depth was found necessary to assure safe entry.

mander Edwin B. Chase, of Everett, Wash., plan to attend.

Portland squadron will graduate 122 men, 36 women and four apprentices at the dinner meeting, which will be the most brilliant event in the squadron's annual calendar. About 400 persons are expected to attend.

An unlimited hydroplane now available for Portland sponsors has features that could make it a headline catcher if it should ever bear the name "Miss Portland." It is a big boat, with a tremendous motor, and it has top-ranking "relatives" in the unlimited hydro class. With proper handling it could make a name for this area. The owners are reported to be talking to prospective sponsors this week.

Astoria Regatta association last week elected Tony Naimo, insurance man, as its president and set the course for its 38th annual regatta next summer. Dr. John Hickman, past president, said the regatta lost money last year and urged Naimo to seek means of getting it back into the black.

'Reborn' Regatta Board Sets Plans For Summer Rites

Astoria Regatta planners recently scuttled their own ship—but they had a new-remodeled craft geared and ready to go this week as planning proceeded for the 38th annual Regatta celebration.

In a recent flurry of activity the board of directors of the association abolished themselves and then reformed under a new plan developed by association president Tony Naimo. Naimo's plan called for dissolution of the unweildy 15-man board and creation of a streamlined 9-man group to replace it. The board unamiously supported him in the reorganization plan.

Officers Head

Under the new setup the officers, previously elected by the board and including, in addition to president Naimo, Jean Hallaux, vice president, Ron Graves, treasurer, and Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary, were the only members of the association left and they in turn selected five new board members.

Board members elected include Joe Nerenberg, Joe Tursi, Vernon Mogenson, Ruel Miesner, and John H. Nellor. A further revision of the bylaws of the group is now in progress and may add advisory membership on the board.

Initial planning by the group favors a broadened county-wide celebration this year, Naimo reports. He said that possibilities already discussed include a 5-day celebration, an expanded court of princesses and a return to the celebration all under one roof, which featured the 1956 event.

Carnival Set

Naimo disclosed that arrangements have already been completed for a carnival to appear after definite dates have been selected for the celebration. Meetings scheduled for later this week are to make an effort to set dates.

New board members were elected for various terms of office ranging from one to three years. New board members will be elected at the rate of three each year.

As another step of the plan, various civic organizations are being asked to participate in the Regatta on an active basis. These helpers will be formed into a group to be called the "planning committee" for the association, Naimo said.

More Help

"In this way we hope to broaden the base of participation, to make the celebration a truly community celebration and one which challenges and interests all segments of the community."

Future board members for the association itself will be chosen from this planning group. The type of participation civic groups might possible undertake is exemplified by the Astoria Anchor club, Naimo said. They are responsible for the coronation, among other events, and they will be given complete financial responsibility for the [illegible]. This is a new departure from [illegible] Regattas.

In other action the board of directors also announced [illegible] will again sponsor a button sale. Organization for the sale and the entire program of sales will be conducted by the Anchor club, according to Naimo.

Anchors Praised

"The spirit of cooperation shown by the Anchor club gives the board of directors confidence that the city want's a celebration, and that the one we are planning will be top-notch," Naimo said.

He pointed out that traditionally the Anchor club has been active in Regatta affairs but this year they have assumed an even larger role.

Design of the buttons has not as yet been completed.

Letters Out

Letters are also in the mail this week to various civic organizations asking them to send representation to a mass Regatta planning committee meeting to be held February 17, according to Mrs. Harry Duff, association secretary, who prepared them. They ask civic groups to participate in the Regatta and suggest possible events to sponsor.

Program planning for [illegible] bration has also starte[illegible] tative basis, and will [illegible] way more firmly after the planning committee meets, Naimo pointed out.

He also urged that the various civic organizations nominate former Regatta board members to the committee. He pointed out that many of the board members who are interested in serving but were "legistated out of a job."

Board Shaved For Regatta

ASTORIA (Special)—The Astoria Regatta Assn. has dissolved its 15-man board and replaced it with a 9-man board in a move to obtain a more efficient working group for its 38th Annual Regatta celebration. The plan was introduced by Association President Tony Naimo.

After the recent elections the only officers left on the board were Naimo, president; Jean Hallaux, vice president; Ron Graves, treasurer, and Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary. These elected five new board members which include Joe Nerenberg, Joe Tursi, Vernon Mogenson, Ruel Miesner and John H. Nellor.

Various civic groups are being asked to participate in the regatta on an active basis. Workers from these groups will form a "planning committee" from which future board members will be selected, Naimo said.

Regatta Sets Planning Of Water Rites

An old Regatta hand Friday nig[illegible] rejoined the crew for the 38th cruise of the annual [illegible]oria Regatta after nearly half-a-hundred citizens, gat[illegible] at the old KAST auditorium to form a communit[illegible] Regatta committee, agreed to merge the ancien[illegible] on of salty seadogs with the land-locked antic[illegible] sidewalk sailors to chart a revived and expande[illegible] r water festival.

Board members in impro[illegible] pontaneous conferences at the session, which [illegible] entatives from ten Astoria organizations r[illegible] gatta orders, named Joe Dyer, whose Rega[illegible] s decades of Astoria Regattas, as directo[illegible] s.

JOE DYER

Thus the famed water events of past Regattas will become a part of a two-pronged celebration outlined for the five days of the celebration. Dyer, along with the Astoria Yacht club will head up the water events, and a director for the major land event, the Oregon Fish Festival, will be announced in the near future.

In Works

President Tony Naimo, of the association, said that the appointment had been offered and an announcement on the selection would be made in the next few days.

Dyer, who came to the session with an admitted 'chip on his shoulder' traced the history of the development of the Regatta and its role in the community. He scored the de-emphasis on the water events which had been the basis for the foundation of the Regatta and he pledged the complete support of himself and the Astoria Yacht club in promoting an 'old time Regatta.'

Dyer said the first Regatta he can remember is the one held in 1908 and at that time he said he remembers sailed where Gyro Field now stands. He raced a sailing boat in the 1910 Regatta and has been interested in the event, and a participant in some way, ever since.

Sailing over some fabulous facts on his cruise through Regatta-lore Dyer told his audience that in 1911 more than $100,000 was raised locally to sponsor the Regatta-Centennial event. But, he pointed out that boats from all over the Pacific Northwest participated in the event.

Aim Told

He reminded the board and the representatives of the Astoria civic organizations on hand that one definition of a Regatta is, "a series of racing or sailing events."

He said that while the community should salute its major industry with the Fish Festival it should not lose sight of the tradition and pageantry of past Regattas in planning new ones.

Action by the board of directors puts Dyer, and the Yacht club, in complete charge of water events for the entire celebration.

Events Told

In addition the board outlined some of the land events that are being considered for the celebration and offered them for sponsorship to the organizations present.

Representatives present included spokesmen from about 10 organizations with a combined membership of more than 1600. Clubs represented included the Anchor Club, Lions Club, Yacht Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Jay-C Ettes, Kiwanis, Sons of Norway, and Rotary Anns.

Those present, in addition to Regatta board members were: Shirly Landwehr, Vivian Graves, Joe Dyer, Ken Classen, Carol Edison, Ruth Shaner, Tom Edison, Dr. Arthur Huber, E. T. Thomason, Chris Anderson, Harold Johansen, Mrs. Robert McLean and Mrs. R. J. Vilkey.

Regatta committee members will meet again on March 21 to outline various phases of the celebrations. The committee is composed of the 9-member board, and the representatives who appeared at the meeting. The representatives are to report back to their respective clubs.

Tone Set

In setting the tone for the meeting, before general discussion began, Naimo pointed out that the idea behind the Regatta is to make a county-wide celebration.

He pointed out that the lack of funds has been one of the major stumbling blocks to marine events in recent years. He said that action by the board merely joins the traditional Regatta events with the more recent developments and combines them in a single celebration. The board had previously sanctioned a re-run for the Oregon Fish Festival.

Also it was brought out at the meeting that the Pirate's Den, a Regatta featur[illegible] will be a [illegible] of the celebr[illegible] again this [illegible]

Seek Home

Meanwhile Regatta planners are still looking for a home and an admiral. They urged anyone with suggestions to call a Regatta board member. Board members are, in addition to president Naimo, Joe Nerenberg, Joe Tursi, Jean Hallaux, John Nellor, Mrs. Beverly Duff, Ruel Meissner, Vernon Mogenson, Ron Graves.

Naimo also pointed out that letters are still being mailed to various service organizations inviting them to participate in the community wide celebration. He said, however, that organizations should get in touch with a board member if they do not receive a letter within the next few days.

Regatta planners were gratified with the response to the initial meeting.

"It proves that the Regatta spirit still lives in the area," Naimo said, "and that Astorians still want a celebration."

Astoria Regatta Sets 5-Day Fete, Resets Fish Rite

Astoria's famed Regatta, the oldest water event in the Pacific northwest, kicks over tradition again this year with a 5-day celebration—one of the longest in recent history of the event, Tony Naimo, president of the association announced today

Dates for the celebration—listed as August 28, 29, 30, 31 and September 1— were not only set for this year, but the board of directors voted to make the final weekend in August the permanent dates for the annual celebration.

However, directors reported today that they are still looking for a site to hold the celebration. They said that it is hoped to find one building to house the entire celebration. A special committee is working on the site project at the present time.

Special Meet

Meanwhile, directors slated a special meeting February 14 at the old KAST auditorium on Commercial street with representatives from civic groups in the city. Letters were sent the various groups earlier by Mrs. Harry Duff, board secretary, urging their participation in the Regatta this year as sponsors of various segments of the program.

It was stressed that the program is still in the formative stage for the 5-day event and that details will be developed with the frida[illegible] meeting with civic group representatives.

In addition the board of directors adopted new by-laws for the association. These provide for the revamped Regatta plan which calls for a board of directors of nine members, a special advisory committee, a Regatta committee composed of representatives of the civic groups and a general membership.

Purpose of the re-organization is to make the board a more flexible group and to cast it more in the role of an executive or policy making group.

Appointments Due

Appointments to the advisory committee will be made this week. It is to be composed of past presidents of the association, the skipper of the Astoria Anchor club, the secretary of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce and other members the board may appoint from time to time. This group will meet with the board and act as advisors in planning the actual events of the celebration.

The Regatta committee, or planning committee, formed under the new by-laws is to comprise the main group of the organization and will function as active participants in the various phases of the celebration. Each organization has been asked to assign two members to the committee. They in turn will be the direct link from the participating organization to the Regatta.

In this way, board offic[illegible] pointed out, they hope to bro[illegible] the base of participation in the [illegible]bration.

Agreements will be made with th[illegible] various civic organizations on [illegible] profit-sharing plan with the association for sponsorship of the various aspects of the program. Board director Joe Nerenberg has been assigned this project.

These agreements, a board official said, will become a part of the by-laws of the association and will guarantee each group that sponsorship of their event will be exclusive to them each year.

More Time

A provision is also included in the by-laws to continue the membership at large in the overall association that has been a Regatta feature since its revival after the end of World War II.

In explaining the decision to conduct a 5-day celebration, board members said it is hoped in this way to spread out the various events and thus give individuals a better opportunity to participate in Regatta events.

They said that with the Oregon Fish Festival as a part of the celebration the normal 3-day celebration did not seem to provide enough time. The board also voted to continue sponsorship of the Oregon Fish Festival as a part of the Regatta. This is the third year in a row that the event will be offered.

Dates Named F[illegible] 5-Day Regatta

Astoria's famed regatta, the [illegible]est water event in the Pac[illegible] northwest, is slated for August [illegible] 29, 30, 31 and September 1, a[illegible]cording to president of the ass[illegible]ciation, Tony Naimo.

The five-day celebration will be the longest in recent history of the event. The board of directors also voted to make the final weekend in August a permanent date for the annual celebration.

The board also adopted new bylaws for the association which call for a board of directors of nine members, a special advisory committee, a Regatta committee composed of representatives of civic groups and a general membership.

The advisory committee will be composed of past presidents of the association, the skipper of the Astoria Anchor club, the secretary of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce and other members the board may appoint from time to time.

Each organization has been asked to assign two members to the Regatta committee, or planning committee, which will comprise the main group of the organization and which will function as active participants in the various phases of the celebration.

Agreements will be made with the various civic groups on a profit-sharing plan for sponsorship of various phases of the program.

For the third year in a row the Oregon Fish Festival will be a part of the Regatta.

Regatta Start Set August 28

ASTORIA (Special) — The Astoria R[illegible]tta is slated for August 28, 29, 30, 31 and September 1, according to the president of the association, Tony Naimo.

The five-day celebration will be the longest in recent history of the event. Directors also voted to make the final weekend in August a permanent date for the annual celebration.

The board also adopted new bylaws which call for a board of nine members, a special advisory committee, a regatta committee composed of representatives of civic groups and a general membership.

Appointees Possible

The advisory committee will be composed of past presidents of the association, the skipper of the Astoria Anchor Club, the secretary of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce and other members the board may appoint from time to time.

Each organization has been asked to assign two members to the regatta committee, or planning committee. This will comprise the main group of the organization and will function as active participants in the various phases of the celebration.

Agreements will be made with the various civic groups on a profit-sharing plan for sponsorship of various phases of the program.

For the third year in a row, the Oregon Fish Festival will be a part of the regatta.

Court Selection To be Expanded

The Astoria Regatta Royal court will be expanded this year to seven lovelies if plans now under consideration by the board of directors go through.

In their effort to make the celebration a county wide event, the board has decided to revive early Regatta history and select princesses from high schools throughout the county.

As now outlined, one girl will be chosen from Star of the Sea, Jewell, Seaside, Knappa and Warrenton high schools, and because of enrollment differences, two from Astoria High School. The queen will be selected from this group at the actual coronation ceremonies by an impartial board of judges on a pre-determined point system.

Under the plan school authorities in every high school will be asked to authorize the selection of a senior girl from their school as a member of the royal court. The method of selection is still to be worked out. As in past years the Anchor Club will have full responsibility of the whole court.

Royal Unit For Regatta Expanded

A bevy of seven beauties from all corners of Clatsop county will reign over the 38th annual Astoria Regatta if plans now being formulated by the association's board of directors are realized.

That's the word today from planners of the annual summer water festival which has slated a five-day run from August 28 through September 1.

The precedent shattering action was instituted at a recent board meeting and a special committee is in the process of working out the final details this week.

3-3

Underscoring their efforts to make the celebration a countywide event, directors set in motion the series of efforts, which if successful, will provide representation on the royal court from every high school in the county.

Plan Not New

The plan, while it is not unique in Regatta annals, none-the-less breaks a precedent that has held since revival of the Regatta following World War II. In earlier history of the event, however, representation on the court came from diverse areas of the county.

Under the plan adopted by the board of directors school authorities in every high school in the county will be approached to ascertain if they will authorize the selection of a senior girl from their school as a member of the royal court. The actual method of selection of the court representative will be made in a method jointly approved by a special Regatta committee and the school officials.

Directors point out that the method of selection and the selection of a girl on the court will not disrupt school activities. They said that since the celebration takes place in the summer months, they seek only the sanction of the school and their cooperation in naming a representative.

Seven Members

As now set up is outlined one girl will be selected from Star of the Sea, Jewell, Seaside, Knappa and Warrenton high schools. Because of the tremendous enrollment differences between these schools and Astoria high school two representatives will be selected from the Astoria school.

Thus the court will be composed of seven members, one of the largest in recent years. The queen will be selected at the actual coronation ceremonies and each girl, regardless of her home high school, will have an equal opportunity of becoming Queen of the Regatta.

An impartial board of judges will be established to select the queen on a pre-determined point system basis.

Long Planned

Action by the board of directors is the result of several years of conversation about the possibility of expanding the court representation, Tony Naimo, board president said. He pointed out that the action was contemplated at various times in recent years, but the board held back for a variety of reasons, among them the problem of transporting the group to the various events and on various trips of the court throughout the state.

He said that the present board feels that modern transportation mitigates any disadvantage in this area.

The board also pointed out that the entire county participates in the celebration and benefits from any tourists attracted to the area by the celebration and therefore should have representation on the court. They also said the action is in line with the current thinking of civic officials in the county that the area should be sold to tourists on a countywide basis due to the variety and number of tourist and recreational facilities available here.

(Continued on Page Two)

Royal Court for Regatta to Have Countywide Tone

(Continued from Page One)

Committee Named

Committee members who will begin approaching the various school officials this week for permission to select a court representative are eJan Hallaux, Mrs. Harry Duff, and Mrs. Bob Graves. They will send letters to the various school authorities seeking an interview to develop plans for participation.

In other action directors pointed out that the Astoria Anchor club will be responsible for the entire royal court, as in past years. The Anchors and the board of directors will pay the costs of purchasing a wardrobe for the court.

Traditionally the court has been provided with evening gowns, traveling suits, and another outfit. These items of apparel become the permanent property of the court members.

All Clatsop High Schools Join Regatta

County Program Assured; 'Secret' Released Soon

A Regatta princess from every corner of Clatsop county was in prospect today with announcement by Tony Naimo, association president, that every high school in the county would be represented on the Regatta court.

Naimo said that announcement would be made within the next two weeks of the young high school seniors named to positions on the royal court. He said that response to the new Regatta idea this year to broaden the court had met with enthusiasm from every high school in the area.

"Not only were the high school authorities and students cooperative, but they were very happy to join in participation in the Regatta court," Naimo said.

One Each

One princess has been selected from each of the high schools in the county with the exception of Astoria high school, Naimo said. At Astoria high, due to the tremendous enrollment of the school in comparison to the other schools in the county, two princesses have been named.

The selection of the court member at each of the schools was made in cooperation with school authorities and an official Regatta committee headed by Jean Hallaux, and committee members Mrs. Vivian Graves and Mrs. Beverly Duff.

Princesses have been selected from Star of the Sea, Warrenton, Jewell, Knappa and Seaside high schools. Naimo said that committee members are in the process of notifying court members and the 'secret will be out soon.'

A-B Announces

Official announcement of the court members will be made in the Astorian-Budget,* in accordance with precedent established down through the many years of the Regatta, Naimo said. Until that time, he pointed out, the names of the princesses are kept secret.

Naimo also pointed out that any one of the girls selected on the court may be Queen of the Regatta. He said that the board of directors wanted it strictly understood that the Queen of the Regatta does not have to be one of the Astoria girls on the court.

"Impartial judges will evaluate the princesses and select a Queen," Naimo said.

Also to be announced in the near future is the name of the royal court chaperone, according to Mrs. Graves, Anchor club skipper. Mrs. Graves said that the announcement of the name of the final court members would be followed by announcement of the name of the woman selected for the job.

Chaperone Set

Each year the board of directors selects a chaperone for the court in cooperation with the Astoria Anchor club. Last year the court chaperone was Mrs. Ed Niemi.

Decision to include girls from high schools in the county other than in Astoria was made by the board of directors several months ago, Naimo said. It is the first time in many years that the court members have come from cities other than Astoria.

Brown-Eyed Beauty

JEANETTE WATTS

Warrenton Girl 1st Princess On Royal Court List

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Attention, all residents of Regatta land (which reaches the length and breadth of Clatsop county and to all the ships at sea)!

It's Regatta princess time again, with the news, as happy as spring and as exciting as the latest on the Astoria bridge, that here will be seven of Clatsop's loveliest girls, representing each of the county's high schools, making up the court this year.

Leading off the beauty parade for the 1958 Regatta court is Warrenton's lovely Princess Frances Jeanette Watts, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alsbury.

Brown-eyed

Born August 3, 1940, in Philadelphia, Tenn. (not Pa.), this princess with the warm brown eyes and hair, came to this county with her parents when she was two years old, so now her home town is Warrenton, where her stepfather is assistant foreman of the highway commission.

And the green dune grass of Warrenton hasn't had much chance to grow under her feet, for she is president of the Girls' Athletic association at school, secretary of the Pep club, a member of Girls' league, was a princess of the March of Dimes court, a candidate for Merry Christmas, sang in the chorus, is a Homecoming princess, a member of Theta Rho, in the cast of the senior class play, "Fog Island," and is on the honor roll.

First Named

Aside from all that, she likes shorthand and social economics best of all her studies, loves swimming in Cullaby and cooking at home, has a lovely lithe figure that stands 5-feet-6, has a brother Jimmie, a seventh grader at Warrenton grade school; and a red cocker spaniel, Pat, both of whom she spoke with pride, and in the food department, confesses to a weakness for Italian spaghetti.

So, hail, Princess Jeanette, first of the 1958 Regatta court! If your six sister princesses are as sweet and pretty as you, we'll have the loveliest court yet.

And we'll be listening to your voice tonight, on KAST's 6:30 p. m. news broadcast, when you are being interviewed by Herman Robison.

Second of Seven

Princess Gayle Ross

Blue-Eyed Local Miss 2nd Name On Royal Roster

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Woman's Editor

Brunette, blue-eyed Gayle Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo "Happy" Ross, is the second 1958 Regatta princess, one of two from Astoria high school.

Stately, willowy Gayle (She is 5 feet 7½ inches of loveliness), was born February 15, 1940, in Portland, coming to Astoria in time to enter her sophomore year, after a year at Jefferson high. She likes Astoria high ever so much better, and Astoria is a much nicer place in which to live, she states emphatically.

Likes Astoria

"I like small towns, and Astoria high is just the right size for a high school." She was a Pepster, belongs to Tri-Hi-Y, Future Homemakers of America and Forensic, was a Homecoming princess her junior year, a DeMolay princess in her sophomore year, when her sister was DeMolay Sweetheart, and last year was DeMolay Sweetheart herself.

Her sister Pat, is now Mrs. James Johanson, living with her paratrooper husband in Clarksville, Tenn., and there is a younger sister in this royal family, Carolyn, almost 11, at Lewis and Clark school. Oh, yes, and a weimaramer, "Lady," who rules the roost.

There's a lilt of Irish laughter in Princess Gayle's voice and the light of old Killarney in her eyes. She loves boating and swimming, likes to draw, sews most of her own clothes, and has a secret yearning to attack a steak with knife and fork.

She plans to attend the University of Oregon next fall. (Warrenton's Princess Jeanette Watts favors OSC, so that evens THAT score.) But time enough for that. In the meantime, there's the whole happy summer ahead, topped by Regatta time, and beyond that, this pretty Gaelic princess just can't imagine anything more wonderful or more thrilling.

All the Irish, and anyone else interested, may tune in on an interview tonight at 6:30 over radio station KAST, for that lilt of Irish laughter.

Jewell Joins Court

PATRICIA NOGLE

Jewell Added On Royal Roster As Third Princess

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Third dainty jewel to be added to the crown of Astoria's 1958 Regatta court of princesses comes from the town of Jewell, that nestles in the green-clad hills beyond Astoria. Patricia Rose Nogle is her name and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M .E. Nogle.

Princess Patt (spell it with two t's, please), is 17, with an important birthday coming May 12. And she is a lithsome 5 feet 6½ inches, with dark blond hair and eyes the color of those little forget-me-nots that grow along the brook's edge.

June Grad

When her senior year is completed this May, she hopes to train for a dental assistant, preferably in a dentist's office. Weekends she is one of Elderberry Inn's prettiest waitresses.

One would never guess, to look at this slender princess, that she is athletically inclined, but at Jewell high school in physical ed she "has a ball" in volley, soft and basket, to be exact, and at home she rides horseback and swims in the picturesque Nehalem river, right in her back yard.

She won the dramatic award, is the senior class carnival princess, is yell leader, co-treasurer and correspondent for her class and is proudest of all that she won a 4-H first prize in cooking.

Likes Cooking

And right there you hit upon her favorite pastime, really, for Princess Patt is a good cook and her favorite dish to cook and eat is pork chops with dressing.

She is the youngest of the Nogle family, and brother Jaxon, 21, who works for Boeing in Seattle, sister Colleen (Coke) who is Mrs. Joseph Castellano of Laramie, Wyo., and sister Leanne (Kellie), who also lives in Seattle, are going to be awfully proud of their baby sister when she sends them the news that she is one of our pretty Regatta princesses.

Oceanside Beauty Named

PRINCESS CAROLYN LAWSON

Seaside's Choice Busy Girl, Leads Many-Sided Life

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Seaside's answer to the 1958 Regatta court is Carolyn Nadine Lawson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Lawson, with hair as golden as the sands of Seaside and eyes as blue as the ocean on a summer day.

Born in Forest Grove on a summer day, one August 2, Princess Carolyn, then a little yellow haired baby girl, moved with her parents to Cannon Beach, where she lived until she was four.

Next stop, Seaside, for which she has been an ardent booster ever since, along with older brothers Jerry, a sergeant in the air force, stationed in Germany, and Steve, a student at Pacific university. Their little sister plans to train to be an executive secretary at Behnke-Walker Business school, Portland, after graduation and Regatta time. Her father works for the G and A Logging company.

Water Lover

Quite naturally, Seaside's princess loves to swim, and likes cooking and sewing ("but I'm not very good at it"), would like to learn to ski and bowls whenever she has the chance, which is quite often, and keeping busy at home with "Lucky" (part Springer Spaniel), and three birds, a canary, a parakeet and a Java bird, the latter three oblivious to the fact that her favorite food is fried chicken.

Peppy Princess Carolyn manages to keep busy at school, too. She was class representative in her freshman year, belonged to Girls' league, and was freshman queen; was sophomore class treasurer and cheer leader, princess of the Junior Prom, member of the rally squad, on the league champion bowling team, vice president of Girls Athletic association and is now president of the rally squad, varsity cheer leader (having won the award for the most outstanding rally squad member) is senior representative to Girls' league, was Sno-Ball Queen, senior ball princess and DeMolay Sweetheart all this year.

Top Student

And her scholastic record shows she was 14th in her class of 56 in grade average, 1.4, which automatically put her on the honor roll. Weekends she waits tables at Number 10 Downing.

So, Seaside and Seaside high are wonderful, Princess Carolyn believes. And Seaside high thinks the same of Princess Carolyn.

Regatta Court To Be Named

ASTORIA (Special) — Every high school in Clatsop County will be represented on the Astoria Regatta Court this year, according to Tony Naimo, association president.

Names of the high school seniors named to the court will be announced within the next two weeks, Naimo said. Selections of court members at each of the schools were made in cooperation with school authorities and an official regatta committee headed by Jean Hallaux and committee members Mrs. Vivian Graves and Mrs. Beverly Duff.

Princesses have been chosen from Star of the Sea, Warrenton, Jewell, Knappa and Seaside high schools, and two will be selected from Astoria High School, due to the large enrollment of the school in comparison to the other schools.

Queen of the Regatta will be chosen by a board of judges and may be any one of the princesses, Naimo said.

SEASIDE'S REGATTA PRINCESS

Carolyn Lawson, SHS senior, will be our city's representative in the annual Regatta court at Astoria in late summer. She was chosen by student body vote. —Photo by Don Church.

For the first time this year, Seaside high will furnish a princess for the Astoria Regatta, and by vote of her classmates on April 2, blue-eyed blonde Carolyn Lawson was chosen for the honor.

The 17-year-old senior is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Lawson, and will be 18 on August 21. She is a trim five feet, four inches tall, with a peaches and cream complexion.

Each of the seven high schools of the county will provide one Regatta princess, and from the group a reigning queen will be chosen for her charm, poise, voice quality and looks.

Being chosen for special honors is not a new thing to Princess Carolyn, though she is sure taking part in the Regatta will be the most memorable occasion of her life.

She reigned over the "Welcome Frosh" dance as Freshman queen four years ago and the same year was class representative to the student council.

As a sophomore, she was class treasurer and Jayvee cheerleader.

A princess at the Junior Prom last year, she was also a member of the rally squad and vice-president of the Girls' Athletic association.

So far this year, she has been chosen "Sweetheart of De Molay," a princess at the Senior Ball, and was Queen of the Sno-Ball. She is president of the rally squad and varsity cheerleader.

After high school, Carolyn plans to attend Behnke-Walker business college in Portland for two years, to qualify herself as an executive secretary.

Active Student

PRINCESS JUDY STACEY

Misty Meadows Of Knappa Yield 5th Royal Belle

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Up river, where the misty meadows of Knappa are edged by a mighty river and crowned by forested hills lives one of the 1958 Regatta princesses, Judy Stacey, fifth to be announced by the Regatta committee.

Choice of Knappa-Svensen high school for this year's court is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn Stacey, and she was born in Astoria July 12, 1940, but she has lived in the scenic upriver community of Knappa all her life.

Ash blond hair, deep blue eyes and a skin like peach blossoms compose this princess, as lovely as the haunting music of a Sibelius symphony. Oh, yes, she is Finnish, almost pure Finn, she claims proudly, all 5-feet-8-inches of her.

Active Student

At Knappa-Svensen high school, Princess Judy was treasurer, and is now secretary of her class, is president of the Loggerettes, was May day princess, homecoming queen, is a member of Girls' Athletic asosciation, was in the class play, sings in the school chorus, is on the May day dance committee and works in the school store.

She goes in for such active activities as basketball, baseball and volleyball, pulls a bathing suit on her lithe figure for swimming in the many water spots around her home, and drops a line overboard whenever the fish are biting. Plenty of opportunities for a pretty angler in Princess Judy's realm.

Because of her love of the outdoors, this vivacious girl would like to be camp councilor at Camp Kiwanilong this summer, and she'd also like very much to start in as a nurse's aide at the hospital, for she wants, some day, to be a nurse.

Likes Sewing

Princess Judy loves to sew and cook, like all good little Finnish girls, and she has no preference when it comes to food, "just so long as it's food."

All of which meets with the adoring approval of three younger sisters, Patsy, 7, Frances, 6, and Jan, only 3, who now have their sights set on someday, maybe, attaining the honor just bestowed on their older sister, that of being a real live princess.

Brown-Eyed Beauty

JULIE JOHNSON

Brown Eyes Key To Identity Of Final Princess

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

The 1958 Regatta court is completed in a happy manner with Julie Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Johnson, Youngs River, the seventh and final princess to be announced.

Astoria-born, this 5-foot-4½ inches of brown-eyed, brown haired loveliness, with a winning manner and personality plus, left Lewis and Clark Consolidated school, where she started her education, to move to Arcata, Calif. with her parents (Johnson Plumbing company), but returned to God's country in her sophomore year at Astoria high school. She plans to enter the University of Oregon this fall.

Active Girl

Since her co-edship at Astoria high, she has been a member of Fisherettes, Quill and Scroll, Forensic, was a DeMolay princess her junior year, a Homecoming princess this year, is head Pepster, was a state attendant last year, and plans to go back as a junior councilor this summer. Favorite other subjects is speech, which just might lead into dramatics at the U of O, says this pretty girl.

She works part time at Lovell's Auto, in the office, of course, is a good little swimmer (has to be because she water skis at Coffenbury lake), makes some of her clothes, plays the piano, (for her own "amazement") and confesses that in the cooking line, cookies are as far as she'll go. But she does like hamburgers, the big fancy deluxe kind.

Eldest of 4

She is the oldest of four young Johnsons, for there is sister Sally, 13, and Kristine, 11, both at Lewis and Clark Consolidated, and along came Hiram Jr., who is only 3 ,and not yet concerned with such excitement as Regatta courts.

So welcome aboard, Princess Julie! And get set, with your six sister princesses for a wonderful, thrilling five-day cruise this summer when the good ship Astoria Regatta weighs anchor September 25.

Star Joins Court

PRINCESS ELLEN MORRIS

Blue-Eyed Miss 6th Princess Set On Royal Roster

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

By the old saying that precious things come in little packages, the sixth 1958 Regatta princess, Ellen Mae Morirs, is just that. "Five-feet-two, eys of blue . . . . has everybody seen our gal?" sing Star of the Sea high school students, for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Morris, is their choice of the senior class to represent them in the Regatta court.

Like the daughter of Rosy O'Grady, Princess Ellen is a shy little girl, with a sweet and winsome manner that makes her utterly feminine and dainty as a doll.

Blue Eyes

Light blue eyes framed by long blond hair are part of the picture and sudden sweet smile that flashes through a serious and attentive manner when you talk to her.

That smile broke out like the sun over the Column when she was asked if there were any sisters and brothers in her royal family.

"Well, there's Betty, a junior at Star of the Sea; Larry, a sophomore; Bill, 13; and Bob, 9," she said, and you could tell by her tone of voice what a lot of fun a family of five children have, even though they all have to do their share of helping at home and working toward their education.

For this diminutive princess, in her senior year, gets up in time to work in the business office at St. Mary's hospital before she goes to school each morning, then after school and weekends, too. She hopes to go to Marylhurst college in the fall.

Active Student

At Star of the Sea she is president of [illegible] club, secretary of the senior class, a member of the student council, Sodality club and Pep club, sings in the school chorus and is Yell Queen.

Born in Oak Creek, Colo., May 22, 1940, she came to Astoria in time to start the first grade at Star of the Sea school. She finds time at home to make some of her own clothes, plays the piano, likes to bowl and loves chicken, broiled.

And beside the Star of the Sea student body and her own family who make up a pretty sizable cheering section for little Princess Ellen, at home there is a black dog, "Tike," who, in spite of his "57 varieties" has suddenly acquired a regal look, and a cat "Sparky," who, now that he belongs to a princess royal, will lick any cat on the block.

'Mother-Confessor'

Chaperone For Royal Court Has 'Difficult' Task

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

With the announcement of seven pretty princesses comprising the 1958 Regatta court, one more appointment, and it is an important one, comes from the Regata board, that of Mrs. Donovan Mitchell as official court chaperone.

Mrs. Mitchell, as chaperone, mother-confessor, confident and consoler to the seven lovely girls from each high school in the county has had plenty of experience along those lines through the years that her daughter Donna (Mrs. Charles Gustafson Jr.) was growing up.

The Mitchell home was one of those "headquarters" for teenagers. Donna, as gregarious as an airdale pup, was always one to bring home some of her friends for dinner. In fact, Ann Mutchell was never quite sure how many would sit down at luncheon or dinner. And she loved it.

She was active in scouting, when Donna was a freckle-faced Girl Scout, having served as troop leader and on the executive board for years, and is now on the Rainbow advisory board. Beside being a member of Eastern Star, she is chairman of the reading group of AAUW, member of the Astoria Golf and Country club and takes an active part in St. Catherine's guild of Grace Episcopal church.

Born in Iowa, Ann Mitchell spent her girlhood in the beautiful Yakima valley, graduating from Washington State college, moving to Seattle after her marriage, and coming to Astoria 21 years ago, when her husband was transferred here by his oil company.

Beside golfing, there is another more unusual hobby that interests the official court chaperone. Each fall, when the Cascade mountains around Mt. Rainier are a blaze of color, Don and Ann Mitchell shake off all contacts with their busy world and take to the mountains via pack train, pitching tent under the stars and cooking over a campfire. It is rest, relaxation and now a tradition with them and they come home with suntans and tales of the beauty and peace of the high places. Already they are looking forward to the time when grandsons, Donovan, 5, and Charles 3, will be old enough to ride horseback and join them on their yearly safari.

Parade Leader Named

Named

DON GARRIS

Don Garris, Astoria mortician, will direct the grand land parade for the 38th annual Astoria Regatta, Tony Naimo, association president, announced today.

Garris, who continues the Junior Chamber of Commerce leadership of Regatta parades, begun several years ago, said that all committees for the parade would again be chosen from the JCC.

Date for the parade has been set as August 30, the third day of the celebration, and the time is 2:30 p. m. The date and time for the popular annual event was selected by the board of directors.

General responsibility for the entire parade rests with Garris, Naimo said, however a board member, R. H. Meissner, will serve as supervisor of all Regatta land events. Garris also joins the advisory board of the Regatta in an advisory capacity.

Garris said that announcement of members of the various committees would be made in the near future. Invitations to various groups throughout the Pacific Northwest will be in the mail shortly, he said.

Traditionally the invitations are sent to musical, marching and display units by the score.

Big Event

In past years parades have been one of the outstanding events of the annual Regatta. Some of them have been as long as four hours and have wound through miles of the Astoria business district. Sponsorship of the parade has won nation-wide recognition for the Astoria Jaycees. As many as 15,000 persons have viewed the gigantic land parade in past year.

Garris said that most of the main features of previous Regatta parades would be maintained in the new version which is now being planned. He said that he hoped new units could be added, but that it was too early in the planning of the event to be specific in this regard.

It was also pointed out that the Jay-C-Ettes will take an active part in the parade planning and presentation again this year.

[illegible] Past

In past years the group has been responsible for the hospitality tent and many other parade problems.

Units which have participated in the parade have been of the finest in the northwest in the past, Garris said.

"We hope to keep up the tradition this year," he said.

JC Keymen Named for Regatta Parade Duty

BILL D. WILSON

Plans for the Regatta parade Saturday, August 30, moved into high gear with official announcement last night of key Jaycee sub committee heads by Don Garris, general chairman.

Bill D. Wilson, Astoria Plywood employee, will head the popular and financially-vital band show. Among first action of the parade committee was renaming this event "Awards Pageant", Wilson noted.

Important judging and awards phases will be under direction of David Edison, local insurance agent, who will announce entry classifications later. Publicity chairman is Carl Jacobson, current Jaycee president, who said that most of the club membership will participate in parade planning in some manner.

Parade-day worries on organizing the long march will fall to Jack Rieck, dairy driver, who heads the parade marshalls committee. Refreshments for weary paraders will be assembled and dispensed by a hospitality committee led by Bob Jackson, who admits to counting on strong Jay-C-ette help in this endeavor.

Arranging housing for parade participants will be the problem of Robert Harris, automobile club manager here. Carrying the parade story to local firms for support and entries will be Bob Rees, while Jim Elbert will aid chairman Garris in handling financial details.

Reuel Meissner, parade chairman last year, is Regatta Board advisor, while Jim Spain will act as Jaycee advisor and geeneral committee assistant. This will be the fifth year Jaycees have handled the big land parade for the Regatta association and third year for the band show, Garris noted. Details of the parade will be announced in the near future. Clatsop county citizens with parade suggestions are invited to write to the Jaycees, P.O. Box 1, Astoria.

Seven Princesses in a Row

Seven princesses in a row met their sponsors, the Astoria Regatta board of directors, at a special reception Sunday afternoon at the John Jacob Astor hotel. Regatta officials, Anchor club officials and the parents of the princesses were all guests at the event. Pictured above are the seven excited royal court members, who were posing for their first picture as a group this year, and some officials of the Regatta and Anchor club. Back row left to right are Jean Hallaux, Tony Naimo, Regatta president, Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, Regatta court chaperone, Mrs. Bob Graves, Anchor club skipper, and Regatta board member, and Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club first mate and Regatta board secretary. Princesses in the front row are: Reading from left to right, Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Ellen Morris, Astoria, Judy Stacey, Knappa, Jule Johnson, Astoria, Gayle Ross, Astoria, Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, and Patt Nogle, Jewell.

Royal Attendants Named

Completing the 1958 Astoria Regatta court are the six junior court attendants, from left, front row, Susan Fransen, Bonnie Bramwell and Linda Hall. Back row, left, Kenneth Thompson, Joe Newsted and Kevin Miller. They will serve as crown bearer, page boy, flower girls and scepter bearer, their separate duties to be announced by the Anchor committee. (A-B Photo)

6 Youngsters Complete Log For Regatta

Six young people have been chosen as royal court attendants, thus rounding out the 1958 Regatta court.

Picked from a group of students by the teachers of their respective schools, the names were submitted to the Regatta court committee of the Anchor club, who made the final selections, according to Mrs. Harry Duff, chairman of the coronation committee.

Three little girls to serve as flower girls and scepter bearers are Bonnie Bramwell, Consolidated school, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bramwell; Linda Hall, Lewis and Clark school, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall; and Susan Fransen, Star of the Sea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fransen.

The three boys, who will serve as page boys and crown bearer are Kenneth Thompson, John Jacob Astor school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Thompson; Kevin Miller, Lewis and Clark school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Miller; and Joe Newsted, Captain Robert Gray school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Newsted.

Dresses for the little girls and suits for the boys will be selected and furnished by the Regatta wardrobe committee from the Anchors, headed by Mrs. Sam Yockey and Mrs. Charles Smith.

Raindrops Hit Parade

Astoria merchants kicked off their "You Auto Buy Now" project to stimulate business with a parade, that gave the sleepy main street a happy hypo this morning.

The shot-in-the-arm brought out early-morning shoppers who got a premiere peek, between scattered raindrops, of the seven smiling Regatta princesses who showed they didn't mind the rain at all, and the first appearance also of the white-clad Royal Chinook drum and bugle corps, who likewise took the slight moisture in a swanky stride.

Interspersed between pretty princesses, each in her smart convertible, were latest models of Astoria's car dealers along the line of march of the parade, which was led by Bob Lovell, parade chairman, featured Regatta officials and wound up with a car from the Islander draped with sarong draped girls.

Big Parade, Open House On Armed Force Day Log

Regatta Court in Big Parade

Twenty-nine parade units, including princesses of the Astoria Regatta, march down Commercial street Saturday morning to kick off the local all-day celebration of Armed Forces day.

Parade units assemble at 9 a. m. and embark on their route at 9:30 to the music of the Royal Chinook Drum and Bugle corps and the Astoria high school band, with Mayor Peter Cosovich and Capt. William Watson, commander of Tongue Point, serving as grand marshals.

The line of march for Saturday's parade wends through downtown Astoria after a 9:30 a. m. start. The parade route map is shown on page 2 of today's Astorian-Budget.

Viewers lining the 10-block parade route will see the navy color guard, naval station marching unit, Naselle air force base drill team, naval station Waves marching unit, Columbia river group marching unit, Fleet Reserve association color guard, Fleet Reserve auxiliary, Cub Scouts, Astoria high school Fisherettes, Royal Chinook color guard and boat, Civil Air Patrol, VFW color guard, Boy Scouts, 162d National Guard engineer vehicles, US communications truck and the Clatsop county disaster car, with a police escort leading off the parade.

Pier 3 Site For Annual Water Fete

GORDON HUTCHENS

Astoria's 38th annual Regatta goes "under the big top" again this year, Tony Naimo, association president, announced today.

The expanded five-day celebration, which runs from August 28 through September 1, will be housed in huge Pier 3 at the Port Docks, Naimo said. The commissioners and the manager of the Port of Astoria approved a request for use of the pier as a pavilion at a recent meeting. Announcement of the site was withheld until final arrangements and agreements had been reached with participating organizations, Naimo said.

Second Time

Action by the board in selecting the pier site marks the second time in three years that the celebration's major events have been housed under one roof. The first venture under one roof, since the Regatta pavilion burned more than a decade ago, came in 1955. At that time, with the inauguration of the first Oregon Fish festival all major activities of the 36th annual Regatta were held at the pier.

Naimo said coronation rites, dances, Pirate's Den, exhibits and Fish festival activity would again center at the pier. He said that the former plan of dividing the events of the celebration at various sites in the city had not proven as successful as the one-building plan.

Parking space will be worked out with community officials for the area near the pier and a carnival will be set up to run throughout the celebration near the huge pavilion building. He said that an effort would be made to make the site of the celebration as much like a "county fair" as possible.

Decorations Set

Interior decorations are planned for the structure, even more extensive than those used in the past. Streamers will be used to cover the ceiling areas and the interior will be divided into two sections for the various events.

A stage is to be constructed and an auditorium, primarily for the coronation of the queen on the opening night, will be engineered into the structure.

Meanwhile, a decision was nearing on the selection of a director for the 3rd annual Oregon Fish festival which is planned as an integral part of the celebration, Naimo said.

Pier 3 Selected As Site for 38th Annual Regatta

(Continued from Page One)

Dr. E. W. Harvey, founder of the fish industry salute, will meet with the board of directors at the pier Friday night to work out details of some plans he is developing for the observance. Some decision is expected at that time.

Harvey Attends

The board also announced the appointment of a new member of the board of directors.

Gordon Hutchens, Astoria high school graduate, who recently returned to the city with Standard Oil company, was named to replace Vernon Mogenson who was forced to resign due to the pressure of business.

Hutchens has not been assigned a specific area of responsibility as yet, Naimo said, but will join the board for his first meeting at the pier Friday night.

Directors will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the pier Friday and tour the big pavilion as the major item of business, according to Mrs. Harry Duff, association secretary.

Button Business

"Button, button, who's got the buttons," seems to be the question obviously answered in the above picture. Two Astoria Anchor club members, Mrs. George Fulton, Regatta button sales committee publicity director, left, and Mrs. Harold Jacob, right, chairman of the Anchor club botton sale drive are shown puzzling over the first new Regatta buttons to arrive. A goal of more than 3000 button sales has been set by the club for the drive. This year the Anchor club has exclusive control over the button sales, according to Mrs. Bob Graves, Skipper, while in the past they only aided in button sales, though they were the main sales force. (A-B Photo)

Anchors Launch Extensive Drive To Sell Buttons

'Operation Button,' got under way in Astoria today as Anchor club members hit the streets in the first day of an extensive summer-long Regatta button sales campaign.

In the most ambitious button drive in Regatta annals the Anchor club, in complete charge of the entire program, hopes to sell an initial 3,000 in the first phase of the drive and then add more in the final weeks before the Regatta gets under way at the end of August.

Cost Cut

Not only does the button, which is blue and white and depicts a commercial fishing craft in action, have a new meaning this year, but it is reduced in price. The button sells for fifty cents this year rather than the customary one dollar. It is explained by Regatta officials that the button is simply a booster button and does not entitle free admission to any Regatta functions.

Regatta board members several months ago asked the Anchor club to assume complete charge of the drive and they have supervised all facets of the planning from setting up a button design to actually selling them. Heading the drive is Mrs. Harold Jacob, who was appointed in charge of the committee by Mrs. Bob Graves, Anchor club skipper.

In past years Anchor club members have been the main sales force for Regatta buttons, but this is the first time they have taken complete charge.

Regatta association president Tony Naimo says the decision to turn the sales drive over to the Anchor club was due to the critical condition of the Regatta finances. He asserted that if button sales do not reach the 3000 figure at least ,and if they do not go beyond the Regatta could easily fail through becoming insolvent.

Drive Vital

Naimo said that the button drive this year was a make-or-break proposition. "We want to know if the area wants a Regatta and if they do if they are willing to support it and participate in it," he said.

Mrs. Jacob said the drive this year is also unique in another aspect. For the first time the sales campaign will be on a county-wide level. She pointed out that the princesses come from five different areas of the county and that sales drives will be conducted in each of these areas.

(Continued on Page Two)

Anchor Club Sets Extensive Drive To Sell Buttons

(Continued from Page One)

She said that in the near future she would name the drive chairman in these areas who are volunteers, not necessarily members of the Anchor club.

Buttons are again numbered she pointed out and special plans are being mapped in regard to this feature, she said.

Numbered Buttons

The numbered buttons are also being distributed initially on a numerical basis to Regatta royal court members and officials. The first seven buttons, those numbered one to seven, have been reserved for the court. Button number 8 goes to the chaperon, number nine to the Regatta president and number ten to his opposite number, the Anchor Skipper.

Assisting Mrs. Jacob in the drive are Mrs. George Fulton, publicity director, Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Mrs. Gerald Phillips and Eileen Wirkkunen.

CC Booth Opens in Rose Fete

The Clatsop county booth in the Portland park blocks was set up successfully Tuesday and will continue to operate through the rest of the Rose Festival, according to Manager Charles DeFoe of the Chamber of Commerce, who returned today after helping establish the booth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McCallister will operate the booth, assisted by various volunteer workers from Clatsop communities. Astorians who were in Portland Tuesday reported that crowds in the park blocks were large and the booth seemed to be drawing much attention.

DeFoe reported that the Astoria Clowns and Regatta royal court appeared in the Rose Festival Merrykhana parade Tuesday night and drew much attention. The Clown organization had its official car—the former city ambulance—rigged up to promote the Astoria bridge.

Regatta association vice-president, Jean Hallaux, in charge of the court trip to the Portland parade, said the junket was a "big success."

He reported the seven-member court, who traveled the parade route in two convertibles, received a warm welcome along the line of march. Don Garris, director of the grand land parade for this year's Regatta, was driver of the second convertible.

The Clowns and the court were also seen on television on a presentation of filmed highlights of the parade over channel 8 from Portland Tuesday night.

Court members are Jeanette Watts, Judy Stacey, Ellen Morris, Gayle Ross, Julie Johnson, Patricia Nogle and Carolyn Lawson. Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, court chaperon, also accompanied the court in the parade.

Meissner Transferred, New Salesman Joins Oil Firm

REUEL MEISSNER

JOHN SCHENK

John Schenk, Portland, is the new district salesman for this area for the Shell Oil company replacing Reuel Meissner, who will move to Portland to take over the duties as merchandising salesman in that area.

Meissner, who for the past two years has been district salesman in this area, plans to move permanently to the Rose City about July 1, to take over his new duties. He said that his wife Barbara, his two children, Walter 4, and Leigh Ann 2 will follow soon after.

Schenk arrived in Astoria Monday to assume his new duties as district salesman and at present he and his wife Marilyn are looking for a house.

Schenk has been with the Shell Oil company for the past two years. Meissner has been with the company for five years.

Regatta Bills Big Circus Here

The second largest circus in the United States is scheduled for a one-day engagement in Astoria at the 20th and Exchange street grounds for afternoon and evening shows Monday, July 14, under the sponsorship of the Astoria Regatta association, Tony Naimo, association president, announced today.

Arthur W. Miller, general representative for Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers circus, called at the Astorian-Budget office today to announce that he had completed the preliminary arrangements for the visit of this famous wild animal show, which is making its 36th annual tour.

The advertising cars, comprising six motorized units, with a crew of 28 advertising and publicity men, will arrive soon to publicize the coming event, by placing bright, colorful posters within the city and surrounding communities. In addition, newspaper space, TV, radio time, box-holder mailing lists and airplane broadcasts will have coverage for an area of 35 miles, which should result in bringing a huge crowd to Astoria, Miller said.

This will mark the first appearance of a big circus here in many years, and undoubtedly the very first one to bring such outstanding and unusual animals, such as giraffes, hippopotamus and rhinoceros. In addition a herd of 21 elephants, beside more than 200 animals including lions, tigers, pumas and leopards, numberous species of monkeys, apes and baboons; black, grizzly, himalayan and polar bears; hyenas, baby gorillas, kangaroos, mandrills, gnu, smu, llamas, seals, sealions, wart hogs, India water buffalo, zebra, bison, Persian white sacred deer, zebu, camels, tapiers, dromedary, also included are an aviary of tropical birds, dens of tropical reptiles, also 127 head of horses, ponies, kyo, yak and donkeys, now recognized as the largest, most varied and costly collection of rare animals ever exhibited with an American circus.

Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers circus is now exceeded only in size by the famed Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey show and is now conceded to be the largest tented circus on tour.

The Regatta association will receive a substantial percentage from the advance sale of circus tickets as well as the gate receipts while the circus is in Astoria.

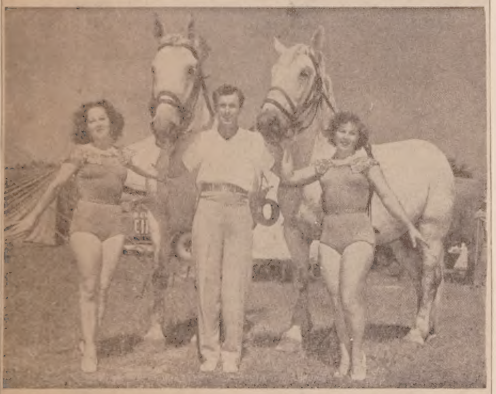
Naimo said that plans for the advance ticket sale would be mapped in the near future.

He said that the Regatta association is bringing the circus here as a money-raising project to help finance the annual fall festival. He said that an effort had been made to find one of the finest touring units in the country for a summer date here, to provide a clean and entertaining show for young and old alike.

"The board feels the Kelly and Miller show meets their requirements," Naimo said.

6-18

Riding Stars Circus Feature



Pictured above are three of the principal members of the world renowned and famous Kantolina Family of bareback riding marvels. This family of noted equestrians are a recent importation from high in Pyrennes mountains of Central Europe, and are making their first American appearance this year with the Al G. Kelly-Miller Brothers Circus, which is slated for an afternoon and night performance at 20th and Exchange streets, Astoria, Monday, July 14. The circus is sponsored by the Regatta association.

6-20

Baby Tigers Featured

Beauty, (Miss Marlyn Medina) and the little beasts—the most recent acquisitions to the enormous traveling zoo of Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. largest Circus, two baby tigers namely Joplin and Paris, named in honor of the two cities in which they were born, respectively Joplin, Missouri, and Paris, Texas, during the first week of this year's tour. Coincidentally the mother is named "Paris", the fact she was a product of "Jungle Imports" in 1946, arriving to begin her circus career at Paris, Tennessee, an engagement stand on that year's itenerary. Traditionally, circus menagerie animals are named after towns in which they were born or received in shipment from the jungles, unless the particular metropolis has a 'tongue twister' name. More than 200 rare and unusual beasts and birds grace the block-long menagerie of Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus scheduled for afternoon and night performances at Astoria on Monday, July 14 at 20th and Exchange, sponsored by the Regatta association.

6-25

AMERICA'S LARGEST HERD OF ELEPHANTS!—AL G. KELLY & MILLER BROS. CIRCUS, AFTERNOON & NIGHT Astoria Mon., July 14th for Regatta Assn.

6-27

ASTORIA
20th and Exchange St.
AFTERNOON and NIGHT
Mon., July 14
For: Regatta Assn.

AL G. KELLY AND MILLER Bros.

2nd Largest — CIRCUS

5-TON TRAINED HIPPOPOTAMUS!
REAL LIVE GIRAFFES!
JUNGLE-BRED RHINOCEROS!
21-ELEPHANTS "COUNT 'EM!"
65 ALL STEEL CARS
450 PEOPLE ★ ACRES OF TENTS
218 ANIMALS ★ $3,000.00 DAILY EXPENSE

2 COMPLETE PERFORMANCES!
DOORS OPEN 1:00 and 7:00 P. M. ★ SHOW STARTS 2:00 and 8:00 P. M.

FEEDING THE ANIMALS 9:00 A.M.!

6-20

Regatta Facing 'Make or Break' Year Says Hallaux

This is a 'make or break" year for the Astoria Regatta, Vice-President Jean Hallaux of the Regatta committee told Kiwanis members at their weekly luncheon Thursday.

Hallaux said that the Regatta has been an entertainment success but not a financial one for several years and that it is necessary to make a profit this year to ensure continuance of the festival in the future.

Hallaux described Regatta plans in detail to show that an expanded show this year is designed to provide attraction to more people. Dates are August 28-September 1, Hallaux said. He said these dates had been found most satisfactory after trials of various dates in recent years.

Hallaux introduced Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, official Regatta royal court chaperone, who in turn presented Princesses Gayle Ross, Astoria; Ellen Morris, Astoria; Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Patricia Nogle, Jewell; Judy Stacey, Knappa, and Jeanette Watts, Warrenton. Princess Julie Johnson, Astoria, was out of the city.

After the luncheon the princesses sold Regatta buttons to Kiwanis members.

6/24

Church To Honor Frank Spittle

Astoria attorney Frank Spittle, who celebrated his 90th birthday June 18, will be honored Thursday night by the Men's club of Grace Episcopal church in which he has been active for more than 64 years.

Guest speaker for the event, which will be held in the church parish hall at 6:30 p. m., will be Bishop Benjamin Dagwell, who, during the 1948 Diocesan convention, paid tribute to Spittle with the statement:

"The layman is Frank Spittle of Grace church, Astoria. He has held every office a layman can hold in the church and besides has been father confessor to many a rector and to four bishops. We have renewed his law reader's license a dozen times and former bishops for forty previous years. Now we publicly acknowledge him permanent lay reader with authority to teach, exhort and rebuke as his good judgment and Christian consecration may dictate. There are other fine laymen in the diocese but he has a record unparalleled."

Church Worker

In his 70 years as an Astoria resident Spittle compiled this impressive record of church activity. He served as deputy to 64 Diocesan conventions and four general conventions of the Episcopal church.

Spittle, one of the oldest practicing attorneys in the state, is a native of England and attended law school there for three years before coming to Astoria in 1888. He continued law studies here under the direction of the late Astoria attorney, C. R. Thomson, and was admitted to the bar in 1892. Spittle was also admitted to practice before the state supreme court in that year and before the US circuit court and the US district court in 1905.

A member of the Oregon state bar and the Clatsop county bar association, Spittle has practiced law independently in Astoria for the past 66 years, "in the same chair before the same desk," he remembers.

Historic Span

Spittle's life in Astoria spans 70 years of the city's history, including such events as the 1922 fire which razed the business district, and the birth of the Regata in 1893.

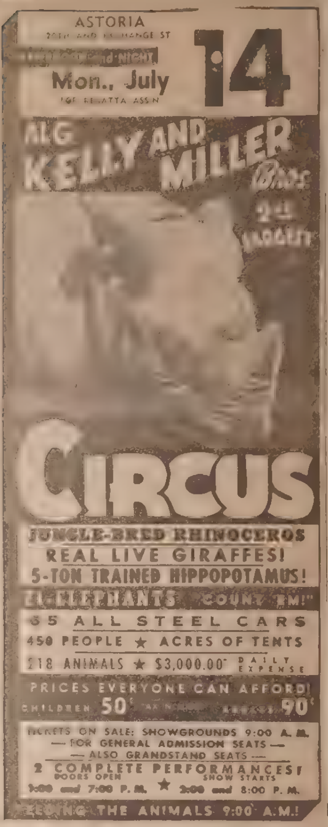
The attorney, whose office has been located in the Spexarth building since its construction, was among local citizens who turned fire-fighter during the 1922 blaze.

Earlier, in 1893, Spittle, one of the founders of the Astoria Football club, had earned for himself a permanent niche in the history of Astoria with a casual remark in a hotel lobby which led to the staging of the city's first Regatta.

Spittle, talking with football club members Robert Gibson, reporter on the Astorian staff, and Frank Gunn, in the lobby of the hotel which Gunn operated, commented, "Why don't we hold a Regatta?", he remembers. Financed by funds donated by the club and local citizens, the Football club formed a Regatta association with headquarters on 10th and Commercial and held the first celebration later in the year. Members of the Football club continued active association

(Continued on Page Two)

Royal court members for the Astoria Regatta are pictured above as they got ready to participate in the American Legion parade in Astoria Thursday night. Left to right around the boat are, Princess Carolyn Lawson, Seaside, Princess [illegible]ette Watts, W[illegible]n, Princess Gayle Ross, Astoria, [illegible] Judy Stacey, Knappa, Princess [illegible] Johnson, Astoria, and Princess Patt Nogle, Jewell. The court rode in the royal Chinook boat.



ASTORIA
20TH AND EXCHANGE ST
[illegible] and NIGHT
Mon., July 14
FOR REGATTA ASS'N
AL G. KELLY AND MILLER Bros.
2nd BIGGEST
CIRCUS
JUNGLE-BRED RHINOCEROS
REAL LIVE GIRAFFES!
5-TON TRAINED HIPPOPOTAMUS!
21 ELEPHANTS "COUNT 'EM!"
35 ALL STEEL CARS
450 PEOPLE ★ ACRES OF TENTS
218 ANIMALS ★ $3,000.00 DAILY EXPENSE
PRICES EVERYONE CAN AFFORD!
CHILDREN 50¢ [illegible] ADULTS 90¢
TICKETS ON SALE: SHOWGROUNDS 9:00 A. M.
— FOR GENERAL ADMISSION SEATS —
— ALSO GRANDSTAND SEATS —
2 COMPLETE PERFORMANCES!
DOORS OPEN 1:00 and 7:00 P. M. ★ SHOW STARTS 2:00 and 8:00 P. M.
FEEDING THE ANIMALS 9:00 A.M.!

Astoria's Royal Regatta court and chaperon left early today for two appearances in the Willamette valley this weekend. They will stay overnight in Salem tonight and return to Astoria late on the evening of July 4. Court members are pictured above in one of the cars which took them on their trip. They are, from left to right, back seat, Judy Stacey, Knappa, Gayle Ross, Astoria, Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, Patt Nogle, Jewell, Julie Johnson, Astoria and front row, left to right, Ellen Morris, Astoria and Carolyn Lawson, Seaside. Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, chaperon is shown behind the wheel. Regatta Vice-President Jean Hallaux and Donovan Mitchell drove the court.

(A-B Photo)

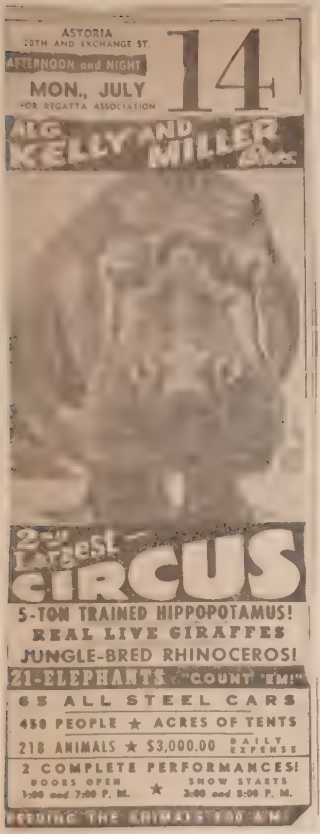
Regatta Court Dinner Guests Of Zonta Club

The seven Regatta princesses, their chaperone Mrs. Don Mitchell, and Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary of the Regatta association, were luncheon guests of the Zonta club Thursday noon in the John Jacob Astor hotel.

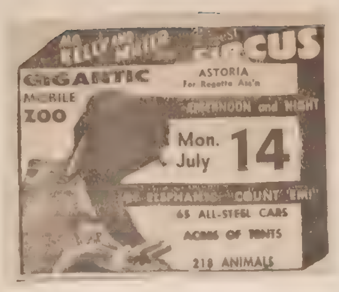
Lucille Maris, chairman of the club's program committee, introduced Mrs Duff, who, in speaking briefly, referred to a statement made recently by one of the Regatta officers, that this year would either "make" or "break" the Regatta. [illegible]

[illegible] then introduced Mrs [illegible] who in turn introduced [illegible]. Each princess made [illegible] talk [illegible]

[illegible] president, completed the meeting.



ASTORIA
20TH AND EXCHANGE ST.
AFTERNOON and NIGHT
MON., JULY 14
FOR REGATTA ASSOCIATION
KELLY AND MILLER Bros.
2nd Largest CIRCUS
5-TON TRAINED HIPPOPOTAMUS!
REAL LIVE GIRAFFES
JUNGLE-BRED RHINOCEROS!
21-ELEPHANTS "COUNT 'EM!"
65 ALL STEEL CARS
450 PEOPLE ★ ACRES OF TENTS
218 ANIMALS ★ $3,000.00 DAILY EXPENSE
2 COMPLETE PERFORMANCES!
DOORS OPEN 1:00 and 7:00 P. M. ★ SHOW STARTS 2:00 and 8:00 P. M.
FEEDING THE ANIMALS 9:00 A.M.



CIRCUS
GIGANTIC MOBILE ZOO
ASTORIA
For Regatta Ass'n
AFTERNOON and NIGHT
Mon. July 14
ELEPHANTS "COUNT 'EM!"
65 ALL-STEEL CARS
ACRES OF TENTS
218 ANIMALS

Big Top Due

Regatta Circus Ticket Sale Set

Tickets for the Al Kelly Miller brothers circus slated July 14 at 20th and Exchange streets for two performances under the auspices of the Astoria Regatta association went on sale in business houses throughout the city today

Thirty-five businesses located in all areas of Astoria are selling tickets. In addition tickets are on sale at the chamber of commerce office and at the Regatta headquarters at 224-12th street in the Ron Graves insurance offices.

The circus, which features clown Bozo Bonham, billed as the "ambassador of fun," is the second largest on tour in the United States today. It also has one of the largest animal tents now touring. Two parades are to be held in Astoria on circus day featuring some of these animals.

Regatta association officials say profits from tickets sold in Astoria at the various business houses are greater for the association than those sold at the circus gate.

The association shares proceeds on a percentage basis with the circus. Twice as much profit goes to the association on tickets sold by the association prior to circus day.

Association president Tony Naimo urged all circus goers to buy tickets before Monday. He said that merchants would have tickets on sale through Saturday.

Merchants participating in the sale of tickets are Anita's Astor hotel, Astoria office appliance, Burke's, Chris' news, Coffee 'an, Commercial barber shop, Elliott hotel, Fiesta club, First National bank, Hauke's market, Jerome's, Kiddie's Korner, Kaufman's, Kindall's, Lawson's, Link's, Merwyn hotel, Owl drug, Paramount drug, Pat and Len's, Payne's, Public market, Rasty's, Reed and Grimberg's, Safeway, Salmon Derby grotto, Steinbock's, Ted's Hiway service, Thiel's, Thrifty market, United States National bank, Utzinger's and Western Auto.

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

Information Eyed On Past Astoria Regatta Royalty

Search for past Astoria Regatta queen was started this week by the Astoria Junior chamber of commerce auxiliary

The Jay-C-Ettes will present a special program during the Regatta this year at Pier 3 and will seek participation from many of the former Regatta rulers.

Among the missing about whom information is still being sought are: Mrs. W. G. Gosslin, 1897 Mrs. S. Normile, 1898; Sue Elmore, 1899. Louise Tallant, 1900; Ivy B Barker, 1901; Frances Thomas, 1903. Laura Seafeldt Malar, 1905 Esther Anderson, 1906; Harriet Tallant, 1907; Harriet Wise, 1908, Gertrude Upshur, 1911; Mrs. Charles Callender, 1913; Mrs. Alli Forsstrom, 1914; Mrs. J. E. Roman, 1915; Muriel Saling, 1916.

Persons having information and present address of the past Regatta Queens are asked to write Astoria Jay-C-Ettes, in care of Mrs. [illegible], route 1 box 985, Astoria, or call FA 5-5829

SEVEN GIRLS AND A GOVERNOR are pictured above on the steps of the Oregon state capitol building in Salem as Gov. R. D. Holmes meets a bevy of beauties from his home county, Clatsop county, in the persons of the seven Astoria Regatta princesses. Left to right they are Princesses Judy Stacey, Knappa Svensen; Gayle Ross, Astoria; Jeanette Watts, Warrenton; Patt Nogle, Jewell; Julie Johnson, Astoria; Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Ellen Morris, Astoria, and Gov Holmes

Astoria Pilots Schedule Fly-In

Astoria Chapter of the Sportsmen-Pilots of Oregon will hold its annual Fly-In at the Clatsop County Airport all day Saturday, Aug 30, in connection with the 38th annual Astoria Regatta activities, Frank Dundon, president, announced Saturday.

The activities include hydroplane and sailboat races, and a seafood barbecue by the Lions Club. Transportation will be furnished for visiting pilots from the airport to the docks for the marine show.

Fish Festival's Director Named, Events Outlined

Astoria's Oregon Fish Festival is all rigged and geared for its third annual companion cruise with the Astoria Regatta, Tony Naimo, association president, announced today with appointment of Dr. E. W Harvey to again head the celebration.

Dr. Harvey, who invented the fall festival as a salute to the fishing industry of Oregon and Astoria, heads the celebration for the third time. The celebration also returns to the site of its origin again this year, Pier 3 at the Astoria port docks.

Concurrent Events

Plans for the celebration call for concurrent timing with other Regatta events, Dr. Harvey says, and the whole program will be somewhat abbreviated.

Oregon's Gov. R D Holmes will be on hand to proclaim the festival and other top events of the celebration, which have become well-known throughout the Pacific northwest, will be held

Major events of the festival will be held on Friday, August 29, and Saturday, August 30. Other events connected with the Regatta will run throughout the full five-day celebration. Exhibits will be held again this year in Pier 3 and presumably will be open throughout the five days.

Schedule Told

Tentatively scheduled with the celebration are such events as the Fish Favorites from Far Away. This event was begun last year and features dishes and cooking demonstrations from a variety of areas and nationalities. Chairman of the event is Mrs. Viekko Romppanen. She will be assisted by the Mesdames Sverre Koppen, Herman Haggren, Leonard Schalk, Russell Snider, Elwyn Griffith and A. P Miller

DR. E. W. HARVEY

Anne Strachan, Clatsop county home economics extension agent, will be narrator for the event, and Ruth Klipstein, food nutritionist from Oregon State college, will also participate. The event is slated for Friday, Aug. 29, from 10 a. m. to noon and from 1:30 to 3 30 p. m.

Seafoods Search

Also tentatively scheduled for Friday at 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. is the cooking contest, the Savory Seafoods Search. Mrs Rudy Lovvold is chairman of the event, Dr. Harvey said.

Working with Mrs. Lovvold will be the Mesdames Cecil Green, Jalmar Johnson, A J [illegible] [illegible] Fell, George Moskovd and Kenneth Berg. Prizes for the cooking contest will be awarded at 8:30 p. m.

Marine events connected with the festival will be held on Saturday, [illegible] and will be under the [illegible] of the Sons of Norway. A. [illegible] chairman of the events. He will be aided by [illegible] Westerholm, [illegible] [illegible]

Anchor Club Is Visited By Royalty

[illegible] they did during their recent trips to Portland and down through the Willamette valley.

The seven princesses are: Judy Stacey, Knappa; Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Pat Nogle, Jewell; Jeanette Watts, Warrenton; Gayle Ross and [illegible] Johnson, Astoria and Ellen [illegible] Star of the Sea.

During the refreshment hour each princess was given a miniature blue and white [illegible] with her name printed on the sail.

Another guest of the evening was a former Anchor member, Mrs. [illegible] of Raleigh, N. C., who is visiting relatives in Astoria [illegible] to join her husband in Paris, France.

Committee for the evening was composed of the Mesdames Robert Reed, chairman; Charles Leback, Don Kubik and Allard Conger. Special prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Albert Sakki and the Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs Victor Olson.

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
[illegible]
FESTIVAL

Regatta Sets New Event, Button Drive On Log

BigNew Plan On Sunday

[illegible]

[illegible] Stra- [illegible] lands [illegible] cor- [illegible] lead- [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] na- [illegible] pre- [illegible] that [illegible] com- [illegible] to provide samples of favorite dishes from as many foreign lands as possible.

[illegible]

Cold Dishes

[illegible] on of a [illegible] and [illegible] to 12 per [illegible]

[illegible] asserted the [illegible] to be one of the [illegible] of the celebration.

Montana's Governor J. Hugo Aronson, is shown above as he receives an invitation to attend the 38th annual Astoria Regatta slated for August 28, 29, 30 and 31 and September 1 from George Radich. The governor said he would be unable to be on hand this year, but was grateful for the invitation. The presentation was made by Mr. and Mrs. Radich on a recent visit in Montana.

Big plans are in the making among young servicemen, who will honor 1958 Regatta princesses at a dance Thursday night at the USO. Each lovely member of the royal court will have a military escort representing a branch of the service here and especially picked for the honor. Under the "welcome" sign, and already enthused about their job are three committeemen rounding out arrangements, from left, Ray Swineford, EM2, Sylacuaga, Ala., Columbia River group; J. W. Jones, BT2, Dinuba, Calif., USS Goss, RE 444; and Jerry Bjornson, FN, from Spokane, Port Security unit, Coast Guard. Dance starts at 8 p. m. (A-B Photo)

County-Wide' Booster' Sales Drive On Slate

A county-wide Regatta booster button drive gets under way here Saturday, Mrs. Harold Jacob drive chairman, announced today

Mrs Jacob, who said Regatta button sales have been brisk, but still lag behind the needs of the association, said a Saturday button sale through downtown Astoria would kickoff the concentrated button sales campaign

The concerted sale drive will continue until Regatta time itself, according to Mrs Jacob.

Button sales this year are under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Astoria Anchor club. In past years they have worked with the association, and been the prime button salesmen, according to Tony Naimo, Regatta president

3000 Sold

Mrs Jacob said that all 3000 of the original Regatta buttons ordered are in the hands of salesmen and presumed to have been sold. An additional 2000 Regatta buttons have been ordered and the goal, she asserts, is to sell all of them

Price of buttons this year is 50 cents. In the past they have been sold for one dollar.

This means, Anchor officials reminded, that twice as many buttons as have been sold in the past must be sold this year. Included in the concerted drive are plans to visit the various communities where Regatta princesses reside

Envisioned are Regatta tours with the princesses in convertibles and board members in uniforms throughout the county.

Funds Help

Funds derived from the button sales are the prime financial backing for the Regatta, Naimo stressed, and this year is an important year if the Regatta is to survive, he pointed out

He urged all residents of the county to participate in the Regatta this year, since the princesses come from throughout the county, and he said they have been doing an outstanding job for the association this year

"Wherever the Regatta court has been sent we have received praise and compliments This proves again that Clatsop county produces outstanding young women," he declared.

The association has received letters from Portland, Salem, Albany and other communities where the princesses have appeared, praising them for their poise and charm.

Plans Made For Marine Events

[illegible] place at the east end mooring basin, with Sunday's events under the sponsorship of the Scandinavian Benevolent society, working with the Astoria Yacht club. Chairman for these events is Don Riswick, aided by Joseph Dyer and Axel Englund

Joe Tursi, general chairman for the two-day expanded marine program, said that the Portland Water Ski club, composed of more than 40 members, will appear both Saturday and Sunday mornings.

Events Saturday will run from 6 a.m. to noon with outboard cruiser races, limited hydroplane races, outboard family run-about races and sailboat races on the program

Sunday's program includes events running from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. with a marine parade, blessing of the fleet, and fishing gear demonstrations. Sunday will also see gillnet races, expanded this year to four classes. These races will include a free-for-all race.

Also slated are sailboat races, tugboat races and whale boat races. Grandstands will be provided on the pier for spectators, Tursi said, and admission will be charged. Loud-speaking systems and other conveniences are planned for viewers, he added.

Recently added to the Regatta board of directors are Dr. E. W. Harvey, of Seafoods laboratory, Bob Nichols, manager of Pacific Finance Company, and Ann Strachan, Clatsop county home economics agent.

Dr. Harvey, who is also head of the 3rd Oregon Fish Fish Festival, will serve a one-year term. The Fish Festival is held in connection with the five-day Regatta celebration slated for August 26 to September 1.

Nichols replaces Joe Nerenberg who resigned from board recenly. He will head a special project to be announced later.

Miss Strachan, who has been appointed to the advisory board, will work with Dr. Harvey on the Fish Festival and also be in charge of a special project to be announced later.

Regatta to Have New Feature

An [illegible] is the latest feature to be added to the [illegible] Astoria Regatta scheduled for August [illegible] according to [illegible] association president.

The [illegible] this year is a [illegible] which will feature [illegible] and even plain [illegible] held in [illegible] feature [illegible] planned for Sunday night, August 31.

Ann Strachan, Clatsop county extension agent, will head the [illegible] and food will be [illegible] out on long tables running down the [illegible] of the Pier 2 Regatta headquarters [illegible] the entrance of the auditorium, Miss Strachan said. She stressed that the event is not to provide a complete meal for anyone but to offer samples of favorite dishes from as many foreign lands as possible.

Miss Vera Sheets and a committee yet to be named will assist Miss Strachan in an event that is hoped will become a permanent part of the annual Regatta celebration.

Volunteers will be asked to contribute cookies, cold cuts, salads, and any other type of cold food, as well as labor. The only hot dish will probably be fish balls, Miss Strachan said.

Volunteers, individuals or organizations, wishing to contribute either food or labor are asked to call Miss Strachan at FA 5-6511 or write her at PO Box 207. Dishes should be enough to feed from six to 12 persons.

A special county-wide Regatta booster button drive is slated for Saturday, according to Mrs. Harold Jacobs, drive chairman. The Saturday downtown sale of buttons will kickoff a concentrated button sales campaign which will continue until Regatta time, Mrs. Jacob said. Sales this year are under the Astoria Anchor club.

Mrs. Jacob said that presumably all 3000 of the original Regatta buttons have been sold, but an additional 2000 have been ordered and the goal is to sell them all. The buttons sell for 50 cents.

38TH
REGATTA

SQUARE DANCE
Sunday August 31
Astoria Armory

3rd FISH FESTIVAL
AND SALMON FEED

38TH
REGATTA

SQUARE DANCE
Sunday, August 31
Astoria Armory

3rd FISH FESTIVAL
AND SALMON FEED

Square Dance Jamboree Slated During Regatta

Square dance enthusiasts from all over the Pacific Northwest converge on Astoria, Sunday, August 31, for the first annual Regatta sponsored Square Dance Jamboree, Tony Naimo, Regatta association president announced today.

More than 80 squares of dancers from every corner of Oregon, dancing [illegible] hailing from Washington and California are expected [illegible]. The [illegible] Square Dance band [illegible] in Oregon and Washington has also been signed for the day.

Plans Complete

Plans for the big dance festival are nearly complete, according to Naimo, who announced that a committee of local square dancers has been working on the project all summer long. He said announcement of the event had been forestalled until the arrangements were more complete.

Charles Ordway, Astoria area square dancer, is chairman of the committee in charge of all arrangements for the event.

He said advertising and publicity has been [illegible] on a statewide basis for the dance fete. He also said response has been 'better than we could have expected for the first year.'

Time Set

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Caller Ready

[illegible] Del Kernes [illegible] in charge of [illegible] of the armory and installation of the public address system.

Admission will be charged for the dance fete for both spectators and dancers, Ordway said.

All local area square dance halls will [illegible] free trial dances the night before the festival that is

(Continued on Page Two)

38TH
REGATTA

SQUARE DANCE
Sunday, August 31
Astoria Armory

3rd FISH FESTIVAL
AND SALMON FEED

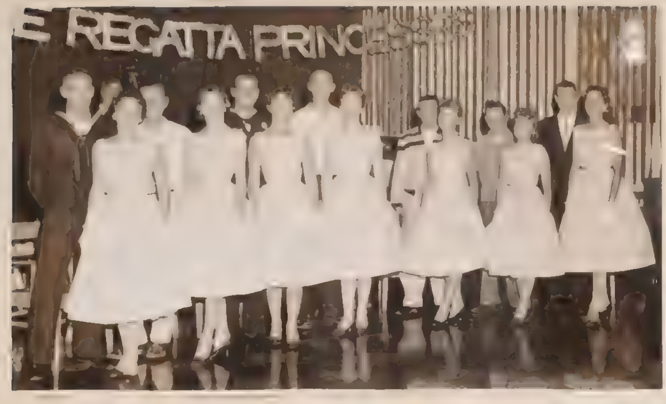
38TH
REGATTA

SQUARE DANCE
Sunday, August 31
Astoria Armory

3rd FISH FESTIVAL
AND SALMON FEED

---

ted for Mis



Water Ski Club Billed

Some of the members of the 40 member Portland Water Ski club, due to perform at the Astoria Regatta, are pictured above. They represent some of the 14 families which comprise the group. Six members of the club are also slated to run from Portland to Astoria. They are the first ski club to make the attempt, although an individual accomplished the feat this weekend.

Ski Club Signed, Races Billed For 38th Regatta

Family Club Has 40 'Stars'

Water antics, ranging from shoe skiing to the smooth symmetry of water ballet, will be featured in two performances by the 40-member Portland Water Ski club during the 38th annual Astoria Regat[illegible] mo, association president announced today.

Members of the Portland club have been signed to appear during the mornings of August 30 and August 31 at the east-end mooring basin, Naimo sai

'A family affair,' best describes the club, which has appeared throughout Oregon and Washington at a variety of festivals. The group has also been featured on television.

14 Families

Fourteen families are represented in the group, according to Bill Haynes, Milwaukie, a former Astorian, who is president of the club. Both 'oldsters' and youngsters perform during the two-hour show.

Recent appearances by the club include the dedication of Pelton dam, North Clackamas County Hospitality days, Annual Oaks Park water show and The Dalles

(Continued on Page Two)

(Continued from page One)

Home show.

Haynes said the group performs a variety of acts and can arrange for 20 different numbers.

Among those scheduled to be seen during the Regatta will be the dangerous kite-flying act and the flying gyro-boat. The boat, Haynes says, is the only one of its kind on the Pacific coast.

Ski-Jump

Also featured with the group is a portable 5 foot ski-jump.

Acts include all the conventional ski club activities, with a few wrinkles, according to Haynes.

Girls from the group perform water ballet, swan acts, pyramids and a special children's flag routine. Also billed is championship jumping, clowns, backward skiing, saucer demonstrations, five to seven man pyramids, doubles, shoe skiing, and many others.

Six boats are used during the act. Three mahogany inboard runabouts with one of them capable of reaching a speed of 50 miles-an-hour, are used to tow the skiers. The club uses outboards as safety boats during the show.

Juniors Win

Junior members of the club won a first prize award during the Portland Rose Festival water activities this year.

Haynes said club members wear distinctive uniforms and will spend [illegible]

4 Classes Slated for Gillnetters

Plans are nearly complete for one of the largest and most diversified programs of marine events ever held under auspices of the Astoria Regatta association, Joe Tursi, marine events chairman for the board of directors, announced today.

Jammed into two big days, Tursi said, will be marine activities ranging in scope from sleek sailboat races to the roar of hydroplanes and the high whine of gillnet boats. Sailing races are under the direction of Joe Dyer and members of the Astoria Yacht club.

Supervision of the gillnet races, and some other events, is under direction of a group from the Scandinavian Benevolent society. Don Riswick is chairman of this group.

Two Days

Marine events are slated for the east end mooring basin and will be conducted on Saturday and Sunday, both in the morning and afternoon, on August 30 and 31.

Riswick also announced today the classifications for gillnet races

---

Ski from Portland Is Billed

Portland's Water Ski club, billed for two performances during the Astoria Regatta, this Sunday will attempt to become the first water ski club in Oregon to ski from Portland to Astoria non-stop.

The feat was accomplished by an individual this weekend, but the club effort is the first try announced.

Six to Try

Six skiers will make the long haul down from Portland and will deliver a message to Astoria Mayor Peter Cosovich from Terry Schrunk, mayor of Portland.

The group will leave Portland Sunday about 4 or 5 a.m. and should arrive in Astoria by 8 or 9 a.m. A group of civic officials will be on hand to greet them, according to Tony Naimo, association president.

Naimo said arrangements for ceremonies at their arrival have not been completed. The group will then stop in the city for breakfast as guests of the Regatta association.

Male skiers making the long run include Howard Haynes, towed by Dick Crispin, Merle Bost, towed by Jack Robinson, Wayne Peterson, towed by Don Archer, Dalton Davis, towed by Bill Haynes.

Bill Haynes, president of the Portland club, said the group has been planning the run all summer long. He indicated they have been training for several weeks.

One woman will make the trip. She is Mrs. Vera William. She will be towed by Bill Earle.

'Flying Fish' Ready

A huge fish, emblematic of the 3rd Oregon Fish Festival will fly over the city before and during the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, and the 'animal' is an all local product. The huge cloth fish, which is designed to be hoisted up a flagpole and will fill with air, was designed by Pyoung doo Kang, Korean worker at the Astoria Seafoods laboratory. The entire laboratory staff aided in creating the fish. Pictured above with the fish are left to right, doo Kang, and Dr. E. W. Harvey, who heads the laboratory. Site for the 'flying fish' has not as yet been selected. The Regatta gets under way August 28 and runs through September 2. (A-B Photo)

Big Regatta

ASTORIA — The largest array of marine events ever assembled for an Astoria Regatta has been lined up for the 38th annual summer water festival, scheduled for

(Continued on Page 25)

Aug. 28 through Sept. 1. Joseph Dyer, president of the Astoria Marine Construction Co., is in charge of the majority of the events.

Working with Dyer is Joe Tursi, an employee of AMCCO.

Plans now formulated include sailboat races, gillnet boat races, limited hydroplane races and other events on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 30 and 31.

Ski Club to Perform

Two performances of the Portland Water Ski Club are also on the schedule. This group includes more than 40 members and they will present a variety of water antics. The events will all be held in the east end mooring basin in Astoria.

Held in conjunction with the regatta again this year will be the Oregon Fish Festival, a salute to the fishing industry, under the direction of Dr. E. W Harvey of the Oregon Seafoods Laboratory.

Dr. Harvey along with Bob Nichols, Astoria finance company manager, have recently been added to the board of directors.

Defending Champions to Return

The prize winning California State Championship Military Drill team from the Oakland Naval Air Station, long a Regatta favorite, will perform their intricate maneuvers at Regatta garnd parade, Astoria, August 30. Comprised of 12 men, the precision marching unit is lead by drillmaster Don Ward. Ward has held the title of champion drillmaster for the past 3 years in California. During this period the four man suicide squad, taken from members of the complete team, has been acclaimed best of four man teams in California. In addition, the 12 man team copped the title of Northwestern Champs for the states of Oregon and Washington. Don Garris, parade chairman, said the group has won first place honors in drill team units in the Regatta parade for the past three years.

Skiers Due Sunday

Members of the Portland Water Ski club are shown above with some of their equipment which will be seen in Astoria during their two appearances during the 38th annual Regatta and on Sunday when they ski down to Astoria from Portland. Some of the skiers who will be making the trip are pictured. Left to right they are, Dalton Davis, Howard Haynes, Ralph [illegible]ner, Helen Honald, Miss The Dalles, and [illegible] Haynes. Bill Haynes is the son and [illegible] Haynes, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haynes, longtime Astoria area residents.

Stage All Set For Ski Club Junket To Astoria

Arrival Set for 8-9 A.M.

Portland's Water Ski club will buck the winds and the weather Sunday as the first water ski club in Oregon, the northwest and the nation, makes an assault as a unit on the endurance water ski speed run from Astoria to Portland.

Hopeful club members are keeping their fingers crossed that they will not also have to buck water ski traffic as well, since in recent days, the Columbia river from Portland to Astoria has resembled a speedway for water skiers.

However, Portland club members point out, the coming Sunday effort by the club is the first group effort to be made.

Plans Set

Plans are complete at both ends of the route for the event, according to Tony Naimo, president of the Atsoria Regatta association which is sponsoring the event and is bringing the Portland club to the city for two appearances during the Regatta.

Naimo said Regatta officials had been in consultation with Bill Haynes, Portland, president of the club and all arrangements are complete.

Naimo said that the Regatta association will be represented at the Portland start by Tommy Luke, former Regatta top admiral. Luke will aid the sendoff for six of the club members along with Mayor Terry Schrunk of Portland. Mayor Schrunk will turn over a letter to the club members to deliver, via water skis, to Astoria Mayor Peter Cosovich.

Breakfast Planned

The group will leave for Astoria about 4 or 5 a.m. Sunday and are expected to arrive at about 8 or 9 a.m.

Plans are for the Regatta court princesses to meet the skiers in a boat and lead them into the East End mooring basin where they will stop and dock their craft. The official Regatta boat for the day will be Eugene Lowe's.

Naimo said Regatta board members will be on hand as well as many civic leaders. He said a breakfast will be served for the group and Regatta officials following arrival.

Skiers participating are [illegible] Howard Haynes, Merle [illegible] Wayne Peterson, Dallan

(Continued on Page Two)

Fast Ride

Two Portland men believe they have accomplished a feat unique in the annals of water skiing. They permitted themselves to be towed by helicopter, at speeds up to 60 m.p.h., from Portland to Astoria and back on the Columbia.

The 187-mile trip was completed in 5 hours, 5 minutes, believed to be a new water skiing speed record, by Mark Carpenter and Jim Hemstreet. Pilot of the 'copter was Wes Lamatta.

Arrival Set for 8-9 A.M.

(Continued from Page One)

[illegible] Mrs. Verna Williams, [illegible]

Downriver Ski Trip Slated for Sunday

The Portland Water Ski club will [illegible] Sunday to become the [illegible] in Oregon to [illegible] Portland to Astoria [illegible].

The group plans to leave Portland about 4 or 5 a.m., arriving in Astoria [illegible] when they will be met by a group of civic officials. They will then be guests for breakfast of the Astoria Regatta association.

Those [illegible] planning to make the trip [illegible] Howard Haynes, towed by [illegible] Merle Boat [illegible] Wayne Peterson, [illegible] Don Archer, Dalton Davis, towed by Bill Haynes and the one woman making the trip Mrs. Vere William, [illegible].

A [illegible] successfully made the trip last Sunday.

Ski Club Signed For the Regatta

Definite plans for a number of outstanding marine events have been completed for the 38th annual Astoria Regatta, Aug. 28-Sept. 1.

Members of the Portland Water Ski club will appear on the mornings of Aug. 30 and 31 at the East end mooring basin, according to Tony Naimo, association president. Fourteen families are represented in the group, which has appeared recently at the dedication of Pelton dam, North Clackamas County Hospitality days, Annual Oaks Park water show and The Dalles Home Show. Among the acts scheduled will be the dangerous kite-flying act and the flying gyro-boat, the only one of its kind on the coast. Six boats are used during the act.

Junior members of the club won a first prize during the Portland Rose Festival water show this year

Four classifications have been set for the gillnet races, slated for Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 30-31. Classifications established by the committee in charge of the races include:

Class 1—Vessels up to 200-inch displacement with round bottoms, 25 feet or more in length.

Class 2—Vessels with 201 to 265-inch displacement, round bottom, 25 feet or more in length.

Class 3—Vessels with 0 to 265 cubic inch displacement, V bottoms.

Class 4—Unlimited—This is the main event

Contributions are being sought with a $1500 purse as a goal.

Tugboats, whaleboats, cannery tenders, pulling races and family cruiser races are also being planned by the committee.

Astoria Trio to Talk Regatta on TV

The 38th Annual Astoria Regatta and the 3rd Oregon Fish Festival, both Astoria Regatta association sponsored events, will get some publicity Thursday when three Astorians appear on a Eugene television program.

Mrs. Veikko Romppanen, Mrs. A. H. Lofgren and Anne Strachan, Clatsop county extension agent will leave Astoria at 8 a.m. to appear on the 3:30 p.m. program.

Miss Strachan will discuss the details of the Regatta and the other two members of the trio will talk about the Fish Favorites from Far Away demonstration on the Fish Festival program

The group are appearing on the half-hour program titled "Bev's Coffee Break."

Dance Jamboree Will Be Regatta Feature

Astoria will be host for a square dance jamboree which is expected to draw dance enthusiasts from all over the Pacific Northwest, Sunday Auvust 31, from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

More than 80 squares of dancers are expected from every part of Oregon for the first annual Regatta sponsored Square Dance Jamboree, according to Tony Naimo, Regatta association president.

Eddie K's orchestra of Vancouver, Wash., the only exclusive Square Dance band in Oregon and Washington, will play for the squares. Music for the round dances will be furnished by record players. Callers for the event will hail from Oregon, Washington and California.

Chairman of the committee in charge of the event is Charles Ordway, area square dancer. Howward Jollie, another local square dancer club member, is in charge of callers and the program for the dancing. Del Kernes will be in charge of the armory, where the event is to be held, and for the installation of the public address system.

[illegible]

[illegible] will be charged [illegible] the event

Races Set for Regatta

Quarter midget racing, one of the newest racing fads to catch on in the Pacific northwest, will be demonstrated during the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival. The small cars, operated by youngsters from 4 to 12 years old, will race following the grand land parade on Saturday, August 30. A site for the races has not yet been selected as yet. Exhibition racing will be offered for Regatta fans at no cost.

Regatta Month Underway With Arrival Of Skiers

'Surprises' Revealed by Regatta Unit

With the 38th annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Oregon Fish Festival just 26 days away Astoria Regatta planners polished final plans for the celebration in a marathon session Friday night at Regatta headquarters.

More than 20 board members and representatives of cooperating community civic and service groups were on hand as the board added and subtracted from a bulging list of program plans for the 5-day event which runs from August 28 through September 1. The board heard from spokesmen for each one of the events scheduled for the program and heard association president Tony Naimo tick off a list of 'surprises' for the celebration.

Races Set

Top item on the list of surprises was a quick authorization by board members which will rack up another first for the association. The board voted unanimously to bring quarter midget races to the city for the first time during the celebration.

These small race cars, driven by youngsters from 4 to 12 years of age, is the newest fad sweeping the nation and the Pacific northwest.

Under present plans the races will be presented on Saturday. It was pointed out the races are demonstration events and are offered free of charge.

Specific details of the appearance were not disclosed by the board, but the racers are definitely to be here. President Naimo said they would be seen on Saturday immediately following the Regatta land parade at a site to be announced.

Folk Dancing

[illegible] gatta at Pier 3. Date for the jamboree is Sunday, August 31. The event is a demonstration dance and will be offered in conjunction with a three hour program including the International Smorgasette [illegible] another Regatta sur- [illegible]

Slated to be featured with the folk dancers is the male and female Norwegian choirs of Taco-

Arrival Set 8-9 A.M. for Water Skiers

Official proclamation of Regatta-Fish Festival month was made Saturday by Astoria Mayor Peter Cosovich with the kickoff set Sunday on arrival of six water skiers from Portland between 8 and 9 a.m. at the east end mooring basin.

Mayor Cosovich designated the whole month dedicated to the celebration which has a jam-packed program slated for five big days August 28 through September 1.

Greet Skiers

First activity is the greeting of the members of the Portland water ski club Sunday morning. Mayor Cosovich will be on hand to receive a letter carried downriver by the group from Portland's Mayor Terry Schrunk. He will also receive a letter from Oregon's Governor R. D. Holmes.

The skiers are scheduled to leave Portland between 4 and 5 a.m. Sunday. A party of about 40 members of the group and their families are to be the guests of the association a breakfast following their arrival.

Featured on the ski-run will be the first woman to attempt to water-ski from Portland to Astoria. She is Mrs. Verna Williams.

Scheduled to be on hand to greet the skiers are members of the Regatta association board of directors in full Regatta uniforms, the royal Regatta court and the Royal Chinook drum and bugle corps.

Surprises Stud Plans For Fete

(Continued from Page One)

ma. Known as the Normanna choir the groups are well known throughout the northwest. They will present a series of musical numbers in both English and native tongues. According to present arrangements Naimo said, the choirs will present an hour long program between a two hour program of folk dancing.

More than 40 folk dancers representing native dancing in about 10 foreign lands are expected to participate in the jamboree. They will wear colorful native costumes.

Review Billed

Another Regatta surprise unveiled at the meeting was plans for the Friday night Regatta Review slated for pier 3. Mrs. Wesley Shaner Jr., and Mrs. Pete Bryant are in charge of the program and the night is sponsored by the Jay-C-Ettes and the Beta Sigma Phi.

More than 20 former Regatta Queens are to participate in the program. The Queens will be introduced along with a style-review of the year in which they reigned. Some queens are coming to from communities as far away as Los Angeles, Calif.

Also scheduled for the evening are demonstration of modern dances by the Arthur Murray dancers from Seattle. Mrs. Shaner said the dancers will present a program familiar to the popular Arthur Murray Dance party featured on television for several seasons.

Other program features are still in the planning stage and will be announced at a later date, ac- [illegible]

Races Free

[illegible]

Arrival Of Skiers 1st Event

(Continued from Page One)

A boat, owned and piloted by Eugene Lowe, president of the Astoria chamber of commerce, will meet the skiers and lead them into the east-end basin. The royal court, along with chaperone Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, and Jean Hallaux, Regatta vice president, will be aboard the craft.

The party will disembark at the smallboat ramp at the mooring basin.

Members of the party skiing down, in addition to Mrs. Williams, are Jack Stoddard, Howard Haynes, Merel Bost, Wayne Peterson and Dalton Davis.

The Portland Ski club is slated for two performances during the Astoria Regatta, one on Saturday morning, August 30 and the second on Sunday, August 31.

---

and other events to be staged.

Racing is to follow the Marine Parade, under the direction of Lewis Wright, and will be presented in morning and afternoon hours Sunday.

Wright, who heads the boat handling skill event, slated for Sunday afternoon, stressed the event is open for fishboat operators only. In this event fishboat operators attempt to pick up balloons while in motion over a prescribed course.

Holmes Due

Oregon's Governor R. D. Holmes, will proclaim the Oregon Fish Festival and give a short talk during the morning hours at the east-end mooring basin, site of all the marine events of the Regatta.

Riswick also announced that Al Mather had been named chairman of the gear demonstrations section of the Sunday program.

Saturday marine events are under the direction of the Astoria Yacht club and Joe Dyer, with Regatta board member Joe Tursi in charge of both days. Tommy Dyer, who attended the Friday night session, said sailboat races are slated along the Astoria waterfront on both days. He pointed out sailboats from the Sea Scout Regatta, will remain over to participate in these special events.

He said three classes of sailboat races are scheduled.

Four Classes

Riswick also stressed the fact that four classifications were slated for the gillnet races Sunday morning. He said inquiries had been received from communities throughout the lower Columbia about participation.

He said the horsepower relationship to the various classifications was approximately: Class 1, 80 horsepower; Class 2 and 3, 85 to 135 horsepower, unlimited class, 150 horsepower and above.

Attending the session [illegible] Lewis Wright, R. L. Hanson, Leo Soucie, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Shaner, Charles Ordway, William Westerholm, Don Riswick, Ensign James Costello, representing the coast guard, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barr.

Regatta planners meet again Friday, August 8 at the Ron Graves Insurance office headquarters.

Ski Express Brings Message

It wasn't a message to Garcia, but members of Portland water Ski club did have a message for Mayor Peter Cosovich on arrival Sunday at the east-end mooring basin . . . matter of fact, two of them, one from Gov. R. D. Holmes and Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk. The six skiers roared into the basin about four hours after leaving Portland. They arrived at 9 a. m. The last to arrive was the first woman to ever ski from Portland to Astoria. She also [illegible] Mayor Cosovich, Mrs. Verna Williams, Howard Haynes [illegible] and Tony Naimo, president of the Astoria Regatta association [illegible] who made the trip, Jack Stoddard, [illegible] Bost, Wayne Peterson and Dalton Davis.

A B Photo

Water Skiers Complete Arduous Astoria Trip, First Woman Makes Run

Six Portland Water Ski club members—one of them the first woman to water ski from Portland to Astoria, who set a record that will be hard to duplicate—roared into the east end mooring basin Sunday morning just before 9 to become the first water ski club to successfully complete the Portland to Astoria run.

Mrs. Verna Williams is the first woman to make the run and she did it the hard way. She posted her record while riding just one ski. Her five male companions on the long, grueling trip each used two skis.

Not only did Mrs. Williams' record set a first for the club, and the Astoria Regatta association which sponsored the trip, but the Portland Water Ski club thus became the first organized ski club to accomplish the feat. Earlier last week several individuals made the run.

Mayor Present

A contingent of Astorians, headed by Mayor Peter Cosovich, and Regatta association president Tony Naimo, were on hand to greet the skiers. The Regatta princesses, Judy Stacey, Carolyn Lawson, Patt Nogle, Julie Johnson, Gayle Ross, Ellen Morris and Jeanette Watts, greeted the group aboard Eugene Lowe's boat, the Marketeer. The craft went out to meet the skiers and guided them into the basin.

Boat drivers really revved the engines as they roared into the basin area. They each made a [illegible] feet, before they came on in. As they came in they circled the basin, and even though they were "dog-tired" as one of them said later, they waved and smiled to the nearly 200 persons who waited one the docks. First to arrive was Dalton Davis.

Last skier to come in was Mrs.

(Continued on Page Two)

Pleasure Boating

By Ed Goetzl
Journal Boating Editor

Life is coming to be just one boat ride after another.

We no sooner get our body convinced that we no longer are on an 11-day cruise to Alaska than we get an invitation to make a round-trip, one-day run to Astoria. This time pulling a water skier all the way, no less.

Seems these trips are getting rougher and rougher, but, somehow, we like 'em that way.

As of right now we should be somewhere between Portland and Astoria in Vic Crispman's inboard runabout Commanche, or having breakfast in Astoria, or already turned around and headed back upriver for Portland—depending on what time of day you read your Sunday paper.

TODAY'S road map for Crispman and the Commanche called for leaving the Portland harbor patrol moorage at 4 a. m., pulling Howard Haynes on water skis into Astoria about 8 a. m. for breakfast then turning right around to retrace the water route back to Portland. It's going to be fast because Crispman says he has an appointment here this afternoon.

Skipper Crispman and skier Haynes are part of a six-boat six-skier team from the Portland Ski club that for many months has been planning this run to Astoria.

Basic purpose of the trip is to draw attention to the annual Astoria regatta, scheduled for later this month and at which the Portland Water Ski club will perform. The six skiers are taking greetings from Mayor Terry Schrunk of Portland to Mayor P. G. Cosovich of Astoria, pledging Portland support of the upcoming Columbia rivermouth event. They also are carrying similar greetings from Gov. Robert D. Holmes.

AMONG the six skiers making the 100-mile downriver run is one woman, Mrs. Verna Williams. She is being towed by a Sports Marina boat operated by Bill Earl. Other skiers and boat operators are Jack Stoddard, towed by Harold Wells in The King; Merle Bost by Jack Robbins in the Coral Reef; Wayne Peterson by Don Archer in the Rialto II, and Dalton Davis b Bill Haynes in a Bob Smit marina boat.

Skiers are going only one way, with most skippers lanning to trail their boats ck to Portland. Crispman may be the only skipper bringing his boat back by water. We've never made this run to Astoria and back in a single day. Should be fun.

Speaking of Astoria, the regatta and fishing, Portland boats already have begun to leave their home ports for moorages in the area for a month or six weeks of fishing and fun.

AMONG THE boats headed Astoria way is a spanking new 40-footer launched last week by Leo Jansen. Built in his own plant, the sleek new steel job was christened the Steel Queen III. It has a 13-foot beam and is powered by two 471 GM diesels.

Getting back to the 11-day, 1000-mile cruise from Olympia to Juneau from which we returned a week ago. The overall story will be found in today's Feature section. One thing that we could have spent more time on—but we ran off the bottom of the pages as it is—was to emphasize that the waters in the Puget sound, San Juan, Vancouver island and Inland Passage regions are not difficult waters—provided, of course, skippers use common sense and know how to read charts and make use of all available aids to navigation.

Originally we had hoped to make the 1000-mile run in a 25-footer. We would have had no problem. Main thing is to make allowances for layovers when weather conditions dictate.

For Portlanders taking boats all the way, the worst run is from the mouth of the Columbia to Neah bay. And that, apparently, is something that has the Seattle area pleasure boaters bothered. We are not so sure they really want more of us from this area entering the big predicted log races up north. Which possibility, we hope, will stimulate more and more Portland boats to do just that. It's a terrific cruising area.

IMPERIAL MOTORS on NE Union has tied onto the swing to pleasure boating as the nation's No. 1 family sport and expanded earlier-announced boat sales. The firm has been named area distributor for Reinell, well known, long-time boat manufacturer of the Pacific Northwest.

Word Sent Via Ski-Express

MEMBERS [illegible] Portland Water Ski club receive letters from Mayor Terry Schrunk of Portland, center foreground, and from Gov. Robert Holmes—presented for governor by Robert R. Clark, PUC auditor, left—for delivery to Mayor P. G. Cosovich of Astoria and pledging support of Astoria Regatta and fish festival later this month. Six skiers are delivering letters today, skiing from Portland to Astoria. Receiving letters is Bill Haynes of Ski club. Skiers, left to right, Merle Bost, Jack Stoddard, Verna Williams, Dalton Davis, Wayne Peterson and Howard Haynes. Inset, Jack Stoddard shows good form coming in for landing to pick up letters at Portland harbor patrol dock, from where skiers took off this morning at 4 o'clock. They expect to be in Astoria for breakfast.

Six Ski 105 Miles

MAYOR PETER Cosovich of Astoria receives greetings from Portland and state officials that were water-skied to him Sunday from Portland by six-man team of Portland Water Ski club. Left to right, Mayor Cosovich, Verna Williams, Jack Stoddard, Howard Haynes, Dalton Davis, Tony Naimo, president of Astoria Regatta association, Wayne Williams and Merle Bost. Six skiers made tough 105-mile run without mishap.

Water Skiers Brave Cold in Astoria Run

Six Portland Water Ski club members Sunday bucked wind, rain, rough water, cold and a bit of hail to ski greetings from Portland and state officials to Mayor Peter Cosovich of Astoria.

The five-man, one-woman team set some kind of distance water ski team record in covering the 105-mile nonstop run. But "gimmick" water ski records are being set so fast the record books don't list them.

PURPOSE of Sunday's tough run was to water-ski letters from Mayor Terry Schrunk and Gov. Robert Holmes to the coast city wishing it "the best" in promoting the Astoria Regatta later this month. The Portland Water Ski club will provide entertainment for the regatta.

The six skiers left Portland at 5 a. m. and pulled in to circle Astoria's public boat basin at 8:50. Although having adverse conditions all the way, skiers made the run without mishap.

Skiers making the run were Jack Stoddard, Howard Haynes, Merle Bost, Wayne Peterson, Dalton Davis and Verna Williams. Haynes, 16, youngest member of the team carried Mayor Schrunk's letter, and Mrs. Williams Gov. Holmes' greeting.

• •

Marine Program Ready For Astoria's Big Regatta

[illegible]) — Defi- [illegible] out- [illegible]

Gillnet Races Set

[illegible]

inch displacement, V bottoms

Unlimited—This is the main event.

Contributions are being sought with a $1500 purse as a [illegible]

Tugboats, cannery tenders, whaleboat pulling races and family cruiser races are also being planned by the committee.

[illegible]Y, AUGUST 4, 1958 4M 11

Three Ski River to Astoria

Water [illegible] to Astoria [illegible] of [illegible] a community [illegible] and a woman [illegible]

The five were members of the Portland Water Ski club [illegible] greetings from [illegible] Mayor Terry [illegible] Mayor Peter Cosovich.

Skiers Circle Harbor

The five [illegible] pulled by [illegible] boats [illegible] Portland [illegible] in Astoria [illegible] Astoria [illegible] Corps [illegible]

The skiers circled the boat basin and waved [illegible] vying Astoria's Regatta Princesses before landing and tak- [illegible] reception [illegible] them.

Skiers who turned the trick Sunday were Jack Stoddard, Howard Haynes, Merle Bost, Wayne Peterson, Dalton Davis and Mrs. Verna Williams.

Ray DeFir[illegible], Portland, established [illegible] record last [illegible] when he skied to Astoria [illegible] stop.

CYCLIST, CAR COLLIDE

[illegible] 10, 1607 NE [illegible] to Eman- [illegible] 31st Ave. [illegible] motorist was [illegible] W. Fisher, [illegible], 3646 SE Morrison St., police reported.

Named Regatta Admiral

MAJ. GEN. CHESTER McCARTY

AF Commander To Head 38th Fete As Admiral

A native Oregonian who served with distinction as a lawyer and legislator and rose from the World War II rank of captain, serving in two American conflicts, to become commanding officer of the world's first supersonic Air Force, will serve as admiral for the 38th annual Astoria Regatta, Tony Naimo, association president, announced today.

Maj Gen Chester Earl McCarty, who commands the Twelfth United States Air Force, becomes the fourth military man to serve as Regatta top hand in five years. His selection also honors the USAF as the selection of other military leaders has paid a special tribute to the services they represent. Maj Gen. William F. Dean, represented the US Army, Maj Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, the national guard, and Rear Adm. A M Bledsae, the United States Navy

Now In Texas

General McCarty is based at Waco, Tex., with the headquarters unit of the Twelfth Air Force. He has command of the Tactical Air Command's supersonic fighter and fighter bomber bases west of the Mississippi river, and thus is in the front lines of America's tremendous nuclear striking force. Units of the Twelfth air force were alerted and participated in the American intervention in the middle eastern crisis

The entire Twelfth Air Force is equipped with F-100 Supersabres and F-101A Voodoos

Accompanying General and Mrs McCarty here for the Regatta will be Maj. A. G. Thompson, his public information officer, and Captain Albertus Outlaw, his aide.

Native Born

General McCarty was born in Pendleton, and grew to maturity in Portland. He graduated from Jefferson high school in Portland in 1923 and received his LLB degree from Northwestern College of Law, in Portland, in 1929

His distinguished law career in Oregon from 1929 to 1942, when he entered military service, included service from 1930 to 1936 as assistant attorney general of Oregon. He was elected an Oregon state senator in 1942

In June of 1940 General McCarty entered military service with the rank of Captain. He had served for more than 11 years with the Oregon National Guard and Reserve Corps in the infantry and field artillery from 1921 to 1933.

Career Varied

Thus began an active military career that carried General McCarty to the corners of the world both in war and peace time and brought him some of the highest military decorations of this and other nations

His first assignment was as commanding officer of the 64th Transport Squadron at Borinquen Field, Puerto Rico, in March of 1943

Then began a succession of assignments covering the entire war and ranging from North Africa to Washington, D. C. In September 1943 he joined the North African Division, Air Transport Command ing, serving successively as Air Inspector, Deputy Operations officer and Deputy Chief of Staff for the North African Division

Commands Depot

In July of 1944 he assumed command of the 82nd Air Depot Group and a group of Air Transport bases in the Middle East with headquarters at Abadan, Iran. His final assignment in that area was as commanding officer of the United States Air Bases in Tunisia. He was then sent to Washington, D C, as commander of the 503rd Base Unit at National Airport. Later in 1945 he was transferred to Boeing Field at Seattle and reverted to inactive status on July 11 1946

(Continued on Page Two)

AF Commander To Head 38th Fete as Admiral

(Continued from Page One)

Following his release from military service General McCarty resumed his law practice, but did not sever his connections with military activity. He continued to take an active part, particularly in the Air Force Reserve program. In 1947 he was elected national president of the air reserve association.

Reserve Commander

He commanded the 305th Air Division (Reserve), and later the 403rd Troop Carrier Wing (Reserve) at Portland Municipal Airport

In 1951 General McCarty was recalled to active duty due to the Korean emergency and he later took the 403rd Troop Carrier unit to Japan. In 1952 he assumed command of the 315th Division (Combat Cargo) of the Far East Air Forces. He was' promoted to the rank of major general while on this assignment.

From this time until the Korean truce in 1953 General McCarty led combat airlifts which were said vital in stopping enemy attacks. General McCarty played a dramatic role in the historic seige of the beleaguered garrison of Dien Bien Phu. His planes, based in Japan, were loaned to the French air force for use at this time. His maintenance crews kept them flying

Returns to States

On his return to the United States in November 1954 General McCarty assumed command of the Eighteenth Air Force at Donaldson Air Force base, South Carolina. The Eighteenth was then the Tactical Air Command's global airlift component.

Under his command Eighteenth Air Force Wings set some outstanding records. His planes won the Air Force Dintinguished Unit citation for the DEWline airlift in the Arctic, and Operation Snowbird, the airlift of an airborne regimental combat team from Kentucky to Alaska, where the units were airdropped in winter weather.

A plane under General McCarty's overall command also airdropped buildings and equipment from two floating ice stations near the North Pole.

The general himself piloted the Globemaster which made the first South Pole airdrop, the seventh flight over the South Pole in history. This followed by only 30 days a flight over the North Pole by the same aircraft.

Drops Troopers

A variety of missions were accomplished by the Eighteenth Air Force in addition to global airlift operations. Among them were training and practice exercises which saw more than a quarter million paratroopers annually jump from Eighteenth Air Force craft

Transfer of Elighteenth Air Force airlift operations to the Military Air Transport Service and TAC's Ninth Air Force meant a new assignment for General McCarty. He moved to Waco, Texas, and assumed command of TAC's supersonic fighter and fighter bomber bases, a post he now holds.

Records Set

Planes of the 12th Air Force have set some of the top speed records as they practice for their global mission. The Eighth Air Force is a global striking force and is equipped to use either atomic or convential weapons.

General McCarty is a command pilot with more than 10,000 hours of flying time including supersonic time in F-100 and F-104 aircraft. This includes 469 hours of combat time in bombardment and transport aircraft on 152 combat missions

Military decorations earned by the general include the Distinguished Service Medal, Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star, Air Medal, with four oak leaf clusters, Korean Service medal, Presidential unit citation, and many theater and service ribbons.

Much Decorated

He has been decorated many times by foreign governments and wears military decorations from Greece, Thailand, British Empire, France, Republic of Korea, Morocco, Tunisia, and the Republic of China

President Naimo said the Regatta association was deeply grateful to have such a distinguished military leader as the admiral for the 38th summer water festival.

"The Regatta Association is particularly grateful to U. S. Rep. Walter Norblad. Representative Norblad helped in making arrangements for General McCarty's service as Regatta admiral," Naimo said

Naimo said arrangements have been made for General McCarty and his party to travel from Portland to Astoria by boat. Details of this trip will be announced later, Naimo said.

'Admiral'

MAJ. GEN. C. E. McCARTY
Chosen for top Regatta post

General Gets 'Admiral' Job

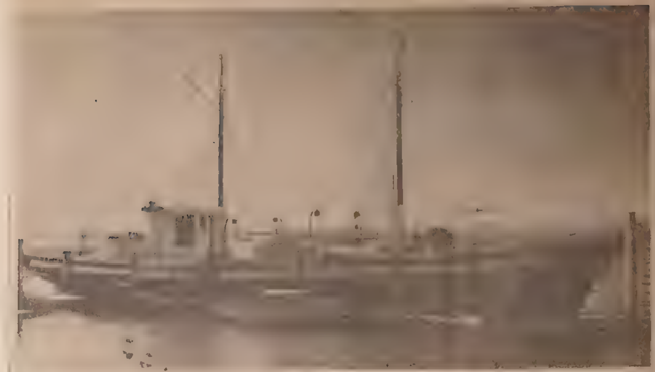
ASTORIA (Special) — A native Oregonian and former Portland lawyer has accepted the invitation to serve as admiral for the 38th annual Astoria Regatta, Aug. 30-Sept. 1, Tony Naimo, association president announced Saturday.

Maj. Gen. Chester Earl McCarty, who commands the 12th U.S. Air Force, will be the fourth military man to serve as Regatta admiral in the past five years. Others include Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, and Rear Adm. A. M. Bledsoe

Gen. McCarty, who is now based at Waco, Tex., was born in Pendleton.

Maj. A. G. Thompson, public information officer, and Capt. Albertus Outlaw, aide, will accompany Gen. and Mrs. McCarty here for the regatta. Arrangements are being made to have Gen. McCarty and his party travel to Astoria by boat, Naimo said.

Former Pilot Boat Regatta Flagship



The King and Winge, official flagship of the Astoria 1958 Regatta, lies peacefully at its specially dredged moorage below the riverside home of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Parlova in Fernhill, in readiness for the coming Regatta water events. The former 'Columbia', pilot schooner of the Columbia River Bar Pilots association, it is a favorite of the Alaska waterfront for its colorful history in those waters, further enhanced by 60,000 crossings of the treacherous Columbia river bar during its career as pilot schooner. [illegible] is the honor, the Regatta association states, that the [illegible] little ship be the Regatta admiral's flagship, and along [illegible] duties [illegible] friends [illegible] inside passage, will be to bring the Regatta admiral, Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty, down from Portland, thus [illegible] the Regatta, August 27. (A-B Photo)

King & Winge, 'Lady With A Past', Decreed Regatta Festival Flagship

The King and Winge, a gallant ship with a proud tradition and a colorful past, is designated the flagship of the 1958 Astoria Regatta, by official decree of the Regatta association

Recently purchased by Dr and Mrs Clyde Parlova from the Columbia River Bar Pilots association, as the Columbia, it was the pilot schooner, under the command of Capt. Frank Craig, who recently retired after 34 years service. Records show that the graceful but sturdy schooner crossed the dangerous Columbia river bar, "graveyard of the Pacific," 60,000 times

Built and launched in 1914 by the King and Winge shipbuilding company of West Seattle, it carried supplies to trader-whalers, often ice-bound in the Arctic. Early photographs show the ship surrounded by ice floes and flying its flag upside down as a distress signal.

History Written Early

It was on that maiden voyage that the King and Winge's brave history started. It rescued the officers and crew of the Stefansson expedition, marooned in ice on the ship Karluk off Wrangell island.

Just four years later, the vessel's most famous rescue attempt made front page news, when it was one of the first ships to reach the ill-fated Princess Sophia after it struck a reef near Juneau, October, 1914. The King and Winge offered to take aboard as many passengers as it would hold but the captain of the doomed Princess line ship refused. As the King and Winge stood gallantly but helplessly, a raging northerly blow struck, and the wrecked ship broke and sank with 343 persons aboard.

A Varied Career

More colorful history was written of the King and Winge's adventurous years as a trader out of Nome Alaska. And when white water broke over her graceful bow as a deepsea halibut boat. And later, during prohi days, as a rum runner

But since 1923, rebuilt and renamed the Columbia by the Columbia River Bar Pilots who purchased it, the "lady with a past" as the ship is known along the Alaskan waterfront, settled down to a life of respectability (and equally hard work), scorning the treacherous sand spits and wild waters of the Columbia bar.

This past winter, retired with honor and replaced by the new pilot schooner, also named the Columbia, the new Regatta flagship was purchased by Dr. Parlova, given a "beauty treatment" on the ways of the AMMCO shipyard, refurnished, restocked and restored to its original name

Waterfront Welcome

Proudly it threaded the cold, green depths of the inside passage to Alaska this summer, with Dr. Parlova at the wheel and his family and several friends lined up along the gracefully carved wooden rail that wins more admiration from boat lovers as the years go by.

Everywhere on its [illegible] cruise, wherever it would slip unobtrusively into a quiet harbor, old timers gathered along the sprawling waterfronts spotted the schooner, familiar and famous in those waters. "She's back. The old King and Winge," the news spread up into town, and photographers and newsmen appeared, later to revive the history of the little ship (with a past as colorful as the Lady that's known as Lou), across the front pages of newspapers from Vancouver, B. C., [illegible]

With salons [illegible]

powered with a 200 [illegible] Atlas Imperial diesel [illegible] a beam of 20 feet, [illegible]

Now a New Role

[illegible]

An [illegible] Astoria parade [illegible] Assembly 23 Rainbow Girls drill team from Seattle has announced they will perform their snappy drill routines in the Regatta parade, Saturday, August 30 and [illegible] the Awards Pageant that night at Pier 3, Jaycee parade officials report. Performances of the unit have won awards throughout the northwest.

Reports Show Anchors Set For Regatta

Regatta activities were the main [illegible] at the Anchor club's [illegible]day evening.

Mrs. Al Mather urged all members, their husbands and even the teenagers to participate in the "Savory Seafood" contest.

Mrs. Harry Duff reported on activities of the royal court, places they had been and where they will travel the next few weeks, also the selection of the admiral for the Regatta and the advertising of this year's event by the Astoria Clowns during their trip to Seattle where they participated in the Seafair parade.

Mrs. Harold Jacob outlined the progress of the button campaign. [illegible] Smith reported the wardrobes of the princesses and flower girls were now complete and suits were being selected for the page boys.

Skipper Vivien Graves asked for [illegible] to help decorate a permanent float for the queen. This float will then be used in the parade and in all future Regatta [illegible]

[illegible] barn dance will be held September 20, and the committee for this event is the Mesdames R. M. Landwehr and Vernon Mogenson, co-chairmen, and Kenneth Simonsen, Donald [illegible], Marvin Taylor and William [illegible]

The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Albert Frye and composed by Miss Susie Anderson. Committee [illegible] the evening was the Mesdames [illegible] Bill Leahy, chairman, Eldred Mittet, Rudy Lovvold and Arthur Tilander. Special prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Stanley Sagen.

Flagship Due For Regatta

Trip to Portland Slated Aug. 26

ASTORIA (Special) — The King and Winge, former pilot schooner of the Columbia River Bar Pilots Assn. and now owned by Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Parlova, has been named the official flagship of the Astoria 1958 Regatta.

The vessel will leave for Portland Tuesday, August 26, to pick up Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty, this year's Regatta admiral and his party, along with the Regatta court and others to bring them to Astoria the following day. Also invited to make the trip are Capt. [illegible]tus Outlaw, aide to Admiral McCarty, Maj. A. G. Thompson, public information officer for the 12th Air Force, Gov. R. D. Holmes, and Mayor [illegible] Schrunk of Portland.

[illegible] eption at the Astoria Yacht Club upon the arrival of the party will start off the 1958 Regatta.

The King and Winge, built by King and Winge Shipbuilding Co. of West Seattle in 1914, has a colorful history in Alaskan waters as a supply ship to trader whalers. On her maiden voyage the vessel rescued the officers and crew of the Stefansson expedition, marooned in ice on the ship Karluk off Wrangell Island.

Four years later it was one of the first ships to reach the Princess Sophia when it struck a reef near Juneau in October 1914.

Later it was used as a trader out of Nome and during prohibition days as a rum runner. In 1923 it was rebuilt and named the Columbia by the Columbia River Bar Pilots to be used as a pilot schooner.

This past summer it cruised the inside passage to Alaska with Dr. Parlova, his family and several friends aboard. It was recognized everywhere as the old King and Winge, and made front page news.

Officers Wives Entertain for Regatta Court

One of the most artistic even[ts] honoring the Regatta court in the flurry of pre-Regatta entertaining was the recent tea given by the Officers Wives of Tongue Point at the naval station BOQ.

A miniature sail boat filled with bright gladioli made a novel background for the receiving line. Receiving the guests of navy personnel and Astorians with the seven princesses were Mrs. Elmer Troyer, president of the club, in a flowered glazed cotton with black accessories, and Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, court chaperone, in mauve silk with white accessories. Mrs. Mitchell was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds to wear during the afternoon, and the princesses, in their pastel blue afternoon frocks, with little caps of pink nylon leaves, plastic bags and slippers with pink trimming, wore wrist corsages of blue and white Eester Reed daisies, presented them by their hostesses.

A floral anchor of blue and white daisies, flanked by silver candlesticks holding blue tapers, graced the tea table, where Mrs. R. S. Simpson and Mrs. V. S. Robison poured, assisted by Mrs. L. Pratico and Mrs. W. P. Hoag.

Dainty silver anchor pins for each of the princesses and a pair of silver earrings for their chaperone were gifts from the Officers Wives club.

The outgoing board of officers of the club, assisted by the incoming officers, were in charge of the happy event.

Prizes Await Teen Agers

[illegible] cooks will have a [illegible] vision in the Savory Seafood Search recipe contest for the first time at this year's Astoria Fish Festival Aug. 29. Designed to honor Northwest cooks who prepare outstanding dishes with native seafoods, the contest is open to the public with no entry fee.

According to Mrs. Jalmer Johnson, contest publicity chairman, entries will be judged in six divisions: appetizers, chowders and soups, salads, main dishes, recipes prepared by men and recipes prepared by teen-agers, 13 through 17 years.

Entry blanks may be requested from Mrs. Rudy Lovvold, 645 Florence Ave., Astoria. The blanks must be filled out and returned to her by Aug. 25 to assure the contestant a space reservation to display the prepared dish. The display area will be on Pier No. 3 where tables will be arranged according to divisions. Refrigeration and heating facilities are available.

Judging Times Listed

Contestants are requested to bring their dishes to the judging area pavilion just before the designated judging times: appetizers, 9 a.m.; chowders and soups, 9:45 a.m.; salads, 10:30 a.m.; main dishes, 11:15 a.m.; men's entries, 1 p.m.; teen-agers entries, 2 p.m. Two copies of the recipe must accompany each entry.

Viewing of seafood dishes will be open to the public at 3 p.m. Prizes will be awarded Aug. 29 at 8:30 p.m. at the pier pavilion.

ICE HELPS VEGETABLE

Place wilted vegetables in ice-cold water or between layers of crushed ice to freshen them. Then cover with clean damp cloth and store in refrigerator.

Lions Auxiliary Is Hostess for Regatta Court

A nautical theme revealed the fact that the Lions auxiliary were being hosts to the Regatta court at the Tuesday night's meeting at the John Jacob Astor hotel.

At each princess' dinner plate were miniature boat favors and table flowers and tapers further carried out the decorations. Each princess, after the dinner, explained some phase of the regatta activity this year.

Mrs. Stanley Sagen, presiding at her first meeting as president, announced the following as her committee chairman for the year: Mrs. Frank Thorsness, telephone; Mrs. Allard Conger, sunshine; Mrs. Vern Mogenson, ways and means; Mrs. Warren Grimberg, welfare; Mrs. Granville Brooks, program; Mrs. Elmer Blomquist, parliamentarian; Mrs. Arnold Swanson, invitations; Mrs. George Hediger, membership; and Mrs. Eric Hauke, convention.

Mrs. Blomquist and Mrs. Henr[y] Griffin reported on the Lions an[d] auxiliary convention recently held in Eugene.

The Mesdames Sagen, Thorsness and Gustafson were hostesses for the evening.

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

38TH
REGATTA
Join
ASTORIA'S CLOWNS
For
5 BIG DAYS
Astoria, Oregon
Aug. 28-Sept. 1
3RD FISH
FESTIVAL

Tacoma Eagles Drum Corps Parade for Regatta

Holder of many Washington honors as a top majorette and winner in last years Regatta, 18 year old Nancy Jo Dross above will show her stuff again in the Regatta parade August 30 when she leads this Eagles Drum and Bugle Corps from Tacoma.

Known as "Ballyhoo Champions", this snappy unit has Cy Knotels as drum major; Jim Crawford is musical director. Several such spirited and colorful units will participate in Regatta activities, according to the Jaycee parade committee.

Scottish Band Joins Regatta Parade

In colorful tradit[illegible]a, the noted Portland Scottish P[illegible] [illegible] be just one of the favorites returning for the parade Saturday, [illegible] of the [illegible]th annual Astoria Regatta and third Oregon Fish Festival. A tally during a Jaycee parade committee meeting Wednesday revealed that total entries are near the 60 mark, with more expected. Full routines of bands and drill units will be seen parade night at the "band show", also.

ASTORIA REGATTA
Sunset Area Council

SQUARE DANCE
JAMBOREE

ASTORIA ARMORY -

SUNDAY, AUG. 31 - 2-5:30 P. M.

EDDIE K's ORCHESTRA

Callers from Oregon & Washington

DURING THE

38th ASTORIA REGATTA & 3rd Oregon Fish Festival

August 28-29-30-31-September 1

AF Commander To Head Regatta

[illegible] McCarty [illegible] Twelfth [illegible] will be [illegible] past [illegible] Maj. Gen. [illegible] Adm. [illegible] is now [illegible] born in [illegible] graduated [illegible] Port- [illegible] degree [illegible] Law [illegible] 1946 [illegible] and [illegible] Mrs. McCarty [illegible] Arrange- [illegible] have [illegible] party [illegible] Astoria [illegible]

Regatta Adds More Features

Another "first" on the program of the 38th annual Astoria Regatta, August 28 Sept. 1, will be quarter midget races, which consist of small cars driven by youngsters from 4 to 12 years of age and is the newest fad to sweep the nation and the Pacific northwest.

The races have been scheduled for Saturday, August 20, immediately following the Regatta land parade.

Another surprise on the program will be the International Folk Dance Federation and the Oregon Folk Dance Federation Jamboree at Pier 3, Sunday, August 31, in conjunction with a three hour program including the International Smargasette.

Featured with the folk dancers is the male and female Norwegian choirs of Tacoma, known as the Normanna choir. The groups will present an hour long programs of both English and native numbers between the two-hour folk dancing program. More than 40 folk dancers representing native dancing in about 10 foreign lands and wearing colorful native costumes, will take part in the program.

On the program for Friday night August 28, will be the presentation of former Regatta queens in a style-review of the year in which they reigned. Some queens are coming from communities as far away as Los Angeles, Calif. Also on the program will be a demonstration of modern dances by the Arthur Murray dancers from Seattle.

Parade Route Listed

The Regatta Fish Festival grand parade August 30 will follow the same route as last year's march, according to word from Don Garris, general chairman, and Jack Rieck, in charge of forming the parade.

The Jaycee parade officials said the procession would form at Second street on Marine drive, travel east to Eighth street, thence down Commercial to 20th street area where it will disband. Free refreshments for pared participants are planned for the terminal point.

Announcement of the route was made after discussion and approval of the plans by local and state police and the Astoria Regatta board. Rieck said that the route makes shorter walking distance for marchers, will enable highway traffic to be detoured over West Bond through town, and provide ample space for viewing the spectacle. First units of the parade will leave Third street at 2 30 p. m. for the march through downtown Astoria.

A crew of some 20 Astoria Jaycees under Rieck will form and direct the long parade, with the aid of city and state policemen.

Sail Boat and Pretty Girls at Tea

The seven enthusiastic Regatta princesses are nautically-minded and "crazy about boats", So, at the elaborately appointed tea recently given in their honor by the Tongue Point Officers Wives club at the Tongue Point BOQ, they promptly took over this miniature but real sail boat, which was borrowed for the occasion and filled with flowers to add to the appropriate decor of the tea. In front, seated, are, left, Princess Carolyn Lawson, Seaside, and Princess Ellen Morris, Star of the Sea, and standing in back, from left, Princess Patt Nogle, Jewell; Princess Jeanette Watts, Warrenton; Princess Gayle Ross, Astoria; Princess Judie Stacey, Knappa; and Princess Julie Johnson, Astoria. Their blue and white wrist corsages complemented their dainty outfits. (Navy Photo)

Parade Group Asks Volunteers On Queen's Float

[illegible] Re- [illegible] Queen's float [illegible] Regatta [illegible] and Carl Ben- [illegible]

'Sangerfest' Added As Regatta Feature

Members of the mixed chorus of the Normanna and Normanette choruses are shown above. They will sing at the annual Astoria Regatta. They are, left to right, front row, in picture of mixed chorus, Willard E. Dergan, Nels R. Norberg, Mrs. Milton G. Andresen, Mrs. Kenneth R. Heymel, accompanist, Prof. Gunnar J. Malmin, director, (Normanna Male Chorus) Mrs. Kenneth S. Anderson, Willard Dergan Jr., Olav Kalderstad. Second row, Anton Ness, Arvid K. Berg, Bertel P. Gilje, Mrs. John Martinson, Mrs. Eugene Adair, Mrs. Ray Larsen, Mrs. Nels R. Norberg, Oswald D. Tollefsen, Clarence O. Person, Martin Kleiven. Third row, John B. Johnson, Arvid P. Rostad, Robert Tjorstad, chorus president, Alvin Sather, Mrs. Lillian Finson, Mrs. Thor H. Tollefsen, chorus chairman, Mrs. Ole A. Mathisen, Mrs. Elvin Higgins, Russell H. Heglund, Milton G. Andresen, Thor H. Tollefsen, Henry Hansen. Back row, Howard Knutson, George W. Jacobsen, James Paulson, Ole A. Mathisen, Mrs. George W. Jacobsen, Mrs. John McConaghy, Mrs. Arne Berven, Mrs. Arthur Pelela, Bjarne Sagen, Thor Standal, Martin J. Heglund, Harold W. Olsen. Not in picture, Thorleif T. Landoe, Trygve M. Landoe, Arthur H. Larsen, Andrew Apalseth, Paul L. Riebe, Ward M. Arneson, Harold Iverson, Mrs. A. Marchell Stevens, director (Normanettes), Mrs. Thor Larsen, Mrs. Herbert Venables, Miss Jane Christiansen, Mrs. Lois Rees, Mrs. Herman Larsen, Mrs. Willard E. Dergan, Mrs. Martin Rasmussen, Mrs. Bjarne Sagen.

Norwegian Song Groups Billed For Astoria Regatta

Melodic Scandinavian airs and ringing American musical clas- [illegible] of individuals [illegible]

Selections to be presented by the [illegible] include some original native songs and as a grand finale the mixed choir singing the stirring, Battle Hymn of the Republic, in English.

Tacoma Base

Both of the choruses are from Tacoma, Wash., and are ranked as one of the cities outstanding mu- [illegible] official [illegible] chorus is Professor Gunnary J. Malmin, of Pacific Lutheran college, Parkland, Wash. He is assisted by his wife, Dorothy Braun Malmin. Mrs. Thor Tollefsen is accompanist.

The chorus is affiliated with the Pacific Coast Norwegian Singer's association and has appeared in many civic and charitable func- [illegible] will participate in the [illegible]

(Continued on Page Two)

Norwegian Song Groups Billed for Astoria Regatta

(Continued from Page One)

Dancing jamboree.

"In this way the Regatta salutes the foreign groups that have so enriched Astoria down through the years."

The program includes: Group 1 [illegible] Male Chorus) [illegible]

---

* * * *

REGATTA REVELS

* * * *

Regatta tempo quickened today as the 38th annual running of the oldest water festival in the Pacific Northwest was but 10 days away. Frantic Regatta planners were [illegible] final plans and Regatta headquarters hummed early today, and probably would still be humming until late tonight.

Sheryl Baker, herself a former Regatta princess, is serving as Regatta secretary for the second year in a row. She is headquartered in the Ron Graves insurance company office.

Plans for this year's Regatta call for the most diversified program in years, according to Regatta planners. [illegible] on the water include [illegible] races, sailboat races [illegible] and a big [illegible] main features are the big land parade directed by Don Garris, quarter midget races, a [illegible] dancing jamboree and a folk dancing jamboree.

Official decorators for the Regatta have already been in town, according to [illegible] association president [illegible] they have hung portions of the ceiling decorations in Pier 3 at the Port Docks. All events of the Regatta except water events and the [illegible] midget races and the [illegible] jamboree, which is scheduled for the Armory, are scheduled for the Regatta pavilion.

Oregon's Governor and Mrs. R. D. Holmes [illegible] Governor [illegible] Season [illegible] this year. The governor will [illegible] at the [illegible] court dinner [illegible] Fish Festival presentation on Sunday.

Admiral Chester McCarty's wife will accompany him to the Astoria Regatta. She has already accepted an invitation to attend the Queen's luncheon. A reception for the admiral will be held this year prior to start of the Regatta. The admiral will arrive Wednesday, August 27, aboard the King and Winge skippered by Dr. Clyde Forlova. Two aides, Major A. G. Thompson and Captain Albertus Outlaw will accompany the general here.

Lots of [illegible] foreign dishes, as [illegible] as the [illegible] dancing demonstrations [illegible] for the Regatta pavilion Sunday night are promised for the International Smorgasette according to Anne [illegible] who [illegible] She says [illegible] of foreign delicacies [illegible] dishes as well [illegible] who [illegible] The two Norwegian [illegible] mixed groups will also sing for this event.

Last year's Regatta Admiral, A. S. Bledsoe, rear admiral in the U.S. Navy, cannot return to Astoria this year for the Regatta. The admiral wrote his regrets.

Charting the course for the annual Anchor club tea, honoring the Regatta court, to be held Saturday, from 2-4 p. m. at the Yacht club, are the following committee chairmen, atop one of the Yacht club's sleek cruisers: from left, Delores Leahy, Anne Malmberg, Edna Clement, Esty Knutsen (general chairman of the tea) and Faye Hill. All women of the community are invited. (A-B Photo)

Regatta Tea Scheduled For Saturday

First pre-Regatta event, heralding the exciting schedule of next week, is the traditional tea given for the Regatta court by the Anchor club, calendered for this Saturday at the Yacht club from 2-4 p. m.

The event, according to Mrs. Eugene Knutsen, general chairman for the tea, is not invitational but open to all women throughout the county and their summertime guests from out-of-town

Co-chairmen for the decorations, which, as usual, will carry out a nautical theme in flowers and other decor, are Mrs William Malmberg and Mrs William Leahy, assisted by the Mesdames Alan Conger, Lowell Altheide, Robert Johnson and Allan Davis

Refreshments for the tea are being arranged for by Mrs. Jerome Clement and Mrs. Floyd Reith Jr., co-chairmen, who have on their committee the Mesdames Kenneth Hill, David Hoyer, Charles Leback, John Hill and Richard Carlson

It will be the first opportunity for women of the community to meet, first-hand, the court of seven pretty Regatta princesses and their chaperone, and is always the first of the important social events of Regatta time in Astoria.

Parade All Set

The Kiwanis club will conduct [illegible] parade August [illegible] 30, [illegible] on the court house [illegible] street [illegible] General Marvin Taylor of the Kiwanis committee in charge said today.

The event [illegible] in the past will be open to all youngsters. There will be nine divisions—baby buggy, boys' tricycle, girls' tricycle, boys' bicycle, girls' bicycle, wagons, floats, costumes and miscellaneous.

Free carnival tickets will be given all entrants, Taylor said.

In addition there will be a $5 grand prize and $3, $2 and $1 prizes in each division

---

Announces

BOB BLACKBURN

Blackburn MC's Two Big Events

Bob Blackburn, well known and veteran radio broadcaster, will serve as Master of Ceremonies for two Regatta functons, Don Garris, parade chairman, announced today.

Blackburn, who is perhaps best known to sports fans as one-half of the Rollie Truitt-Bob Blackburn baseball broadcasting team appears both at the Regatta parade and the Awards Pageant, which is the former band show, and features all of the outstanding musical units in the parade

During the huge land parade, slated for Saturday, August 30, Blackburn will be stationed at the reviewing stand and will announce the units on parade Garris said each unit would be allowed a few moments to perform before the reviewing stand and before the judges' stand as well

On Saturday night Blackburn will serve more in the capacity of master of ceremonies, Garris pointed out. During this event all of the prize winning parade units are on display. Marching and musical numbers are featured by the groups, which represent all of the parade division.

Garris stressed that parade units do not know how they have been rated at the time of the show and are as surprised as the audience when they are announced.

(Continued on Page Two)

Blackburn MC's Two Big Events

(Continued from page One)

Time for the Awards Pageant is 8 p m. at Pier 3 at the Port Dock s

Blackbrun, who came to Oregon from California several years ago has been broadcasting Portland Beaver baseball games for many years. He is a well known personality in Astoria and has visited here on many occasions. It marks the first time, Garris said, that a person from out of the city had been engaged as Regatta parade master of ceremonies.

Garris said Blackburn was selected for the honor due to the outstanding job he has done in the field of sports in Oregon.

Colorful Chorus Sings

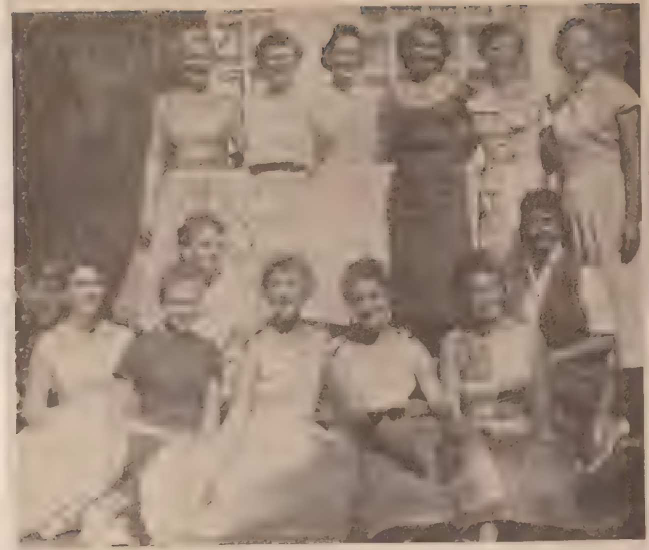
Members of the Norwegian Normanna chorus, which will sing during the 38th annual Astoria Regatta, are pictured above The group will be featured on the Sunday night program at Pier 3, the Regatta pavilion. The chorus hails from Tacoma, Wash The membership organized the chorus 17 years ago. A companion group, a female chorus, will also accompany the group to Astoria.

Uniform Is Same

[illegible]

High-Flyer

Portland water ski club members will virtually be flying over the water at the east end mooring basin during appearances for the Astoria Regatta. Pictured above is Jack Stoddard, water ski club member who mans the flying kite, one of the feature acts of the program. The club appears in two performances, Saturday and Sunday, August 30 and 31, during the Regatta.



On the sunlit terrace in the garden of the Peter Cosovich home, Wednesday the seven Regatta princesses and their mothers were entertained at an al fresco luncheon for which their popular chaperone Mrs. Donovan Mitchell was hostess. The princesses, seated in front, from left to right, are Gayle Ross, Ellen Morris, Judy Stacey, (behind her) Carolyn Lawson, Patt Nogle, Julie Johnson, and (behind her) Jeanette Watts. Standing back, left, are Mrs. Leo Ross, Mrs. Lawrence Morris, Mrs. Henry Lawson, Mrs. Milton Nogle, Mrs. Hiram Johnson and Mrs. Richard Alsbury, mother of Princess Jeanette. Princess Judy's mother, Mrs. Thorburn Stacey, was unable to come in from Knappa for the event, which also honored Mrs. Tony Naimo, wife of this year's Regatta president.

Court Chaperone Hosts Mothers And Princesses

Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, advisor, mother confessor and beloved chaperone of the 1958 Regatta court, was a luncheon hostess Wednesday for her seven lovely and lively princesses and their mothers.

The hilltop garden of Mrs. Peter Cosovich's home, a blaze of summertime color, was the setting for the luncheon, served at green and white-checked-covered tables. Centerpiece for the buffet was a large pink Venetian glass fish, flanked by bowls of rose-pink dahlias, which were repeated in massive arrangements inside the house.

During the luncheon, when the princesses relaxed in the informal atmosphere with just their mothers, their chaperone and Mrs. Tony Naimo, wife of the Regatta president, Mrs. Mitchell presented her seven pretty charges with rhinestone earrings, to be worn with their formals the night of the coronation.

She was assisted in serving by both Mrs. Peter and Mrs. Michael Cosovich and Mrs. Charles Gustafson Jr.

Busy Time Ahead for Anchor Club

[illegible] Regatta [illegible] Anchor Club [illegible] week's [illegible]

[illegible] will be [illegible] at the [illegible] August 25 [illegible] This event is [illegible] royal court and [illegible]

[illegible] August 28 is the [illegible] queen. This [illegible] at Pier 3.

[illegible] will be [illegible] at the queen's luncheon [illegible] Friday, August 2[illegible] at 12 o'clock noon. Reservations must be made by Wednesday by [illegible] 275 or [illegible] During the luncheon a style show will be given featuring back to college and school apparel.

Past Queens To Model in Regatta Show

Shades of yesterday will be featured in a revue of costumes worn by past Regatta queens, most of them modeled by the queens themselves, to be staged [illegible] by the Jay C Ettes and Beta Sigma Phi sorority Friday, August 29.

The revue, a new event this year for the Regatta, will be held at Pier 3 at the [illegible] where Regatta queens from as early as 1901 up to the present will parade majestically in the gowns worn during their reigns.

The Regatta Revue will have two shows, one at [illegible] p. m. featuring the early queens, and one at 11 p. m., with the spotlight on those who resigned since the revival of the Regatta. Phil D'Agostino's orchestra will furnish background music appropriate to each era, and also play for dancing for the audience, which starts at 8:30.

During an intermission at 10:30 an exhibition team from Arthur Murray's Seattle studio will perform, with audience participation to follow, and prize for the "best couple on the floor."

Another novelty on the program will be the modelling of bathing [illegible] models [illegible] to remain incognito, and during the later show the latest in swimsuits modelled by svelte college girls.

Mrs. Wesley Shaner and Mrs. Pete Bryant of the Jay C Ettes and Betas, respectively, are co-chairmen of the Regatta Revue which promises to be of unusual interest to women and men alike. They have asked Robert J. Hanson to MC the revue and they announce that the regular admission price for the event taking place at the pier that night will cover the revue including the dancing.

REGATTA REVELS

Astoria blossomed out in festive garb overnight in preparation for the 38th annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Oregon Fish Festival. Workmen from Wakefield and company, Portland decorators, hung the street banners through the main [illegible] of Astoria while most As[illegible]

[illegible] on Sunday morning. The ceremonies take place at the east end mooring basin.

Barbara Haglund, Ilwaco, who will be Neptune's Daughter during the Seafoods barbecue, will sing at the Regatta pavilion [illegible] and [illegible] other [illegible] is rated as a top [illegible] soprano. She has been compared with Jane Powell, former Portland girl and now of Hollywood fame, according to Dr. E. W. Harvey.

Adeline Sather has been busy with Regatta activity and along with some assistance completed [illegible] for the girls who will [illegible] night at [illegible] wear color[illegible]

[illegible] members along with [illegible] Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, [illegible] Hallaux and [illegible] appeared on [illegible] Friday [illegible]

Tommy Luke, perennial Regatta favorite and a past Regatta admiral, will again be on hand for the Regatta. He wrote board secretary Mrs. Harry [illegible] that he would present himself for orders on August 2[illegible]. Admiral Luke will appear at the [illegible] and at the dinner before the coronation for the court, board and judges.

Decorations are going up in Pier 3, site of most of the activities of the 38th annual Regatta. Ceiling decorations, wall drapes and many other features are planned for the pavilion this year. This will be the second year the show has been held in the pavilion.

Past Regatta queens will be honored Friday night at the Regatta. A couple of hard-working Regatta advisory board members, Mrs. Ruth Shaner and Mrs. Doris Bryant, have placed a display in the window of the Pacific Power and Light company. The display shows the gown worn by Queen Ivey Barker in 1901. The 1901 queen will be here for the Regatta.

All coronation judges this year are from out-of-town, as most of them have been in the past. They will be unknown to members of the court, but will meet them and talk to them before they judge the coronation.

Stirring precision performances by a colorful variety of bands, drill teams and drum and bugle corps—with noted Sportscaster Bob Blackburn as MC, will highlight Regatta activities next Saturday night at Pier 3, states Bill D. Wilson, Jaycee chairman planning the popular event for the Regatta association this year.

A real, live seal will be featured on one of the many floats being constructed for the big Regatta parade next Saturday afternoon according to word [illegible] into the [illegible] parade center.

[illegible]

Hospitality Set For Parade Units

Real refreshments—free sandwiches and beverages, will greet tired parade participants at the end of the Regatta and Fish Festival parade Saturday, Bob Jackson, parade hospitality chairman, revealed today.

Plans for the free "hospitality stop" for an estimated 626 paraders have been made by a joint Jaycee and Jay-C-ette committee which Jackson heads.

"The gesture of Astoria hospitality on behalf of the Regatta association has left a fine impression on out-of-town participants in past years and will again certainly contribute to success of our future parades," states Don Garris, parade chairman.

Tuna for sandwiches has been contributed by Columbia River Packers Association, Inc., while dozens of eggs have been donated by Oregon Egg Producers. The hospitality stand will be at the Arden Farms building at 21st street, Jackson reports.

Jay-C-ettes assisting in arranging this project are the Mesdames Jackson, Garris, Stanley Kurilo, and James Spain with others to assist on parade day, along with Jaycees.

Square Dancers Called to Help Get Hall Ready

The square dancers of this area have a full schedule of work to get everything in readiness for their big square dance jamboree next Sunday noon in the Armory, with the music furnished by Eddie K's orchestra of Vancouver, Wash.

Tuesday evening a 7 o'clock, all available square dancers are asked to report to the Astoria Armory to help remove the bleachers to make more room for dancing.

Florence Cheney will also have the decoration committee working, and the ladies can help her prepare the hall while the men are moving the bleachers out.

At the sametime the Regatta will have a group taking these same bleachers to pier three and setting them up to help accommodate the crowds they will have attending the many activities there.

Gillnet Race Boats Asked To Register

[illegible]

* * * *

REGATTA REVELS

* * * *

From a pier to a palace—that was the magic wrought by pavilion decorators during the weekend according to Regatta officials. They report the pier has exceeded their expectations and is scarcely recognizable. The stage is in, and the walls of the structure have been covered with plastic

Reservations are needed for the Anchor Club Queen's luncheon to be held at the cafeteria at the new Astoria high school Friday noon, August 29. Those desiring to make reservations may do so by calling FA 5-4319, FA 5-279 or FA 5-0760 The limit is 30 reservations, according to Mrs Phyllis Mittet and Mrs John H. Nellor, co-chairmen.

Navy League planners are urging everyone to turn out to greet the admiral at a special reception to be held at the Yacht club starting at 6:30 p m Wednesday as a big Regatta kickoff. Gene Nadon is chairman of the event, assisted by Dr Jorma Leinasser and Charle DeFoe The trio reported today that it is not necessary to be in Regatta uniform to attend the affair. Music will be supplied by the Three Tones, and food by Fred Preschl

Admiral McCarty and party have arrived in Portland, where they participated in dedication of the Portland International airport, and will, arrive in Astoria Wednesday in time for the reception Arrival time is set for 6 30 p m. at the east end mooring basin

Among dignitaires slated to arrive aboard the King and Winge will be Mayor Lester [illegible] of Seaside. The Astoria party will leave by bus for Portland early Wednesday morning. The King and Winge leaves from the Harbor Patrol dock on the Portland waterfront at 10:45 a.m.

The fish pond for youngsters, featured in the Regatta of last year will be a part of the Regatta at pier 3 again Amply stocked with agreeable fish, (agreeable to getting caught, that is) the pond will be open for old and young alike It will be down the main isle at the pavilion.

International Smorgasette chairman [illegible] more than 75 [illegible] have been promised for the event, which is one of the features of the [illegible] Pier 3 She [illegible] be [illegible] by the Tongue [illegible] under the [illegible] Frank Winnecki who is navy representative on the Regatta board.

Anchor club coronation committee members, under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Duff, were hard at work today preparing the Pavilion auditorium for the coronation Thursday night. The club traditionally handles the decorations for the event.

Tongue Point will host 120 admirals [illegible] first year that the luncheon has been offered free-of-charge. Luncheon will be served on a first come, first [illegible] Admiral McCarty will [illegible]

Traditional Navy pennants will fly at the Regatta pavilion. The pennants, on loan from the U Navy at Tongue Point, will be flown from the ceiling of the pavilion and will be used to decorate the front of the pier.

[illegible] KAST sales manager, will again be master of ceremonies.

[illegible] has provided [illegible]

[illegible]

The sunny inner court of the new Astoria high school was where the committee for the Regatta queen's luncheon, to be Friday at noon in the high school cafeteria, met to round out final plans, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Eldred Mittet and Mrs. John Nellor. Pleased with their plans, which include a style show, are, from left, Rayona Riutta, Donna Gustafson, Phyllis Mittet, Peggy Larson, Virginia Reitter and Maxine Nellor. Reservations must be in by Wednesday for the event. (A-B Photo)

Next Comes Luncheon for Regatta Unit

Next social event of top interest for women of the coutny, now that the 1958 Regatta court tea is a happy memory, is the Anchor club luncheon Friday noon honoring the Regatta queen of 1958, to be held at the new high school cafeteria

All plans are complete for the annual event, in spite of the fact that, until Thursday night's coronation, which of the seven lovely princesses will be the guest of honor, remains a mystery. Former Regatta queens, who are coming from far and near for the event, will also be honored

Co-chairmen of the luncheon, which starts at noon and which will feature a refreshing fruit plate, hot rolls, angel food dessert and coffee, are Mrs. Eldred Mittet and Mrs. John Nellor They are being assisted by Mrs. Gerald Sommerset, Mrs Charles Gustafson Jr and Mrs. Robert Reitter.

This year's luncheon will include something novel and of interest to the feminine attendants—a style show of back-to-school and fall and winter fashions, to be modelled immediately after the luncheon Anchor members and their children will be models for fashions from Morton's, Jerome's, Leon's, Kiddies Korner and Astoria Apparel of Astoria, and Margaret Graham's and Kay-Lynn's of Seaside, with hats from Klara-Alma

Mrs Harold Johnson is head of the style show, assisted by Mrs. Vernon Larson and Mrs. Richard Riutta

Reservations for the luncheon, which is open to the women of the county and their out-of-town guests, must be in by Wednesday Mrs. Mittet FA 5-2795, or Mrs. Reitter, FA 5-0760, are taking all reservations expect the same friends to pour the whole time If you ask two to pour for the first hour and two others to pour the second hour then all will have a chance to relax and visit with the other guests If you divide up the time, pouring isn't a chore for any one person

Astoria Unit Books Fly-in

[illegible] 38th annual Astoria Regatta Mrs. Harold E. Aune, public chairman, has announced.

[illegible]

Events Start 9 A.M.

Water events will start at 9 a.m. A special Sportsmen Pilots seafood barbecue will [illegible] during the day. Astoria has three lighted runways ranging from 3,200 to 5,800 feet.

Astoria Regatta FLY-IN

CLATSOP COUNTY AIRPORT

GAS AND SERVICES, WEATHER STATION, CAFE, HERTZ U-DRIVE CARS, ON THE FIELD

Saturday, Aug. 30th

FREE SEAFOODS BARBECUE, PRIZES, 11:30 TO 1:00,
PIER 3, PORT DOCKS

FREE TRANSPORTATION TO AND FROM BARBECUE — 9 A.M. TO 3 P.M.

REGATTA SCHEDULE SATURDAY, AUGUST 30

9:00 A.M. WATER EVENTS
11:30 A.M. SPORTSMEN PILOTS SEAFOODS BARBECUE
2:30 P.M. LAND PARADE (J.C.'s)
4:30 P.M. QUARTER MIDGET RACES (Drivers 6 to 12 Years)
8:00 P.M. AWARDS PAGEANT (J.C.'s)
10:00 P.M. DANCING
10:00 P.M. PIRATE'S DEN OPENS

38TH ANNUAL ASTORIA REGATTA, AUG. 28 TO 31

THIS FLY-IN SPONSORED BY THE ASTORIA CHAPTER SPORTSMEN PILOTS OF OREGON

REGATTA REVELS

[illegible]

Tea time Saturday afternoon had seven dainty Regatta princesses and their gracious chaperone waiting to be served when the Anchor club was host in their honor at the Yacht club. It was the traditional tea party that gives women of the community an opportunity to meet each member of the Regatta court. Mothers of the princesses were asked to pour, and here Mrs. Richard Alsbury (mother of Princess Jeanette Watts, Warrenton) on the left, and Mrs. Lawrence Morris (mother of Princess Ellen, Star of the Sea) right, are serving. Standing, from left, are Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, court chaperone, and Princesses Julie Johnson, Patt Nogle, Jeanette Watts, Gayle Ross, Judy Stacey, Carolyn Lawson and Ellen Morris, in their smart little afternoon frocks. (A-B Photo)

Regatta Tea Calls 200 to Greet Court

Tea with the Regatta court made a memorable afternoon of Saturday for some 200 women, who were guests of the Anchor club at its annual pre-Regatta event.

The lounge of the Yacht club displayed a striking color combination of coral and yellow, carried out in masses of gladioli. Entering the club, guests were confronted by an eye-catching art exhibit, with marine views and seascapes by Charles Mulvey of Seaview lining the walls, below which were arrangements of nets, glass floats and driftwood.

The tea table, covered with yellow net, displayed a centerpiece in the shape of a large fish fashioned of myriad coral gladioli blossoms and flanked with coral tapers. Also following the nautical theme were a marine setting on the platform at one end of the lounge, featuring a lighthouse with its flashing beacon, a skiff, and a stretch of sandy beach.

Receiving with the seven Regatta princesses, Judy Stacey, Julie Johnson, Ellen Morris, Patt Nogle, Gayle Ross, Jeanette Watts and Carolyn Lawson, were their chaperone, Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, the Anchor skipper, Mrs. Robert Graves, and general chairman of the tea, Mrs. Eugene Knutson.

Pouring throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Tony Naimo, wife of the Regatta president, and the mothers of the princesses, the Mesdames Thorbun Stacey, Hiriam Johnson, Lawrence Morris, Milton Nogle, Leo Ross, Richard Alsbury and Henry Lawson.

Authentic Garbed Hostesses Slated To Serve Sunday

Youthful members, junior members and grandchildren of members of the Sons and Daughters of Norway, garbed in authentic Norwegian costumes, will serve as hostesses for the Regatta Smorgasette Sunday night at 7 o'clock at Pier 3, according to Anne Strachan, chairman of the event.

Hostessing the affair will be Lucille Johansen, Lorraine Johansen, Jackie Johansen, Georgene Moskovita, Dianne Paulson, Vernice Doncy, Sharon Brandenburg, Sandra Cox, Sharon Bue and Sherry Josephson.

In charge of table decorations for the buffet, featuring samples of favorite dishes from foreign lands, are Mrs. Thelma Garrett, Warrenton, and Mrs. C. M. Love, Astoria. Centering the table will be a centerpiece combining the Columbia river bridge and Sally the Salmon, designed by Mrs. Love.

Additional foods including cookies, cold cuts, salads and other cold dishes, are needed for the Smorgasette, Miss Strachan reported. Food should be brought to Pier 3 before 6 p.m. Sunday.

Groups entering dishes for the affair include the Daughters of Norway, American Legion auxiliary, Olney-Walluski home extension unit, Alpha Iota and the Tongue Point kitchen crew.

Contributors will be greeted and registered by Mrs. A. W. Lopakka.

The free-food snack bar, added to Regatta events this year, will feature cold foods and one hot dish. Food will be identified by nation and by the person who prepared it, and dishes should be prepared to feed from 6 to 12 persons, according to Miss Strachan.

Individuals and groups who wish to volunteer food or labor for the affair are asked to call Miss Strachan at FA 5-6511 or write her at post office box 207.

Judge Slate Is Announced

[illegible] the 70 [illegible] Fish Fes[illegible] Saturday after[illegible] big procession.

Included in the panel which will be charged with selecting the best units in each of the nine categories of parade entrants are, Mrs. Betty Morrison, Mrs. Margaret Laws, Mrs. T. R. Williams, Rev. Orval Whitman, Rev. Colin MacRae, Mrs. Clayton Morse, Mrs. Evelyn Lazarus, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, Mrs. Fred Sandoz, Art Fertig, Carl Nyquist, Cliff Poole, James Morrell, Haskel Hutchens, Byron Roman, Tony Stramiello and Robert J. Hanson.

Judges will receive final instructions and specific assignments during a luncheon Saturday, according to Edison. The nine parade entry classifications for which awards will be presented during the "band show" Saturday night at Pier 3 are: commercial floats, non-commercial floats, bagpipe bands, bands, musical groups, drill marching units, display marching units, [illegible] units and military marching units. The latter is a new classification this year.

CONTEST

13 FREE PRIZES!

Oregon Fish Festival
Seafoods Cookery Contest
"SAVORY SEAFOODS SEARCH"
Friday, August 29th

Write: Mrs. Rudy Lovvold
645 Florence, Astoria, Oregon
For Entry Blanks

Bring your favorite appetizers, chowders and soups, salads, entrees and main dishes to Pier No. 3 for judging on August 29.

Special Prizes for Men and Teenagers (13 thru 17)

SPACE COURTESY
Luce Funeral Home

Singer

Lyric soprano Barbara Haglund, Long Beach, Wash., has been named Neptune's Daughter for the Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival. Miss Haglund, 16, will sing during Regatta dances each night and during Fish Festival events, including Blessing of the Fleet ceremony.

HAND-WOVEN ARTICLES TO BE REGATTA DISPLAY

An array of hand-woven articles will be on display by the Clatsop Weavers guild in the window of the Wash Machine Service, 273 West Marine drive, during the four days of the Regatta.

ENTRY BLANK
Savory Seafoods Search

AUGUST 29, 1958
Pier No. 3, Astoria, Oregon

Name ____________
(Type or print)
Address ____________ Phone ______
CITY ____________ STATE ______

Please [illegible] division your entries will be judged in and list seafoods to be used in each.

	Check	Seafoods Used
1. APPETIZERS 9:00 a.m.	( )	____________
2. CHOWDERS & SOUPS 9:45 a.m.	( )	____________
3. SALADS 10:30 a.m.	( )	____________
4. ENTREES or MAIN DISHES 11:15 a.m.	( )	____________
5. MEN'S DIVISION 1:00 p.m.	( )	____________
6. YOUTH (13-17) 2:00 p.m.	( )	____________

SEND ENTRY BLANKS TO MRS. RUDY LOVVOLD,
645 FLORENCE AVE., ASTORIA, OREGON,
BY AUGUST 25, 1958

Royal Regatta
REVUE DANCE
Friday, Aug. 29th
PIER 3
Entertainment 8:30 and 11:00 p.m.
Music by the 4-Tones

This Space Courtesy
Hughes-Ransom Mortuary
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

KIDDIES! ENTER THE KIWANIS DAY
KIDS' PARADE
FRIDAY, AUGUST 29th

FREE CARNIVAL TICKETS AND ICE CREAM FOR ALL PARTICIPANTS!

First Second, Third and Grand Prizes

Nine Divisions:

Baby Buggy, Boy's Tricycle, Girl's Tricycle, Boy's Bicycle, Girl's Bicycle, Wagons, Floats, Costumes and Miscellaneous

Parade Forms 6 p.m. on Duane St. Behind Court House

Regatta Special: Historic Festival Starts Tonight

. . . See Page 1, Inside for Details

Astorian Evening Budget

THURSDAY'S TIDES
High 0:18 a.m., 7.8 feet
Low 6:55 a.m., –0.8 feet
High 1:07 p.m., 7.2 feet
Low 7:09 p.m., 0.9 feet

* * * *

REGATTA REVELS

* * * *

Admiral Chester McCarty and a party of Astoria Regatta officials and Clatsop county civic leaders were slated to arrive here early this evening to officially kick-off the 38th Annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Oregon Fish Festival. The King and Winge was to be greeted by a party of local people and the Royal Chinooks. Arrival time was originally scheduled for 6 30 p m at the east end mooring basin.

This topsy-turvy Regatta-realm was set for a new ruler today with Queen Judy Hein 1957, slated to relinquish her scepter to one of seven princesses in historic coronation rites at pier 3, Thursday. Anchor club workers have finished with all but final touches to decorations and the auditorium is 'one of the most beautiful coronation sites we have ever had,' the Anchors assert

The traditional Pirate's Den will again be offered this year. Plans are just about complete according to Ellsworth Thiel, who is in charge. Adults only will be admitted to the Pirate's Den.

The Chessman Flag, which traditionally flies at coronation rites, will again be used, according to Marilou Haggren The flag will be raised by a color guard from Tongue Point and will fly throughout the Regatta.

Axel England, chairman of the marine events for Saturday, is searching for entrants in the family runabout races. He has prizes and some entrants lined up, but wants more Pre-registration can be made at Englund's Marine supply

All members of Company L, 186th Infantry, are urged to report to the Armory by noon Saturday, August 30. They are to participate as a unit in the Regatta grand parade. This announcement was made by Lt. Al Iverson.

Luncheon reservations have been coming in at a fast clip for the annual Queen's luncheon and the numerical limit has just about been reached, according to luncheon committee chairmen. Committee members urged those who still desire to attend to call immediately. The luncheon will be closed to guests when 300 have signed up The luncheon is scheduled for Friday noon. For reservations call FA 5-4894, FA 5-4319 or FA 5-2795

Bill Stidwell, a member of the Regatta board two years ago and in charge of the Pirate's Den during the 1956 Regatta ,the first time it was held at the pier, will be back for this years' celebration. He and wife are visiting here from Everett, Wash .

William Holmstrom will serve as aide to Admiral McCarty during the Regatta. Holmstrom, a past president of the Regatta association, has long acted in the official capacity as aide to Regatta admirals. He will be in charge of the group which greets the admiral today at the east end mooring basin. Don Heny and Comdr. Frank Wennecki will help him.

Sheryl Baker ,a former Regatta princess who has acted as Regatta secretary this summer, has been busy as a bee these days, according to association president Tony Naimo Naimo said Marian Hauke had been recruited to help her and the two have 'done a magnificent job getting the commission out.'

Commissions are still available for those who may have been inadvertently missed from the mailing lists or for out of town friends. If you want one, just call the Regatta office, located in the Ron [illegible]

The Marine Corps color guard from the Portland recruiting center will be the official color guard in the Admiral's division of the big Regatta parade.

The Tigard Union high school band, 50 strong will participate in the big parade, Saturday after a [illegible] tour and a spectacular [illegible] Shriners All Star [illegible]

[illegible] will be Marian Hauke

Regatta Set For Kick-Off On Thurs.

A supersonic 38th annual Astoria Regatta, and third Oregon Fish Festival, as slick as a satellite rockets skyward tonight to launch the most extensive and longest summer celebration in the post-war log of the historic event.

'Blast-off' time for the five-day program of marine, land, and air activity is officially Thursday night at 8 p. m. with coronation of the Queen. However, in pre-Regatta activity the celebration was geared for its start with arrival of the Admiral, Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty, tonight aboard the King and Winge. A reception will be held in his honor at the Yacht club.

Tickets are still available and will be available at the door, according to Charles DeFoe of the chamber of commerce It will afford a first opportunity for citizens to personally greet the admiral. A buffet, prepared by Fred Prechel will be served and dancing will be to live music, supplied by the Four Tones.

Admiral Due

Arrival of the Admiral signals the start of a round of activity as diversified as any in the history of the Regatta President Tony Naimo of the board of directors called on all Clatsop county citizens to participate in the Regatta, late today

"We have planned the celebration as a Clatsop county event, and we urge all of you to attend," Naimo said

Five high schools from throughout the county are represented on the royal Regatta court, Naimo pointed out, and any one of the girls could be named Queen. The queen is selected by an impartial panel of out-of-town judges.

Marine Events

Featured during the Regatta will be an expanded marine events program developed by water events chairman Joe Tursi. The water events will be seen on both Saturday and Sunday at the east end mooring basin

Small hydroplane races are featured Saturday along with the first appearance of the Portland water ski club. Gillnet, sailboat, and cannery tender races are slated Working on these projects have been Axel Englund, Joseph Dyer, D. V. Riswick, William Westerholm, Lewis Wright and members of the Scandinavian Benevolent Society.

Folk dancing, quarter midget auto racing, square dancing, the huge land parade, the free Seafoods barbecue, Blessing of the Fleet and other festivities are scheduled on the diverse program

Five 'Days'

Each day of the Regatta is also dedicated to one of the five communities from which the Princesses hail The first day, Thursday, is dedicated to Knappa-Svensen and Mrs. Harry Duff, from the board of directors is co-ordinator Friday is Seaside Day and Gordon Hutch-

(Continued on Page Two)

Regatta Kickoff Thursday

(Continued from Page One)

ens is co-ordinator, Saturday Jewell Day, with Joe Tursi, co-ordinator Sunday Astoria Day with Dr. E W. Harvey as co-ordinator and Monday, Labor Day, is Warrenton Day with Tony Naimo as co-ordinator. The Regatta will conclude with the carnival at Astoria on Monday.

Major activities of the Regatta, with the exception of the fish barbecue and square dancing will be held at the Pier 3 Regatta pavilion The pavilion has been decorated and divided into individual sections for the fish festival, portions of the carnival, the Pirate's Den and the auditorium. Decorations were completed by Wakefield and company of Portland.

The Seafoods barbecue will be held at Columbia Field and all marine events will be held at the east end mooring basin. The square dance jamboree will be held at the Armory. Quarter midget races are billed for McCallister Field.

Chorus Set

Scheduled to appear are the Norwegian Choruses from Tacoma, Wash , and folk dancers and square dancers from throughout Oregon and Washington. Another new Regatta feature this year is the International Smorgasette which is a bonus for guests at the Regatta pavilion Sunday night.

The big parade is Saturday and band show Saturday.

Sunday evening will feature the free food, the folk dancing and the appearance of the two Tacoma choruses.

Public dancing, the music of the Four Tones will be provided each night at Pier 3. Barbara Haglund, Ilwaco, will be featured vocalist The pavilion will also feature an organ interlude each night. Marian Hauke will be organist.

Governor Due

Miss Haglund will also sing during the ceremonies of the Oregon Fish Festival at the east end mooring basin on Sunday. Governor R D Holmes and Mrs. Holmes will be in attendance during the Regatta They will appear at many events Mrs. Holmes will serve as one of the cooking contest judges.

Square dancers are expected from every corner of the Pacific Northwest according to Charles Ordway, chairman of the event. They will be dancing at the Armory and spectators will be admitted

Admission prices have been established for the pier on a nightly basis, Naimo said, and for the Armory events The pier admission entitles purchasers to all events scheduled that evening at the pier

The Pirate's Den will be in operation, officials said. Ellsworth Thiel is in charge of this aspect of the Regatta. It will be open to adults only.

Announces

Bob Blackburn, Portland radio personality and one of the two voices of the Portland Beavers, will act as master of ceremonies for two Regatta events. He will be announcer for the grand parade and the Awards Pageant slated for Saturday. He will be stationed at the reviewing stand to announce the parade.

Ready for Coronation Rites

Astoria's Rotary Anns honored the royal Regatta court and their mothers at a special pre-coronation party at the J. J. Astor hotel Tuesday night. Pictured above are the seven princesses and their mothers. In the back row are, behind their daughters, left to right, Mrs. Milton Nogle, Mrs. Henry Lawson, Mrs. Thorburn Stacey, Mrs. Leo Ross, Mrs. Richard Alsbury, Mrs. Hiram Johnson, Mrs. Lawrence Morris, and Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, chaperone. Princesses are, left to right, Patt Nogle, Jewell, Carolyn Lawson, Seaside, Judy Stacey, Knappa-Svensen, Gayle Ross, Astoria, Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, Julie Johnson, Astoria and Ellen Morris, Astoria, Star of the Sea. (A-B Photo)

Mighty Tasty Food!

Mighty tasty—at least that's what these three 'tasters' seem to say. They are sampling food at a past Savory Seafoods Search contest, one of the highlights of the Oregon Fish Festival section of the Regatta The Seafoods cooking contest will be held Friday and Saturday

Square Dance Fete to Have Live Music

Squire dancers will be dancing with live music for the first time in this area Sunday afternoon when Eddy K's orchestra will play for the Square Dance Jamboree in the Armory.

All the local square dancers will be on hand to welcome visitors and callers from all over Oregon and Washington.

Saturday night the local square dance clubs will hold free trial dances to welcome any of the visiting dancers that will be here

The three dances will be held at Pacific grange by the Clamdiggers, Ninety-Niners and Driftwood Steppers; at Fernhill hall, by the Oregon Stars, and at the Naval Reserve hall, pier two, by the Hayshakers

The object of the trail dances is for the dancers to travel from one to the other of the three halls and then take their potluck lunch into the last hall they visit

Tuesday evening Del Kernes had a large group of square dancers remove the bleacher seats from the Armory and place chairs around the hall in preparation for Sunday's jamboree

[illegible]rence Cheney had her committee there also preparing decorations to be put up Sunday morning All square dance clubs in the Sunset area council are requested to get their club emblems to Florence Cheney or Susie Jackson as soon as possible

Jane Troyer and Sally Jollie completed plans for welcoming all the dancers and callers

The Regatta committee will furnish crews that will handle the gate. Many spectators are expected to be on hand in the Armory balcony to watch the colorful spectacle.

Thursday Coronation Big Regatta Kickoff

[illegible] 8 p. m. at Pier 3, in the Port Docks area, when Chairman Mrs Harry Duff, of the Anchor [illegible] committee, signals the start of the 33rd Regatta coronation ceremony

Princesses on the royal court this year are: Judy Stacey, Knappa-Svensen, Gayle Ross, Astoria, [illegible]

[illegible] will be followed [illegible] by the Queen's Ball This is to be held at the pavilion and music will be provided by the Four Tones. The [illegible] as well as Fish Festival [illegible]

Thursday is Knappa-Svensen day and the Regatta board coordinator is Mrs Duff

A dinner for the court, board members, judges and other officials will be held [illegible] J. J. Astor [illegible] 30 p m

The [illegible] Grand March, which will be led by the Four Tones will be held at about 11 p m

'Fly-in' All Set

Frank Dunton president of the [illegible] of Oregon [illegible]

[illegible]

Grand Champions Return

Grand Champion of them all is this group, the Oakland Naval Air Station drill team. Known throughout the United States the group has appeared in Astoria and captured all honors for three years in a row. The group features precision marching and drill work. They have appeared on television on many occasions. They will appear in both the parade and the Awards Pageant.

Highlanders Due for Regatta

Honors from Bandon, Oregon to Victoria, B. C., have been gained this summer by the colorful Eugene Highlanders Bagpipe Band, five proud, costumed members of which are shown above. The kilt-clad band took top prize in their division in the 1958 Rose Festival parade and first place awards in the big parades of both Salem and Eugene community celebrations. Official footguard of Gov. Holmes, the band represented Oregon in Centennial festivities in Victoria, where they placed 2nd in the annual Highland Games among class "B" bands. Under direction of Pipe Major Hector Smith, the colorful unit will "skirl" through Astoria on August 30th—Regatta parade day, and perform in the Awards Pageant at Pier 3 that evening.

Marine Parade Featured in Festival

[illegible] Marine Parade [illegible] Oregon [illegible] Festival. The [illegible] to about 10 a. m. Sunday morning. It's course is from the West End Mooring basin to the East End mooring basin. Oregon's Governor R. D. Holmes will issue the Fish Festival proclamation and give a brief talk at the special ceremonies

Water Skiers Perform

Water Ski antics from pyramids to the dangerous flying kite act will be presented by members of the Portland Water Ski club during the 38th annual Astoria Regatta. The club presents two performances on Saturday and on Sunday at the east end mooring basin. Recently the club made an endurance run from Portland to Astoria.

Rotary Anns Host Regatta Princesses

Rotary Anns graciously opened their dinner meeting last night in the John Jacob Astor Rose Room to the members of the Regatta [illegible] Carolyn [illegible] Gayle Ross, Astoria; Jeanette Watts, Warrenton; Judy Stacey, Knappa, Ellen Morris, Star of the S[illegible] Jewell, ac[illegible]

[illegible] lovable queen Julie Hein, with her court chaperone, Mrs. Ed Niemi, and three former princesses, Nancy Springer Gregg, Sheryl Hoagland and Linda Thompson, as well as mothers of this year's court

Mrs Victor Horgan was welcomed as a prospective member, and, representing the Regatta board, was Mrs. Harry Duff

Arrangements of bright yellow daisies amid gillnets glass floats and driftwood and blue anchor favors at each place symbolized a nautical theme at the dinner, which was followed by a style show of casual and sport clotohes from [illegible] Astoria Apparel and Jerome's Models were the Mesdames Jerry Sullivan, Gordon Hutchens, Eugene Knutsen, Philip Weinstein and Gene Nadon, with Mrs Harry Steinbock commentating.

The evening's special prizes went to Mrs Lawrence Morris and Mrs. Emil Nelson from hostesses Mrs George Fulton, chairman, who presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. A. J Kerbel, president of Rotary Ann, who is on a trip: Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs Hutchens, Mrs Roy Duooos and Mrs. Frank Dundon.

Oldtimers Started Regatta

In the days when Mom wore bustles [illegible] years ago in 1894 the Astoria Regatta, which will be [illegible] for the 38th time this year, was born.

The idea was conceived by E. J Smith, city editor of the Morning Astorian at that time. He passed on his notion to Frank M Gunn, pioneer hotel man and secretary of the Astoria football club. That was all it took Gunn and the football club, one member of which still lives, got the backing of local merchants and the Regatta began its spectacular run as the [illegible] event on the [illegible]

Frank Sp[illegible] local attorney is [illegible] the [illegible] the event [illegible] present prominence. They [illegible] the Regatta after [illegible] planned an [illegible] center of the [illegible] races between [illegible] sail fish [illegible]

Down through the years the form of the Regatta has modified considerably. With the advent of [illegible] have [illegible] disappeared Races still [illegible] Regatta throngs, [illegible]

The first queen of the Regatta was selected in 1897. She was Mrs. W. G. Gosslin Her husband was the chairman of the event in 1897 when the organization of the group was formalized

Gen. McCarty Praises Airport Project, Discusses Global Jet Striking Force

Maj. Gen. Chester E. McCarty, pioneer Portland pilot, now commander of the 12th Air Force, praised the city's new airport expansion program in an interview Tuesday.

"This new terminal, big as it seems now, may soon be outgrown," said the former Portland attorney, still a member of the firm of McCarty, Swindells, Miller and McLaughlin. "That's a healthy sign. It's designed to grow with the times, both vertically and horizontally.

"I have always envisioned the main runways as eventually being 12,000 feet long, however," Gen. McCarty said. He and Phil Fields and E. C. Dwyers constituted the aviation committee of the chamber which planned the present 8800 foot runway.

Pilots Make Decision

"The lay of that runway was chosen by a panel of professional airline pilots in a series of flight studies to permit extension of the runway to 10,000 feet at that time and eventually to 12,000 feet," McCarty explained.

"The minimum for most [illegible] jets is 10,000 feet and [illegible]0 feet is required by advanced jets."

Gen. McCarty declined to discuss the fighting in Quemoy, [illegible] coast of Formosa. But the supersonic fighter-bomber jets under his command were deployed to Formosa and Japan in the course of a training exercise simulating a similar situation, as recently as December, 1957.

Two Squadrons Alerted

Two squadrons of 12th Air Force jet fighter-bombers were alerted for deployment overseas during the current Middle East tension, but were held at an East Coast takeoff point. Tanker planes then under Gen. McCarthy's command refueled the Tactical Air Command fighter-bombers which flew from Myrtle Beach, S.C., to Adana, Turkey, nonstop in [illegible] hours.

"We have been exercising our global striking forces on similar training maneuvers for years," McCarty explained. "This is the first 'chips down' test of the mobility of our jet bomber outfits with their nuclear weapon capability. I think it is evident our training has paid off.'

Typical training exercise was "Mobile Zebra," last December, in which two squadrons of F-100 Super-Sabre single-engined fighter-bombers flew in [illegible] George Air Force Base, Calif., to Manila non-stop in 13 hours and mounted an attack with simulated nuclear weapons within three hours after landing.

They then continued on to Tokyo, another nine-hour non-stop flight, to participate in air defense maneuvers in Japan. Two squadrons of B 50 tanker planes were used to refuel them in flight. The equivalent of two squadrons of transports carried support personnel and supplies.

Half a squadron of twin-engined B-66 bombers and a half squadron of RF-101 reconnaissance planes also made the flight.

These are typical of the missions for which the 12th Air Force is trained and equipped, General McCarty explained.

Gen. McCarty will preside as admiral of the Astoria regatta this weekend. Then he and Mrs. McCarty will take a beach vacation before returning to 12th Air Force headquarters at Waco, Tex.

Regatta Review New, Features Past Queens

Oregon Fish Festival activity predominates during the day hours of Friday, the second day of the Regatta, August 29, and at night the association, through a special program by the Jay-C-Ettes and Beta Sigma Rho, takes a look over its shoulder at a colorful past that dates back to 1894

The popular Savory Seafoods Search and the Far Away Fish Favorites are scheduled for 9 a m. and 10 a. m and will continue through until 3 p m. The Savory Seafoods Search is a cooking contest Oregon's first lady, Mrs. R. D. Holmes, will act as one of the judges for the cooking contest. Far Away Fish Favorites is a cooking demonstration featuring Ruth Klipstein, of the Oregon State college extension division

Highlight at the noon hour is the annual Queen's luncheon, to be held at the new Astoria high school cafeteria this year The luncheon is by reservation The men are feted at an Admiral's luncheon which is held at the BOQ at Tongue Point. This year 120 men are to be served and transportation will be furnished from the John Jacob Astor hotel to the base for luncheon.

Evening activity is led off by the Children's parade, an annual event sponsored by the Kiwanis club. The parade will start from the Court House at 6 30 p. m and will travel through downtown Astoria

At the pier, the headquarters for the celebration, major event is the Regatta Revue. This is jointly sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi and the Jay-C-Ettes Two shows are to be presented and each of them will feature different pro[illegible].

The program includes swimming suit modeling, both modern and old-fashioned, and presentation of past Regatta queens modeling the gowns they wore during their coronation

Modern dancing demonstrations will be presented by some dancers from the Arthur Murray studio, to be followed by a dance contest.

Regatta board member Gordon Hutchens is coordinator for the day The day salutes Seaside.

Fete Old, Historic

A[illegible] one of the oldest events of its kind [illegible] history of the Regatta [illegible] plagued with local and national calamities that have forced its temporary cancellation, but have failed to extinguish the spirit that [illegible] the festival [illegible] World War II reestablished the event as a top-ranking attraction in the Sunset Empire

In 1902 1909 1917 through 1931 and 1942 through 1952 no Regattas were held But each time exigencies forced postponement of the event it has lived in spirit to revive again

Rainbow Marchers Due in Parade

Perenial Regatta favorites are the Ark Assembly Rainbow girls of Seattle. They have marched in Regatta parades for three years and have always been top attractions. Returning again this year they will be seeking the first place honors that have eluded them in past parade appearances. They have placed second in their division every year here.

Hydros Slated for Racing

Roaring hydroplanes will be featured in marine events slated for the 38th annual Astoria Regatta. Pictured above are some of the boats similar to those that will appear here. Hydroplane races are scheduled on Saturday morning. Water events are slated on both Saturday and Sunday. Events this year feature sailboat races, gillnet races, and antics of the Portland Water Ski club.

Youthful Water Skiers on Agenda

Junior-sized water skiers will be featured with the Portland Water Ski club in two performances during the annual Astoria Regatta. The club will be seen on both Saturday and Sunday mornings at the East End Mooring basin. Featured as well will be the spectacular 'kite' act. In this act a kite is used to soar a water skier way above water.

Queen Is 33rd of Royal Line

A tradition of Queenship, dating from 1894, will be carried on August 28 this year when Admiral Chester McCarty of the 1958 Regatta, places the crown on the head of the new Regatta Queen and signals the start of the annual five day water festival

Thirty-two times prior to this year admirals have elevated a daughter of the Sunset Empire into the ranks of royalty and transformed this Columbia river town into a royal realm The discrepancy between the total number of Regattas held and the number of queens named comes from the fact that queens were not selected until 1897 although the event had its origin in 1894 In addition no queens were named, though Regattas were held in 1910 and 1912

First of the royal line was Mrs W G Gosslin who ruled the 1897 celebration. Her royal successors down throug the years have been Mrs S. Normile, 1898, Sue Elmore 1899, Louise Tallant, 1900; Ivy B Barker 1901; Frances Thomas 1903; Mrs. Charles L. Houston 1904; Laura Seafeldt, 1905 Esther Anderson, 1906 Harriet Tallant 1907, Harriet Wise, 1908 Gertrude Upshur, 1911; Mrs. Charles Callender, 1913; Mrs Alli Forrstrom, 1914, Mrs. J. E Roman 1915; Muriel Saling, 1916, Marie Simmons 1932 Eleanor Norblad, 1933, Josephine Waffle, 1934; Peggy Chessman, 1935; Nancy Fulton, 1936, Jean Maunula 1937, Jane Laggassee, 1938, Frances Ann Mott, 1939; Jeanne Pauling, 1940; Anne Haldermman, 1941; Lydia Dorn, 1952, Marilyn Ransom, 1953, Molly Malarkey 1954, Sue Sanday, 1955 Judy Palmberg, 1956, and Judy Hein, 1957.

The role of the admiral in Astoria got its start as the commodore of the races held each year As the event developed the officials added an admiral, in addition to the commodore, as the commander of the Regatta. As the years have passed the title of commodore has dropped out of usage.

Youthful Paraders

A uniform of anything from anywhere, best describes the colorful display shown in the annual Children's parade sponsored by the Astoria Kiwanis club. The parade will be held on Friday again this year, at 6:30 p. m. in downtown Astoria. All participants will be awarded free tickets to the carnival, along with other prizes.

near Manzanita is Neahkahnie mountain. It is a state park and has picnic and camping facilities It can be reached via highway 101

In Dallas, Tex., there's a Saint Bernard named Baby who lives in an air-conditioned kennel and seldom steps out of it when the temperature goes above 80

Fisherman Displays Catch

The 'big fisherman' displays that big catch, while the gent on the left ponders the one that got away Youthful fishing fans, from six to sixty, will get a chance to practice fishing skills at the Regatta this year. A fishing pond, stocked with agreeable fish, and operated by a group of volunteers from Tongue Point will be operated at the main headuarters, pier 3, Port Docks.

Majorettes Perform

Drum majorettes with the Roseburg high school band one of the prize winners in last year's grand Regatta parade, are shown above during the band show Termed the Awards Pageant this year, the event will feature all of the winners and presentation of awards in a huge jamboree. It will be held at pier 3 at the Port Docks and can be seen Saturday night following the parade Bob Blackburn, Portland radio personality, is master of ceremonies for the event.

The green lawns of the beautiful old Waffle home on Duane, now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swanson, was the meeting [illegible] for some of the "modern" past Regatta queens, discussing the [illegible]ner for former Regatta queens and their friends, to be held [illegible] Thursday afternoon. Admiring the elaborate gown of past Regatta Queen Ivy Barker Archer (1901), modelled here by Miss Judy Olson, are from left, Marilyn Ransom Gustafson (1953) with past Regatta scrapbook; Judy [illegible]; Josephine Waffle Swanson (1934); and Judy Hein, last year's queen. The reunion for past queens invites their friends. (A-B Photo)

Regatta Revue to Feature Champagne, Orchid Hour

Champagne and orchids will add to the glamour of Friday night's Regatta Revue at Pier 3, when some lucky couple will be chosen [illegible] best dancers on the floor" during the Champagne Hour in the even[illegible]ities.

[illegible] revue of former Regatta queens, modelling their coronation gowns, will be staged in two parts, one at 9 o'clock and the later one at 11. Between the two halves of the program there will be exhibition dancing by a dance team from the Seattle studios of Arthur Murray, who will then demonstrate [illegible] members of the audience. F[illegible]wing this, the audience will [illegible]cipate in a dance, from which the best couple will be picked, the man to be awarded a bottle of champagne, his partner presented [illegible].

This "floor show" part of the program will conclude with another exhibition dance by the Arthur [illegible] couple, and then the more [illegible] Regatta queens will model the[illegible] gowns.

[illegible] will be something doing every minutes!" Mrs Wesley S[illegible]aner Jr. and Mrs. Pete Bryant, co-chairmen for the Regatta Revue exclaim. "Along with the modelling of the gorgeous coronation robes with the stately queens who wore them, from 1901 to last year's Regatta, bathing suits in the fashion of each era will be modelled. Three shapely local girls will model the latest in swim suits, but it is best the identity of those modelling the water wear of bygone days be kept a secret until that night," the co-chairmen advised.

Dancing to Phil D'Agostino's Four Tones will start at 8:30 before the first half of the show goes on, and dancing will continue after the revue, all covered by the admission charge of the gate of Pier 3, which is the same each evening of the Regatta.

The revue is co-sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phis and the Jay-C-Ettes, as their contribution to Regatta. Jay-C-Ettes have charge of the past queens part of the show and Betas are in charge of the swimming suit and "Champagne Hour."

That same evening, prizes for the winners of the Savory Seafoods Research will be awarded, prior to the dancing at 8 p. m., according to Mrs Howard Lovvold, chairman of the contest, and Dr. Edwad Harvey, general chairman of the Seafooods Festival.

Champagne Dancers

The attractive young couple from the Arthur Murray Dance studios in Seattle will be featured in the "Champagne Hour" between "halves" in the Regatta Revue of former queens and their coronation gowns Friday evening at Pier 3. They will give exhibition dancing and a prize for both the man and woman will be awarded to the best couple on the floor.

Past Regatta Queens Will Get Together

A most honorable and select group of Astoria (and ex-Astoria) women, who have one important thing in common, will reunite Thursday afternoon at the Harry Swansons' stately old home on the banks of the Columbia.

They are queens of past Regattas, spanning the years from 1901 to last year, who will model their coronation robes at the Regatta Revue Friday night at Pier 3, marking the first such revue and also the first such reunion.

Members of the Jay-C-Ettes, co-sponsors with Beta Sigma Phi sorority, of Friday's night's Regatta Revue at Pier 3, are also hosts for the past queens' get-together, which will be a punch bowl party from 4:30-6:30 p. m. on the spacious grounds and in the handsome Victorian home of the Swansons.

Mrs. Bob King, chairman, emphasizes that all friends of past queens, as well as members of their courts, are invited to the reunion, and that male admirers, past and present, of their Regatta queens are especially welcome.

The Regatta Arrives

Clatsop county has a date with an 'old lady' this week . . . and the old girl seems to be getting more spry each year.

The lady in question is the 38th annual Regatta, which blossomed in the era when Mom wore bustles and Dad sported a handle-bar mustache. Age has been kind, however, to the Regatta belle and she seems to look better in atomic age bikinis than she ever did before.

Despite the hazards of the years she has survived, and is as modern and up-to-date as a supersonic jet or the newest Explorer on an endless orbit about the earth. She has added to her personality down through the years, additions that have enhanced her appeal. Among them is the Oregon Fish Festival which threatens to get as big as its parent . . . and surely, despite its youth, is as spry as the Regatta belle.

Change seems to characterize the Astoria Regatta and this year is no exception. For the first time in many years the celebration attempts to serve as a countywide festival. Each high school from the county has provided a princess for the royal court. The board of directors has actively sought ,and abundantly received, the cooperation of hundreds of individuals from every corner of the county during the long months of planning.

Well, the long months of planning are over. Clatsop county's biggest summer show, headed by a distinguished American as Admiral, Major General Chester McCarty, is set to go.

Thursday night the celebration officially begins with coronation of a Queen. Certainly no one can envy the judges in the task of choosing a Queen from seven such princesses. A crowded 5-day program follows. The program offers the most diverse and varied round of events ever assembled for a Regatta-Fish Festival. Events range from Square dancing to marine activity. Certainly the Regatta has earned the support of the entire community, and the entire county. Never before have so many individuals participated in the planning.

As a showcase for Regatta huge Pier 3 at the Port Docks has been dolled up as a 'palace fit for a queen.' It's colorful appearance adds to the festive gaiety of the event. Its transformation from a pier to a palace is hard to believe.

We salute the 38th annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Oregon Fish Festival as they cast off for another summer fun cruise for the Sunset Empire.

Hail to Admiral McCarty and bon voyage!

Portland Pipers Slated

Portland's Scottish Pipe Band will march in the Astoria Grand Land parade on Saturday, August 30. The band has appeared here on previous occasions. According to Don Garris, parade chairman, the group will be available for several appearances during the Regatta.

Five-Day Regatta Starts This Week at Astoria

The 38th annual Astoria Regatta got underway Wednesday with the arrival of the official party aboard the Regatta flagship, the King and Winge, from Portland. The evening's events included the admiral's reception for Major Chester E. McCarty, who heads the five-day event, and a later reception at the Astoria Yacht club.

Thursday the Regatta will be in full swing, with the opening of the carnival at pier No. 3; the royal court dinner at 5:30 p. m.; opening of the Regatta pavilion on pier No. 3, and the coronation program, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. at the pavilion.

Friday will be Seaside day, with Gordon Hutchins co-ordinator. The big events of the day will be the queen's luncheon at noon at the Astoria high school. Immediately following will be a style show. The admiral's luncheon will be held at the Tongue Point naval station.

At 6:30 p. m. there will be a kiddies' parade, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, and at 9 p. m. the Regatta review and dance will start.

Saturday will be Jewell day, with the Sportsmen Pilots' fly-in starting the day at 8 a. m. Marine events will be held from 9 a. m. to noon. Included are heats for class A utility hydroplanes and class B hydroplanes. At 10:30 a. m. the Portland Water Ski club will stage an exhibition and outboard races will complete the morning's program.

At 2:30 p. m. the Regatta parade will be held. Seaside will be represented by Miss Seaside (Ardis Henry) and her court, including Sandra Gue, Helen Lerback, Mary McDonald and Judy Wrenn.

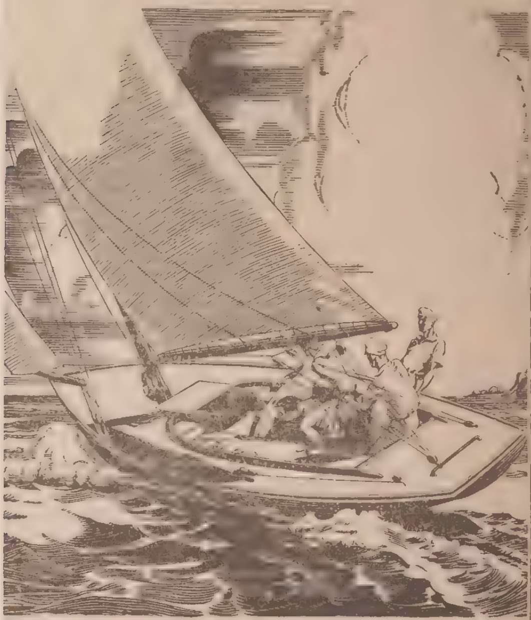
Sunday will be Astoria day, with marine events from 9 a. m. to noon. A marine parade is scheduled for 9:30 a. m. and the "Blessing of the Fleet" at 10:30 a. m. by Dr. C. H. Cross of Grace Episcopal church. There will be an exhibition by the Portland Water Ski club and gillnet races. At noon there will be a free seafood barbecue and sailboat races will start at 1:30 p. m. A square dance jamboree will be held from 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. and a folk dancing program from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m. At 9 p. m. the Tacoma Norwegian chorus will present a program.

For the final day (Monday), the event will move to Warrenton, with marine events starting at 9 a. m. at the Warrenton mooring basin. The Warrenton Water Ski club will give a demonstration. At noon there will be a parade in downtown Warrenton, with marine events scheduled for the afternoon.

The Columbia Press

1278 MARINE DR., ASTORIA, ORE.—$2.00 A YEAR IN CLATSOP COUNTY, $2.50 OUTSIDE — THURSDAY, August 28, 1958—VOL. 37, No. 34

TAKE IN THE REGATTA!



It's Regatta time once more, not only for Astoria but for the whole county this year. From the list of scheduled events it is evident that the committees in charge have gone all out to provide the community and its visitors with a variety of exciting activities.

If you're an old Regatta fan you won't need to be urged to attend as many of the events as possible. If you're not, then how about making it a point to take in one or two of the affairs this year? With the wide range of events there's bound to be something each one of us will enjoy.

We should all turn out to support the Annual Regatta if for no other reason than the value it has to this community from the standpoint of advertising and tourist attraction. Though some of us may not benefit directly from the celebration, be sure that the indirect benefits cannot be measured.

So let's support the hard-working folks who have produced this grand celebration for our community — and have a lot of fun doing it, too!

Astoria Regatta Launched Again

Astoria will officially launch its 38th Annual Regatta Thursday night at 8 p.m. with the coronation of the Queen, who will be selected from the seven members of the royal court representing five high schools throughout the county.

Princesses of the court include: Patt Nogle, Jewell; Ellen Morris, Star of the Sea; Gayle Ross, Astoria; Julie Johnson, Astoria; Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, Carolyn Lawson, Seaside and Judy Stacey, Knappa-Svensen. Court chaperone is Mrs. Donovan Mitchell.

The coronation will be followed by the Queen's Ball.

However, pre-Regatta festivities got off to a start with a reception Wednesday evening at the Astoria Yacht Club for Regatta Admiral, Major General Chester McCarty, who arrived with his party Wednesday evening from Portland aboard the flagship King and Winge.

Thursday's activities also includes the Royal Court dinner at which the Admiral and his party, Governor D. D. Holmes and his party, the royal court, board members and their wives and Regatta judges will be guests.

Scheduled for Friday is the Savory Seafood Search, recipe contest. The Queen's luncheon and the Admiral's luncheon are slated for noon. The evening program will kick-off with a Kiddies Parade at 6:30 p.m. sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Dancing will be held at Pier 3 from 9 to 1 a.m. and includes the Regatta Review of former Regatta Queens modeling their coronation gowns.

A Fly-In, hosted by the Astoria Chapter of Oregon Sportsmen Pilots Assn. will open Saturday's program. About 200 are expected for the event. During the morning hours one of the largest logs of marine events in Regatta history will be held. These will include small hydroplane, gillnet, sailboat, and cannery tender races, and an appearance of the Portland water ski club.

The giant 70-unit land parade is slated for Saturday afternoon, followed by quarter midget races at 4:30. Presentation of awards will be made at 8 p.m.

Sunday will get off a start with marine events. At 9:30 a.m. Gov. Holmes will issue the proclamation and address the crowd. Governor and Mrs. Holmes will appear at many of the events throughout the Regatta. Sunday afternoon will be devoted to gillnet races and demonstrations of various kinds.

A Square Dance Jamboree, which is expected to draw at least 80 squares of dancers from Oregon and Washington is on the program for Sunday afternoon from 2—5:30 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m., Pier 3 will be the scene of the International Smörgasette, a buffet of more than 75 foreign dishes for sampling. During the evening there will be folk dancing and a concert by the Norwegian Choruses of Tacoma.

Each day of the Regatta is dedicated to one of the five communities from which the Princesses hail. Thursday is Knappa-Svensen day; Friday is Seaside Day; Saturday is Jewell Day, Sunday is Astoria Day and Monday is Warrenton Day.

Monday's Warrenton Day will feature marine events to take place at the new Warrenton mooring basin, a parade and a band concert.

New Feature On Regatta Program

The 337th Air Base Squadron, Portland, has agreed to send a helicopter here for an air-sea rescue demonstration in conjunction with the Astoria Regatta this weekend. The event will take place between 10 and 12 at the east end mooring basin Sunday, Aug. 31. This is the first time the Air Force Unit has appeared here.

Barbara Haglund, 16-year-old lyric soprano from Long Beach, Wash., has been named Neptune's Daughter and will sing during Regatta dances each night during the Regatta and during Fish Festival events, including Blessing of the Fleet ceremony.

Cash prizes for gillnet races scheduled for Sunday morning now total $1500, according to D. V. Riswick, chairman of the races. First prize in the unlimited race, which is four laps or 10 miles, is $300. Second prize is $200, third prize is a $100 nylon net, and the fourth prize is $50. In the lap race prizes are $100, $50, $25 and a $25 boat insurance policy. In the two lap race prizes are $150, $100, $50 and $30. There will be two lap races conducted.

Judges have been named for the 70-unit Regatta parade scheduled for Saturday afternoon. Included in the group are Mrs. Betty Morrison, Mrs. Margaret Laws, Mrs. T. R. Williams, the Rev. Orval Whitman, the Rev. Colin MacRae, Mrs. Clayton Morse, Mrs. Evelyn Lazarus, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, Mrs. Fred Sandoz, Art Fertig, Carl Nyquist, Cliff Poole, James Morrell, Tony Stramiello and Robert J. Hanson.

Young members, junior members and grandchildren of members of the Sons and Daughters of Norway, wearing authentic Norwegian costumes, will serve as hostesses for the Smorgasette Sunday night at 7 o'clock at Pier 3. Groups entering dishes for the event include Daughters of Norway, American Legion Auxiliary, Olney-Walluski home extension unit, Alpha Iota and the Tongue Point kitchen crew.

Suare Dancers Meet During Our Regatta

Twenty square dance callers from Washington and Oregon, with their dance groups, will join local dancers in a Square Dance Jamboree during the 38th Annual Astoria Regatta.

The event, scheduled for Sunday, August 31 from 2 to 5:30 p.m. at Pier 3 and sponsored by the Sunset Area council of square dancers, is expected to draw at least 80 squares, according to square dance chairman, Chuck Ordway.

Visiting square dancers will be welcomed Saturday night, August 20, with free trail dances. The dancers will travel from one dance site to another, including Pacific Grange with the 99'ers, Clamdiggers and Driftwood Steppers as hosts; at Fernhill hall with Oregon Stars hosting, and at the Naval Reserve hall with the Hayshakers in charge.

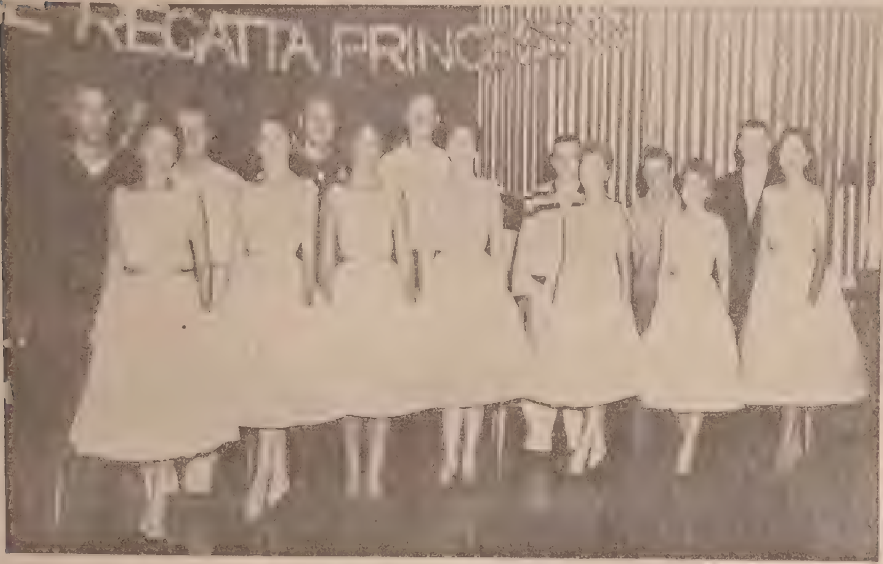
During Sunday's intermission the Regatta Queen and her court will be presented. Eddie K's orchestra, Vancouver, Wash. will provide the music for the dancers.

Callers coming from Oregon and Washington include John Brallier, Walt "Pappy" Packer, Bill Dwyer, Leon Graves, Dick Lenz, Geo. X. Rempelos, Ken Barnett, Art Shoemaker, Bob Sessions, Boyd Rafferty, Bud Deputy, Len Gorton, Les Cope, Jim Shindler, Chet Held, Len Williamsson, Clint Renney, "Dotty" White, Archie W. Anderson, and Keith Rabe. Howard Jollie and Bill West, local callers, will act as masters of ceremony.

Sunday's gate will be handled by the Regatta committee, assisted by the square dance hospitality committee. Other committee chairman in charge of the events are Jane Troyer, housing and hospitality; Howard Jollie, program; Del Karnes, sound and hall preparations; Florence Cheney, decorations for Armory; Bill Clarke, square dance parade float.

Nick [illegible] is chairman of the folk dance demonstration to be [illegible] the International Smorgasette Sunday evening at Pier 3.

Astoria's Regatta 'Sails Off' Today



ANXIOUSLY AWAITING decision of judges to be announced tonight are these seven candidates for queen of the Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival which opened today in Clatsop county. Flanked by their escorts, the candidates and the towns they represent are, from left: Judy Stacey, Knappa Svensen; Ellen Morris, Astoria; Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Gayle Ross, Astoria; Patt Nogle, Jewell; Jeanette Watte, Warrenton, and Julie Johnson, Astoria. The girl chosen queen will have the other six as princesses.

Oregon Daily Journal

Home-Owned and Published in the Interests of the Pacific Northwest and Its People

VOL. LVII, NO. 146 Section 1 PORTLAND, OR., THURSDAY, AUG. 28, 1958 PRICE 5c

Seven Seek Queen Title

By Dorotha Radich
Journal Staff Correspondent

ASTORIA, Aug. 28.—Four hundred years—1558 to 1958—between regattas! Four centuries since the gondoliers of ancient Venice raced through the waters of that city's main canal in the world's first regatta! And history is repeating itself today in the "new world" with the opening of this city's 38th annual Astoria regatta—20th century vintage.

UNOFFICIALLY, the current festivities got under way on Wednesday evening with the arrival and docking of the 1958 Regatta flagship, King and Winge, which sailed here from Portland bearing the royal court and chaperone: Adm. (Maj. Gen. Chester E. McCarty, USAF), and various regatta dignitaries. A public reception at the local yacht club climaxed pre-regatta activities Wednesday night, but the focal point of the entire 1958 regatta will be reached tonight when the queen of Regatta Land will be chosen and crowned from among the bevy of seven lovely Clatsop county princesses comprising the court. Coronation ceremonies and all other regatta activities, will take place in the 1958 official Regatta pavilion housed on Pier 3 of the port docks.

This year's regatta-fish festival fete has been planned to include the whole of Clatsop county, each section to have charge of one day's programming. With this in mind, re- [illegible] will be Seaside's [illegible] has been set aside as Jewell day; Astoria's day is Sunday, and the final hours of the regatta on Monday will be dedicated to Warrenton.

AT THE same time, princesses in the royal court hale from throughout the county as follows: Patt Nogle, Jewell; Ellen Morris, Astoria; Jeanette Watts, Warrenton; Gayle Ross, Astoria; Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Judy Stacey, Knappa-Svensen, and Julie Johnson, Astoria. Chaperone for the girls is Mrs. Donovan Mitchell of Astoria.

As has been customary in the past, a two-hour land parade has been scheduled through town starting at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, preceded by various planned activities that include boat races, water ski exhibitions and other marine events. The regatta parade committee headed by Don Garris has announced the emcee on the reviewing stand will be the popular Portland radio announcer and sportscaster, Bob Blackburn

Highlight of Sunday regatta events is expected to be the marine parade under direction of Lewis Wright. The record number of flotilla entries, according to Wright, promises to make the 1958 water show the largest in regatta history. Crafts will proceed from the port docks eastward to the civic mooring basin Sunday morning and will congregate there at 10.30 for the traditional blessing of the fleet rites by Dr. C. H. Gross of Grace Episcopal church

MEANWHILE, regatta officials noted the third annual Oregon Savory Seafoods Search and Fish Festival has been scheduled through Friday morning

A. J. Naimo gener[illegible] man of the regatta [illegible] 1958 celebration will conclude with events staged in the [illegible] of Warrenton where a [illegible] cial calendar of marine activities, a land parade and carnival have been slated

Naimo also pointed out numerous treats heretofore not contained in regatta fetes, including the Sunday night appearance of two famous Nor[illegible]an male and female choruses from Tacoma, special exhibitions by the Portland Water Ski club; a square dance jamboree and demonstration Sunday afternoon and a special Saturday afternoon fish feed for members of the Oregon Sportsmen Pilots group who are expected to fly here from all sections of the state.

Coronation 8 p. m. Pier 3

. . . See Col. 2 for Story

PATT NOGLE
Jewell

ELLEN MORRIS
Astoria

JEANETTE WATTS
Warrenton

JUDY STACEY
Knappa-Svensen

CAROLYN LAWSON
Seaside

GAYLE ROSS
Astoria

JULIE JOHNSON
Astoria

---Portraits by Ball Studio

Astorian Evening Budget
THE COURSE OF EMPIRE TAKES ITS WAY

Sixty-fifth year Evening Budget
Eighty-fourth year Morning Astorian

Vol. 84, No. 205 Astoria, Oregon, Thursday, August 28, 1958 PRICE 5c

FRIDAY'S TIDES
High 1:01 a.m., 7.7 feet
Low 7:33 a.m., -0.6 feet
High 1:41 p.m., 7.3 feet
Low 7:50 p.m., 0.7 feet

★ ★ ★ ★

REGATTA REVELS

★ ★ ★ ★

A dozen high school students and other volunteers have been aiding in constructing the float for the Regatta queen and court, led by Dick Steinbock, float chairman, and Carl Bondietti, bobth Jaycees. The non-competitive float is mounted on a 1949 Packard chassis, donated by Cecil Brim.

Applause from spectators—and the chance to win an award for their performance—are the main reason the many outstanding parade groups travel, some hundreds of miles, to attend our community fete, Regatta officials note. They ask that viewers give a warm reception to the visitors Saturday.

"All units—including all dignitaries, will travel the full parade route this year and then double back to the reviewing stand at 14th street," Don Garris, Jaycee parade chairman, stated today. Usually at parades, spectators, towards the end of the route, miss seeing honored officials, he noted, in announcing the new policy.

The Astoria Motorcycle club, who have played a valuable part in past Regatta activities, particularly during the big parades, will provide a color guard and again act as messengers during the parade this Saturday, according to Jack Rieck, in charge of forming the 70-unit procession. George Hauer is AMC president.

A grateful Anne Strachan, chairman of the International smorgasette set for Sunday night at Pier 3, announced that more than 130 individual dishes are being prepared for the event and all of them donated. She said she was most thankful for the cooperation she had received from throughout Clatsop county. Another item being prepared, she said, are 2000 smors. These are smoked sturgeon appetizers. They're being prepared by the Olney women's extension unit.

Button sales for the Regatta will continue through Saturday, according to button sales campaign manager Dorothy Jacob. She said the Astoria chapter of Job's Daughters will conduct a special drive on Saturday just before the big grand land parade. The chapter is donating its services. The drive will be conducted between 12 30 and 2 30 p. m.

33rd Queen Dons 'Purple' Tonight

Dance Slated At Pier

A new jewell will be added to the lustrous royal Regatta crown at 8 o clock at Pier 3 at the Port Docks when the 33rd Queen of the annual Astoria Regatta will be crowned from a field of seven candidates from every corner of Clatsop county.

Admiral (Maj. General) Chester McCarty will crown the new Queen after Queen Judy Hein, the 32nd Regatta ruler relinquishes her scepter and crown. The queen will be chosen by a panel of out-of-town judges.

Candidates for the queenship, who have been busy Clatsop county ambassadors to the State of Oregon all summer long are: Patt Nogle, Jewell. Judy Stacey, Knappa-Svensen; Gayle Ross, Astoria. Julie Johnson, Astoria. Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, Ellen Morris, Astoria, and Carolyn Lawson, Seaside.

(Continued on Page Two)

Admiral (Major General) Chester McCarty arrived in Astoria Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the east end mooring basin aboard the King and Winge. He is shown above, top photo, receiving the key to the city from Peter G. Cosovich, Mayor of Astoria. Behind him [illegible] al court members are shown debarking from the King and Winge. Bottom photo shows Admiral McCarty as he appeared at the reception held in his honor at the Yacht club. Left to right are Tony Naimo, association president, Admiral McCarty, and William H[illegible]strom, who will serve as aide to the admiral throughout the Regatta. Holmstrom is a past Regatta president. (A-B Photo)

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Thursday, August 28

Knappa-Svensen Day, Mrs. Harry Duff, Co-ordinator

5 30 p.m.	Royal Court Dinner, Mrs. John H. Nellor, co-ordinator, J. J. Astor Hotel.
7 00 p.m.	Regatta Pavilion opens, Pier 3, Ron Graves, floor manager.
[illegible]	Royal Chinooks escort princesses to pavilion for coronation Jean Hallaux and Leo Soucie.
[illegible]	7:45 p.m.—Organ Interlude.
[illegible]	8:00 p.m. Pre-coronation concert, AHS band, Ted Marshall.
[illegible]	Coronation, Mrs. Harry Duff, Chairman.
[illegible]	Queen's Ball Grand March, midway in dance, led by Anchor Drill team Music for dancing by Four Tones. Vocal Soloist, Barara Haglund. Pirate's Den Opens, Pier 3.

Friday, August 29

Seaside Day, Gordon Hutchens, Co-ordinator

9 00 a.m	2 p.m—Savory Seafood Search, Mrs. Rudy Lovvold, chairman, Mrs. Cecil Green, Mrs. Jalmer Johnson, Mrs. J. A. N[illegible]ols, Mrs. Trygve Teth, Mrs. George Muscovita and M[illegible] Kenneth Berg, Pier 3, Port Docks.
10.00 a.m	12 [illegible]oon—Far Away Fish favorites, Mrs. Veikko Romppanen Chairman Mrs. Sverre Koppen, Mrs. Herman Haggren, Mrs. A [illegible] ller, Mrs. Leonard Schalk, Mrs. Russell Sm[illegible] Elwyn Griffith Narrator, Anne [illegible], Ruth Klipstein, Pier 3, Port Docks
12 00 Noon	Queen[illegible] Luncheon, Anchor Club, Mrs. Eldred Mittet, Mrs. John H. Nellor, Co-chairmen, Astoria High School cafeteria. Style Show—Mrs. Harold Johnson, chairman, Anchor club. Immediately following luncheon. Admiral's Luncheon, U S Navy, Cmdr. Winnecki, BOQ, Tongue Point Naval Station.
1 30 p.m	to 3 p.m.—Far Away Fish Favorites, Pier 3, Port Docks Cooks—Chef Gino, Ocean House at Gearhart, Mrs. Louis Friedman, Jewish, Mrs. Lloyd Fletcher, English, Mrs. Fred Jauert, German, Mrs. Henry Larson, Norwegian, Mrs. A. H. Lofgren, Swedish, Mrs. A. W. Lopakka, Finnish, Mrs. John McCoy, Scotch, Mrs. A. P. Miller, French, M[illegible] Clifford Olson, Danish Mrs. Jim Papadamos, Greek Mrs. Graham Sheets, Dutch
1.30 p.m	3:30 p.m.—Official Cannery Tours.
5 00 p.m.	Carnival Opens, Pier 3
6 30 p.m.	Kiddies Parade, Kiwanis club, downtown Astoria, Royal Chinooks.

(Continued from Page One)

Start Week

Coronation activities signal the start of a crowded five days of Regatta activity for the Queen and her court. Immediately following the coronation the Queen will receive her royal subjects, along with her court, for the annual Queen's Ball. The ball will be held on the auditorium dance floor at Pier 3. The music will be supplied by the Four Tones with Barbara Haglund, Ilwaco, as featured vocalist.

Even forecasts of rain for the second day of the Regatta, Friday did not dim the high hopes Regatta planners had for the biggest attendance on record. Association president Tony Naimo said the organization is shooting for a record-shattering gate. He pointed out that the program is diverse and 'a good one.'

[illegible]

Knappa Day

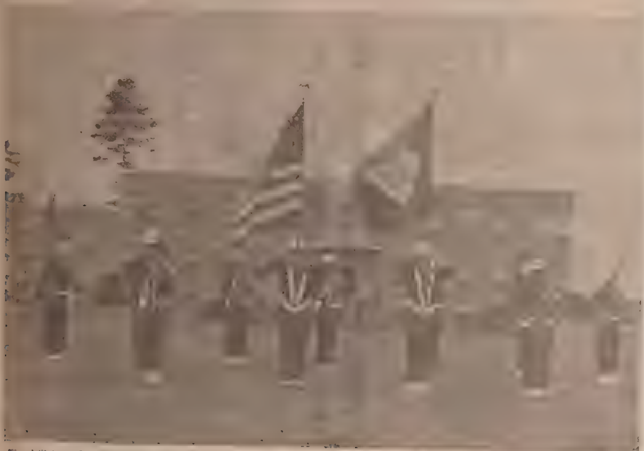
Opening night of the Regatta honors Knappa-Svensen as the special corner of the county, while the spotlight shifts to other areas during the week. Friday is Seaside Day, Saturday Jewell Day, Sunday Astoria Day and Monday, Warrenton Day.

Warren Grimberg, sales manager of radio station KAST, will again act as Master of Ceremonies. Included on the program, which comes at intermission time, will be Judy Hart, Warrenton; Elsie Coleman, Jewell; Janet Leader, Star of Sea; Linda Blomquist, Doris Johnson and Marian Houke, Astoria. The color guard will be provided by the US Navy at Tongue Point. Dan Hall will sing the Star Spangled Banner.

Junior court members [illegible]

Coronation activities are under the direction of Mrs. Harr[illegible] Wilson, [illegible]gram, [illegible] Springer, Mrs. Frank [illegible] Mrs. Leonard Gerris, [illegible] Hoyer and Mrs. Sta[illegible] gon Thursday August 28 1958

Drill Team Due at Coronation



The drill team from the USS Goss, pictured above, was formed in October 1957. They will appear during the Regatta. It has since grown to twenty men, which, due to the small size of the ship, comprises twenty percent of the crew. They have won three first places. The drill team has also preformed in local functions such as the Seafair in Seattle and numorous other parades. Four of the men are not shown, as they are at the present time touring the country after winning the eleventh naval district talent show and appearing on the Ed Sullivan TV show in New York. In addition the practice spent outside working hours, which is necessary to create precision, each member is a key man in the functioning of various shipboard operations. They will perform at the coronation.

Pageant Event Set

[illegible] noted Sportscaster Bob [illegible] as master-of-ceremonies [illegible] a lineup of outstanding per- [illegible] a [illegible] event of the 1958 Regatta-Fish Festival, Regatta officials report.

Stirring music and precision per-[illegible]nces by bands, drum and [illegible] corps, drill teams, and bag-[illegible]e bands are on the program be-[illegible] planned by Bill D. Wilson, committee chairman. The crowd-pleas-[illegible] event, now in its third year, [illegible] fans an opportunity to view their favorite units, most from out-of-town, in a more complete routine than possible during the afternoon parade, notes Tony Naimo, Regatta president.

[illegible] of honors in the Grand [illegible]e will be revealed during the program by Announcer Blackburn and will receive their plaques and ribbons. The Saturday night event will be held in the Regatta auditorium in Pier 3, starting at 8 p. [illegible] publicity chairman.

Buses Set for Admiral's Lunch

Buses will leave the chamber of commerce office at 11:45 Friday morning to take local citizens to Tongue Point naval station for the official Regatta admiral's luncheon there.

Plenty of space is available for Astorians who want to attend the luncheon, chamber of commerce officials said. Those interested in attending are asked to call the chamber office to make reservations.

Square Dance Clubs Plan Parade Float

The suare dance clu[illegible] of Sunset area council are [illegible] re dance float in th[illegible] [illegible] said they are to [illegible]

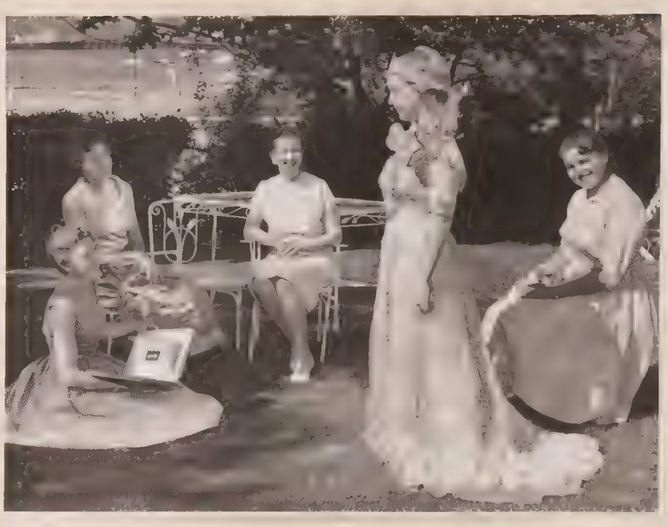
Howard Jollie, program chair [illegible] Eddy K's orchestra, of Vancouver, Wash., as well as a full program of round dances.

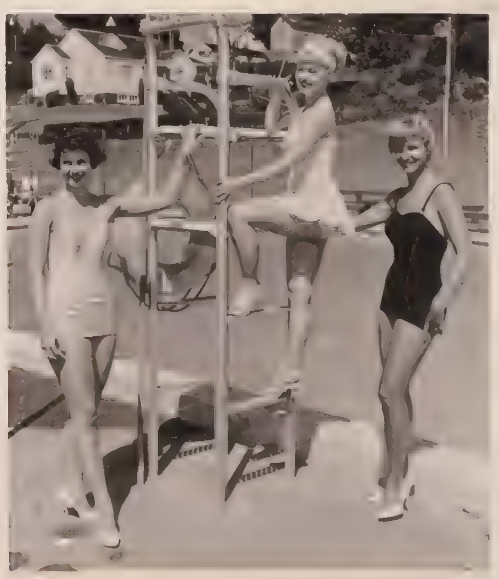
Howard Jollie and Bill West will be the MC's for the Sunday afternoon square dance jamboree in the armory.

Del Ker[illegible] announced that a local electronics group is setting up a PA system in the Armory that will also take care of the orchestra.

Swim Suits on Review

Slim, trim swim suits, pared to modern days, will be modelled by these three girls at the Regatta Revue of former queens and their gowns, Friday [illegible] it Pier [illegible] Mystery, ho[illegible] "girls" who will parade in fashions for wat[illegible] nymphs of bygone days. The slim, trim mod[illegible] above are, [illegible] dox [illegible]





SATURDAY'S TIDES
High 1:41 a.m., 7.5 feet
Low 8:07 a.m., -0.3 a.m
High 2:13 p.m., 7.4 feet
Low 8:27 p.m., 0.5 feet

Astorian Evening Budget

[illegible]

Vol 84, No 206 — Astoria, Oregon, Friday, August 29, 1958 — PRICE 5c

WEATHER FORECAST
[illegible] Saturday [illegible] southwesterly winds.

Queen Gayle Crowned; Festival Is Under Way

★ REGATTA REVELS ★

Adm McCarty turned into a real mariner during the journey of the King and Winge to Astoria. He took over at the wheel and, according to Capt Clyde Parlova, was quite a sailor.

Astoria's Regatta court proved to be real prowlers during the voyage to Astoria. They saw every nook and cranny of the ship, according to Skipper Dr Clyde Parlova. The girls stayed awake throughout the trip, but some of the adults were caught cat-napping.

Bridge was a popular game during the long ride to Astoria aboard the King and Winge, according to those who made the trip. Two tables of bridge were played during most of the trip.

Racing regiestrations for the Sunday gillnet events have slowed down and the lower horsepower races have not even received any entries as yet, according to Don Riswick. He urged gillnetters to register for the races by calling or signing up with William Westerholm at the CRPU office.

Royal Chinooks are really going to be busy during the Regatta. Leo Soucie, one of the leaders, volunteered the group for lots of activity and the board eagerly accepted.

Gillnetters had an added inducement for racing today. D. V. Riswick, race chairman, announced an additional prize. He said Norman Junes, operator of Northwest Propellor service, had offered free propellor service for a year to the first place winner in each of the Sunday races

Route of the parade which starts at 2.30 p. m Saturday is east along Marine drive from 3rd to 8th street, then on Commercial street east to 20th street where refreshments will be given paraders after the march Parade headquarters will be near Woody's Drive-in Saturday. Chairman Don Garris reports.

Complete Regatta programs, containing the schedule of events for the full five days, have been printed and will be available at Pier 3 tonight. The programs contain many pictures of past Regattas, stories about Clatsop county and will make interesting souvenirs, Regatta officials says.

Past glory will shine again Friday night when former Regatta queens will don their royal robes for the Regatta Revue sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi and the Jay-C-Ettes at Pier 3 Those who will model the regal finery of bygone days and that of more recent Regattas are: 1901—Ivy Barker Archer's gown, modelled by Mrs. Tom Graham; 1904—Mrs. Ed Printiss' gown, modelled by Miss Judy Olsen; 1934—Josephine Waffle Swanson; 1936—Nancy Fulton Lowe; 1937—Jean Reed Maunula; 1941—Ann Halderman McGowan, 1952—Lydia Dorn Pavlat; 1953—Marilyn Ransom Gustafson, 1954—Molly Malarkey; 1955—Sue Sandoz; 1956—Judy Palmberg, and 1957—Judy Hein.

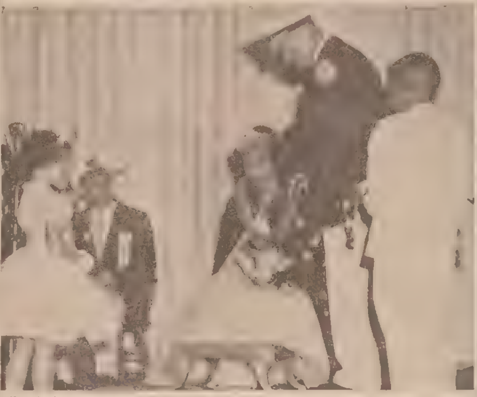
Incidently [illegible] the [illegible] thusiastic former queens, Mrs. [illegible] Parker, 1901, is here from [illegible] reunion from 4:30-630 at the Harry Swanson home. Although she can still wear her gown, she won't be modelling it Friday night at the revue, but she "wouldn't miss the reunion and revue for anything." [illegible] and honored to be [illegible]

Problem confronting Jay-C-Ettes chairman Ruth Shaner in finding 20 [illegible] (but not a teenage shape) to model gowns solved with the finding of little Mrs. Thomas Graham and collegian Judy Olsen

[illegible] Telephone and Telegraph [illegible] So far [illegible]

Marshals of the Saturday parade [illegible] show [illegible]

Regatta Queen Is Crowned



Here is the climax of Thursday night's bright coronation ceremony, as Admiral Chester McCarty placed the crown on the head of Queen Gayle Ross, as 2000 folk watched. (A-B Photo)

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Friday, August 29

6:30 p.m.	Kiddies Parade, Kiwanis club, downtown Astoria, Royal Chinooks.
7:00 p.m.	Regatta Pavilion Opens, Ron Graves, floor manager.
7:00 p.m.	8:00 p m —Organ Interlude, Royal Chinooks appear at Pier 3, Leo Soucie
8:00 p.m.	Award of Prizes, Savory Seafoods Search, by judges, Mrs R. D. Holmes, Gloria Trantenella and John Nieder, Robert J. Hansen, master of ceremonies, Pier, 3, Port Docks. Presentation o fthe net by Palmer Olson, Vice-President, National Fish Institute.
9:00 p.m.	1 p.m.—Regatta Review and Dance, Mrs Ruth Shaner, Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Mrs. Pete Bryant, Beta Sigma Phi, R. J. Hanson, Master of Ceremonies.
9:00 p.m.	First Show: Review of Regatta Times 1897-1958 including presentation of past reigning Regatta Queens and their coronation gowns.
	Beach Fashions: Old and new styles to be modeled by the Astoria Sun Seekers
10:00 p.m.	Arthur Murray Ball Room dancing exhibition, followed by Champagne Hour, a dancing contest.
10:00 p.m.	Pirates Den Opens.
11:00 p.m	Second Show Review of Regatta Times
12:00	1:00 a.m —Dancing with Four Tones and featured Vocalist, Barbara Haglund.

Saturday, August 30, 1958
Jewell Day, Joe Tursi, Co-ordinator

8:00 a.m.	10 a.m.—Fly-in, Astoria Chapter, Oregon Sportsman Pilot's Association
	Don Johnson, Frank Dundun, Clatsop County Airport.
9:00 a.m.	12 Noon—Marine Events, Joe Dyer, Axel Englund, Joe Tursi, East End mooring basin Admission, adults $1.00, Children 12-16 50 cents. Children under 12, free.

RACES

9:15 a.m.	Class A Utility Hydroplane, 1st heat.
9:30 a.m.	Class B Stock Hydroplane, 1st heat.
9:45 a.m.	Class A Utility Hydro, second heat.
10:00 a.m.	Class B Stock Hydro, second heat.
10:00 a.m.	10:30 a.m —Portland Water Ski Club, Bill Haynes.
10:30 a.m.	Outboard Family Runabout. 36 Cubic Inch Motor and less.
11:00 a.m.	Outoard Family runabout 36 inch cubic motors and up.
11:30 a.m.	Outboard Family Runabout. Free for all.
11:30 a.m.	Fish Barbecue, Columbia Field, J. F. Kindred, Chairman, Methodist Men's Club Fish Feed for Fly-In
11:50 a.m.	12:30 p.m —Portland Water Ski Club.
2:00 p.m.	Carnival Opens.
2:30 p.m.	Land Parade, Don Garris, Chairman, Downtown Astoria. Bob Blackburn, M.C.
4:30 p.m.	7 p m.—Quarter Midget Races, MacCallister Field, John Barr.

Firemen Obtain Horses for Float

It's going to be red suspenders, fancy firemen's get-up and the crowning achievement, a horse-drawn fire ladder, as the Astoria fire department's contribution in the big Saturday land parade of the Astoria Regatta

Firemen reported Friday that they have acquired a team of horses to be used Saturday in pulling the ancient piece of fire equipment that once had been the pride of the local department

The red-suspender boys say they're ready to go and that through the kindness of an unidentified farmer they've got the team to take them down the parade route in style.

Full Day Of Festival Underway

A rain-freshened 38th annual Astoria Regatta and third Oregon Fish Festival swung into its first full day of activity Friday with a busy and varied slate of events facing Regatta fans

Range of activity on the first day of the reign of Queen Gayle Ross covers the whole scope of Regatta events, from cooking contests to parades.

Astoria's small fry get their Regatta innings at 6:30 p. m. in the annual Kiwanis-sponsored children's parade The parade will start from the Clatsop county court house and travel down Commercial street to the Four-H fair grounds The Regatta Review, sponsored by the Jay-C-Ettes and the Beta Sigma Phi is the major event slated at Pier 3 Friday night.

Festival Events

Earlier Friday emphasis for the celebration shifted to the Fish Festival as two major events got under way at the port docks. Activity in the Savory Seafoods Search, a seafoods cooking contest, began at 9 a. m Prizes for winners will be awarded at 8 p m at Pier 3

A cooking demonstration contest, Far Away Fish Favorites, got started at 10 a. m.

Judges for the cooking contest were Mrs R D. Hoolmes, Gloria Trantenella and John Nieder The prizes are to be presented by Palmer Olson of the National Fish Institute at 8 p. m. Mrs Rudy Lovvold is chairman of the Savory Seafoods contest.

Chairman of the Far Away Fish Favorites demonstrations is Mrs. Veikko Romppanen. Ruth Klipstein, food nutritionist from Oregon State college, and Anne Strachan, of the county extension office, acted as discussion leaders during the contest.

Cooks Listed

Cooks displaying their top seafoods recipes included: Chef Gino, Ocean House, Gearhart; Mrs Louis Friedman, Mrs. Lloyd Fletcher, Mrs. Fred Jauert, Mrs. Henry Larson, Mrs. A. H. Lofgren, Mrs. A W. Lopakka, Mrs John McCoy, Mrs. A. P Miller, Mrs Clifford Olson, Mrs. James Papadimos and Mrs. Graham Sheets. Favorite recipes from all over the world were presented

Both of these events continued into the afternoon program.

At noon Friday Regatta celebrants formed two groups, with women attending the annual

(Continued on Page Two)

Full Day Of Festival Under Way

(Continued from page One)

Queen's Luncheon and men, the annual Admiral's Luncheon.

More than 300 women jammed the Astoria high school cafeteria for the Queen's Luncheon. Luncheon co-chairmen for the Anchor club, sponsors of the event are Mrs. Eldred Mittet and Mrs. John H. Nellor.

Navy Hosts

Attending the luncheon honoring Adm. Chester McCarty, held at Tonque Point BOQ, were approximately 100 Astorians. Buses transported guests from the John Jacob Astor hotel to the naval staton.

Regatta pavalion opening is 7 p. m., with an organ interlude by Marian Hauke and an appearance of the Royal Chinooks Drum and Bugle corps the first order of business The Regatta Review will begin at 9 p. m. Mrs. Wesley Shaner Jr. and Mrs. Pete Bryant are in charge of this program.

It will feature past Regatta queens and the gowns they wore modelled the queens themselves Also on the program is a swimming suit modelling event. Swimming suits, both modern and old-fashioned, will be displayed.

Also on the program is an appearance by a pair of Arthur Murray dancers. They will present a dance demonstration and conduct a dancing contest. R. J. Hanson is master of ceremonies for the entire program.

Airplanes get into the Regatta act Saturday morning with the Fly-In scheduled from 8 to 10 a m., at the Clatsop county airport Marine events are scheduled from 9 a m to noon at the east end mooring basin. This will mark the first appearance of the Portland Water Ski club in the Regatta.

Two classes of hydroplane races and outdoor family runable races will be held The activities are directed by Joseph Dyer, Alex Englund and Joe Tursi.

The grand land parade is slated for 2.30 p. m. Saturday through downtown Astoria. Line of march for the 70-unit parade will be from the Doughboy monument to the [illegible]

[illegible]

2000 Folk See Colorful Ritual Held At Pier 3

The 1958 Astoria Regatta is under way by proclamation of a beautiful dark-haired queen, Gayle I, who raised her jewelled scepter and commanded the subjects of her happy realm to participate in the events and to celebrate with her in the four [illegible] days of her reign.

The [illegible] blue-eyed brunette [illegible] is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo "Happy" Ross and she was [illegible] the fairest in the land of Regatta in Thursday night's coronation ceremonies at Pier 3.

[illegible] 2000 [illegible] the huge covered pier.

Queen Gayle was crowned by her admiral, Gen. Chester McCarty, USAF, presented [illegible] last year's [illegible] Her [illegible] Mayor Peter Cosovich and [illegible] Tommy [illegible] who draped [illegible] across her slender shoulders.

McCarty Speaks

[illegible] McCarty [illegible] on the [illegible] in this [illegible] even over the [illegible] the locality. [illegible] and good [illegible] spirit of its people, which has already endeared him to the locality.

Mayor Cosovich expressed his pride in serving under so beautiful [illegible] son And Tommy [illegible] tional manner, told how, [illegible] the years, he has looked [illegible] to coming to Astoria at [illegible] time because [illegible] ories [illegible] continues to [illegible] him

It [illegible] color [illegible] start [illegible] with [illegible] tle of [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Carolyn [illegible] the 1958 Regatta queen.

Costumes Noted

[illegible]

[illegible] helpmeet, were Bill Wadsworth, Jeanette Mrs Robert Landwehr.

Regatta Land's Queen Gayle

Your 1958 Regatta Queen, beautiful and regal Gayle Ross, commands her subjects of Regatta land to enter into the festivities planned for their enjoyment for the following four event-packed days. She is shown immediately after she was crowned last night by her admiral, Gen. Chester McCarty before a crowd of more than 2000 (A-B Photo)

Fish Fry Event Goes to Shelter

The Sunday fish fry, Reg[illegible] feature scheduled for Columbia field, will be held instead at Pier 3 of the port docks due to threatening weather, Regatta officials said [illegible]

The fish fry scheduled Saturday in connection with a Fly-In of Oregon sportsmen pilots also has been [illegible]ed to Pier 3 for the same reason.

Royal Robes for 1904

Like a queen of long ago, Miss Judy Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Olson, poses in the coronation dress worn by Mrs. Ed Printiss, queen of the 1904 Astoria Regatta, one of the regal costumes that will be modelled at tonight's Regatta Revue at Pier 3, starting at 9 p. m. The collegian, one of the few who could model the gowns of a bygone era, has a 20-inch waist. (A-B Photo)

Parade Committee Braced for Rush

Taking colorful form in hidden basements, garages and warehouses around Regattaland these nights are a galaxy of floats that will grace the bigger-than-ever Regatta and Fish Festival "water wonderland" parade this Saturday afternoon, according to Jaycee parade officials who are supposed to know these things.

Busy float chairmen are rallying their committees for that inevitable last minute rush to complete their projects in time for the big parade—although some claim already that their creations are ready to go. Covering for the floats, an important item and the most tedious one, will range from patented paper panels, tissue and napkins, to nature's own decor this year again, Dick Steinbock and Carl Bondietti, busy on the Regatta queen's float, report.

Twenty floats are expected in the parade, according to Don Garris, general chairman, several more than in recent years They are entered in two divisions, commercial and non-commercial.

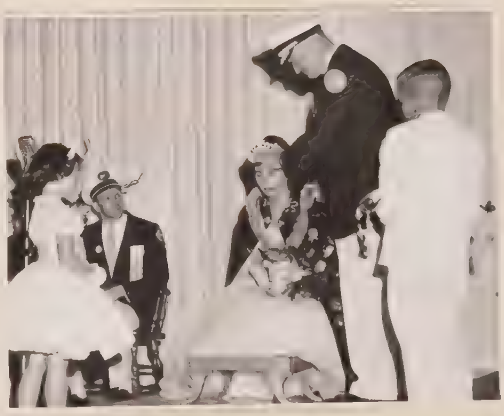
Judging of the floats will be based on the following items, David Edison, judging and awards chairman, points out (1) workmanship, (2) design, (3) appearance, (4) theme Winners of the awards in all categories of the parade—floats, bands, drill teams, etc., will be revealed during the always-popular "Awards Pageant" Saturday night at Pier 3, Edison states.

Judges Try Savory Dishes

Judging in the annual Savory Seafoods cooking contest got under way bright and early Friday morning at Pier 3. A trio of judges were sampling the many dishes starting at 9 a. m. Judging continued through the noon hour. Prizes in the contest will be awarded at Pier 3 at 8 p. m. Judges pictured above are, from left to right, Mrs. R. D. Holmes, John Nieder and Gloria Trantenella. (A-B Photo)

Royal Rulers of Fete

ASTORIA REGATTA Queen Gayle Ross gives big smile as she walks down aisle with "Adm." Chester E. McCarty following crowning ceremony, high spot of 1958 fete which ends Monday with parade and marine events at nearby Warrenton. "Adm." McCarty is major general in air force, former Portland resident.



Race Cars Regatta Feature

A [illegible] youngsters, will be introduced with the [illegible] annual Regatta [illegible]. The popular sport of [illegible] racing will be presented at McCallister field in a series of demonstration races. John Barr is in charge of arrangements for the events. He said some 20 to 30 midgets are expected to be on hand for the demonstrations.

SUNDAY'S TIDES
High 2 19 a.m., 7.3 feet
Low 8:39 a.m., 0.1 feet
High 2:44 p.m., 7.5 feet
[illegible] 34 p.m., 0.4 feet
[illegible]DAY'S TIDES
[illegible] 2 57 a.m., 7.0 feet
[illegible] 9 10 a.m., 0.5 feet
High 3:15 [illegible]
High 3:15 [illegible]
Low 9 40 p.m., 0.4 feet

Astorian Evening Budget

Vol 84, No 207 Astoria, Oregon, Saturday, August 30, 1958 PRICE 5c

WEATHER FORECAST
Partly cloudy with possible showers tonight Partly sunny Sunday; low tonight 52 high Sunday 70. West-southwest winds.

Biggest Regatta Weekend In Prospect; Marine Events, Races, Fly-in On List

REGATTA REVELS

Astoria's Regatta court and Regatta officials are getting to be television veterans. They appeared on TV again last night, over Chuck Foster's news program on KOIN TV, as the King and Winge left Portland for Astoria. Earlier they had appeared on two Portland television stations. Other Regatta officials appeared on TV in Eugene.

A carnival midway will be featured at the Regatta pier. Concessions from the Davis brothers carnival, which is here for the week, will be constructed down the center isle of the pavilion. Rides will be placed outside the area.

The famed precision drill team from the Naval Air Station, Oakland, Calif., is returning again for the parade tomorrow. Last year they barely arrived in time to compete for the honors which they tramped off with and will be after again. The unit flies to events in cities all over the United States.

Clan MacLeay Bagpipe band with several former Astorians among its kilt-clad marchers, is one of three Scottish pipe bands that will take part in festivities Saturday.

Lights burned late last night in warehouses and garages in the Sunset Empire as workers toiled to complete a record number of floats for the "Water Wonderland" parade. Some surprising and spectacular units are in store for parade viewers, parade committeemen hear.

The drag boat Marian F. skippered by Arthur Paquet, came into Astoria Thursday with a cargo of fresh fish caught for the big Fish Festival Seafoods Barbecue. The fish, taken right from the ocean, will be served Sunday nooo at the big fish fry at Columbia Field.

An added feature of the 38th Reg[illegible]a is a 30-piece display of rocks, minerals and gem stones set up by the Trails End Gem and Mineral club in the former Astoria Hardware building on Commercial street. The free-admission show is open Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., club representatives report.

Astoria's Sea Scout sailing craft the Flying Cloud, won a second place in the sailboat race of the Regatta. The race was held Friday afternoon off the east end mooring basin. The City of Roses, a Portland Sea Scout craft, won the six mile race in a time of one hour and seven minutes. The time for the Flying Cloud was one hour and 11 minutes.

More than 330 youngsters participated in the Children's parade Friday night. Winners in the various divisions were Dickie Jensen, Jane and Melissa Hill, Jennifer Connally, Mary Craig, Terry Joe Reneke, Virginia and Wendy Sagen, Sandy and Jackie Springer, Don Garris, Jr., Patty Wullger, Patricia Wahlfeil, Anne Wyatt and Rennie Mattila. The grand prize winner was Terry Joe Reneke.

Entertainment between halves of the Regatta Revue Friday night turned out to be a surprise for the audience (and those participating). The Arthur Murray [illegible]

[illegible] scurrying about to dig up some water-wear for bathing beauties of [illegible] man

Huge Crowd at Luncheon

More than 300 luncheon guests jammed the cafeteria at Astoria high school Friday for the annual Anchor club-sponsored Queen's luncheon, for women only. Special guests for the luncheon were members of the royal court, past Regatta queens and Mrs. Chester McCarty, wife of the admiral, and Mrs. R. D. Holmes, wife of the Governor of Oregon. Pictured above is the royal court and Queen Gayle Ross, just after they entered. Mrs. John H. Nellor, luncheon co-chairman, with Mrs. Eldred Mittet, is shown at the microphone on the left. (A-B Photo)

Wins Top Prize

Top prize for the Savory Seafoods Search cooking contest was won by Suzanne Englund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Englund, who is pictured above as she accepts the top award. The wife of Oregon's governor, Mrs. R. D. Holmes, center, is presenting the prize. Another judge, John Nieder, is assisting Mrs. Holmes. The judges praised the entry. Mrs. Axel Englund also won . . . she placed second behind her daughter in the soups and chowder division. (A-B Photo)

Suzanne Englund Wins Title In Savory Seafoods Search; Chowder Proves Prize Dish

A pert red-haired teen-ager Suzanne Englund dreamed up a chowder that had the judges of the Savory Seafoods Search smacking their lips and coming back for 'seconds', winning their unanimous approval for the grand sweepstakes prize at Friday's contest.

The daughter of the Axel Englunds was actually sound asleep in bed and dreaming (probably not about chowder), when her mother "made her get up and enter something in the seafoods contest."

"I'll never complain when mother wakes me up again!" the pretty U. of O student exclaimed when she was awarded the elaborate electric oven-rotiesiere at the awards presentation last night before close to 1000 people at the Pier 3 pavilion.

Suzanne's Pacific chowder, a luscious "combo" of white fish, shrimp and clams richly flavored by tomatoes, onions and carrots, won first prize in the Soups and Chowders division of the seafood contest, and then took sweepstakes prize when all first prize dishes of each division were judged. She won an 11-inch electric skillet in the chowder division.

Mrs. Robert D. Holmes, wife of Oregon's governor, one of the judges in the Seafood Search contest, presented the awards to winners last night, adding to the crowd's interest by telling "behind the scene" incidents and opinions of the judges as they went through their tasting testing that morning.

Winners in the other divisions were Appetizers, first, Mrs. Paul Tolonen, for her [illegible] 4 TV trays and [illegible] pickled salmon second, Mrs. Ida Larson (lazy susan) [illegible] first, Mrs. Larry Snyder with her lemon cream cheese with [illegible] shrimp dressing [illegible] second, Mrs. A. B. Curtis [illegible] salad (6-piece stainless steel kitchen tool set); entrees first, Mrs. Morris Berg, Norwegian sturgeon balls, (deep fat fryer) second, Mrs. Oscar Gustafson, salmon turbot [illegible] copper chafing dish.

[illegible] Thompson [illegible] with [illegible] first and an ice cooler in the men's division with his pickled salt salmon, and George Ful[illegible] kippered sturgeon won second and a [illegible] lunch kit.

[illegible] fish augratin [illegible] a 24-inch charcoal broiler in the youth division for first place and [illegible] Thompson won second place with [illegible] kippered black cod (a Scotch cooler).

Incidently, Sweepstakes Winner Suzanne beat out her own mother, the very one who made her get up and get cooking in the soups and chowder division. But Mrs. Englund, who has handed down her cooking gift to her daughter and encouraged her to enter 4-H work while she was in school here in which she has won many prizes, took second place with her black cod chowder, winning a 16-quart Revere ware kettle.

Active 2 Days Ahead

Lower Columbians braced themselves for the [illegible] Regatta weekend on record as [illegible] packed days of festivity [illegible] off early this morning with the first Regatta Fly-in.

In rapid order marine events, featuring limited [illegible] of the Portland water ski [illegible] planes, the Grand Regatta parade, quarter-midget races were [illegible]. Tonight the [illegible] Awards Pageant which will present [illegible] parade winners and [illegible] Portland [illegible] held at Pier 3 beginning at 8 p.m.

Arrive Early

Sportsmen pilots began to arrive at the Clatsop county airport at 6 30 a.m. to be greeted by Admiral Major General [illegible] McCarty. Admiral McCarty [illegible] state president of the organization and was a charter member. He is now commanding officer of the 12th US Air Force.

A special Seafoods barbecue was held at noon at Pier 3 for the pilots. Some 200 of them from throughout Oregon and the Pacific Northwest were scheduled to be on hand.

J F Kindred and the Men's club of the Methodist church are in charge of the barbecue. Frank Dundon and Don Johnson were in charge of arrangements for the Fly-in.

Marine events were moving into the spotlight with the limited hydroplanes and [illegible] scheduled to race for prizes. The racing got underway at [illegible] with limited hydros roaring about in and outside of the east end mooring basin.

Ski Club Seen

Members of the Portland water ski club appeared at 10 a.m. They will appear again on Sunday. Family runabout races were scheduled at 10 30 and 1 a.m.

A 70 unit Grand Regatta parade gets underway at 2 30 p.m. The parade route will be down Commercial street.

Immediately following the parade quarter-midget races will be held in the vacant lot [illegible] in front of the 4-H [illegible]. The races are demonstration races according to John Barr, chairman, and about 20 cars are expected to participate. Most of the cars driven by youngsters up to 12-year-olds are from Portland and Longview, Wash., where active midget race clubs are functioning.

Blackburn Due

Parade time also marks the first appearance of Bob Blackburn, Portland baseball [illegible]. He will announce the parade and serve as master of ceremonies for the awards pageant to be held at Pier 3 tonight.

Featured in the awards pageant, which starts at 8 p.m. will be all of the units both [illegible] and marching that appeared in the parade. They will perform and the Junior Chamber [illegible] will present them with their awards.

Dancing will be held at the Pier following the band show until 12 p.m. Music [illegible] Tones with Barbara Haglund as vocalist.

Sunday Busy

Sunday is another [illegible] packed day with marine events starting at 9 a.m. [illegible] of the Scandinavian Benevolent Society is chairman of the races. Gillnet and sailboat races will be [illegible]. Four classes of the fish boat races are scheduled.

All racing is at the east end mooring basin.

Sailboats will also be racing with Joe Dyer in charge of these events. A boat landing [illegible] race is also on the agenda.

Governor R D Holmes is [illegible] to appear [illegible] at Pier 3 [illegible] the [illegible] Seafoods barbecue [illegible] other events have been [illegible] to the huge Pier 3 area because of the threat of inclement weather. They had originally been scheduled for Columbia Field.

Rescue Seen

Another feature Sunday morning will be an air [illegible] helicopter rescue demonstration. A Portland air force base team will conduct this demonstration. It is slated for about 10 a.m.

Square dancing featuring square dancers from throughout the north west are scheduled Sunday afternoon from 2 to [illegible] is to be held in the Astoria [illegible].

Sunday night [illegible] will be featured at the [illegible]

(Continued on Page Two)

Regatta Revels

"Queen for a Night" brought added thrills to little Mrs. Ivy (Barker) Archer, Portland, Regatta Queen of 1901, when this year's gracious Regatta Queen, Gayle Ross, abdicated her throne on stage at last night's Regatta Revue, to her predecessor. An interview over the microphone with MC Robert J. Hanson and a dance with her "admiral for the evening" just about made it a perfect evening and another happy memory for the former queen. Incidently, Admiral McCarty thoroughly enjoyed his dance ("She's a beautiful little dancer!") and so did Queen Ivy of 1901.

[illegible]

Busy Regatta Time Ahead

(Continued from page One)

[illegible]

Chef Tells Cooking Tips

Chef Gino, of Ocean House, is pictured above at the Far Away Fish Favorites activity at Pier 3 Friday. He is shown with Anne Strachan, Clatsop county home extension agent, who helped with his talk. The chef was one of several who appeared at the event and talked to a large crowd of women. They even featured cooking tips on seafoods. (A-B Photo)

Pround Pop Photographs Parade Entry

Dads were snapping pictures and moms keeping track of the family as more than 337 youthful paraders awaited the start of the annual Kiwanis sponsored Children's Parade. Kent Freeman, a proud poppa, is shown, extreme left, taking a picture of a canoe float constructed by his family. The parade started at 6:30 p. m. Friday and went down Commercial street to 16th street where they were presented with ice cream and tickets to the carnival at Pier 3. (A-B Photo)

Past Queens and Punch Bowl

Some of the past Regatta queens gathered around the punch owl at the reunion held in their honor at the Harry Swanson home Thursday afternoon are shown with the most important guest of honor Ivy Barker Archer, the 1901 Regatta Queen. From left, Jean Maunula Reed, Lydia Dorn Pavlat, Susan Sandoz, Ann Halderman McGowan and Mrs. Archer. (A-B Photo)

Ship Sales Parade Route

The good ship Kim sailed the Kiwanis sponsored children's route without a mishap Friday. At the helm was Kim Isaacson, son of Mr .and Mrs. E. E. Isaacson. The float was constructed over a tricycle. The helmsmen was garbed in a typical mariner's costume. (A-B Photo)

Ex-Queen on Throne

Ivey Barker Archer, Queen of the Astoria Regatta in 1901, 57 years ago, was a Regatta ruler again for a time Friday night at the Jay-C-Ette and Beta Sigma Phi sponsored Regatta Review. She is pictured above on the throne on the stage at the Regatta pavilion. Admiral Chester McCarty is shown at the right. He escorted the queen to the stage. Mrs. Archer was just one of many queens presented during the evening. (A-B photo)

Clowns to Parade Today

Here are the Astoria Clowns and their car, photographed during the recent Seattle Seafair parade, who will appear again in today's Regatta parade, representing Greater Astoria Boosters.

Miniature Clowns on Hand

Some miniature Astoria Clowns were on hand for the Kiwanis sponsored Children's Parade held late Friday in downtown Astoria. Like their adult counterparts they were anonymous parade [illegible] one of several entered in the parade along a total of 337 children. They were presented passes to the carnival and free ice cream by Kiwanians at the end of the parade. Marvin Taylor was in charge of the parade. (A-B Photo)

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Saturday, August 30, 1958

7 00 p m Regatta Pavilion Opens
7 00 p m 8:00 p.m —Organ Interlude
7 30 p m Royal Chinooks, Arrive at Pavilion.
8 00 p m. Awards Pageant, presentation of parade awards, Bill Wilson, Bob Blackburn, M. C.
10 00 p m. Pirates Den Opens.
10 30 p m 1 00 a.m.—Dance
Music by Four Tones
Barbara Haglund, featured vocalist

Sunday, August 31, 1958

Astoria Day, Dr. E. W. Harvey, Co-ordinator

9 00 a m. to 12 noon—Marine Events, East End Mooring Basin, Scandinavian Benevolent Society, D. V. Riswick Chairman, Lewis Wright, Arnold Johnson Jr , William Westerholm, Burnby Bell, A H Mather and Roy -Duoos
9 30 a.m Marine Parade, Lewis Wright, Bos'n Robert L. Hansen, Portland Water Ski Club, East End Basin.
Greetings Palmer Olson, District No. 5, Vice-president of National Fisheries Institute
Proclamation and Address, R. D Holmes, Governor of Oregon
10 00 a m Air-Sea Helicipter Rescue Demonstration, 337th Air Base Unit, Portland, East-end Mooring Basin.
10.30 a.m Blessing of the Fleet, Dr C H Gross, Grace Episcopal Church Mr and Mrs A. V Cellars
Vocal Solo, Neptune's Daughter, Barbara Haglund, Paul Hutchinson, accompanist
11 00 a m Gillnet Races, oJe Dyer, Chairman, to be started by Pole Boat for running start, all boats must be at least 25 feet in length and o fthe Columbia River Gillnet type.
1st race—Round bottom up to 200 cubic inch displacement, 1 lap, 2½ miles
2nd race—Round bottom, 200 cuic inch to 265 cubic inch displacement, 2 laps, 5 miles.
3rd race—V-Bottom, 200 cubic inch to 265 cubic inch displacement, 2 laps, 5 miles.
4th race—Unlimited 2 laps, 10 miles
12 00 noon 2:00 p. m.—Seafoods barbecue, Columbia Field Dr. E W. Harvey Free of charge
Vocal Interlude, Neptune's Daughter, Barbara Haglund, lyric soprano Band Concert.
1 30 p.m. Sail Boat races—starting, Joe Dyer.
1·45 p m. Gear Demonstrations, Al Mather
1. Gillnet laying out and picking up.
2. Otter Trawl and Drag
3 Crab Pot.
4. Snag, Scow and Diver (Skin Diver).
2 00 Carnival Opens.
2·00 p.m. 5:30 p.m.—Square Dance Jamboree, Astoria Armory, Charles Ordway, Chairman Admission, 75 cents per person, 25 cents spectators.
2·45 p.m. Boat Handling Skill with Balloons, East End Mooring Basin Lewis Wright, Chairman.
3:30 p.m Sailboat races finish (approximately).
3·30 p m. Cannery Tender Race Start.
7·00 p.m. Regatta Pavilion Opens.
7:00 p.m. Organ Interlude.
7:30 p.m. 10 p.m.—International Smorgasette, Anne Strachan, Chairman.
8:00 p.m. 11·00 p.m.—Folk Dancing Jamboree, Milton Nogle, Chairman Admission $1 50
8:00 p m. Folk Dancing.
9:00 p.m. Norwegian Chorus, Tacoma, Washington.
Group I Normanna (Male Chorus)
Hil Dag Norge . [illegible]
Dangerpolka [illegible]
Hav .. [illegible]
Close Harmony [illegible]
Jolly Fellows [illegible]
Group II The Normanettes (Female Chorus)
The Willow Tree .. [illegible]
Kjaerringa Med Staven [illegible]
Listen to the Mocking Bird .. Hawthorne-Travis and Johnson
It's Spring .... Boland-Waring
Group III Mixed Chorus
Nordic [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
10 00 p.m [illegible]

Monday, September 1, 1958
Warrenton Day, Tony Naimo, Co-ordinator

9·00 a.m. 11:00 a m.—Marine events Warrenton Mooring Basin. Warrenton Water Ski Club
12 00 Noon Parade, Downtown Warrenton, Royal Regatta Court, Royal Chinooks
1.00 p.m. 3·00 p m —Marine Events, Warrenton Mooring Basin. Yacht-In Band Concert, Musicians Unions, Warrenton Mooring Basin.
2:00 p.m. Carnival Opens, Pier 3, Astoria.

'Strike Up Band' Is Theme

Strike up the band is theme for Pacific Power and Light company's "better living" float which will appear in the Regatta and Fish Festival parade here August 30. The colorful float is done in metallic red and silver and features a sprightly Reddy Kilowatt band surrounding a lightning flash symbol. The float provides its own peppy band music.

The Oregonian
Hostess House
NEWS FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN
SECTION THREE
PAGES 1 TO 4
PORTLAND, OREGON, SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1958 4M

Hearty Fish Chowder Sweeps Honors

[illegible], grand sweepstakes winner of the [illegible]ds Search" at Astoria Fish Festival Friday [illegible] to Dr. E. W. Harvey, in charge of Seafoods [illegible] entry was Pacific Coast chowder.

Shown taste-testing seafood appetizers are Mrs. Robert D. Holmes, wife of the governor; John Nieder, food consultant, and Miss Gloria Trantanella, The Oregonian's food editor, judges for "Savory Seafoods Search" contest. Contest is part of third Oregon Fish Festival.

[illegible]r, top-winning entry for Miss Suzanne [illegible] a hearty soup chockful of white fish, [illegible]s, tomatoes. It's flavored with wine.

By NANCY MORRIS
Food Editor, The Oregonian

A 19 year-old girl was judged the best seafood cook of the "Savory Seafoods Search" contest at Astoria Friday. Suzanne Englund of Astoria, a student at University of Oregon, took grand sweepstake honors for her Pacific Coast chowder, a hearty soup rich with white fish, clams, shrimp, onions, tomatoes and carrots.

This wss the second time Miss Englund has entered the Oregon Fish Festival seafoods cookery contest. Two years ago she was first prize winner in the salad division. According to Miss Englund, her mother, Mrs. Axel Englund, who won second prize in the chowder and soups division, talked her in to entering the contest just Friday morning. Her prize, a rotisserie oven and broiler, was awarded to her Friday evening at ceremonies held at the auditorium of pier 3, head quarters for the fish festival activities.

Youths Win Prizes

Girls and boys, 13 through 17 years, had their own division for the first time in the three year-old contest. Sixteen-year-old Garda Fremstad, Astoria, won first prize for her entry, fish au gratin. The hot dish had a most professional look with garnish of golden brown Duchess potatoes swirled around the edge of the casserole. A boy, Ken Thompson, took second prize in this division for his kippered black cod.

The entree division proved most popular with the greatest number of participants. Norwegian sturgeon balls, light in texture and delicately flavored with mace, won first prize for Mrs. Morris Berg, Astoria. Mrs. Oscar Gustafson also of Astoria, won second prize for her salmon turbet, baked in a shallow casserole.

Pickled salt salmon and kippered sturgeon took first and second places in the men's division. They were products of Chris Thompson and George Fulton of Astoria. The pickled salt salmon, in the judges' opinions, had just the right spices and degree of tartness in the pickling solution.

Cream puffs filled with creamed shrimp delicately flavored with white table wine, a creation of Mrs. Paul Tolonen, Astoria, was first prize winner in the appetizer division. Mrs. Ida Larson's pickled salmon won second place.

Shrimp Pressing Scores

First place winner in the salad division was Mrs. Larry Snyder, Astoria, for her lemon cream chees salad with Pacific shrimp dressing. Pacific shrimp salad, entry of Mrs. A. B. Curtis, Astoria, won second prize.

The Savory Seafoods Search contest is sponsored by the Oregon Fish Festival as a part of the Astoria Regatta. Purpose of the contest, according to Mrs. Rudy Lovvold, this year's chairman, is to procure simple, individual seafood recipies for use in every home. Many of the prize-winning recipes will appear in The Oregonian Hostess House section next Friday.

Acting as judges for the contest were Mrs. Robert D. Holmes, wife of Oregon's governor; John Nieder, food consultant; and Miss Gloria Trantanella, Te Oregonian's Nancy Morris.

5M THE OREGONIAN, SUNDAY, AUGUST 31, 1958

Dry Land Parade Launches Astoria Regatta With Air Force General Serving as Admiral

Water skiers on a dry-course float at Astoria's 38th Annual Regatta parade Saturday were Mrs. Ann Shepherd, left, and Patricia Whitten. Riding the Ma Bell of Astoria, float was entry of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., in Division 1.

By BILL SEVING
Staff Writer, The Oregonian

ASTORIA (Special)—An air-force general donned Navy blue-and-white here Saturday to serve as "admiral" of the 38th annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Annual Fish Festival.

Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty, commander of the 12th U.S. air force, sat with Queen Gayle Ross on a reviewing stand to watch the "land parade" pass by.

Blue sky, a bright sun, and a sea-blown breeze offered ideal weather as the marchers came down Commercial street and Regatta-goers approved the sights.

Bands, floats, drill teams, clowns, antique cars, bagpipers and horse-riders followed their land-bound course and won liberal applause, laughter, and cheers from the sidewalk audience.

Queen's Division Leads

The 60 units were led by the Queen's division with Gayle I, her court, Gov. and Mrs. Robert D. Holmes, Att. Gen. and Mrs. Robert Y. Thornton, the Queen's chaperone, page boys and girls, Astoria Royal Chinooks Drum and Bugle Corps, and the Royal Rosarians from Portland

Gen. McCarty and Regatta Assn. President Tony Naimo followed the Astoria Motorcycle Club's color guard in the Admiral's Division. Oakland Naval Air Station's drill team, Capts. W. H. Watson and D. L. Roscoe, Astoria's high school band, Fisherettes, antique cars with queens of past Regattas, and the mayors of Astoria, Seaside and Warrenton completed the group.

Marine Events Next

Six other divisions included more Astorians and guest-participants from Portland, Olympia, Naselle, Wash., Warrenton, Tigard, Hoquiam, Seattle, Tacoma, Seaside, Longview-Kelso area, and Seaview, Wash.

Marine events are scheduled for Sunday and Monday mornings and festivities are set for every hour through Sunday night.

Closing the 38th Regatta Monday afternoon at 1 will be more water-borne activities at the Warrenton Mooring Basin and a 2 o'clock carnival at Pier 3.

Forecast: Clear skies and a good time for all.

Winners Stage Pageant

Parade winners gave a special performance in a pageant at pier 3 Saturday night.

Winners included

Sweepstakes: Pacific Telephone and Telegraph.

Commercial floats: First, Columbia River Packers Association; second, Deep Sea Market, Astoria; third, Ami's Texaco-Mercury Outboard, Astoria.

Noncommercial floats: First, USO, Astoria; second, IOOF, Beaver Lodge 30, Astoria; third, Knappa Quarter Hawks.

Drill marching units: First, ARK assembly, Rainbow, Seattle; second, Astoria High School; third, Eagles, Portland.

Military marching units: First, 759th AC&W Squadron Drill Team, USAF, Naselle, Wash.; second, Civil Air Patrol, Astoria.

Display marching units: First, Oregon National Guard, Astoria; second, Daughters of Norway, Astoria; third, Royal Rosarians.

[illegible]

Regatta Queen Gayle I, 18-year-old Astorian, and Maj. Gen. (Admiral for a day) Chester McCarty have top deck seats on reviewing stand for the Grand Parade. (Sternett photos)

[illegible] Clatsop County Wranglers; third, Sea Horse Arabian Ranch.

Musical groups: First, Astoria Royal Chinook Drum and Bugle Corps; second, Longview-Kelso Boy Scouts Drum and Bugle; third, Hoquiam VFW Drum [illegible] Bugle [illegible]

Bands: First, Astoria High School; sec[illegible]

Jets in Route to Formosa

ASTORIA (Special) — Tactical Air Command supersonic jet fighters are now en route to Formosa.

This Washington rumor was confirmed Saturday night by Maj. Gen. Chester E. McCarty, 12th Air Force commander representing his service at the annual regatta here.

McCarty said that TAC "is participating in the deployment to Formosa." He added that Military Air Transport Service aircraft were airlifting support personnel and cargo to Formosa for TAC.

The 12th Air Force operates F-100 Supersabres and F-101 Voodoos, both supersonic, single seat planes capable of flying the Pacific nonstop (with air-to-air refueling).

Details Withheld

[illegible]

held by the Department of Defense.

Two [illegible] McCarty's F-100s [illegible] area last Decem[illegible] Exercise Mobile [illegible], set new speed records from Japan to Hawaii and Hawaii to California on their return trip.

McCarty will [illegible] headquarters at [illegible] shortly.

Fair Enough

Portland Area — Partly cloudy today. Fair Monday. Temperature range 53-87.

Oregon and Washington — Partly cloudy west, mostly fair east. Possible showers early Monday. Temperature range 48-90.

Sunday Journal

Home-Owned and Published in the Interests of the Pacific Northwest and Its People

Who's Grid Top?

Which will be the top football teams in '58? Woody Hayes rates college teams in every part of the country in This Week's annual football forecast. See it next Sunday.

VOL. LIV. NO. 26 Section A ..... 800 S. W. FRONT AVE. PORTLAND, OREGON, SUNDAY, AUGUST 31, 1958 TEL. CApitol 2-5511 PRICE 15 CENTS

West-Based Jets Headed For Formosa

Air Force Support Speeds Up

McCarty Withholds Departure Point, Deployment Sites

ASTORIA, Aug. [illegible] Supersonic jet fighters from the 12th air force are dashing to bolster United States forces on Formosa, Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty said here tonight.

McCarty made the announcement after the defense department in Washington, D. C., said a squadron of jets was en route to back up the U. S. 7th fleet off Formosa.

"THE tactical air command fighters are deploying to Formosa and the 12th air force is participating in this deployment," McCarty, the 12th air force commander, said in a statement.

The statement was released by Maj. A. G. Thompson, an information officer, who said this is the first time since the Korean conflict that 12th air force planes have been deployed to the Far East under emergency conditions.

McCarty said he could not disclose how many planes were being deployed, where their trans-Pacific flights began, or where they would be stationed.

The 12th air force mans bases in Louisiana, Texas, Arizona, California, Nevada, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

TWO TYPES of planes are being flown to Formosa, F100 Super-Sabres and F101 Voodoos, said Thompson.

The major added that both planes are capable of flying non-stop to Formosa with the aid of [illegible] air refueling.

McCarty said he plans to return [illegible] to 12th air force headquarters [illegible] Waco, Tex. He came to the Oregon port [illegible] the annual Astoria regatta, which ends Monday.

Pentagon Confirms Aerial Beefing Up

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (UPI) The air force disclosed today that it is sending a squadron of jet fighters and some [illegible] to beef up U. S. air power in the Far East where Red China threatens invasion of Nationalist islands in Formosa strait.

THE NAVY previously had reported [illegible] of additional aircraft carriers and surface ships to strengthen the U. S. 7th fleet in the area.

Jim Thomas, La Grande radioman, dug deeply into Formosan situation for his thesis at the University of Oregon. Turn to page 20 (features pullout) for a condensation of his analysis.

The Pentagon issued this statement:

"IN RESPONSE to inquiries [illegible] movement of aircraft, the department of defense [illegible] that the United States air force tactical air command is deploying a squadron of jet fighters and some [illegible] to the Far East to supplement air [illegible] area.

"[illegible] transport service [illegible] TAC with logistic support."

The [illegible] buildup of U. S. forces in Formosan waters was [illegible] response to the mounting concern over the Quemoy invasion threat.

TUESDAY'S TIDES
High 3:34 a.m., 6.6 feet
Low 9:40 a.m., 0.9 feet
High 3:46 p.m., 7.4 feet
Low 10:20 p.m., 0.4 feet

Astorian Evening Budget

Vol 84, No 208 Astoria, Oregon, Monday, September 1, 1958 PRICE 7c

WEATHER FORECAST
Continued fair Tuesday with a high of 63 degrees. Low tonight 47 degrees.

Regatta Sets Record; Thousands Take Part

10,000 See Regatta Parade

A crowd estimated at 10,000 persons watched the Regatta land parade Saturday and the float shown took top prize as sweepstakes winner. The parade had 70 individual units and took two hours to pass any given point. Pictured above on the big prize-winning float are Mrs. Anne Shephard, right, and Patrficia Whitten. Don Garris was chairman of the parade. Bob Blackburn, Portland, was master of ceremonies both for the parade and for the band show Saturday night. The official police estimate on the crowd size of 10,000 persons is backed up by the hundreds of viewers shown on the streets in the picture. (A-B Photo)

Fleet Blessed at Ceremony

T[illegible] "bl[illegible] of the fleet" ceremony was one of the top [illegible] features of [illegible] Fish Festival and Regatta. At right is the drag boat Marian F., which represented the fleet for the ritual, conducted from the stand in re[illegible] ground is the Regatta flagship King and Winge. At mike is Harry Swanson of the governor's office, one of several platform guests.

Johnson Wins Fish Boat Race

[illegible] mony and gillnet boat races, attracted a crowd of upwards of 1500 to the east end mooring basin Sunday under a warm sun.

The Astoria Regata's marine events were run off under perfect conditions, weather wise, as a bright sun substituted itself for the showers and fog that the weather man had forecast.

John Johnson, young, blonde Altoona gillnetter, sped swiftly over a 10-mile course at full throttle to capture first place in the race for gillnet craft of unlimited horsepower.

Winner Bumps Head

Johnson won the Astorian-Budget trophy—presented to him by 1957 champion Joe Tarabochia—and $400 in cash.

Johnson was so excited at capturing the trophy that he ran his boat too hard against the float in docking it after the race. He fell and banged his head hard, requiring bandaging, but soon recovered and was able to accept the prize without difficulty.

No official time was kept as Johnson's red gillnetter tore four times around the course just off the Uppertown waterfront in a fog of spray, outdistancing his closest competitor by a full quarter of a lap.

Boldt Wins Race

The water was smooth, with only a light northwester blowing and no obstacle slowed Johnson's boat on its fast jaunt over the 10-mile distance.

Johnson's boat built by Columbia Boatbuilding company, was driven by a 215 horsepower Ford Interceptor engine.

Nick Marincovich, Astoria, won second prize of $300, followed by Nick Begleries, Clifton, who won $100 cash and $100 worth of net and in fourth place came Alvi Buhta, Svensen who won $75 ceash 40 gallons of gasoline and $25 i surance.

Chris Bold, Brookfield, Wash won the race for boats of 135 less horsepower over a five-m course. Boldt's boat, also a Colu bia Boatbuilding company rod and powered by a 135 horsepo Chrysler Crown engine, broght owner a first prize of $200ca

Blessing Ritual Held

Other prize winners in th e were Lindel Wegdahl, Puris-lnnd, second. $150; Joe Tarchia Sr. Astoria, third. $100 a Ross Lindstrom's boat, driven barry Telen of Astoria, fourth, [illegible]

The flet blessing cereme was conducted by the Rev. CarGross of the Grace Episcopal chun. The drag boat Marian F., owid and operated by Arthur Paquet represented the local fishing feet for the ritual

Among citizens introduced pre

(Continued on Page Two)

(Continued from page One)

ceding the ceremony by Master of Ceremonies Robert L. Hansen were J. H. Cellars of Columbia River Salmon and Tuna Packers association; A. N. Day, Oregon fisheries director Harry Swanson, representing Gov. Bob Holmes who was called away on urgent state business. Richard Pressley of Washington Department of Fisheries; Harold Johnson, Oregon Fish Commission chairman; Samuel J. Hutchinson, regional director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Palmer Olson, Seattle representing the National Fisheries Institute, who made a short talk.

Marine Parade Held

Donald Riswick was general chairman in charge of the marine events.

Barbara Haglund sang the song "Bless This Fleet" following the ceremony, accompanied by P. K. Hutchinson, who wrote the words for the song.

Swanson, on behalf of Governor Holmes, formally presented the Oregon colors to the Astoria Royal Chinooks drum and bugle corps.

Opening event of the marine program Sunday was a marine parade from the Port terminals to the east end mooring basin, led by the Regatta flagship King and Winge, and including representative boats of the fishing fleet.

A special, unscheduled feature of the Sunday morning marine program was an air-sea rescue [illegible]onstration by U. S. Air Force helicopter, which hovered over the Columbia and hoisted a man in a life jacket who previously had been dropped into the water.

The Portland Water Ski club, led by Bill Haynes, former [illegible] put on various demonstrations of skill during the day.

Fair Weather Helps Events For Weekend

A record-shattering combined 38th annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Oregon Fish Festival was history today, but not before thousands of Lower Columbians participated in a fast moving series of weekend activities.

Official Regatta estimates indicate more than 9000 persons attended Regatta events other than the parade. Police estimates listed parade attendance at 10,000 persons. The total figure far exceeds total attendance figures of previous Regattas in the post-war era, according to Regatta records.

Not only did Regatta total attendance exceed previous marks but individual events topped previous highs in almost all cases.

Pattern Set Early

Attendance records were shattered the first night when 2000 persons viewed the coronation Friday night 850 attended the Regatta Review, sponsored by the Jay-C-Ettes and the Beta Sigma Phi, 1500 watched the band show Saturday night and 700 were on hand for the Folk Dance Jamboree Sunday night.

More than 3000 were fed at the Seafoods barbecue Sunday afternoon and another 1000 dined on foreign food dishes at the International Smorgasette Sunday night. Attendance at marine events on Saturday and Sunday totaled approximately 1000 persons.

Financially, Regatta officials said it was too early to tell how the celebration came out. They pointed to the high cost of preparing and maintaining the Regatta pavilion for the long celebration.

Ron Graves, Regatta treasurer, said total gate receipts exceeded by more than $1000 those of previous celebrations.

70 Parade Units

Seventy units participated in the Regatta land parade which started at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Winners in the various divisions were announced Saturday night at the Awards Pageant held at Pier 3.

An innovation this year was the Queen's float which carried the Queen and her six princesses down Commercial street to the reviewing stand. Admiral (Major-General) McCarty, and Queen Gayle Ross took the places of honor on the reviewing stand.

Gov. R. D. Holmes came down the parade route and joined the reviewing stand crowd. Also in the parade was Robert Y. Thornton, attorney general of Oregon. Bob Blackburn, Portland radio broadcaster, was announcer for the parade and master-of-ceremonies at the awards pageant.

Astoria high school band and the Royal Chinooks drum and bugle corps captured the fancy of judges to win first place in their divisions.

Other winners in the various parade divisions included:

Drill Marching — Ark Assembly, Rainbow Girls, Seattle, first; Astoria high school Fisherettes, second; Eagles drill team, Portland, third.

Mounted Units—4-H Teen Trotters, first: Clatsop County Wranglers, second; Seahorse Arabian Ranch, third.

Pipe Bands — Portland Scottish Pipe Band, first; Eugene Highlanders, second; Clam McLeay, third.

Military Marching units—Naselle Air Force [illegible] Civil Air Patrol Cadets, Astoria, second.

Bands — Astoria high school band, first, and Tigard high school band second.

Display Marching—Co. L. Oregon National Guard, Astoria, first; Daughters of Norway, second, and Royal Rosarians, third.

Musical Groups — [illegible] Royal Chinooks [illegible] VFW drum and bugle corps [illegible]nd, [illegible]

[illegible] judges as [illegible] Ben M[illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] Olympia Eagle Drum and bugle corps.

PT & T Wins

Sweepstakes winner for the parade was the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company float, Ma Bell, two Astorians, Mrs. [illegible] Shephard and Patricia Whitten, depicted water skiers on the colorful float.

Don Garris, parade chairman, said many of the units appearing in the parade [illegible] [illegible] Scottish Pipe band [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and

(Continued on Page Two)

Regatta Sets New Record

(Continued from Page One)

Bugle corps, Tacoma; CRPA, Longview-Kelso Boy Scouts, Abrahamson company. Bill Wilson was in charge of the Awards Pageant which presented honors won in the parade.

Sunday's daytime highlight was the huge Seafoods barbecue which attracted 3000 persons. In the first 45 minutes after the serving line began to move Lions club workers, under the direction of Harold Jacob, chairman, served more than 1500 individual pieces of Pacific Ocean perch and rex sole. Shrimp cocktail, cole slaw, sliced tomatoes, potato chips, coffee and milk comprised the remainder of the menu.

Events Success

Later in the day the 1000 persons dined at the International Smorgasette. The snack table ran from the front of the pier to the auditorium doorway, and was laden with foreign food dishes.

Food was donated by 140 individual cooks, according to Anne Strachan, chairman. Colorful displays and arrangements were also featured. Regatta officials termed the "smorgasette, a first venture this year, as an outstanding success. They said it had won its place as a regular Regatta feature.

Another new Regatta feature, quarter midget racing, also won its spurs during the celebration. A crowd estimated at more than 500 persons watched a series of races following the parade.

Astorian Wins

One Astorian, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barr, participated in the races and walked off with a cup. Barr was chairman of the races. Midgets participating in the race were from Portland and Longview.

Regatta officials hope to sponsor a series of races here next year.

Program feature Sunday night at the Regatta pavilion was the Folk Dancing jamboree and the appearance of the Norwegian choruses from Tacoma, Wash. The combined choruses concluded the program with the stirring Battle Hymn of the Republic.

Folk dancers from Portland and Salem performed a whole series of intricate dances. They all wore colorful costumes from a variety of foreign lands. Foreign costumes represented included Bavarian, Polish, Mexican, Swedish, Basque, Austrian and Russian.

Dancing Liked

The first Regatta Square Dance Jamboree was also termed a success by officials. They said that more than 250 dancers crowded the Armory floor for the event, plus 200 viewers in the balcony of the Armory.

The dance was sponsored by the Sunset Area Council. Charles Ordway was in charge of arrangements. Dancers came from all over Oregon and callers from Oregon, Washington and California.

All Regatta activities slated for Monday were nixed by association president Tony Naimo, and the board of directors due to threatening weather. Originally the board had planned to conclude the festival with a parade and other events at the Warrenton mooring basin.

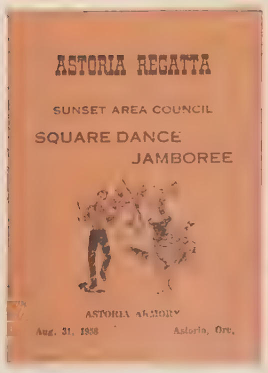
[illegible] versaries.

Square Dancers Had a Ball

Square dancers from all over Oregon and Washington participated in the first annual Square Dance Jamboree held in the armory as part of the 38th annual Astoria Regatta. Approximately 250 dancers took part in the event which ran from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Spectators as well as dancers jammed the armory for the day. Dancing was directed by the Sunset Area council. (A-B Photo)

Successful Barbecue Features Regatta

More than 3000 hungry Lower Columbians lunched on Pacific Ocean perch at the Regatta pavilion Sunday afternoon. Fish was prepared by the Astoria Lions club members, some of whom are pictured above. The fish was prepared over open pits in front of Pier 3. Dr. E. W. Harvey, director of the Oregon Fish Festival, said the barbecue was the most successful of the three conducted since the start of the fish festival. Lions club workers took special cooking lessons from Dr. Harvey to prepare for the project.



ASTORIA REGATTA

SUNSET AREA COUNCIL

SQUARE DANCE
JAMBOREE

ASTORIA ARMORY

Aug. 31, 1958 Astoria, Ore.

Admiral Is Called

International tension in the Formosan area robbed the Astoria Regatta of its admiral Sunday as Admiral (Major General) Chester McCarty doffed his navy garb and donned his Air Force blue [illegible] join his command headquarters.

Units of the 12th US Air [illegible] which General McCarty commands, have been sent to the Formosan area and the general was ordered back to his post at Waco, Tex., to direct these activities. Shortly before leaving Major A. G. Thompson, public information officer for the 12th Air Force, issued the following statment on behalf of the general:

"I am sorry to tell you that General McCarty has had to r[illegible] [illegible] command a day soon[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]pected [illegible] to extend to the people of [illegible] the cordial [illegible] Carty and himself for your generous hospitality and kindness. He said he would particularly like to thank President Tony Naimo and all his officers and associates of the Regatta Association, and to commend them for having done an outstanding jo. He also said he wished to commend the many civic groups and other individuals who have contributed so much to the outstanding success of the Regatta and Fish Festival. He said it has been a great pleasure to associate with Queen Gayle and lovely princesses, and that it was with dep rgret that he is saying goodbye to you in this manner.

I would like to add my own thanks for the many kindnesses extended by the people of Astoria, and my congratulations on a well organized and outstanding Regatta. I hope I may be able to come again next year."

Astoria's Fish Dishes Win High Praise

INTERNATIONAL IN FLAVOR was cooking demonstration given by fishermen's wives during Astoria Fish Festival and Regatta, Friday morning, from left: Mrs. Henry Parson prepared sturgeon balls with crab sauce; Mrs. John McCoy of Olney Scotch baked finnan haddie with oat cakes; Mrs. A. H. Lofgren gave her famous specialty, Swedish cold salmon; Mrs. Clifford Olson of Walluski her Danish poached fillets of sole; Mrs. Graham Sheets of Olney, Dutch clam souffle. Mrs. Veikko Romppanen was general chairman.

THEY KNOW THEIR FISH dishes also. This was committee that tended entries in fish dish contest. Discussing fish entrees they include, from left: Mrs. Al Mather, Mrs. Jalmer Johnson, Mrs. Rudy Louvold, chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Berg, Mrs. Trygve Tetli, Mrs. George Moskovita, Mrs. Joe Nichols. Recipes were included in fish entries. This also included fish appetizers, soups, salads. Sweepstakes winner was Miss Suzanne Englund for her Pacific Coast chowder, among recipes in Mary Cullen column today, Pg. 3.

Square Dancers Had a Ball

Square dancers from all over Oregon and Washington participated in the first annual Square Dance jamboree held in the armory as part of the 38th annual Astoria Regatta. Approximately 250 dancers took part in the event which ran from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Spectators as well as dancers jammed the armory for the day. Dancing was directed by the Sunset Area council. (A-B Photo)

Successful Barbecue Features Regatta

More than 3000 hungry Lower Columbians lunched on Pacific Ocean perch at the Regatta pavilion Sunday afternoon. Fish was prepared by the Astoria Lions club members, some of whom are pictured aove. The fish was prepared over open pits in front of Pier 3. Dr. E. W. Harvey, director of the Oregon Fish Festival, said the barbecue was the most successful of the three conducted since the start of the fish festival. Lions club workers took special cooking lessons from Dr. Harvey to prepare for the project.

PROGRAM

M. C.—Howard Jollie

1. Side Track . . . . John Braillier
2. Tulsa Square Walt 'Pappy' Packer

Happy Polka

Why Ask for the Moon

3. Thirty Thirty . . . . Bill Dwyer
4. Where the Red, Red Roses Grow Leon Graves

Tennessee Two-Step

Ged About

5. Don't Stop [illegible]
6. Take Me Back to Colorado [illegible]

Love Me?

Fantasy

7. Gents Half Sashay . . . Ken Barnett
8. Melody D'Amour Art Shoemaker

Festival Bounce

Dance With Me

9. Off Guard . . . . Bob Sessions
10. Green Light . . . . Boyd Rafferty

INTERMISSION

PROGRAM

M. C.—Bill West

11. Ball and Chain Square Bud Deputy
12. New Lady of Spain . Len Gorton

Champagne Time

Tammy

13. Whatayouknow . . Les Co
14. Blue Eyes . Jim Shindle

Whistlin' & A'Walkin'

Waltz Rhapsody

15. Klip Klop [illegible]
16. Hula Love [illegible]

Fancy Pants

Blue Pacific

17. Yak Yak [illegible]
18. Ramblin' Rose . . 'Dotty' [illegible]

Bubbles in the Wine

Hot Lips

19. Sudden Stop Archie W[illegible]
20. Little Red Wagon [illegible]

which General McCarty commands, have been sent to the Formosan area and the general was ordered back to his post at Waco Tex., to direct these activities. Shortly before leaving Major A G Thompson, public information officer for the 12th Air Force, issued the following statment on behalf of the general:

"I am sorry to tell you that General McCarty had to return to his command a day sooner than he expected.

General McCarty has asked me to extend to the people of Astoria the cordial thanks of Mrs McCarty and himself for your generous hospitality and kindness He said he would particularly like to thank President Tony Naimo and all his officers and associates of the Regatta Association, and to commend them for having done an outstanding jo He also said he wished to commend the many civic groups and other individuals who have contributed so much to the outstanding success of the Regatta and Fish Festival. He said it has been a great pleasure to associate with Queen Gayle and lovely princesses, and that it was with dep rgret that he is [illegible] goodbye to you in this manner

I would like to add my own thanks for the many kindnesses extended by the people of Astoria, and my congratulations on a well organized and outstanding Regatta. I hope I may be able to come again next year."

Astoria's Fish Dishes Win High Praise

INTERNATIONAL IN FLAVOR was cooking demonstration given by fishermen's wives during Astoria Fish Festival and Regatta. Friday morning, from left: Mrs. Henry Parson prepared sturgeon balls with crab sauce; Mrs. John McCoy of Olney Scotch baked finnan haddie with oat cakes; Mrs. A. H. Lofgren gave her famous specialty, Swedish cold salmon; Mrs. Clifford Olson of Walluski her Danish poached fillets of sole; Mrs. Graham Sheets of Olney, Dutch clam souffle. Mrs. Velkko Romppanen was general chairman.

THEY KNOW THEIR FISH dishes also. This was committee that tended entries in fish dish contest. Discussing fish entrees they include, from left: Mrs. Al Mather, Mrs. Jalmer Johnson, Mrs. Rudy Louvold, chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Berg, Mrs. Trygve Teth, Mrs. George Moskovita, Mrs. Joe Nichols. Recipes were included in fish entries. This also included fish appetizers, soups, salads. Sweepstakes winner was Miss Suzanne Englund for her Pacific Coast chowder, among recipes in Mary Cullen column today, Pg. 3.

Chinooks in New Garb

Brand new uniforms were on display by the Royal Chinoks Drum and Bugle corps in the Astoria Regatta parade Saturday. The Chinooks, led by Leo Soucie, won a first place in their division during the parade. They were workhorses of the Regatta and appeared at almost every event during the long five day celebration. The color motif carried on in the uniforms is green and white.

GRAPES OF WRATH — Despite the bombardment of Nationalist China's offshore [illegible]y mainland Com[illegible] defiance of the Reds [illegible] Here, on Kinmen [illegible], is seen a Nationalist balloon device looking like bunches of huge grapes. It [illegible] a Nationalist flag and will carry containers of anti-Communist leaflets and slogans to be released over the mainland.

Colorful Floats Seen

A winner in its division was the Columbia River Packers Association float in the Regatta parade Saturday. The big float was prepared by company workers during Regatta week and was regarded as an outstanding one by parade viewers. Many floats were entered in the parade. Winner of the Sweepstakes award was a float prepared by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. It was also constructed in the community. (A-B Photo)

Admiral (General) Gets Fish

Admiral (Major-General) Chester McCarty didn't escape the eye of the Astoria Clowns during the Regatta parade Saturday. As they swooped down on the reviewing stand they presented him with a sturgeon impaled on a wooden board. The Admiral managed to smile bravely before the clowns moved on for more antics along the parade route. The clowns performed throughout the parade and moved up and down the parade line of march. (A-B Photo)

Viewers Startled

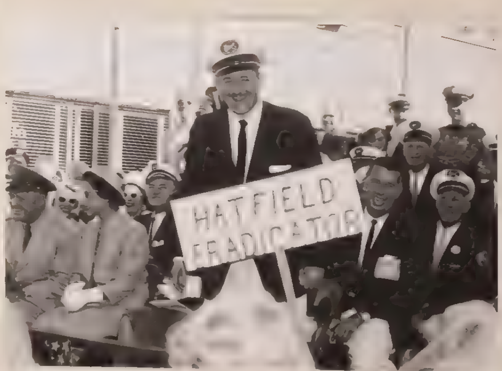
Parade watchers may have been startled by this sight, but they shouldn't have been since it was merely the antics of the Astoria Fire department entry in the Regatta parade. The falling object is no man, just a dummy. The firemen, dressed in red flannels, made an effort to catch the dummy in a net after a cohort dropped it from an upper story of the J. J. Astor hotel. (A-B Photo)

Funsters Add Humor

Funsters, in the form of the Astoria Clowns, injected a note of humor during the Grand Regatta parade Saturday afternoon. As they passed the reviewing stand they suddenly made a raid on the guests and deposited a 'Hatfield Eradicator' on the lap of Oregon's [illegible] Holmes. Gov. Holmes faces Mark [illegible] in the November election. The good humored incident drew smiles from the hundreds jammed around the reviewing stand. (A-B Photo)

Colorful Serving Girls

Colorful costumes were commonplace at the International Smorgasette and Folk Dancing Jamboree held at the Regatta Pavilion at Pier 3 during the final night's activities. Here are some of the serving girls who aided Anne Strachan, Smorgasette chairman, and her helpers during the big feed. The costumes worn by the girls were prepared by Adelaine Sather and Nellie Sather. The Smorgasette was crowded and said, 'outstanding. (A-B Photo)



Champion Gillnet Racer

John Johnson, Altoona, is shown here with the gillnet boat in which he won the 1958 Columbia river gillnet boat unlimited racing title during the recent Regatta. Johnson's speedy red boat was driven by an Interceptor engine. The race was held Sunday. (A-B Photo)

Outboards Post Fast Times During Regatta Contests

Outboard racing craft put on some fast times and exciting races for the Regatta Sunday.

The first race was held on a course outside the East End mooring basin, but the wind rose and choppy water made things hazardous for drivers, so other races were moved inside the basin

The results:

Class A utility boats—Tim Dixon Tillamook, first; Ronald Wyss, Tillamook, second; Chris Church, Tillamook, third. Dixon and Wyss tied in points, and decided the winner by a coin flip

Class B—Willard Roads, Longview, first; Eldon Roberts Camp Hanford, Wash., second; Lou Engsberg Tillamook, third

Runabouts, 36 cubic inches and over—Daniel Hanna, Portland, first; John Schenck, Astoria, second, David Brooks, Astoria, third Runabouts, 36 cubic inches and under—Dick Perkins, Brownsmead, first, Ronald Jurvakainen, Astoria, second; Larry Schaub, Astoria, third.

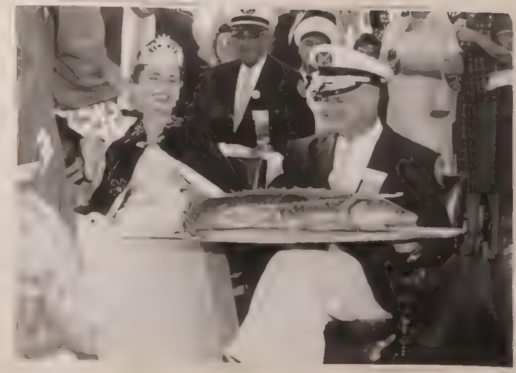
Runabouts, free for all—Daniel Hanna, Portland, first; Otto Tover, Longview, second; John Schenck Astoria, third

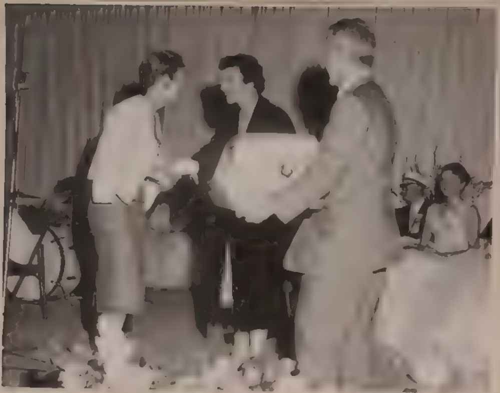


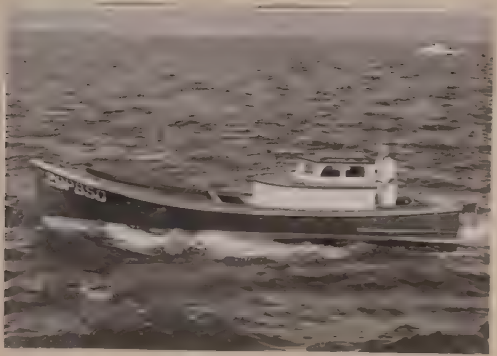
HOTEL
BUMBLE BEE
SEAFOOD

ASTORIA

BUS

MEAT
SHINE

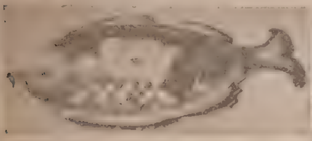




THE OREGONIAN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1958 4M 3

Astoria Contest Produces Top Sea Food Dishes

Pacific shrimp were used in the dressing for lemon cream cheese salad in individual molds. Salad took first place in salad division of Savory Sea Foods Search contest in Astoria last Friday. It was entry of Mrs. Larry Sayder, Astoria. Ripe olives added to attractiveness.



K[illegible]ppered sturgeon, a product of George Fulton, Astoria, won second place in men's division. In opinion of judges, it had ex[illegible]-fine flavor, was moist, had firm, tender texture.

Nineteen-year-old Suzanne Englund took grand sweepstake honors for Pacific Coast Chowder.

By NANCY MORRIS
[illegible] Editor, The Oregonian

[illegible] taste-testing sea-[illegible] from 9 in the morning [illegible] til 3 in the afternoon. That was the pleasure of affable Mrs. Robert D. Holmes, [illegible] the governor, food con[illegible] John Nieder and this [illegible] editor last Friday when [illegible] judged the Savory Sea-[illegible] contest in Astoria.

[illegible]ally, it was an expe[illegible] of us would have [illegible] though [illegible] had an appetite for a sea[illegible] dinner that evening. A[illegible] exception the [illegible] expertly prepared, [illegible] seasoned and beau[illegible]ted. Many were [illegible] new recipes, or [illegible]

Astoria Entries Predominate

[illegible] sored by the [illegible] part of the A[illegible] gatta, [illegible] from [illegible] r Astoria. [illegible]

[illegible]-old Suzanne E[illegible] Pacific coast chowder was grand sweepstake winner and took first place in the chowders and soups division. It's a hearty soup, perfect as Mrs. Holmes commented, to serve for midnight supper New Year's Eve. Here is Miss Englund's recipe as well as the recipes of the first place winners in the other five divisions.

PACIFIC COAST CHOWDER

3 pounds white fish
3 cups water
1 carrot, sliced crosswise
2 medium onions, sliced
1 clove garlic, crushed
½ cup olive oil
1 bay leaf
2 large tomatoes, peeled and quartered
2 green onions, sliced
2 cups fish stock
1 can minced clams
1 can shrimp
Salt and pepper
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup white wine, if desired

Cook fish in water until tender. Remove bones and skin and cut fish into squares. Strain stock and reserve. Saute carrot, onions, and garlic in olive oil until golden brown. Add fish, bay leaf, tomatoes, green onions and stock. Simmer 20 minutes. Add clams and shrimp. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Add wine, if desired. Serves eight generously.

Shrimp-filled cream puffs are delicious appetizers, a prize winner for Mrs. Paul Tolonen.

SHRIMP-FILLED CREAM PUFFS

Shrimp Filling:

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1 cup top milk
¼ cup white table wine
Salt and pepper
½ cup finely chopped celery
2 cans cooked shrimp

Melt butter and stir in flour. Add milk and wine. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add remaining ingredients and serve hot in little cream puff shells.

Little Cream Puffs:

½ cup water
¼ cup butter
½ cup flour
2 eggs

Boil water in saucepan, add butter and stir until melted. Add flour all at once and stir vigorously until mixture forms a ball. Cool slightly and add eggs one at a time, beating until smooth. Drop on greased baking sheet or shape into finger width strips about 1½ inches long. Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees, then lower temperature to 350 degrees and bake about 10 minutes longer. Cool and fill with above mixture.

A pretty salad as well as delicious tasting was Mrs. Larry Snyder's Lemon Cream Cheese Salad with Pacific Shrimp Dressing.

LEMON CHEESE SALAD WITH SHRIMP DRESSING

1 cup hot water
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
4 ounces cream cheese
½ cup sliced celery
½ cup pitted ripe olives, sliced
½ cup whipping cream
Crisp greens
Shrimp dressing

Pour hot water over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool until mixture is syrupy. Soften cream cheese with cream, then beat into gelatin mixture. Stir in celery and olives. Whip cream until thick, but not stiff, and fold into cheese mixture. Spoon into 6 individual molds or a 1 quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens and serve with shrimp dressing. Makes six servings.

PACIFIC SHRIMP DRESSING

½ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento
¾ cup chopped Pacific shrimp

Combine salad dressing, lemon juice, onion, pimiento and Pacific shrimp. Stir until well blended.

Mrs. Morris Berg's Norwegian sturgeon balls were light in texture, delicately seasoned with mace.

Norwegian Sturgeon Balls

3 pounds sturgeon, ground fine
2½ cups milk
1½ tablespoons potato flour
2 eggs
½ teaspoon mace

Add milk a little at a time to ground sturgeon, alternately with potato flour and eggs, mashing and mixing with a wooden potato masher. Beat until well blended. Add salt and mace. Beat until of elastic consistency. Form into balls and drop into boiling salted water. Simmer for about 25 minutes. Serve with medium white sauce, using a little of fish broth and cream instead of all milk.

Salt salmon pickled to perfection was the product of Chris Thompson, first place winner in the men's division.

PICKLED SALT SALMON

1 4-pound piece salt salmon
2 cups vi[illegible]
1 cup water
½ cup white sugar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
3 bay leaves, crushed
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 tablespoon mustard seed
Sliced [illegible]

Soak salt salmon in fresh

Continued on Page 4, Column 5.

VOL. LVII, NO. 150 Section 1 PORTLAND, OR., TUESDAY, SEPT. 2, 58

Throngs View Astoria Regatta

CROWD lines [illegible] Water Ski club performers go through maneuvers. [illegible] fishboat races, marine parade and other events of annu[illegible] regatta and to stuff [illegible] at fish barbecue.

A Successful Festival

The annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival seems to have been a success this year. The crowds at most of the events were excellent, the entertainment was good, the weather was generally fine after a damp start, and the affair was handled well. Particularly complimentary remarks [illegible] made on handling of the big parade where [illegible] and [illegible] which have often marred past parades were lacking.

A revival of interest in the Regatta seemer apparent this year which is a good augury for future success. Those who handled this year's annual Fish Festival and Regatta are entitled to the community's commendation and thanks.

38TH ANNUAL

Astoria Regatta

3RD ANNUAL

Fish Festival

AUGUST 28---SEPTEMBER 1
Pier 3, Port Docks, Astoria, Oregon

SOUVENIR PROGRAM — 25 cents

The artist's view here of the long-planned Trans-Columbia river bridge between Astoria and Megler, Wash., shows the main channel crossing on the Astoria side which will carry Highway 101 traffic between Oregon and Washington 196 feet above ocean vessel traffic. This main span of the proposed 4.3 mile causeway will provide a horizontal clearance of 1070 feet between piers.

AIN · CHANNEL · CROSSING

Regatta Planners Elect New Slate, Plan '59 Event

[illegible]

JEAN HALLAUX

Deficit First

First order of business is making up the deficit, Hallaux said, and he set a meeting for Thurs- [illegible]

The association wound-up with a loss of $3300 34 for the celebration, according to the final accounting submitted by Ron Graves, association treasurer However, with assets of $1053 the amount the association is in the red at the present time is $1337.71, according to Graves.

More than $10 000 has been paid out in bills to date, according to Naimo, and receipts for the 1958 Regatta totaled $9,149 46.

Cash Totaled

Cash on hand at the beginning [illegible] hand on $2390 71 in outstanding debts to leave the balance of $1337.71 to be made up.

[illegible]

One Opening

Another vacancy exists on the board, and it will be filled at the [illegible] 5 meeting, Hallaux said. The [illegible] also seated Mrs. Wil- [illegible]

He urged anyone with suggestions for raising funds to make up the deficit to call him or any member of the board of directors

---

Fish Festival Shows Profit

Dr. E. W. Harvey, who has directed the annual Oregon Fish Festival in connection with the Astoria Regatta for the past three years, has submitted data to show that the Fish Festival does not share in the financial red-ink condition of the Regatta proper.

Dr Harvey reports that the first Fish Festival in 1956 had income of $1910 and expenses of $2080 for a loss of $170, but that in the two succeeding years it has made a substantial profit.

In 1957 the second Fish Festival cost $1875 and produced $2476 revenue for a profit of $601. In 1958 the third Fish Festival did still better, costing $1539 and producing $2531 for a profit of $992.

Thus in three years the Fish Festival has produced a net profit of $1423 to go into the Regatta revenues.

Regardless of the future of the regatta, it appears that the Fish Festival has justified its continued existence.

Not only does it make money, but it has a fine promotional value for the fishing industry. It calls public attention to the high quality of our seafood, its low cost, and its appetizing qualities when properly prepared.

Open Forum

FIGURES CHALLENGED

To the Editor:

Figures submitted to the Astorian-Budget by Dr. E. W. Harvey who has directed the Oregon Festival under the auspices of the Astoria Regatta association for the past three years are incomplete and misleading.

First, the Oregon Fish Festival is not now, nor was it ever intended to be a separate celebration It was started as a salute to Astoria's extensive fishing industry and as an effort to broaden the base of the community's annual summer festival It has been, and should continue to be, an integral part of the summer celebration However, it cannot be considered alone in the profit and loss column any more than any other event sponsored by the association

Second, the figures reported in an Astorian-Budget editorial which appeared March 24 do not jibe with the official audited books of the association covering the three-year period during which the event has been a part of the Regatta. These books are open for public inspection at any time.

The figures quoted did not take into consideration some vital expenses — costs which must be shared by all phases of the celebration. The books indicate the Oregon Fish Festival events cost more than they returned to the association, not in one but in each of the three years in question

Without the Regatta association as a sponsoring body the fish festival would not have had a showplace. Hence, a proportionate cost of pavilion expenses, administration., insurance, decoration, hired labor, pavalion rental and preparation of the site for the celebration must be shared by each phase of the celebration The Fish Festival phase created the need for enlargement of housing facilities and increased the financial needs of the association

Giving full credit to the Fish Festival for monies brought into the Regatta treasury by the event and charging one-third of the above mentioned portion of the expenses the official figures indicate:

In 1956 income for the Fish Festival phase amounted to $2438 54 Expenses totaled $3,390.93 for a net loss of $952 39.

In 1957 the income for the Fish Festival phase of the Regatta was $2,192.35. Expenses were $3,326.98 for a net loss of $1134 63.

In 1958 the figures show an income for the Fish Festival of $2974.20. Expenses totaled $5,804.69 for a net loss of $2630.49

For the three-year period the net loss directly attributable to the Fish Festival phase is $4,884.16.

Despite these figures memers of the board of directors of the Regatta association are wholehearted in their support for the Fish Festival and will continue it as part of the total summer celebration The board recognizes that the Fish Festival is not a revenue producing event. However, they believe it can be operated within anticipated income.

Attendance figures for Regatta events for the past three years, and these, too, are open for public inspection, indicate that specific Fish Festival events, other than the free fish feed, have not attracted wide general public support. Traditional Regatta events, such as the coronation of the Queen and the parade, and many others such new events as the band show, annually attract hundreds of persons.

Industry support for the Fish Festival has also declined during the three-year period Booth sales in 1956 brought in a total of $948 55, in 1957, $592, and in 1958 $330.74.

JEAN HALLAUX

[illegible]

---

55 Favor Regatta: 41 Against It

Ninety six people filled out questionnaires giving their opinion on the future of the Astoria Regatta and 55 of them favored retention of the festival with 41 urging its [illegible]

Hallaux said the association directors met Thursday night to study the questionnaires, but delayed analysis of them until a later meeting, due to light attendance.

A quick study indicated some good suggestions were made for improvement of the festival, Hallaux said.

Of the 41 people who opposed retention of the Regatta [illegible] they favored [illegible] kind of annual c[illegible]

In addition to the [illegible] questionnaires, the association received nine letters containing suggestions for continuing and improving the Regatta and Fish Festival

---

Astoria Regatta Slates New Bid To Raise Funds

[illegible]

Sees Tragedy

[illegible]

Appeal for Funds

The Astoria Regatta association, faced with a $1300 deficit from last year's and other past festivals, has set up a $6000 budget for this year's operation and plans to go to the citizens of Astoria with an appeal for financial help.

This is something the Regatta has tried to avoid in the past, but this year it appears necessary if the Regatta is to survive this Centennial year.

This certainly would be a poor year to abandon it, for the Regatta is an old and famous festival and one of our biggest potential attractions for Centennial year visitors.

The Regatta association has trimmed its costs drastically to reduce the burden it must ask the community to help share.

Chairman Jean Hallaux says it cost $14,000 to put on the 1958 Regatta This year the budget has been slashed to $6000 more than a 50 per cent reduction He and his committee believe that on this limited amount it still will be possible to conduct a fine Regatta that will be a credit to Astoria and a good lure for Centennial year guests.

It surely would be poor advertising for Astoria to give up the Regatta one of Oregon's oldest and most famous institutions—in Oregon's 100th year.

Regatta To Name Five For Court

The first of five princesses to be chosen from throughout Clatsop county for the Centennial royal court of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta will be named Saturday night at Seaside high school.

Despite incompleted plans for the annual summer water festival, association members will name the five princesses in a series of dances in the home communities of the girls before the end of May. Each of the princesses will be chosen by the student body of the high school she attends.

Court Reduced

A five-princess court is a reduction from the seven member court of last year Jean Hallaux board president pointed out, and the change was made in the interest of economy and necessity

He pointed out costs are high for outfitting each princess and the association is pressed for funds this year.

Princesses will be chosen from each of the Clatsop county high schools, with the exception of Jewell high school. No student at Jewell professed an interest in participating as a member of the court this year.

Hallaux said arrangements for the five dances in the county are being made by Gordon Hutchens, Mrs. William Leahy and Mrs. Harry Duff, all members of the court committee Following Saturday's dates are Star of Sea high school May 19 Warrenton high May 22 Knappa high May 26 and Astoria high May 29

Another departure from tradition this year is that only one princess is being chosen from Astoria high school

Second Countywide

This is the second year in a row that princesses from throughout the county have been chosen as members of the Regatta court Last year's queen was Gayle Ross a 1958 graduate of Astoria high school

Hallaux said the royal court will be used in connection with the countywide Centennial celebration and participate in many of these events throughout the summer He said the court would make more "at home" appearances and few, if any out-of-town trips

The dance will be held in the Seaside high school cafetorium, starting at 8 p m

A delegation of the members of the Regatta association will be on hand to announce the name of the girl chosen princess Expected to attend as representatives of the association are Mr and Mrs Hallaux, Mr and Mrs Hutchens, Mr and Mrs Leahy and Mr and Mrs John H Nelson

Dates for the Regatta are August 27, 28, 29 and 30

Funds Bid Slated by Regatta

(Continued from Page One)

the community supports it in this fund campaign Hallaux said

He also said [illegible] discontinuance of the Regatta-Fish Festival would lead [illegible] the reputation of the community in the eyes of other cities in the state

The entire celebration will be keyed to the Centennial theme and will be an old fashioned celebration he pointed out

Many changes have already been made in the format of the celebration and more will be made he emphasized

This year there will be no outside admiral chosen Hallaux said a plan is being evolved to make selection of the admiral an honorary title for a distinguished citizen of the community or county Tentative plans call for selection of this individual at a special funds raising dinner to be held a week prior to the Regatta itself

"In this way the community can salute a distinguished citizen who either through his job or his other activities has a record of achievement and made real contributions to the area," he said

Complete plans for this tentative event will be mapped at a later date.

Night Parade

Another change is switching of the daytime land parade to an early evening event The parade is tentatively scheduled for Saturday August 29, at 6 30 p m

The same switch also moves the traditional Kiddies parade from Friday evening to an early hour probably 9 a m, Saturday morning August 29

Also involved in the switch is the popular band show which this year will be held at the Armory immediately following the big Saturday evening land parade

Many popular events of the past Regatta-Fish festival celebrations will be retained, Hallaux said Among these are the free fish feed, the Savory Seafoods Search and cooking contest the International Sing-gaselle and marine events

Another possible event is a full day "old fashioned" picnic at Tapiola park This would include swimming races foot races and an open air band concert

"The emphasis in this tentative event would be in participating in activities rather being just a spectator" Hallaux pointed out The day would also be featured as a Centennial costume day Details of the feasibility of this type of program will be investigated this week at the regular Regatta association meeting

Names Sought

Each Regatta board member is also expected to bring the names of five volunteers who will aid in the funds campaign to the Thursday session Details of the funds drive will be outlined at this meeting

[illegible] of the Regatta-Fish Festival this year is to provide a Centennial summer of activity, Hallaux said. He pointed out that tentative plans also call for a Regatta golf tournament and bowling tournament.

Flowers for Princess

Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club first mate, and a member of the Regatta board of directors, pins a corsage on the first Princess t[illegible] be named for the court of the 39th annual summer water [illegible] Seaside union high school senior, was chosen from a field of nine candidates, for the honor. She was named by the student body and announced at a dance held Saturday n[illegible] at Seaside high. The second of five princesses will be named at a dance at Star of the Sea high school Tuesday night. (A-B Photo

Seaside Senior Is First Princess On Regatta Court

[illegible] gh school Friday [illegible] lance at the [illegible] Saturday evening [illegible]

Brenda Faris, Jode[illegible] Glenda Kaufman Cora[illegible] Helen Homme, Erica Surcott and [illegible]

[illegible] d by Gordon Hu[illegible] he board of direct[illegible] ta Mrs. Wilbu[illegible] also a member of the board [illegible] Miss Wilson with a co[illegible]

Joins Royal Family

Princess Betty Morris of the 1959 Regatta court is shown at the right as she received the news of her selection at the Star of the Sea school dance last night. At the extreme left is Barbara Schalk and in the middle Patty Reynolds. (A-B Photo)

Sister Of 1958 Princess Named To Regatta Court

Star of the Sea high school's [illegible] court is Betty Rosalie Morris 17[illegible] year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Morris, 20 Skyline Place, who was selected by student vote at a dance for that purpose Tuesday evening in the school gymnasium.

Jean Hallaux, president of the Regatta board introduced Gordon Hutchens, vice-president, who called forward the nine girls con[illegible] of the students' bal[illegible] bers present, Hallaux, Hutchens, Joe Tursi and John H. Nellor.

Presented Corsage

[illegible] mates with a corsage [illegible] William Leahy, Anchor club men[illegible]

Princess Betty, Astoria-born, has attended Star of the Sea school from the first grade to this her senior year. She is a "dark" blond with blue eyes and stands five feet seven. She was a prom princess in her sophomore year and prom queen this year, serving also as secretary of the student body this past year. She is a member of the Pep club, Thespians and [illegible] Ellen was a member [illegible]

Setting for the prince[illegible] tion in the gym[illegible] tice background [illegible]

Warrenton Next

[illegible] Duff and Mrs. Leahy are [illegible] gh school who was the fir[illegible] princess named at a dance at Sea[illegible] Saturday night.

The third of the five prin[illegible] chosen Friday night a[illegible] Warrenton high school. A dance [illegible]

Astoria Princess Chosen

MARY JANE KURATLI

AHS Candidate Completes Roster Of Regatta Court

By BRUCE WESCHE
A-B Correspondent

The 1959 Regatta court of princesses was completed Friday night, when Mary Jane Kuratli was chosen by student body vote to represent Astoria high school, at a [illegible] the upper hall of the [illegible] Legion club.

The brown-haired blue-eyed [illegible] of the Ruben Kuratlis, [illegible] six-and-a-half inches [illegible] was born in Portland 17 [illegible] October 28, 1941 and graduated from Capt. Robert Gray school here before entering Astoria high school where she has taken an active part in school activities throughout the four years.

Her freshman year she was a member of the nominating committee, Girls Athletic association Tri-Hi-Y and Latin club, continuing membership in the latter two organizations in her sophomore year when she joined the International Relations league and the school spirit and morale group.

In her junior year she was vice-president of Tri-Hi-Y, assistant business manager of the Astor Post newspaper, Junior prom princess, Girls State representative and member of the Math club, Quill and Scroll and Service club and worthy advisor of Fern assembly Order of Rainbow for Girls.

This year she served a[illegible] ness manager of the Astor Post, a member of the Service club, took part in the senior play, was a Sen[illegible] Ball princess, honored queen of Job's Daughters and a state of[illegible] of the assembly and a member of Forensic club.

Jean Hallaux, 1959 Regatt[illegible] ident introduced Gordon Hutchens, vice-president, who called the princess candidates to the platform and introduced them. President Hallaux made the announcement and the Regatta orchid was pinned on Princess Mary Jane by Mrs. Harry Duff, skipper of the Anchor club, members of which formed a two-line honor guard for the princesses.

A large crowd atended the dance, the location for which was furnished by the American Legion club.

Citywide Funds Drive Kicksoff For Regatta

Monday 1st Day Of Bid

A full-scale city-wide funds drive for the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival will kick off Monday with a business area solicitation, Mrs. Lucille Maris, Regatta board finance committee chairman, announced today.

The drive, which will be conducted by a 'brigade' of more than [illegible] Regatta fund raising volunteers will be the main funds drive by the association this year, Mrs. Maris said. It will hit every business and professional group in the community, in an effort to finance the Centennial year Regatta-Fish Festival.

Stickers Ready

Contributors will receive a window sticker indicating that they are one of the 'sponsors' of the celebration planned for late this summer. This donation will provide advertising space in the Centennial year Regatta-Fish Festival program and it will also be the only time direct solicitation for funds will be made of business and professional groups Mrs. Maris said. However, a large scale Regatta-Fish Festival booster button drive is to be conducted.

Regatta - Fish Festival sponsor stickers will also be sold to individuals for use in cars, both to display Regatta-Fish Festival spirit and to advertise the locality, Mrs. Maris pointed out.

Canvass Studied

Other possible funds-raising efforts will be a house-to-house canvass of the entire city. "We intend to at least ask everyone in Astoria if they wish to buy a booster button," Mrs. Maris stated.

As a pre-funds drive kickoff, more than 350 letters were mailed Friday to business and professional groups in the community explaining the drive for funds. In the letter Regatta association President Jean Hallaux stressed the importance of the celebration to Clatsop county during the observance of Oregon's 100th anniversary.

He pointed out the Regatta association is the oldest sponsoring body of a community celebration in the Pacific northwest and that a historic year such as this one would hardly be a good time to drop the celebration.

Budget Pared

An operating budget of $6000 has been set by the association for this year. In recent years more than $14,000 has been turned over during the summer celebration.

Despite this reduced budget Hallaux said, "the board of directors feels a celebration can be produced which will be attractive to all groups and will revive the traditional Regatta spirit and cooperation so long lost in Astoria."

Mrs. Maris said volunteer solicitators will be armed with receipt books and will be on the streets Monday morning to start the campaign. No time limit has been placed on the length of the drive, but it will be extensive, she said.

Members of the board of directors met Thursday night and outlined tentative events for the summer festival.

Items included so far are swimming races, speedboat and hydroplane races, and the huge fish feed.

Dances Set

John Shenk, Astoria oilman, also atended the meeting and was appointed to serve with board members Joe Tursi and Lewis Wright in mapping plans for marine events.

Howard Jollie, a member of the Sunset Area square dance council, also attended the session and announced the group would again sponsor a square dance festival to be held in conjunction with the Regatta. It will be held at the Naval Reserve building at the Port Docks on August 29 in the evening.

Wright To Head Festival

LEWIS WRIGHT

Astoria's Regatta association kicked into high gear Thursday night as they pushed final plans for the 39th annual water festival scheduled to start August 27 and run through August 30.

A busy meeting session was topped with announcement that Lewis Wright, an employee of Columbia River Packers association, would [illegible] the 4th annual Fish festival.

Inaugurated in 1956, the fish fete has become an integral part of the celebration and is a salute to the fishing industry in the area.

[illegible] three years Dr. E. W. Harvey of the Seafoods laboratory has been director of fish fete events. This year Dr. Harvey is city Centennial chairman. Events of the Fish Festival will be integrated into the Regatta itself which is primarily composed of land events this year, but with a full day of marine activities.

Fish Feed Due

Main features of the projected fish salute this year will be a fish feed, cooking contests, cooking demonstrations and other activities.

Wright, who is a graduate of Astoria high school, is a member of the board of directors of [illegible] association. He returned to Astoria about two years ago from Vancouver, Wash., where he worked at the Vancouver CRPA receiving tation.

Wright To Head Festival

(Continued from Page One)

Other plans projected by the association. He returned to Astoria campaign to be officially kicked-off in the near future, according [illegible] Mrs. Lucile Maris, button sale chairman.

Low Admission Eyed

A virtually "admission-free" Regatta-Fish fete is planned th[illegible] year, Jean Hallaux, president said [illegible] fund raising campaigns prove [illegible]

He said this did not mean that no admissions would be charged for Regatta events, but that admission prices would be "geared to the economy-minded pocketbook.

Fund raising for the association has slowed, he pointed out, and he urged helpers to push the drive and called for the cooperation of the merchants.

A full day of racing, to be headed by John Schenk, is planned. A youth activity [illegible] and a free Coronation Centennial costume ball are also planned tentatively.

Joining Regatta planners were Adeline Sather and Mrs. Murray Smith. They will work on an International festival to be featured by the Smorgasette and a program presented by the various national groups represented in Astoria.

T[illegible] Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival court of five princesses made their first public appearance in the Miss Oregon parade in Seaside Saturday afternoon and got their first thrill as applause and cheers greeted them along the line of march. From left in b[illegible] Betty Morris, Star of the Sea, Margey Wils[illegible] Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria [illegible] and Anna Marie Marinovich [illegible] The Royal Chinooks were escorts.

Job's Daughters on Job

Campaigners from the Astoria Job's Daughters who helped kick-off the R[illegible] Fish Festival button drive Wednesday are pictured above. They have been assigned the business district area as a special domain in the booster button drive. The Regatta-Fish Festival is scheduled for August 27. [illegible] right: Joan B[illegible] Piland, Carole [illegible] Mrs. Clarence [illegible] of Bethel 58 of Job Daughters (A-B Photo)

Theta Rhos Sell Buttons

Members of Beta Mu Theta Rho girls club in Warrenton area. Out early, they pinned two Warrenton businessmen Friday morning. Left to right above, are, Nancy Rawls, Anne Ysland, club president, selling a pin to Del Bodie, Warrenton service station operator; Mary Van, Theta Rho past president, pinning a button on Earl Johnson, Warrenton druggist, and July Blanton.

Plans For Fete Ironed Out By Regatta Board

R[illegible] program plans [illegible] the board [illegible]

Association directors, under the gavel of President Jean Hallaux, hammered out some decisions to iron out the wrinkle in the final program planning

Under present plans the celebration will kick-off Thursday, August 27, with arrival of an admiral. Tentative plans call for selection of a local admiral at a special Regatta recognition dinner to be held at the USO building August 21. Coronation of the queen is to be held at the Astoria Armory.

Plans and program for this event are under the direction of Mrs. William Leahy, first mate of the Anchor club The Queen's ball, which is to be a Centennial costume ball will follow the coronation and it will also be held at the Armory.

Friday Events Due

Highlighting Friday events will be the cooking demonstrations and cooking contest with the children's parade in the evening. Friday night an International festival, which features the International Smorgasette, is slated for the Armory The Kiwanis club is in charge of the children's parade Friday noon the annual Tongue Point luncheon will be held

Various foreign nationals will participate in this program. Directing activities are Mrs. Murray Smith and Hiram Johnson

Saturday morning water event, get under way at the east end mooring basin These are directed [illegible] n the downtown area. It starts at 6:30 p.m. This will be followed by the band show in the Armory.

Another new Regatta event, a youth festival and stunt day, will be held at Tapiola park This will be directed by the Optimist club

A full day of racing is planned for Sunday at the east end mooring basin, starting at 8 a.m Time trials will be held in the morning with main events in the afternoon These are directed by John Schenk Marine parade and Blessing of the Fleet will also be held Sunday morning at the east end mooring basin

The big fish feed will be held Sunday noon.

Final Regatta events will be held Sunday with the afternoon boat races at the east end mooring basin.

Other events scheduled include a Square Dance jamboree at the Naval resrv Armory Saturday night Dats of the Regatta are August 27, 28, 29 and 30.

7-7-59

Seafoods Cooking Events on Agenda For Regatta, Festival

Continuation of the seafoods cooking contest and seafoods cooking demonstrations as components of the Regatta-Fish Festival was announced today by Lewis Wright Fish Festival director, with appointment of Anne Strachan, Clatsop county home economics agent, as chairman of the two events.

Wright said Miss Strachan would serve as general chairman for both of the events which are to be held at the 4-H Fairgrounds buildings on August 28, the second day of the 39th annual water festival

The Savory Seafoods Search, the cooking contest, will have six divisions this year and cash prizes will be given as well as a perpetual trophy to the garnd prize winner Divisions are. appetizers, chowders and soups, salads, en[illegible] is presented by a [illegible] given Miss Strachan said, including the grand prize and first and second prizes in each division

"[illegible] blanks for the seafood cooking contest are now available in local stores or may be obtained from Miss Strachan or other members of the Regatta board of directors.

Assisting Miss Strachan in the supervision of the contest are Mrs. Rudy Lovvold and Mrs. C M. Love Persons interested in assisting are urged to call Miss Strachan Judges for the contest have not as yet been selected Cooking demonstrations are also to be held at the 4 H Fairgrounds The emphasis this year will be for teenagers, Miss Strachan said. Two teenagers from each of several organizations in the county are being asked to demonstrate seafood dishes.

Groups participating are the Girls Service Organization, Job's Daughters, Rainbow girls, including one chapter from Long Beach, Wash., and one from Seaside, Theta Rho, 4-H groups, Junior Norwegian group, Tri-Hi-Y, Christian Endeavor

The event will be held in the demonstration room of the 4-H Fairground buildings. Hours are 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p[illegible]

M[illegible] is assist[illegible] in organizing [illegible]

[illegible] way [illegible] a name for this eve[illegible] In the past it was referred to as [illegible] ties from Far Away [illegible] seafoods were featured. But, with the teenage seafood demonstrations a new name is sought. Anyone desiring to submit a name may do so by calling Miss Strachan at the county extension office.

7-1-59

CHILDREN'S
PET PARADE
Sponsored by Kiwanis Club
At The County Fair
Wed., Aug. 19
7:30 P.M.
In The Livestock Pavilion
of the County Fair Grounds
PRIZES FOR EVERY CHILD WITH THEIR PETS
Those Having Centennial Costumes Are Encouraged to Wear Them.

Clatsop County 4-H Fair Aug. 19-22

This Space Courtesy
Hughes-Ransom Mortuary
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

'Pageant' On Slate

[illegible]

Sponsor Lists Near Completion For Regatta Fete

Spon[illegible] the Astoria Regatta [illegible] rapidly being [illegible] chairman [illegible]

[illegible] Regatta [illegible]

[illegible] Marie Mar[illegible] Knappa; [illegible] Schultz Warrenton; Betty Morris, Star of the Sea, Astoria

---

Drill Team to Appear

Appearing in Regatta events Saturday, August 29, will be th[illegible] [illegible]ision drill team from Oakland naval air station. The group has appeared here in previous fetes.

7-19-59

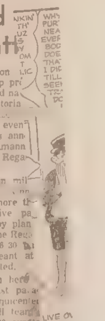
Drill T[illegible] Billed Regat[illegible]

Confirmation [illegible] championship pr[illegible] from Oakland na[illegible] return to Astoria [illegible] for Regatta even[illegible] gust 29, was ann[illegible] William Ohlmann [illegible] man of the Rega[illegible] mittee.

The 14-man mil[illegible] awards in more th[illegible] of competitive pa[illegible] will travel by plan[illegible] perform in the Reg[illegible] starting at 6 30 [illegible] awards pageant at [illegible] mann indicated.

Well-known here [illegible] ances in past pa[illegible] the 1955 Sesquicente[illegible] Oakland drill team [illegible] more than 30 events. An appearance in last [illegible] ria parade was set, [illegible] mosa crisis, which [illegible] Maj. Gen. Chester Mc[illegible] caused a last-minute [illegible]

Less than two wee[illegible] "top-notch" parade [illegible] Ohlmann indicated. However, Jaycee parade officials are hopeful of swelling the number of floats in the procession Plans for forming and routing the march are being worked out with local and state police, reports Jack Rieck, in charge of this phase of parade committee work



NKIN' TH' UZ S Y OM T LIC
WHY PUR' NEA EVER BOD DOE THAT I DID TILL SEEN TRA DC LIVE ON BY

Mrs. Richard Stacer, president of the Officers Wives club of Tongue Point, pins a corsage on Mrs. Harry Swanson, Regatta court chaperone, at the tea given in honor of the court Wednesday at the BOQ at Tongue Point. Awaiting their turn behind her are Centennial frocked 1959 Regatta princesses from left Betty Morris Star of the Sea; Anna Marie Marincovich Knappa; Margie Wilson, Seaside, Jennie Shultz, Warrenton and Mary Jane Kurath, Astoria. Mrs Harry Duff, extreme right, president of the Anchor club, was also in receiving line.

8-19 59

Officers Wives Hostesses for Regatta Court

Officers Wives club of Tongue Point proffered a gay salute to the Astoria 1959 Regatta court Wednesday at an afternoon tea in the BOQ lounge on base

The Centennial theme was carried out in an artful antique setting with old spinning wheel, 100-year-old doll in an antique rocker, drum table covered with a handmade doily, on which was placed a very old and large Bible and a century old ruby glass vase from Argentina filled with red rosebuds, and a ship-in-bottle. Stratigically placed about the lounge were miniature models of conestaga wagons and a 20-mule team wagon, and an ancient photograph with morning glory horn.

Colorful arrangements of gladioli, dahlias and chrysanthemums were used about the room and as a centerpiece for the daintily appointed tea table, where the Mesdames R C Anderson, W. Stephens, Harry Steinbock, V. S. Robinson, T. Granstrom and J. L. Adams presided alternately at the tea and coffee services.

Receiving with the five prin[illegible] ing the afternoon were [illegible] Mrs [illegible] the R[illegible] the [illegible] Wives club [illegible] were Mrs R

BE SURE TO ATTEND
THURS., AUG. 27
39th Annual
Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival
CENTENNIAL
CORONATION
ADMISSION $1.00
8 P.M. . . . ARMORY
Featuring The Surfers Quartet
and
CENTENNIAL BALL
FREE OF CHARGE AT ARMORY
(Immediately Following the Coronation)

SPACE COURTESY
HUGHES-RANSOM
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

* * * *

Regatta Revels

* * * * *

Site for the street dances to be held during the Regatta will be on 12th street between Marine Drive and Commercial street. The music will be provided by the 4 Tones. Dancing is free and the dances will be held both on Friday and Saturday nights. Street dances have always been popular during the Regatta.

—buy a button—

The Surfers, a quartet from Long Beach, will entertain during the intermission at coronation Thursday. The group is considered to be one finest in the northwest.

—buy a button—

Judges for the coronation, all of them secret and either new to this area, or from out of town, will meet the princesses secretly at the pre-coronation dinner which precedes the Coronation. At this informal dinner the board of directors, wives of directors, invited guests and the court get together to calm the last minute jitters.

—buy a button—

Those who attend the Zonta Tea and Style show following the Anchor Club luncheon for the Queen Saturday noon will be served "on the screen." The event will take place on the lawn of the area near the cafeteria and just in front of the high school library.

—buy a button—

Those who attended the Anchor club Tea Saturday got a surprise. The group recently purchased new chairs for the Yacht club, just for the Regatta season. (And the fact that they needed them also).

—buy a button—

Concessions at the Astoria Armory during Regatta events will be operated by the Star of the Sea Athletic association. Ted Ruoff is in charge.

—buy a button—

Parade director Bill Ohlmann is looking for the oldest resident of the area. He would like the person who has lived here the longest to get in touch with him and participate in the parade in an honored spot. Come on Oldsters, who has lived in the area for the longest time? Ohlmann can be reached at Gimre's shoe store.

—buy a button—

Working with the Optimist Youth Day chairman on plans for the big festival Saturday afternoon, August 29, are Verne Larsen, Optimist prexy, Hiram Johnson and Win Beasley.

—buy a button—

Former administrative assistant for Gov. R. D. Holmes, Harry Swanson, will be back in the Regatta act again this year. He has been assigned as aide to Admiral Martin Hanson.

—buy a button—

Among heroes of the Regatta parade next Saturday evening are likely to be 12 members of the Astoria high school Hi-Y club. Led by John Westley and Jerry Utti, the young men volunteered their services as a special "equestrian committee" to the Jaycee parade committee. Marchers following horse units will be greatly indebted to them for their efforts.

—Buy A Button—

Top-notch cross-city rivals from the Seafair city, Seattle, will compete in the Regatta parade and awards pageant when both the Rainbow and Ballard girls' drill teams perform. It's a "first" here for the 40-girl Ballard troup, but the Rainbow team has appeared here before. The group seems to divide championship titles between them up north.

—Buy A Button—

Persons attending the Awards pageant this year will have an excellent view as their favorite drill teams, drum and bugle corps and bands perform their complete routines, for the event has been moved to the Armory for the first time. The popular event, set for 9 p.m. following the parade, affords a unique opportunity to see performances not possible during the parade, notes Paul Johnson, Jaycee chairman.

—Buy A Button—

Back to perform in the regatta parade next Saturday is the prize-winning Boy Scout Drum and Bugle corps from the Longview-Kelso area. Now in their seventh season, the young troupe appears in about 30 parades a year; were here in 1953, '56, '57 and 1958.

—buy a button—

A total of five foreign conculs, of nine invited, have already accepted invitations to participate in the International Festival set for Friday night. It will be, perhaps, the largest contingent of foreign government officials ever to gather in Astoria for a single occasion.

—buy a button—

Square dancers from all over the state are expected during the Astoria Regatta Fish Festival to participate in a jamboree sponsored by the Sunset Area council. The dance is to be held Saturday night at the Navy reserve armory at the port docks.

Princess Jenita "Jenny" Shultz

(A-B Photo)

Warrenton's Princess Jenny Is Like a Dainty Figurine

Precious things come in little packages might well apply to Regatta Princess Jenita "Jenny" Shultz, Warrenton high school's pretty little contribution to the 1959 Regatta court. For there are just (exactly) five feet, no more, of this dainty princess, but a lot of feminine charm is wrapped up with it.

Warrenton has been her home, although she, like the other three princesses previously interviewed, 1941 was born in Astoria (April 28, 1941), and any day you might want to go water skiing on Coffenbury lake, picnicking at Crabapple, fishing off the south jetty rocks, black berry picking along the Skipanon, sailing from the new mooring basin or camping out at Fort Stevens state park, just call on Princess Jenny.

But there's a serious side, too, to this member of the royal family (also a member of the Travis Shultz family of Warrenton). Third in her class in grade point average (3.5), she won two scholarships, which she will use at Oregon State college this fall, to study psychology and home economics. After taking an active part in her freshman and sophomore years at Warrenton high school, she was chosen Girls State delegate in her junior year and served on the student council. In her senior year she was editor of the Warrenton Warrior year book, vice-president of Girls League, student council representative, a member of the Honor Society, acted in both junior and senior class plays, was selected Homecoming Queen and also Homemaker of Tomorrow.

From the fact that she won the latter honor, and because she will major in Home Economics at college, you gather that Princess Jenny is domestic. You're right. She loves to sew and is a good little cook, with a heaping bowl of strawberry shortcake as her favorite food.

But she likes gardening, too, and water skiing and swimming, accompanied by her dog Lady, a top shepherd, who welcomes her royal mistress when she comes home from work in the coffee shop of the Seasider hotel every day.

There is plenty of excitement around the Shultz family home these days. But then, there always is, when they're all together—brother Wesley, 22, Judy, 19, Timmy, 13, and Anne, 7, and as many cousins close by, making for lots to celebrate, lots to talk about.

Right now the main topic of conversation is the Regatta and the brown-haired, hazel-eyed Dresden doll member of the family Princess Jenny.

Royalty Introduced at Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Jean Yancey, [illegible], is modelling a ballgown worn by her grandmother beside a modern cocktail length gown worn by Miss Shirley Monsen, both to be featured in the style show given by the Zonta club, followed by a tea, after the Queen's luncheon Saturday at the new high school.

8 24 5

Finland Corner Set Up for Regatta

A little corner of Finland opened this week in downtown Astoria as part of Regatta week activity. Open daily through the Regatta in the Young Building at 14th and Commercial street is an exhibit of Finnish-American arts and crafts. It is sponsored by the Zion Lutheran church, Ladies of Kaleva and the Finnish Brotherhood. The exhibit will be open daily from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. with the exception of Friday when it will be closed [illegible] for the International Festival. Pictured above, in a replica of an 1800 Finnish native living room is Mrs. Konsta Mikkola.

(A-B Photo)

A Little Corner Of Finland Set Up for Regatta

[illegible] Regatta [illegible] ing attention [illegible] the Finn[illegible] in the Young [illegible] Commercial. [illegible] of the Zion [illegible], Ladies of [illegible] Brotherhood [illegible] managed [illegible] gather together [illegible] a mus[illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] of modern [illegible] from Finland [illegible] heirlooms [illegible]

A [illegible] corner [illegible] the [illegible] the 1800's. It has all [illegible] warmth and charm of a lived-in home of Finland of those days, even to the children's shoes drying on the hood of the fireplace. Of course, where there are children, there are pets, and in this case, the family cat dreaming by the fireside.

The opening will be on Tuesday with hours from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., except on Friday when the closing time will be at 5 p.m. for the benefit of those wishing to atend the Smorgas[illegible].

Coffee will be served at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. with the Finnish Brotherhood in charge Tuesday and Wednesday. Baked goods will be sold on Wednesday. The Ladies of Kaleva will take over for Thursday and Friday, and the ladies from the Zion Lutheran church will be there Saturday.

Coronation To Inaugurate 39th Land, Water Fete

A "do or die" annual, Astoria Regatta, backed by more than 150 merchant sponsors and spiced with a foreign flavor opens its doors for a 39th season Thursday as coronation of the 34th queen transform the Lower Columbia into a mythical kingdom for four days of traditional water and land antics with a Centennial accent.

Fighting for survival, the Regatta this year faces an economic crisis. As planners began mapping the course of this year's celebration nearly a year ago, the association was "in the red." Association President Jean Hallaux says the association is now "in the black" on the eve of the start of what could be the last Regatta. He says if attendance does not hold up and if sufficient funds are not available when the celebration ends to launch a new celebration next year, the oldest water festival in the Pacific northwest, which dates back to 1894, may not survive.

Diverse Program Set

However, the 1959 Astoria Regatta Fish festival faces an auspicious start. It has one of its most diverse programs ready to start with coronation of the queen Thursday night at the Armory. It also is backed with more publbic support than at any time in recent history.

Hundreds of Astorians have donated time, money and effort to the celebration and the list of financial sponsors is the longest in recent years, President Hallaux says. In just one instance alone, the International festival, set for Friday night at the Armory, more than 300 persons have donated food for the International Smorasette.

This phase of the Regatta program has been expanded from last year and some five foreign consuls from Portland will attend and remain, most of them, as guests of the city, through Saturday.

Consuls to Attend

Scheduled to appear are consuls or vice consuls from Great Britain, Iceland, Finland, Japan, Sweden and Norway.

Others are expected to report on acceptance or rejection of invitations, but so far these have agreed to attend: Consul and Mrs. Gustav A. Heikkila, Finland Consul and Mrs. K. Urabe and Frank Watanabe, Japan; Vice Consul and Mrs. Norman Prickett, Great Britain; Consul Bardi C. Skulson and sister, Mrs. Dagmar S. Eremeef; Vice Consul and Mrs. Malcolm B. Frykmen and son and daughter, and Vice Consul and Mrs. Lrentz Brunn, Norway.

More acceptances from additional invitations are expected to be received today and Thursday. The foreign dignitaries will be staying for the parade, for the most part. Hosts for the group are William Seeborg and Matt Kujula.

Organizations Help

More than ten individual community organizations have joined in presenting the Astoria Regatta Fish Festival this year. Each of them highlights a segment of the program.

Included in the group are: Junior Chamber of Commerce, Jay-C-Ettes, Optimists, Zonta, Anchors, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Finnish Brotherhood, Sons and Daughters of Norway and Beta Sigma Phi.

Still other community groups cooperated in the sale of buttons. Button sales, according to Mrs. Lucille Maris, chairman of the financial committee for the association, have reached a 'pleasing peak.' Expectations are that more than 2000 buttons will have been sold by the start of the Regata.

Fairgrounds Site

Damp, but undanuted, Regatta planners were keeping an anxious eye on the weather, however only two or three events could be affected by adverse conditions, Hallaux says, the Kiddies parade Friday night, the Grand Parade Saturday night, and Marine events for both Saturday and Sunday. All other events are 'under roof.'

Site for the majority of activities will be the 4-H fairgrounds or the armory. Even the huge Sunday Fish Feed can move indoors if inclement weather prevails, says Lewis Wright, Fish Festival chairman.

According to weather reports temperatures averaging below normal and a few showers are expected through Monday. The range is expected to be near a high of 60 to [illegible] degrees over the weekend.

Rain Seldom Problem

It will be the first year in many recent celebrations that rain has been a problem. Normally the cel-

(Continued from Page One)

[illegible] been [illegible] inception [illegible] old events are com[illegible] this year's Centennial Regatta [illegible] according to Hallaux.

[illegible] are [illegible] of the new Youth Festival [illegible] the Opitimist club will sponsor. This is a special event for youngsters slated for Saturday afternoon at McCallister field. It is a field day with racing events and prizes for boys and girls of [illegible] ad pre-school age.

Other events of top significance dot the Regatta calendar, Hallaux declares. First official Regatta act comes at 4 p.m. Thursday at the East End Mooring basin with greeting of Admiral Martin Hanson. The Regatta runs to its climax Sunday following the final heats of hydroplane races at the east end mooring basin.

[illegible] rincess [illegible]

[illegible] gie W[illegible] Warrenton, Mary Jane Kurath, Astoria, Betty Morris, Astoria, Star of the Sea; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa.

5a

PROGRAM
39th Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival
August 27-30, 1959

Thursday
4:00 p.m.—Greeting Admiral, East End Mooring Basin.
8:00 p.m.—Coronation, Astoria Armory.
9:30 p.m.—Centennial Costume Ball, Astoria Armory.

Friday
9:00 a.m.—Cooking Demonstrations, 4-H Fairgrounds.
10:00 a.m.—Savory Seafoods Search, 4-H Fairgrounds.
12 noon—Admiral's Luncheon, Tongue Point.
6:00 p.m.—Kiddies Parade, Commercial street.
7:30 p.m.—International Festival, Astoria Armory.
9:00 p.m.—Street Dance, 12th street, Four Tones,

Saturday
9:00 a.m.—Marine Events, gillnet races, East End Mooring Basin.
12 noon—Queen's Luncheon, Astoria high school cafeteria.
1:30 p.m.—Zonta Style Show and Tea, Astoria high school.
1:00 p.m.—Optimist Youth Festival, McCallister Field.
6:30 p.m.—Grand Land Parade, Commercial street.
8:30 p.m.—Square Dance Jamboree, Naval Reserve Hall.
9:00 p.m.—Band Show, Astoria Armory.
9:00 p.m.—Street Dance, 12th street, Four Tones.

Sunday
8:00 a.m.—Hydroplane Races, time trials, East End Mooring Basin.
11:00 a.m.—Marine Parade, East End Mooring Basin.
11:30 a.m.—Blessing of the Fleet, East End Mooring Basin.
12 noon—Salmon Barbecue, 4-H Fairgrounds.
1:00 p.m.—Hydroplane Races, final heats, East End Mooring Basin.

8 26 59

Program highlights include:

Thursday—Anchor club sponsored coronation program, Astoria Armory under the direction of Mrs. William Leahy, 8 p.m. This is followed by the Queen's Centennial ball.

Friday—Cooking demonstrations and Savory Seafoods Search to be held in the morning at the 4-H Fair grunds. Anne Strachan is the chairman of these events under direction of Lewis Wright, festival chairman. The Admiral's luncheon set for noon is open to women for the first year and is to be held at Tongue Point. The Kiddies parade, at 6:30 p.m., is under leadership of Dr. Arthur Huber and the Kiwanis club.

Hiram Johnson and Mrs. Murray Smith, assisted by Adelaine Sather, are in charge of the International Festival and Smorgasette set for the Armory at 6:30 p.m.

Marine Events Featured

Saturday—Marine events will be featured with the gillnet races set at 10 a.m. at the east end mooring basin. The Queen's Luncheon, sponsored by the Anchor club, starts at noon at Astoria high school and this is followed by the Zonta sponsored tea and style show. The Youth Festival is from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at McCallister field. Junior Chamber of Commerce's big event, the grand parade, is set for 6:30 p.m.

[illegible]

---

* * * *

Regatta Revels

* * * * *

[illegible] projected.

—buy a button—

[illegible] coronation of [illegible] held tonight [illegible] a [illegible] ceremony presented [illegible] hours later by the gr[illegible] Mrs. William Leahy has the [illegible] ng order from [illegible]

—buy a button—

A busy weekend awaits the 55 members of the Astoria high school band who have devoted their recent evenings practicing for Regatta events with Ted Marshall band director. They will perform during the coronation Thursday night, march in both the children's parade Friday and the "big one" Saturday evening plus the prelude for the awards pageant Saturday night at the Armory.

—buy a button—

The [illegible] Astoria [illegible] parade [illegible] Saturday with [illegible] the Astoria [illegible] according to word from Mr. [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] right guide [illegible] sophomore and [illegible]

—buy a button—

Mrs. J. L. [illegible] was the 1st [illegible] Queen [illegible] attend[illegible] the Anchor [illegible] at the Yacht club [illegible] as many Regatta events as possible [illegible] she will miss the Coronation.

—buy a button—

The International Smorgasette [illegible] starts at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the [illegible] but all nationalities in the area are represented on the program to be presented. Vocals range from a Finnish solo by Karen Sieles to an Irish song by Jerry Sullivan.

—buy a button—

Replies have been received from several racing clubs with entrants in the hydroplane races set for Sunday during the Regatta. All local boat fans are invited to participate in the races, according to John Schenk, chairman. The races will be conducted on a [illegible] boat classification basis [illegible] boat to race with equal competition, Schenk says. Time trials are set for 8 a.m. until 12 noon on Sunday. The heat and trophy races will start after the fish feed Sunday noon. Schenk says the public is invited to attend the event at no charge (other than a Regatta button) at the east end mooring basin. [illegible] may be obtained from England Marine Supply or from Schenk.

—buy a button—

Cash and trophies will be awarded as prizes for the gillnet boat races set for Saturday. Don Riswick and William Westerholm are in charge of this phase of Regatta activity under Joe Tursi and Lewis Wright, members of the board of directors. Entries in the races are needed and will be held open until just an hour before the races, set for 10 a.m. Saturday. Entries may be made at the Columbia River Fishermen's Protective union office [illegible] horsepower [illegible]

—buy a button—

A long distance call last night added another drum and bugle corps to the Regatta parade now more than 60 units. A phone call from Dick Main, manager of the Tacoma Eagles Drum and Bugle corps confirmed entry of that group in the march. The local Eagles lodge will host the group, according to Bill Ohlmann, Jaycee parade chairman.

—buy a button—

Square dancers [illegible] for Saturday [illegible] Regatta [illegible] dancers [illegible] well known call[illegible] Naval Reserve [illegible] for the full program of dancing.

Warrenton City Officials Honor Regatta Court

[illegible] Crab Pot.

Mrs. Myr[illegible] chamber president welcomed the Regatta princesses, their official chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr. and their official escort, Gordon Hutchens. City Manager R. R. Baldwin, chamber secretary, introduced the honored guests to members of the chamber and their guests.

Each princess gave detailed accounts of the various activities planned for the 39th annual Regatta Festival. Betty Morris of Astoria told of the Fish Festival. Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa, [illegible] history of the Regatta [illegible] for the [illegible] Jane Kuratli invited [illegible] to the water events planned for Saturday and Sunday at the East End Mooring basin. Jenny Shultz, Warrenton's Princess, described the parades and invited everyone to attend the land parade when there will be "Happy [illegible]" and Margie Wilson [illegible] details of [illegible] program.

Special guests at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shultz, parent of Warrenton's contribution [illegible] Festival, Princess [illegible]

Regatta Royalty Honored Guests Of Elks Ladies

Five pretty princesses, their [illegible] al's wife [illegible] to the dessert card party hosted by the Elks Ladies Wednesday, when they had as special guests the Regatta court.

Mrs. [illegible] Swanson accompanied Regatta Princesses Jenny [illegible] Warrenton; Anna Marie [illegible] Wil[illegible] Star of [illegible] Mary Jane Kuratli [illegible] delighted princesses were presented little ceramic figurines depicting each one's birth month.

Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Martin Hanson, wife of the Regatta admiral, were asked to preside at the silver tea and coffee services during the refreshment hour. The table was centered with a large fan of salmon pink gladioli with matching tapers.

Winning scores at [illegible] during the afternoon [illegible] in by Mrs. Carl Par[illegible] Joe Cone and Mrs. Els[illegible] Wel[illegible]

Hostesses for the event were the Mesdames Robert McCle[illegible] Edward Britts, Ed [illegible] and James Stacy.

Regatta Revels

★ ★ ★ ★

With dozens of outstanding units entered in the grand Centennial Regatta parade Saturday, a spectacular Awards Pageant is assured. However, narrowing the field down to about 12 units for a brisk, well-balanced one and one half hour variety show without "slighting" units left out is causing public relations headaches for show chairman Paul Johnson and his Jaycee aides.

—buy a button—

Scotch notes: The Portland Scottish Bagpipe band claims to be the oldest continuous musical organization in Oregon having been originally organized in 1906. And rival Clan MacLa[illegible] is listed as Gov. Mark Hatfield's "official bagpipe band." Both colorful groups will be on hand for Saturday's festivities.

—buy a button—

Another new unit in this year's Regatta parade is the Sons of the American Legion Junior Drum and Bugle corps from Salem, composed of 18 uniformed boys.

—buy a button—

Admission to the popular Awards Pageant, set for the Armory at 9 p.m. following the big parade, has been cut to 50 cents, with children under 12 free. The action by the Regatta board will allow "almost everyone to have a complete and comfortable view of outstanding drum and bugle corps, drill teams, and bands while they perform full routines on the Armory floor," notes Paul Johnson, pageant chairman.

—buy a button—

Taking colorful form in hidden spots around Regattaland these nights are a galaxy of floats as chairmen rally committees for the finish, while in other places groups perfect their routines and costumes that will be seen in Regatta parades this weekend.

—buy a button—

Admiral Martin Hanson has been virtually banished from an "exclusive" luncheon club which meets in a "lower" Astoria coffee shop. The "Bowsers" are disturbed because the admiral didn't mention them as one of the organizations to which he belonged. This informal aggregation holds forth in the Spexarth building for some long luncheon discussions.

—buy a button—

Beaverton high school band, accompanied by the "Rhythm B's" girls drill troup will travel to Astoria in three busses Saturday for the grand march through Astoria that evening. The big band, under the direction of All Robertson, performed at the recent Shrine football game in Multnomah stadium.

—buy a button—

Sumptuous food is scheduled for those who attend the queen's luncheon Saturday noon at the Astoria high school cafeteria. The menu includes ham loaf, hot rolls, string beans, crab apples, fresh peach sundae. Better watch those waistlines girls!

—buy a button—

Reservations for the luncheon must be made in advance and may be made by calling Fern Johansen, FA 5-2255, Peggy La[illegible] or Virginia Johnson, FA [illegible]

—buy a button—

Savory Seafoods contest officials, headed by Anne Strachan, say more entries are needed in all six of the divisions of the contest which is to be held Friday morning at the 4-H fair grounds. A total of 13 prizes will be awarded, including one grand prize. Winners of the contest will be announced and prizes awarded Friday, August 28, at the Armory at 8:30 p.m.

—buy a button—

A tantalizing array of foreign food is slated for the International Smorgasette. On the menu are Norwegian meat balls and something called Yula Kaka and krumkaka. Some 300 persons have donated dishes from 16 nations.

—buy a button—

Holgar Johnson, national president of the USO, was the guest of honor at a reception Wednesday at the BOQ at Tongue Point, attended by Capt. Donald Granstrom, representing the commanding officer at the naval station; Lt. Comdr. Martin Hanson, admiral of the Regatta, who is also a member of the USO operating committee, and other members of the committee and their wives. Following the cocktail buffet, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steinbock entertained Johnson at dinner at their home.

—buy a button—

G. W. Oxborrow, Crescent, Ore., which is east of the mountains and south of Bend, wrote the Astoria Savory Seafoods Search that he wanted to enter the contest.

Foreign Festival Billed

A [illegible] Regatta association International festival [illegible] which combines the International Smorgasette and international program will dominate Regatta activity Friday.

This huge Regatta event, which will lead off with a reception for members of the Oregon Consular corps, will serve foreign food favorites prepared by more than 300 different persons and 16 different organizations. It will be held in the Armory with serving starting at 6:30 p.m. The International program will follow.

Oregon's entire consular corps, based in Portland, were invited to attend this event which salutes the different national groups that make up Astoria's population. Of the 18 invited eight had accepted invitations and indicated they would appear by Thursday noon.

Seeborg in Charge

William Seeborg will be in charge of arrangements for greeting and hosting the consuls. He will be assisted by Matt Kujala. Co-chairmen of the event itself are Mrs. Murray Smith and Hiram Johnson. Adelaine Sather is assisting these two. Miss Sather is in charge of the decorations, reception and program.

Foreign flags wil be flown and decorations wil be directed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox and the Hammond Garden club.

Officials of the event said today food is to be delivered to the Armory between 1 and 3 p.m. Friday. Flags to be used in decorations are to be delivered to the Armory between 10 and 11 a.m. Friday. Admission price for the evening, including both the program and the smorgasette, is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12 years of age. The program starts at 8 p.m.

Consuls Due

Foreign consuls slated to attend are:

Consul and Mrs. Gustav A. Heikkila, Finland; Consul and Mrs. K. Urabe and Frank Watanabe, Japan; Vice Consul and [illegible] man Prickett, Great Britain; Consul Bardi C. Skulson and sister, Mrs. Dagmar S. Eyenegg, Iceland; Vice Consul and Mrs. Malcolm B. Frykmen and son and daughter, Sweden; and Vice Consul and Mrs. Lentz Bruun, Norway; Consul Gustavo Lafee, Venezuela, and Consul Alfred J. Herman, Belgium and France.

Also scheduled for Friday are the cooking demonstrations and the

One to Reign as Regatta Queen

BETTY MORRIS ANNA MARIE MARINCOVICH JENITA SHULTZ MARGIE WILSON MARY JANE KURATLI

The Sunset Empire Council of Oregon State Federation of Square Dance Clubs Presents

The 5th Saturday Night

Square Dance Jamboree

August 29th . . . 8:00 p.m.

at the

Naval Reserve Armory, Pier 2

IN ASTORIA

Two well known callers, Bud Deputy of Portland, and Bob Sessions of Washington, State, will split the evening's program for a full program of spirited dancing

SPECTATORS WELCOME

This Space Courtesy

Hughes-Ransom Mortuary

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

ASTORIA SEASIDE

Children Parade Friday

Nine divisions will be featured in the Children's Parade, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, which gets under way from the Clatsop county court house at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Dr. Arthur Huber, chairman, announced today.

Parade marchers, riders and walkers are advised to form in the court house area by at least 6 p.m. and they will be judged and formed into the nine divisions for which ribbons will be awarded during the judging. All youngsters participating in the parade will receive a prize.

Peanuts Vended

An added feature this year will be the appearance of "peanut venders" along the parade route, which extends from the court house down Commercial street to the Astoria Armory. The peanut sales are part of a Kiwanis project to raise funds to finance the parade and [illegible] cycle, boys; wagons; floats, costumes, and miscellaneous. A grand prize will also be awarded. The total grand prize is $5 in cash and division prizes for three places of $3, $2 and $1 will also be awarded.

Judges Listed

Judges for the parade are: Ernie Brown and Bob Lovell, baby buggy; Jay Stockman and Emmett Towler, tricyle, boys; Maurice Wilson and Jerry McCallister, tricycle, girls; Rev. O. Whitman and William Seeborg, bicycle, boys; [illegible] Stratton and Wayne Osterby, bicycle, girls; Don Addington and [illegible] Mason, costumes, and [illegible] and Don Mitchell, miscellaneous. Grand prize judges are Clarence Short and Curt Hoare.

Dick Steinbock is parade marshal.

PROGRAM
39th Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival
August 27-30, 1959

Thursday

8:00 p.m.—Coronation, Astoria Armory.
9:30 p.m.—Centennial Costume Ball, Astoria Armory.

Friday

10:00 a.m.—Cooking Demonstrations, 4-H Fairgrounds.
11:00 a.m.—Savory Seafoods Search, 4-H Fairgrounds.
12 noon—Admiral's Luncheon, Tongue Point.
6:00 p.m.—Kiddies Parade, Commercial street.
7:30 p.m. International Festival, Astoria Armory.
9:00 p.m.—Street Dance, 12th street, Four Tones,

Saturday

9:00 a.m.—Marine Events, gillnet races, East End Mooring Basin.
12 noon—Queen's Luncheon, Astoria high school cafeteria.
1:30 p.m.—Zonta Style Show and Tea, Astoria high school.
1:00 p.m.—Optimist Youth Festival, McCallister Field.
6:30 p.m.—Grand Land Parade, Commercial street.
8:30 p.m.—Square Dance Jamboree, Naval Reserve Hall.
9:00 p.m.—Band Show, Astoria Armory.
9:00 p.m.—Street Dance, 12th street, Four Tones.

Sunday

8:00 a.m.—Hydroplane Races, time trials, East End Mooring Basin.
11:00 a.m.—Marine Parade, East End Mooring Basin.
11:30 a.m.—Blessing of the Fleet, East End Mooring Basin.
12 noon—Salmon Barbecue, 4-H Fairgrounds.
1:00 p.m.—Hydroplane Races, final heats, East End Mooring Basin.
7:30 p.m.—Choir Concert, Trinity Lutheran church.

Marine Activities To Display Skill In Boat Handling

A colorful display of boat-handling skill will be one of the highlights of two days of marine events planned for the annual Astoria Regatta Fish Festival Saturday and Sunday.

Organized under direction of Joe Turst, John Schenk, Lewis Wright, William Westerholm, Don Riswick, the marine event roster varies from hydroplane racing to gillnet races. All marine events are to be held at the east end mooring basin. Admission to these events is free for those who wear Regatta buttons.

Saturday morning gillnet boat operators have a chance to show their boat handling skill with balloons.

A drift of 21 colored balloons about three feet in width will be released in the basin and two boats at a time will go out and attempt to get as many balloons aboard each boat as possible. The boats cannot bump, and are disqualified if they do. No nets or hooks are allowed and the only way the balloons can be captured is by hand. The boat operator must be alone. There is no time limit involved in catching the balloons and it is up to the individual boat operator to see that the ballons he captures stay aboard his boat. If the balloons blow out of the mooring basin they will be out of bounds and will be retrieved by patrols for use in other heats.

Power Not Factor

Riswick, chairman of the event, said that a boat's power is not a factor in the event, only the boatman's skill. The boat, however, [illegible]

[illegible] marine parade [illegible] Sunday at the west end [illegible] basin.

[illegible] is attempting to [illegible] number of craft to participate in the parade. Chairman Riswick says he wants boats such as pleasure craft, fishing vessels, towboats, cannery tenders or any type of boat to join the parade. All boat operators are asked to rendezvous at the west end mooring basin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and will leave the west end basin at that time for the east end basin where the blessing of the fleet will take place.

Gillnet Racing Planned

All boat owners are urged to join the parade. The boats can be decorated or can come just as they are. Gillnet boats, yachts, outboards, draggers, towboats, anything that floats may be entered.

Gillnet races will be run Saturday morning at 10 a.m. with the first race composed of boats with power up to 150 horsepower, which is usually called the crown race.

Fishermen are urged to enter [illegible]

A new course has been [illegible] which is diamond shaped [illegible] will lead the [illegible] directly in front of the grandstand to give spectators a good view.

Court Awaits Rites

MARTIN HANSON
ADMIRAL

[illegible] Queen to wear the [illegible] crown.

Princesses Tense

[illegible] ean Hallaux [illegible] her royal subjects, [illegible] 8 p.m. The simple [illegible] maxed when [illegible] the Queen's crown [illegible] Queen.

A [illegible] and program [illegible] Mrs. William [illegible] Wednesday night Anchor [illegible] team members, [illegible] other [illegible] pate [illegible]

Admiral Greeted

[illegible] corps of Anchor [illegible] mirals at the east [illegible] basin at 4 p.m. He [illegible] basin aboard the [illegible]

REGATTA

Smorgasette

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM

INTERNATION FESTIVAL

FRIDAY, AUG. 28th

6:30 P.M.

ARMORY . . . 17th & Exchange

Adults $1.00 Children under 12, 50¢

FOOD CONTRIBUTORS — FREE TICKET

16 Nations Represented
24 Organizations of This Community

WEAR YOUR CENTENNIAL COSTUMES
OR YOUR INTERNATIONAL COSTUME

This Space Courtesy

Hughes Ransom Mortuary

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

ASTORIA SEASIDE

International Costumes Featured

[illegible] Pictured [illegible] in [illegible] costumes are Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Peter [illegible] Mrs. Anna [illegible] Bavarian girls are: [illegible] Bavarian boys are: Ricky Granstrom, Peter [illegible] Kathryn Messer and Vi Vi Rode [illegible] Flora Chu and daughter. The International Festival will be held Friday starting at 6:30 p.m. with the Smorgasette at Astoria armory. (A-B Photo)

Norwegian Dancers Billed

Norwegian dancers will appear as part of the program during the International Festival at the Astoria armory Friday night. The [illegible] will salute all of the national groups represented in Astoria. Here are some of the dancers who are scheduled to appear: [illegible] Patti [illegible] Judy [illegible] Joe Pearson [illegible] Daley [illegible] Johansen and [illegible]

BE SURE TO ATTEND
THURS., AUG. 27

39th Annual
Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival

CENTENNIAL

CORONATION

ADMISSION $1.00

8 P.M. . . . ARMORY

Featuring The Surfers Quartet
and
CENTENNIAL BALL
FREE OF CHARGE AT ARMORY
(Immediately Following the Coronation)

KEEP RIGHT

Queen Betty I Rules Over Regatta Fish Festival

SATURDAY'S TIDES
[illegible] feet
[illegible] feet
[illegible] feet
[illegible] feet

Astorian Evening Budget
Westward the course of empire takes its way

WEATHER FORECAST
Cloudy with scattered showers Friday night and Saturday morning, partly [illegible] Saturday afternoon. Low Friday night 50, high Saturday 64.

Vol 85 No 200 Astoria, Oregon Friday August 28 1959 PRICE 7¢

* * * *

Regatta Revels

* * * * *

Optimist planners for the first Youth Day activity, set for Saturday from 1:30 to 4 p.m., already have plans to move the event indoors if weather is poor. The armory has been set as an emergency site for the celebration in case it should rain.

—buy a button—

Insurance problems licked the plan for free horseback rides for the Youth Festival, Ed Luom, chairman reported today. The insurance problem couldn't be surmounted, so the Optimists reluctantly nixed the free rides.

—buy a button—

Opportunity to see two outstanding "home grown" units that have been winning awards in Astoria's name all over the Northwest this summer awaits viewers of the Grand Parade. Both the Royal Chinook Drum and Bugle corps and the irrepressible Astoria Clowns will be at their top form for the home town events—after all, they've been practicing up for it all summer at events such as the Seattle Seafair!

—buy a button—

"Cooperation has been terrific" Bill Ohlmann, parade chairman stated last night, while checking last-minute details. In mind was the request by the Ballard Girls Drill Team for sleeping accomodations — quickly arranged over Red Cross headquarters with cots from National Guard. Similar story with cots from Navy for Eagle Troop from Tacoma. Volunteers from Jaycees and others quickly handled the chores involved. "Also," he added "Many of the top parade units are coming for a fraction of what they've received for past appearances—just to help us celebrate our Regatta!"

—buy a button—

It seems that Oxborrow has a salmon dish he cooks up that residents of his locality think is pretty skookum, and so he's entering it in the contest. Just how Oxborrow will catch a salmon in that sagebrush solitude, cook it into a savory concoction and get it here in time for the Regatta Seafoods contest is HIS problem.

The problem confronting the chairman of the contest is that not enough local people, who have fresh salmon practically at their front door every day, and have little problem in transportation to the Astoria Armory, where the Savory Seafoods Search will take place Thursday night, are showing enough interest to enter their names. And that, in the very heart of the place where the finest seafoot cooks are born, is a sad situation.

—buy a button—

First place awards in more than 90 per cent of competitive parades entered is the enviable record of the famed 14-man drill team from the Oakland, Calif., Naval Reserve Air Station. Team members practice on their own time and pay much of their own expenses to do the thing most disliked by military men—drilling.

—buy a button—

A variety of music will liven the Regatta march, the Awards Pageant, and undoubtedly downtown Astoria into the wee hours Saturday. On hand will be a variety of drum and bugle corps, plus high school bands, bagpipe bands, and even the Blitz Centennial German band from Portland.

—buy a button—&

Qualified. That's the word for Warren Grimberg, who will handle announcing on the PA system during the parade at the judging and review stand at 14th street. Grimberg is sportcaster for radio station KAST. For the Awards Pageant at the armory, Tony Naimo, 1958 Regatta president, a prime figure in starting the popular awards exhibition shows several years ago, will handle the public address chore, once again. Admission to the pageant is only 50 cents this year, children under 12 free.

—buy a button—

The complete, official lineup for the Grand Land Parade of the 1959 Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, will appear in your Astorian-Budget on Friday. Clip and take the A-B parade program with you to the big 70-unit event, scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

—buy a button—

Later after the Admiral's ball, when the royal court was whisked away to a [illegible] the John Jacob Astor [illegible]

CENTENNIAL

REGATTA
FISH FESTIVAL

AUGUST 27-30, 1959
Astoria ★ Oregon

---OFFICIAL PROGRAM

Ruler of Regattaland

QUEEN BETTY I

Admiral Crowns Queen To Open Regatta Fete

By Philippa Seabrook
A-B Social Editor

A gracious queen, four lovely princesses and a seagoing admiral lighted a flare that set off the 1959 Astoria Regatta and sent it skyrocketing into orbit last night at the premiere festivity in the armory, the coronation ceremony.

Queen Betty Morris, in her royal robes, was escorted by her admiral, Lt. Comdr. Martin Hanson, USCG, along the aisle lined by the Anchor club drill team and a complement of rear admirals to the throne of Regatta land, where she was crowned by Admiral Hanson, and presented her shining scepter by Mayor Harry Steinbock.

Her queenship, choice of the judges, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Lawrence Morris and was Star of the Sea high school's choice for the Regatta court. She is a stately five-feet-seven, has brown gold hair and blue eyes. There were tears close behind those big blue eyes when the judges' decision was announced in the tense atmosphere behind closed doors where the word was awaited. But, queenlike, she got control, and, surrounded by her pretty princesses and their attentive chaperone, Mrs Harry Swanson Jr., she donned the royal purple, accepted the armful of roses and emerged a poised and smiling ruler before the crowd of cheering subjects awaiting her.

Youngsters Follow

Queen Betty and her admiral were followed by her crown bearer Curt Wesley, her scepter bearer Marietta Hope, flower girls Beth Johnson and Joy Lee Anrall and pages Jack Pilgren and Ross Mills.

The court of princess, in short bouffant gowns of seafoam green ruffled net, each with a nosegay of white carnations, were each escorted by a classmate who introduced them at the beginning of the program. Princess Margie Wilson, Seaside, with Jim Roth; Princess Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria high school, with Curtis Greenberg; Princess Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa, with John Wagner, and Princess Jenny Shultz, of Warrenton, escorted by Howard Picard. Queen Betty's escort, Andy Anderson, relinquished his right to escort her a second time up the aisle to the Regatta admiral, but there was a proud and happy grin on his face as he stood on the sidelines.

Mrs. Swanson, official court chaperone, was escorted by Gordon Hutchens, Regatta vice-president, and Mrs Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper, was escorted by Mayor Steinbock.

Ascorting Admiral Hanson at the start of the program was past Regatta president Tony Naimo and Eugene Lowe, Regatta board member.

Band Plays

The Astoria high school band, under the direction of Ted Marshall, summoned the crowd to the ceremonies with a rousing medley of snappy numbers, following up with appropriate marches for the processionals and recessionals of the court.

Robert J Hanson smoothly emceed the show, introducing Dan Hall, who led the singing of the national anthem after the colors were presented and the Regatta Admiral's flag raised by the coast guard. At the suggestion of MC Hanson, the crowd stood in silence in memorium for two past Regatta admirals who died this year, Tommy Luke, Portland florist and traditional booster of Astoria Regattas, and Gen. Thomas Rilea, adjutant general of the Oregon National Guard.

Hallaux Welcomes

Regatta President Hallaux welcomed the crowd to Regatta land, after which several past Regatta queens were introduced: Eleanor Norblad Sorrels, Nancy Fulton Lowe, Jean Maunula Smith, Ann Halderman McGowan and Lydia Dorn Pavlat. Another former Regatta queen, who was present but not introduced because she was still behind scenes with the court, was Josephine Waffle Swanson, court chaperone, who was remembering 25 years ago when she was queen.

During the anxious moments when the judges' ballots were being tabulated, the nerves of the crowd were soothed by a tuneful round of selections by the Surfers, a quartet of high school boys from Long Beach, Wash., Jim Peterson, Carl Brateng, Allen Hansen and Robert Ahrend, who accompanied themselves [illegible] Astoria [illegible] applause for their entertainment.

The Anchor club, traditionally producers of the [illegible] ceremony, were also commended for last night's performance, for the colorful, fan-shaped backdrop and lighting effects on stage and for the snappy marching routines of the drill team and rear admirals. [illegible] Mrs William Leahy and Mrs. Charles Gustafson were [illegible] tion, assisted by the Mesdames Charles [illegible] and Mrs. Art Sch[illegible].

The [illegible] the [illegible] proval of the [illegible] Mrs Donald [illegible] teacher; Donald [illegible] Army depot, and Capt [illegible] ing, Naselle air base.

Festival Activity 'Hectic'

Astoria's 59th annual Regatta off to a flying start before a [illegible] crowd of more than [illegible] persons Thursday night [illegible] full day of activity today with a [illegible] Astoria's colorful and varied foreign [illegible] try on tap at the Armory tonight.

For the [illegible] set Astoria [illegible] the [illegible] children's parade. It starts at [illegible] p.m. from [illegible] court house. Youngsters are urged to appear by 6 p.m.

Consuls Due

Portland consular corps will be [illegible] in the International Smorgasbord and festival which opens at the Armory at 6:30 p.m. A reception is on tap for the 16 foreign consuls. They and all persons attending will be served from a smorgasbord that will feature some 300 foreign food dishes from 16 different nations.

In addition an international program on the slate. Foreign songs and dances will be featured with all groups dressed in colorful native costumes.

Members of the consular corps who will attend tonight's event are: Henry J Black, Austria, honorary consul; Consul and Mrs. Gustav A Heikkila, Finland; Consul and Mrs. K [illegible] and [illegible], Japan; Vice Consul and Mrs. Norman Frickett, Great Britain; Consul Bard C Skulson and sister, [illegible] S Fremont [illegible]; Consul and Mrs. [illegible] and son and daughter, Sweden; Consul and Mrs. [illegible], Norway; Consul [illegible], Venezuela, and Consul [illegible] will not [illegible] Sunday.

Master of ceremonies for the international program is Robert J Hanson. [illegible] Seeberg [illegible] Matt Kiiskila will greet the consuls on their arrival and host them throughout the evening.

Dancers Billed

Finnish dancers, Norwegian dancers, British, Irish and [illegible] songs are slated during the [illegible] program. Mrs. [illegible] is in charge of the [illegible] Hiram [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] Smith are in charge of the International festival.

Regatta activity got under way [illegible] the morning with the Savory Seafoods Search and [illegible] at the 4-H [illegible] grounds. Anne Strachan, chairman of these

70 Units Join in Land Parade

There will be 70 units in the line-up of the big Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival land parade Saturday evening, parade Chairman Bill Ohlmann announced today.

The parade will begin at 6:30 Saturday evening, marching from the vicinity of the intersection of West Bond and West Marine drive eastward along Marine drive to the post office and there swing over to Commercial to continue through the downtown district.

The following lineup of entries was announced today:

Queen's Division

1 Astoria Police department.
2 Color Guard
3 Gov Mark Hatfield and wife.
4 Governor's Official Bagpipe Band, Clan MacLeay, Portland.
5. Foreign Consuls.
6 Regatta Queen, queen's chaperone
7 Page boys and flower girls.
8. Anchor skipper, Mrs. Harry Duff
9 Anchor Club Drill Team
10 Three Black Sisters, Aberdeen, Wash., baton twirling
11 Astoria Royal Chinooks.
12. Salem Cherrians.

Admiral's Division

13. US Coast Guard color guard
14 Admiral of Regatta Lt. Comdr Martin Hanson, US coast guard and wife. Regatta Pres Jean Hallaux
15 Astoria High school band
16. Astoria High school Fish-[illegible]
17 Mayor of Astoria Harry Steinbock
18. Mayor of Gearhart James Scarborough.
19. Antique cars, Joe Nichols, Gearhart.

Division I

20. Beaverton High school band.
21 Beaverton High Rhythm-B's.
22. Beaverton Elks Drill Team.
23. Astoria Motorcycle club.
24 Astoria Plywood float.
25. Sons and Daughters of Norway float.
26 Sons and Daughters of Norway Drill Team.
27. Sunset Area Council of Square Dancers float
28 Morgan's Covered Wagon.
29. Clatsop County Sheriff's Posse.
30 Astoria Hi-Y club.

Division II

31. Uncle Sam, John Vermeul, Seaside.
32. Oakland Naval Air Station Drill Team
33 USN Waves, Tongue Point
34 Longview Boy Scouts D and B Corps
35. Ballard Girls Drill Team, Seattle.
36. CRPA float.
37. Astoria Public Library float
38 Portland Scottish Pipe band
39. Knappa Super Market, two decorated donkeys
40. The Westernettes, Portland.
41. Astoria Clowns (there and there)
42. [illegible] Legion Jr Drum corps, Salem
43. Naselle Air Force Drill Team.
44. Civil Air Patrol, Astoria.
45. Klipsan Council 46 float, Long Beach, Wash
46. Antique Car, Abel Olson
47. Pythian Sisters Drill Team.
48. Pacific Power & Light float
49. Clatsop County Assn. of Retarded Children float
50 Pacific Tel. & Tel. float.
51. Seaside Chamber of Commerce float
52. Seaside Loyal Order of Moose float.
53. Seaside Moosehunters.
54. Blitz band, Portland.
55. Squawmen, Vernonia
56. Clatsop County Wranglers

Division IV

57. Lovey Ward, baton twirler, Aberdeen, Wash
58. Tillamook Elks D-B Corps.
59. Jeanne Maddox baton twirlers.
60. Jeanne Maddox float
61 Ark Assembly of Rainbow Girls Drill Team, Seattle, Wash.
62 USO float
62. Theta Rho Girls, Warrenton.
64. Tacoma Eagles D-B Corps.
65 Eagles Aux. Drill Team, Portland.
66. Cooliettes, Astoria
67 Teen [illegible] Four H
68 Coast [illegible] & Eagles Covered Wagon and [illegible]
69 [illegible] Fire Engine
70 40 et 8 Train

Large Crowd Attends Traditional Coronation

'Oh, no not me,' says Princess Betty Morris as she is informed she has been named Queen of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta. Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club first mate, announced the Queen.

The happy girls sharing Quen Betty's joy are, left to right: Margie Wilson, Mary Jane Kuratli, (Queen Betty), Jennie Shultz and Anna Marie Marincovich. (Photos by Don Chuhch)

Five little Princesses in a row . . . that's the story of this picture snapped at the Astoria Armory as the royal Regatta court arrived for coronation ceremonies Friday night. Pictured, left to right, are Princesses: Margie Wilson, Seaside; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa; Betty Morris, Star of Sea; Jennie Shultz, Warrenton; Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria high school; and Mrs. Harry Swanson.

'I crown thee Queen Betty I of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta . . . with these words Admiral Martin Hanson proclaimed a new ruler for Regattaland. The crown used is traditional and was purchased recently by the Astoria Anchor club. Last year's Queen was Gayle Ross.

Starting her reign Queen Betty I is aided down the stage steps by Admiral Martin Hanson. This scene was taken just after the Queen was crowned on stage at the Astoria Armory Friday night before a crowd of more than 600 persons.

Happy parents join Queen Betty I on stage in this picture for a post-announcement reunion. The proud parents have another princess in the family, Ellen, who was a member of the royal court last year. Left to right are: Admiral Hanson, Queen Betty, the Queen's mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Morris. The picture was taken Friday night.

Admiral Hanson is escorted to the stage as the first ceremony of the Coronation ritual held Friday night at the Astoria Armory. He is escorted by Tony Naimo, left, past Regatta president, and Eugene Lowe, member of the board of directors. The trio are marching down an aisle formed by the Anchor club drill team and the Vice Admirals of the Regatta.

First official picture of the royal court after the announcement of the selection of the Queen catches these engaging expressions. Left to right are: Princess Margie, Princess Mary, Queen Betty, Princess Jennie, Pincess Anna Marie. The royal court was kept in a closed room until the judges made their decision. They nervously talked about 'how they did' on their speeches.

[illegible] pictured above as the Regatta officials turned out to greet the Admiral, Martin Hanson, as he arrived [illegible] the ceremony took place at the east end mooring basin. Tom Dyer piped the Admiral ashore. Harry Swanson was in charge of the greeting party. The Admiral is shown on his tour with Mayor Harry Steinbock.

Traditionally the Regatta board of directors dines with the royal court and the judges, in a pre-Coronation get-together at the J. J. Astor hotel. This year Mayor Steinbock, Admiral Martin Hanson and City Manager William Cunningham headed the list of guests. Members of the board and their wives also attended the informal 'relaxing session' for the group.

Governor To Join In Regatta Centennial Salute

SUNDAY'S TIDES
High 11:11 a.m. 6.1 feet
Low 4:52 a.m. -0.1 feet
High 10:47 p.m. 7.3 [illegible]
Low 4:56 p.m. 2.3 feet

MONDAY'S TIDES
High 11:55 a.m. 6.5 feet
Low 5:37 a.m. -0.4 feet
High 11:35 p.m. 7.6 feet
Low 5:44 p.m. 1.8 feet

Astorian Evening Budget

Eighty fifth year Morning Astorian
Sixty sixth year Evening Budget

Vol. 85, No 201

Astoria, Oregon, Saturday, August 29, 1959

WEATHER [illegible] West Winds

★ ★ ★ ★

Regatta Revels

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The Royal Chinook drum and bugle corps rattled the rafters at the armory during the International Festival in a salute to nine foreign consuls invited to join in the celebration A huge table was set up in the armory for this group and Astorians dressed in colorful native costumes kept it laden with food Hosting the group was William Seeborg with Matt Kujala Mayor and Mrs Harry Steinbock and City Manager and Mrs William Cunningham were also present.

—buy a button—

Street dancers Friday night numbered more than 250 youngsters, according to Joe Tusri, who is in charge of these youth events. A second dance is scheduled tonight between Commercial street and Marine Drive on 12th Street.

—buy a button—

Dr Arthur Huber and his Kiwanis children's parade planners were perplexed about what to do with the big crowd of paraders when they ran-out of free ice cream . so they started giving away free bags of peanuts . . . but they ran out of those as well All told they gave away 320 free ice creams and more than 100 bags of peanuts . . last year only 300 participated in the 'big parade.'

—buy a button—

Astoria's city government entertained the foreign consuls at a special reception held at the John Jacob Astor hotel following the International Festival. Special guests included officers of the Regatta association who have worked so hard promoting this years' celebration.

—buy a button—

Crowd estimates for the Regatta events so far indicate it is one of the most successful on record in recent years Crowd guessers figure that about 700 attended the opening night coronation ceremony and another 900 the International Festival Friday night Experts agree that about 450 youngsters participated in the Kiwanis children's parade This is the largest crowd of youngsters ever assembled for this event No one will guess at the crowd of watchers, but there were hundreds.

—buy a button—

Anchor club members were not "through" when the coronation ended. The busy setting committee had to return chairs to the Anchor club and perform many other chores before caling it a day, a day that began at about '8 a.m. for most of them with "clean-up" at the Armory.

—buy a button—

Judges for the coronation were closeted in a dressing room behind the stage to make their decision. They had 10 large 8x10 pictures of the princesses in the room to help them make a decision.

—buy a button—

The Portland Tourist bureau called the Astorian-Budget today for details on the Centennial Regatta Fish festival They reported lots of tourists are inquiring about the festival and want to come down for the weekend Referred to Regatta officials, the callers were told, "the more the merrier" and several groups are expected in time for the parade marine events and the salmon barbecue

—buy a button—

The purple robe of royalty was placed on Queen Betty I's shoulders by Mrs. William Leahy, first mate of the Anchor club. This is traditionally [illegible] job of the first mate. She walked behind the five girls and placed the robe on the queen.

—buy a button—

Coming up Saturday are marine events at the east end mooring basin, the queen's luncheon for women at the Astoria high school cafeteria, the Zonta tea and style show, the Optimist youth festival and the big land parade and band show following at the Armory

Street dances start tonight between Marine drive and Commercial street on 12th street. Music will be supplied by th Four Tones

—buy a button—

The Astoria high school band did a "tremendous" job of furnishing foot-tapping music throughout the coronation ceremony last night Several out-of-town visitors, talking in the lobby at the coffee counter were heard to ask, "Is that really a high school band? It sounds like big-time to us"

—buy a button—

Old Regatta hands were impressed by the smooth operation of the coronation Thursday night and by the decorations. Responsible for overall program is the Astoria Anchor club. The program went off without a hitch.

Shrimp Recipe Wins Prize

Mrs. Paul Tolonen, 383 Klaskanine, demonstrates for her seven-year-old daughter Andrea the recipe for creamy pink shrimp bisque which won for her the grand prize in Friday's Savory Seafood Search at the Fish Festival. Mrs. Tolonen said it was just a simple recipe. (A-B Photo)

'Simple Recipe' Awarded Seafood Search Prize

Mrs Paul Tolonen, 383 Klaskanine, young housewife and mother of three children, captured the grand prize in the Savory Seafood Search Friday at the Four-H fair grounds with a recipe for creamy pink shrimp bisque (soup to non-cooks) which uses the little Pacific ocean shrimp found off our coasts.

Mrs. Tolonen was not a newcomer to Search prize-winning, as she captured the prize in the appetizer division of the 1958 Search with a recipe for shrimp-filled cream puffs.

"This was just a simple recipe," the surprised Mrs. Tolonen said when informed she had won grand prize this year "I got it out of a cook book and put in a few modifications of my own"

Mrs. Tolonen, whose husband is a boat builder and fisherman, has two sons aged 12 and 9 and a daughter of 7. She also found time to teach sewing in the Astoria school system's adult night classes last year. She says she enjoys cooking, but doesn't care much for baking

Division Winners Listed

Division winners in the Search Friday were:

Appetizers Mrs. Emma Nielsen, first; Mrs William Lindgren, second.

Soups and chowders: Mrs Paul Tolonen, first; Mrs Oscar Gustafson

Salads Mrs Andrew Young, first: Mrs A. B. Curtis, second

Entrees: Mrs. Wes Shaner Jr first, Mrs. Andrew Young, second.

Men's division: C. M Love, first.

Teen-age division Pat Maxwell, first, Rochelle Stramiello, second.

Seafood Search ofifcials said the total entry list this year was considerably under the number last year, and somewhat disappointingly small

The judges, however, said quality of this year's entries was excellent. Judges were Mrs. Grace Phipps, PP&L company home economist, and Miss Zelma Riegle of the OSC marketing staff, along with Dr Edward Harvey of the Seafoods Laboratory, founder of the Seafood Search

Teenarama Featured

A special feature of the Seafood Search Friday was a Seafood Teenarama in which representatives of various girls' organizations demonstrated favorite recipes throughout the day

Participants in this event included Janice Reith and Sandra Osterlund of Rainbow Girls; Pat Maxwell and Carole Hagglund of Job Daughters; Marian Bue and Georgene Moskovita of the Junior Norwegians; Lynette Oakley, Girl Scouts; Susan Amundsen and Sharon Clark, Four-H clubs, Melinda Buderian and Pauline Parrette, Girls Service club; Sheryl Wadsworth and Ann Ysland, Theta Rho; Jane Maki, Girl Scouts.

Here is Mrs Tolonen's grand prize recipe:

Ingredients: One can Pacific ocean shrimp, 3 cups milk; 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoons onion powder; 2 pimentos, minced, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup heavy [illegible] 1 teaspoon sherry flavoring

Drain shrimp and chop and mash to a paste Make white sauce with butter flour and milk Add seasoning, pimento and shrimp paste. Simmer over very low heat until flavors are blended

Miss Anne Strachan, was in charge of the Seafood Search and Teenarama

Parade Feature Of Day

Oregon's Governor Mark Hatfield joins Astoria's Regatta Centennial salute to Old Oregon today as the gigantic Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored land parade, like a restless giant stretching in the sun, begins a two-hour stroll down Commercial street

But the skirl of bagpipes and the blare of bands wil be joined by the roar of hydroplanes and the sizzling spat of a ton of barbecuing of salmon. For the Regatta is just halfway through with its series of events.

Seventy units will participate in the huge parade which experts estimate will take two hours to pass any given point. It will be a crashing, thundering salute to Oregon's Centennial celebration, according to William Ohlmann, parade chairman.

More Events Due

But the parade is just one of the flood of Regatta Fish festival events rushing toward a climax Sunday Still on tap are the band show tonight at the Armory: the marine parade, hydroplane races, blessing of the fleet at the East End mooring basin Sunday; the square dance jamboree tonight at the Naval Reserve Armory; and the salmon barbecue Sunday at the 4 H fair grounds.

Parade time is 6:30 p.m. Included in the big line of march will be 10 military and drill marching units; five drum and bugle corps seven display marching units; two bagpipe units; 16 floats and two high school bands.

Astoria high school's band, directed by Ted Marshall, has been drilling for several weeks in preparation for the parade. They will be joined by the Beaverton high school band in the line of march.

Special Units Included

In addition musical novelty, specialty and honorary units are included Officials of the Regatta association will also ride in the parade. Space has been provided for Jean Hallaux, association president; Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper; Admiral Martin Hanson and his wife.

Queen Betty I will ride down the line of march followed by the members of her court: Princess Jenny Shultz, Warrenton; Princess Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa; Princess Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria high school; Princess Margie Wilson, Seaside

Participants in the parade are scheduled to report at the Jaycee parade committee center near Woody's Drive-In at 5:30 p.m. Floats are to appear at the same marshalling area by 3:30 p.m. for judging prior to the parade. Jack Rieck is in charge of the marshalling area

The reviewing stand will be set up at 14th street with Warren Grimberg handling the public address system.

Bond Show Set

Musical and marching units of the big parade will appear in a special band show or awards pageant to be presented at the Armory at 9 p.m. Paul Johnson heads this Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored event. Winners of parade judging events will be named at this time by Jim Spain, parade judging and awards chairman. Tony Naimo, 1958 Regatta president, will serve as master of ceremonies

Hydroplane races, with the largest number of boats to be offered in recent years, will be featured Sunday. Time trials will be held in morning with the marine parede and the blessing of the fleet. The Rev Carl Gross wil lofficiate at ighe blessing of the flet and Don

(Continued on Page Two)

Bulletin

Wilmer Johnson, veteran Altoona, Wash., gillnetter and past fish boat champion, captured the opening gillnet boat race of the Astoria Regatta Saturday morning.

Johnson nosed out George Siverson, Astoria, who placed second, in the race for boats with 6 cylinder engines of not more than 150 horsepower.

Joe Tarabochia Sr. came in third and Lindor Wegdahl, rdiv- a boat owned by Terry Wegdah, was fourth. Ross Lindstrom placed fifth.

The race involved four laps around a course estimated at a mile and a quarter long making the total distance of the race five miles.

Chris Boldt, last year's winner, had rebuilt his engine recently and did not compete.

Panorama of Regatta Events

A 'groaning' table, laden with some of the top delicacies from all over the world, is shown as the foreign consuls dined at the International Festival Friday night at the armory, shown in the top picture. Visiting consuls are shown with Admiral Martin Hanson in the center. Middle picture shows part of the crowd attending the smorgasette. Some 900 persons were [illegible] In the bottom picture one of the [illegible] themed units in the Kiwanis [illegible] it toured Commercial street [illegible] 450 youngsters participate [illegible]

Smorgasette, Children's Parade Draw Big Crowds

Astoria's 39th annual Regatta, headed for its greatest year, passed mid-point today with an ever-increasing tempo of events, interest and noise rattling this staid old Sunset Empire like it has never been rattled before

Playing to its largest crowds so far the celebration still offers four of its most popular events tonight and —Sunday . . . the grand land parade, the awards pageant or band show, the huge salmon barbecue and the hydroplane races.

Regatta association officials are highly optimistic that this 'economy' version of the annual water festival, which features events at lower prices and more free events than ever before, will be a financial success. So far the outlook is bright, and association President Jean Hallaux and his aides are keeping their fingers crossed.

Parade Large

The first of three big Regatta parades trooped down Commercial street Friday night, the Kiwanis children's parade, and it was the largest in the memory of most veteran Kiwanis club members. Official estimates place the number of parade entrants at 450.

Another capacity crowd, estimated [illegible] attended the International Smorgasette and International Festival at the armory. Food from 300 donors, representing the national dishes of 16 nations, was served on long groaning tables This was followed by a musical program, which highlighted the songs and native dances of many foreign lands. Members of the Oregon consular corps, based in Portland, were special guests

Still another capacity crowd, estimated at 250 at its peak, attended the street dance held on 12th street between Marine Drive and Commercial street

Prizes Won

Grand prize winner of the Kiwanis parade was Barbara Reed, and a group of Captain Robert Gray students, ranging from the third through the seventh grades. The float represented Fort Clatsop and other historical points in Clatsop county. Kiwanians say the parade was loaded with historically themed floats and other entries.

Prizes were awarded in nine divisions for the first three places

Master of ceremonies for the International Festival was Robert J. Hanson This event began last year and has grown to be one of [illegible] Regatta, according to Jean Hallaux, association president.

[illegible]

(C[illegible]d on Page Two

BRIDGE
YOUNGS BAY

Regatta Revels

Regatta Admiral Martin Hanson arrived in Astoria four years ago during Regatta time. He retires this month after 28 years with the Coast Guard during Regatta time. Little did he think he would end his Astoria career as admiral of the festival.

Regatta parade officials were scurrying about Saturday arranging transportation from Portland airport for the drill team from Oakland Naval Air station, temporarily stranded there.

"We're almost broke," leaders of the Ark Assembly Rainbow Girls drill team of Seattle informed Parade Chairman Ohlmann as they arrived Friday. A car wash was quickly lined up for today at Kvistad's service station to help the drum girls finance their Regatta visit here.

Proof of the poise and personality plus of Queen Betty was her little speech, immediately after the coronation. Without preparation, she stepped to the the mike when called upon by MC Robert Hanson, and, after expressing her appreciation to her subjects, ended her coronation speech with "Back the Astoria Regatta and we'll all have fun!"

Astoria's Regatta-Fish Festival ended on a note of seriousness Sunday night as board members led by President Jean Hallaux of the Regatta association attended the Trinity Lutheran church choir concert. The choir presented a program of sacred music depicting the church year. The church hopes to make the event an annual climax to the [illegible] Abrahamsen directed the choir in the choral which featured solos by Mrs. William Seeborg and Mrs. O. W. Dimick.

Roses carried by the Royal Court and Queen Betty I during the grand Regatta parade were donated by the Knappa Quarter Hawks. They gave each of the court members a dozen red roses.

Astoria's Clowns presented Governor Mark Hatfield's wife with a special gift during the parade. It was a special orchid they purchased and it was packaged in an attractive container.

Governor Hatfield was escorted during the parade and onto the reviewing stand by state Representative William Holmstrom. Public address announcer Warren Grimberg couldn't help but note that a Republican was being escorted by a Democrat.

On the reviewing stand much banter took place between Rep. Holmstrom and Gov. Hatfield when two donkeys passed in review during the parade.

Salmon was barbecued Sunday by Frank Swick, mayor of Ridgefield, Wash. He has been doing this work as a sideline for many years. The Sunday [illegible] his 18th of the year [illegible] happy man when the day was over and all the fish was gone. He says it is wonderful to put on such a successful barbecue as the one held here. "Makes the work a lot more fun," he maintains. He started early [illegible] and was not through until late in the afternoon.

"Hardest working" honors would be difficult to place during this "cooperative" Regatta, but Astoria's Lion club members certainly put in a long day Sunday at the 4-H fairgrounds. Led by Ted Rakowski they were the workhorses, doing most of the toting and carrying for the event. Adeline Sather's crew of Sons and Daughters of Norway could just as well claim the honors for "hardest" working also, because they were on hand again for the big Fish Feed.

Optimist club members are very happy with the outcome of the first Youth Festival, according to Ed Luoma, chairman of the day. Held Saturday afternoon the vent attracted approximately 250 youngsters—"at least we gave out 250 prizes," Luoma says.

Weekend Events Climax Regatta

Members of the Governor's official pipe band, the Eugene Highlanders, are pictured as they performed before the reviewing stand in Saturday night's big land parade, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This group is led by Pipe Major Ben Atwood, son of Astoria's longtime city auditor O. K. Atwood. The girls shown here were prepared to do the sword dance.

John Tarabochia, left above, is shown as he receives the Astorian-Budget trophy for the unlimited gillnet boat classification. He is being presented the trophy by Fred L. Andrus, editor of the Astorian-Budget. (A-B Photo)

'Successful' Fete Becomes History

Astoria's four-day Regatta-Fish Festival strode proudly into history today with one of the most successful summer festivals ever held in the Sunset Empire joining the long list of past Re[illegible] cesses.

Even the weather cooperated. What looked like a doomed celebration weatherwise early la[illegible] Thursday basked in a warm summer sun until late Sunday afternoon. Late enough for most of the Regatta's string of events to have run out.

Optimistic Regatta planners said it would be several days before a complete financial statement could be made on the celebration, but 'it looked good.' Regatta President Jean Hallaux said the question is no longer, 'if the celebration broke even, but whether or not it made money and how much it made.'

If the celebration ends up in the black it will be the first time since 1955, the final year of the Salmon Derby.

Termed Success

"Considering the fact that the Regatta was considered dead just a few weeks ago the board feels the celebration was a tremendous success and proves once and for all that Astoria wants a community celebration," Hallaux said.

Crowds jammed every one of the Regatta events. Many of the former 'frills' were cut from this year's austerity Regatta, but the crowds came anyway.

Counting paid ad[illegible] free passes for work[illegible] [illegible] parade [illegible] appr[illegible] [illegible] the total [illegible] onlookers.

[illegible] estim[illegible] figures [illegible] attendance Saturday [illegible] 10,000 per[illegible] An estimated 5000 viewed the Children's parade Friday evening.

Attendance figures indicate the salmon barbecue Sunday at the 4-H fairgrounds was the most popular event of the four-day Regatta-Fish Festival. A total of 2000 persons were fed during the long afternoon.

A steady stream of persons began moving through the lineup just before noon and the line did not slacken until two hours later. The tired workers, led by Lewis Wright, Fish Festival director, were still feeding stragglers at 4 p.m.

Officials at the feed said they heard 'nothing but praise' for the salmon prepared by Frank Swick, mayor of Ridgefield, Wash. It was barbecued in the open with alder wood and Swick was assisted by some of his own crew and members of the Astoria Lions club.

Attendance Listed

For other events Regatta officials listed attendance figures as: Coronation, 850; Children's Parade participants, 450; Smorgasette, 1000; Street Dance, 250; marine events, 1500; Queen's Luncheon, 300; Youth Festival, 250; and Band Show, 1000.

Members of the board of directors were highly pleased with the cooperation from the various groups of the community during the Regatta. Twelve individual community groups were directly involved with promotion of some other Regatta activity.

These included Kiwanis club, Lions club, Beta Sigma Phi, Sons and Daughters of Norway, Finnish Brotherhood, Ladies of Kaleva, Zonta club, Anchor club, Musicians' union, Optimist club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Jay-C Ettes.

Members of the Regatta board included Jean Hallaux, president; [illegible]

'57 Gillnet Champion Wins Title

John Tarabochia, Astoria gillnet fisherman, became a two-time winner of the Columbia river fish boat speed championship Saturday when he piloted his high-powered gillnetter four times around a mile and a quarter course ahead of three competitors.

Tarabochia had won the 1957 unlimited races for gillnet craft at the 1957 Astoria Regatta.

His victory in this year's Regatta race gave him possession of the Astorian-Budget trophy for another year as well as a $75 cash prize. [illegible] victory would give Tarabochia a permanent ownership of the trophy.

'57 Gillnet Champion Wins Title

(Continued from Page One)

Tarabochia had a new boat for [illegible]

The craft in [illegible] 1957 trophy came in second this year, driven by Nick Marincovich, Astoria.

Clarence Barendse, Brownsmead, placed third and might have done better if he had not been forced to stop when a boat running ahead of him broke down on the first lap.

Barendse fell a quarter lap behind the leaders, but came along fast and managed to overtake John George Johnson, Altoona, Wash., the 1958 champion, who placed fourth.

Dan Stephan, driver of the boat that broke down ahead of Barendse, failed to finish the race.

Wilmer Johnson, Altoona, who has won past championships, placed first in a special race for boats of 150 horsepower and less.

George Siverson, Astoria, placed second; Joe Tarabochia Sr., third, Lindor Wagdahl, Astoria, fourth; and Ross Lindstrom, Astoria, fifth.

Johnson, the winner, is a veteran of Columbia river fish boat races and the father of George Johnson, who placed fourth in the unlimited race this year.

Course for both races was four laps around a mile and a quarter course in front of the East End mooring basin. Water conditions were good, with little wind and no choppy water.

The fish boat races headlined Saturday's marine events program, which also included a special race for Sea Scout boats. The Astoria Sea Scout boat Flying Cloud won this race over the Portland boat City of Roses, which had hard luck with a broken rudder. Crew members repaired the rudder and managed to finish the race.

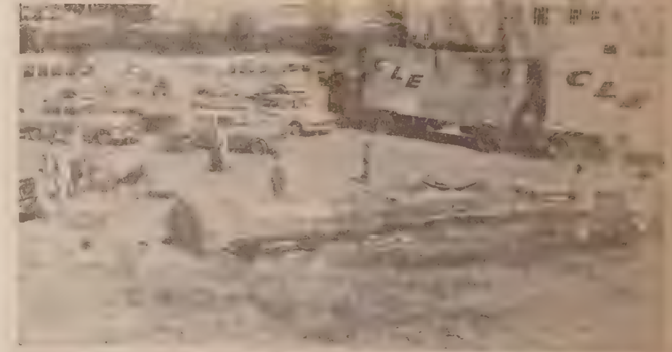
Style Show Held 'On Green'

A new Regatta-Fish Festival event this year was the Zonta Tea and Style Show which immediately followed the Anchor Club Queen's luncheon at Astoria high school cafeteria Saturday noon. The style show was held in the auditorium and the tea 'on the green' in the courtyard formed by the quadrangle of buildings at Astoria high school. Here the Queen of the Astoria Regatta, Betty Morris, is shown on stage as Mrs. Harry Steinbock narrates. Center stage one of the models for the show appears.

Luncheon Attracts Many Women

One of the highlights of the Regatta-Fish Festival is the Anchor club queen's luncheon, followed this year by the Zonta tea and style show. The event attracted a crowd of approximately 300 women, Saturday noon in the Astoria high school cafeteria.

Ridgefield Mayor Barbecues Salmon



A total of 1500 pounds of fresh Columbia river salmon was barbecued at the big Salmon Barbecue Sunday at the 4-H Fairgrounds. More than 2000 persons participated in the event as 'diners.' The fish was prepared by Frank Swick, mayor of Ridgefield, Wash. It was his 18th barbecue for the year.

(A-B Photo)

Regatta Features Gillnet Races

Gillnet races were again a popular feature of the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival. Here an exciting moment in the racing is captured by the camera. Racing this year was in two classifications. The gillnetters rivaled the hydros in speed and action. (A-B Photo)

Junior Drum and Bugle Corps to Parade

[illegible] parade [illegible] members of the Junior Drum and Bugle corps, Sons of the American Legion squadron 136, Salem. [illegible] units, with [illegible] friends accompanying them, will join Clatsop County citizens in celebrating the Centennial Regatta this weekend.

Judge Seafood Search

Judges of Friday's Savory Seafoods Search at the 4-H Fairgrounds were, from left, Mrs. Grace Phipps, PP&L company home economist; Miss Zelma Riegle, OSC marketing specialist, and Dr. Edward Harvey, founder of the Seafood Search several years ago. (A-B Photo)

Float Designers Get Assist

The USO float for the big land parade of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta gets an assist from the top USO official in the United States. Here Holgar Johnson, left, adds some paper to the float being constructed in the armory basement. Assisting Johnson are Mrs. Irene Dunaway and Harvey Taylor, local USO director. The parade starts at 6:30 p.m. this evening. (A-B Photo)

Teenagers Demonstrate Seafood Recipes

Ladies of Astoria's younger set demonstrated favorite recipes at the Seafoods Teenarama held Friday as a Regatta-Fish festival feature. Here Janice Reith, left, and Sandra Osterlund, in white shirts, concoct a salad, as representatives of the Rainbow Girls. Looking on are, from left, Marian Bue and Georgene Moskovita of the Junior Norwegians; Carole Haggland and Pat Maxwell of Job's Daughters, waiting their turns to demonstrate. Several more girls demonstrated recipes through the day. (A-B Photo)

Regatta Admiral Gets Column Photomural

Lt. Comdr. Martin Hansen, Regatta admiral, [illegible] mural photograph of the Astoria column Friday [illegible] miral's luncheon at Tongue Point naval station, where [illegible] ficials were hosts. Presentation was made by Navy League [illegible] man Robert Anderson, left, as a farewell to Hansen on his retirement from the Coast Guard service. (A-B Photo)

[illegible] Martin Hanson [illegible] otomural of the [illegible] riday noon as [illegible] well-attended an[illegible] luncheon for which [illegible] naval officers were [illegible] mess of the [illegible]

[illegible] services in Eugene while [illegible] the university [illegible]

Hanson, a Coast Guard lieutenant-commander when he isn't being Regatta admiral, spoke briefly in response to the [illegible]

Hanson said [illegible] the community [illegible]

[illegible] baked salmon luncheon for some 150 civilian and Navy guests and their ladies.

Champion Elks Drill Team Entered

Adding to the color and excitement of the Centennial-year Astoria Regatta will be many noted out-of-town units. The 18 uniformed members of the Beaverton Elks drill team (above), captained by Jack Lewis, have been champions of the Oregon state Elks association for the past four years. The group is among units signed for the Regatta parade Saturday evening.

Theta Rhos Are Active In Regatta

WARRENTON (Special) - Theta Rho club [illegible] heard a report at their Monday [illegible] that their recent [illegible] and food sale held at the [illegible] cannery netted the organization [illegible]

Plans were completed to take part in the Regatta parade [illegible] the Teen[illegible] and present their drill at the Armory. Cheryl [illegible] and Ann Ysland were [illegible] to represent the club in the Tee[illegible]

Miss Karen Buchanan was elected and installed as secretary of the club. She replaces Susan Jones who resigned because she is moving to Klamath Falls.

Saturday, September 26, is the date set for the [illegible] convention when Mrs. Ann [illegible] Gresham, will pay her official visit. Vernice Dones will be chairman of the conclave in which [illegible] will take part.

Members danced with their invited guests after the meeting. This was the [illegible] of the summer "after [illegible]" dance sessions.

Anchor Club Zontas Honor Royal Court

Several hundred women didn't have to go to London to look at the queen, as the old nursery rhyme says. Instead, they flocked to the Astoria high school cafeteria for the Anchor club's annual luncheon honoring Astoria's Regatta Queen Betty Morris.

Tables were daintily appointed with arrangements of pink and white cactus dahlias and spider chrysanthemums, the miniature covered wagon mint cups at each place carrying out the same color scheme.

Royalty At Head Table

Her Highness Queen Betty, with her four sister princesses, Margie of Seaside, Jenny of Warrenton, Anna Marie of Knappa, and Mary Jane of Astoria; and their chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr., were seated at the head table, with Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper; mothers of the royal court and past Regatta Queens.

Mrs. Arthur Johanson, co-chairman of the luncheon with Mrs. Vernon Larson, introduced Mrs. Duff, who called on Queen Betty for a short address, after which she introduced her princesses, and their chaperone.

Royal Court Mothers

Mrs. Swanson then recognized each mother of the court, and Mrs. Duff continued introducing distinguished guests, Mrs. Martin Hanson, wife of the Regatta admiral; Mrs. Frank Halderman, a past court chaperone, and mother of a former Regatta Queen, past Queens Eleanor Norblad Sorrles, Ann Halderman McGowan, Jean Maunula Reed, Lydia Dorn Pavlit and Marilyn Ransom Gustafson; Mrs. Jean Hallaux, wife of the Regatta president; Mrs. Harry Steinbock, the mayor's wife; wives of foreign consuls in town; and the Anchor drill team, official escorts to the queen.

Miss Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, princess of the 1958 Regatta court, was also recognized.

Mrs. Johanson named each one of her luncheon committee Mrs. Larson, co-chairman, and the Mesdames Hugh Winstanley, Harold Jacob, Paul Tolonen, Jack Springer, Howard Johnson, Arthur Tilander and Joseph Thompson.

A note of entertainment at the luncheon was furnished by a girls' trio from Astoria high school, Marilyn Morfitt, Judy Simonsen and Barbara Davis, with Jocelyn Maddox on the piano, who delighted their audience with vocal selections from modern musical comedies.

Style Show Followed

Immediately following the luncheon, the Zonta club staged a style show in the school auditorium, with fashions from old Astoria sprinkled among the newest for school and fall wear. Mrs. Larry Hirchert was style show chairman.

Mrs. Steinbock was commentator for the show, which featured the new bell sleeves in both casual and dressy wear, a galaxy of bold, bright [illegible] in skirts, with sweaters dyed to match and the new bark shades of cedar, birch and [illegible]

[illegible]

Teen and sub-deb fashions were modelled by [illegible] Dean [illegible] Benson, John [illegible] son and Sandra [illegible] were shown [illegible] Dick Owen, [illegible] Rompanen, [illegible] Maddox, Mary Kaye Kerber and Patricia Eward, young [illegible] by Sharon Baxstrom and [illegible] McDowell; and adult wear by the Mesdames Elmer Shelton, Robert Larson and Richard Ford.

Modelling elborate and picturesque fashions of another era [illegible] the Mesdames Norma Kenwasher, A. J. Dunlop, Chester Love, Jean Yancey, John Sapple, Wilson Siegmund, Ed Niemi and Jeanne Maddox, Debby Anderson, Kathy Puusti and Carola Wolcott.

Entertainment for the afternoon was supplied by a bevy of little ballerinas from the Jeanne Maddox School of Dance.

Following the style show, luncheon was served on the inner green grass court of the high school quadrangle, from a table centered with bright gold and blue marigolds and dahlias, where the Mesdames J. H. Hallaux, president of the Zonta club, and Mrs. Steinbock poured. Members of the Zonta club assisting were Miss Hannah Seeborg, general [illegible] chairman; Violet Gunderson, [illegible] Brown, Helen Sakrison, [illegible], Sylvia Oja, Ellen Palo, Elsie Jarvinen and Lucy Drucker.

"The Three J's" added to the afternoon tea with musical selections.

Hanson Retires From CG

MARTIN HANSON

Lt. Cmdr. Martin Hanson, 49, who served with the United States Coast Guard for 26 years, retired September 1 and plans to enter the school of eduaction at the University of Oregon this fall.

Lt. Cmdr. Hanson left Astoria for a brief trip to California before beginning his studies. His wife and daughter plan to move to Eugene with him.

Coast Guard authorities said the Coast Guard officer came to Astoria and assumed duties as commanding officer of Astoria's port security unit August 22, 1955. For the next four years he directed operations of the unit, taking part in coast guard patrols during the busy sports fishing season on the Columbia river and handling security cases assigned to his unit.

The Coast Guard has not announced a replacement for the retired officer, and during the interim Lt. Max Santee will be acting commanding officer of the Astoria unit. Lt. Cmdr. Hanson's last official appearance was as admiral of the Astoria Regatta.

Centennial Note Added

A Centennial note will be added to the Regatta parade Saturday [illegible] by this display marching group, the Pythian Sisters, Sunset temple 38, Astoria. Shown during a practice session are (front row, from left) Anna Reimers, Louise Beasley, Ann Adams, Dorothy Welfley, Helen Wellman, Francis Snyder; (center, from left) Signe Ekman, Esther Snider, Marie [illegible], Shirley Monsen, Maxine Dymond, Nora Keranen, Rachel Houlihan; (back, from left) Freda Anderson, Viola Sheets, Marie Backa, Rozella [illegible]dle, Della Fox and Gertrude Johnson, drill captain.

Astorian Budget

Published Every Evening except Sunday by the Astorian Budget Publishing Company 981 Duane Street, Astoria, Oregon and entered in the Post Office of Astoria, Oregon as second class matter.

An Independent Newspaper—Morning Astorian (1873) and Evening Budget (1892) Consolidated.

Inexpensive But Successful

The 39th annual Regatta and Fish Festival just ended, was a low-budget affair but surprisingly was one of the best in recent years and one of the best patronized.

Chairman Jean Hallaux and members of the Regatta staff are even hopefully expecting that when final reports are in the festival may have finished in the black—for the first time in many a year.

This was admittedly a "do or die" Regatta. Faced by a deficit from past years and indications of public apathy over several seasons, Hallaux and the staff decided to put on a poor man's Regatta and see if there was enough public interest to keep the event going in future years.

The community verdict appears to have been a solid "yes!"

Not all the Regatta events did well from the patronage standpoint, but enough people turned out in big numbers for sereval of the events to demonstrate that Astoria wants a Regatta.

The parade Saturday evening drew one of the biggest crowds ever seen in Astoria—estimated at 10,000 by some observers. The marine events drew well, with upwards of 1000 watching the outboard races Sunday. An estimated 2000 attended Sunday's excellent salmon barbecue luncheon at the 4-H fairgrounds. Others events also had good participation. And a good many of the participants were out-of-town folks, most of whom reported they had a good time and want to come back again.

Every community needs some sort of annual festival or celebration, to build community pride and solidarity. Our Regatta-Fish Festival is one of the oldest and most famous in the Northwest, with a character all its own. We need to preserve it, and from the results of this year's celebration, we can preserve it.

Sweepstakes Float Shown

Miss Audrey Diiro, employee of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, stands beside the company float in the Regatta parade. Miss Diiro was one of two employees chosen to ride on the float, the other Miss Doris Johnson was not present when picture was taken. The float, incidentally, was chosen by the judges as the grand sweepstakes winner.

8-28-59

Two Cases of Good Management

Chairman Eugene Lowe of the finance department of the Clatsop Centennial committee reports that only 1800 of the 20,000 Clatsop Centennial 50-cent coins issued by the committee were turned back by banks and merchants at the season's end.

Undoubtedly many coins were carried home by visitors as souvenirs, and many others are being retained by local people for the same purpose. This of course is what the committee wanted.

The result of this fine sale of coins is that the Centennial committee is at least going to break even financially and may even be able to [illegible] to the county court, which has [illegible] the Portland Centennial fair booth and other Clatsop Centennial [illegible]

Unofficial reports from the Astoria Regatta committee indicate that this year's Regatta [illegible] financially, even [illegible] some money. A detailed report will be forthcoming soon.

T[illegible] two big events without financial [illegible] is [illegible] achievement. [illegible] the red. [illegible] both the Regatta and the Clatsop Centennial promotion, evidently. Those in charge deserve [illegible] tion for their prudent use of the funds available to them.

Open Forum

MINISTERS OBJECT

To The [illegible] all our [illegible] in and [illegible] of our [illegible] as [illegible] and [illegible] with the [illegible] and [illegible]

Our church constituency, however, holds to the belief that our Christian faith and heritage are at the heart of our nation's strength and success and that we cannot endure as a nation apart from the help and blessing of God.

The churches stand as [illegible] testimony to faith in Him and as the agency [illegible] spiritual [illegible] community which will [illegible] foundation [illegible] country desperately needs in these crucial times.

It is a matter of grave concern to us who are asked to lead in the spiritual life of our people to see the place and importance of the worship of God ignored and flagrantly disregarded in the promotion of [illegible]

W[illegible] leaders of the [illegible] would be no activity [illegible] worship [illegible] the [illegible] in [illegible] other [illegible] but [illegible] whom all [illegible]

We [illegible] that the [illegible] planners [illegible] this highly [illegible] and take appropriate action to correct the error [illegible] and willing [illegible] from a very large [illegible] community.

WALDO [illegible] P[illegible]NAM

President, Astoria Ministerial Association.

Kitchen Mechanics for the Regatta Fish Fry

The [illegible] blowing in the right direction Sunday noon, wafting the [illegible] of barbecuing salmon out over the highway [illegible] county fairgrounds and bringing in hundreds of [illegible] to the event. Responsible for the main course were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swick, Ridgefield, Wash., who are shown here with [illegible] "crew." From left: Bob Graves, Ed Fearey Jr., president of the Lions club which was in charge of the [illegible] Warren Grimberg, unidentified Ridgefield man, Mrs. Swick spreading barecue sauce on salmon filets; Arnold Swanson, unidentified man (in black apron) and woman in cowboy hat from Ridgefield; Frank Swick (in white apron) and Ted Kasowski, [illegible] chairman of the Lions, and fish fry chairman. (AB Photo)

[illegible] 59

Theta Rho Girls DrillTeam Wins Blue Ribbon

Members of the [illegible] club of Warrenton [illegible] drum majorettes and Indian girls are shown in one of [illegible] many drill formations that won them the first prize in the display marching units. [illegible]

Planning For '60 Regatta Launched, Wright Prexy

Astoria Regatta planners, sound[illegible] black for the first time since the celebration was revived after World War II, Thursday night named Lewis Wright, an employee of CRPA, president of the 1960 Regatta.

LEWIS WRIGHT

Wright, who headed the Fish Festival segment of the 1959 celebration, was chosen to head a slate of officers which includes Joe Tursi, vice-president; Ron Graves, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary. Both Mrs. Duff and Graves were re-elected to jobs they have held for the past two Regattas.

Directors also named Henry Griffen, Astoria insurance agent, as chairman of Fish Festival events for the upcoming celebration. Griffen will serve as a member of the board. Two new board memebrs were also seated by directors Thursday night Vernon Larsen, Lovell Auto company; and William Ohlmann, Gimre Shoe store, were elected for three year terms. Larsen served with the Regatta board as president of the Optimist club last year in the organization of the first Youth day activity. This event will again be incorporated into the celebration, directors said. Ohlmann headed the 1959 Regatta parade.

Also named to the board, along [illegible] Tursi and Graves [illegible] three-year term was [illegible] H[illegible] former president [illegible] the association. Holdover directors include Eugene Lowe and Don Garris.

Financial Success

[illegible] President Jean Hallaux in his final statement to the board termed the 1959 celebration a financial success. He said the 1959 Regatta not only paid its own way, but paid off all of the $1400 in bills left over from the 1958 celebration. Hallaux said approximately $2000 is now held in Regatta coffers as a backing to start the 1960 celebration.

Hallaux asserted the healthy financial picture plus the many comments on the quality of the '59 celebration definitely answered in the affirmative the question of whether the community wants the Regatta continued.

"This revival of public interest and enthusiasm for the Regatta indicates support for the celebration runs deep not only throughout the [illegible] throughout the county. It [illegible] that the Regatta, on [illegible] the 1961 Sesquicentennial [illegible] for the city is 'in [illegible] enough to [illegible] an integral part of [illegible] in 1961,' he said.

H[illegible] out the celebration [illegible] in the Pacific Northwest and as such will be at the forefront of the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Northwest's oldest community.

[illegible] the [illegible] tion, [illegible] ex[illegible] from [illegible] and a [illegible] were cred[illegible] the [illegible] cess.

[illegible] the celebration [illegible] have [illegible] made only moderate financial gains, officials pointed out. The celebration has faced a difficult road since the Salmon Derby was dropped in 1956. This event always provided the extra financial spurt to spare the organization from financial failure. It was terminated in accordance with new regulations of the Oregon state legislature which in spirit, if not in the letter of the law, outlawed the fish derbies in Oregon waters. At that time members of the board joined in the conservation effort and since that time have supported this policy.

Directors Praised

Hallaux had high praise for the board of directors. He singled out in particular, the work of Mrs. Lucille Maris, finance chairman, who spearheaded the drive for funds, and Ron Graves, who kept a tight check on the purse strings as treasurer.

Mrs. Maris was recently forced to resign from the board when she was transferred to the Portland office of the Pacific Telephone company.

"without the whole-hearted support on the part of the Astoria merchants and citizens, the Regatta would have been doomed," Hallaux said. He pointed out funds pledged by the county, if the association needed them, were not collected this year. Only $400 of a $1000 pledge by the city was used. Of [illegible] celebration in an advertising campaign and a [illegible] was collected, Hallaux said.

"The Regatta made its way with the support of the people who attended the events and who backed it with button purchases and direct donations for its support," Hallaux said.

However, Hallaux frankly admit-

Regatta Planning Launched

(Continued from Page One)

ted the celebration was a "pared down" event, stripped to barest essentials. He stressed funds left over must become a backlog on which future Regattas can rely and aid the expansion of the celebration along the lines begun and followed in recent years.

Wright, in accepting the gavel from Hallaux, charted another frugal course for the celebration. He also praised the work Hallaux did in bringing the celebration back to financial health and pledged to preserve the financial surplus to insure a Regatta in Astoria's big year of 1961. He stressed that immediate planning was needed to insure a good celebration and set the wheels in motion for getting the 1960 celebration "on the road."

Directors set August 25, 26, 27, 28 as the days for the celebartion. They also set January 7 as the next meeting of the association. At that time Wright will designate committees for the new year and the two new di[illegible] filled.

In a [illegible] to the board Hallaux [illegible] the [illegible] volunteers who [illegible]. He said it was impossible [illegible] all of the persons [illegible] ter, but that [illegible] success [illegible] will [illegible] of directors for the 1960 celebration.

Regatta Planners

New members of the Regatta board, which is making plans for the 1960 event scheduled August 25-28, are James Brunold (left) and Gordon Wolfgram, both elected to three year terms on the board.

Pair Added To Board For Regatta

Astoria's colorful Regatta for 1960 will start Thursday, August 25, with the inauguration of the queen and her court and run through Sunday, August 28, with marine events, parades, youth day and other events, according to reports from the Regatta association.

At a meeting Wednesday night, two members were added to the association's board of directors.

James Brunold was elected to a three-year term on the board and will be in charge of finances. Gordon Wolfgram was voted a three-year term on the board and will handle marine events.

Vern Larsen will be in charge of the [illegible] committee and it was reported that he has begun communicating with [illegible] schools in Clatsop county, preparatory to setting up selection of princesses, who will [illegible] queen.

The Astoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of the parade again for the 1960 Regatta and the Optimist club will sponsor youth day.

Regatta association members said this year's regatta will be one of the most spectacular shows to be held in this area and that ground work is already under way toward making the event a success.

A meeting of the association will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. at 224 Twelfth street.

[illegible]ria, Oregon, Saturday, April 9, 1960 3

Miss Oregon Show, Astoria Regatta on List of State Events

Prominently listed in the Oregon Highway department's [illegible] events schedule for [illegible] mer of 1960 [illegible] Clatsop events, the Miss Oregon pageant in Seaside and the Astoria Regatta.

Copies of the schedule prepared for vacation travellers are available at the Astoria chamber of commerce.

Schedules for several hundred events are listed.

The Miss Oregon pageant, a prelude to the Miss America contest and promoted to choose [illegible] most beautiful and cha[illegible] lady who will receive the title of Miss Oregon and then go to the finals of the national [illegible] in Atlantic City, will take place in Seaside July [illegible].

Astoria, "salmon capital of the world" has scheduled the Regatta for August [illegible].

"This event has gained considerable popularity in the last two years," says the highway depart[illegible]

[illegible]

Jaycees to Seek 1961 Convention

[illegible]

Spain Chosen Parade Head For Regatta

JAMES SPAIN

James Spain has been selected chairman for the Regatta parade for 1960.

Spain, employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and now residing at 479 Commercial, is a past president of the Astoria Jaycees and last year participated in Regatta events as [illegible] and awards.

[illegible] activities [illegible] a later [illegible]

[illegible] as large as in previous years.

Festival Float Prospects Up

[illegible] today from the response to continued appeals for support of the project. [illegible] from individuals, [illegible] and clubs arrived in the mail and in personal delivery to float headquarters at 270 14th street and to members of the committee in charge of the [illegible] arrangements.

Calculation of receipts for the fund in the morning mail brought the balance needed to complete the fund of $2,000 for the cost of the float down to $807.49, according to R. J. Hanson and Gordon Hutchens, co-chairmen of the project. A number of contributions have been promised, but the amounts have not yet become known to the committee, and the balance as of this date is being [illegible] in counting results. The chairmen said they are using the "bird in the hand" basis for the fund, [illegible] that the promised sums will [illegible] reduce the present balance needed.

An envelope arrived at float headquarters in the mail today with the following letter:

Our Girl Scout troop is proud of its community, and we want everyone to know Atsoria is on the map'

Enclosed you will find our contribution of $2.40 toward the Astoria float in the Rose Festival parade.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 75,
Capt. Robert Gray School

The response to the letter mailed to business houses and individuals has been encouraging. It is anticipated that there will be a continuing flow of contributions from this source as attention can be given to the request. Only a small percentage of replies has been received but the early showing of interest indicates substantial interest in the float project.

Construction Eyed

Word was received today from the firm in charge of building the float that construction has been started on the Astoria entry for the Rose Festival parade. The float, comprised of three units plus the power unit, will advertise Astoria's industries and the approaching sesquicentennial [illegible] in 1961. The Regatta court will ride on the float, and the Astoria high school band, Astoria Clowns and the Royal Chinooks will call attention to the city.

Float Funds

Continued from Page 1

Antics of many kinds will take place on Astoria streets tomorrow when the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce turn loose their talents and their numbers in additional effort for the float fund. Bob Jackson, president of the JC's, refused to reveal any of the plans, but he promised them to be sensational at the very least.

"We still have a way to go, but [illegible]" was the way the position of the fund was described by the co-chairmen today.

Regatta Fund Drive Slated

The Astoria Regatta association will launch a drive for funds soon to finance the 1960 Regatta.

Regatta officials said the 1959 event finished out of the red for the first time in years and that they hope to achieve the same goal for the 1960 event, thereby holding down the amount of contributions needed.

Members of the Regatta board and other volunteer workers will take part in the fund drive among local merchants.

James Brenold and Ron Graves are members of the finance committee and in charge of the fund campaign.

1st Princess for Regatta

PRINCESS LINDA DIANE SEE

Auburn-Haired Warrenton Miss Leads Off Court

Hail to the 1960 Astoria Regatta! And three rousing cheers to the first Regatta princess, lovely Linda Diane See, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levon See, Warrenton.

Just when skies look rather gray and nothing exciting or interesting looms on the horizon, here comes [illegible] little princess to make everyone sit up and take interest [illegible] photographers [illegible] reporters scurrying about for cam[illegible] talking Regatta, [illegible] it should be in this [illegible]

[illegible]'s bid to Regatta roy[illegible] hazel-eyed five-feet-four [illegible] with the most engaging [illegible] six counties. She is all [illegible] doesn't go in much for [illegible] loves instead the realm of domesticity of her home where she [illegible] to her heart's content, when she isn't helping out at J[illegible] cafe in Warrenton operated by her family. Incidently, she cooks a mean steak, medium rare.

But she isn't just a homebody, this little princess with the quiet charm and dignity of another famous princess, Margaret of another kingdom. At Warrenton high school, where she is a senior, she ranks third on the graduating class' honor roll. She's president of the National Honor society, treasurer of the student body and business manager of the school annual, the Warrior.

Past honors heaped upon her smooth auburn head were Homecoming queen, winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaking contest, and Girls League Girl-of-the-month. She is also active in Baptist Youth Fellowship at the First Baptist church in Astoria and her hobby is collecting classical and popular stereo and hi-fi records. Once she confessed, she played the [illegible] in the school band.

She plans to go to Lewis and Clark college next fall to major in math and education.

Although she was born in Astoria July 13, 1942, which makes her a winsome 17, and has lived in Regatta land all her life, she has traveled to Florida with her parents on vacation trips and has seen a bit of the country. But I guess you know what part of the U.S. her parents, sister Pamela, a freshman at Warrenton high, and another sister Mrs. Don Baldwin and —Princess Linda like best!

Warrenton high school wildly acclaimed their Princess Linda at a student body dance Friday evening in the grade school auditorium, after the popular votes of the student body were compiled.

Colorful sea-motion cutouts, paper fish, star fish, shells and sea anemones carried out the theme "Sea Fantasy" by [illegible] Wadsworth, decorations chairman. The three finalists with Linda were Judy Eward, Faith W[illegible] and Marie Moore.

Joins Regatta Court

PRINCESS TONI JEAN ETTRO

'Twinkling Star' School's Choice For Fete Queen

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Lovely star of Star of the Sea Regatta princess selection dance Friday evening at the school auditorium was Toni Jean Ettro, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ettro, 1650 Fifth street, picked by her fellow high school students as their contribution to the 1960 Re[illegible]

And as shining and twinkling a star as ever shone in the Regatta skies is Toni, which may have something to do with [illegible] she has lustrous [illegible] dark hair. A little la[illegible] a quiet manner and [illegible] the corners [illegible]

Princess Toni started twinkling in Astoria when she was just a tiny star, coming here with her parents from Anacortes, Wash., where she was born June 23, 1942. She started school at Star of the Sea in the first grade, and will complete her high school education in June, which makes her a loyal star through and through. She plans to study medicine at [illegible]urst college in September, advancing to physical therapy in a special school in San Francisco.

Dramatics are her side line in school, and she took one of the leads in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" her sophomore year, and this year was mama in "I Re[illegible]ama", the class play. She was vice-president of the National Honor society, vice-president of her class, cheer leader, junior class princess for the junior prom, and attended the youth leadership conference in Seattle her junior year. This year she was queen of the junior prom, president of the Honor society, yell squad queen, student body secretary, and a member of Sodality and Quilisma club. Besides that, she likes to sew and cook (when she has time), swim in Coffenbury lake and dig clams. The latter, she confessed, she dearly loves to do.

At home in the royal family there is a sister Judy, sophomore at Star of the Sea high school, and brothers Mike, sixth grader, and Pat, fifth grader, both at Star of the Sea. Oh, yes, and a cocker spaniel "Twirp", who also considers himself part of the family.

And her favorite dish is good old fried chicken, this five-foot-four bit of royalty admits, even if she has to cook it herself, she added, with a twinkle.

Here's 4th Princess

PRINCESS GWEN JONES

Gwen Jones To Be Seaside Princess

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Staff Writer

From the kingdom by the sea in Regatta land comes the fourth member of the 1960 Regatta court, Princess Gwen Jones, Seaside high school's choice at a dance to pick their own fair lady last Friday [illegible]

[illegible] you know [illegible] Seaside pick[illegible] It isn't [illegible] pony tail or [illegible] the ready smile [illegible] that's as sunny and warm as, well, as the beach at Seaside on a summer day, all mixed up with the excitement of crowds of happy people and popcorn stands and candy shops and merry-go-rounds. She loves people, you can just tell, by the intent and interested way she listens when others talk, and laughs with them.

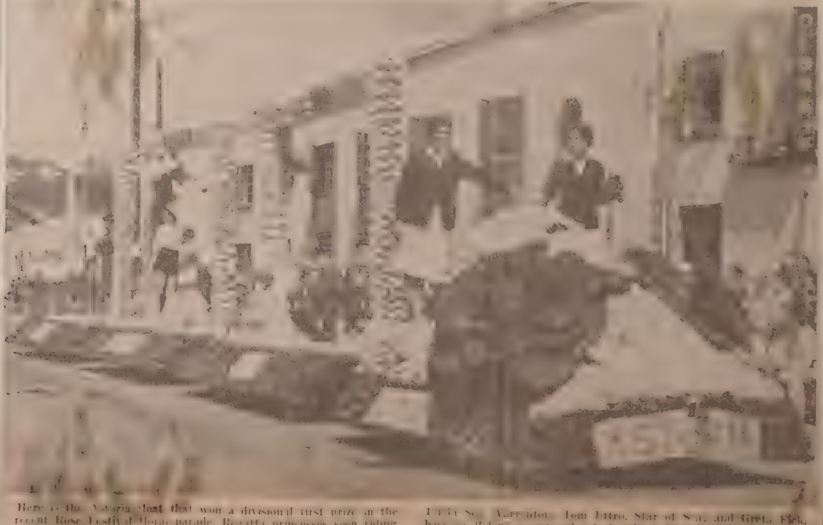
Daughter of Mrs. Dorothy A. Jones, she was born July 22, 1942 (she's 17 now), in Spain, S.D., she moved with her parents to Monmouth, then to Forest Grove, then to Seaside, which probably was the luckiest move for all concerned.

At Seaside high school in her junior year, she was a Girl Stater, junior prom princess, took a major role in the junior class play "Golden River," was a finalist in the UN speech contest and went on to the state finals. This past year, she was queen of the senior ball, Girl of the Month (Friendliness) for Girls league; varsity cheer leader, took a leading role in the "Red Key," drama class production, was Girls league vice-president; was chosen Miss Congeniality in the finals for the title of Miss Seaside and was the most friendly girl in the Seaside high school hall of fame. That should prove our point.

Outside of school, she is a member of Maple assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, plays the piano and sax (jazz is her favorite type of music), likes to play tennis and collect stuffed animals.

She has a sister Creddwynn (Creddy), a junior at Seaside high, a [illegible] freshman, and a younger brother Sydney at Broadway grade school (all of whom are pretty excited about their royal sister. After school and weekends she works at Ter Har's gift shop, for she hopes some day to go to Monmouth [illegible] to study [illegible] school [illegible] [illegible]

Here's Astoria's Prize Winning Rose Festival Float



Here is the Astoria float that won a divisional first prize in the recent Rose Festival floral parade. Regatta princesses seen riding on the float include, from left Gwen Jones, Seaside, as an Indian; Linda See, Warrenton; Toni Ettro, Star of Sea, and Greta Fisk, Kna[illegible] B[illegible] post and out of sight is Jocelyn Maddox, Astoria. The float called attention to the Regatta and Sesquicentennial.

Royal Chinooks to Appear in Regatta Parade

The Royal Chinooks drum and bugle corps will be among attractions in the 40th Astoria Regatta parade. The corps, with 25 members, is a Clatsop county unit and Gov. Mark Hatfield's official drum and bugle corps. The Royal Chinooks, organiz[illegible] in 1957, have won many first place awards in parades, including first place in the 1960 Rose Festival parade. (Ned Thorndike photo)

Seafair Unit Head Named Fete Admiral

AL OPSATA

[illegible] Seattle Seafair [illegible] organization of [illegible] business and pr[illegible] have assisted [illegible] financial [illegible]

8-2-60

Beaverton Elks Drill Team Billed

The Beaverton Elks drill team will appear in this year's Regatta parade, the 4th annual event. The parade, with a theme of "Astor to Astronauts" is scheduled for Saturday, August 27, at 4 p.m. The Regatta will be held August 25-28.

Kiwanis Hears Regatta Court

[illegible] cesses and their chaperone, Mrs Robert McClean.

The five princesses making their ninth public appearance so far this summer, all made short talks on various phases of Regatta activity.

Princess Toni Ettro was heard on Regatta history, Linda See on the duties of the royal court, Greta Fick on Regatta parades, Jocelyn Maddox on marine events and Gwen Jones on Fish Festival activities.

Lt Comdr. William Ayers, executive officer of the submarine USS Salmon, spoke briefly. He said the Salmon's crew was being entertained well here and enjoyed the Astoria visit the vessel is making this week.

Don Patten now of Corvallis and a former Astoria Kiwanis president, was a guest. Patten was here on a couple of days' visit.

8 5 60

Court Being Entertained

[illegible]

Regatta Pin Sales Kicked Off

[illegible] first purchase being made by [illegible] Harry Steinbock. Pictured from left are [illegible] board member Bill Ohlmann, City Manager William Cunningham, Steinbock, [illegible] Westman and Susan Larson. The girls are chairmen for Rainbow activities during the Regatta. (A-B photo)

8 5 6.

Evening Astorian-Budget, Astoria, Oregon, Saturday, August 13, 1960

Tongue Point Drill Team Joins Parade Entries

The Tongue Point navy drill team will make its first Regatta parade appearance this year. The unit, formed two months ago, has appeared in three parades so far and has won two first place awards in drill team competition.

A.H.S.
STUDENT BODY
WORK PARTY
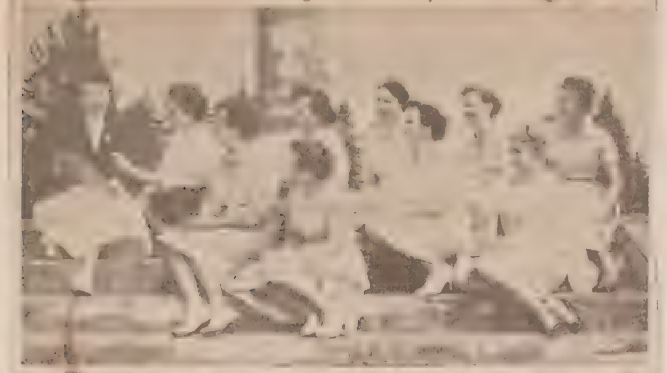
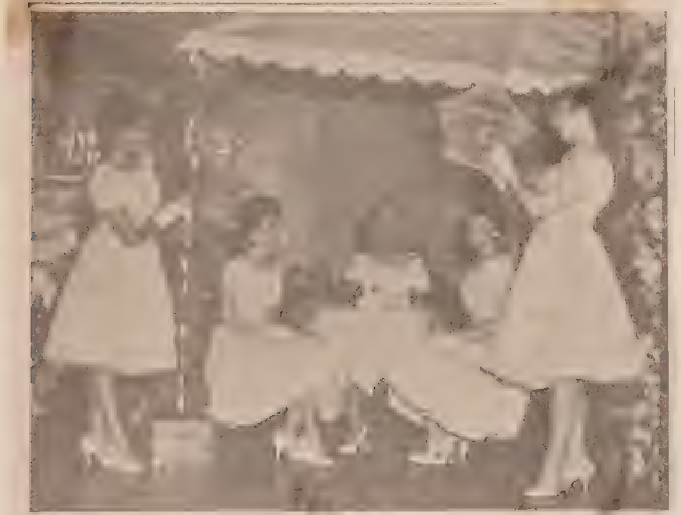
FOR REGATTA FLOAT
MONDAY, AUGUST 15
PIER 3
FROM 6 PM. TO 10 P.M.

This Space Courtesy
Hughes-Ransom Mortuary
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

Anchors Are A-Weigh for a Royal Court Tea



At the foot of the Astoria column [illegible] were in the wind for the event at the top of the list of [illegible] events, the Anchor club's afternoon tea honoring the Regatta [illegible] 2-4 p.m. at the Yacht club [illegible] this year is Vivian Graves, top row, in dark jacket and next to her in the same row are Virginia Reiter, Carol Gunderson, Jane Seeborg, Edna Lovvold and Louise Dreitlein. Seated in front, from left, Jane Tilander, Margie Thompson, Ann [illegible] and Audrey Diiro. Also serving on tea committee for big social event open to the public, but not present for picture are Doris Bryant, Shirley Landwehr, Bea Cederberg and Lois Hoyer. The five Regatta princesses, their chaperone, mothers and past Regatta royalty will be honored.



The five Regatta princesses pose prettily "in a little sidewalk cafe on the streets of Paris, which was really a corner of the Yacht club, where the Anchor club held its annual Regatta court tea Saturday afternoon. From left, standing by a laurel terrace, is Princess Toni Ettro, seated at the cafe table, are Princesses Jocelyn Maddox, Greta Fick and Linda See, and "bird watching" is Princess Gwen Jones. The blue cotton afternoon frocks of the court, were worn over many frilly petticoats. (A-B photo)

Anchor Club Serves Tea On 'Sidewalks of Paree'

The sidewalks of Paris were transplanted, with all their colorful and light-hearted atmosphere, to the Astoria Yacht club Saturday afternoon for the sake of five pretty "Parisiennes," the Regatta princesses, who were guests of honor of the Anchor club at their annual Regatta court tea.

Shades of lavender, from purple through mauve to pink, were the color scheme throughout the club rooms. Guests entered an "outdoor" shrine, with a bird bath and white stone path leading to a two-and-one-half-foot tall statue of St. Francis in a setting of greenery and lavender and white flowers.

The main lounge of the clubhouse opened up onto the "streets of Paris," where wrought iron flower carts held pots of lavender flowers and window boxes "bloomed" with gladioli, stock and dahlias in various shades of purple repeated in large standing containers about the room.

Sidewalk Cafe Setting

The stage depicted the traditional sidewalk cafe, under a gay lavender awning fringed with white, where tables were set with checked table cloths in the same shade and wicker bird cages, potted shrubs and flower carts were atmospheric against a backdrop of open shuttered windows hung with lavender cafe curtains.

The tea table, covered with a lavender net pettiskirt, daintily ruffled, and emblazoned with large silk pastel butterflies, was centered with a massive bouquet of lavender and pink roses, gladioli and baby breath in the light of tall matching candles in crystad candelabra with prism drops. Silver platters held a myriad of dainty tea sandwiches and petit fours in laveder, pink and white, and mints and candies re- [illegible]

[illegible]

by Mrs. Bob Graves, tea chairman; Mrs William Leahy, Anchor club skipper and the official court chaperone Mrs. Robert McLean, who introduced the five princesses, Linda See, Jocelyn Maddox, Tonie Ettro, Gwen Jones and Greta Fick. Assisting about the rooms were the Mesdames Al Sorkki, Bob Reiter, Vernon Larsen, David Hoyer, Al Mather and Miss Clovia Wells, all officers of the club.

Assisting With Crowd

Assisting Mrs Graves as tea chairman were Mrs. Bill Malmberg and Mrs. Arthur Tilander, decorations chairman, with the Mesdames Kenneth Hill, Bob Reiter, John Seeborg and William Gunderson, Mrs. Rudy Lovvold and Mrs Dick Thompson, tea committee chairman, assisted by the Mesdames Hoyer, Peter Bryant, Robert Landwehr, William Dreitlein, John Cederberg and Miss Audrey Diiro, and the clean up committee composed of the Mesdames Arthur Anderson, Herman Haggren, Malmberg, Dreitlein and the Misses Wells, Ann Strachan and Frances McMa[illegible]na.

Mrs Gustafson presided at the crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Mogenson registered the guests, both at tables covered with white fringed pink lavender cloths.

'How to Do' Smorgasette Now Record

If anyone were to ask "What's cooking in Clatsop?" it is probable and most likely a barrage of answers would be fired back at him from several score of women and men who are preparing dishes for the Regatta International Smorgasette to be served Friday at the Armory, starting at 6 p.m.

Co-ordinating the gigantic task of collecting donations of prize dishes from both amateur and professional cooks throughout the area is the lot of Ethel Sparks, secretary of the Smorgasette committee. A complete list of all donors, the types and the "nationality" and each dish has been compiled by Mrs Sparks, as well as the names of all organizations, clubs and individuals who are contributing to the dinner in work hours as well as food. This data, carefully filed with phone numbers and other salient information, will be available for future smorgasettes in years to come for any organization that desires to sponsor this phase of the Regatta due to the work of Mrs. Sparks.

Volunteer groups from the various organizations, civic, service, fraternal and union, will prepare food on Thursday and Friday. Produce will be delivered by the several local companies and grocery stores Wednesday and Thursday. Hot dishes and salads will be brought in not later than 4 p.m. Friday, the day of the smorgasette. Bread, cakes, cookies, butter and cheese are to be brought to the Armory Friday at 1 p.m.

All this will be checked in by Mrs. Sparks, who will give a free tickets to each donor or worker. These tickets and those bought at the door the day of the smorgasette will be torn in half, the first [illegible] each diner to make the rounds [illegible] Mrs. Sparks, who [illegible]

Awards Pageant Plans Completed

Gene Nelson, Jaycee chairman of the 1960 Regatta parade awards Pageant, announced that the event is almost completed.

The colorful attraction will again follow the land parade Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Astoria Armory.

Nelson stated that there will be 14 entries, all performing their specialty routines under ideal conditions not always possible during the parade through Astoria.

Each unit will perform approximately five minutes, with the Pageant lasting about two hours.

Awards Pageant Set at Armory

[illegible] highlight [illegible] this year's parade.

The event is set for 8 p.m. at the Astoria Armory August 27. [illegible]

Open Forum

[illegible]

Children's Parade On Slate

[illegible] Arthur Baber and Marvin Taylor.

Annual Regatta, Fish Festival Kickoff Awaited

Astoria's big annual fun festival, the Regatta and Fish Festival, will get under way this week.

The four-day affair starts Thursday afternoon, continuing through Sunday afternoon.

The number of visitors this year will probably be augmented by Oregon National Guardsmen of the anti-aircraft artillery group who began their annual two-week encampment at Camp Rilea this week, 1200 strong, and by an estimated 1200 people who will come by special train Sunday for the salmon barbecue, closing event of the Fish Festival.

Arrival of Admiral Al Opsata of Seattle Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and his official reception at the John Jacob Astor hotel will launch the Regatta officially, according to Lewis Wright, general chairman.

Dinner Planned

The admiral will arrive at the hotel accompanied by Beryl Swails, official admiral's aide. Mayor Harry Steinbock and Regatta officials will be on hand to greet the admiral.

A dinner for Admiral Opsata will precede the coronation of the queen at the Armory Thursday night.

The coronation ceremony will include selection of the queen from among the five princesses—Toni Ettro, Linda See, Jocelyn Maddox, Gwen Jones and Greta Fick. The Anchor club will be in charge of the queen selection and coronation ceremony, as in past years. A dance will follow the coronation.

Friday's program includes an official luncheon for Admiral Opsata at Tongue Point at noon, the annual big Kiwanis childrens' parade at 6 p.m. and the Fish Festival Smorgasette at 6 p.m. at the Armory. The number of dishes to be offered at the Smorgasette will be the biggest in the history of the event, according to Adelaine Sather, in charge.

Saturday's big program starts at 10 a.m. with marine events at the East End mooring basin, including gillnet and sailing races, water skiing demonstration and other stunts.

Youth Day Billed

Youth day athletic events for children, sponsored by the Optimists, starts at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Gyro field. The Anchor club will give a queen's luncheon at noon, and at 4 p.m. will come the big Regatta parade. A band show is scheduled Saturday night at 8 on Gyro field.

Sunday's program includes hydroplane races, to be held this year on upper Youngs Bay, above the highway bridge, starting at 9 a.m.; marine events starting at 10, and the big salmon barbecue at the Four-H Fair Grounds at noon.

A special railroad train, sponsored by Portland railroad enthusiasts, is expected to bring 1200 guests just in time for the salmon barbecue, and for a tour of Astoria to follow.

Continuous events to be in progress through the whole Regatta period include a bowling tournament at Lower Columbia Bowl with Helen Sorkki in charge; a golfing tournament at Astoria Country club, with Vern Larson in charge, a gem and mineral show, and open house at Tongue Point and the historical museum.

Chairman Wright said preparations for the annual festival are well advanced. A final meeting of the Regatta committee is scheduled tomorrow night to consider last-minute details.

The hydroplane races this year are officially sanctioned by the Northwest Power Boat association, which will handle all details of the races. A large entry list of power boats is reported.

Smorgasette To Spread World Feast

[illegible] "the big feed" of the Regatta, which has been in the planning stages for the past several months will become a succulent and savory reality Friday, August 26, at the Astoria Armory, with serving to start at 6 and to conclude "when the food or line ends."

The annual serve-yourself buffet, dreamed up during the Lewis and Clark Sesqui-centennial celebration here four years ago by Miss Adelaine Sather, has grown to such gigantic proportions embracing the whole community, the whole community has been asked to lend a hand. And it has, according to the committee of modis operendi at the top.

"Every individual, restaurant and organization we have asked to help or contribute has consented enthusiastically," the committee co-chairmen Helen Bowers, Dora Johansen and Miss Sather stated. Cafes, snack bars, supper clubs and other such places of business are sending their most famous dish each, or contributing the service of their kitchens or help.

Because of the international "flavor" of the king-sized smorgasbord, all the nationalities in the county will be represented by dishes from their native lands, both from individuals and from restaurants specializing in a foreign food. Prize recipes from the finest cooks, both professional and "home" are promised, and in each case (unless the ingredients are kept secret because of professional pride or family tradition) recipes of each dish are requested, to later be compiled into a cookbook, which will be sold to tourists all over the country, for the benefit of the Regatta association for years to come.

Among the specialities that will grace the long tables, where six lines will keep the diners moving with little or no delay, are turkeys and dressing, Caesar salad (prepared on the spot by a famous chef), every other variety of salad in the book, shrimp, crab and other native seafood, along with salmon, white fish, fish stew, fish balls in the best Nordic tradition, meat balls, too, by the hundreds, hot breads, rolls and coffee cake from Norway, Swedish, Finnish, Danish, Slavonian and German kitchens in the area, pies, cakes and those crispy little cookies that appear at every Nordic festivity, and dishes from Mexico, the Philippines, China, Japan, Greece and every other country represented in this little United Nations of Clatsop county, the committee said.

Not all the flavor and color will be spread on the tables, however. Flags from many nations will accompany the Stars and Stripes. All the women serving will appear in native costume, and all those attending are asked to come in costume, either of their own fatherland or of one they have [illegible] to represent.

The price for adults will be $1 with as many trips [illegible] each individual [illegible] children 6-12, 50 cents [illegible] under 6 free. [illegible] only.

KIWANIS KIDDIE'S PARADE

Have Entries Set by Friday Night

BIKES, TRIKES, FLOATS

Be There 6 P.M.

friday, Aug. 26th

Duane, Back of Court House

This Space Courtesy

Hughes Ransom Mortuary

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

ASTORIA SEASIDE

★ ★ ★

Regatta Revels

★ ★ ★

[illegible] between 10 a.m. [illegible] Saturday [illegible] and Mike Sorkki, Gene Lowe, Earl Vinson and Arvi Severson will use their boats to tow skiers.

Regatta officials announced the annual admiral's luncheon will be held Friday noon, August 26, at the Tongue Point BOQ. All businessmen [illegible] and Regatta admirals [illegible] are invited to attend. Reservations for the luncheon [illegible]

The Regatta association fund drive is lagging [illegible] sary amount to [illegible] the financial [illegible] in staging the [illegible] to last-minute [illegible] events to take place next week it may be that [illegible] will not be [illegible] a member of the Regatta [illegible] if such businesses [illegible] rectly to the [illegible] Such action [illegible] great[illegible] ciated by the [illegible] and [illegible] insure future Regattas for the community.

[illegible] ex-ad[illegible] and [illegible] type of loyal [illegible] Festival bo[illegible] Wear [illegible] this 40th annual Regatta [illegible] visitors the nautical at[illegible] they ex[illegible] in the city [illegible]mer.

[illegible] Governor Mark O. Hatfield will attend this year's grand [illegible] of the 40th annual Astoria [illegible] parade is set for [illegible] August 27, at 4 p.m.

[illegible]

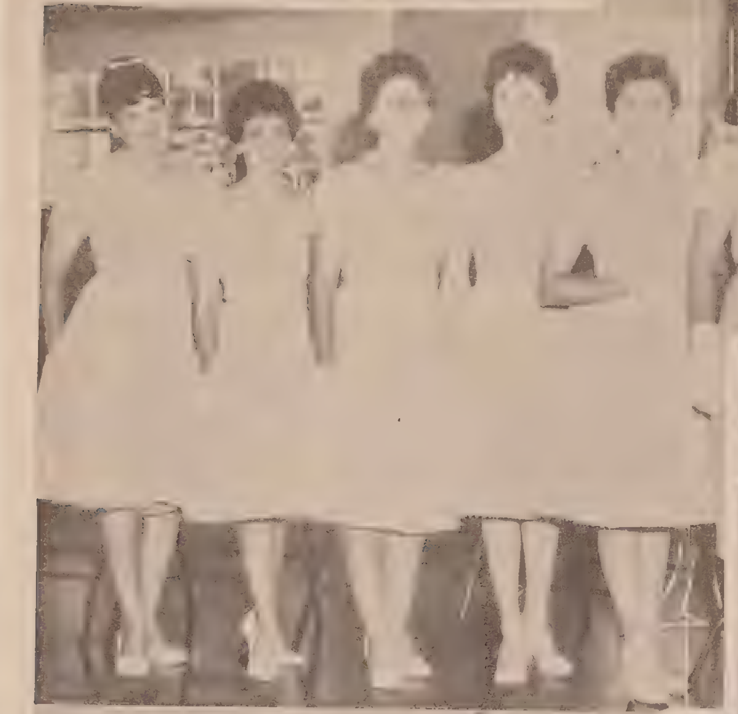
★ ★ ★

Regatta Revels

★ ★ ★

[illegible]

Royal Court Manners At A Tea (And Afterwards)



All lined up and pretty as a picture were the five Regatta princesses in the receiving line at the Anchor club tea, given in their honor Saturday afternoon at the Yacht club. All smiles and gracious manners, they are, from left, Princesses Gwen Jones, Jocelyn Maddox, Greta Fick, Linda See and Toni Ettro, with Mrs. Robert McLean, their charming hostess, Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club skipper, and Mrs. Robert Graves, chairman of the traditional event.

Courtly manners and decorum were cast aside after the tea was over, and the Regatta princesses, ruffled petticoats a-flutter in the sea breeze, "ran away" down to the yacht club moorage to inspect the many boats tied up for the coming Regatta and fishing season. Here, they approve of the slim, trim lines of Gene Lowe's cruiser which took them out on a royal cruise the next day.

After standing in line for two hours, three thirsty princesses headed for the punch bowl as the last guests leave. Princesses Greta signs the guest book while Princesses Linda has a cup of ice cold punch poured by Princess Gwen.

Two little princesses, Jocelyn and Toni, relax over a cup of tea after greeting guests in the receiving line all afternoon, with lots to giggle about, now that the tension is over. Probably new white slippers were kicked off (but the camera missed that). While the girls were down on the moorage slip, there came a ship a-sailing and it was none other than the graceful Flying Cloud, the Sea Scouts doughty craft. "Ahoy there, Flying Cloud!" sang out the princesses. And "Ahoy there, princesses! was the answering salute from the Sea Scouts as they sailed by.

REGATTA QUEEN
SELECTION and CORONATION

Thurs., August 25th
8 P.M.---Astoria Armory
ADULTS $1.00 — STUDENTS 50¢

CORONATION BALL TO FOLLOW 9:30 P.M.
(TEENAGERS ARE ESPECIALLY INVITED)

SPACE COURTESY
HUGHES-RANSOM
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

Snappy Fashion Show to Spark Queen's Lunch

Again this year, the Astoria Zonta club will present a fashion show at the Regatta Queen's luncheon to be held Saturday at the John Jacob Astor hotel, with the style show expected to begin at 1 p.m.

Three local clothing stores, two featuring girls and women's wear and one showing children's clothes, will provide the fashions for the show and Mrs. Harry Steinbock will do the commentating. A committee of five women of the local Zonta club is working on the plans for the show and besides Mrs. Steinbock, are Blanche Mjelde, Evelyn Lazarus, Norma Hirchert who is president of the club, and Mary Ristola, general chairman. Eighteen models will show a total of 36 different styles and they are expected to range from play and school clothes for the kiddies, school and dressy clothes for the high school set, through casual and dressy clothes for women.

In addition to sponsoring the style show, the Zonta club is also helping provide food for the Smorgasette which will be held on Friday evening, and several Zontians will help serve in the popular Regatta event to be held in the Armory.

Pomp and Ceremony Planned for a Lovely Queen

Coronations for the crowned heads of the kingdoms of the world—take place with pomp and ceremony, but there is none more exciting or more important to residents of Regatta land than the crowning of its lovely and gracious queen, Thursday, the opening night of the Regatta. Which one of the five pretty princesses she will be is no concern of the Anchor club coronation committee, shown above. But theirs is the chore of setting the stage, arranging all the many details, getting the coronation [illegible] ready, the shining scepter and jewelled crown out of their hiding places and ordering the royal bouquet. Marge Smith, far left, [illegible] with Donna Gustafson for the setting, is seated next to Marge Kubik, program chairman, with next in line [illegible] June [illegible], Lila Altheide, Donna Gustafson and Helen Sorkki, coronation general chairman. (A-B photo)

Many Help To Put on Smorgasette

A list that resembles a cross-section of the population of Astoria is behind the scenes, working on the Regatta smorgasette, to be served Friday at 6 p.m. at the Armory.

Assisting Helen Bowers and Dora Johansen, co-chairman, and Miss Adelaine Sather, a member of the advisory committee of the Regatta smorgasette committee are representatives from 90 per cent of the organizations and clubs in the area, men from the unions, store managers, restaurant operators and countless individuals who have promised to bring food dishes for the event.

The chairmen ask that those bringing donations mail their cards in to Mrs. Ethel Sparks, 1059 Duane, or call her, if they have not received cards, so such donations can be checked off at the door when they are borught in to the Armory and free tickets to the smorgasette be given each donor.

In charge of the mammoth menu planning job is Mrs. John Hiestand. Mrs. Russell Snider with the help of Olney residents and their wealth of flower gardens, is in charge of decorations, and Marjorie Hendrickson is in charge of public relations.

Among the chairmen of the foreign foods are Mrs. Sigfred Axelson and Mrs. Mat Kujala, Finland, Mrs. Marciano Pizzaro and Mrs. Helen Balan, the Philippines; Mrs. A. H. Lofgren, Sweden, and Mrs. Henry Hammarsh, England.

Eva Coe of the home extension group, is salad supervisor; Mrs. Henry Larson has charge of fish balls, Mrs. Astrid Wooley, pickled herring, Mrs. Chester Love, pickled salmon and sturgeon, Mrs. Andrew Young, fish specialties.

Tongue Point chefs are cooking all the meat balls and scalloped potatoes. Several of the town's supper clubs are roasting the turkeys in their ovens. And Jack Dorm is in charge of all men workers who will set up tables, bring in chairs and put up flags.

The young people of the community have expressed a desire to help, and so their services will be put to use as waitresses, bus boys, errand runners, garbage disposers, etc. Some of these are the Girls Service club, the Rally squad, Pepsters and Fisherettes of Astoria high school, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Junior Norwegian dancers.

Tickets purchased at the door will be torn in half, the committee reminds those planning to attend, to be used at the main table and the dessert table, or a refill at the main smogasbord if dessert is not desired.

There will be three tables, beside the dessert table, with a double line at each to accommodate the early diners and the crowd expected after the children's parade later. Coffee stations will be placed at convenient intervals about the big room and there will be two punch bowls.

Astoria, Oregon, Wednesday, August 24, 1960 PRICE 7c

Regatta-Fish Fete Debut Near

* * *

Regatta Revels

* * *

The Portland Scottish pipe band will again appear in this year's Regatta parade. The band claims to be the oldest continuous musical organization in Oregon, having been originally organized in 1906.

Also appearing in this Saturday's parade will be the Sons of The American Legion junior drum and bugle corps from Salem, making their second appearance. The unit consists of 28 uniformed boys.

Don Boyd, radio announcer on KVAS, will handle announcing on the PA system during the parade at the judging and review stand at 14th and Commercial. Boyd, also publicity chairman for the Regatta parade, stated that announcement of the 1960 Regatta queen coronation and pictures of the Regatta court will be on Chuck Foster's News Thursday at 10 30 p.m. on KOIN-TV channel 6.

Taking colorful form in the parade Saturday will be the float division. Jack Rieck, parade marshall, stated that all entries should be at the parade formation headquarters at Woody's drive in at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Parade chairman Jim Spain expects a large and colorful parade this year. Entries are still coming in and the march is expected to draw from 65 to 75 units. The Jaycees have sponsored this event for several years. A complete list of parade entries and formation will be in tomorrow night's Astorian-Budget.

Drum and bugle corps will be one of the highlights of the 40th annual Regatta parade, dubbed "Astor to astronauts." These include the Tillamook Elks drum and bugle corps, the Les Mariners American Legion junior drum and bugle corps, the Longview-Kelso area junior drum and bugle corps, the Sons of The American Legion squadron 136 drum and bugle corps, the McClaren school for boys junior drum and bugle corps, and our own Royal Chinooks drum and bugle corps.

Mrs. Ivy B. Archer, Portland, 1901 Regatta queen, will attend the Anchor club luncheon Saturday honoring this year's and past Regatta queens. Mrs. Archer came here for the 1959 Oregon Centennial year Regatta and had such a good time she wanted to come back this year. Reservations for the luncheon must be made by tomorrow, by calling FA 5-4769 or FA 5-0988.

Behind the scenes, caring for and pressing the royal court's clothes, are Mrs. Vernon Larson and Mrs. Arthur Johnson. They were also responsible for selection of the court's wardrobe.

Contributions are still coming in and since it will be impossible to list the names of all sponsors in the program, a complete list will be published after the Regatta.

Past Regatta queens expected to attend the Queen's luncheon Saturday are Mrs. Ivy Archer, 1901 queen, Mrs. Judy Palmberg, 1956, Mrs. Ann McGowan, 1941; Mrs. Josephine Swanson, 1934, Mrs. Jean Reed, 1937.

TV Horse Billed for Parade

Stanley Anderson and his horse will be among attractions in this year's annual Regatta parade. The horse is the Cisco Kid's mount for his television series. The animal dances to band music, prays and performs other tricks. Anderson and his horse have appeared in many parades on the west coast including this year's Rose Festival parade. After the Saturday parade which starts at 4 p.m., children of all ages may ride the horse at the 4-H fair grounds.

8-24-6

Regatta Week

The annual Astoria Regatta, one of the oldest and best of the Northwest's community festivals, gets under way tomorrow.

The Regatta has been augmented in recent years by addition of the Fish Festival activities, to make it the annual Regatta and Fish Festival. This has added much to the interest of the annual celebration, particularly by the inclusion of such events as the smorgasette and salmon barbecue for the benefit of those interested in tasty eating—as who isn't.

Prospects for a successful Regatta and Fish Festival are bright this year, if the weather man will only cooperate.

So far this week it has seemed that the presence of Regatta week, plus a fleet of sport fishermen, plus an army of National Guardsmen in our area has just been too much temptation to the weather gods, for they have dumped a quantity of unseasonal rain upon us. Let's hope they have got it out of their system and will restore our normal late August sunshine the rest of this week.

4-Day Affair Billed

The annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival gets under way tomorrow, with prospects of brightening weather but with a threat of more showers still hanging over the area.

Enthusiasm was high for a successful event, with community spirits stimulated by good gillnet salmon fishing the past week to put new life into the community's economy.

"It looks as though we really have something to celebrate now," said one Regatta official.

The Regatta [illegible] final meeting [illegible] Chairman [illegible] Wright [illegible] final details.

The weatherman said today that the five day outlook [illegible] but said he wouldn't [illegible] more showers.

Armory Readied

Preparation of the Armory for Thursday night's queen selection and coronation ceremony [illegible] progress today and [illegible] to be [illegible] rehearsal scheduled this [illegible] The Anchor club, headed by Al Sorkki, chairman, is in [illegible] of the coronation scheduled [illegible] p.m. in the Armory.

Arrival of [illegible] from Seattle and his [illegible] ing in the lobby of the [illegible] hotel at [illegible] p.m. [illegible] Fish Festival [illegible] from then [illegible]

Thursday's [illegible] also includes [illegible] mural and Regatta [illegible] p.m. [illegible] Astor [illegible] coronation ball at 9.30 in the Armory with Tooey Fowler of Astoria high [illegible] chairman.

[illegible] make [illegible] to [illegible] commence [illegible] admiral's [illegible] Point, which will launch the Friday program. Warrant Officer J. O. Bunnell of Tongue Point is chairman.

[illegible]

The [illegible] also a [illegible] parade at 6.30 with [illegible] Farmer of [illegible] Kiwanis club [illegible] smorgasette [illegible] Adelaine Sather [illegible]

[illegible] Regatta [illegible]

[illegible] Dave Edison [illegible] Joe Turst [illegible]

[illegible] held. Paul [illegible] man for the [illegible] Saturday [illegible] direct a [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Stramcho bands.

Vol 86, No 203 PRICE 7c

Regattaland Awaits Annual Four-Day Celebration

* * *

Regatta Revels

* * *

At the coronation Thursday night all queens of former Regattas are invited guests.

Persons attending the awards pageant at 8 p.m. Saturday will have an excellent view as their favorite drill teams, drum and bugle corps and bands perform routines. The event will be held at the Armory and will last two hours. There'll be 12 entries, each performing approximately five minutes. Gene Nelson, Jaycee chairman, stated the units will have an opportunity to perform under ideal conditions not present during the parade.

From Seattle will be two cross [illegible] in the drill team division [illegible] for Saturday's Regatta parade. Performing in both the parade and the awards pageant will be the Arch assembly of Rainbow and the Ballard girls drill team. Also entered in the event are the ladies Eagles drill team, the Beaverton Elks 1989 drill team, the Tongue Point Navy drill team, making their first appearance, the Beaverton Elks Belles drill team, the Oakland naval drill team, and the F.O.E. 4 drill team.

Appearing in tonight's Astorian-Budget is a complete list and formation of the 1960 Regatta parade on Saturday at 4 p.m. Clip out and take with you to the event so you'll know exactly what unit is passing before you.

A small admission charge will be made for all non-wearers of Regatta buttons at the hydroplane races on upper Youngs bay Sunday afternoon at 1, according to Gordon Wolfgram, chairman of the race committee. Permission has been obtained to bloc off the Williamsport road along the Youngs bay shore for use of race spectators, Wolfgram said, and it will take a Regatta button or small fee to get on this road.

Preparation of the 250 pounds of cole slaw for the salmon barbecue is no small task. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen, proprietors of Thiel's restaurant agreed to furnish the kitchen facilities of their restaurant as a place to prepare the slaw. The preparation of the cole slaw will be done by a corps of top cooks, who are all members of Culinary Alliance local 311. They are Jack Wiesner, Grant Tubbs, James Sneddon, Walter Anderson, Cris Evans and John Ochal. These cooks agreed to do the job as a gesture of good will toward making the annual Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival a success.

Planning a Luncheon Fit for a Queen

A luncheon fit for a queen will be the Anchor club's final tribute to the Astoria Regatta, when they stage the annual queen's luncheon Saturday noon at the John Jacob Astor hotel main dining room. The event, open to the public, has a reservation deadline Thursday evening, and will honor past Regatta queens and visiting dignitaries here for the four-day festival. Getting ideas for luncheon table decor is the committee for the luncheon, co-chairmanned by Leona Tolonen, left, and Pauline Winstanley, right, with Mary Lou Haggren, Sheila Frederickson and Helen Niemi between them. The luncheon will be followed by a Zonta club fashion show at 1 p.m. Also on committee but not in photo, are Ellen Conger, Nancy Thorsness, Pat Simonsen, Beverly Wilson and Carol Seppa.

Portland Girl To Greet VIP's At Event

BERENICE RIEHL

A gracious, personable young career woman, Berenice Riehl, manager of the American Express Travel Service office in the new Meier and Frank's store in the Lloyd's adidtion, Portland, will be in charge of the honor table at the Regattta Smorgasette Friday evening.

This table will be reserved for the Regatta admiral and queen with her court and chaperone, Regatta president and officials and members of the foreign consulate offices in Portland, who are planning to attend the event.

Miss Riehl, who has travelled extensively for her company, and who is well-versed in meeting and greeting VIP's in her work, will be hostess for the distinguished guests in town when the Smorgasette is served, starting at 6 p.m. She will have charge of the decorations, introductions and seating at the head table, acting as one of the several hostess-greeters on duty.

Miss Riehl states in a letter to the Astorian-Budget that although she has directed many tourists to Astoria and this locality, she has never been here and is looking forward to her visit Friday, so she "can find out more about the area" herself.

All women and girls serving this table will be in costumes of foreign countries, the Smorgasette committee states.

Opsata's Arrival To Launch Fete, Coronation Set

Official Regatta [illegible] will be [illegible] for Astorians [illegible] this week as the annual Regatta and Fish Festival gets under way [illegible].

Preparations for the festival went ahead despite [illegible].

Admiral Al Opsata of Seattle is due in town this afternoon to launch the event and will be greeted officially at a [illegible] at the J. J. Astor hotel by Mayor Harry Steinbock, Regatta Chairman Lewis Wright and other civic officials.

Regatta Activities

Thursday, August 25

- 5 p.m.—Greeting of the Admiral, Lobby of J. J. Astor Hotel
- 5:30 p.m.—Admiral Court Dinner, J. J. Astor Hotel, Helen Sorkki chairman
- 8 p.m.—Coronation at the Armory, Helen Sorkki chairman
- 9:30 p.m.—Coronation ball, Armory, T. Fowler, chairman

Friday, August 26

- 12 Noon—Admiral luncheon, Tongue Point, J. Bunnell, chairman
- 6 p.m.—Smorgasette, Armory, Adeline Sather, chairman.
- 6:30 p.m.—Children's parade by Kiwanis, Chuck Farmer, chairman.

Tonight's main event will be the Regatta queen selection and coronation in the Armory. Judges have been chosen, dress rehearsal was held successfully Wednesday evening and the Armory stage has been bedecked for the occasion.

An official Regatta golf tournament was to get under way today at the Astoria Country club to continue through tomorrow, with Vern Larson as chairman.

Six foreign consuls will be guests at the big Smorgasette scheduled Friday evening at 6 in the Armory.

The consuls, official guests of the city, are all from Portland. They are Bardi G. Skulason, Iceland; Gustav A. [illegible], Finland; Malcolm B. [illegible], Sweden; Lorentz Braun, Norway; Gustav Lafee, Venezuela; Henry Bloch, Austria.

Regatta officials today released a list of 61 entries in the big land parade scheduled at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The list includes:

Queen's Division: Astoria police escort, Naselle Air Force Station color guard, Gov. Mark Hatfield, Royal Chinooks drum corps, Regatta queen and court float, Anchor club drill team, Regatta court chaperon, Regatta junior court and Anchor skipper, Rainbow girls drill team, antique car—1909 Buick driven by Abel Olson.

Admiral's Division: Admiral Al Opsata, Regatta President Lewis Wright, high school band, high school Fisherettes, high school foreign exchange student, high school float, Mayor Harry Steinbock, [illegible] 1913 Reo driven by [illegible].

Parade Lineup

Division I: Stanley Anderson and horse, [illegible] McLaren, [illegible] drum corps, Portland Rose Festival queen, Portland Rosarians, Long Beach, Wash., [illegible] float, Miss [illegible], Tongue Point drill team, Clatsop County Wranglers, Astoria [illegible] club.

Division II: St. Helens [illegible] group, Clan Macleay Pipe band, Sons and Daughters of Norway float, Lanette Herold and donkeys, Sherri [illegible], [illegible] drum corps, Moose [illegible], 1903 Cole driven by [illegible], telephone company float, Oakland Jr. [illegible] drill team, Power company float, Lonnie Logsdon and horses.

Division III—Portland Scottish pipe band, USO convertible, William Rising in horse and carriage, Beaverton Elks Belles drill team, Beaverton Elks drill team, [illegible] Morgan in horse and carriage, [illegible] Square Dancers, [illegible] Olson's [illegible] Buick, [illegible] American Legion drum corps, [illegible] Clowns, Cub Pack [illegible], Ballard Girls drill team, Seattle; Clatsop Sheriff's posse.

Division IV: [illegible] CRPA float, Eagles [illegible] team, Eagles [illegible], Gearhart [illegible] Beach [illegible] float, Eagles band, Junior Mustangs, Four H Teen Trotters.

Former Astorian Recalls Past Regatta Sailing Races

William Tabell, former Astorian, displays picture and trophies of the Undine, sailing ship owned by his father Zach Tabell, a winner of many Regatta sail boat race during the late 1890's.

Memories of former day Regattas, when white-winged sail boats dipped and glided along the Columbia's waters were revived with the recent arrival in town of William Tabell, former Astorian, now of Seattle.

Tabell remembers when, as a small boy, his father's sailing yacht, the Undine, and his uncle's ship, White Wings, scudded down the river in the annual boat races that characterized those early day Regattas back at the turn of the century. And he had the goods to prove it, in several faded pictures of both the Undine and the White Wings, and some silver cups and trophies the two graceful boats won in the annual competition.

Both boats sailed out of Willapa bay, still called Shoalwater bay then, down the Washington coast and up the Columbia each year to take part in the races at Regatta time.

Zach Tabell, William's father, sailed his Undine, a 38-foot boat with 12 foot beam built in 1897, and William's mother's brother Roy Mills, skippered his White Wings. The record run from Bay Center to Astoria was won by the White Wings in six hours. The Undine, on the other hand won seven first prizes in the Regatta races through the years. Prior to the Undine, William's father Zach owned the Pearl, built in 1894, which he sold and had the Undine built.

The last race the friendly rival brothers-in-law had was at Tokeland in 1906, with eight sailboats competing, and the Ocean Wave, built by Roy Mills' father, and sailed by Roy beating out the Undine by 11 seconds.

Tabell and his wife were in Astoria and Seaside for a few days' visit last week, renewing memories and looking up old friends. He is in the tamale and chili business in Seattle, a restaurateur like his father before him, who had Tabell's Oyster House here on 12th street in 1897.

Maybe, some day he'll come back at Regatta time, but it won't be the same, he smiled, without the sailing boat races and boats like the Pearl, the Undine, White Wings and Ocean Wave.

Vol 86, No 204 Astoria, Oregon, Friday, August 26, 1960 PRICE 7c

Queen Gwen Rules Land

Regatta Revels

★ ★ ★

[illegible] flavorsome at the Smorgasette tonight don't just thank the cooks, who have been working for the [illegible] sacks of turnips, carrots zuccini squash, onions and lettuce, all top grade, in fact, prize-winning pro[illegible]

[illegible] Woods's Drive-in all other entries not later than 3 30 p m

Last minute entries received by Jim Spain, parade chairman, for Saturday's big march include the Beta Mu Theta Rho of Warrenton and the Nomadettes Glockenspeil band. The group from Warrenton includes 14 members, a novelty group headed by Ruby Kelly. The Nomadeetes Glockenspiel band from Portland will be another attraction in the Regatta parade. The band is from the Knights of Pythias.

James Spain, chairman of the 1960 Regatta parade, announced that plans for this year's event are almost complete Spain confirmed that Queen Jean Ann I 1960 queen of the Rose Festival, will join the march through Astoria Saturday at 4 p m Accompanying her will be the Portland Rosarians, about 15 in number

Floats will play a colorful part in this year's parade Included will be Queen Gwen Jones and her 1960 Regatta court's float, built by the Astoria junior chamber of commerce and the Jay-C-Ettes Pacific Power and Light and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company will have entries Also included will be the Sunset Area Council of Square Dance clubs, the Sons and Daughters of Norway, the Degree of Pocahontas Klipsan No. 46 of Long Beach, Wash , and of course, the Astoria high school float. The newest colorful entry is the Astoria Public Library James Spain stated that the USO will also be entered

No parade is complete without a comedy hit, and this year's attraction has a variety. The Astoria Clowns will entertain as well as the Olney Community church with their horse and buggy entry Also entered is William Rising from Portland, donkey and buggy, and a host of comical attractions.

Gene Nelson, awards pageant chairman reminded Astorians that this year's pageant is set for 8 p m at the Astoria Armory Saturday night. The colorful and entertaining event will attract drill teams, drum and bugle corps, and bands all performing under ideal conditions

Rotary Anns Hosts to Regatta Unit

Figurines, representing each individual princess of the Astoria Regatta court graced each princesses' place as a favor when the Rotary Anns entertained the court at dinner at the Sunset Empire room Tuesday evening

The figurines, used with white spider dahlias for decor on the tables, were made by Mrs Charles Mestrich, and later were presented to the princ[illegible]

Mrs Robert [illegible]an, Rotary Ann president, was also a special guest for the evening as she is official court chaperone, so Mrs Byron Roman, vice-president, presided.

The trio from Astoria high school, Marilyn Morfitt, Judy Simonsen and Barbara Mott, accompanied by Faith Mattila, sang several songs as entertainment Mrs. Roman introduced every Rotary Ann present who had been a member of the Astoria Regatta court in the past

Special guests, besides the court were Mrs Ed Miller and Mrs M R Brown, Walnut Creek, Calif

Mrs Jerry Sullivan was chairman for the dinner meetin[illegible] assisted by Mrs Richard Paul[illegible]o and Mrs. Charle Mestrich

The Old Armory Never Smelled So Good!

The aroma of good food cooking was on the wind yesterday, and if you followed your nose, you would have ended up at the Armory, where, in the basement a mammoth kitchen, with four stoves, eight refrigerators and many long tables were set up in preparation for the smorgasette tonight at 6 p.m. Members of the extension units were frying mountains of golden brown fish cakes, stirring gallons of spicy spaghetti, mixing mammoth pots of beans and chopping, and paring mounds of fresh 4-H vegetables for hot casseroles, to go with all the foreign foods to be brought in along with roast turkeys, fried chicken, etc., etc., etc. "Presiding at the aluminum services of the efficiently decorated stoves" were from left, the Mesdames Arthur Swanson, Hilmer Lofgren, Edwin Kumpula, Marvin Wright, Stuart Coe, H. A. Symmonds and Alvin Olson, the latter two hoisting a pan of spaghetti. In the background, three stalwart males had just brought in three (new) garbage cans of scrubbed spuds, Mike Searles, left, John Birdeno, Ted Sparks

QUEEN GWEN JONES OF SEASIDE

Regatta Admiral Al Opsata, left, and Mrs. Opsata are shown receiving official greetings from Lewis Wright, Regatta chairman, Friday afternoon in J. J. Astor hotel upon the admiral's arrival from Seattle. The admiral was guest at dinner, attended the coronation and today was playing golf as guest of his official Regatta escort, Beryl Swalls. A-B photo)

Seaside Princess Judges' Choice For 1960 Queen

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Woman's Editor

The 1960 Astoria Regatta is under way, launched last night by handsome Admiral Al Opsata and his lovely queen, Gwen I, ruler of all the happy wonderland of Clatsop county.

Queen Gwen, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy A. Jones of Seaside, entered on the arm of her admiral, after the judges' decision was disclosed in the inner sanctum, where the five lovely princesses were closeted at intermission time of the evening's colorful coronation pageant. Royal purple robes draped her shoulders for the long walk between ranks of rear admirals and the Anchor escort team amid cheers of her delighted and thrilled subjects (about 1000 or more), and up to the eat of honor on the throne of Regatta land. With poise and reverence she knelt as Admiral Opsata placed on her dark hair the glittering crown of brilliants, relinquished seconds before by tawny-haired Betty Morris, queen of last year's Regatta Mayor Harry Steinbock presented her with her gleaming scepter, which is an open-sesame key to the whole county, really, and gracious ex-Queen Betty, in a pretty farewell speech, handed Queen Gwen her royal bouquet of deep pink roses, a complement to her dainty pink ruffled net gown

Regatta Launched

Then with a welcome speech to her subjects that won their hearts, lovely Queen Gwen declared the 1960 Astoria Regatta was under way. And so it was, in as happy a start as ever a Regatta was begun

The whole evening was a success, from both the standpoint of

(Continued on Page 2)

Regatta Events On Tap

The Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival moved into its second day under apparently clearing skies today.

Following a highly successful coronation ceremony [illegible] night, today's program [illegible] a luncheon honoring Admiral Al Opsata at the [illegible] quarters Tongue Point naval station.

Tonight tasty dishes will be available for all at a Smorgasette to be given in the Armory, with Adelaine Sather in charge

Regatta Activities

Friday, August 26

6 p m — Smorgasette, Armory; Adelaine Sather, chairman.

6 30 p m — Kiwanis children's parade, Commercial street, Chuck Farmer, chairman

Saturday, August 27

10 a m — Marine events, East End Mooring Basin; G. Wolfgram, chairman.

Water skiing, Al Sorkki, chairman.

Sailboat Races; Dave Edison, chairman.

Gillnet races; Joe Tursi, chairman.

10:30 a.m.—Optimists Youth Day field east of Gyro Ed Luoma, chairman.

12 Noon—Queen's luncheon, J. J. Astor hotel; Pauline Winstanley, chairman.

Style Show by Zonta following; Mary Ristola, chairman.

4 p.m. — Land parade; Jim Spain, chairman; downtown Astoria.

8 p.m.—Band show, Armory; Gene Nelson, chairman.

A big attendance is expected for this event, which in past years has built up a big reputation among lovers of good food.

Several foreign cousuls from Portland will be honored guests and will have a special table for their benefit.

Children's Parade Slated

The annual Kiwanis children's parade also is on the program this evening. Director Charles Farmer said that entrants are to assemble at 6 p.m. in back of the court house for judging and assignment to divisions The march, along Commercial from 8th to 17th, will begin at 6 30

Prospects seemed good today for favorable weather for the parade.

The Kiwanis club will serve ice cream at the Armory at the parade's end and is giving three cash prizes in each of eight parade divisions, plus a $5 grand prize.

Saturday's program will be a busy one, with gillnet boat races starting at 10 at the East End Mooring basin, along with other marine events. The Astorian-Budget trophy again will be awarded to the gillnetter winning the unlimited championship of the Columbia river. John Tarabochia won the trophy last year.

Sports Events Scheduled

The Optimist club has lined up an extensive program of sports events for children starting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at McCallister field on Exchange street just east of Gyro field. All youngsters are invited to take part.

A queen's luncheon honoring Queen Gwen Jones and members of the royal court is scheduled at noon Saturday at the J. J. Astor hotel, with the Zonta club sponsoring a style show.

The big land parade, with 81 entries, is scheduled at 4 p.m. Saturday. It will form on West Bond just west of the intersection of Marine drive. It will swing westwart into Marine drive and march to 8th, then swing over to Commercial and march to the Four-H building.

James Spain, parade chairman, said all units except floats are to report at the formation area not later than 3 p.m. Saturday. All floats are to report by 2:30.

Judging of entries will take place at the formation area.

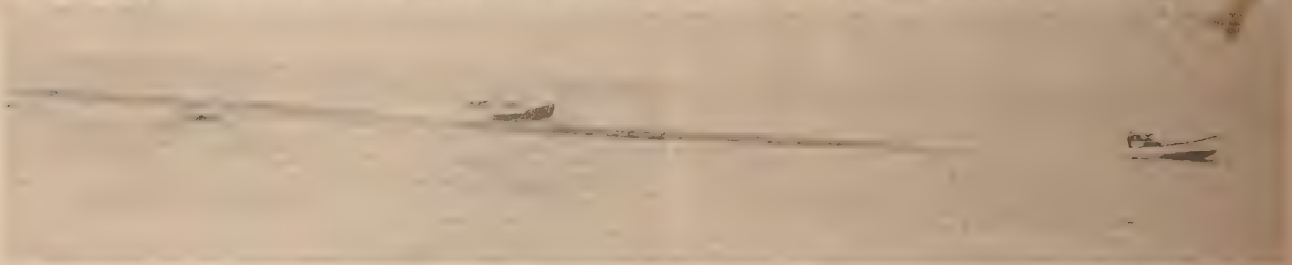
Jack Reick has been named parade marshal in charge at the starting area.

Final event Saturday will be the band show at 8 p.m. at Gyro field.

Admiral Opsata received an official welcome Friday afternoon from Mayor Harry Steinbock, the Regatta court, Regatta C[illegible] Lew Wright and other Regatta officials Thursday afternoon at 5 in J. J. Astor hotel.

Mrs Opsata, accompanying the admiral, also participated in the short ceremony.

Scenes From Last Weekend's Regatta Program



Whizzing propellors gouged huge chunks of Columbia river water Saturday as these four speedy gillnetters took off in pursuit of the unlimited speed title of the river Terry Wegdahl, Puget Island, shown at right, took the lead at the start and sped around the course well ahead of the other contestants all the way. In fact as Wegdahl neared the end of the second of two laps he slowed down to make

The Royal Chinooks drum and bugle corps, chosen by Gov. Mark Hatfield as his official corps, had the honor of marching with the state's chief executive in the big Regatta parade Saturday. Here is the corps.

The Optimists took over McCallister field for Saturday's Regatta Youth day program. Many races were held for some 200 youngsters of all ages. Here are third and fourth grade girls lined up for the start. Queen Gwen and the royal court were among visitors at the day's program.

Here's the Regatta Royal Court float which marched near the front of the big Regatta parade Saturday. The float, carrying Queen Gwen and princesses, is flanked by an Anchor club marching escort.

Juicy slabs of salmon baking over an open fire are shown here as preparations were under way for Sunday's salmon barbecue. More than 1400 people dined on the salmon prepared under direction of Frank Swick, Ridgefield, Wash. Swick, in white and wearing a straw hat, is seen holding a big fork at right center of photo.

Sheriff Carl Bondietti and son Carl boarded a horse to simulate a real western sheriff in the Regatta parade Saturday. The sheriff seemed perfectly at home in the saddle, and so did son Carl.

This carload of little girls rode with the Portland Scottish Pipe Band in Saturday's parade. In front of the reviewing stand the girls disembarked from their car and proceeded to do a Highland dance for spectators.

In the reviewing stand are, from left Gov. Mark Hatfield, Mrs. Hatfield, Mrs. Lewis Wright, and Regatta Chairman Lewis Wright, all looking well pleased

250 Have Lunch With Queen Gwen

Dining with royalty appeared to be the favored pastime for women Saturday when more than 250 crowded the John Jacob Astor hotel for the traditional Anchor club luncheon for the Regatta Queen.

The charming, poised and gracious young ruler, Gwen Jones of Seaside, with her court of four pretty princesses and her chaperone Mrs. Robert McLean, were escorted by the Anchor official escort team to the head table which was covered with a coral organdy cloth and centered with coral and white dahlias.

In fact, large spider dahlias in those same colors were used on all the long luncheon tables, with artistic pieces of driftwood furnishing also attractive arrangements at the entrance of the mezzanine. Favors of canned fish, wrapped in seagreen cellophane, topped by miniature crabs and starfish graced each place.

Mrs. Hugh Winstanley, luncheon chairman introduced Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor skipper, who in turn, made the following introductions: Queen Gwen, her princesses Greta Fick, Linde See, Toni Ettro and Jocelyn Maddox, their chaperone Mrs. McLean, the mothers of the court, members of the junior Regatta court, past Regatta queens, including Mrs. Ivy B. Archer, the 1901 Regatta queen; Mrs. Al Opsata, wife of the Regatta admiral, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, wife of the mayor; and Mrs. Louis Wright, the Regatta association president's wife.

The luncheon which featured crab louis and hot rolls, was followed by a style show put on by the Zonta club, which deserves a story of its own.

[illegible] sting Mrs. Winstanley in the [illegible] eon arrangements was her co-chairman Mrs. Paul Tolonen, with the Mesdames Fred Frederickson, George Niemi, Frank Thorsness, Allard Conger, Kenneth Simonsen, Herman Haggren, Hugh Seppa and Woodrow Wilson, who were all recognized from the floor at the luncheon's end.

Marchers Ready For Parade

Much ingenuity and skill was evident when more than 100 young Astorians marched in the annual Kiwanis children's parade Friday evening. Top photo shows some of the entries in the bicycle division; lower photo the grand sweepstakes winner, a carriage float. (A-B photos)

Hatfield To Join Event

[illegible]

[illegible] Mark Hatfield [illegible]

[illegible] ade route after 3 p.m. today.

The parade starts at 4 o'clock at the West Astoria business districts and moves eastward along Marine Drive to 8th, thence to Commercial and eastward along Commercial to the dispersal area around the 4-H fairgrounds.

Judging for awards will be done at the parade's start.

60 Entries Slated

The parade will [illegible] be more than 60 entries.

Tonight's big event, following the parade, will be a Band show at the Armory in which bands that marched in the parade will participate. It starts at 8 o'clock.

Sunday's program gets underway with a big salmon barbecue at noon at the 4-H fairgrounds, to which all are invited.

Special guests will be some 1200 passengers on a special train from Portland, operated by a group of railroad fans.

At 1 p.m. hydroplane racing will get underway on upper Youngs Bay, to continue through the afternoon. [illegible] Pacific Northwest Power Boat Association.

[illegible] tomorrow morning contrary to previous plans, Chairman Gordon [illegible] of the Regatta [illegible] of the drivers probably will be trying out the water during the morning, however.

Road to be Closed

Wolfgram said that the Williamsport road from 7th to the City Park road will be closed to traffic Sunday afternoon by authority of the Oregon Highway Department, as a safety measure. Race spectators, will be able to park cars along the road in advance, however.

Admission will be charged to non-wearers of Regatta buttons.

Saturday's program got underway with fishing boat races, sailing races, and other contests this morning at the East End mooring basin. A queen's luncheon and style show were due this noon at JJ Astor hotel.

Last night's big events, both well attended and highly successful,

---

Stephan Gets A-B Trophy

Danny Stephan, Altoona, led all the way to score an ea[illegible] win in the unlimited gillnet boat race Saturday morning off the [illegible] mooring basin to take the Astorian-Budget trophy, $150 in prize money and various merchandise prizes.

John Tarabochia, Astoria, winner for the past two years, came in second, thereby failing to gain permanent possession of the A-B trophy. He earned prize money of $75 and merchandise.

In third place was John George Johnson, Altoona.

Stephan, who led last year's race before his craft developed engine trouble, posted his first win this year.

Terry Wegdahl, Puget Island, took first prize in the race for gillnet boats with less than 268 cubic inches piston displacement.

Second prize went to Eugene Goodell Jr., Pillar Rock.

Wegdahl earned $150 prize money and Goodell $75, with both winners also receiving various merchandise prizes.

Only other entrant was Ross Landstrom, Astoria.

Nick Marincovich, who had intended to compete, fell onto a barge from a ladder at the mooring basin prior to the start of the race. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital. Attending physicians said he suffered lower back injuries but seriousness of the injuries had not yet been determined.

Wilmer Johnson, last year's winner in the limited race, did not compete.

Regatta Revels

* * *

[illegible]

Regatta Comes To Festive Climax, Termed Success

A successful Astoria Regatta came to its festive end Sunday afternoon.

Lewis Wright, general chairman, said today that atendance at nearly all events was satisfactory and that reports received by the Regatta association all indicated that the event went off successfully and was well received.

The Regatta association will meet Thursday night to wind up affairs. Ron Graves, treasurer, said he cannot tell yet how well the festival did financially, as all bills have not been turned in. He may know by Thursday night.

Sunday's main events of the closing day were hydroplane races on upper Youngs Bay and a salmon barbecue at the 4-H fairgrounds.

Officials of the Lions club, which handled arrangements at the barbecue, said 1400 people were served.

These included 750 people who came from Portland on a 15-car special passenger train sponsored by the National Association of Railway Business Women.

Admiral Al Opsata, Queen Gwen Jones and other Regatta royalty and officialdom greeted the railroad party at the depot here and arranged bus trips about town after the dinner.

Annual Trip Talked

Mary Brinker, president of the railroad business women's group, and Elaine Davis, chairman of the special trip, said they hope to make the trip here at Regatta time an annual event.

The special train left for Portland at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Frank Swick, Ridgefield, Wash., barbecued salmon for the noontime dinner on racks over open fires. Swick brought 1200 pounds of fancy chinook salmon for the event. Swick handled the barbecue task at the 1959 Regatta also.

Saturday afternoon's parade of some 60 units attracted an enormous crowd that lined the whole right of way.

Under general chairmanship of Jim Spain, the parade started on time and moved with few hitches or gaps to its conclusion, and was generally pronounced a fine one.

The Navy's Oakland drill team was "bumped" out of its plane and couldn't get here, and the McClaren school band had its bus burn on the way here, but all other entries were on hand as scheduled.

Grand sweepstakes prize winner was the CRPA float.

Parade Winners Listed

Other parade winners included:

Commercial Floats—Pacific Telephone Northwest, first; Pacific Power, second.

Non-Commercial Floats—Astoria high school, first; Sons and Daughters of Norway, second; Gearhart Beachcombers, third.

Military Marching—Tongue Point first.

Girls' Display Marching—Ballard Girls of Seattle, first; Ark Rainbow Assembly, second; Astoria High Fisherettes, third.

Women's Auxiliary Marching—FOE No. 4, first; Beaverton Elks Belles, second; Anchors Club, third.

Men's Auxiliary Marching—FOE No. 4, first, Beaverton Elks, second, Royal Rosarians, third.

Mounted Units—Four-H Teen Trotters, first; Sunset Riders, second, Four-H Junior Mustangs, third.

Jr. Drum and Bugle Corps—Longview-Kelso, first; Astoria Legion Juniors, second, Salem Sons of American Legion, third.

Sr. Drum and Bugle Corps—Royal Chinooks, first; Tillamook, second.

Bagpipe Bands—Clan McCleary, Portland, first, Portland Scottish, second.

Marching Bands—Astoria high school, first, Astoria Eagles, second, Normandette Glockenspiel, third.

Regatta Admiral Al Opsata left Sunday evening to return to Seattle [illegible] he had a fine time [illegible] Lewis Wright [illegible] ata for [illegible] poise and dignity. [illegible] Regatta As[illegible] valuable in[illegible] Seattle Sea[illegible] ta is [illegible] youngsters at McCallister field Saturday. There were prizes for all as well as refreshments.

Tom Dyer in the sloop Tom-Tom won Saturday's Regatta sailing race in the fast time of an hour and 20 minutes over a 3.5 mile course in light winds.

Ed Niska in the Heidi and Dick Thompson in the Wizgonna also competed.

A sailing race for Sea Scout boats was held Sunday, won by the City of Roses, Portland. Astoria's Flying Cloud placed third.

Dave Edison, sailing race chairman, said he talked with Portland yachting officials Saturday who told him they hope to bring quite a few sail boats here for races at the 1961 Regatta.

Hydroplane Races Draw Large Crowd

A crowd estimated at more than 1000 turned out Sunday afternoon to watch the Astoria Regatta hydroplane races on upper Youngs bay.

Bill Bork, of Seattle, came away with the high point trophy after the two heats in each of six classes were completed. There were th[illegible] classes of hydroplanes and three of runabouts entered. Bjork took first place in the A stock hydros.

A south wind whipped up Youngs Bay, making the course rough for the small racing craft and sending two drivers into the water. One Seattle driver was flipped completely out of his boat, while in a later race, a boat was swamped and went down, engine first.

The trophy winners in each class in order of their finish, were: AU runabouts, Terry Feroe, Paul Sta[illegible] [illegible] Van Etten, all of Seattle; [illegible] runabouts, Bill Cox, Eu[illegible] John Hall, Salem; Denny Paola; DU runabouts, Otto Tover, Longview; John Hall, Salem, Bill Cox, Euegene; A stock hydro, Bill Bork, Vancouver; Jamie Van Etten, Seattle; Lance F. Puckett, Seattle; C stock hydro, Louis Wheeler, Albany; Dale Hendrickson, Seattle; Cecil McCarthy, Vancouver, [illegible] bany; Leland McMurphy, Bill Cox, Eugene.

The races were sponsored by the American Powerboat association.

1st Place Winners Announced for Youth Day Events

Officials of the Optimist club today released a list of first place winners in a multitude of races and the Regatta Youth Day program contests held for 200 children at held Saturday on McCallister field.

Optimist club officials expressed gratitude to several local business firms which supplied merchandise prizes, supplies and equipment for the event.

The list of first prize winners includes:

Foot races: Dea Savel, Don Sparks, Linda Brown, Dan Skipper, Loren Taylor, Larry Muckridge, Kathleen Radich, Carl Hagness, Charlotte Feary, Floyd Hanson, Michelle Radich.

Backwards race: Susan Ward, Todd Burns, Lynn Ahola, Thomas Atley, Loren Taylor, Kathleen Radich, John Wilson, James Cellars, Kathy Burgess, Betty Lou Larson, Russell Baughman, Floyd Hanson, Joyce Rautio.

Sack races: Susan Ward, Michael Blakeney, Lynn Ahola, Thomas Atley, Melinda Goin, Carl Hagnas, Charlotte Fearey, Floyd Hanson, Michelle Radich.

Shoe races: Kathy Kittelson, Charlotte Fearey.

Three legged races: Sharon and Joanne Gimre, Carl Hagnas and Gordon Hellberg, Kathy Thompson and Peggy Everard.

Wheelbarrow races: Randy Schalk and Scott Hess, Mike Blakeney and Todd Burns, Brenda Peters and Robin Juola, Larry Muckridge and Jimmy McDaniel, Judy Ward and Ellen Linehan, Dan Hearn and Ken Thompson, Janice Kaarle and Patrice Wohlfiel, Floyd Hanson and Larry Martin, Linda Hagnas and Alida Sullivan.

Crab walk: Trina Radich, Michael Blakeney, Brenda Peters, Mike McKenney, Dennis Bartoldus, June Kaarle, Billy Fackerell, Roxanne Curry, Leon Beglertes, Joyce Rautio.

Regatta Theme For Elks Ladies Dessert Party

The Regatta time card party of the Elks Ladies was an event of Wednesday, with nautical and "fish" decor carried out in the club lounge, where the tea table, a symphony of blue and green was centered with blue hydrangeas and green tapers.

Mrs. Wendell Wilson and Mrs. Albert Hyde were asked to pour prior to the afternoon of cards, during which high scores were handed in by Mrs. Emil Bjork, A. Larson and Howard Johnson.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Robert McGhee and Mrs. A. Rierson.

The next card party, to be held September 28, at which time the local Elks ladies will be hostesses for the Tillamook Elks Ladies at a 1 o'clock luncheon, instead of the usual dessert lunch.

For More Floats

The annual Regatta parade is a good one, in which the community can take pride.

But a few more fine floats would build it up considerably.

A reader has suggested that, since the cost and labor of building a float is quite high for a single business firm, why don't all the firms in one line of business combine to enter a joint float in the parade?

The idea seems to have merit. All the auto dealers, for instance, or the grocers or furniture dealers could pool their resources and provide some good floats. Or various labor unions could do the same.

We want a good parade for 1961, our Sesquicentennial year. Here's an idea for building it up.

Another reader's suggestion: The Regatta this year lacked the color and life that street banners provide. Why doesn't some alert organization buy a supply of street banners for the town and then rent them out for use in the Regatta and in conventions.

We have quite a batch of conventions coming to town for the Sesquicentennial year. An organization owning street banners could easily get back their cost by rentin gthem out for a few conventions, and we would have suitable street decorations for future years.

Here's a suggestion from a reader for our big neighbor city up the river. Why doesn't Portland have a float which it can enter in the parades put on by its smaller neighbor towns, such as the Astoria Regatta parade?

This community went to a great deal of effort to enter a float in Portland's Rose Festival parade and Portland seems very eager to have Astoria and other Oregon communities enter floats. Portland in [illegible] could provide one float which it [illegible] in Astoria and the [illegible] As it is one gets the [illegible] that with Portland it's all take and no give.

Regatta Bowling Test Under Way, Deadline Sunday

[illegible]

Mixed Doubles Scores

[illegible]

Warmup Singles

[illegible]

Regatta Highlights, They're Memories Now

[illegible] pictures for the scrapbooks [illegible] is the above, left photo of [illegible] queen Gov. Mark Hatfield [illegible] over the Regatta program in the John Jacob Astor hotel completely surrounded by beauty, left Mrs. Robert McLean, court chaperone, and lovely Queen Gwen, right. In back are Princesses Linda, Greta, Toni and Jocelyn. At [illegible] Columbia River Packers Association [illegible] and sweepstakes winner and underneath it is the Astoria high school band led by Ted Marshall which won first place in the band section (and there were plenty of bands for competition!)

Astorian Evening Budget

Astoria, Oregon, Monday, August 22, 1960

[illegible] le and queenly con[illegible] were received by [illegible] Stephan, Altoona, along [illegible] Astorian-Budget trophy when he won the unlimited race [illegible] boats Saturday.

The Sons and Daughters of Norway float, second place winner in the non-commercial division, is shown with its replica of the old [illegible] with the P and L company float, showing Reddy Kilowatt lighting candles on a mammoth birthday cake, second place winner in the commercial division. At far left are the banner bearers for the Ballard Girls drill team, first place winners in the girls marching units and bottom right shows "queens, a pair": Gwen I of the 1960 Regatta and Jean Eisenbach, queen of the 1960 Rose Festival, a distinguished Regatta guest. The photo at the far left shows some of the crowd that got a seagull's-eye view of the parade from the fire escape of the Astor hotel.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

Vol 87, No 152 Astoria, Oregon, Tuesday, June 27, 1961 SINGLE COPIES 10c

Ribbon Cut To Open Sesqui Headquarters

Royalty On Hand At Rites

Sesquicentennial headquarters at 10th and Commercial was opened formally Monday afternoon with a ribbon-cutting ceremony attended by Regatta princesses and Sesqui officials.

Douglas Bedingfield, pageant director from John B. Rogers Company, Fostoria, O., moved into the headquarters Monday and began active preparations for the Sesquicentennial pageant August 23-26.

Miss Mary Jane Kuratli will be on duty at the headquarters during the rest of the pre-Sesquicentennial period. Telephone service was installed Tuesday and the phone number will be FA 5-1961.

Regatta and Sesquicentennial souveniers, including derby hats, sunbonnets, special neckties, permits to shave and permits to grow whiskers went on sale Monday in the headquarters office.

Bedingfield met Tuesday morning with the general Sesqui committee and said he believed preparations were well in progress for the pageant. He said intensive work will get under way now and asked for individual conferences with division chairmen of the Sesqui program during the next few days.

Sesquicentennial headquarters at 10th and Commercial was opened Monday afternoon with due pomp. Above, four Regatta princesses Cynthia Ann Slanger (left), Clare Anne Heilmann, Marty Chave and Cheryl Westman cut the ribbon barring the doorway as Sesqui officials look on. Below, Mary Jane Kuratli of headquarters staff sells whisker-growing permits to Mayor Harry Steinbock, left, and Paul Johnson, who has already made a pretty good start. (Astorian photo)

Major Domo

The job of major domo to the 1961 Astoria Regatta queen and her princesses falls to Harry Kraus, chairman of the Regatta court committee of the Regatta association. Kraus, assistant manager of the US Bank, will announce the first Regatta princess Wednesday (Astorian photo)

Astoria Regatta Junior Court Selected

The Astoria Regatta 1961 junior court has been selected by the Regatta association, and here they are, all grins and giggles, beneath the war canoe memorial to Chief Concomly of the Chinooks on Coxcomb hill. From left to right, Dianna Swanson, Lewis and Clark district five, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swanson; Craig Abrahamson, Capt. Robert Gray school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Abrahamson; Steven Antoniou, John Jacob Astor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Antoniou; Ross Leigh, Star of the Sea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leigh, Julie Sjolund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sjolund, and Patty Ryan, Central, daughter of Mrs. Helen Ryan.

The Women's Page

SOCIAL & CLUB NEWS

PHILIPPA SEABROOK

Committee Heads Named For Regatta

Committee chairmen for the Regatta were appointed at a meeting of the Regatta board Friday.

They are Bill Ohlmann, Sesquicentennial coordinator; Al Sorkki and Harry Kraus, budget committee; Dave Edison, button sales; Gordon Wolfgram and Dave Edison, marine events; Bill Ball, uniforms; Jim Brunold, Regatta court; Bob Ayres, dinners; and Bob Chopping, programs.

Other tentative arrangements were discussed, and it was decided to sell Regatta buttons for 50 cents rather than $1, as has been done in previous years.

The next meeting of the board will be held March 16 at a place to be announced later.

Jay-C-Ettes Plan Float For Regatta

A potluck [illegible] with [illegible] preceded the [illegible] Jay-C-Ette meeting [illegible] the city park. [illegible] provided the [illegible] for each member and guest.

The [illegible] with [illegible] talk on the Red Cross [illegible] by Mrs. [illegible] Mackenzie. Jay-C-Ettes donated their time and [illegible] to working at the Bloodmobile station and also called for volunteers to donate blood.

Mrs. Bob Jackson [illegible] that the Regatta float has [illegible] a theme and would [illegible] materials for a float decorating party in the near future.

Mrs. Jack Schulze reported on the [illegible] party at [illegible] on Friday, June 26. After the [illegible] party a dance will be held at the A. [illegible] Community hall.

The new [illegible] committee will consist of Mrs. [illegible] Jr., Mrs. Bob Schuler and Mrs. [illegible]. The [illegible] was won by Mrs. Ray [illegible].

Jay-C-Ettes look forward to [illegible] this year's Regatta princesses at the August meeting. The board of directors will [illegible] with a float decorating party August 1.

Sesqui, Regatta Events Planned

George Abrahamsen (left), chairman of the Sesquicentennial committee, and Bill Ohlmann, president of the Regatta association, get together to make [illegible] be sponsored by both organizations later this spring. (Daily Astorian photo)

MA:

Sesqui Unit Plans Fete For Briton

[illegible]

Parade Has 16 Entries

"Astoria's 150 years" will be theme of this year's Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday, August 26, it was agreed at a meeting of the parade committee Thursday night.

Dr. Duane Jue, parade chairman, said 16 entries have been received so far by the committee, from points as far distant as Ballard, Wash., which will send its girls drum corps, and Grants Pass, which will send the Oregon Cavemen.

More entries are expected, Dr. Jue said.

"We could use more bands and floats," he added. Organizations which have such entries available may call Dr. Jue and arrange to get into the parade.

Dr. Jue announced some personnel additions to the parade committee. These include Bob Fastabend, who will handle transportation, Clayton Erickson, who will work with Dave McGuire on awards and trophies, and Don Boyd, who will handle public announcing.

Regatta Royalty

PRINCESS CYNTHIA ANN SLANGER OF JEWELL

Princess Joins Royal Court From Green Mountains Of Jewell

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Way up in the green clad mountains, in the far corner of beautiful Regatta land called Jewell, lives a princess, pink and white and prettily dimpled

She is Cynthia Ann, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frederick Slanger, and she joins the 1961 Regatta court as the third representative of Clatsop's loveliest girls to vie for the honor of Regatta queen

Although Princess Cynthia Ann was born right here in Astoria, December 12, 1943 the forested slopes of the Coast range have always been home to her, for she spent her first years in Birkenfeld, moving with her parents to Jewell when she was five years old She has gone through grade school there and now is a senior at Jewell high school where she is treasurer of her class

Last year she was president of the Pep club; she served on the staff of the Blue Jay, the school newspaper, and has taken part in the school plays all four years. She likes bookkeeping, and maybe, some day, she will follow that up, but right now she isn't sure

She also likes athletics, volleyball, for instance, and swimming, and the Nehalem river that winds through a lovely valley nearby, conveniently swings in to border her back yard Come haying time, you'll find Princess Cynthia Ann out helping her father in the fields. She loves that, too. Brother Dale, 12, and sister Imogene, 16, help with the dairy herd, and so does Corky, a big shaggy dog, who is good with cows, although really he's a sheep dog.

When the winter winds swoop down from the mountain tops on Jewell, you'll find this blue-eyed brownette haired girl making her own clothes or out in the kitchen But now that Regatta time will be here before we know it, Princess Cynthia Ann will leave the high green hills and forests to join the royal court that rules Regatta land

14 MAY

Regatta Royalty Has Lunch With Rotarians

Regatta princesses attended the Rotary luncheon at the John Jacob Astor hotel Wednesday where they were presented to club members and spoke to the group. Princesses are (l-r) Karen Young, Warrenton; Cheryl Westman, Astoria, Cynthia Anne Slanger, Jewell; Clare Hellmann, Knappa; and Marty Chave, Seaside. Mrs. Harry Steinbock, group chaperone, and William R. Ohlmann, Regatta president, are far right with Forest Vaughan, vice president of the Rotarians, at the podium.

Mary Steinbock Is Chaperone of Regatta Court

Mrs. Harry Steinbock

Mrs Harry Steinbock will be the chaperone for the 1961 Regatta court,, Bill Ohlmann, president of the Regatta association announced Saturday

The news was revealed at a luncheon by the Regatta association for the Regatta princesses held at the Sea Fare Saturday noon, when the five girls from high schools in the county, chosen as princesses, were guests of honor and met their chaperone

Mary Steinbock, wife of Astoria's mayor, is well-known for her civic work, having served as president of many women's organizations in town, and a constant committee worker for many others

Her gracious manner and continuous cooperation in all events pertaining to the locality, have placed her at the top of the list of popular matrons here and won her the title of leading citizen of Astoria, year before last.

[illegible]

Leads Off Court

PRINCESS KAREN YOUNG OF WARRENTON

Dainty, Gold-Haired WHS Senior First '61 Regatta Princess

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Sound a fanfare on the royal trumpets and a call to attention on the royal drums for here we are at that thrilling start of Regatta events, the selection of the Regatta court. And the first lovely little princess is Karen Young of Warrenton high school

Harry Kraus, chairman of the Regatta court selection committee, will probably always remember Princess Karen, for she was the first excited girl to receive the wonderful honor from her fellow students this year of 1961 and Chairman Kraus was just about as thrilled when he announced the news to the cheering student body at their dance for that purpose.

This is a dainty one, this first princess, wrapped up in a neat, sweet little package four feet by 11¾ inches, with a fluff of golden hair and green (yes, they really are!) eyes.

The daughter of Mr and Mrs Burton Young, 673 SW Cedar, Warrenton, she first saw the light of day with those green eyes in Butte, Mont , November 26, 18 years ago. But she moved with her parents to Warrenton in time to enter the first grade, and she'll graduate this June prior to all the exciting Regatta events of the summer

She was a member of the Homecoming court and the Prom court, was secretary of her class for two years and the Pep club for three years, was vice-president of the Girls' league last year, and a member of the cast of the junior and senior class plays. She was cheer leader for three years, was business manager of the school annual and a part time editor of the Smoke Signal newspaper

She likes to sew and makes some of her own clothes, loves hamburgers and spaghetti and has a brother Burton (Butch), who is a freshman And, by the way, how do you feel about Princess Karen, Butch?

Seaside Picks Princess

PRINCESS MARTY CHAVE OF SEASIDE

Beach School Gives Nod to Brunette as Regatta Court Choice

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Hail to the Regatta princess from the kingdom by the sea!

She is Marty Chave, choice of Seaside high school's student body, who picked her at a selection dance recently, at which she was crowned by Harry Kraus, chairman of the court committee of the Regatta association with cheers and tears, happy ones, of course, and all the fever pitch excitement that goes with such a momentous event.

Well, let's see what's behind all this lovely girl.

First, she's the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Tom Chave of Seaside She was born in Portland, April 21, 1943, having celebrated her 18th birthday just three weeks ago, but she came to Seaside when she was a cute, round-faced baby of six months, so Seaside is her home And Seaside is her love. And she is Seaside's favorite.

Princess Marty is a regal five-feet-eight with dark brown tresses and (here we go again!) green eyes . . . green like the sea shallows on a sunny day when you're lying on the beach watching the waves coming in. And her smile is one of those engaging ones that starts gradually and then lets itself go. She likes athletics and has a slim, trim waist to prove it. Golf especially, and she's more than fair on the fairways.

But she likes to cook and sew and when she eats out, it is usually at a Chinese restaurant.

She was junior prom princess last year and Sno-ball princess this year, Girls league president and on the rally squad She belongs to Rainbows and is a top [illegible]

At home there are no sisters and brothers but there is a [illegible] for the royal girl, "just cat but part Siamese" that sort of rules the family

And after all the fun and excitement of Regatta days are over, Princess Marty is pasting all these stories and pictures and [illegible] in her scrap book [illegible]. Off she'll go to the University of Oregon to study merchandising and marketing, for even royalty, these days, follows a career, if they are smart. And Princess Marty is smarty.

6 MAY 61

Regatta Princess Selection Starts

The first two Regatta princesses, who will compete for the title of queen of the 1961 Astoria Regatta, will be chosen tonight, when both Seaside and Warrenton high schools vote for their princesses at dances for that occasion, according to Al Iverson, publicity [illegible] of the [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] queen selection committee, will be accompanied by Bill Ohlmann, chairman of the Regatta association and several board members and the Anchor club team will form the honor guard as each princess is chosen

Both schools reported there are several girls competing tonight for the honor of representing their schools in the Regatta court.

18 APR 61

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

Vol 87, No. 178 Astoria, Oregon, Friday, July 28, 1961

Rodeo, Regatta Royalty Guests at Luncheon

It was a royal good time for seven enthusiastic girls, members of both the Clatsop County Rodeo court and the Astoria Regatta court guests of the Rodeo association for lunch Wednesday at the Crab Pot, Warrenton. After the Regatta princesses had told about the exciting events in store during Regatta days, the last week in August, Judy Vikturek, standing, left, queen of the rodeo, displayed a poster announcing the bronco-busting, calf-roping and other thrillers to take place this Friday and Saturday at the Gearhart rodeo grounds to Regatta Princess Marty Chave, Seaside, left. Meanwhile Rodeo Princess Aura Skehan, standing center, shows the rodeo program to Regatta Princesses Clare Heilmann, Knappa, left, and Cynthia Ann Slanger, right, while the other rodeo princess, Sally Hannu, standing, right, writes down reservations for special seats at the rodeo, with the help of Regatta Princesses Cheryl Westman, Astoria, left, and Karen Young, Warrenton, far right. (Bob Chessman Photo)

Kiwanis Hosts Regatta Court

The Regatta court of five princesses, with their chaperone Mrs Harry Steinbock were guests at the Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday at the John Jacob Astor hotel. Each princess described a different phase of the coming Regatta, including an historical background of Astoria. They were accompanied by Bill Ohlmann president of the Regatta associa

Latest Princess Is Versatile Beauty From Scenic Knappa

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

She loves to sew, she loves to cook. She can plant a garden or read a book.

What's more, she is Knappa through and through, so she's Knappa's answer to the Regatta association's request for a princess.

Princess Clair Ann she is, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heilmann, who live in that scenic community up-river a ways, where the wooded slopes meet the spreading green meadow lands and the meadow lands reach the rolling river. Born in an Astoria hospital December 17, 1942, she has lived all her wonderful 18 years in Knappa, gone to grade school there, and will graduate from dear old Knappa high this June. After that? She wants to work in Astoria this summer (in between Regatta events) and then enroll at Western University of Business, Portland, in September.

Honor Society Member

She is a member of the National Honor Society, served as its secretary, treasurer of the Girls Athletic association and treasurer of Future Homemakers of America and [illegible] 10 years [illegible]

[illegible] Regatta princess.

Astoria's Choice

PRINCESS CHERYL WESTMAN

Cheryl Westman Is 5th Princess

Well here she is, citizens of Regatta land, the fifth and final pretty princess to make the Regatta court complete, blond, blue-eyed Cheryl Westman, daughter of of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Westman, and Astoria high school's representative.

Born October 28, 1943 which is 17 years ago by quick deduction right here in Astoria, this five-foot-four-and-a-half inch bit of royalty, recently received another honor from her classmates, and one that might have had something to do with her being chosen Regatta princess from the other lovely contestants She was voted the best all-around girl in the senior class.

Other honors have come her way. For four years she has been a member of the National Honor society; she was junior prom queen last year and this year was a member of the senior ball court She was on the varsity rally squad for the past two years and head Pepster this year. She served as student council representative, belongs to the Spanish club, and stood ninth in her class scholastically. [illegible] outside activity, she was worthy advisor for Fern assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls

Further statistics reveal that she likes commercial studies best, she will work at the US National bank this summer; she prefers Chinese food and she has one sister, Mrs Carlyle Mahnke who lives in Seattle

Domestic? Well . . . if by any chance you see a slim, blond blue-eyed nymph flying down the sunlit waters of Youngs Bay on water skis behind a racing motorboat and wonder who she is, chances are, it is Princess Cheryl of the 1961 Regatta court.

Royalty Guests at Rodeo Lunch

The Clatsop County Rodeo association luncheon at the Crab Pot Wednesday noon had more than its share of glamor, when the winsome rodeo queen, Judy Vikturek, and her two attractive princesses Sally Hannu and Aura Skehan, and the five pretty Regatta princesses were special guests.

Rodeo Queen Judy and her princesses extended a gracious spoken invitation to everyone to attend the Clatsop county rodeo Saturday and Sunday at the Gearhart rodeo grounds. The girls, accompanied by their chaperone Mrs Ronald Vikturek, wore their trim jodphurs, shirts and give-gallon hats, the queen in white satin brocade with aqua tie and hat and the two princesses in two-toned pink

The Regatta court was escorted by Mrs. Harry Steinbock, their official chaperone, who expressed the court's appreciation for the luncheon invitation Each princess gave an animated description of some phase of the Regatta, to be held the last week in August, immediately following the Sesquicentennial celebration. Princess Marty Chave, Seaside, spoke of the four different events featuring food during the Regatta, the past admirals' and presidents' luncheon at The Islander, the queen's luncheon at the John Jacob Astor hotel, the smorgesette at the Armory and the salmon barbecue at the Four-H fair grounds.

Princess Clare Heilmann of Knappa told about the parades, both land and water, and other Regatta events; Princess Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell, gave an historical background of Astoria, Princess Cheryl Westman told of the selection of both the senior and junior Regatta courts and what events they have attended, and Princess Karen Young, Warrenton, explained about the water sports and races

Fred Prechel of the Rodeo association, was master-of-ceremonies for the luncheon, introducing William Ohlmann, president of the Regatta association, and Harold Gramson, mayor of Warrenton, who spoke briefly.

A large representative from the Warrenton Chamber of Commerce was present at the turkey a la reine luncheon.

2nd Annual Rodeo Billed On Weekend At Gearhart Grounds

The Sunset Empire's only annual rodeo will bring plunging broncs and hard-riding bulls to Gearhart Saturday and Sunday afternoons under sponsorship of the Clatsop Rodeo association, helped by Astoria and Warrenton Junior Chambers of Commerce

The main shows will start at 1 30 p m both Saturday and Sunday at the Gearhart rodeo grounds

There will be cowboy breakfast at the grounds, open to the public starting at 8 both mornings. Also a parade is scheduled in Seaside Saturday at 11 a.m. It will include rodeo performers and stock brought here by Christensen Brothers, rodeo promoters, and local riders are invited to take part in it.

Another added feature will be a dance Saturday evening at 9 in the new convention hall adjoining the Hotel Gearhart

This is the second annual rodeo put on by the local association The first was highly successful and the sponsors expressed confidence the second will be even beter than the first

The association has issued an invitation to all local riders to enter horseback races that will be held in conjunction with the rodeo

James Holmes rodeo association president, is general chairman of the event.

Ex-Regatta Head Picked As Admiral

GUY HICKOK

Guy N Hickok, a former Astorian and president of the Astoria Regatta from 1936 to 1939, has been selected by the 1961 Regatta association to be admiral of the forthcoming Regatta August 24-27

Hickok, a native of Iowa, came to Oregon 50 years ago, serving in later years as state bank examiner and assistant superintendent of banks from 1920-1928 He was manager of the Astoria branch, First National bank of Portland (now the First National bank of Oregon) from 1934-1940, leaving here in 1940 to take over the management of the Salem branch until 1950 and later was vice-president of the branch until 1953

He retired that year to a farm near Salem, but in 1956, he was chosen business manager of Linfield college, a non-profit corporation specializing principally in electronics He was elected administrative head of the institute this year, a position he now holds He is an alumnus of the college

His wife, Ruth, is active in the Salem YMCA, the Women's club, PEO and American Association of University Women.

He was the choice of the Regatta asociation because of his interest and work with the Regatta in years past "We decided to give the honor to a man who had spent many years working for and with the Regatta and who had served as its president for three consecutive years He deserves it," a spokesman for the association explained

Band Show To Be Held

The Regatta Association will conduct a band show Saturday evening, August 26, on Gyro field, Parade Chief Duane Jue said today.

Holding of a band show following the annual Regatta parade has been customary for years but this year the problem of conflict with the Sesquicentennial pageant on Gyro field existed, Dr. Jue said.

The problem was solved by scheduling the band show for 7:30 p.m. with the Sesqui pageant to start at 9 p.m. instead of 8 that evening

Bob Jackson has been named band show chairman, Dr. Jue said

Anchors Get Set For Regatta Tea

The annual Anchor club tea honoring the Regatta [illegible]

In [illegible] keeping with this Sesquicentennial [illegible] Astoria, the Clatsop County Historical museum, in the stately old Capt. Flavel mansion, will be [illegible]

[illegible] Dud, tea chairman, announced [illegible]

Formal initiation was conducted by Mrs Sorkki for Mrs [illegible] Lee who was unable [illegible]

Following the meeting refreshments were served from a blue satin covered table centered with [illegible] Mrs Donald Kulik

Gillnet Race Entry Blanks Now Offered

Entry blanks became available Wednesday for the annual Regatta gillnet boat races, to be held Saturday, August 26 The entry blanks can be obtained from the offices of the Columbia River Fishermen's Protective union, 322 Tenth

The rules are very simple. All boats entering the race must conform to Coast Guard regualtions, and all boat operators must wear life jackets or vests

The races will be held in two categories, the limited class for boats with engine displacement of 268 cubic inches or less, and open class for boats with engines of more than 268 cubic inches displacement.

The entry blankx also state that "Boats must be of Columbia river gillnet type at least 25 feet or over, with one engine which will be classified as standard equipment excluding super chargers or other contrivances."

First prize in each class will be $300 second $150 and third $75

Hatfield 'Proxy' Due At Regatta

ASTORIA — Warne Nunn, executive assistant to Gov Mark Hatfield, will represent the governor at the Regatta parade and Sesquicentennial pagent Aug. 26, city officials have been informed. Nunn also will attend the Regatta's Smorgasette program Aug 25

Hatfield had reported earlier that previous commitments would keep him from attending the event

Anchor Club Tea
HONORING
The Regatta Court
Saturday, Aug. 12
2 TO 4 P.M.
AT
Clatsop County Historical Museum
441-8th St.
PUBLIC INVITED (PLEASE ATTEND)
This Space Courtesy
Hughes-Ransom Mortuary
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

10 Aug 61

Anchors Planning for an Old-Fashioned Tea

Mrs. Harry Duff, seated left, general chairman of the Anchor tea honoring the Regatta princesses, their chaperone and mothers, decides on a circular pink tablecloth edged with fringe as the appropriate cloth for tea table. With her on settee are Mrs. John Seeborg, center, and Mrs. R. M. Landwehr, co-chairman of the refreshment committee for the tea, while behind them are, from left, the Mesdames Pete Bryant, Donald Hoyer, Allard Conger and Lowell Altheide. The tea will be held this Saturday at the Clatsop county historic museum in the old Flavel mansion, where atmosphere of a by-gone era will lend an old Astoria setting.

Refreshment Committee for a Royal Tea

The gleaming mahogany table in the crystal dining room of the old Capt. Flavel mansion will be extended to great lengths to allow for the luster of fine silver and sparkle of glassware when the Anchor club entertains Saturday afternoon at tea honoring the Regatta court. The public is invited to meet the court and view the displays of Astoriana in every room of the old home, now a county museum. Voluntary donations in the free-will offering box at the door will go to the Clatsop County Historical society for maintenance of the museum, as the Anchor club's contribution to the historical background of the town celebrating its 150th anniversary. Members of the committee, seated, left, are Mrs. Allard Conger and Mrs. Donald Kubik. Standing left, they are the Mesdames Paul Tolonen, Arthur Johnson, George Skippen, Fleming Wilson, Victor Olson, and co-chairmen of the Anchor refreshment committee, Mrs. Jerry Lundholm and Mrs. Marvin Taylor. Not in picture are the Mesdames Robert Parnell, David Wullger and Floyd Reith Jr. Members of the Historical society will assist in guiding guests about the museum. (Astorian Photo)

Anchor Girls Polish Up for the Queen's Coronation

It was a sunny day, and the gleaming silver scepter and jewelled crown for the 1961 Regatta Queen took on an added brilliance as the Anchor coronation committee got together for a polishing party in readiness for the coronation of the queen August 24 at Gyro field. Mrs. Fred Frederickson, left, polishes the scepter, next to her is Mrs. Frank Thorsness, then Mrs. Hugh Winstanley, burnishing the jewelled crown; Mrs. John Cederberg, co-chairman with Mrs. Frederickson of the coronation committee, is seated next with Mrs. Robert Reed and Mrs. Rudy Lovvold. Mrs. Sam Yokes, also a member of the committee was not present. (Astorian Photo)

14 AUG 61

Gillnet Boats to Race During Regatta

A race between boats not designed for speed always requires the utmost skill on the part of the operator to milk the last ounce of power from his engine, particularly when the basic design of all entries is the same, as in the case of gillnet boats. The annual Regatta gillnet races often amount to what is virtually a contest for "one design" boats in which the emphasis is on the skill of the operator. As can be seen from the photo above, the gillnet races are liable to be close affairs. Gillnet events of the 41st annual Regatta this year will take place at 10 a.m., Saturday, August 26. Other marine events are also scheduled.

ADMIRAL'S LUNCHEON

(Sponsored by the J-Cettes)

FRIDAY, AUGUST 25th

Noon Social Hour 11 A.M.

The Islander

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

HONORING PAST REGATTA ADMIRALS & PRESIDENTS

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

PUBLIC INVITED! CALL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR LIMITED RESERVATIONS
LUNCHEON $1.50 BY RESERVATION ONLY!

This Space Courtesy

DARIGOLD FARMS

Races For River Fish Boats To Highlight Fete's Water Events

The gillnet boat races are expected to be the big event among marine features of this year's 41st annual Regatta. Increased prize money for the first three places in each of the two classes is expected to attract more entries than ever, according to Gordon Wolfgram, Regatta chairman.

More than $1,000 in prize money will go to the first three boats to cross the finish line in both limited and unlimited classes.

The gillnet boat races will be held Saturday, August 26, at 10 a.m.

Other marine events scheduled include races for hydroplanes, runabouts and sailboats as well as a number of demonstrations and shows.

Entries so far in the run-about events have been good, says Wolfgram, and he is particularly encouraged by reports from Willamette valley entries.

Regatta marine events are scheduled for Saturday morning and for 1 p.m. Sunday, August 27. The Regatta celebrations in general begin Thursday, August 24, with the crowning of the Regatta queen at Gyro field, at 8 p.m., and end Sunday.

This year the Regatta events have been scheduled in conjunction with Sesquicentennial celebrations so that the two complement each other rather than conflict.

Last year's winner in the limited class for gillnet boats with an engine displacement of 268 cubic inches or less was Terry Wegdal, Puget Island. Second was Eugene Sardel Jr., Pillar Rock, and third was Russ Lindstrom, Astoria.

In the unlimited class Danny Stephan, Altoona, took first place honors, while John Tarabochia, Astoria, was second and John Johnson, Altoona, was third.

Regatta Brings Yachts to Astoria Harbor

Regatta time each year brings many yachts to Astoria harbor. Here a cruiser, manned by Regatta-uniformed people, parades with other vessels along the waterfront. The marine parade annually is one of the more interesting Regatta spectacles.

Gillnetters Vie in Races

Here are some of the fastest boats in the Columbia river gillnet fishing fleet. They are assembled near the East End mooring basin, preparatory to taking part in annual speed races that feature the Astoria Regatta. Such races are held annually, with keen competition.

Royal visitors at [illegible] Anchor club [illegible] Mon- [illegible] night were the Regatta court [illegible] and their chaperone. From left, making [illegible] first official appearance in their natty navy blue and white uniforms, are Karen Young, Warrenton; Cheryl Westman, Astoria; [illegible] Ann [illegible]; [illegible] Hielmann, Knappa; Marty [illegible], and their chaperone, Mrs. Harry Steinbock. Princesses will ride in Miss Oregon parade in Seaside, Saturday, 3 p.m.

Regatta Court Honors Anchors With 1st Visit

[illegible] had distin[illegible] [illegible] day nigh[illegible] [illegible] ld story [illegible]

[illegible] d by their chaperone, Mrs. Steinbock, making their official visit in bright new [illegible] rms nautically styled.

[illegible] bout the As[illegible] [illegible] d retold since [illegible] hed and added to [illegible] ears until it now is [illegible]

Each Has A Chapter

[illegible] was [illegible] duced by their chaperone, [illegible] ch one told her "part" of the [illegible] Marty Chase, Sea[illegible] [illegible] bject dear to [illegible] girl's heart, "Let's Eat," de[illegible] ning the many food events of [illegible] such as the [illegible] gatta banquet [illegible] elle and [illegible] ss Clare [illegible] pa told of the se[illegible] senior and junior [illegible] y appear[illegible] g their reign [illegible] Ann Slanger [illegible] ical resume [illegible] the historic town of Astoria celebrating the 150th anniversary [illegible] founding this year and the [illegible] esqui celebration to be held [illegible] conjunction with the Regatta [illegible] ess Cheryl Westman, Astoria, [illegible] the many interesting [illegible] be staged during the Re[illegible] year and Princess Karen [illegible] on told the club [illegible] water events such [illegible] strations by [illegible] imming demon[illegible] s and the water ballet at [illegible] Tapiola pool.

Mark our Calendar

Mrs. Al Saarki, Anchor skipper, told the princesses that the Anchor tea honoring them and their chaperone will be held the afternoon of August 12 at the historical museum in theme with the sesquicentennial year and that the [illegible] heon honoring the Regatta [illegible] ted by the Anchors [illegible] e Saturday, August 26 at John Jacob Astor hotel. Mrs. [illegible] Duff is chairman of the [illegible] tea, and Mrs. Herman Haggren and Mrs. Richard Thompson [illegible] chairmen of the luncheon.

Mrs. Steinbock was asked to preside at the pink and silver tea table during the social hour following the meeting. The Mesdames Arthur Johanson, Rudy Lovvold, Allard [illegible] nger and Lowell Altheide, committee for the refreshment hour, used milk glass table appointments with a centerpiece of bright pink cactus dahlias.

The members agreed that it was fitting and proper that one of their royal visitors, Princess Marty Chase, won the evening's special prize.

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Wednesday, August 16, 1961 5

Regatta Royalty Smiles for a Royal Cup of Tea

It was a happy afternoon, (if a bit tiring toward the end) when the five pretty Regatta princesses greeted the crowd attending the annual Anchor tea for the court Saturday at the old Flavel mansion. The usual steady stream of tourists visiting the museum swelled the crowd by joining the receiving line and meeting the girls and their gracious chaperone. And many of the out-of-towners replied that it was one of the highlights of their trip. Mrs. Harry Steinbock, chaperone, is shown pouring a welcome cup of tea to, left, princesses Karen of Warrenton; Cheryl, Astoria; Cynthia Ann, Jewell; Clare, Knappa; and Marti, Seaside. They wore simple cotton frocks of mauve pink in old-fashioned paisly pattern with trim belts and matching corsages. (Chessman Photo)

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Saturday, August 12, 1961 3

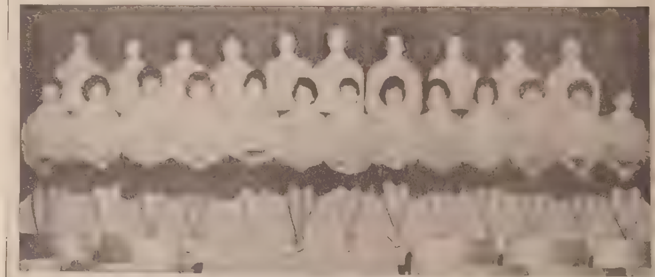
Ballard Girls Drill Team Joins Parade Entrants

Among participants in the Regatta-Sesquicentennial parade August 26 will be the Ballard girls drill team from Seattle. They are Seattle all-city drill team champs for 1961 and in 1960 won the Victoria, B. C., grand sweepstakes. The group has competed in 42 parades in Oregon, Washington and Canada. Advisers are Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Porvie.

Girls to Ride Sesqui Float

These girls will represent Bumble Bee Seafoods, Inc., during the Astoria Sesquicentennial celebration. They will ride the company's float during the Sesqui-Regatta parade. The girls are (from left) Karen Schaub, Connie Bubnick and Sharon Falleur. (Chan Photo)

Fisherettes Join List of Parade Entrants



Astoria high school Fisherettes will be among units marching in the Regatta-Sesquicentennial parade August 26.

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Thursday, August 17, 1961

Portland Scottish Pipe Band Slates Two Appearances Here

The Portland Scottish Pipe band will make two appearances in Astoria this summer, participating in both the Highland Games Saturday and the Regatta-Sesquicentennial parade August 26. The group, celebrating their 55th birthday this year, have placed first among Oregon pipe bands in every Highland Games competition they have entered.

Many Colorful Events On Agenda For 41st Regatta August 24-27

One of the big events of the annual Astoria Regatta is the International Smorgasette, to be designated the Sesquicentennial Smorgasette this year in recognition of the city's 150th birthday. Here are some of the eager diners at a past Smorgasette, with men clad in the distinctive Regatta uniforms. This year's Smorgasette will be held Friday evening, August 25.

The East Astoria mooring basin makes a fine enclosed water area for the marine events of Astoria's annual Regatta. This photo shows water skiers performing. At left, the concrete and steel breakwater is lined with spectators. Tongue Point can be seen in the background.

One of the brightest phases of the annual Astoria Regatta is the crowning of the queen, the event which for many years has officially launched the big fun festival. Here is a typical scene from a past coronation of Queen Molly Malarkey of the 1954 Regatta.

By LINDA WILLIAMS

As much a part of Astoria as its colorful history, the familiar fishing boats, and the equally familiar "liquid sunshine" is the Astoria Regatta which moves into its 41st season August 24-27.

The historic celebration was started in 1894 but four times was temporarily discontinued, two of the four interruptions being the result of world wars. Each time, however, the celebration was revived—which only goes to show that you can't keep a good Regatta down!

Originators of the Astoria Regatta were a group of local citizens who were inspired by the ideas of E. J. Smith, then city editor of the Morning Astorian. Smith, who got his idea from Australia where a similar water pageant was held, passed the notion on to Frank Gunn, pioneer hotel man and secretary of the Astoria football club. The group got busy and set in motion the first Regatta in 1894.

Grows Each eYar

Since its beginning the Regatta has gone through numerous changes and with each year it has grown. According to all reports, this year's should prove to be the biggest and best yet.

The festivities will begin Tuesday, August 22, with the annual children's parade. The Kiwanis club will again be sponsoring the event. Bicycles, wagons, floats, and costumed kids will parade through the city in this first Regatta event. Prizes will be awarded in each division.

This year's children's parade was set ahead due to complications in scheduling and for this reason is being held two days before the official opening of the celebration, Regatta President Bill Ohlmann said.

The 41st Regatta will officially open when Admiral Guy N. Hickok arrives Thursday. A dinner will be held in his honor at which time Admiral Hickok will meet the lovely princesses and the Regatta board members.

Dinner Scheduled

Sponsored by the Anchor club, the Admiral's dinner will begin at 5 30 p.m. at the John Jacob Astor hotel.

Following the dinner the official party will move to Gyro field where one of the most thrilling events of the four days will take place—the coronation of the 36th Regatta queen.

Crowning the queen will be the delightful privilege of Admiral Hickok. The five princesses, Marty Chave, Clare Heilmann, Cynthia Ann Slanger, Karen Young and Cheryl Westman, will be introduced by their escorts before giving brief talks on a phase of the Regatta festivities.

Each member of the audience will, of course, have his own choice for queen, but the final decision will be left to the judges [illegible] the stands who will rate the girls on their poise, beauty and speaking ability.

No Ball: Pageant Instead

After the coronation will be the [illegible] pageant at Gyro field. Because of the pageant, Regatta officials have announced that there will be no coronation ball this year.

Friday's activities will open with the Jay-C-Ette sponsored Admiral's luncheon, honoring past Regatta admirals and presidents. The luncheon is scheduled for 12 noon at the Islander.

Mrs. Carl Bondietti, chairman of the event, reports that several past Regatta dignitaries are expected to attend, including John L. Farley, 1956 admiral, and Frank Branch Riley, admiral in 1939. Admiral Hickok will have the seat of honor at the luncheon as he was Astoria Regatta president for three years in 1937, 1938, and 1939.

Saturday Big Day

The Admiral's luncheon is open to the public by [illegible]

At 6 p.m. [illegible] Sesquicentennial Smorgasette, usually called the International Smorgasette. Epicurean delights from many nations, prepared and donated by hundreds of local chefs, will be on the menu. Local women dressed in Sesqui costume will serve.

The biggest day of Regatta week is Saturday. Starting things off will be the annual marine events, always a popular phase of Regatta activities.

The marine events will begin Saturday at 10 a.m. at the East End mooring basin with gillnet and sailboat races. A special feature this year will be a demonstration by the Columbia River Pilots' association.

Program For Youngsters

Saturday at 10 30 a.m. the spotlight will turn to Tapiola Park where the Optimist-sponsored children's field day will be held. The kids of Regattaland will participate in races and contests and prizes will go to the winners.

At noon on Saturday an event new to the Regatta this year will be held at Tapiola pool. Demonstrations of five swimming strokes and races in the same strokes will be presented by boys and girls taking part in the YMCA swimming program. The kids, [illegible] seven to fourteen, are directed by Don Muhlig.

Topping off the water show will be a duet water ballet by Mrs. Don Muhlig and Kathy Richardson.

Also Saturday noon the Anchor club will honor the Regatta queen and her court as well as past royalty at the annual queen's luncheon. The John Jacob Astor hotel will be the scene of this "strictly for ladies" event. Reservations are required.

The biggest event of Regatta week, the grand land parade, is scheduled to begin at 2 30. Organized by the Astoria Jaycees under the chairmanship of Dr. Duane Jue, the parade will feature more than [illegible]5 units including floats, bands, marching units, antique cars, horses, covered wagons, queens and princesses.

As many as 10,000 spectators are expected to line the streets for the parade, according to President Ohlmann.

A pre-Sesquicentennial pageant show Saturday night will feature the outstanding bands of the parade, marching and playing for the crowd at Gyro field. The band show will begin at 7 30.

Sunday's activities will begin at 10 30 with a continuation of the marine events at the east end mooring basin. The Sea Scouts will present an exciting demonstration of the capsizing and righting of a whale boat.

Also on the agenda is a demonstration by local water skiers after which runabout races will be staged for the remainder of the afternoon.

Barbecue Features Salmon

At noon Sunday the windup event of the 1961 Regatta will get underway at the 4-H fairgrounds—the salmon barbecue. Chef Frank Swick will be seeing that the tasty Columbia river salmon is barbecued to perfection.

An added attraction of the salmon feast will be a hose fight between two teams of the local fire department. Rules are few and far between in this contest as the firemen struggle to move a barrel across a line with their powerful fire hoses.

Planning of the 1961 Regatta has been done by the Regatta board as well as the chairmen of various events. But President Ohlmann is quick to point out close to 500 people have been instrumental in carrying out the plans and that they deserve much of [illegible] gram, vice president [illegible]; treasurer; Bill Ball, secretary, and board members Bob A[illegible], Harry Kraus, Al Iverson, Chuck Farmer, Lou Wright, Helen Sorkki and Nancy Thorsness.

Chinese Girls' Drill Team to Parade

The Seattle Chinese Community girls' drill team, sponsored by the Chong-Wa Benevolent association, will appear in the Regatta-Sesquicentennial parade August 26. The team, made up of 60 girls from the Seattle Chinese community ranging in age from 12-19, was organized in 1952. Drill instructor is Ted Yerabek and director is Ruby Chow. This year the team has won first place awards at Marysville and Olympia, sweepstakes at West Seattle Hi-Yu and the president's award at the Seattle Seafair grand parade, marching division. The girls have appeared on the television program, "You Asked For It" many times.

Air National Guard Group Billed

Oregon Air National Guard drum and bugle corps from Portland will participate in the Regatta-Sesquicentennial parade August 26. The group's drill team will also appear.

KIWANIS

Kiddies Parade

Tuesday, Aug. 29

JUDGING AT 6 P.M.

PARADE STARTS AT 6:30

MEET BEHIND THE COURT HOUSE

Sesqui Bride and Groom

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dorn (Adelaine Sather) strike a typical Sesqui wedding pose in the costumes they wear when they make the rounds of the county for donations of food and help for the Regatta Smorgasette. Last week they travelled as far down the coast as Tillamook, where they got an enthusiastic response with the promise that there will be a large delegation of Tillamook people at the Smorgasette Friday night at the Armory.

Theta Rho Girls Practicing for Regatta Parade

WARRENTON (Special) — The Monday night meeting of Beta Mu Theta Rho girls' club began with a practice for their entry in the Astoria Regatta parade. Twenty six members and four Rebekahs were present at the meeting which followed, during which Fay Kimbrough was installed chaplain. Her installation was delayed because she was out of town when the official installation took place.

Plans were made for the club's entry in the parade, and a pancake feed to be held at the lodge hall this Saturday. The club will also hold a car wash at Hartley's garage on Saturday.

Reports were made on the silver tea held at Mrs. Ruby Kelley's Cannon Beach home and on the car wash held last Saturday, as well as on the last cooked food sale. It was announced that the loosing team will entertain the competitive work winners with a dance Monday, August 29.

Mrs. Kelley announced that the district convention which was to be held at Willamina had been cancelled and replaced by one at Bay City. Tau Theta Rho will be hostess club for the meeting, which will be held on the third Saturday in September.

Smorgasette To Be Bigger Than Ever

The Astora Regatta Smorgasette, which started four years ago with a single long table array of food and which, as the name implies, was a "little smorgasbord," has outgrown its "ette" and will assume gigantic proportions next Friday night at the armory.

Instead of the one-table affair with two lanes, this year the gourmets' dream will cover six long tables with 12 lanes to accommodate a crowd that promises to be over the 2000 mark, according to the committee in charge.

Chefs to Star

A new feature this year will be the "Chefs' Table," organized by Fred Prechel, president of the Clatsop county chapter of the Oregon Restaurant and Bar association, and featuring the favorite dish of each member chef, several of whom will be in attendance to serve their specialties. These include chefs of the Crab Broiler, The Seasider, Partee Room, Gearhart hotel, Marquee, Crab Pot, SeaFare, Thiel Bros., Fur Trader and Sunset Empire Room.

Turkeys are being baked by the Eat and Run, Hansen's cafe, the Koffee Kup, Lawson's, John Jacob Astor hotel, AYCE Chuckwagon and Davey Jones Locker.

Firms to Help

Wednesday, local business firms will bring in eight electric stoves and 12 refrigerators for the large cooking area in the basement of the armory. Churches, lodges and the high schools are loaning tables, coffee servers and cooking equipment, and the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are assisting with the setting up of the cooking equipment and the clean-up.

Serving will be done by women of church and service clubs. The Theta Rho Girls of Warrenton and the Pythian Sisters, in Centennial costumes, will serve at four of the long tables. Mrs. Fred Slanger and her 4-H girls of Jewell grange will decorate the tables Thursday. There will be four coffee stations and two punch bowls.

Appropriate music for the International buffet will be played by Les Hoyer on the organ, starting with the opening hour at 6 p.m. until the last bite is downed.

Local Tots Preparing For Parade

Astoria children are busily hunting up colorful paper, streamers, paint and other decorative materials, readying their "favorite mode of transportation" for the annual Kiwanis Kiddies parade, to be held Tuesday, August 22.

This year's parade, starting at 6:30 p.m., is the one Sesqui event where the younger set has full rein. Divisions they have to choose from are boys' bikes, girls' bikes, girls' trikes, boys' trikes, wagons, floats and last but not least, original costumes.

Entrants this year will follow the same procedure as the some 450 children taking part last year . . . all decorating will be done solely by the children, and those with the knack to sew will undoubtedly manage to put together some winning costumes, with all the imagination usually shown in this annual event.

All entrants will gather behind the Court House at 6 p.m. both for judging and parade formation. Children of all ages will show Astorians their skills during the trek down Commercial, from the court house to the fire house, starting at 6:30. Kiwanis members will be waiting at the termination point with ice cream for the energetic and imaginative participants.

Cash prizes will be awarded in each division as well as the grand sweepstakes award and honorable mentions. Those on the parade roster as of today are evidently out to nab the highest award possible. Participants thus far include the [illegible] fire truck, the 40 and 8 [illegible], American Legion drum and bugle corps and the Astoria [illegible] band under the direction of Ted Marshall.

[illegible] Kiwanis chairman of the parade announced that members of the club will judge the youngsters' entries and will act as parade marshalls.

Planning a Luncheon to the Queen's Taste

Planning a luncheon for a queen (and more than 200 of her ladies) are the members of the Anchor club, who honor the Astoria Regatta queen each year, following her coronation. The big event is attended by women from all parts of the county and by many out-of-town guests, including the Regatta admiral's wife, wife of the Regatta association president and other distinguished guests. Committee shown above: seated, center, Mrs. Herman Haggren, and from left, Mrs. Richard Thompson, co-chairman; Mrs. Wesley Shaner, Mrs. Lewis Wright, co-chairman; Miss Ann Strachan; Mrs. Leonard Farris, and Mrs. Donald Dreitlein. Other committee members, not present, but also working for luncheon, to be Saturday noon, at the John Jacob Astor hotel, are the Mesdames Jean Hallaux, Donald Johnson, Richard Slotte, William Gunderson and Robert Kearney. Reservations for luncheon must be in by Wednesday. (Astorian Photo)

Teams Ready for Optimist Youth Day Race

Wheelbarrow teams are shown on the ready line for an Optimist Youth day race. All children not yet graduated from the eighth grade are eligible and guaranteed winners. Youth day will be a feature of Sesquicentennial-Regatta festivities.

Plans Near Ready for Youth Day

Arrangements for the Regatta Optimist Youth day on Saturday, August 26, are almost complete, Regatta and Optimist officials said.

Feature event of the day's festivities will be a carnival of races at Tapiola park at 10:30 a.m.

All children through the eighth grade will have a chance to compete in the various races, including wheelbarrow, backwards, sack, and plain and fancy running. Plenty of prizes will be given as consolation awards as well as to the winners, officials said.

Following the carnival of races, the Y-Kids will present a swimming demonstration at Tapiola pool.

Norwegian Fish Balls in the Making

It's fishball time at the First Lutheran church and the best fish ball mixers, dippers and fryers are at work making zillions of the crisp delicately flavored appetite-tempters, to be served at the Smorgasette Friday night at the Armory. In upper photo, left, Julie Selbeck ladels mounds of the stiff batter, ready to be rolled into bite-sized balls, while Anne Gjovik and Aagot Anderson add milk and pinch of spice, and Astrid Wooley's strong arm does the stirring. Below, Alfreda Lovvold, left, Mabel Jones and Marie Sather deftly turn the golden brown patties. (Astorian Photos).

Many Groups, Nationalities Join Hands for Smorgasette

The gigantic task of getting donations of various foods from the organizations, individuals and eateries in the county for the Smorgasette, to be served Friday at 6 p.m. at the Armory, has been coordinated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dorn, who report "an unbelievably whole-hearted response."

More than 250 cards and letters were sent out to organizations, service clubs and church groups, with an excellent show of cooperation, the Dorns state.

The sweet soup is being made by the ladies of the Finnish Brotherhood, the Swedish meat balls by the women of Trinity Lutheran church, the Norwegian fish balls by the women of the First Lutheran church; the cole slaw by the Methodist ladies; the baked beans by the Eagles auxiliary; and the scalloped potatoes by the Women of the Moose. Ingredients for these foods are donated by the unions, granges, churches, fraternal and service clubs, the 4-H and individual fishermen, with countless individuals bringing their prize cookies, cakes, breads and other dishes. Mrs. Chester Love alone is donating 100 pounds of her famous pickled salmon.

The Sons of Norway said they will make potato salad, while the Home Extension units will make both fruit and vegetable salads.

Besides this, Ruth's bakery of Seaside will decorate a large cake for the Regatta Queen's table. Harrison's bakery will send German chocolate cake, the Columbia bakery is making a big batch of Norwegian russekakke, and Jones bakery is donating angel food cake.

Arlies cafe, Halfway House and Woody's Drive-in, Youngs Bay cafe, Bud's Drive-in and the Do-nut Hole on Highway 101, will make mammoth pans of macaroni and cheese; Jim's Steak House will contribute their broasted chicken; and the Columbia river Chinook salmon will be baked in the big ovens at St. Mary and Columbia hospital.

The International tables, where the exotic and interesting dishes from the many representatives of foreign countries in the county will be served, will have Miss Bernice Reiehl in charge. Miss Reiehl, manager of the travel bureau, American Travel Service, at Lloyd's Center Meier and Frank store, was invited down for last year's Smorgasette, and asked to supervise the same tables. This year she was invited again, and she writes, she was delighted to accept even more so than last year, after having been a part of the buffet previously.

Those in charge of collecting dishes from their native lands, to be served by ladies in the costumes of each country are Mrs. A. H. Lofgren, Sweden; Mrs. Sigfred Axelson, Mrs. Helen Bowers, Norway; Mrs. Florencio Ballan, Philippines; Mrs. Marciano Pizarro, Japan; Dr. Duane Jue, China; Mrs. Raymond Soto, Mexico; Mrs. James Teamer, Luxemburg, and some Tillamook residents, Switzerland.

Regatta Revels

We just happened to be thumbing through a copy of the Reno Evening Gazette and Nevade State Journal the other day when we noticed an article about a "rustic" city at the mouth of the Columbia. Reading on we noted that this rustic city was—of all places—Astoria. How about that? We also saw an article about the Sesquicentennial in a recent San Francisco paper. If these foreign papers keep it up we may have a flock of upland touristers yet.

We think free enterprise is a wonderful thing and that a little competition never hurt nobody, but there's a limit. The Astoria city police and the county sheriff's office both maintain bureaus of missing persons, but now we are led to believe that another one has been set up, and by the sheriff's better half, of all people. Strictly speaking, Mrs. Bondietti's organization isn't a bureau of missing persons. It's more a bureau of missing admirals. She says she has tracked some of them down, but that others are still missing. Anybody knowing the whereabouts of a missing admiral is requested to call Mrs. Bondietti at FA 5-4009. Among the ones she has caught are Walter W. R. May (1933), Frank Branch Riley (1939) and John L. Farley (1956).

Our charming amateur snooper has also tracked down past Presidents A. C. Fulton (1932-35), Bob Chessman (1952), Wes Shaner (1954), Bill Holmstrom (1955), John Hickman (1957), Tony Naimo (1956), Jean Halleaux (1959), Lewis Wright (1960), and Frank Spittle, one of the founders of the Regatta.

If ya wanta go to the Admirals' luncheon, you gotta git a reservation. The shindig's at the Islander at noon this Friday. Git your red hot reservations by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, FA 5-6311.

We have heard that there's going to be a "social hour" before the Admirals' luncheon, beginning at 11. We don't quite know what a "social hour" is, but it sounds right nice.

(Flourish of trumpets.) Ladies and Gentlemen, we have the honor to announce that stages have been completed and the scenery is all in place for the stupendous, unrivaled Sesqui pageant, the 16 episode Sesqui-A-Storia.

The Thespians had a full dress rehearsal Monday night, but they slammed the door in our face. "No spectators," they said. That's okay. We knew about a knot hole we've been using all summer and we sneaked a peek. All we can say is it looks splendiferous to us.

The time has come to speak of trading in advance coupons for pageant tickets, the which can be done during daylight hours (during daylight hours? What the deuce does that mean?) at Sesqui headquarters. And if you need a program to tell the actors from the spectators, well, you can get one of them at Sesqui headquarters too.

Oh yes. And Sesqui garb.

Okay now, don't say we didn't warn you. The chamber sold all of its Sesqui banners on the first day they went on sale (last Friday), and you know what that means. So just sit around and don't get Sesqui-A-Storia tickets and all that jazz until the last minute and see what happens.

We wish to inform you that there have been reports that some real bargains are going to be on sale Friday and Saturday during the sidewalk sale. As we got it, some merchants have some specials that they held over from Centennial sales just for this occasion.

Ye ole Kangaroo court has really been cleaning up, or at least so says Nick Sculace, one of the v.p.'s.

And George Abrahamsen and Deskin Bergey and their committee got patted on their collective back by the chamber forum last Friday for their work on Sesqui events. Carry on.

Nobody ever offers to furnish us with good looking dolls. What have the VIPs at the Regatta queen's table of the Smorgasette got that we haven't got. In addition to all the living dolls they're going to have being beautiful all over the place, we are now led to believe that there are going to be stuffed (cotton, not smorgasette) dolls on the table, dressed in Sesqui getups by Mrs. Alice Edwards.

22 AUG 61

Oregon Journal

Published in the Interests of the Oregon Country and Its People

PORTLAND, ORE., WED., AUGUST 23, 1961

Wednesday

Highland Games Lure Princesses

REGATTA princesses, chaperon examine trophies awarded at International Highland Games in Astoria. From left are Mrs. Harry Steinbock, chaperon; and princesses Marty Chavo, Seaside; Karen Young, Warrenton; Cynthia Slanger, Jewell, and, Claire Heilmann, Knappa. Behind Miss Heilmann is Cheryl Westman, Astoria princess. One of these five girls, representing their respective high schools from which they were graduated this spring, will be crowned queen of the Astoria Regatta Thursday night to officially open the annual festival.

Cavemen Among Parade Marchers

The Oregon Cavemen from Grants Pass will participate in the Regatta parade August 26. They are composed of Grants Pass businessmen and have had as many as 50 active members at one time. The Cavemen have participated in past Regatta parades and have proved popular.

Regatta Revels

Levity is definitely out. Regatta Revels is going to have a high moral tone this year. After all, many of the events involve FOOD, and there's nothing funny about eating. At least, we take it seriously.

This year's Regatta doings are going to be the greatest thing since canned beer, what with the Sesqui events and all that on top of the heady brew concocted by the Regatta committee.

One hundred people have registered at the Chamber of Commerce for the Past Admiral's luncheon, but we think this is 50 years behind the times. One hundred and fifty would be more appropriate. You're not trying!

Nick Zafiratos has a secret message for all his pals who're entering the Kiwanis Kids' parade. "Meet me behind the county court house at 6 p.m. Tuesday," he said. What's up Nick?—as though we didn't know. That's where the parade forms and they have the judging and all that jazz. Nick says the advertisement in Saturday's Astorian wuz wrong, but that's impossible. We never goof. Aanyhow, it's 6 p.m. Tuesday, kids.

All the vice admirals are supposed to be on hand Tuesday night at 7:30 for a coronation rehearsal, as well as members of the court. As we understand it, the vice admirals are in charge of vice. It that right?

People who have items for Regatta Revels should call FA 5-3211, ex. 21 at any hour of the day or night. No one will answer before 8 in the morning or after 5 at night, but that's all right. Call anyhow.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Torres-Vincenzi have accepted their invitations to the Smorgasette and pageant, says the city manager. Dr. and Mrs. are wheels. He's the Costa Rican consul in Portland.

Cunningham says he heard from another VIP, too—Mayor J. D. Puzey, Clatskanie, who's coming for sure. Who wouldn't, what with special eats and all that.

The Sesquicentennial caravan whooped it up in Long Beach and Ilwaco Saturday, or so we've been told. And no one got seasick going over on the ferry, either. The report we got says the Regatta court was walking the streets in both [illegible] but we don't think they meant to say exactly that.

We're [illegible] to challenge the costum[illegible] for the Sesqui pageant to a [illegible] like that [illegible] our actors. Does you know [illegible] did? Well, one [illegible] of Sesqui costumes wuz full of horse blankets, and we ain't got no horses in the Sesqui-A-Storia.

[illegible] coming down [illegible] to [illegible] the big [illegible] table at the [illegible] year, [illegible] fourth [illegible] special, according [illegible]

Col. [illegible] Farley are [illegible] for the [illegible] one of [illegible] but we're not [illegible] Col. Farley may [illegible] but [illegible] book. He's not [illegible] He got his [illegible] in the YANKEE army! Well, that just [illegible]

Accordion Band to March in Parade

Iola's Accordion band from Milwaukie, Ore., will be the only accordion band in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday.

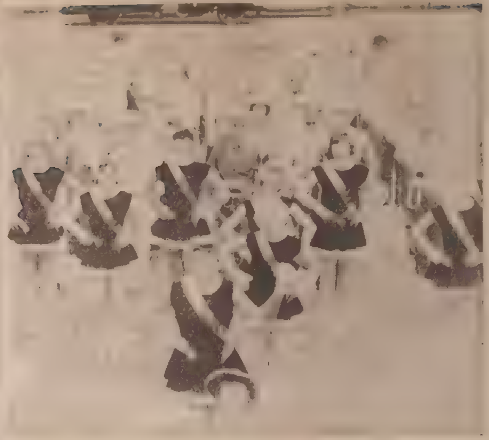
Beaverton Elks Drill Team Joins Paraders

The Beaverton Elks drill team is shown marching in the state Elks convention in Roseburg in 1957. The team, which will appear in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade, was champion at the state Elks convention in Bend in 1961 for the sixth [illegible] year; took first place in the open classification at the [illegible] convention in 1961 and took first place in the Hillsboro Happy Days parade July 4.

Naselle AF Drill Team Joins Parade Units

The Naselle air force drill team with colors has been added to the list of units for the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade.

Molalla Band to Parade



The Buckaroos, Molalla schools summer band, will appear in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday. The band includes 45 musicians aged 11 to 17. This year they have appeared in several parades, winning two blue ribbons and a grand sweepstakes award.

The children pictured above are practicing in the Y.M.C.A. pool for the demonstration races and other events which will take place at Tapiola pool immediately following the events of Optimists Youth Day at the park Saturday, August 26, at 10:30 a.m. Swimming demonstrations will include races, water ballets, diving and a number of other events. (Daily Astorian Photo)

Astoria's city firemen started practicing last week for the water ball games that are scheduled for Sunday, August 27, from noon to 1 p.m. at McAllister field. In addition to teams of regular Astoria firemen and volunteers, out-of-town participants are also expected although no exact schedule has been lined up yet. The object of the game is to [illegible] the ball along a wire with pressure from a fire hose until a goal has been scored. Each team consists of three men, a hoseman, a man to handle the hose and a goalie. The game is played in three minute innings and lasts for a total elapsed playing time of six minutes. Handling the nozzle of a fire hose isn't as easy as it looks, and fighting the pressure for even six minutes can be exhausting. (Daily Astorian Photo)

AUG 61

PP&L Float to Be in Parade

A magic carpet floating on a cloud, Aladdin's lamp and modern-day genie Reddy Kilowatt holding the electrical "Key to Modern Living" are features of Pacific Power and Light company's float which will be seen in the August 26 Regatta parade. The float will appear in dozens of civic parades and celebrations in PP&L service areas this summer.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

Vol 87 No 200 Astoria, Oregon, Wednesday, August 23, 1961 Single Copies 10c

Regatta Revels

Wow Nickie and all his pals sure put on quite a show last night Good old Uncle Nick and his help staged one of the best Kiwanis kids' parades yet

Speaking of parades, Dr Duane Jue has set 4 p m today as the deadline for Regatta land parade entries

More than 100 assorted entries were lined up as of Tuesday, but the more the merrier The stomp fest is scheduled for Saturday afternoon We hope there'll be enough peoples left for spectators Got some big deals lined up, we understand including the Occidental Assembly of Rainbow Girls, which only a mouthful but an eye . . well (heh, heh)

We offered to chaperon all the young ladies from out of town but only got a fish eye for our trouble Nobody's grateful for anything any more Nevertheless we intend to keep an eye on the Rainbow dolls as well as the Ballard Girls' Drill team the Seattle Chinese Community Drill team and all the other gals that show up

We've been looking forward to this year's gillnet races for a long, long time. As a matter of fact, we wrote a song especially for the occasion a number of years ago, but we can't use it. Somebody stole our idea before we could bring it out. The song was entitled, "Gillnet Boats Am A Coming." Ah well, that's life.

Send a telegram to Wolfgram if you want to get in the boat races Gordon Wolfgram, marine chairman for the Regatta, is looking for more entries in all events. So far, out of town entries in the runabout races outnumber the locals, and we just can't take a chance on having some foreigner make off with any of the loot Help'

The Past Admirals' luncheon used to be held in the BOQ at Tongue Point, and it's going to be at the Islander this year, but don't let that throw you. Anybody can go Just make a reservation with the Chamber of Commerce

Ole! Ole! Beatrice, Olivia and Michael Sotos are gonna dish up the frijoles refrijos (refried beans, to you) at the Smorgasette Friday night. They are the children of Raymond Sotos, who operates the Tico Taco Mexican restaurant in Gearhart.

We have gotten word that there are still a few reservations available for the Queen's luncheon Saturday. If you hurry, you can still sign up by calling FA 5-0774 or FA 5 0800

Children's Parade Draws Many Entries

Shown above are some typical scenes from Tuesday night's Kiwanis children's parade. In the top picture is a group of costumed Astoria tots on trikes, peddling for all they're worth to keep up with the "big kids". Pictured below is one of the standouts of the parade who, believe it or not, managed to maneuver his two-wheeled monstrosity through the parade route with little trouble.

Local Children Turn Out for Parade in 'Dressy' Conveyances

By LINDA WILLIAMS
Staff Writer

One thing is for sure—Astoria's kids had the "best dressed" bikes, trikes, wagons, baby buggies, and scooters in the country Tuesday night as they paraded through town for the annual Kiwanis children's parade

Hundreds of amused Astorians lined Commercial to watch the youngsters show their stuff, most secretly wishing that there had been a children's parade when they were kids.

Though there might be some doubt as to who had more fun—the children or the spectators—there's no doubt in anyone's mind that the parade was a huge success Chairman for this first Regatta event was Nick Zafiratos

The youngsters let their imaginations run wild in dreaming up some of the craziest costumes ever seen in a Kiwanis children's parade There were pioneers, Indians, flappers, clowns, soldie mermaids, and—well, you name it and it was there'

Only one complaint was registered about this year's children's parade Some spectators claimed the kids moved too fast down the street. But what child wouldn't with free ice cream waiting at the end of the line? The kids finished at the Armory where a truck full of ice cream awaited them

Entries Judged

Judging of the entries took place prior to the start of the parade behind the court house The judges, moving among the assembled and very excited youngsters, had the difficult job of choosing prize winners The job was so tough, in fact, that two grand sweepstakes awards were given consisting of $5 cash

First prize winners in each division received $3, second prize $2 and third $1 with each of the honorable mention winners receiving 50 cents

Winners in the Kiwanis-sponsored parade are as follows:

Grand Sweepstakes — Antone Stramiello, Janice Mauro and Joey and Jean Pitkanen, Georgene Sjolund, Judy Angberg, Jeff Lindon and Jimmy Forrester.

Girls Tricycles—Roanne Garris, first; Jeanne Osborn, second; Debra Hutchens third

Boys' Tricycles—Kenneth Ryan, first Arthur Olson, second, Timmy Skaggs, third.

Baby Buggies—Jennie Malmberg, first; Carl Nyberg and David Kindred, second; Joyce Romsos, third

More Winners

Costumes—Cindy Iverson, first; Betty Larson and Gale Parker, second; Leonard Larson, third

Miscellaneous—Donna Leonardo, first; Carol and Jack Pedersen, second; Debora Hitchman, third

Boys' Bikes—Dwayne Emerson, first; Roy and Russell Cunningham, second; Bruce Smith, third.

Wagons and Floats — Georgene Sjolund, Judy Angberg, Jimmy Forrester and Jeff Lindorff, first, Marlys Lovvold, Susan Aho, Gail Norman, Arlene Swanson and Kim Tinner, second, Susan Hoffman, Judy Schmitz, Connie Van Dusen and Susan Leahy, third

Girls Bikes—Gail Garris first Carol Stromsness second and Roberta Frame, third

Receiving honorable mention were Ruth Smith, Dow Timmen, Ricky and John Farris, Eric Skaggs, Mary Craig, Linda Johns, Anabel Jensen, Carol Mestrich, Sally Estes, Tommy and Jennifer Brownson, Jean Dempster, Debra Hitchman, Mike Brim, Karen and Jimmy McWhorter, Jane Copstead Sheryl, Nancy and David Wheaton and DeVere Poteel.

Firemen Cancel Waterball Game

The waterball competition scheduled between area fire departments as a part of their participation in Sesqui activities has been cancelled. The game was instigated by Astoria Fire Chief Wayne Osterby, who suffered a fatal heart attack while directing his men at the Trinity Apartments fire Wednesday night

Competing fire departments felt it proper that the games be cancelled in memory of Chief Osterby

Royal Rosarians to Appear in Astoria Parade

The Royal Rosarians, who will be among marching units featured in the Regatta-Sesquicentennial parade August 26, are shown at coronation ceremonies for the junior Rose Festival queen in Portland.

'Whale' to Be in Parade

The Pacific City-Woods chamber of commerce will be represented in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday with this entry.

Beaverton Elks Belles March

The Beaverton Elks Belles Drill team will be participating in the Regatta Parade tomorrow.

Float from Netarts Entered

Beachcombers float from Netarts, Ore., is one of the floats which will be featured in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday afternoon.

Tillamook Group to Appear

The Tillamook drum and bugle corps will participate in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday.

Queen of Regattaland to Get Crown Tonight

See Story Column 2

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

Astoria, Oregon, Thursday, August 24, 1961

Regatta Revels

The Sesqui-A-Storia last night was well done and all those who had a hand in its presentation deserve a big hand. As a rule, people expect a lot from such affairs and then are disappointed when they see the actual show. Not so with the Sesqui pageant.

The only disappointing feature about it was the relatively small turnout. You'll be sorry if you don't get out and see it. And don't say we didn't tell you so.

Beatrice, Olivia and Michael Sofos have sent to Arizona for Mexican costumes to wear while serving south of the border chow at the Smorgasette.

Planning a large dinner party can bring last minute frustrations to hostesses and the committee for the Smorgasette to be served Friday night have had their problems.

The coffee maker up and went off to California. There was no salt salmon to be found in town for the laksalada. Nor was there any sauerkraut to be had. And serving milk to some 2000 people just wasn't feasible at the minimum price of the dinner.

But Lady Luck stepped in and all is well. Arlie of Arlie's cafe said "Why, I'll make the coffee." Thompson's Seafood market phoned in "We'll get you your salt salmon. How much do you want? No charge." Up in Portland, Steinfels Products company heard about the sauerkraut problem and phoned down they are shipping 75 pounds of kraut (and that's a lot of kraut). Also no charge. How about that!

And the milk? Oh yes, the milk. Darigold Dairy will furnish fresh cold milk, enough for 2000 people, and, what's more, a Dairy princess will serve it to you. So there you are. And you can't tell the Smorgasette committee that people are not wonderful.

The Chefs tables for the Smorgasette Friday night at the Armory have spread their girth and will have four tables instead of three, according to Fred Prechel, president of the Clatsop county chapter of the Oregon Restaurant and Bar association. Paul R. Hutchinson will be in charge of decorating the table. And what will be the flowers? You know—Sweetpeas.

Youths Vie In Races

The Regatta Optimist Youth day featuring a carnival of races for children through the 8th grade began at Tapiola field at 10:30 this morning.

Prizes were given to winners of the wheelbarrow, backwards, sack, plain and fancy running and other a woman had shop-lifted various were also presented.

Following the races, the Y-Kids gave a swimming demonstration at Tapiola pool.

Results of the races will be published in Monday's Astorian.

1961 Regatta Now Has Queen

Sat. Parade To Highlight Week's Fete

Chief Gerald Arrington of the Astoria police department announced that the Regatta street parade Saturday will start at the Longshore hall on West Marine drive and procced on Marine drive to 8th and Commercial. It will then follow Commercial to 20th and Marine drive where it will turn right and disband in the general area of the 4-H grounds. The parade will begin at 2:30 p.m.

All cars will be cleared from Commercial street between 8th and 15th at 11 a.m. There will be no parking allowed from Kingston to West Bond on West Marine drive during these hours. Exchange street from 7th to 8th street will also be cleared. There will be complete closures of several streets which will be marked with barricades and signs. The police will be forced to tow and impound any vehicles left in these areas, he said.

During the hours of the parade there will be first aid stations in the west and and near the reviewing stand at 10th and Commercial.

In addition to the regular Astoria department, there will be officers of the sheriff's office, Oregon state police and Astoria police reserves on duty. There will also be plain clothes officers circulating among the crowd.

Any changes in direction of vehicular traffic on the one way grid pattern will prevail as the parade ends and until traffic clears the area and temporary signs can be removed.

Entries Told

The following entries, in order of their appearance in the parade, have been announced by Dr. Duane Jue, parade chairman:

I. Queen's Division:

Marshalls: Jerry Lundholm and Keith McKee.

1. Astoria police escort.
2. Police chiefs: Chief Arrington, Sheriff Bondietti, State Police Sergeant Flippo.
3. Tongue Point Naval Station color guard.
4. Warren Nunn, executive aide representing Gov. Hatfield, Senator Dan Thiel, Representative William Holmstrom, "The Sunset Empire Builders."
5. Astoria high school band, Ted Marshall, director.
6. Regatta Queen Clair Ann and court Jay-C-Ette float.
7. Regatta court chaperone, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, Anchor club skipper, Mrs. Al Sorkki.
8. Junior Regatta court, Mrs. Frank Thorsness, chaperone.
9. Sesquicentennial Queen Sally Romppanen and court.
10. The Beachcombers, Netarts, Ore.
11. Rose Festival Queen, Linda Fuqua.

12-A Royal Rosarians

12 Mariners

13 Jeanne Maddox dancers

14 Jaycee fire engine

II. Admirals Division:

Marshalls: Paul Johnson and Jack Leinenweber.

15 Mt. Hebo Radar Station color guard.

16. Admiral of the Regatta Guy Hickock and Mrs. Hickock.

17. Regatta Association President William R. Ohlmann and Mrs. Ohlmann.

18 Sesquicentennial Chairman George Abrahamsen and Mrs. Abrahamsen, Deskin O. Bergey and Mrs. Bergey, both couples in one car.

19 Miss Seaside, Virginia Kari.

20 Miss Astoria, Mary Jane Korath.

21. Regattaland Mayors: Mayor Harry Steinbock, Astoria; Mayor Harold Gramson, Warrenton, Mayor Maurice Pysher, Seaside.

22 Air National Guard drum and bugle corps.

23 Air National Guard drill

(Continued on Page 2)

Knappa's Clair Ann Heilmann became queen of the 1961 Regatta Thursday night. Top photo shows the new queen in center flanked by members of the court, their escorts, Regatta Admiral Guy Hickok and other coronation participants.

In lower photo are Gwen Jones of Seaside, (left) queen of the 1960 Regatta, Queen Clair and Regatta officials. Bouquet of roses carried by Queen Clair was presented by Miss Jones. Queen Clair will rule over all events of the 1961 fete.

Judges Choose Princess Clair Of Knappa as Regatta Queen

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK

Women's Editor

The happy, hectic kingdom of Regatta came into being last night under a moonlit, windless night sky, when Queen Clair raised her shining silver scepter and declared to several hundred of her subjects attending her coronation at Gyro field that the 1961 Astoria Regatta was officially opened.

Queen Clair, lovely gray-eyed, brown-haired daughter of Mrs. Harry Heilmann, was Knappa's princessin this year's court, and won the judges' nod at last night's pre-coronation ceremony with her well-enunciated, beautifully delivered speech to the audience. Born in an Astoria hospital, she has spent all her 18 years in the mist-wrapped, wooded valleys that spread from the mountains to the rolling Columbia in Knappa's up-river community. She graduated from Knappa high school this year, where she was a member of the National Honor society, serving as its secretary, was also treasurer of the Girls' Athletic association and ditto of the Future Homemakers of America, secretary of the student body and queen of the senior ball. Domestic to her fingertips, she has had four years of Four-H work behind her, makes her own clothes, knits her sweaters and has a flare for cooking. She loves to take part in sports and confesses to being the kind of fisherman that uses any excuse to grab her pole and gear and head for the nearest stream. She is the youngest of five children and lives at home with her widowed mother. But she hopes to attend business college in Portland this fall.

Receives Roses

The stately, gracious girl was crowned by Guy Hickok, McMinnville, adm[illegible] of the 1961 Regatta, a former As[illegible] who has worked many years o[illegible] the Regattas here and has served as president of the Regatta association. Her bouquet of four dozen red roses was presented her by out-going Regatta Queen Gwen Jones of Seaside, who graced the throne throughout the pre-coronation program until Queen Claire was proclaimed.

Before the thrilling announcement behind scenes that she was Regatta queen, Princess Clair was introduced on stage by Ken Moss of Knappa, who gave a heart-warming, smoothly delivered thumb-nail sketch of his princess.

Dainty, blond Princess Karen Young of Warrenton was introduced by [illegible]; pretty dimpled Princess Cynthia Ann Slanger of Jewell by Bill Rohrman; [illegible] own lovely princess Cher[illegible] Westman by George Oja, and charming vivacious Princess Marty Chave of Seaside by Dave Bergman.

The program, traditionally conducted by the Anchor club, was traditionally prompt, well-arranged and entertaining. The Anchor drill team, as escorts, and a flotilla of rear admirals led the procession of princesses and their escorts on stage from the wings of the towering backdrop on to the lawn in front of the stadium.

Program Colorful

Admiral Hickok was escorted by Jean Hallaux and Wesley Shaner, both former presidents of the Regatta association. Dark-haired queen Gwen Jones of last year's Regatta was led in by Bill Ohlmann, preident of the 1961 Regatta association; Mrs. Harry Steinbock, faithful chaperone of the Regatta court, by Harry Kraus, court committee chairman of the Regatta association, and Mrs. Albert Sorkki skipper of the Anchor club, by Harry Steinbock, mayor of Astoria.

It was a colorful program without a hitch, due, too, to the MC-ing of Bob Macdonald. The princesses wore identical short frocks of deep aqua sheer organza over lacy pettiskirts, with jewelled glass slippers and 1811 nosegays of pink rosebuds.

Prior to the ceremony, while the near-capacity crowd started filling up the grandstand, the Astoria high school band, under the baton of Ted Marshall, director, played lively musical selections, toning down to a more austere dignity for the processional marches.

(Continued on Page 2)

Regatta Queen Chosen

(Continued from Page 1)

Following the coronation, the Sesqui-A-Storia pageant enrolled its history of a town celebrating its 150th birthday. The fact that the cast of several hundred in composed of local people made the production more enjoyable, but it was full of movement, color, dancing, comic pantomine and incidences that the audience hartily approved proved.

Beautiful Sesquicentennial Queen Sally Romppanen and her court of princesses led off the pageant in regal style, flanked by Miss Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean, pretty girls from foreign lands in native dress, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, Sea and Explorer Scouts, Four-H'ers and other youth groups fanning out over the field.

The US coast guard squad presented the colors. Dan Hall led the singing of the national anthem and the mammoth spectacle began, ending with a thrilling, eye-filling display of fireworks.

Regatta Officials To Host Seamen

The navies of two nations will be guests tonight of the Regatta association, when rear admirals of the Regatta are hosts to the officers and men of the US minesweepers and the Argentinian navy ship berthed at Tongue Point.

The American Legion is opening its club for the party with live music to start at 9:30, preceded by a cocktail hour at 9 p.m.

Regatta Queen Clair and her court of princesses will be guests of honor with Comdr. Alan Lee Peek, his officers and men of the minesweepers, and Lt. Jorge Maslein and his crew of the Argentinian navy ship.

Parade Planned

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the combined Sesquicentennial and Regatta street parade will wend its way down Commercial street, followed by the Historical Automobile Club of Oregon, which will tour the county Saturday and Sunday.

Regatta Schedule

Thursday, August 24:
- 5 p.m.—Greeting of the Admiral.
- 5:30 p.m.—Admiral Court dinner — Anchor club, Nancy Thorsness.
- 7:30 p.m.—Coronation at Gyro field, Anchor club, MC Bob MacDonald.

Friday, August 25:
- 11 a.m.—Social hour (for past Admiral and Past President lunch).
- 12 noon—Past Admiral and past president luncheon—Jay-C-Ettes, Bondietti; Islander.
- 6 p.m.—Smorgasette, Armory, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dorn (Adeline Sather).

Saturday, August 26:
- 10 a.m.—Marine events, East End mooring basin, G. Wolfgram. Gillnet races, sailboat races.
- 10:30 a.m. — Optimist Youth Day, Tapiola Park.
- 12 noon — Y-Kids swimming races and demonstration, Tapiola pool, Don Meuhlig.
- 12 noon—Queen's luncheon, fur style show, J. J. Astor hotel, Anchor Club.
- 2:30 p.m.—Land parade, Jaycees, Duane Jue.
- 7:30 p.m.—Band show, Gyro field.

Sunday, August 27:
- 10 a.m.—Time trials: Runabout races, sailboat races, water skiing.
- 12 noon — Salmon Bar-B-Que, 4-H Fair Grounds, Lions Club.
- 1 p.m.—Firemen hose fight, McCallister Field.
- 1 p.m.—Runabout races.

All the bands in the afternoon parade will convene for performance and competition at 7:30, Gyro field, preceding the final night of the Sesqui-A-Storia historical pageant which begins as usual at 8 p.m. The band judged to be the finest will be presented with a special trophy.

Runabout time trials, off the East End mooring basin, initiate Regatta ceremonies Sunday. At noon the salmon Bar-B-Que in the 4-H building is open to the public.

In the stately old Flavel mansion the Clatsop county Historical society will be receiving all members of pioneer families from both sides of the river Sunday afternoon. The pioneer homecoming will be held in the building which has been converted into a museum of Astoriana with coffee and cake served from about 2 until 5 p.m.

Reception in Gardens

If weather permits, and we never know, despite the sunny summer the reception will be held in the spacious gardens of the mansion.

It is hoped that former Astorians in town for the Regatta-Sesqui celebration, as well as Astoria pioneer descendents, will take advantage of the get-together for dessert, following the salmon bar-b-que at the 4-H grounds.

Mrs. Violet Gunderson is chairman of the afternoon and will be assisted by women members of the historical society.

Winding up a full week of Regatta events, as well as climaxing the Sesquicentennial celebration in Astoria, are the runabout races, starting at 1 p.m. Sunday at—you guessed it—the East End Mooring Basin and the fire department fights, in the field east of Gyro.

When it's all over, when costumes, souvenirs and prizes are packed away for future generations, then kids, queens, pioneers, chefs, chairmen and citizens can join in congratulating each other on the finest Sesqui-Regatta imaginable!

Smorgasette Draws Many Diners

The International Smorgasette Friday night a feature of the Regatta, this year drew between 1800-2000 diners who sampled delicacies representing many nationalities. All those assisting with serving wore Sesquicentennial dress or other costumes. Dignitaries were seated on stage at the Armory at the queen's table. Third performance of the Sesquicentennial pageant followed the Smorgasette. Final performance is slated tonight following the band show.

SOCIAL & CLUB NEWS

PHILIPPA SEABROOK

Sat. Parade To Highlight Week's Fete

(Continued from Page 1)

float
24 Astoria high school float
25 Astoria high school foreign exchange student Silvia Marie Fortes de Almeida from Brazil
26 Astoria area scouts, Darrel Dempster, director
27 Salem American Legion drum and bugle corps
28 Tantem bicycle, Ray and Russell Cunningham
29 Pony and Cart, Mike Harding, Newberg
30 Pacific City-Woods Chamber of Commerce Whales, Wanda and K
III Division I
Marshalls, Clayton Erickson and John Schulze
31 Travelodge Bear
32 Eagle men's drill team Portland, Ore.
33 MacLaren school drum and bugle corps, Gearald Johnson, director
34 Pacific Power and Light float
35 Occidental assembly of Rainbow Girls drill team
36 Lebanon Saddle club
37 United States Coast Guard.
38 Iola's accordion band, Milwaukie drill team, Milwaukie unit 180.
39 American Legion Auxiliary
40. Garibaldi fire department
41. Thiel's novelty unit.
42 Clatsop County Historical Society float.
43 Tillamook Elks band.
44 Arabian costume, Mrs. Vernon Faulk, Milwaukie. Western dude cowboy, Vernon Faulk.
45. FOE 4 Eagle ladies drill team, Portland.
46 Bumble Bee Seafoods float.

More Entries

IV. Division II
Marshalls: Carl Jacobson and Harry Culp.
47 Tillamook Vacation Land band, Jack Gregory, director.
48. Seattle Chinese community girls drill team.
49 Oregon Cavemen, Grants Pass
50. Clatsop County Sheriff's Posse
51 Daughters of Norway marching team.
52. Sons and Daughters of Norway float.
53 Nomadettes Glockenspiel band, Portland.
54. Beta Mu Theta Rho Girls drill team.
55. Beaverton Elks drill team.
56 Sunset Empire Square Dance float
57. Old and new covered wagon, R. B. Clocker, Vancouver.
58. Longview - Kelso junior drum and bugle corps.
59 Beaverton Elks Belles drill team
60. Rockaway Manhattan Community club float.
61. Naselle Air Force base drill team

V Division III
Marshall: Ray Woods.
62. Molalla Buckaroos band, Lynn Teadtke, director.
63. Astoria fire department.
64 Salem Cherrians
65 Seaside Moose Hunters.
66 Seaside Moose Hunters float
67 Ballard Girls drill team
68. Royal Chinooks drum and bugle team.
69 The Westernetts, Dave Ault, Portland.
70. Columbia River Fish Protectors float.
71. Astoria Clowns
72. Sunset Temple of Pythian Sisters float.

VI. Division IV
Marshalls, Bob Schaeffer and Omer Stephens.
73. Hoquiam Eagles majorettes.
74 FOE 3 drum and bugle corps, Tacoma.
75 Pacific Telephone Bell float
76 Lewis and Clark fire department
77. Portland Scottish bagpipe band
78 YMCA-YWCA float
79. Mt. Scott Rainbowettes drill team.
80 Company B 162nd Engineers Battalion.
81. Astoria Eagles band, aerie 2189, V. E. Hoffman, director.
82. Fort Clatsop Trail Riders.
83. Clatsop Voiture 40 et 8 locomotive.
VIII. Division
84-104-A. Historical Auto club of Oregon Caravan, Abel Olson, tour director, featuring antique cars such as 1909 Buick, Abel Olson; 1909 Ford, Joe Nichols; 1909 Cole Joe Nichols; 1917 Buick, Joe Nichols; 1917 Rolls Royce, Joe Nichols

25 VIII-61

Regatta Court Pays Respects

The Astoria Regatta court visited the Jay-C-Ettes at their August meeting and added to the regatta planning festivities. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. James Spain Jr. and hostesses were Miss Bill Ohlman and Mrs. Omer Stephens Jr.

Mrs. Bob Jackson reported that the parade float on which the Regatta queen and her court will ride is almost completed. Decorating parties have been scheduled twice weekly for the last month. Mrs. Carl Bondietti reported that the Regatta admirals' and presidents' luncheon is set for Friday, August 25, at noon at The Islander. Her committee members are Mrs. Ohlman, Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Bill Dieter.

Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Jack Schulze volunteered to make the cookies for the children at the Salem Fairview Home this coming month. The Jay-C-Ettes roster will be distributed within a few weeks according to Mrs. Don Garris. Mrs. Schulze and Mrs. Ray Woods will co-chairman the upcoming Christmas card sale and Mrs. Dave Lamon will chairman another fund-raising project.

Jay-C-Ettes voted to continue the Red Cross calling project for volunteers for the Bloodmobile. Mrs. Lamon reported that the "kick-off" party that had been held by Jay-C-Ettes for the Sesquicentennial queen candidates at the John Jacob Astor hotel had been a success. The membership also discussed the coming of the Don Cossack dancers and singers who will be sponsored here in Astoria by the Jaycees. The Cossack group, from New York, will arrive in Astoria on November 2 on their national concert tour.

Mrs. Schulze was awarded the Jay-C-Ette of the Quarter gift and certificate. Mrs. Bondietti won the special prize of an ashtray set. Hats, some fancy, some funny, were worn by members to enliven the meeting.

The board of directors will meet at Mrs. Johnson's home August 28, and the next general meeting will be September 12 at Mrs. Lamon's home.

Get Ready, Set for Smorgasette

If you didn't already know where the gigantic Smorgasette will be served tonight at 6 p.m., your nose would tell you, if you happened to be in the vicinity of the Armory, for from that building come the tempting aromas of foods of foreign lands and also the mouth-watering dishes of the best cooks in this 150-year-old town.

Yesterday, 45 men and women, young girls and boys worked at the Armory helping to prepare the salads and fish that were popped into giant refrigerators for tonight's serving. Another 65 men and women set up tables, chairs and other equipment (there are eight refrigerators packed with goodies). All the bread, to be brought in fresh today, is home-made and spread with real butter.

Today, there have been approximately 100 people at work at the Armory, decorating tables, arranging food on platters, dozens of cakes, hundreds of cookies. Along about 4 p.m., the servers will begin arriving, making the area around the Armory look like headquarters for the United Nations with costumes of their native lands.

A representative from the Oregonian will be on hand to snoop about the tables so she can go back and tell the readers about the wonderful food Astoria serves.

Several eaters, not already mentioned will send in their top billings. Pop's Chicken Dinner, for instance, will donate his specialty, with more fried chicken coming from The Premier in Seaside, spiced chicken from the Cathay Broiler, and a special baked chicken with almond sauce from No. 10 Downing, Seaside. When Oney Camberg comes in from the mountains around Jewell tonight to be Sophie Tucker in the pageant at Gyro field, she will make it early and bring with her her own special fried chicken.

The Rancho cafe is sending in a Spanish casserole, the Palm Beach cafe will furnish crab Louis, the Pig n' Pancake, spaghetti; Williams cafe and The Ayce, macaroni salad and Shakey's and the Youngs Bay cafe, pizza.

"Clair Heilmann Is Proclaimed Regatta Queen!"

What does a girl do when she is told she is Regatta Queen? She cries, that's what she does, for some mysterious reason only known to girls who become Regatta queens. This picture was taken at the very moment that lovely Clair Ann Heilmann was told she had been chosen queen by the judges. She is fourth from the left, the one with her eyes shut to keep the tears out, which didn't. Mrs. Al Sorkki, Anchor skipper, at extreme left, has just read the judges' decision to the court of lovely princesses. Mrs. Harry Steinbock is next, Regatta chaperone, who had suffered with the princesses through the final suspense of those last minutes, with Princesses Marty Chave, Seaside, Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell, Cheryl Westman, Astoria, and Karen Young, Warrenton, sharing their queen's happiness. The queen is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Heilmann and the late Mr. Heilmann, Knappa.

Regatta Revels

Those who want a full evening of entertainment, from music to pageant to fireworks should be at Gyro field tonight at 7.30 for that is when all the bands in the Regatta-Sesqui parade will strut their stuff and sound off. The colorful and tuneful spectacle will be followed by an equally colorful and tuneful spectacle, the pageant of the history of Astoria at 9 p.m., with a cast of local people concluding with one of the most novel and eye-filling fireworks displays ever produced in Regattaland.

The Clatsop county Historical society is sponsoring a coffee and cake hour Sunday, August 27, for all pioneers of the area and their descendants. The activity will take place between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. at the museum.

The five US Navy minesweepers berthed at Tongue Point dock are holding open house to which the public is invited today and Sunday. The five compact, complex little ships are berthed together, and civilians will have no trouble gaining entrance to the gate on the base.

The more than 40 benches that line the route of the Regatta land parade today, were put there for those with weary feet to view the parade, compliments of the Sesquicentennial committee.

Antique cars coming here for the Historical Auto club of Oregon tour and also participating in the Sesquicentennial - Regatta parade this afternoon will be on display Sunday morning starting at 10 at Lou's Mobil service station, 8th and Marine drive. Sunday afternoon drivers will tour historic spots in the county in their antique vehicles.

Regatta Memories Abound at Luncheon

Past Regatta admirals and past presidents of the Regatta association gathered Friday noon for the admiral's luncheon. Also on hand were participants in this year's Regatta.

Riley Lauds Astoria in Lunch Talk

Frank Branch Riley, 1939 Regatta admiral, addressed the Admirals' luncheon Friday at the Islander with high praise for friendly Astoria, the fascinating city that is "modern as tomorrow, but mellow with memories of an historic and romantic past."

Educated at Stanford university and Harvard Law school, former Admiral Riley is a member of many learned and scientific societies and has made 25 transcontinental lecture tours dispelling—with sparkling wit and repartee—tales of the great Pacific Northwest.

"Ambassador of the Pacific Northwest," by Frank Branch Riley, edited by W. R. May, is a biography and group of addresses on the affairs of Portland and the Pacific Northwest during the past 50 years. Riley has been involved in almost every phase of Oregon's development. His contributions and special services to civic projects and public affairs are known throughout the northwest.

All other honored guests spoke briefly on Regattas, past and present.

Annundi, Stephan Win Races

A crowd of several hundred persons lined the East End mooring basin Saturday morning to see Verl Annundi, Clatskanie, run away with first honors in the limited class gillnet race.

Joe Tarabochia, Skamokawa, edged out Gene Goodell Jr., Pillar Rock, for second in a close contest during both laps of the race.

Four entries competed in the second race, which was for unlimited class gillnet boats. Entries were Gene Goodell, Pillar Rock; John Tarabochia, Astoria; John G. Johnson, Altoona, and Danny Stephan, Altoona.

Stephan took first place, Johnson placed second, Tarabochia third, and Goodell fourth.

Regatta Revels

[illegible]

The Admirals luncheon will be over before you read this, but we have a prediction to [illegible] which you'll be able to check [illegible]. It sounds to us as though it's gonna be a real ball.

[illegible]

Of course these Regatta people are pretty canny at that. They're going to run us all over the place Saturday to counter the effects of the Smorgasette no doubt.

[illegible]

We have been officially appointed to pass out information about the parade Saturday afternoon. The floats are to be ready to go at the Longshoremen's hall on West Marine at 1:30 p.m. The convertibles are supposed to be there at 1:45 and everybody else at [illegible]. Us spectators don't have anything to worry about until 2:30 though. That's blast-off time for the marchers.

[illegible] cracked more regularly than peanuts in Yankee stadium.

For band lovers—and [illegible] the music

Local Youths Vie in Shoe Scramble

The shoe scramble at Saturday morning's Optimist Youth day events drew many local children. Activities of the Regatta feature included races of various types with more than 250 children competing. (Daily Astorian Photo)

Coming Events

Aug. 23-2[illegible]—Annual Astoria Regatta and Sesquicentennial pageant

Sept. 9-10 Eagles regional conference, Astoria Eagles hall

ATTENTION
ALL A.H.S. STUDENTS
Come Work on the REGATTA FLOAT
PIER 3
WED. THRU FRI
12 Noon - 9 P.M.

This Space Courtesy
Hughes-Ransom Mortuary
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
ASTORIA SEASIDE

Parade Entries Earn Prizes

Prize-winning floats in the Sesquicentennial-Regatta parade Saturday afternoon included these two entries. In top photo is the grand sweepstakes winner, depicting early Astoria and entered by the Sons and Daughters of Norway. Bottom photo shows the non-commercial division winner, sponsored by Astoria high school. Thousands viewed the parade. (Astorian Photos)

Youth Day Calls Many Competitors

(See Picure Page 3

More than 250 children turned out for the fun and frolic of the 3rd annual Optimist Youth day, Satur- at Tapiola park, according to Campbell, Optimist president

This Regatta event is staged for children through the eighth grade not one participant goes home without a prize, even though they might not win or even place in any events.

Topping off the many events was shoe scramble which the children seemed to enjoy most of all. Winners by age division were:

RUNNING RACE

7-8 Girls Michele Radich, Betty Lou Larson, Joyce Rautio.

7-8 Boys Tony Radich, David Heckard, Gary McKinney.

5-6 Girls Kathleen Radich, Marilyn Ward Donna Campbell.

5-6 Boys Al Hauer, Arthur Reith Gibson

3-4 Girls. Linda McKinney, Sher Trenholm, Katie Fransen.

3-4 Boys Larry Muckridge, Lor n Taylor Todd Burns

1-2 Girls Trina Radich, Debbie Huchestein, Susan Ward

1-2 Boys Donald Sparks, Tom Mosby Kyle Trenholm

WHEELBARROW RACE

7-8 Girls Joyce Rautio, Michele ich Barbara Duff, Anita Bar Betty Lou Larson, Phyllis

Boys Tony Radich, David d, Steven Palmrose, Steve ilson.

5-6 Girls Kathleen Radich, Mari Ward, Lisa Henningsgaard Jenifer Brownson Sandi Dill, Sandra Duft

5-6 Boys Ray Parker Jeff Brandenburg Rodney Sparks, Mike Mc hur Reith, Robbie Tay

Girls Linda McKinney, Rob ola, Judy Ward, Marsha Wohl Sherel Trenholm, Julianne

3-4 Boys, Larry Muckridge, Warren Wheeler, Gary Larson, David Lund, Jon Mosby, Billy Heckard

1-2 Girls Trina Radich, Susan Ward, Marjorie Palmrose, Lou Ann

1-2 Boys: Tom Mosby, Denny Henry, Danny Falluer, Donald Sparks Raleigh Larson, Dutton

(Continued on Page 3)

12,000 View Parade Highlighting Events Of Regatta-Sesqui

An estimated 12 000 spectators lined the route of the Regatta-Sesquicentennial grand parade Satur-, in balmy Astoria weather And quite a parade it was with the color of the float entries, the beauty of the queens and their courts, high stepping majorettes and women's marching units, the precision of drill teams, music of bands and antics of Astoria's own Clowns

The two hour parade had a total of 110 entries, according to Jaycee chairman Dr. Duane Jue, and went off without a hitch, with only the perennial starting time problem presenting any difficulty

Of the float entries, the Sons and Daughters of Norway float, depicting a log cabin with a group of settlers and Indians, which was done with perfection, walked away with the grand sweepstakes award Taking first in the commercial division was the Bumble Bee Seafoods entry with its 150-year goodluck horseshoe and three lovely girls. In the non-commercial division, Astoria high's float, done in purple and white, and depicting "through the years" with a large book with students coming from its pages was winner.

PP&L Entry Second

In the commercial division Pacific Power and Light's entry was second and Pacific Telephone third Second place winner in the non commercial division was the Pythian Sisters, with the St Helens Chamber of Commerce third

Honorable mention for floats was given to the Astoria Jay-C-Ettes, YMCA, Empire Square Dancers, Clatsop County Historical Society and the Columbia River Fish Protectors entries

In the specialty band division, first went to the colorful Portland Scottish Bag Pipe Band; second place to Iola's Accordion Band, and third to the Nomadettes Glockenspiel Band.

In drill marching the very precise and rather awe-inspiring Seattle Chinese Community entry took the judges eye. The Mt. Scott Rainbowettes were second and Beaverton Elks third. Honorable mention included the Eagle men's group of Portland, American Legion auxiliary 180, Milwaukie district and FOE Eagle Ladies of Portland.

Air Guardsmen Win

The Air National Guard Drill team was first in military marching, the B company of the 162nd Engineers Battalion second and the U S Coast Guard third

In mounted units, the Westernettes were first, Mr. and Mrs Vernon Faulk, depicting an Arabian and cowboy second, and the Clatsop County Sheriff's Posse third The Lebanon Saddle club and Fort Clatsop Trail Riders were given honorable mention

In the display marching division, first place went to the Beaverton Elks Belles, second place to the Portland Royal Rosarians and third place to the Theta Rho girls. Given honorable mention were the Astoria area Scouts, Occidental Assembly of Rainbow Girls, Daughters of Norway and the Hoquiam Eagles Majorettes.

Astoria Band First

Order of placement in the senior division of the Drum and Bugle entries were first, the Air National Guard; second, the Astoria Royal Chinooks and third, the Tillamook Elks In the junior division McLaren School for Boys took first, the Longview Kelso Drum and Bugle Corps second, and the Astoria Mariners third.

In the highly competive band division, Astoria high school came off with top honors the Molalla Buckaroo Band second, and the Tillamook Vacation Land Band third. Given honorable mention were the Tillamook Elks and the Astoria Eagles Band

Jue advised that the Ballard Girls drill team did not make it in time for the parade because their bus suffered mechanical failure on their trip from Seattle. Other scheduled entries that failed to make parade time were the

(Continued on Page 3)

500 Watch Hydro Races

An estimated 500 spectators turned out for hydro races held yesterday at the East End mooring basin

Most of the excitement for the day was created by Ed Tolonen of Astoria who lost his motor on the first lap of the first heat of Class B. The boat went sailing out of the water on the last turn and the motor fell into the water. It was tied to the boat, but the race was ended for Tolonen who had been in the lead Just in time, the boat drifted out of the way of the two boats closely following

The time trials began at 10 Sunday morning with the races getting under way about 1 30 p.m. The 500-yard course ran from the cold storage plant down to the middle of the East End mooring basin. There were three classes determined by the time trials.

Each class contained two heats and winners were those with the best combined score. Heats consisted of five runs around the 500-yard course. Scoring for the races went: First, 400 points; second, 325; and third, 225

The high point trophy went to LeRoy Beach of Salem who totaled 1275 points

In Class A for the slowest boats Al Nicholson of Corvallis placed first, LeRoy Beach, Salem, second, Bobby Diebort Jr., of Long Beach was third.

Class B was won by an Astorian Marv Taylor LeRoy Beach came in second and Bob Diebort placed third.

Cl st race of the contest was in Class C for the fast boats Gary Ziak of Knappa came in just four-tenths of a second behind Duane Morlan of Albany who literally snatched first place. Vern Malon of Astoria was third. Fastest time for the course was 4 minutes, 10.8 seconds, chalked up by Morlan.

Tolonen received the Hell Diver trophy usually presented to he-who-dumps-first, but in this case going to he-who-dumped-his-motor

Ten boats were entered in the competition and each entry received a prize

FAMILY OF SMITHS touring Pacific Northwest as guests of Seattle's Century 21 entered Oregon by ferry Sunday and were welcomed by Astoria's Sesquicentennial court. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Smith of Rock Springs, Wyo., are at left. Standing with them are Queen Clara Heilmann, Princesses Mary Chave and Cynthia Slanger. Smith children, Karen Sue and Diana Lynn spoke with Princesses Cheryl Westman and Karen Young.

29 AUG 61 OREGONIAN

Trophies Awarded for Gillnet Races

Trophies went to the winners of Saturday morning's gillnet boat races. From left are Danny Stephan of Altoona, winner in the unlimited class who received the Daily Astorian-sponsored trophy; Verl Ann[illegible] of Clatskanie winner in the limited class; and Gordon Wolfgram, gillnet boat race chairman, who presented trophies. A total of seven boats competed

TWO BEAUTIFUL GIR are Karen Young (left) 17, Warrenton and Clara Ann Heilmann, 18, Knappa Miss Young is queen of Astoria Sesquicentennial and Miss Heilmann is queen of 41st annual Regatta Fish Festival

27 AUG 61 OREGONIAN

Rotary Anns Host Royalty At Dinner

Rotary [illegible] to [illegible]

[illegible] sented with [illegible] and other [illegible]

Centerpiece [illegible] where [illegible] were seated [illegible] leaves [illegible] and side tables [illegible] large [illegible] Jack Wittliff [illegible]

Entertainment [illegible] "The Boys," [illegible] school [illegible] high school who [illegible] their own [illegible] the manner [illegible]

It was announced that [illegible] the second consecutive [illegible] Rotary Anns will [illegible] office with volunteer help during the drive. Mrs Jack Wittliff will serve on the blood program committee. And names of those who volunteered to supply cakes for the Smorgasette were listed

Farewell [illegible] Richard Hodges [illegible] to Bremerton Mr [illegible] won the evening's special prize

Assisting Mrs. Wittliff as chairman for the evening were Mesdames Rex Baldwin, Marsh Hoffman, Ed Paldanius, Jack Shaner and David Roscoe.

28 AUG 61

on, Monday, August 28, 1961

12,000 Watch Parade

(Continued from Page 1)

Travelodge Bear, whose illness prevented the entry from traveling from San Diego, and the Pacific City-Woods Chamber of Commerce unit could not make it because of a fire which developed in their area.

More Entries Arrive

Additional entries received just prior to the parade's starting time included the St Helens Chamber of Commerce, a mounted unit entered by Cecil Brimm and his children and the Longview Eagles marching unit

Making a special hit with the spectators was the caravan of antique automobiles which members of the Historical Auto Club of Oregon displayed. Drivers of the autos were dressed in the style that was represented by the vintage of their cars. And as usual the Greater Astoria Booster clowns were at their best in giving the parade a fun-filled atmosphere

Honorable mention in the novelty division was given to the following: The Beachcombers of Netarts Jeanne Maddox Dancers Thiel's Novelty Unit, Seaside Moose Hunters, Astoria Clowns, Lewis and Clark Fire Department, Astoria Fire Department, Garibaldi Fire Department Mt. Hebo Radar Station Color Guard, Tandem Bicycle of Ray and Russell Cunningham; the Oregon Cavemen from Grants Pass; Clatsop Voiture 40 et 8 locomotive; and Astoria high Foreign Exchange student, Silvia Marie Fortes de Almeida of Brazil

Youth Day Calls Many Competitors

(Continued from Page 1)

Clarke.

BACKWARDS RACE

7-8 Girls Joyce Rautio, Nancy Reed, Betty Lou Larson.

7-8 Boys David Heckard, Steven Palmrose, Shane Ruuttila

5-6 Girls Sandi Dill, Jane Capstead, Sharon Worthy.

5-6 Boys Jim Sellars, Robbie Taylor, Jon Saarheim.

Muckridge Loran Taylor

1-2 Girls Trina Radich, Linda Love Susan Ward

1-2 Boys Don Jurvakainen, Raleigh Larson, Tommy Mosby.

SACK RACE

7-8 Girls Joyce Rautio, Michele Radich, Betty Lou Larson

7-8 Boys David Heckard, Gary McKinney, Tony Radich

5-6 Girls: Kathleen Radich Karen Youngren, Sandi Dill

5-6 Boys Ray Parker, Jeff Brandenburg, Tom Hatley

3-4 Girls Linda McKinney, Lynn

28 AUG 61

THE OREGONIAN, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1961

Astoria Sesquicentennial Celebration Special Recipes Shared

THESE CHEFS were among eleven who prepared their specialty recipes as part of festivities of Friday's smorgasbord. From left Chefs: Jerry Millar, Seafair restaurant; Fred Perschel, Crab Pot; W. O. (Bud) Anderson, Seal Bros., and Cleve Mulligan of the Crab Broiler.

AMONG GUESTS being served at the Friday night fete were Mrs. Nellie Sather (left) and Mrs. Polly McKean Bell, (right), two of Astoria's senior citizens being served by Norwegian costumed Judith Dreyer

By NANCY MORRIS
Food Editor, The Oregonian

While in Astoria last weekend for the International Smorgasbordette, one of the highlights of the combination Regatta-Sesquicentennial celebration, a bit of sampling and lots of notes were gathered on foods that chefs and the

sop county housewives served

A beehive of activity, the Astoria armory was filled with delicious homemade foods. One specialty was the chef's table, where 11 chefs, all members of the Oregon Restaurant and Beverage Association, prepared their favorite items to help feed the 2000 hungry patrons.

The other specialty table was the International—where foods from 12 nations were tasted. Several of the Clatsop County housewives who prepared and donated some of their prize dishes have shared their recipes with the Oregonian. Here are a few:

PICKLED STURGEON from: Mrs. Jo Love, Astoria

This recipe is for 4 lb of sturgeon.

Remove skin from fish and cut fish into pieces 1½-inches thick and about 2 inches square. Soak for 4 hours in a brine made from 2 cups of salt and 1 cup cold water

Then prepare pickling brine made from 2½ cups white vin egar, 1 cup water, a few bay leaves or myrtle leaves, honey, 2 teaspoons each allspice, pepper, mustard seeds

Slice fish and put in brine Simmer 2 minutes; meat will turn white. Remove from heat and chill. Slice in bite-size pieces. Layer alternately with onions, add a button garlic and slice of red pepper. Pour brine over fish. It will keep several months if refrigerated

FINNISH COFFEE BREAD from: Mrs. Olga Axedson

1 quart milk
1 cup butter
1 teaspoon ground cardamon,
2 cups white sugar
1 cake yeast
6 eggs, beaten

Enough white flour to make a dough when kneaded so it doesn't stick to hands

Mix all ingredients, let rise 3 hours in a warm place Form into loaves and let rise until double Dough must not be too stiff Bake in a moderate oven about one ho

FINNISH LIMPPU from Mrs. Aina Kaitara

4 large potatoes
1 cup syrup
1 cake yeast
1 teaspoon caraway
1 teaspoon anise s
1 tablespoon salt
White and rye flour for stiff dough.

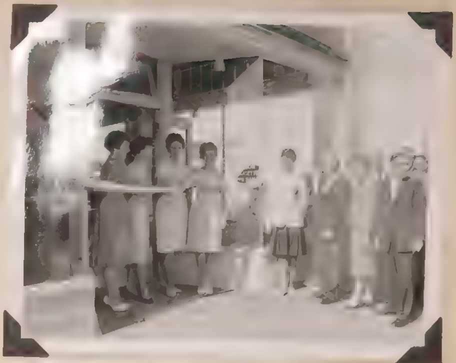
Peel and boil potatoes in enough water to make 4 cups with finely mashed potatoes. Add syrup, yeast (dissolved in a little warm water), caraway seed, anise seed and salt. Use equal parts of white and rye flour to make a stiff dough. Let rise in a warm place until double in size. Then mold into round loaves and let rise 1 hour. Bake about one hour in moderate oven

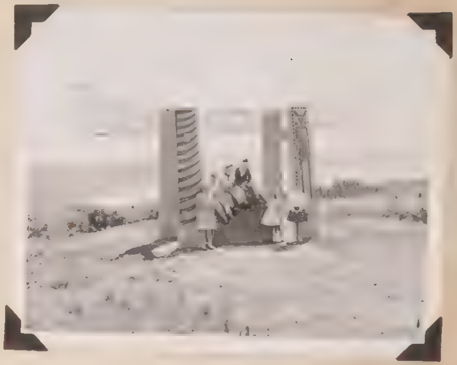
Quite a glamorous cake which is tasty and a good decoration item for the table is this Norwegian cake

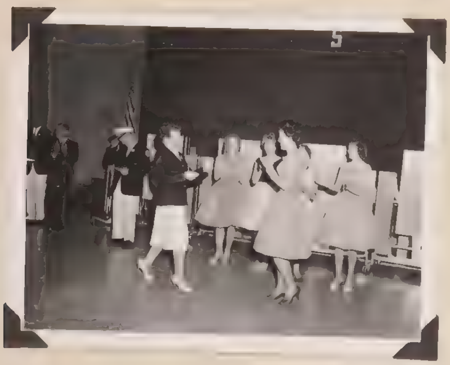
NORWEGIAN RUSSLKAKE from: Mrs. Nellie Sather, Astoria

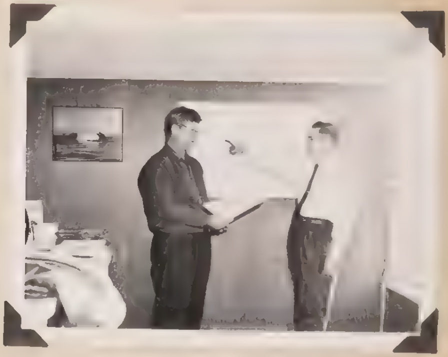
Bake three layers of a favorite white
Spread two layers w
berry or loganberry j
low jam to soak into cake while preparing a vanilla pudding mix. Use pudding as a filling on top of the jam.

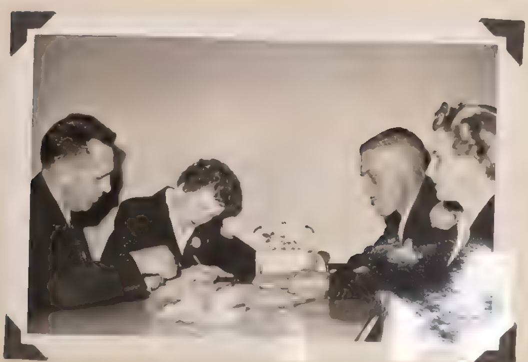
Spread the entire cake with a generous portion of meringue (one which uses at least 4 egg whites)

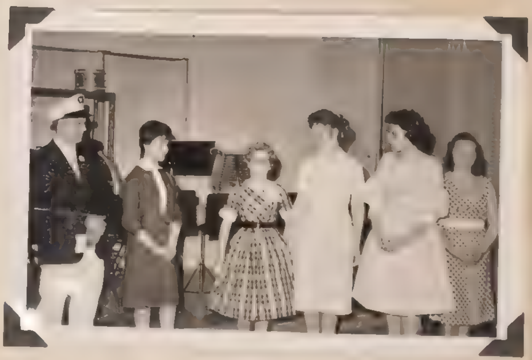












BE SURE TO ATTEND - - -

ANCHOR CLUB TEA

With

1961 REGATTA COURT

SATURDAY, AUGUST 12
FROM 2 to 4 P. M.
Clatsop County
Historical Museum

Princess
Marty Chave

Princess
Clare Heilmann

Princess
Cynthia Anne Slanger

Princess
Cheryl Westman

Princess
Karen Young

SATURDAY
AUG. 26, 12 Noon
John Jacob Astor Hotel
Honoring Queen & Court

ANCHOR CLUB LUNCHEON

Reserv[illegible] Tuesday, August 22

[illegible]LIC $1.50

SECOND ANNUAL

SESQUICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION FOR ASTORIA

BRING YOUR BOWLING BALL & FRIENDS

ASTORIA REGATTA

OREGON STATE

BP AA

This tournament is restricted to bowlers who do their league bowling EXCLUSIVELY in member BPA houses. It is the bowler's repsonsibility to ascertain if the establishment where he bowls is a member of the BPA (Bowling Proprietors of America Incorporated), and that he personally meets all eligibility requirements of this tournament.

ABC and WIBC SANCTIONED

MIXED DOUBLES HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

HANDICAP 70% SCRATCH 200

ONE PRIZE EACH 8 ENTRIES

Bowl All Four Games on One Pair
Use Best Three Out of Four

SPECIAL SQUADS ON REQUEST

YOU MAY ROLL TWICE WITH THE SAME PARTNER
BUT CASH ONLY ONCE IN PRIZE LIST FOR POSITION STANDINGS

BOWL WITH AS MANY PARTNERS AS YOU WISH

Use Highest Average (30 Games or More) for 1960-61 Season

IF NO QUALIFYING AVERAGE, USE HIGHEST AVERAGE LAST YEAR, OR ENTER SCRATCH

ENTRY FEE:

$5.00 Per Person — Prize Fee $2.60 (To Be Returned 100% in Prizes). Bowling $1.80 and Expenses 60c.

SQUAD TIMES:

Bowl Anytime Except Wednesday 7:00 to 9:30 P.M. or Squads Upon Request.

Handicap Limit for Men is 40 Pins Per Game and the Women 50 Pins

ENTRIES CLOSE PRIOR TO START OF LAST SQUAD AT 10:30 P.M., OCTOBER 1, 1961

MEN'S SPECIAL 3-GAME WOMEN'S

WARM-UP SINGLES

HANDICAP 70% SCRATCH 200

ENTRY FEE:

$4.00 Per Person — Prize Fee $2.65 (To Be Returned 100% in Prizes). Bowling $1.35. One Prize Each 5 Entries

Bowl as Many Times as You Wish—Cash Only Once in Prize List

For Position Standings

Use Highest Average (30 games or more) for 1960-61 Season

IF NO QUALIFYING AVERAGE, USE HIGHEST AVERAGE LAST YEAR, OR ENTER SCRATCH

Handicap Limit for the Men is 40 Pins Per Game and the Women 50 Pins

August 7th thru October 1st 1961

Leagues Start Sept. 5th, Squad Times through Oct. First. Saturday 2 P.M., 4 P.M., 7 P.M.; Sunday 10 A.M., 2 P.M., 4 P.M.

MAIL ENTRIES TO FRED BRADBURY

Lower Columbia Bowl, Inc.

826 MARINE DRIVE
ASTORIA, OREGON

Tournament Committee Reserves the Right to Accept, Reclassify or Reject Any Entrant

---

We're Air Conditioned for Your Bowling Comfort

'62 Regatta, Fish Festival Opens Thursday For 4-Day Run

City Ready For Start Of Regatta

A warm sun beating down out of a blue sky added to Astoria's festive mood Thursday as citizens prepared for the start of the annual Regatta and Fish Festival to continue through Sunday.

The festival begins officially at 5 p.m. Thursday, when Regatta Admiral Paul Kearney, US Marshal for Oregon and former Clatsop county sheriff, is greeted by Regatta officials at a public reception at the J. J. Astor hotel.

Charles Farmer, Regatta association president, will extend the official welcome.

Admiral Kearney and the seven Regatta princesses will be honor guests at a dinner in the J. J. Astor hotel to follow the reception.

Coronation ceremonies, featuring selection and crowning of a queen, will start at 8 in the Armory. The queen will be chosen from a committee of judges during the ceremony, from among the seven Regatta princesses. She will be crowned by Admiral Kearney.

Rehearsal Held

Rehearsal for the coronation ceremony was held Wednesday evening in the Armory, with the Anchor club in charge, and all Regatta princesses, their escorts and members of the junior court were present. The Anchors have decorated the Armory in a light-hearted fashion, with rose trees and trellises making a dainty setting for the event that starts tonight at 8. The Astoria high school band will furnish the musical background and Bob Lovell will be master of ceremonies.

Meanwhile, a flurry of activity was taking place elsewhere in the Armory, where numerous men and women are preparing food for the Smorgasette, to be held Friday night at 6 at the Armory. The kitchens downstairs are where 500 pounds of turkey are being stuffed and salads and vegetables prepared for the many refrigerators where they will be stored until serving time.

Listed in categories, the groups contributing food and labor to the big feed include restaurants, unions, granges, business firms, [illegible] civic organizations, fraternal organizations, clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts, 4-H'ers, radio and TV stations and newspapers.

The sheriff's posse will assist guests in parking and direct them to the three entrances where tickets will be sold.

Anchor club members will direct the guests to the six 24-foot long tables (144 feet of food), which will [illegible] table, thus making 12 serving lanes.

The Jay-C-Ettes will direct the diners to seats at tables which will be decorated by the Four-H club of Jewell. Square dancers in costume will perform and foreign cos[illegible]alities, will be worn by the women serving the food. Boy and Girl Scouts will be in uniform to assist as bus boys and serving aids and the Oregon Dairy Princess is to be there to dispense, naturally, milk.

Consuls to Attend

The Regatta Queen's table will be decorated by Mrs. Chester Love, themed to this year's Regatta idea "Outdoor Living". Miss Berenice Rehiel, Express Travel agent at Meier and Frank's, Lloyd's Center, will be hostess at the consul's table, where foreign consuls of several countries will be seated.

All in all, there will be some 400 people taking part in the Smorgasette, which is being set up to feed 3000 people.

Starting at 6:30 p.m., Friday will be the annual Regatta children's parade, with the Kiwanis club in charge. It will start at the court house and proceed along Commercial to the Four-H Fair Grounds, where prizes will be given.

All children were welcome to enter the parade.

Old-Timers to Meet

Children will have a big afternoon Friday at Tapiola park pool, with swimming races and other water events directed by Don Muhlig of the YMCA.

The Clatsop County Historical museum will be the gathering place for all the "old-timers" who are in town during Regatta week, who will be honored at an informal reception and tea hosted by the Historical society. The event will start at 1:30 p.m. Sunday and close at 4 p.m. so that those attending may continue on to the salmon barbecue at the 4-H fair grounds, Mrs. Alta Schalk, president of the society, said.

A special group of honored guests for the smorgasette and other Friday events will be members of the foreign consular corps in Portland. They have attended smorgasettes for several years past and have been invited again this year. Several of them will arrive early Friday.

JCs Plan For Parade August 25

Plans for the Astoria Regatta grand parade, staged each year by the Jaycees in conjunction with Astoria Regatta Association, are rapidly developing, according to chairman Ron Bisceglia.

Seven float entries and 26 marching units have confirmed participation in the event set to go through Astoria streets starting at 3 p.m., Saturday, August 25, Bisceglia said. Theme of the parade is "Outdoor Living."

The parade chairman announced that Governor Mark Hatfield will be honorary grand marshal for the parade and that he will be accompanied by Mrs. Hatfield.

A band show has been set for 8 p.m. on the same Saturday at Gyro field in which the units that took part in the parade will participate in a special show. All awards for winners of the various parade entry classifications will be presented during the band show, Bisceglia said.

Committee Named

Bisceglia also announced the working parade committee with members and their areas of responsibility as follows: Don Boyd, awards and judging; Ken Hodgkinson, publicity; Paul Autio, parade marshal; Paul Johnson, housing; Marque Marriott, hospitality; and Dick Holmes, band show.

Bisceglia urged that other local groups and firms throughout the county consider entering a group or float in the event. Information on participation should be given the parade chairman who may be reached at PP&L office in Astoria.

Bisceglia listed the following marching bands, drill teams and other groups that have confirmed appearances in the Astoria Regatta grand parade: Astoria high school band; Ballard Girls Drill Team from Seattle; 759th Radar Squadron (drill and rifle team) from Naselle; 689th Radar Squadron (color guard) from Mt. Hebo; Iola's Accordion Band, from Milwaukie; Astoria Clowns, Inc.

Entries Told

Beaverton Elks Belles Drill Team; Mt. Scott Rainbowettes Drill Team from Portland; Sunset Temple 38 [illegible] Drill team; Beaverton Elks Drill Team; Tillamook Vacation Land Band (high school); Drum and Bugle Corps from McLaren School for Boys; Betu Mu Theta Rho from Warrenton.

Daughters of Norway Marching Team, Astoria, Milwaukie Unit American Legion Drill team; Match Pair Horse and Riders from Milwaukie; Oregon's Air National Guard Drum, Bugle and Rifle Corps from Portland; Tillamook Elks Drum and Bugle Corps; Molalla Bucheroos Band; and Clatsop County Sheriff's posse.

More confirmations for other marching units are expected, Bisceglia said.

Sponsors of floats in the annual event, with more expected, include from Bumble Bee Seafoods, Inc.; Pacific Power and Light company; Garibaldi Fire department; 5 Novelty Fire Truck; Sons and Daughters of Norway; Sunset Empire Square Dance Council; Pacific City-Woods Chamber of Commerce and Astoria Jay-C-Ettes.

Meeting to Launch Smorgasette Plans

The smorgasette committee will meet with the Regatta Association Tuesday at the YMCA at 7:30 p.m. to start planning the annual mammoth food festival that features favorite dishes of foreign countries during the Regatta.

It is hoped by the Regatta Association and by the four on the smorgasette committee, Al Sorkki, Al Iverson, Adelaine Dorn and C. J. Sakrzewski that present at the meeting also will be representatives from the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H, each church, lodges, unions, clubs and other organized bodies who have helped put on the feed in the past, and others who want to assist. Most of the organizations have already been sent letters requesting help again. Interested individuals are also invited. The committee stated that transportation to other towns in the community to stimulate interest in the "gourmets' delight" is needed at this time.

Mrs. Paul Kearney, wife of Astoria Regatta Admiral, pins rose on admiral's coat as he prepares for Regatta duties. Kearney is US marshal for Oregon and former Clatsop sheriff.

Native Astorian Serving As Admiral for Regatta

Paul Kearney, admiral of the 1962 Astoria Regatta, told a press conference before leaving his Portland home for Astoria that he believed he was the first Astoria born admiral of any Astoria Regatta.

He recalls early Astoria Regattas whose admirals were notables from the outside world. His recollections are sharpest about the pioneer motorboat racing in which such noted speed craft of the day as Oregon Kid, Oregon Wolf, Wigwam, Swastika, Vamose, Volger Boy and others took part. He remembers that the motorboat drivers included Wilbur Smith of Rainier, Herman [illegible] of Portland who was killed several years ago in the crash of his high speed boat in Seattle Sea Fair competition.

Admiral Kearney also told the press that he hadn't forgotten the splendid sailboat racing in which the sailors included Astorians Roxy Graham, John Olsen, Uastin Olsen, Ross Hoksins and others.

Delighted to have been appointed [illegible] marshal after a generation as sheriff of Clatsop county, said that getting an admiral's uniform is no small task on short notice. In his desire to look his best before fellow Astorians, the admiral finally went to a Portland firm which dresses gentry for tuxedo functions.

He was provided an Astoria admiral's cap right off the bat, a bit small, but just the thing—the salesman said—to keep on your head in an Astoria blow. He was next shown an admiral's coat with the gold shining gloriously. It fitted perfectly except around the mid section which the admiral said he would adjust. And the store had just the right size trousers.

The admiral's belt is a product of seaman's craft, handwoven to fit the Kearney midriff in Astoria days. A prisoner of fine taste made the handsome belt of linen. A proper admiral's tie is to be furnished in Astoria.

Like her husband, Mrs. Martha Kearney was born in Astoria and took in the early Regattas from boats which her father's firm of Wilson Brothers built. She particu[illegible] 40 years ago in which Mrs. Toivo Forstrom was queen. Her husband was a noted Astoria physician who had practiced in China after studying in Finnish and German universities.

Both admiral and Mrs. Kearney recalled the spectacular features of early Astoria Regattas. One of the perennial performers was Fritz De Rock, a commercial deep sea diver who invariably emerged from the deep with a big salmon. Another was Charley Wise, the sponsor of speedboat and other Regatta attractions and proprietor of the Wigwam saloon.

Among those who will see Admiral Kearney in his resplendent uniform will be his grandchildren in Astoria and those from Portland. His aide will be Wendell Wyatt, former state Republican chairman, who recommended him for U.S. marshal. The admiral is a son of the late James Kearney who was chief of police in Astoria in early Regatta days.

Contest Promotes Regatta Buttons

The Astoria Regatta Association will conduct an ice-o-[illegible] starting this morning to promote sales of Regatta buttons.

The contest will involve estimating the time required for a 300-pound cake of ice to melt down to 10-pound weight.

The melting will take place Thursday, August 23, in the window of the former Jerome's store at 12th and Commercial, starting at 10 a.m. The winner will get a $50 government bond.

Starting today, a demonstration melting of a 300-pound ice cake will start at 10 a.m. daily in the store window. Members of the Anchors and Jay-C-Ettes will be on hand to sell Regatta buttons during the melting period each day. Only Regatta button owners may enter the contest.

Kearney To Be Admiral Of Regatta

PAUL KEARNEY

Paul Kearney, former Clatsop county sheriff now living in Portland, has been named admiral of the 1962 Regatta.

At a recent meeting of the Regatta board, officers were chosen and a schedule of Regatta events for Thursday, August 23, was prepared.

Events for the remaining days of the four-day celebration will be announced as they are coordinated, board members said.

Slated at 5 p.m. August 23 is greeting of the Regatta admiral in the lobby of the John Jacob Astor hotel. At 5:30, the admiral's court dinner is planned at the hotel, followed by coronation of the queen at 8 p.m. at the Armory. Plans are being made for a queen's dance to follow the coronation.

At the Regatta association meeting, Al Iverson was named vice-president. Other officers are Al Sorkki, treasurer, and Mrs. S. Bergstrom, secretary. Board members are Hugh Seppa, Bill D. Wilson, Frank Thorsness, C. J. Zakrzewski, Dr. Tom Cameron, Dale Curry and William D. Ohlmann.

Wide Range Of Events On Agenda

Astoria's big annual [illegible] the Regatta [illegible] through Sunday afternoon.

[illegible] favorable [illegible] a summer that has been somewhat damp.

Paul Kearney, U.S. marshal for Oregon and longtime Clatsop county sheriff before that, will be admiral. A queen is still to be chosen from among a group of seven princesses — Marian Bue, Judy Maddox, Susan Hendrickson of Astoria high; Carol Stockl of Star of the Sea high; Judy Reed of Seaside high; Martha Donaldson of Knappa high and Cheryl Wadsworth of Warrenton high.

Major event of opening night Thursday will be the selection and

REGATTA PROGRAM

Thursday—

5 p.m.—Reception for Admiral J. J. Astor hotel.

5:30 p.m.—Dinner for Admiral and Court, J. J. Astor hotel.

8:00 p.m.—Coronation of Queen, Armory.

Friday—

12:00—Children's races and swimming demonstration, Tapiola pool.

6:00 p.m.—Smorgasette, Armory.

6:30 p.m.—Children's parade.

Saturday—

10:00 a.m.—Optimist youth day sports program for children Tapiola park.

12:00—Queen's luncheon, J. J. Astor hotel.

[illegible]—Regatta parade

[illegible]—Band show, Gyro

[illegible]—Hydro boat races [illegible] about races, Cullaby [illegible] rolling contest, Cullaby

[illegible] p.m.—Lions Club salmon [illegible]ue, Four-H Fair grounds.

[illegible]tion of the queen in the [illegible]ry. The Anchor Club, headed [illegible] Mrs. Nancy Thorsness, will be in charge of this festivity as it [illegible] for many years.

Reception for Admiral

[illegible] there will be a reception for Admiral Kearney and a dinner for him and the [illegible] Anchor Club in charge and Mrs. Donna Gustafson as general chairman.

Bob Lovell will be master of ceremonies for the coronation rites. Wendall Wyatt will be admiral's aide. All Astorians who have admiral's uniforms are being urged to turn out to join the admiral's [illegible].

The high school band will play.

Friday's program opens with children's swimming races and demonstrations at Tapiola pool, with Don Muhlig of the YMCA in charge.

The annual smorgasette will be held Friday evening at the Armory. More organizations are taking part and a greater variety of dishes will be available than ever before, according to Adelaine Sather Dorn, in charge of this dinner. Preparations are being made to accommodate 3,000 diners with a minimum of delay.

Children's Parade Set

The Kiwanis club will sponsor a children's parade Friday evening.

Saturday's main event will be the annual Regatta parade through the downtown streets at 3 p.m. Ron Bisceglia of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, parade chairman, said many entries have been received from surrounding communities, including several bands which will take part in the band show at Gyro field Saturday evening.

Before the parade, the Optimist club will conduct its annual field day for youngsters at Tapiola Park at 10 a.m., and the queen's luncheon will be put on by the Anchor club at noon in the John Jacob Astor hotel.

Gov. and Mrs. Mark Hatfield are to take part in the parade and Mrs. Hatfield will be a guest at the queen's luncheon.

Boat races Sunday will start at 10 a.m. at Cullaby lake. Regatta buttons will be required for admission. Al Iverson is in general charge. Regatta officials appealed to local owners of boats to enter them in the runabout race.

Standing ready for a cup of tea from Anchor club skipper Mrs. Frank Thorsness after the event honoring the Regatta court, are from left, Regatta Princesses Marian Bue, Martha Donaldson, Judy Maddox, Mrs. Ruben Kuratli, chaperone, Princesses Susan Hendrickson, Cheryl Wadsworth, Judy Reed, Carol Stockfleth and Mrs. George Fulton, chairman for the tea. (Chessman Photo)

Anchor Tea For Court Calls 200

A sunny afternoon and the chance to meet seven lovely Regatta princesses and their chaperone brought more than 200 women to the Yacht club when the Anchor club served tea in honor of the 1962 Regatta court Saturday.

The interior of the spacious clubhouse was transformed into a veritable rose garden for the event, stylized rose trees in white tubs carrying out the shades of shell pink and deeper rose throughout. Window boxes were draped with Dorothy Perkins rose vines in the same shades, and the stage was set with white iron furniture upholstered in pink. The tea table, spread with pastel pink satin, was centered with a large silver epergne of pink sweetpeas and roses between silver candelabra holding lighted pink tapers.

Presiding at the silver tea and coffee urns throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Harry Steinbock and Mrs. Nick Zorich, with the Mesdames John Donaldson, Knappa; D. H. Wadsworth, Warrenton; Eldred Hendrickson, Jeffers Gardens; Robert Reed, Clatsop Plains; Richard Maddox and Myron Bue, all mothers of the princesses.

Greeting those who came for [illegible] were Princess Carol Stockfleth, Martha Donaldson, Cheryl Wadsworth, Susan Hendrickson, Judy Reed, Judy Maddox and Marian Bue, all in dainty pink and white frocks, pink Dior bows in their hair and pink corsages at their waists. Also in the receiving line were Mrs. Frank Thorsness, Anchor club skipper, Mrs. George Fulton, chairman of the tea, and Mrs. Ruben Kuratli, chaperone for the Regatta court.

Miss Julie Thomson played soft background music on the piano throughout the affair, and Clovia Wells Erickson managed the guest book. Virginia Reiter assisted Mrs. Fulton in the decor for the tea, and in presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Charles Gustafson. Assisting about the rooms were officers of the Anchor club, the Mesdames Hugh Winstanley, Rudy [illegible], John Cederberg, Jean [illegible] and Louis Wright.

Accordion Band to March in Regatta Parade

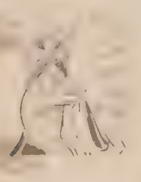
Iola's Accordion Band from Milwaukie, Richard Hlavka, director of the 45 piece group, will be one of many units from Oregon and Washington on hand for the annual Regatta Grand parade Saturday August 25, starting at 3 p.m. The parade, staged by the Astoria Jaycees in conjunction with the Regatta Association, is one of the highlights of the four-day Regatta festivities. Gov. and Mrs. Mark Hatfield will be on hand for the parade, Hatfield acting as honorary grand marshal. Iola's Band will be one of many that will compete for honors in a band show slated at Gyro field, 8 p.m. August 25.

Beaverton Elks Drill Team to Appear

The Beaverton Elks lodge display marching drill team will be one of many marching units on hand for the Astoria Regatta grand parade Saturday starting at 3 p.m. The parade will follow a two-mile route through Astoria starting at the West Bond, 5th and West Marine Drive intersection, to 6th, up 6th to Commercial and then east on Commercial to 20th where the parade will disband. A band show, with many of the units that appeared in the parade participating, is slat[illegible] for Gyro field that evening starting [illegible] wards will be prese[illegible] to winners in the parade during the band show.

left one was

Thursday She Will Be Regatta Queen, But Today She's Just A Pretty Gir



The magic hour is approaching . . . that wonderful moment when a pretty girl becomes a queen, crowned with a jewelled diadem, draped in royal robes, handed a glittering scepter and told to proclaim the official start of the Astoria Regatta! The thrill of a life-time, a moment to be remembered forever, that's what it is.

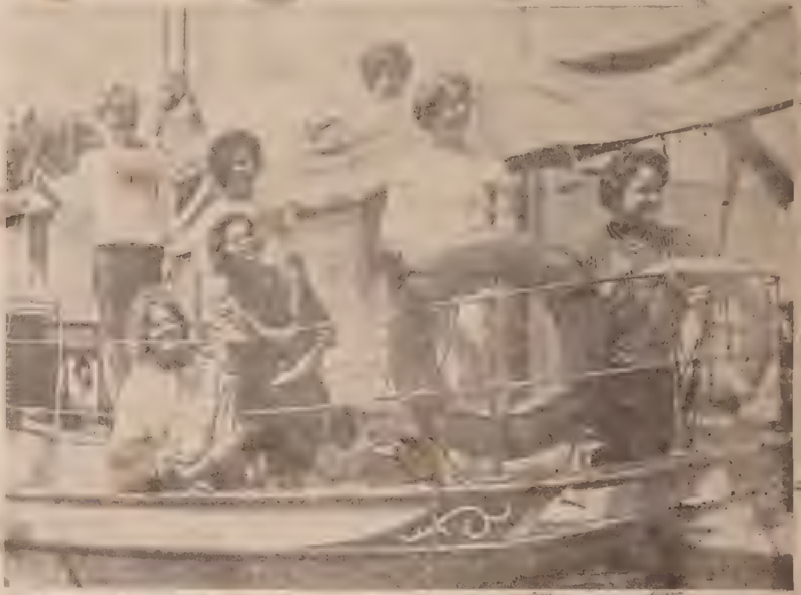
And that is exactly what will happen to one of the girls on this page Thursday night at the Astoria Armory, when each princess will be introduced by her high school escort, to be followed by an individual address by each girl, then exit Regatta court to behind-the-scenes, to enter again, this time led by the one th[illegible]s shall declare the fairest of them all, escorted this time by the Admiral of the 1962 Regatta Paul Kearney.

Who will it be? Dainty Judy Maddox, golden haired Marian Bue, Susan Hendrickson of the laughing eyes, all from Astoria high? Stately Judy Reed of Seaside, gracious Carol Stockfleth of Star of the Sea, lovely Cheryl Wadsworth of Warrenton or winsome Martha Donaldson of Knappa? All so right for the role of queen, all the choice of their respective schools for the honor, all so appreciative of and grateful for that honor, every one of them a royal living doll. (Poor judges!)

And who would YOU pick?

It is only right and proper that citizens of Regatta land are there Thursday night to cheer their favorites and to acclaim the new queen when she is chosen. For whoever she may be, she will be Queen of all Regatta land for 1962.

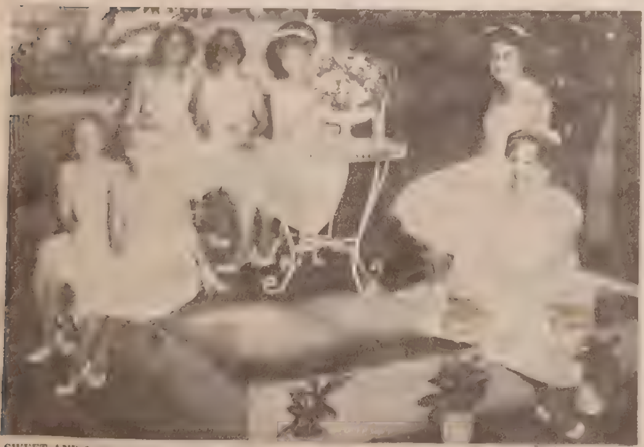
Meanwhile, until Thursday night, she is a girl, bright-eyed, fair skinned, smiling, happy, enjoying these pre-Regatta days that are so filled with teas, luncheons, dinners, receptions there is scarcely time to get away for a bit of informal fun together. But here is proof, she DID sneak away. And she enjoyed every minute of it.



REGATTA COURT INCOGNITO. You'd hardly guess it but these are the members of the Astoria 1962 Regatta court, who, after all, are not just the prettiest, most popular and leading girls their schools chose for the honor, but who are just girls, too. Recently, on a sunny summer day, they donned "casuals" and roamed the docks and waterfronts of their kingdom (properly escorted, of course). Fun, thrills, accompanied by chatter and giggles, were everywhere that day, everywhere the princesses went, and it gave the girls a chance to let down their hair (the sea breeze helped on that score) and their subjects a chance to see royalty "in the rough". They clambored aboard Eben Carruthers' graceful sail boat Ebb Tide, got hung up in the rigging and nearly fell overboard a time or two, which added to the general merriment. Mr. and Mrs. Carruthers said they were honored by visit. From left seated Judy Reed of Seaside high; Martha Donaldson of Knappa; standing, left, Judy Maddox, Astoria, Carol Stockfleth, Star of the Sea; Susan Hendrickson, Astoria; Marian Bue, Astoria and Cheryl Wadsworth, Warrenton. Bermudas, pedal pushers, sweat shirts and flatties were accepted mode of dress.

"WELCOME ABOARD, REGATTA COURT!" was the greeting from crewmen of the Ponchartrain, largest Coast Guard ship to visit here in memory. And seven nautical princesses traipsed up the gangplank for a conducted tour of the beautiful vessel. Young officers helped them doff their navy blue jackets in the warm sunshine on the deck, while white hats aboard appeared suddenly, unusually busy at chores, in each place where girls toured ship.

AHOY, REGATTA, AHOY! A chance to relax from the rigors of their court duties was afforded the seven princesses when they were guests of Dick Ehstrom, Portland, aboard his spacious charter boat the Gambella. The sun was bright, the water calm and it was such a joy to just do nothing more strenuous than wave to those ashore along their cruise.



SWEET AND LOVELY and dainty fresh in their pastel pink and white tea dresses with white gloves, slippers and little bow hats, the princesses presented a different picture at the tea the Anchor club gave in their honor at the rose-bedecked Yacht club. They greeted more than 200 women from all parts of the county when they stood in the receiving line. Rose tree decor echoed color of royal dresses. From left (so you'll recognize them dressed up) Princess Marian Bue, Judy Maddox, Judy Reed, Martha Donaldson, Susan Hendrickson, Cheryl Wadsworth and Carol Stockfleth. (Chessman Photo)

FISH, FISH AND MORE FISH—Excitement mounted when some of the sport fishing boats came in to Hendrickson's moorage in Warrenton. Pretty princesses were goggle-eyed at fish and fishermen were goggle-eyed at pretty princesses. They showed a few qualms about picking up fish by gills to bring them to Max Kempt, left, and [illegible] Thompson, far right who clean fish dockside. One princess grabbed a pole, threw in line, hook and caught a wiggling fish, all of 2 inches long. Feet got wet, hands got fishy, but, evidently, these princesses are mad for fish.

Cheryl Wadsworth Regatta Princess

PRINCESS CHERYL

Stand by, subjects of Regatta land for here comes another princess from the [illegible] resort of Warrenton on the [illegible] of the mighty Columbia. Princess Cheryl Wadsworth.

[illegible] though she was born in an Astoria hospital December [illegible] 1943, Warrenton has been her home since that day. She arrives in [illegible] her parents, the D. H. Wadsworths [illegible] had.

[illegible] to cook and [illegible] French horn in the school band, she shows an early tendency toward a career of [illegible] for [illegible] school students, [illegible] into quite a profitable proj[illegible]

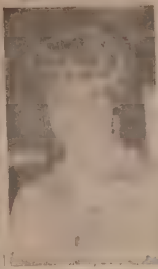
She is working this summer at [illegible] helps at [illegible] electric shop in between [illegible]

This princess stands 5-feet-four and has ash blond hair and [illegible] eyes, which might have had something in her being chosen a princess for Warrenton's big Independence Day celebration last Fourth of July.

She likes water skiing on the beautiful lakes around her home and has for pets a prim female Dalmation called Prissy and two black and white cats. More impor[illegible] that [illegible] is big [illegible] of [illegible] at the University of Washing[illegible] little sister Terri Lynn.

Princess Cheryl was the winner of [illegible] scholarship to [illegible] in Music [illegible] this fall which is [illegible] princess would be [illegible] of.

Nautical Charmer Princess of Regatta



PRINCESS SUSAN

Run up the ensign, lads, and drop anchor for here is a Regatta [illegible] Susan Hendrickson [illegible] Astoria [illegible] and Mr. [illegible] Hendrickson [illegible] [illegible] father's fine moorage in Warrenton, where she makes out licenses for sports fishermen (that are already coming in droves), signing up parties for charter boats or vice-versa and generally being useful whenever the occasion arises.

Born in Astoria October 17, 1944, [illegible] all her life. The Hendrickson home is in the Lewis and Clark area, so Princess Sue either travels east to come to school (or did, prior to graduation night last week) or west to go to work.

However, when she is home, which will be rarer than ever this busy summer, she spends free time knitting and purling, making a knit [illegible]

Although she is the only second generation of the Eldred Hendrickson family at home, now that brother Bob is married and lives in Seaside, where he man[illegible] bowling alley, Princess Sue is "not alone." Good gracious, listen to this! There is a purebred St. Bernard dog, Biffer, who weighs in at 175 or 180 pounds, two other dogs of less distinguished lineage, three quacking ducks, 60 or so bantie chickens, four cats (one with [illegible] opened [illegible])

[illegible] in the fall, with the plan to go to a university in a year or so.

Meanwhile, m'lads, watch your boating manners when you tie alongside down Warrenton way. There's a princess present.

Regatta Court Calls J. Maddox of AHS

PRINCESS JUDY

If anyone were to dedicate [illegible] Two eyes of blue [illegible] describes this [illegible] Regatta [illegible] daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Maddox, who is one of three representatives of Astoria high school for the crown of Queen of Regatta land.

Youngest of the three Maddox daughters, this littlest sister didn't let the grass grow under foot. First off, those feet learned to dance at an early age, for her older sister Jeanne (Maddox) Fastabend, is a [illegible] learned every type of dancing from tap to ballet, and was a star in her own right.

Then, along with years of dance instruction, she practiced [illegible] and, after about nine years, Princess Judy is as accomplished a musician as she is a dancer.

Princess Judy was born in Roseburg on December [illegible] 1944 [illegible] the day [illegible] day that one would choose, if one had the choice, Princess Judy avows. But her brother-in-law Bill Fastabend, deputy sheriff, and his twin brother Bob were born on Christmas day, so along about midnight Christmas eve every year "Happy Birthday" is in order around the Maddox household.

Tennis is her favorite sport and around the house, Judy likes cooking best of all, and fried chicken is her dish. She really likes to [illegible] Heid, Fastabend [illegible] other sister is [illegible] Maddox who works at [illegible] and [illegible]

In September Princess Judy plans to enter the University of Oregon and major in speech. This week, she is in Salem attending Girls State, which she attended last year, this year called back as a junior councillor, which, in the realm of Girls State is as great an honor as being chosen a princess in the realm of Regatta.

Knappa Princess

PRINCESS MARTHA

The Seattle World's Fair, that played host to England's Prince Philip this past weekend, will again be graced with royalty, Astoria royalty, this time, when Regatta Princess Martha A[illegible] of Knappa [illegible] her parents, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] E. [illegible] and the rest of the [illegible] family this weekend.

[illegible] brown [illegible] these attributes, it is quite fit and proper that Martha is a Regatta princess for she is a Coast Guard daughter. And, because she is a Coast Guard daughter, she has seen quite a bit of the world since that day in May, 1944, when she first opened those green eyes in Santa Fe, N.M.

Her father was stationed here several years ago, and the little girl who was to grow up and be a princess attended John [illegible] Astor school. Then off across the Pacific ocean she went with her [illegible] Naval station near Caviet in the Philippines [illegible] parents, this time to Sangley Point three years, back to Tongue Point, which was the [illegible] thing the Coast Guard ever did for, otherwise, how would Martha ever become a Regatta princess?

Although this first princess to [illegible] Bowling is fun, too, and this summer, now that high school days are [illegible] sewing, which she has neglected this past winter.

Although she has fished all along the Gulf of Mexico when her father was stationed in the southern states in that area, she confessed she hasn't ever fished here [illegible] "looking forward to it."

[illegible]

Carol Stockfleth Regatta Princess

PRINCESS CAROL

Loyal citizens of Regatta land, meet Princess Carol, who in everyday life is Carol Ann Stockfleth, daughter of Russell Stockfleth, CW2, US Coast Guard, and Star of the Sea [illegible] school's candidate for Regatta Queen.

Like Princess Martha Danielson of Knappa, Princess Carol came from Hawaii to Astoria when her father was transferred to the Coast Guard [illegible] Point [illegible] Princess Carol [illegible] sport [illegible] switched to Cottenbury lake [illegible]

Born in Oakland, Calif., June 7, 1943, Astoria wasn't exactly a new place of residence to Carol and her family, for they [illegible] here before, about four years ago. And they were happy to come back to this community.

Tragedy struck the family, however, on their return here, for the vivacious, pretty red-haired mother died this past year, and so Princess Carol [illegible] care of [illegible] 15 and [illegible]

[illegible] is a domestic [illegible] making most of her [illegible] and loves to cook, especially trying out new dishes, now that she is in charge of that department.

A little princess, she is [illegible] feet-two, with brunette hair, blue eyes and just enough freckles to enhance that love-of-outdoors look. The Stockfleth blond cocker is called Beaver, for some unknown reason, and there is a pet white rat named Marty that Princess Carol tolerates.

This princess is [illegible] now that graduation [illegible] are over and she [illegible] either Portland or [illegible]

Incidentally and quite [illegible] the [illegible] that Princess Carol was interviewed by this reporter [illegible] Princess [illegible] on her birthday [illegible] paper.

Judy Reed Seaside Regatta Princess

PRINCESS JUDY

[illegible] Princess Martha of Knappa [illegible] 1962 Regatta court. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed, Clatsop Plains, and is the Seaside high school candidate for the crown of Regatta land.

Born in Astoria April [illegible] 1944, Princess Judy has lived on the Clatsop Plains cattle farm of her parents ever since, and she hasn't travelled very far from her country home ("across river on the ferry is about the extent of it," she laughed). But she'll be going places this summer with the Regatta court and association [illegible] exciting, wonderful places, where the seven princesses will be guests of honor and VIP's.

Princess Judy likes the big outdoors and prefers to help her father [illegible] are lambs to care for and raise to maturity, herds of cattle to manage, some pigs, to be sure, and, [illegible] mink kits [illegible] two fingers [illegible] five inches apart and we're nesting [illegible]

She explained that, until the kits get their teeth, they are not dangerous to handle. Believe it or not there are some [illegible] foxes too, on the farm, a litter of bright-eyed fuzzy little pups that she likes best of all. So this royal princess doesn't lack for pets. She has been active for nine years in 4-H work, and, in November will really get to travel, when she attends the 4-H congress in Chicago [illegible] planned.

[illegible] There are several younger [illegible] of this royal family [illegible] sister Sally [illegible] brother [illegible] things are never dull on the farm.

After the thrills of the summer are scrap book memories, what then for Princess Judy of the light brown hair and blue eyes? She will attend Clatsop Community College, later to enroll at OSU or WSC to study to be a veterinarian. And there isn't an animal on the farm that wouldn't tell you she'd be a good one.

Marian Bue Third AHS Regatta Choice

PRINCESS MARIAN

[illegible] most of her own clothes and takes an active part in cooking at home. She plays the piano, and, in the school band, the clarinet, both of which call for hours of practice. She actually enjoys housework and working in the family vegetable garden.

When there's time for fun (and there really is, she avows) she loves swimming, beach parties and boating. She sings in the choir [illegible] summer.

Princess Marian is a native Astorian, born here January 9, 1944, [illegible] as the fjords of Norway on a summer day.

She has two sisters, Sharon, 16, [illegible] school, and Catherine, 13, a brother, Martin, 11, and quite a few cousins, many of them blessed with that same golden pink hair.

Winner of scholarships, this studious princess plans to enroll at the University of Oregon this fall, where she will study to be a social [illegible]

[illegible] princesses [illegible] Princess Martha Donaldson, of Knappa, Princess Judy Reed, of Seaside, Princess Cheryl Wadsworth, of Warrenton; Princess Carol Stockfleth of Star of the Sea; Princess Judy Maddox, Princess Susan Hendrickson and Princess Marian Bue, all of Astoria high school.

Which lovely one, oh crystal ball, will be our queen?

Planning Festivities for a Crowned Head

A cup of tea and plenty of excited chatter was the fare at Mrs. Charles Gustafson's home high on the hill recently. What was it all about? Well, it seems that there is a coronation of a queen to take place Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Armory, a mighty important event to citizens of Regatta land, for it will be then that their 1962 Regatta Queen will be announced and crowned. And, in the picture [illegible] are members of the [illegible] coronation committee [illegible] one of the most colorful and dramatic coronations in Regatta annals, you may be sure. From left are the Mesdames Hugh Winstanley, Charles Smith, Charles Gustafson, chairman; Pete Bryant, Alan Ahola, William Malmberg and Leonard Farris. Record crowd from all corners of Clatsop is expected to see which one of seven lovely girls will wear crown and announce opening of 1962 Regatta, with US Marshal Paul Kearney, Regatta Admiral.

Junior Regatta Court Ready for Role in Festivities

Members of the Junior Regatta court picked a shady spot under an old oak tree on a sunny afternoon for their introductory picture. The girls will be flower girls for the 1962 Regatta Queen and the boys will be train and crown bearers. From left, front, Jan, daughter of the Charles Poindexters and Janice, daughter of the Chester Richey; back row, Steven, son of the George Hasselmans; Rodney, son of the Dick Lebacks, and [illegible] son of the Robert Ellisons. Jill, daughter of the [illegible] will also be a flower girl for the queen, but she was on a [illegible] trip with her parents when the picture was taken.

200 Women Dine With Queen, VIPs

The opportunity to sit down to lunch with governor's lady, Astoria's first lady and the Queen of all Regatta land proved the piece de resistance to more than 200 women who attended the Anchor club's Queen's luncheon Saturday at the John Jacob Astor hotel.

What's more, there were six lovely Regatta court princesses and their chaperone members of the junior Regatta court past Regatta Queens past chaperones, Miss Astoria Toni Ettro and a host of other notables present to add luster to the event

Regatta Queen Susan Hendrickson graciously shared honors at the head table with Mrs Mark Hatfield wife of the governor of the state and with Mrs Harry Steinbock wife of Astoria's mayor.

Mrs Frank Thorsness, skipper of the Anchor club which annually hosts the Regatta Queen's luncheon, introduced Queen Susan who briefly addressed her subjects present. She was the only one who was asked to speak Mrs Ruben Kurath official court chaperone, introduced the six princesses attendants of the queen, and then Mrs Thorsness resumed the honors

Others recognized were past queens of the Astoria Regatta present, Jo Waffle Swanson, Jean Maunula Reed, Ann Halderman McGowan, Marilyn Ransom Gustafson, Judy Palmberg Judy Hein Betty Morris and last year's Queen Clair Heilmann, Mrs Paul Kearney, wife of the 1962 Regatta Admiral, Mrs. Charles Farmer wife of the president of the Regatta association, Adelaine Sather Dorn, chairman of the Regatta Smorgasette, and Mrs. Charles Gustafson, first mate of the Anchors

Former chaperones of the Regatta court were also introduced, Mrs. Steinbock, Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, Mrs Jack Wittliff, Mrs Ed Niemi, Mrs. Harry Swanson and Mrs Frank Halderman, as were mothers of the three junior Regatta court girls, Mrs Fred Jermann, mother of flower girl Jill, Mrs Delmer Rich, mother of Janice, the scepter bearer: and Mrs Charles Poindexter, mother of Jan, a flower girl, and the mothers, also, of the Regatta queen and princesses. Last on the list were the members of the committee for the luncheon and the members of the queen's escort team.

Decor throughout the Rose Room of the mezzanine carried out the rose theme complimenting the pink organdy frocks of the court, with topary trees in white tubs, low arrangements of elf roses at the pink covered head table and individual roses at each table Place favors were pink wrapped cans of fish from a well-known local cannery

Following the luncheon, hats attuned to the fall fashion picture were modelled, under the direction of Miss Alma Jacobson of the Klara Alma hat shop. High crowns, low crowns, sugar shells and draped turbans were prevalent, with beaver, fake fur, real fur, maribou and feathers showing popularity in every color, high shades and dark Models were Marguerite Royce, Seaside, Lucille Scarborough, Gearhart, Peggy Larson, Ann Bradach, Virginia Johnson, Janet Larson, Nora Johnson, Deanna Hunt, Knappa Peggy Raw, Seaside, and Pamela See, Warrenton

Behind the Scenes for Royal Luncheon

Responsible for arrangements for the Regatta Queen's luncheon, given by the Anchor club Saturday at the John Jacob Astor hotel where more than 200 women were served with Queen Susan Hendrickson, court and other VIP were the following Anchors: from left Mrs John Cederberg, chairman, Bea Cederberg, chairman; Dee Leahy, Marianne Rodgers, Judy Dean and June Taylor.

Chinese Girls Drill Team to Appear

Pictured is the always colorful Seattle Chinese Girls Drill Team, 60 girls, to be seen in the annual Astoria Regatta grand parade Saturday to begin at 3 p.m. and following a route through downtown Astoria. The group, headed by Mrs. Ping Chow, will also perform in the band show at 8 at Gyro field the same evening. The precision unit, a participant in Regatta parades of the past, has always drawn raves from spectators.

Regatta Court Pays Respects To Anchor Club

The [illegible] Regatta pr[illegible] [illegible] public [illegible] appearance before the Anchor club at their meeting Monday night, accompanied by their chaperone, Mrs Ruben Kurath

Each pretty princess, trim in her blue and white uniform, told the Anchors of a different phase of the Regatta Princess Carol Stockfleth, from Star of the Sea told of the selection of [illegible] cess Martha D[illegible] K[illegible] gave a description of the coronation, Princess Cheryl Wadsworth, Warrenton, told of the smorgasette and salmon barbecue; Princess Marian Bue, Astoria, explained the many you[illegible] Princess Susan [illegible] chose as her topic the big Regatta parade and band show. Princess Judy Maddox Astoria told of the marine events, Princess Judy Reed, Seaside, described the out-of-town appearances made by the girls.

Formal initiation was conducted by Mrs. Frank Thorsness skipper, for Mrs. Stan Bergstrom, who was unable to be present at the recent regular initiation

[illegible] volunteered [illegible] ling com[illegible]

Following the meeting refreshments were served from a white damask-covered table decorated in a patriotic red, white and blue theme. Mrs. Paul Tolonen was chairman for the evening, assisted by Mrs. Bill Leahy, Mrs Arthur Johanson and Mrs. Bob Erickson. Mrs. Howard Johnson won the special prize and the Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mrs. Hugh Winstanley.

Regatta Seeks Businessmen's Aid

CHARLES FARMER

Tentative plans have been made to canvass businessmen in the Astoria area to help promote the 1962 Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival Charles Farmer, [illegible] of the Regatta Association, announced that booster stickers will be used to identify participating businesses Importance of 100 per cent participation in the program was stressed

The dates for the Regatta were set as August 22-26 The schedule of events will feature an [illegible] living program, bringi[illegible] to the many [illegible] talent available in Clatsop county Because of the [illegible] decided to [illegible] the [illegible] boat races this year A complete schedule of events will be announced in the near future.

Long List of Entries Ready for Regatta Parade

Astoria Grand Regatta Parade Chairman Ron Bisceglia listed five bands six drum and bugle corps 11 floats, 15 marching units five mounted units, 14 novelty groups along with the Regatta Queen and her court Gov and Mrs Mark Hatfield and many other dignitaries as being a part of the parade In all official entrants total 56 with the possibility that a few more will be added before parade time

The parade, one of the climaxing events of the four-day Regatta festival, will get underway at 3 p.m. Saturday and follow a two mile route through Astoria streets It will start at the 5th, West Bond and West Marine Drive intersection, following Marine drive to 6th then to Commercial street and east to 20th, Bisceglia said.

Participants will form for the parade on the south side of Marine Drive across from the Bumble Bee Seafoods and American Can company plants. All floats are to be in the formation area by 2 p.m and all other parade participants by 2.30 p.m. The parade will disband east of the 4-H fair grounds where refreshments will be served to all participants.

Bisceglia said awards to winning parade entrants will be made during the band show, 8 p m Saturday at Gyro field Many of the marching units, drill teams and bands that are to be in the parade will also participate in the band show

Order in which the entrants and dignitaries will appear in the parade is as follows:

I. QUEEN'S DIVISION

1 Astoria Police Escort
2 Police Chief
3 689th Radar Squad Color G[illegible]d—Mt Hebo
[illegible] Astoria High School Band, [illegible] Marshall
5 Gov Mark Hatfield and wife
6 Mayor Harry Steinbock, and wife of Astoria
7 Mayor Maurice Pyster and wife of Seaside
8 Astoria Anchor Honor Guard
9 Astoria Regatta Queen and Court—Jay-C Ettes Float
10 Regatta Court Chaperone—Mrs Ruben Kurath
11. Anchor Club Skipper [illegible] Thorsness
12 Junior Regatta Court
13 Mariners Drum & Bugle Corps—Astoria
14 Royal Rosarians—Portland
15 Astoria High School Foreign Exchange Student
16. Warrenton High School Foreign Exchange Student
17 Ballard Girls Drill Team—Seattle
18. Tillamook Elks Drum and Bugle Corps

II. ADMIRAL'S DIVISION

1. 759th Radar Sq—Naselle Washington—Drill & Rifle Team
2 Admiral of the Regatta—[illegible]
[illegible] Association President [illegible] and wife
4 1961 Regatta Queen—Clair Heilman
5. 1961 Sesqui Centennial Queen [illegible]
[illegible] Miss Astoria—Toni Ettro
7 Air National Guard Drum & Bugle Corps
8 Air National Guard Drill [illegible]
9 Pacific City-Woods Chamber of Commerce Whale & Wanda K
10. Cycl-o-trons - unicycles —Portland
11 Pacific Power & Light Float
12. 17' Tollycraft Boat — Del Team
13 Clatsop Historical Society—5 cars

III.

1 Flamingoes, Jr. Drum & Bugle Corps—Salem
2 Mt. Scott Rainbowettes Drill Team
3. Pony & Cart - Mike Harding —Newberg
4 Bumble Bee Seafood Float
5. Occident[illegible] Rainbow Girls Drill Team—Seattle
[illegible] Fire Department
7 Iola's Accordian Band—Milwaukie
8. Matched pair horses - riders Mrs Fauth and Mrs Henry
9 3 Go-Karts pulled by car—Dave Hover
10. U S. Coast Guard Astoria
11 American Legion Drill Team—Post No 180—Milwaukie
12. 17' Tollycraft Boat — Del Adkins

IV.

1. MacLaren School for Boys Drum & Bugle Corps
2 Chinese Community Girl Drill Team—Mrs Chow—Seattle
3 Clatsop County Rodeo Queen Sally Hanna and Court
4 Clatsop County Sheriff's [illegible]
5 Pacific Northwest Bell Float
6. Deceivers Car Club—Warrenton
7. Daughters of [illegible] rway March[illegible]ing Team
8. Sons and Daughters of Norway Float
9 Tillamook Vacationland Band —Jack Greory
10. Beta Mu Theta Rho No 60 Girls Drill Team
11. Clatskanie Fire Dept and Fire Belles
12 Rockaway Manhattan Community Club

V.

1 Skyliner 4-H—Gearhart
2 Sunset Square Dance Council Float
3 Beaverton Elks Belles Drill Team
4 Beaverton Elks Drill Team
5 Longview-Kelso Jr. Drum & Bugle Corp
6 Salem Cherrians
7. Sunset Riders—Bill Hoag
8 Bill Hoag—Novelty
9 Moalla Buckaroos Band Lynn Teadtke
10 The Tree Toppers — Longview, Washington
11. Astoria Clowns
12. Astoria Eagles Band
13 Junior Mustangs—Olney
14. 40 & 8 Loci
15. Astoria Jaycee Fire Engine

Every Regatta Princess wore a smile and a Regatta button when the 1962 Regatta court, accompanied by their chaperone, were guests of Zonta club Thursday noon in the private dining room of Pancake House. Standing in back is Mrs. Clarence Orton, president of the club, with Mrs. Ruben Kurath, seated far left, the official court chaperone. Princesses from left to right are Judy Maddox, Astoria high school; Susan Hendrickson, Seaside; Marian Bue, Astoria, Cheryl Wadsworth, Warrenton; Martha Donaldson, Knappa; Judy Reed, Astoria, and Carol Stockfleth, Star of the Sea. Each princess told Zontians about some interesting phase of coming Regatta in August.

Zonta Club Pays Honors to Court Of 1962 Regatta

An atmosphere of extra special festivity was prevalent at the Thursday luncheon of Zonta club, when they met in the private dining room of Pancake House (formerly Woody's Drive-In) The seven lovely and lively Regatta Princesses and their chaperone Mrs. Ruben Kurath, escorted by Mrs Frank Thorsness, skipper of the Anchor club, were guests of the Zonta members.

Mrs Clarence Orton, president of the club, welcomed the guests, and called on Mrs. Harry Steinbock program chairman, who introduced Mrs Thorsness and Mrs Kurath the latter identifying each princess as they were seated around the head table.

Following the luncheon, each princess rose to relate in her own manner, a different phase of the coming Regatta Princess Carol Stockfleth, from Star of the Sea, told of how the members of the court and of the junior court were selected, Princess Judy Reed of Seaside, related the exciting trips the girls had made and the parades in which they had appeared Princess Martha Donaldson of Knappa explained about the coronation ceremonies, when the 1962 Regatta Queen will be crowned August 23 at the Armory, thus starting the Regatta; Princess Cheryl Wadsworth, Warrenton, listed the food events that will take place during the festival the Anchor tea for the court, August 11, the Smorgasette, August 24, the Regatta Queen's luncheon, August 25, and the Lion's club salmon barbecue, August 26 The three princesses from Astoria high school were next with Princess Marian Bue telling about events planned just for children, swimming meets, water ballet races to be held at Tapiola pool, the kiddies parade and the Optimist field day for children. Princess Susan Hendrickson talked about the big Regatta parade, Friday, August 25; and Princess Judy Maddox explained that the water sports, hyrdoplane races, water skiing, log rolling, etc , will be held at Cullaby lake this

Purple gloxannia with matching candles centered the head table where the royal guests were seated, and other tables about the dining room held bouquets of prize roses, brought by Violet Gunderson.

Other guests for the luncheon were Sherry Smith, who helped at the recent Zonta rummage sale, Linda Orton, Mary Susan Leino and Loretta Cozart, daughters of Zonta members; and Philippa Seabrook

They Boosted the Regatta Smorgasette on TV

The Astoria Smorgasette was featured a second time on a Portland TV station just prior to the big international food festival at the Armory Friday evening. Shown with Bette Davis, who interviewed the five Astoria women on her KOIN Kitchen, demonstrating several of the foreign dishes served at the Smorgasette are, from left, Mrs. Maurice Lunning in French costume; Mrs. Chester Love, in squaw dress, displaying one of sequinned Sally S[illegible] with which she decorated Smorgasette table; Adelaine S[illegible] Dorn, in Norwegian dress; Mrs. Robert Schreiber in Itali[illegible] costume and Miss Davis. Program was arranged [illegible] county extension agent.

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Tuesday, August 7, 1962

Checking up on last-minute details for the tea for which the Anchor club will entertain in honor of the 1962 Regatta court Saturday afternoon at the Yacht club are members of the committee. From left they are, Marge Thompson, Carol Seppa, Virginia Reiter, Ione Johnson (standing), Louise Fulton, Marge Mather and Fern Johansen. Hours for the annual event, to which all women of the county (and their guests) are invited, are from 2-4 p.m.

Anchor Club to Host Royal Tea for Royalty

First of the social events heralding the coming gay Regatta time in Astoria is the traditional tea Saturday afternoon, honoring the Regatta court of princesses and their chaperone, for which the Anchor club is hostess every year.

This year, because plans for the Regatta are bigger, better and even more entertaining than usual, members of the Anchor club are hoping for a bigger crowd of women on hand to greet the seven pretty girls who make up the royal court. All women of the county are invited and asked to bring houseguests, and there is no admission charge or silver offering.

The Astoria Yacht club, setting for the tea, will be decorated to the hilt for the event, and literally hundreds of home-made cookies, pasteries and petit fours will emerge from the finest Nordic kitchens in town to appear on silver platters on the long tea table.

Louise Fulton is general chairman of the tea this year, assisted by Fern Johanson in charge of refreshments, and Virginia Reiter in charge of decoratons. Others serving on the committee are Ruth Parnell, Ethel Wilson, Mellie Edison, Marge Kubik, June Olson, Edna Lovvold, Ann Strachan, Marge Thompson, Carol Seppa Ione Johnson and Marge Mather.

Princesses Judy Reed, Seaside, Cheryl Wadsworth, Warrenton, Martha Donaldson, Knappa, Carol Stockfleth, Star of the Sea; Judy Maddox, Susan Hendrickson and Marian Bue all of Astoria, will appear for the first time in their dressy frocks and veils to greet their subjects from the length and breadth of the county. They will be accompanied in the receiving line by their chaperone Mrs. Ruben Kurath and Mrs Frank Thorsness, skipper of the Anchor club, and royal mothers of the court will be asked to pour during the tea hours, 2-4 p.m

Radio Program

Regatta Princesses Tour Visiting Coast Guard Craft

"Welcome aboard", said Ensigns Tony Ford, New York, (left), and David Robinette, Dallas, Tex., when royalty, in the persons of the seven Regatta princesses, arrived on the dock where the CGC Pontchartrain is moored. The girls were taken on a specially conducted tour of the ship by the young officers, and chatted with crew members on the shiny deck. Princesses (from left) are Judy Maddox, Astoria; Marion Bue, Astoria; Carol Stockfleth, Star of the Sea; Martha Donaldson, Knappa; Cheryl Wadsworth, Warrenton; Susan Hendrickson, Astoria; and Judy Reed, Seaside. Girls were accompanied by chaperone Mrs. Ruben Kurath. Lower photo shows the bow of the 255 foot Ponchartrain whose home port is Long Beach, Calif. The craft when not being used in the summer for its two training cruises, each of two weeks duration, for Coast Guard reservists, has Pacific Ocean Station November, which is about 1500 miles south of Hawaii. There [illegible] 62 reservists on board for this training cruise which will take them to Seattle, then back to Long Beach. The Coast Guard cutter is commanded by Cmdr. F. D. Hilditch who was skipper of the Astoria based Yocona some eight years ago. The Pontchartrain was open for public inspection Thursday and left for Seattle at 6 p.m

Regatta Parade to Feature Ballard Girls Drill Team

Pictured are members of the Ballard Girls Drill team, Seattle, a self-supporting group that travels the states of California, Oregon, Washington and in Canada performing in parades and giving special demonstrations in team drilling. They won the Seattle drill team championships in 1958, 1959, 1961 and again this year. They have won the grand sweepstakes award in Victoria, B.C., the past four years. Th precision group is one of many that will take part in the annu Astoria Regata grand parade starting at 3 p.m. Saturday, August through downtown Astoria streets.

Friday Regatta Activities

Above, Danny, Ro-Ann and Gayle Garris won first prize and grand sweepstakes prize in the children's Regatta parade Friday night, disguised as elephants. Below, [illegible] line at the smorgasette in the Armory, where more than 1000 guests were served a tasty dinner.

Children Have Innings In Regatta Festivities Which Will End Sunday

Children had their innings at the Astoria Regatta Friday evening and this morning

More than 500 youngsters with all kinds of ingenious floats and costumes marched in the annual Kiwanis Children's Parade Friday night. This morning the Optimist Club played host at a sports program that began at 10 at Tapiola Park.

This afternoon at 3 the big land parade begins in the West End to march through the city streets before an expected crowd of thousands Gov. and Mrs Mark Hatfield will augment the parade

The aromatic smell of tasty delicacies lured upwards of 1,000 people to the Armory Friday evening for the annual smorgasette, where guests found the food abundant, varied and delicious.

Guests were served swiftly and ate exotic dishes at long tables which filled the entire Armory auditorium, including the stage.

Mrs. Adelaine Sather Dorn, in charge, received many compliments on the excellent dinner

At noon today the Anchors Club is host to Queen Susan Hendrickson and her princesses at a luncheon in J J Astor hotel. Mrs Hatfield will also be a guest

Gov. and Mrs Hatfield were expected in Astoria shortly before noon The governor will go to the Greenberg Furniture store to congratulate that firm on its 50th anniversary in business, then go to a luncheon at the Elmore cannery cafeteria before the parade.

Tonight at 8 a band show on Gyro field is expected to attract hundreds

This afternoon at 1.30 the Royal Rosarians of Portland in a gesture to the Regatta, will plant a tree on the lawn at Mayor Harry Steinbock's home

Tomorrow, final day of the Regatta, there will be hydro boat races, runabout races and log rolling on Cullaby lake, starting at 10 a.m.

At 4 p.m the Regatta will come to its grand conclusion with a salmon barbecue dinner at the Four H Fair Grounds, open to the public. The Lions Club is sponsor of the dinner and Carl Bondietti, an experienced barbecue chef, will handle the cooking detail

Danny, RoAnn and Gayle Garris won grand sweepstakes prize of $5 in the Kiwanis Children's parade Friday night with their elephant float All three were dressed as elephants with RoAnn, the smallest, representing Packy.

Honorable mention went to Joey Patenaude, Jim Puppo and Grace Niska with their well decorated float and good costumes

Division winners as announced by Dr. Duane Jue parade chairman, included:

Baby Buggies—Mary Henderson, Kathy and Angela Yeager, first Rone McCall, Roth Ann McCall, Teresa and Kenneth Nelson, second Mary Allen, third; Julie Diane and Rene Hellberg, honorable mention.

Costumes—Cindy Evenson, first Wendy Alexander and Randy Hansen, second, Scott Stemper, third; John Farris Kim Isaacson, Tommy and Jimmy Neikes, honorable mention

Wagons and Floats — Danny RoAnn, and Gayle Garris first

Children's Innings

Continued from page 1)

Joey Patenaude Jim Puppo and Grace Niska, second; Richard Pursley, David Kindred, Carl Nyberg Rebecca Pursley, third; Mary Margaret and Roberta Frame, Kati Crites, Carol Stromsness, honorable mention.

Girls' Bicycles—Lisa Henningsgaard, first Leighlend Wilson, second, Libby Owen third

Boys' Bicycles—Don Gustafson, first, Duane Everson, second, Fred Watson, third, Danny Whetstone, honorable mention.

Girls' Tricycles — Laurie and Nancy Bakkensen, first Carol Mestrich, second, Ann Zafiratos, third Jeanne Osborn, honorable mention

Boys' Tricycles—Tony Johnson first, Chuck Gustafson, second Jeffery Jauron third, Bobbie Seppa, honorable mention

Miscellaneous—Lorane Hill and Cheryl Johnson, first, Ronnie and Greta Johansen and Cindy Lou Haggren second Susan Edy, Shelly Kilcup, third; Bruce Allen Don Miller and Lou Ann Hendricks, honorable mention.

Costumes to Highlight Telecast on Regatta

Representative of the foreign costumes that will appear on the TV broadcast heralding the Astoria Regatta Smorgasette Monday at 2 p.m. from TV station KATU, Portland, are the three shown above. Miss Gloria Gerardo, left, years a balintawak, formal dress worn by the women of Manila and Luzon, Philippine Islands, during the insurrection at the turn of the century. Mrs. Chester Love, center, models a peasant costume from Normandy, France, and Mrs. Marciano Pizarro's Japanese kimono and wide obi (sash) are authentically draped. They are looking at foreign cook books for recipes from each of the countries they represent to be served at the smorgasette to be held Friday, August 24, at the Armory.

TV Show Monday To Promote Astoria Regatta, Smorgasette

An hour-long TV program Monday at 2 p m over station KATU, Portland, will publicize the Astoria Regatta and its Smorgasette in a promotion planned to be the biggest ever broadcast for this locality.

Some 20 Astorians will board a special bus Monday at 7.30 a.m. to make the live broadcast on the "Northwest Living" program that afternoon. On arrival in Portland, they will be guests of Lloyd's Center for lunch at the Pancake House there, prior to making the broadcast

This was arranged by Adelaine Sather Dorn, working with Miss Berenice Rehiel, of the Meier and Frank travel bureau who [illegible] the past two years has been [illegible] tor for Portlanders [illegible] the Smorgasette Ronald G. [illegible] public relations manager for Lloyd's Center, is responsible for the Astorians being luncheon guests at the center's Pancake House.

The TV program, which will devote an hour to publicizing the town of Astoria and its Regatta and Smorgasette, will feature the seven Regatta princesses in their official uniforms, each of whom will describe briefly some phase of the Astoria festival. Ellsworth Thiel will tell about the chefs' table, which will be made up of dishes for which local restauranteurs are famous, and Sheriff Carl Bondietti and [illegible] will extoll the salmon barbecue to be held during the Regatta.

Miss Reheil, manager of the American Express Travel bureau in the Lloyd's Center Meier and Frank store, will describe the consuls' table at the Smorgasette, where foreign consuls and other VIP's will be seated with the Regatta court Mrs. Chester Love, in charge of decorations for the Smorgasette, and Bill Wilson, "good will ambassador" for the Astoria Clowns, will also be on the program. There will be a Norwegian song by the four Moskovita sisters in costume; a Finnish song, by Mrs Wayne Oja and Mrs Clyde McIntyre, also in costume; and an Italian song by Miss Dianne Wells, who will also wear an authentic costume There will be a demonstration of flowers from the [illegible] K. Hutchinson gardens.

Others in costume, representing foreign countries, whose foods will be served at the Smorgasette, Friday, August 24, at the Armory, will be Cecilia Beamer, Luxemburg; Kathy Messer and Arlene Swanson, Sweden; Mrs Marciano Pizarro, Japan; Miss Gloria Gerardo, The Philippines; Margaret Dunning, France; Michael, Olivia and Beatrice Soto, Mexico; Miss Germania Savahlus, Ecuador; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forness, Mrs. George Moskovita and daughters Norway; Miss Kathy Scot, Scotland; Sylvia Oja and Dagmar McIntyer, Finland; Juliann and Gregory Woods, Holy Land, Bertha Chisholm, Switzerland; Nellie Sather, Astoria pioneer and Anna Bakkensen, American pioneer.

The program is being set up by the TV directors with the help of Jeanne Maddox

Although Portland and other cities in the northwest, including several national magazines, have become aware of the magnitude of the Regatta Smorgasette and its appeal to gourmets, this is the biggest promotional stunt so far, according to the Regatta commission and it is hoped that merchants will have their TV's turned to station KATU, channel 2 at 2 p.m., Monday, so that business people and afternoon shoppers, unable to [illegible] channel to [illegible] members.

Tillamook Band to Be Among Parade Marchers

Shown here is the 75-piece Tillamook Vacation Land Marching Band [illegible] high school that will be on hand for the annual Astoria [illegible] and parade scheduled through Astoria streets at 3 p m Saturday The parade is a feature event of the four-day Regatta festivities The Tillamook group directed by Jack Gregory, is also slated to appear in the band show at 8 p m Saturday

Queen Susan Begins Reign Over Enchanted Land of Regatta

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire

Astoria, Oregon, Friday, August 24, 1962

Single Copies 10c

A New Queen Joins Long List of Reaatta Rulers

Queen Susan Hendrickson of the Astoria [illegible] was formally crowned at the Armory Thursday night. At left above, Queen Susan [illegible] to the Armory stage with Admiral Paul Kearney just after she learned she had been chosen queen.

At right, Admiral Kearney places the crown on her head. Below, Queen Susan was between tears and a giggle as the purple robe of queenhood was placed over her shoulders. She is shown, hand to face, among the other princesses.

AHS Princess Gets Judges' Nod For Royal Post

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Magic was afoot last night, swirling a velvet cape spangled with stars . . and Presto! Clatsop county became an enchanted kingdom called Regatta Land, and a stately girl named Susan Hendrickson became its queen.

At the same time, but by dint of hard work on the part of the Anchor club in charge of the Regatta coronation ceremony, the Astoria armory was transformed into a formal rose garden, with rows of topary trees in shades of pink flanking the front of the stage against which rose a golden throne against a large pink heart.

To this coveted place Queen Susan, daughter of Mr and Mrs [illegible]dred Hendrickson, Lewis and Clark, a May graduate of Astoria high school, nautically minded and Nordicly blond and blue-eyed, was escorted by Paul Kearney, Regatta Admiral, U.S. marshal and former sheriff of Clatsop county She was crowned by her admiral, presented a bouquet of four dozen red roses by last year's Regatta Queen Claire Heilmann and handed a jewelled scepter by Mayor Harry Steinbock. Later, at an informal reception in the entrance hall of the Armory, she was congratulated, hugged and bussed by everyone from the admiral down.

The anticipated moment, for which a crowd of several hundred persons waited to know which one of seven pretty princesses of the 1962 Regatta court would wear the crown, folowed the preliminaries of the ceremony. The Anchor club drill team, official escorts for the queen and court, folowed by an armada of Regatta rear admirals in uniform, flanked the processional aisle as the seven princesses, in shell pink organza formals, carrying bouquets of pink rosebuds, entered on the arms of their escorts

Charles Farmer, 1962 Regatta president, led the grand entrance, followed by 1961 Regatta Queen Claire, escorted by Bill Ohlmann, past Regatta president; Admiral Kearney, flanked by Jean Hallaux and Wesley Shaner, past Regatta presidents; the Regatta court and their escorts; Mrs. Ruben Kuratli, court chaperone, escorted by Bill Wilson, members of the Regatta board of directors, and Mrs. Frank Thorsness, Anchor club skipper, escorted by Mayor Steinbock.

Colors were hoisted by a team of four from the Coast Guard station at Point Adams, after which Dan Hall led the singing of the national anthem, and the Rev. James Martin of First Baptist church, asked for a blessing on the Regatta

Princesses Introduced

On stage, Bob Lovell introduced the escort of each princess, who in turn introduced his princess Hal Hankel, who formerly attended Star of the Sea school here prior to moving to Germany with his parents, who have now returned, introduced Princess Carol Stockfleth of that school. Her talk was an explanation of how the Regatta princesses are selected. Lowell Ford introduced Princess Cheryl Wadsworth of Warrenton high, who extolled the wonders of the Smorgasette, Queen's luncheon and salmon barbecue Bob Hauke introduced Princess Marian Bue of Astoria high, whose address was on the Regatta events for children and youth. Chuck Niemi introduced Princess Judy Reed of Seaside, who related all the exciting festivals and events the court had attended. Max Bigby Jr. introduced Princess Judy Maddox of Astoria [illegible] who talked about the water [illegible]al at Cullaby lake. Pat Jen[illegible] introduced Princess (now Queen) Susan Hendrickson of Astoria high, who was enthusiastic [illegible] the big Regatta parade. And [illegible] introduced Princess [illegible] Donaldson of Knappa high, [illegible]lained how the queen is [illegible]. Princesses drew numbers for the order in which they appeared on stage.

Band Performs

Prior to the evening's festivities, the Astoria high school band, in full uniform and under the direction of Ted Marshall, "played" the crowd into the proper pitch of excitement, furnishing stirring music for the processionals and recessionals and entertaining during intermission, when the judges were balloting, with the rousing chariot race music from "Ben Hur" and several toe-tapping contemporaries.

This year's Regatta queen is nautical, along with her other attributes, for she helps, during vacations, at her father's mooring basin in Warrenton, signing up charter boats, making out fishing licenses and being handy-man along the dock when the boats come in. She is a native of Astoria, born here 17 years ago, is an avid knitter, has myriad pets at home, ranging from a St. Bernard to a gold fish, and plans to enroll at Eugene Beauty college in September on a scholarship. A married brother Bob lives in Seaside, which resort city, incidently, is a part of Regatta land, as are all the shores, lakes and rivers therein, the wooded hills and hidden valleys the towns and villages and all the ships [illegible] said waters.

Celebration In Second Day Here

Astoria's annual Regatta went into its second day Friday under continued sunny skies, after an auspicious opening and the coronation of Queen Susan Hendrickson Thursday night

The Regatta officially opened with a reception to Admiral and Mrs Paul Kearney at 5 o'clock in the lobby of the J. J. Astor hotel Members of the Regatta association, the Anchor Club and the Regatta princesses were on hand to greet the Kearneys

Regatta chairman Charles Farmer and members of the committee entertained the admiral and staff at a dinner preceding the coronation

Friday's program opened at noon with swimming contests and demonstrations at the Tapiola Park swimming pool, with Don Muhlig of the YMCA in charge

The annual smorgasette at the Armory is scheduled for 6 Friday evening

Adelaine Sather Dorn, in charge, has completed preparations for serving 3,000 people with a variety of fine dishes, from many lands. The public is invited

The Kiwanis Club will conduct its [illegible] children's parade at 6:30 from the courthouse eastward along Commercial Floats, bikes, and other entries will form at 6 just south of the court house, where judging of entries will take place before the parade.

Saturday's full program opens at 10 30 a.m. with Optimist Club youth day activities at Tapiola Park A full program of contests for children from pre-school age through the eighth grade is scheduled

The annual [illegible] luncheon, given by the Anchor Club in honor of Queen Susan, is set for noon Saturday at the J. J. Astor Hotel, and [illegible] afternoon comes the big Regatta land parade through downtown Astoria.

A band show Saturday night starts at 8 o'clock on Gyro field.

Special guests at tonight's smorgasette will be members of the [illegible] consular corps in Portland. [illegible] who will attend in[illegible] Norman Prickett, [illegible] Mr and Mrs. Bar[illegible]

PRETTY SUSAN Hendrickson, 17, of Astoria, was crowned Queen of the annual regatta fish festival of Clatsop County by U.S. Marshal Paul Kearney, admiral of the regatta. Coronation was at Astoria National Guard Armory

Stately Astoria Beauty To Rule Over Festival

ASTORIA (Special) — Stately Susan Hendrickson, 17, of Astoria, Thursday night was selected as 1962 Queen of the annual Regatta Fish Festival of Clatsop County

[illegible] graduate of Astoria High School, became the 42nd Queen of the festival, which had its beginnings in the early 1900s

Selection of the queen and her six princesses was made before a crowd of nearly 700 in the Astoria National Guard Armory. [illegible] includes: Marian Bue and [illegible] Maddox of Astoria; [illegible]ldson of Knappa, [illegible]sworth of [illegible]

[illegible] a log-rolling contest [illegible]

The weekend's activities will be topped off by a salmon barbecue at the Astoria 4-H [illegible]

The Grand Regatta Parade, with entries from all over the Northwest and California, will begin at 3 p m Saturday. More [illegible] marching units are scheduled to participate in the event, reports Charles Farmer, president of the Astoria Regatta Association, one of the week-[illegible]

Starting at 10 a.m. Sunday, [illegible] areas as well as in-[illegible]

Annual Summer Festival Brings Out Clatsop Residents To Join Fun

The Astoria Clowns gave Gov. Mark Hatfield a small bucket of "pre-broken ground" from the site of Pier 171 of the Astoria bridge Saturday as a token of the recent ground-breaking ceremonies. The presentation was made at the parade reviewing stand.

Regatta royalty of the past was honored at the queen's luncheon of the Astoria Regatta Saturday. From left, Judy Palmberg, Betty Morris, Judy Hein, Josephine Waffle Swanson, Ann Halderman McGowan, Claire Heilman, Marilyn Ransom Gustafson, Toni Ettro (Miss Astoria of 1962), Jean Maunula Reed. The Anchor Club was host at the luncheon, in John Jacob Astor Hotel

Here is a bit of the big crowd that watched the annu[illegible] parade Saturday. In car at right, Admiral Paul Kearn [illegible] seen waving to friends in the crowd. Following is one of the many [illegible] that appeared. It was an old home week event for the [illegible] who lived most of his life in Astoria and had a fine time throughout the festival greeting old friends

Mike Rippel, Seaside, (left) is shown here during log rolling competition at Cullaby Lake Sunday just about ready to dunk Richard Perkins. Rippel went on to take the championship trophy in the double elimination event, over four other opponents. Those on raft include (from left) [illegible] Nordlund, Warrenton high school coach who took second, John Johnson and Keith Dyer. The event was a part of the Astoria Regatta festivities staged for the first time at Cullaby Lake.

The [illegible] who [illegible] three entries in the parade, presented this prize winning float in the non-commercial division.

Members of the Kiwanis club took advantage of the Regatta for a street sale of pop, popcorn and hot dogs. Here is a scene on Commercial street Saturday. From left, Ward Quarles, George Celd (in background), Ivan Solomon, Herbert Hacker, Orvo Nikula.

Winning float in the commercial division was this entry of Bumble Bee Seafoods company. Queen bees (from left) are Connie Bubnick, Sharon Mattson and Karen Schaub. Float was done in basic colors of yellow and green, with a single dimension bee behind the girls. Imitation bees were thrown to spectators along the parade route.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol 88, No 204
Astoria, Oregon, Monday, August 27, 1962
Single C

Lc
Discu
Clat
ed th and o ending

Weekend Events Wind Up Successful 42nd Regatta Here

Here is the Jay-C-Ette float which won grand sweepstakes prize in the Regatta parade Saturday. Riding on it were members of the Regatta royal court. In front, from left, princesses Carol Stockfleth, Judy Maddox, Martha Donaldson, Marian Bue. In rear Queen Susan Hendrickson, Princesses Judy Reed, Cheryl Wadsworth. This float appeared near the head of the line of march.

Activities Of Fete Call Many

Astoria's 42nd annual Regatta ended Sunday and most citizens were resting up as best they could Monday following an exciting week.

Fair weather blessed most of the Regatta period, except for some showers early Sunday that soon gave way to sunshine.

An estimated 2,000 people attended Sunday's boat races, log rolling and other aquatic activities at Cullaby Lake, and the Lions club fed an estimated 800 at a salman barbecue Sunday afternoon at the Four-H grounds, closing event of the Regatta.

Saturday afternon's grand parade was highly successful and was watched by an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 people lined up three deep along the curbs. Many brought chairs and watched the parade in comfort. Kiwanis Club members sold hot dogs, popcorn and other goodies along the line of march.

Grand sweepstakes prize for the best parade entry went to the Jay-C Ettes for their flowery float, which was also bedecked with Queen Susan Hendrickson and Princesses Martha Donaldson, Cheryl Wadsworth, Judy Maddox, Judy Reed, Carol Stockfleth and Marian Bue.

Hatfields Special Guests

Governor and Mrs. Mark Hat[illegible] were special Regatta guests.

The Governor visited Bumble Bee Seafoods Corporation's Elmore cannery, congratulated Greenberg Furniture Company on its 50th anniversary, spoke briefly at a gathering at the home of Dr. Blair Henningsgaard, revieweed the parade, was guest of Regatta officials at dinner and attended the band show at Gyro Field Saturday evening.

Mrs. Hatfield also attended the queen's luncheon given by the Anch[illegible] [illegible] at the J[illegible] [illegible] Astor hotel Saturday noon.

The Hatfields closed out their Clatsop visit with a trip to the big fir tree on Crown-Zellerbach's Klootchy Creek properties Sunday.

Several of the bands and marching units which appeared in the parade also took part in the band show Saturday night on Gyro field before some 500 spectators. It was [illegible] evening and th[illegible] paraders presented a colorful s[illegible] Awards won in the parade Sat[illegible] afternoon were presented at [illegible] of the band show, which was competitive.

Parade Takes Hour

The parade, staged by the [illegible] cees with Ron Bisceglia in cha[illegible] took more than an hour to pa[illegible] It moved steadily along, with [illegible] delays, attracted complement[illegible] remarks from the big crowd.

The Lions Club served 450 poun[illegible] of salmon, plus baked potatoes a[illegible] other delicacies, to the 800 peop[illegible] attending the barbecue Sunday, according to Chairman Ted Rakoski. Sheriff Carl Bondietti supervised cooking of the salmon fillets over an open fire in the Four-H Fair Grounds yard.

A 300 pound cake of ice in a downtown store window, placed there by the Regatta Committee to promote sale of Regatta ticke[illegible] melted to a 10 pound weight in [illegible] hours 44 minutes. Hermon Haggre[illegible] Rt. 1, Box 993-A, who had guesse[illegible] it would take 69 hours 25 minutes, won a $50 savings bond offered by the committee for the closest guess.

Ice Cake Melts

The ice cake completed its mel[illegible] at 6:44 a.m., Sunday, under the watchful eye of Dale Curry, in charge of the contest.

Division winners in the parade competition included:

[illegible] and sweepstakes, Astoria Jay-C-Ettes for their Queen's fl[illegible]

Commercial—1st, Bumble Bee Seafoods, 2nd, Pacific Northwest Bell, 3rd, Pacific Power and Light.

Non-commercial—1st, Clatskanie fire department, 2nd, Sons and Daughters of Norway, 3rd, Rockaway Manhattan Community club.

Bands—1st, Molalla Buckeroos.

Drum and Bugle Corps, Sr.—1st, Oregon Air National Guard, 2nd, Tillamook Elks Drum and Bugle Corps.

Drum and Bugle Corps, Jr. [illegible] McLaren School for B[illegible] 2nd, The Flamingoes, Salem; [illegible] [illegible]tow-Kelso Drum and B[illegible]

[illegible]

Continued on Page 2

Run-abouts and hydros provided thrills as they sped around a course set up at the north end of Cullaby Lake Sunday. Boats pictured here were in a run-about class and were driving for the finish in one of the heats. Nearly 2000 spectators were on hand at Cullaby Sunday to watch log rolling and run-about and hydro races, a part of the Astoria Regatta festivities. Thirty-three boats participated in the races.

Beach Wins Top Boat Race Honor

Between 1500 and 2000 spectators were on hand at Cullaby lake Sunday under generally clear skies to view log rolling and motor boat racing Astoria Regatta activities. During the course of the race, there were two smash-ups, but both were minor, with no one hurt and no boats overturned.

Leroy Beach of Albany took the drivers high point trophy of the day, entering two boats. In the class C run-about competition Beach guided his boat to first and second finishes in two heats, and in the class B hydro races came in second twice—which gave him a winning total of 1300 points.

Bob Johnson, Astoria was awarded the "hell diver" trophy. This is usually awarded to a driver who gets a dunking. Johnson was involved in one of the crashes. The side of his outboard was caved in and took on a lot of water, which was the most serious of the mishaps. In the seven boat heat, the craft were fighting for the inside on the south turn when the mishap occurred. Johnson's craft went dead in the water but a crash boat was immediately on the scene and pulled him off the course before boats made another turn.

Chairman Al Iverson and crew did a fine job as the races and log rolling events went off without a hitch. Boats ran qualifying heats starting at 9 .m., and were through by 11:30 a.m.

Log rolling took place just offshore from the northwest bank of Cullaby between 12 noon and 1 p.m. Mike Rippet, Seaside, in a best two of three falls, outlasted Dan Nordlund of Warrenton to cop the championship trophy. John Johnson, Seaside finished third, Richard Perkins Knappa, fourth and Keith Dyer Warrenton, fifth in the final standings.

Actual run-about and hydro competition got underway at 1 p.m. and had been completed by 4 p.m. Trophies were awarded to the first through third place finishers in all classes of competition.

The water events were highlighted by appearance of Regatta Queen Susan Hendrickson and court, and Admiral Paul Kearney and his wife during the afternoon.

First Year at Cullaby

This was the first year for the races in their 15th year, to be staged at Cullaby and Chairman Al Iverson was pleased with results. A total of 33 boats participated. Local volunteers provided and managed the crash boats and were credited for smoothness of the affair, Iverson said.

Closest races of the day were the Class B Hydro races in which Bob Delbert, Long Beach, Wash., managed to nose out Leroy Beach of Albany by not more than [illegible] second.

Race Results:

Class A Hydro—1st, Harold Na[illegible]tion, 800 points, Albany, 2nd, [illegible] McCaren, 600 points, Albany; [illegible] Stan Vob[illegible] [illegible]

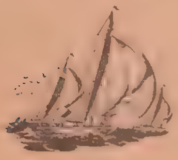
Class B H[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]00 points, Long Beach, Wash., [illegible] Leroy Beach, 600 points, Alb[illegible] 3rd, James Mapes, 450 points, Corvallis.

Class C Runabout—1st, Dave [illegible]lliger, 800 points, Astoria, 2nd, [illegible] Beach, 700 points, Albany; [illegible] Nelmi, 525 points, As[illegible]

Class D Runabo[illegible] [illegible]kins, 800 point[illegible] [illegible]

Class E Runabout—1st, Tom [illegible] points, Astoria, 2nd, M[illegible] [illegible]

Attend THE 43rd ASTORIA REGATTA



Races
Food
Parades
Dancing
Fun for Everyone!

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

August 10
- ★ PRINCESS TEA 2-4 p.m. at Yacht Club

August 15-20
- ★ SPECIAL BUTTON SALE EVENTS .... 12th and Commercial

August 22
- ★ ARRIVAL OF U.S.S. BURTON ISLAND
- ★ QUEEN'S CORONATION .. 8 p.m. at National Guard Armory

August 23
- ★ YMCA KIDS DAY ....YMCA
- ★ KIWANIS KIDDIES PARADE .... 6:30 p.m., Downtown
- ★ BEACHCOMBERS DANCE ....8 p.m. at American Legion Hall

August 24
- ★ OPTIMISTS YOUTH DAY Tapiola Park
- ★ QUEEN'S LUNCHEON ....Noon at High School
- ★ REGATTA PARADE ...3 p.m., Downtown
- ★ SMORGASETTE ....4:15 p.m., Armory
- ★ BAND SHOW ....8 p.m., Gyro Field

August 25
- ★ BOAT RACES ....9 a.m.-4 p.m. at Cullaby Lake
- ★ LIONS SALMON BARBECUE ... .4-7 p.m., 4-H Fair Grounds

BUY A BUTTON! --- SUPPORT THE REGATTA

AUGUST 22-25

VICKY WRIGHT

Seaside's Vicky Wright Completes Regatta Court

And, so who completes the glamorous Regatta court of 1963? None other than Vicky Jane Wright, Seaside's claim to fame and that high school's bid for Regatta Queen

Princess Vicky is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Wallace Carlson Seaside, but she was born in Astoria, October 3, 1945 which, like Princess Ann Williams from Astoria high, makes her just 17 years old

Five-feet-four this very feminine very pretty girl stands Her hair is brownette and her eyes are blue and there is a jolly quality about her, as though she were enjoying every minute of life

She, too, likes to read and to swim, and she plays the piano, both classical and popular, all of which has nothing to do with the fact that she will enter Clatsop college this fall and study to be a secretary

At home there are two younger sisters, Peggy, 16 and Colleen, 13 both in high school Their two dogs (half poodle and half wire-haired) are called Bobbo and Chiffon and they are "characters," she added

Her father's logging business has taken the family to Eugene and Tillamook, but Seaside is now their home, and a lucky move it was, for otherwise, how would there have been a Princess Vicky in Regatta Land?

So there you have them, eight of the loveliest princesses ever to grace a Regatta Princess Sally (Blis[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Imrose) of Knappa [illegible] [illegible]el (See) of Warrenton, [illegible] Imogene Slanger of [illegible] [illegible]ncess Ann Williams), [illegible] and Princess Vicky (Wright) of Seaside

And which, O mirror on the wall, or crystal ball, will be Queen of our Regatta?

PRINCESS PAMELA SEE

Regatta Princess Pam See Warrenton's Bid for Queen

The fifth pretty girl to join the ranks of the 1963 Regatta court is Princess Pamela See, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. See of Warrenton, and therefore, Warrenton high school's bid for Queen of the Regatta.

Princess Pam (who has the poetic sounding middle name of "Dawn") is also Astoria-born, as were so many of the little girl babies in this area, on a wintry January 5, 1945. But there is nothing wintery about Princess Pam Her dark brown hair, piled high, has warm glints in it to match the warm glints in her brown eyes and she has a heart-warming smile.

Proximity to the quiet lake waters around Warrenton, has made a swimmer out of this princess, but she works at her parents' restaurant during summer vacations helps at home with the housework and does some sewing, so summer swimming trips have to be sandwiched in to her busy schedule

A graceful five-feet-six, she likes English and American novels to read and mood music on stereo to listen to. Incidentally, Snook her gray striped cat presented her with five fat little fluffy children the other day

Her father has a partnership in the C&D Salvage company in Wauna, but Warrenton is the family home. She has two older sisters Mrs Donald Baldwin (Sharon who also lives in Warrenton, and Mrs. Ray Hadley (Linda), of Eugene, who, by the way, was a Regatta Princess in 1960

After the exciting whirl of Regatta events, more excitement is in store for Warrenton's princess, for this fall she will enroll at the University of Oregon, where she will prepare for her pre-nursing studies. If looks wil help, Nurse Pamela's patients will get well quickly.

PRINCESS SUSAN HENDRICKSON

Tourist Attraction (Guide) Is Regatta Princess Susan

Next in line alphabetically in the royal court of the Regatta to be introduced is Princess Susan, who in real life is Susan Kay Hendrickson daughter of Mr and Mrs. Ralph Hendrickson

Princess Susan is 5 feet 5½ with brownette hair and brown eyes She was born in Astoria June 21, 1945, which makes her just 18, and she has lived here ever since She just graduated from Astoria high school where she was rally queen

This summer she will serve as a tourist guide at the Bumble Bee Seafoods information center at Elmore cannery gate and this fall plans to enter the University of Oregon where she will study elementary education to be a teacher

Her favorite sport is basketball and she especially likes to water ski behind her father's boat on Cullaby lake There is a black lab, Bing, who likes to go along, too

She took dancing lessons (when she was young) and plays the piano

Her older sister Barbara (Mrs Cecil Sharp) lives at Long Island N. Y., and her brother Donald who lives in Dallas, Tex will be home for Regatta

A winning smile and a sweet personality will greet visitors in town this summer when they line up at the big cannery for guided tours, for Princess Susan has a natural friendly nature and likes people She will be a definite attraction, too, in the Regatta Court, where she will have a chance to meet many admiring subjects.

SALLY HELENE BLISSETT

Introducing Princess Sally Of the 1963 Regatta Court

Would you like to meet a princess, a dark haired, hazel-eyed one with creamy olive skin? In fact, would you like to be introduced to eight lovely princesses, some blond some brunette?

Now that you are intrigued with the idea, we'll start off by revealing the news that they are members of the Astoria Regatta court of 1963 and they are eight of the prettiest sweetest girls this Regatta land ever had. And we'll start off, in alphabetical order, with Sally Helene Blissett, daughter of Mr and Mrs Guyon Blissett Her father is postmaster of Gearhart where they live

Princess Sally just graduated from Star of the Sea high school, and is that school's representative in the Regatta court She was Prom Queen this year, cheer leader and a member of the National Honor society for three years

[illegible]

the sea, and Sally is not busy at studies or housework, she is knitting sweaters, or practicing on her flute (She is a member of a Seaside flute orchestra composed of girls.) Summer vacations she works in her mother's posh little dress and accessory shop in the lobby of the Gearhart hotel, and loves it (what girl wouldn't?)

She was born in Salem, January 6, 1945, but came to Clatsop county as a wee one of four She has two married sisters, Mrs. Bruce Maltman (Susan) who has four little boys and who lives in Gearhart, also, and Mrs. Rocky (Rahlie) Goodell, who lives in Seattle Her older brother Jon works in a service station

Around the [illegible]-white Blissett home at the beach there are several ducks and chickens and two cats, a Siamese, Kinkaboo, and a tortoiseshell "alley." Twinkle

Plans for fall hinge around her enrolling at the University of Oregon where she will be majoring in education, so she can someday be a kindergarten teacher.

So, there you are . . . you have met a Regatta Princess, the first of eight, so stick around. It isn't often that one has the opportunity to meet royalty.

PRINCESS IMOGENE SLANGER

Princess Imogene Slanger Is from Regatta's Jewell

Enters now a princess from the emerald green mountains and valleys of a far corner of Regatta land, Princess Imogene Slanger of Jewell.

Born in Astoria, February 28, 1945, she is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Fred Slanger has lived in Jewell all her life, and graduated this spring from Jewell high school Now she is that school's representative in the Regatta court of eight princesses.

A tall, slender five-feet-nine, this princess loves the great outdoors that spreads a panorama of forested peaks and secluded valley around her home She likes swimming and spends the rest of her recreation time horse back riding all of which might account for a pink and tan complexion set off by laughing blue eyes and light brown hair with auburn lights

As for hobbies she sews most of her own clothes and does glass painting She is a veteran 4-H'er having devoted 10 years to practically everything the program has to offer but livestock The Slanger home has two dogs, a white Alaskan Husky pup Naknak and a Shetland sheep dog, Corky

However, most important, when he comes to visit, is Terry, her six-month-old nephew, husky young son of Mr and Mrs Ed Weber Youngs River Mrs Weber, Imogene's sister Cynthia, was a Regatta princess herself, incidently

The attractive girl (with a good head on her, too) plans to enroll in Clatsop college in the fall to start her studies that will take her to Oregon College of Education at Monmouth later for she plans to be an elementary teacher some day when Regatta days are but a cherished memory

PRINCESS ANN WILLIAMS

Number 7 in Regatta Court Is Princess Ann Williams

Regatta time is getting closer, just a month away, and there are two pretty princesses yet to be introduced So first off, here s Princess Ann, who is Ann Kristin Williams, daughter of Mrs Berwyn Williams and the late Berwyn Williams.

Taking the names of the eight princesses alphabetically, "Williams" is bound to come toward the end of the list, along with Seaside's princess, whose name start with a "W" . . . . but more of that next week

Getting back to Princess Ann she represents Astoria high school from which she graduated this past spring, and her plans are to enroll at the University of Oregon in the fall, to major in English for a career in secondary education

This lovely princess a graceful five-feet- seven, has blond hair with darker lights in it, and her eyes are a merry, dancing blue She likes to swim in Coffenbury lake, and when it rains, she prefers Shakespeare. Sewing her own clothes is her top hobby, a mighty nice one for a girl

She was born in Astoria November 29, 1945, which makes her 17, and she has lived here ever since

She has an older sister, Mrs Howard Lovvold (Mary), who has three little girls to call her "Aunt Ann," and she has two brothers, Dan, a [illegible] at U of O, and Rick, a junior at the university.

And, goodness sakes we almost forgot Letitia Letitia, citizens of Regatta land, is a most royal cat, a big one, fluffy, gray, black and white, who obeys every word her princess speaks and who quite willingly consented to be in the picture, (if Princess Ann held her).

PRINCESS HAZEL PALMROSE

Knappa High's Princess Hails from Brownsmead

The student body of Knappa high school cradle of fine athletes and top students, afforded Hazel Palmrose just about the nicest honor in their power They named her their representative to the 1963 Regatta court

So, Princess Hazel steps prettily in to the picture of the Royal Family this summer, adding something very nice in the line of princesses

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Palmrose of Brownsmead, and, although she was born here in Astoria, as so many native sons and daughters are in this locality, she has lived in the scenic valley near the Columbia ever since. She is a 1963 graduate of Knappa high school, and will be 18 years old August 22

Princess Hazel like so many of the young people fortunate enough to grow up in the verdant country side of Clatsop county went all out for 4-H work during her school years, and has nine years experience and training in dairy, sewing and cooking, for which she won many prizes. So today, home economics is her favorite study, which she plans to continue when she enrolls at Clatsop college in the fall.

Beside making her own clothes, Princess Hazel is an accomplished pianist, playing the accompaniment for the Knappa high school chorus and also the flute for which she won the coveted Arion award for music Ice skating, when Jack Frost roams the waterways of Brownsmead, is her favorite sport

She has two brothers Wally, who married and has three children, Robert, a logger; and a sister Mrs. William (Florence) Wilson, Susanville, Calif On the Palmrose farm there are three dogs and 10 dairy animals, some of which Princess Hazel owns herself

It is a busy, interesting life for a girl, for a pincess, who is blond, hazel-eyed and five-feet four-inches tall And it will be a busy, interesting summer for her, too. Chances are, she will always remember her 18th birthday, for it falls on the opening night of Regatta. What an exciting way to celebrate a birthday!

To Accompany Court

DESKIN BERGEY

Mrs. Bergey Chaperone For Regatta

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Mrs Deskin Bergey will be official chaperone for the Regatta court of 1963, according to the Regatta board.

Although a newcomer to Astoria, coming here three years ago when her husband was assigned as district manager of Pacific Power and Light company, Mrs. Bergey is familiar with the Regatta lands of the coast, having moved here from Coos Bay.

She was born in Walla Walla and attended Whitman college, where she was a music major, and she served on the board of the Oregon Federation of Musicians at one time. Piano is her hobby, and she is a member of the Friday musical club of Astoria

Since her arrival here Mrs. Bergey has become active in civic affairs and community events as though she were a native daughter. She joined several women's groups and is a member of St Catherine's guild of the Episcopal church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergey have a daughter Rosamonde (Mrs. Rodney McKay), who lives in Calgary, Canada, with her Canadian husband whom she met in college. The McKays have a two-year-old daughter Laur. Ann.

Mrs. Bergey will accompany the young Regatta princesses to all public functions prior to and during the Regatta in August, a duty that becomes more exciting, if hectic, as Regatta time approaches

"I'm looking forward to every bit of it," the gracious lady said, "and I'm honored that I was asked to chaperone a group of such attractive princesses."

PRINCESS SHIRLEY McKNIGHT

Princess Shirley McKnight (Surprise) Likes to Cook

Seaside high school's contribution to the Astoria Regatta court is a blond, blue-eyed princess, willow-slim Shirley Ann McKnight

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs C. A McKnight, who was born in Astoria July 15, 1945, which means that Monday they will be wishing Princess Shirley "Happy Birthday!"

Life is happy for this pretty princess on the mink ranch of her parents at West Lake on Clatsop Plains, where she has spent her entire almost-18 years She loves boating on the lakes, horse-back riding along the rolling dunes, and mystery stories, when she can't do either weather prohibiting She helps with the housework, and, despite the fact that princesses don't cook, this one LOVES to and makes no bones about it Drama is one of her favorite studies and she would like to continue along this line, now that she has graduated from Seaside high

Sor far, her plans for higher education include enrolling this fall at Clatsop college, where she will take a business course

She has an older sister Barbara, a sophomore at Oregon State university, who is taking a secretarial science course And then there is brother Bill, an eighth grader Bill likes the family dog Duke, a rollicking Labrador pup, and Shirley's pet is a blue-point Siamese cat "Haiu"

This five-foot six-and-a-half member of the Regatta court is thrilled with all the anticipated excitement that Regatta days will bring to Astoria and the rest of the county, and transmits that exhuberance and enthusiasm to those around her You have the feeling that the Regatta is going to be just the best ever

Meanwhile, Happy birthday Princess Shirley, Monday!

FRANK EDWIN (ED) ROSS

Ross Named Admiral Of 1963 Festivities

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Society Editor

Frank Edwin (Ed) Ross, who left Astoria many years ago and came home recently to the town of his birth, was named admiral of the 1963 Regatta, according to an announcement by the Astoria Regatta board.

A business career that took him from Pacific coast to the middle west and Army service that took him farther east and to Europe, prevented the native Astorian from residing where he wanted, but he and his wife had returned to Astoria each year for visits, with the dream that, some day, this would be their home again.

He was born at 343 Alameda, which "is now right in the middle of the ramp that will lead on to the trans-Columbia bridge," Ross explained, but when he was six years old his parents moved across river to Deep River where as a small boy, descendent of a pioneer Finnish family here, he went to school But the family moved back to Astoria in 1918 when it was time for the children to go to high school, because the closest high schol, at Naselle, was then reached only by boat Ed Ross graduated from old Astoria high school in 1923, worked on the Astorian-Budget from 1923-24 and enrolled at the University of Oregon in 1924 It was then that things began happening which shaped the life and career of Ed Ross.

One of Ross' professors in the field of advertising recommended him to Botsford-Constantine advertising agency in Seattle, and Ed quickly took the jobb, which is why he failed to contynue at the university to receive his degree However, the lack of a degree in those days failed to deter the progress of a student. He was transferred by the company to the Portland office, later accepting a job when the California-Oregon Power and Mountain States Power companies consolidated under Glenn Jackson in Medford

Accepts Position

When a Seattle advertising firm offered him a job managing the Puget Sound Power and Light company account he returned to Seattle and in two years became merchandise manager of the company. Two years later he received a call from both General Electric and Westinghouse in the east He chose Westinghouse where he become refrigerator and laundry equipment sales manager The young man, who married his high school sweetheart, Miss Eda Hauke in 1929 at the old Norwegian Lutheran church, was on his way up . . . when world conditions changed the picture

Ross, a charter member of Co. L, 186th Infantry back in 1923, got his captain's commission in the reserves in 1937, so when things began looking serious for this country Ross "dropped everything" and found himself at Fort Benning, Ga., where he taught night withdrawal and regiment withdrawal for 16 months By 1942, when the US realized that it had no quickly movable troops in the Pacific, the Army formed its first airborne command (paratroopers) . . . [illegible] was one of the first 12 airborne troop officers in this country

As a project officer for the [illegible] chief of airborne training in the operations section of the Army ground forces at the Army War College Washington D. C. [illegible] work [illegible] with [illegible] divisions, whether in the Atlantic or the Pacific Sent to help [illegible] airborne troops in combat he came out with rough notes on organizing such a division, [illegible] them to Gen. Dwight D Eisenhower. At Versailles, France, he helped compile the manpower and equipment needed for an airborne division with Gen. Eisenhower.

Returns To US

He returned to the states with Gen. Maxwell Taylor but was reassigned to Europe to the operation headquarters of the airborne troops section. When the war ended he planned the operational logistics for American troops occupying Berlin, the airborne troops being the first occupational troops in that city, and became the operations officer of the airborne Army tactical or combat troops there under Gen. Lucius Clay.

Discharged from the Army a full colonel, he returned to Westinghouse where he was made vice-president and general manager of a subsidary company speci[illegible] in self-service laundry equipment purchased by Westinghouse. When Westinghouse bought a Dallas, Tex. company that made large washing machines for hotels and navy ships, he was put in charge of it and later a Canadian company. These smaller companies were private companies at the time, [illegible] since have become public st[illegible] companies. Although Ross has left all that to come home and [illegible] [illegible]

"What he always wanted to [illegible] was own a home in [illegible] and have a boat. So, last year he commissioned a local co[illegible] [illegible] again. [illegible]

(Continued on Page 2)

Ross Named '63 Admiral

(Continued from Page 1)

interpreted in terms of scholarships for graduates of Astoria high school and generous grants to Zion Lutheran church, which his grandfather, Jacob Rinell, helped found, and the First Lutheran (Norwegian Lutheran) in which his wife's father was influential in getting started

Have Two Daughters

The Ross' have two daughters Mrs Donald (Carol Jean) Haskell, Wilmette, Ill., a suburb of Chicago and Mrs. Bill (Mary Ellen) Merzke, Rochester, N.Y., both of whom have three children

The Astoria Regatta admiral's latest acquisition is the boat he dreamed of as a small boy, a 32 foot Fairliner with two 225-horse power engines, recently built in Tacoma, which has been named the Marl Carol after the Ross' daughters.

And conclusion to the story of a local-boy-who-made-good and came home to enjoy life, his appointment as admiral of the hometown Regatta, an honor he didn't even [illegible] he would receive.

Junior Regatta Court to Be Queen's Attendants

Members of the junior Regatta court, who will serve the Regatta Queen the night of coronation during the 1963 Astoria Regatta, are shown in an informal pose on the ferry dock. They are (from left front row) Melinda York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene York; Jane Roeser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roeser; and Darcy Urell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Urell; (back row) Bruce Johnson, son of the Arnold Johnsons; Charles Lindstrom, son of the Carl Lindstroms; and Kim Isaacson, son of the E. E. Isaacsons. Melinda is from Central school; Jane from Gra[illegible] and Darcy from Lewis and Clark district 7. Bruce is from Astor school, Charles from Star of the Sea; and Kim from Gray school. The children were chosen by the Regatta committee.

Anchors Plan Regatta Queen's Coronation

These are busy days for the members of the Anchor club, who as official escorts for the Regatta court and queen, are in charge of the coronation, to be held Thursday night at the Armory. This is the committee making final plans for the opening event of the Regatta: from left, seated, Ruth Shaner, Ethel Wilson, Marge Thompson, Beverly Duff, Bea Cederberg and Marge Mather, co-chairmen; from left, standing, Edith Thorsness, Nancy Gregg, Helen Sorkki, Janis Heuer and Gayle Johnson.

Planning a Luncheon Fit for a Queen

Planning the luncheon honoring the 1963 Regatta Queen, to be held Saturday noon at the Astoria high school lunchroom, are the following members of the Anchor club. From left, Pat Livesley, Clarabell Erickson, Beverly Wilson, Chairman Marge Smith, Lucille Scarborough, co-chairman and Jean Reed, co-chairman. All women of the county and their out-of-town guests are invited to the affair, which will honor the Regatta Princess chosen queen and crowned at tonight's coronation at the Armory at 8 p.m. Reservations for the luncheon are to be called in to Mrs. Reed, 861-2896; Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, FA 5-3445; or Mrs. James Scarborough, RE 8-7331, not later than Friday. Past Regatta queens and princesses will also be honored.

JCs Name Kumpula as Parade Chief

EVOR KUMPULA

Evor Kumpula will head the 1963 Astoria Jaycee Regatta parade, according to Ray Wood, Jaycee president. The parade, the 43rd annual, will be staged through downtown Astoria, Saturday, August 24, starting at 3 p.m.

Kumpula graduated from Knappa high school and is a 1960 graduate of Oregon State university. Shortly after his graduation from Oregon State, he was employed by Pacific Power and Light company and is now a sales representative for the firm in the Astoria office.

Kumpula is married and he and his wife Bettieann are expecting their first child.

This is his first year as a member of the Jaycees.

Kumpula said more than 200 letters of invitation have been sent to prospective parade participants. Forty have already agreed to participate, Kumpula said. The parade chairman encouraged participation from all groups in the area.

Theme of this year's event, staged by the Jaycees in conjunction with the Astoria Regatta association activities, is "Water Wonderland."

Kumpula announced various other chairmanships in connection with the parade: Omer Stephens, Jr., parade marshal; Sim Vinson, awards and judging; Gene Nelson, band show; Marque Marriott, hospitality; Lee Vandolin, housing, and Bob Olyson, publicity.

Anchor Club Tea Is for All Women

Leading off the pre-Regatta season and offering a sample of gay events to follow is the Anchor club tea honoring the Regatta court of eight attractive princesses and their chaperone. The tea, traditionally a social highlight of the summer season, will be held Saturday from 2-4 p.m. at the Astoria Yacht club, with an open invitation to all women of Clatsop county and their house guests.

Always noted for its originality of decor, this year's tea will feature the Japanese theme in flowers and props, that include an oriental garden complete with pool, stone lanterns and arched bridge. Guests will enter through a moon gate and overhead will be colorful Japanese lanterns, according to Mrs. Harry Rodgers and Mrs. Rudy Lovvold, co-chairmen of decorations. Those working with them on the project are the Mesdames Richard Lee, Joe Bakkenson, Joe Thompson, Donald Kubic, David Alderman and Miss Sharon Wolleson.

The task of arranging for hundreds of tea sandwiches and cakes is being done by Mrs. Donald Johnson and Mrs. Tom Edison, with the assistance of the Mesdames Howard Johnson, Fred Frederickson and Austin Magill.

And general chairman in charge of this first Regatta event is Mrs. William Leahy.

Kiddies' Parade Set For Aug. 23

The Astoria Kiwanis Kiddies' Parade this year will be held on Friday, August 23, announced Jerry Hibbard, general chairman.

All children under 13 are urged to enter. Cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded to winners in each of seven divisions plus a grand sweepstakes award. Ice cream bars will be given to all participants following the parade.

The formation time will be at 6 p.m. at the south side of the courthouse on Duane street. Entries will be judged and the parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. and go down Commercial street.

Mentula Honored

Regatta Admiral Ed Ross (right) presents vice-admiral's commission to Tuure Mentula, consul general of Finland and a member of the consular corps for 18 years. (Photo by Denny Thompson).

★ ★ ★

Regatta Group Plans Button Sale, Show in August

The Astoria Regatta committee wants to conduct a show and button sale on 12th street between Commercial and Marine Drive four evenings and one afternoon during August, Al Iverson of the committee told the city council Monday evening.

Iverson said preparations are being made for a show to include square dancers, bagpipers, the Mariners drum-bugle corps, a fashion show and other features. Purpose will be to draw a crowd and sell Regatta buttons.

Iverson said the plan is to reserve the street for one hour the evenings of August 15, 16, 20 and 21, and for one hour Saturday afternoon, August 17.

Iverson said the show would be presented on a large flat bed truck as a stage and that the program would involve closing the street for the one hour needed, and for a preliminary time for removal of parked cars.

Council members indicated their approval of the program and said the street would be available during the evenings indicated. They said they wanted to check with the police department before authorizing a Saturday afternoon closure, however.

Parade Preparations Moving Rapidly For 43rd Regatta Here

The annual Astoria Regatta parade is developing rapidly, according to Evor Kumpula, Jaycee chairman for the Astoria Jaycee-sponsored event, staged in conjunction with activities of the Astoria Regatta Association. The parade will start at 3 p.m. Saturday, August 24.

Tentative plans call for the parade to form in front of American Can company on West Marine Drive; to go east on West Marine Drive to Eighth; then up one block to Commercial. The parade will then move east on Commercial to the 4-H fair grounds where it will disband. The reviewing stand will be at Fourteenth and Commercial streets. Special activities will be held at the fair grounds for all parade participants following its conclusion, Kumpula said.

Many floats, marching units, drill teams, and drum and bugle corps from throughout Oregon and Washington will participate. The Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone company float, following the theme of this year's festivities "Water Wonderland," will carry the new Regatta Queen and her court. A band show featuring many of the parade participants, will be held 8 p.m. Saturday, on Gyro field. The Parade Awards presentations will be made during the Band show, Kumpula said.

Convertibles Needed

The parade chairman said additional convertibles are needed to carry dignitaries in the event. Those who can help are asked to call Kumpula at Astoria's Pacific Power and Light company.

Kumpula also said it was not too late for additional parade entrants. He encouraged local groups to join in the fun, viewed annually by thousands.

The forty-third annual Astoria Regatta swings into full action August 22 with arrival of the USS Buston Island and Queen's coronation, 8 p.m. at the Astoria National Guard Armory. Friday, August 23, is a day for the children with the YMCA Kids Day on tap and the annual Kiwanis Kiddies Parade scheduled through the downtown Astoria streets, 6 p.m. A Beachcombers dance will start at the American Legion club, 8 p.m.

Youth Day Set

Saturday, August 24, the [illegible] nists Youth Day at Tapiola [illegible] will be held during the [illegible] hours; the Regatta Queen's luncheon at Astoria high school [illegible] parade through Astoria [illegible] 3 p.m., a Smogasette at [illegible] ory 4 14 p.m. and a band [illegible] Gyro field, 8 p.m.

Sunday, August 25, [illegible] tivities will end with [illegible] and hydroplane races [illegible] Lake, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. [illegible] annual Lions Barbecue [illegible] grounds, 4-7 p.m.

Regatta Parade Theme "Water Wonderland"

The 43rd annual regatta parade staged by the Astoria Jaycees will roll through downtown Astoria Saturday, August 24 at 3 p.m. Participation has been agreed upon by 40 of the 200 groups to whom invitations have been issued.

Theme of the parade this year will be "Water Wonderland". Evor Kumpula, this year's parade chairman, named as his assistants in the parade arrangements: Omer Stephens Jr., parade marshal; Sim Vinson, awards and judging; Gene Nelson, band show; Marque Marrott, hospitality; Lee Vandolin, housing; Bob Olyson, publicity.

Parades Call Princesses

The Astoria Regatta court of princesses and their chaperone, Mrs. Deskin Bergey, will travel by car to Sheridan Saturday, to participate in the parade for that community's "Frontier Days." The following Saturday they will take part in the parade in Seaside of the Miss Oregon Pageant. Wednesday, July 3, they will ride atop convertibles in the Albany Timber Festival parade, and Thursday, July 4, in the Warrenton Independence Day parade.

Regatta Button Sales Aided By Junior Groups

A spirited rivalry is de[illegible] junior group[illegible] of "Lucky Regatta Buttons" in advance of the 43rd annual Astoria Regatta August 22-25.

[illegible] nizations participating [illegible] are the Rainbow [illegible]s Daughters, Junior Norwegian Dancers of the Daughters of Norway, Theta Rho Girls of Warrenton and the DeMolays.

The regatta association is paying a 10% commission to these groups for selling the buttons and a further inducement in bonuses. The group selling the largest number over 300 will receive a $10 bonus and all groups selling 300 buttons also receive a $5 bonus.

Princess From Astoria

Vicki Wright is an Astoria high [illegible] Seaside as reported Monday. Shirley McKnight is the Seaside high representative to the 1963 court.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol 91, No. 21 Astoria, Oregon, Tuesday, July 30, 1963

Burton Island to Pay Visit to Astoria

Clatsop County Slates Regatta Queen Crowning

ASTORIA [illegible]—One of [illegible] at Astoria [illegible] A large crowd is expected [illegible] Regatta [illegible] queen [illegible]

[illegible]

Smorgasette Slated

[illegible]

Swim Scheduled

Friday activities begin at [illegible] p.m. with a YMCA [illegible] city-wide swim meet [illegible] Astoria [illegible] Columbia River [illegible] Regatta [illegible] queen's parade [illegible] sponsored [illegible] Clatsop 4-H [illegible]

Races and other games [illegible] Astoria [illegible] be featured Saturday in an [illegible] sored by the Lions [illegible] Optimist youth day program [illegible] Carl Bondiett, Clatsop County starting at 10 a.m. at T[illegible]ola sheriff, will barbecue about park. Women in the area are 100 pounds of salmon to feed invited to the queen's lunch more than 700 people.

Icebreaker To Be Here For Regatta

The Navy icebreaker Burton Island (AGB-1) will visit Astoria for the annual Regatta August 23-25, the Regatta association announced Tuesday.

The Burton Island, 270 feet long, displaces 6000 tons and has a [illegible]-foot beam. The ship can carry in its huge storerooms a two-year supply of food for the 230 enlisted men and 17 officers of the crew. The six diesel engines can supply up to 10,000 horsepower to the ship's 19-inch propeller shaft, enabling it to break ice more than 5 feet thick.

Commanding officers is Comdr. George H. Lewis, a veteran of 19 years in the Navy who lives in Seattle

The Burton Island, commissioned in 1946, makes annual voyages to the Arctic and voyages every two years to the Antarctic. The Burton Island has a flight deck for aircraft and carries two helicopters for scouting a way through the ice pack. It also carries demolition experts in case it is necessary to blast a way through the ice.

The Burton Island is due to arrive in Astoria August 22 and will tie up at the Astoria port docks.

The Burton Island is one of two icebreakers stationed on the west coast

Destroyer Due Here Thursday for Regatta

Destroyer U.S.S. Watts is due here Thursday and, along with the navy icebreaker Burton Island, will make up the fleet for the 43rd Astoria Regatta which opens Thursday. Destroyer w[illegible] leave Monday.

Street Shows To 'Up' Sale Of Buttons

Regatta button sales are "going good" due to efforts of several groups of young salesmen, according to Dr. Thomas Cameron Jr, button sales chairman. And four days of sidewalk entertainment is expected to boost the sales even more so

The performances of local talent, all volunteered, will be given on a flatbead truck parked outside the Viking skating rink between Commercial and Bond on 12th street, Thursday, Friday and [illegible] evenings, and Saturday [illegible]

Thursday night's opening show will be emceed by Richard "Rip" [illegible], with the Daughters of [illegible] selling buttons. Those performing will be the Star and Wheel [illegible] dancers, Clatsop Scottish [illegible] band and comedian [illegible], Miss Astoria, Katrina [illegible] the [illegible] Clowns' caliope will furnish [illegible] Also on hand will be the Jaycee dunking tank.

Friday evening, Mrs Russel Snider, district deputy for the county granges, will be MC, with the Rainbow girls to sell buttons. The American Legion junior drum and bugle corps, state champions, will play, as will the caliope and Bill Blunk, organist. The Hayshakers square dance club will dance and the Joe Petersen trio will sing

Saturday afternoon Dr. Blair Henningsgaard will emcee the show, with Job's Daughters selling buttons and music by The Blaz[illegible] Dancers from the Jeanne [illegible]ox school of dance will be featured as will the Theta Rho [illegible]

[illegible] club selling buttons and the Regat[illegible] on review. The [illegible]

Destroyer to Stop In Astoria During Regatta Festivities

The destroyer USS Watts will be a Regatta week visitor to Astoria

Port of Astoria officials said the Watts is due here August 23 and will leave August 26. It is tentatively scheduled to tie up at the face of Pier 1.

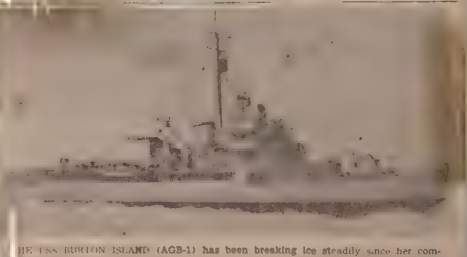
The icebreaker Burton Island is also scheduled to be here during the Regatta.

The 21000-ton destroyer was commissioned in 1944, served in the Pacific during WWII off Japanese-held Kurile island, Okinawa and Leyte gulf. After the war, the Watts was assigned to the Atlantic fleet, underwent two-month repairs in Philadelphia and then went to Charleston, S. C., for deactivation. In 1946, the Watts was assigned to the inactive 16th fleet

[illegible] the Watts [illegible] fleet destroyer force [illegible] the [illegible] In [illegible] assigned to [illegible]

Uncle Sam Sends Stalwart Ships

The icebreaker USS BURTON ISLAND will arrive in Astoria Thursday (today) Aug 22, followed by the destroyer USS WATTS late Friday afternoon, Aug 23 as the Naval ambassadors to the Astoria Regatta. Both vessels will remain throughout the regatta weekend and will be open to visitors at designated hours



HE USS BURTON ISLAND (AGB-1) has been breaking ice steadily since her com-[illegible]ing in 1946. Duty aboard an icebreaker is like serving on every type of ship in he navy at once. She does the work of a Service Force vessel, has the flight deck of n aircraft carrier, the draft of a battleship, the power of a sea-going tug, the roll of destroyer and the battering power of the old "Monitor". Together with the destroyer, USS Watts, the two navy visitors will be open for inspection during the Regatta.

Portland's Gateway Boosters Due Here for Parade

This group of funmakers from Portland, the Gateway Boosters, will be in Astoria August 24 to participate in the annual Regatta parade. The 15-member novelty unit will be one of many that will march through Astoria starting at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Reddy Kilowatt to Appear Again

Animated circus animals performing at the command of Circus Ringmaster Reddy Kilowatt will set a gay theme for Pacific Power and Light company's float which will be a feature of the Regatta parade here Saturday at 3 p.m. In the menagerie are a baby elephant on skates, a sea lion balancing a ball and a big brown bear rolling a ball.

Hard at it, at the time this picture was taken, wielding big brooms and dustpan are three teen-aged girls who volunteered to help clean new Maritime museum for Regatta week. From left, Sue Foland and Carli McColl, Seattle, house guests of Terrye Tucker, right. Terrye's mother read appeal for help in newspaper and suggested that her daughter volunteer. She did and her house guests "joined the work party." Board of directors praised public-spirited teen-agers.

Teen-agers Help Get Museum Ready For Regatta Week

The recent call for help from the Maritime museum for volunteer workers to get the new location in shape for Regatta week, brought out several teen-aged girls, who proved to be "wonderful workers," according to museum directors.

Terrye Tucker daughter of Mrs. Blanche Tucker had two young guests visiting her from Seattle Sue Foland and Carli McColl, so she invited them to accompany her to the museum, where they spent several hours sweeping, dusting and making themselves generally useful in the clean-up work.

Another work party, that turned into a birthday surprise party, was composed of Sheila and Shelby McCoy, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs Peter McCoy, Olney, who met their friends Jill Simonsen, daughter of the Kenneth Simonsens and Pat Egan, daughter of the Howard Egans, at the museum for a working day of painting and cleaning display cases. When their job was finished Jill and Pat brought out a big birthday cake for the twins, and the museum curator, who was in on the secret, furnished some cold bottled pop to make it a real celebration. The girls are members of Rainbow, and, after their work party, walked up the hill to Columbia hospital, where as Candy Stripers, volunteer nurses' aids, they helped feed the elderly residents at the dinner hour.

Some of the male volunteers who have appeared to help on the heavier work are Hector Wilson, who mowed the lawn and eradicated dandelions. Don Schultz, who came in from Svensen to lend a hand and Lloyd Halsan, here on vacation who spent some of his "leisure time working at the museum.

Chinese Girls' Drill Team to Be in Regatta Parade

Pictured here is the colorful Chinese Girls' drill team of Seattle, which will participate in Astoria's Regatta parade August 24. The colorful, talented group won the President's award in the Seattle Seafare Grand Parade this year, the sweepstakes award for all marching units. The group has appeared many times in Astoria and always draws the ohs and ahs of spectators.

Ballard Girls to Return Again for Astoria Regatta Parade

Pictured are members of the Ballard girls drill team, Seattle, a self-supporting group that travels the states of California, Washington, Oregon and in Canada performing in parades and giving special dem- [illegible] team [illegible]ing. They won the Seattle drill team cham- [illegible], 1961 and 1962. They have won the grand sweepstakes award in Victoria, B.C., for the past four years. The precision marching group is one of many that will take part in the annual Astoria Regatta grand parade starting at 3 p.m. Saturday, August 24, through downtown Astoria streets.

The Columbia Press

1270 MARINE DR., ASTORIA, ORE.—$2.50 a Year in CLATSOP COUNTY. THURSDAY, AUGUST 29, 1963 10c COPY — VOL. 38—NO. 35

QUEEN SHIRLEY McNIGHT, 1963 ASTORIA REGATTA

Phoo by Bob Lum

Astorians To Make Salem Trip Against Anti-Fish Initiative

A caravan of busloads of Astorians will attend a meeting of the Natural Resources board in room 321 at the State House, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 4 at 2 p.m

The meeting, called by Gov Mark Hatfield, is a joint hearing of the Fish and Game commissions and the Resources board to consider whether or not the current anti-commercial fishing initiative is sound in view of accepted conservation principles

In order to present an early strong front on this attack "on our vital industry and livelihood," according to one spokesman, a volunteer bus caravan is assembling at 8 a.m. Wednesday morning for the trip to the capitol

According to plans disclosed by William Westerholm and Ted Bugas, efforts will be made to charter at least three busses for the showing at Salem

Fishermen, cannery employees and businessmen may make reservations no later than 9 a.m. Monday so that the transportation can be arranged in time. Tickets for the volunteer caravan will be $5 per person, cash with reservation. These can be made at the fishermen's union office on 10th street, the cannery workers' on 9th street or the chamber of commerce.

"An early showing of the feeling of this entire community will demonstrate to the public and valley press that our commercial fishing industry is the life blood of our community; this volunteer show of hands will make a fine impression," Bugas said in support of the caravan.

2,000 View Kiwanis Kiddie Parade

With the stormy skies holding back their fury until the Saturday operation, "Regatta Rainspout", the Kiwanis Kiddie Parade was a tremendous success Friday night of regatta week. Chairman Jerry Hibbard estimated that at least 2,000 cheered the parade along Commercial street.

Costumes: First, Dennis LaPlante, Terry McCleary, Mary LaPlante, Sally Talboe, Beverly Bozanich; second, Callen McKinnon, Charlien Hanson, Carrie Reneke; third, Shelley Carlson, Karla Seelig; honorable mention, Susie Deloney, Mary Hendrickson, Kathy Yeager

Girls' and boys' tricycles First, Debbie, Nada and Eddie Hibbard; second, Peter and Susan Edison, Brent and Bob Seppa, Lisa Holms; third, John Wood; honorable mention, Carol Mastrich, Tod and Mark Gregg

Girls' Bicycles: First, Sally Mittet; second, Linda Burton; third, Gayle Rodgers, Penny Pinuck; honorable mention, Nancy Backenson, Joan Radich.

Baby Buggy: Pamala Dem-

(Continued on Page 2)

TDA ASKS NEW ARA COMMITTEE

George H. Haines, president, Transport Development association, sent the following letter to the Clatsop county court Wednesday:

"It is respectfully requested that the County Commissioners set a date for a public hearing to determine whether a new Overall Economic Development Plan (OEDP) should be drafted for Clatsop County and whether a new ARA Committee for the County should be appointed.

"It is pointed out that the present OEDP does not give proper direction for development efforts to secure Area Redevelopment Administration loans for our county. Although such loan programs have been successful elsewhere the employment and payrolls involved have not been forthcoming here. The group of citizens organized into Transport Development Association are committed to determining why and to take remedial action."

2,000 View Kiwanis Kiddie Parade

With the stormy skies holding back their fury until the Saturday operation, "Regatta Rainspout", the Kiwanis Kiddie Parade was a tremendous success Friday night of regatta week. Chairman Jerry Hibbard estimated that at least 2,000 cheered the parade along Commercial street

Costumes: First, Dennis LaPlante, Terry McCleary, Mary LaPlante, Sally Talboe, Beverly Bozanich; second, Callen McKinnon, Charlien Hanson, Carrie Reneke; third, Shelley Carlson, Karla Seelig; honorable mention, Susie Deloney, Mary Hendrickson, Kathy Yeager

Girls' and boys' tricycles First, Debbie, Nada and Eddie Hibbard; second, Peter and Susan Edison, Brent and Bob Seppa, Lisa Holms; third, John Wood; honorable mention, Carol Mastrich, Tod and Mark Gregg

Girls' Bicycles: First, Sally Mittet; second, Linda Burton; third, Gayle Rodgers, Penny Pinuck; honorable mention, Nancy Backenson, Joan Radich.

Baby Buggy: Pamala Demory, first (only entry)

Boys' Bicycles: First, Dwayne Everson; second, Craig VanVelger; third, Neil Miller; honorable mention, Richard Reiter, Steven Plant.

Wagons and Floats: First, Barbie Doll Float, Judy Ann, Patricia Jean, Mary Ellen, Steven Pierce, Nichelle Reges Laferriere, Ken Albarn; second, Dick Jensen; third, Sandra, Lynn, Lynda and Kenneth Schneider; honorable mention, Dorothy and Bill Barton; Gary Starr, Mark Magnuson, Lynn and Jill Ahola, Cindy Higgeen, Greta Johanson.

Miscellaneous: First, Susan Tikka; second, Stephan Litwin; third, David Litwin.

The junior regatta court were the official escorts; elders assisting the youngsters in the colorful parade included Queen Shirley McKnight and the regatta court, AHS band, Mariners drum and bugle corps, Sea Scout color guard and the Jaycee firewagon.

VISITING INSPECTION OF FIELD EQUIPMENT at Camp Rilea About 175 were counted in busloads of Astoria youngsters treated to a private inspection tour of Operation Cascade Columbia through cooperation of the military command and the chamber of commerce. The tour thru tanks, battle fields and base operations netted no casualties, it was reported.

Ceremonies Due Pipeline Finish

At ceremonies Friday, Astoria's mayor, Harry Steinbock will complete the connecting of the main line of the new water pipeline from Bear creek.

Contractors Abrahamsen & Wulliger-Warila Logging have completed their work on the main 11 miles of pipeline well ahead of schedule. Cost of the project was $900,000.

Legality Of Cease And Desist Order Challenged By TDA

Protesting the cease and desist order from selling memberships issued verbally by Harold A. Lewis of the state corporation commission office, the Transport Development associaton, through its president, George R. Haines applied for "registration of our membership certificates and $10 fee to cover 10,000 memberships," and continuing, "it is being done under protest and duress of suspended organizational activity."

The application was made direct to Francis J Healy Oregon corporation commissioner, and also demanded "that this letter and your investigation be submitted to the Attorney General for concurrence in or rejection of your action

Before quoting articles of the constitution of TDA, Haines stipulated, "our membership certificates do not meet the definition of securities under Oregon law, common law, or commercial usage."

Haines stated "If real securities such as stock of companies sponsored for development through purchase of 10% of their project requirements under ARA loan provisions are sold to members or purchased by the board of directors out of a development fund that may in the future be provided out of surpluses then the corporation commissioner will be consulted and any required registration made."

Haines stated that the linking of ITEL and TDA by the commissioner in simultaneous investigations and cease and desist orders and releases to the press has been irreparably damaging to our grass-roots shippers' organization and development company

We believe there has been a conspiracy of persons and organizations in the Astoria area to damage our organization which may or may not have been participated in by investigators or others associated with your office

We are especially concerned that what we believe to be an arbitrary and capricious action, resulting in irreparable and continuing damage to TDA, . . . may have been taken as a result of biased or false information given to your investigators by parties unknown with the purpose of damaging us

When Mr Lewis in the presence of five witnesses denied that the chamber of commerce was consulted he did volunteer information that the investigation involved discussions with 'the [illegible]

Continued on Page 2

CARL BOND [illegible], after laying aside the sheriff uniform and arms for the chef's cap and carving knife, casts a supervisory eye over some of the 7[illegible] pounds of [illegible] river salmon prepared at the barbecue Sunday at the 4-H fairgrounds. DEL [illegible] lends an assist

Photos by Paxton Hoag

Gillnet Season Ends Nearly Half Million Under 1962

The Columbia river July-August season ended at noon Saturday with fish commission officials estimating that the take would be under two million pounds. The end of the week's catches were disappointing.

Reports from albacore fishermen are not good and the receipts at local plants have dropped considerably from last week.

Some Big Ones At Ilwaco

While the commercial fishermen waved the crying towel—a bright note came through the clouds for the sports fishermen out of Ilwaco. Catching more chinooks than silvers last week, but only about one fish per man, the Ilwaco Tribune reported seven more members in the 40-pound club—17 in the 30-pound group, and over 30 getting 20-pounders last week.

With the silvers getting farther offshore, more and more trollers have been changing from salmon to tuna gear, it was reported

Youth Killed

Theron Milton Seaton, 22, of Tillamook, died from injuries in an accident south of Cannon Beach Saturday night His car went out of control and he ran into a concrete abutment after a collision with another car which had pulled out on the highway.

KINDERGARTENS WILL BEGIN SEPTEMBER 4

Kindergarten will begin for pre-schoolers Sept. 4 in Astoria for both the YMCA and Bible Baptist church schools

A few more vacancies are open at both schools

County-Wide Re-Appraisal Continues

The county-wide re-appraisal of property, which has been underway for the past two years, is continuing in the Seaside area. Residential properties are being covered first in order to contact summer residents

A card is left at properties where no one is home so that a convenient time for the appraiser to call back can be arranged David Dickson, county assessor, stressed the importance of an interior inspection in making appraisals. The cooperation of property owners in the program will keep costs down, said Dickson.

Any valuation changes will not be made until Jan. 1, 1964 and will not be reflected on tax statements due in November this year.

Through The Breakers

First of a series on Surf Dory Sport Fishing

By THE BEACHCOMBER

("I can usually be back at the store with fish by noon, and it is safer than crossing the bar," surf dory enthusiast Dave Megrath of Gearhart told The Beachcomber last Thursday. A brief look into the growing popularity of this exciting approach to sport fishing for salmon and bottom fish turned up the following boat load of information:)

PART I

Megrath, a 25-year Gearhart resident, lives at 220 S.E. 12th with wife Carol, David Lee 6, Donald 2, and Baby Kathryn

For many seasons he watched the commercial trollers picking up fish beyond the surf from Tillamook lighthouse north and, being an ardent angler, reasoned that if he could just cross the barrier of breakers, he too could haul in some big salmon.

On his first trip out in 1961 with Rev. and Mrs. James Brougher, they "got fish". The Broughers of Glendale, Calif., summer at their Gearhart home. They had ordered a dory built in Astoria to specifications published by the Oregon Game commission for a "Small, sturdy boat for navigating Oregon coastal rivers and streams"

Highly elated with the thrill and success of the cruise, Megrath placed a "dory wanted" ad in the papers, and received calls and letters from boat owners and boat builders

After inspecting several of the dorys offered, he visited boat yards of the area and continued his search for the "right" boat down the coast as far as Pacific City. He found that Pacific City dorys had long been in use by fishermen on the sheltered waters near Cape Kiwanda, so he bought one and set to reworking it for his particular need.

He installed a tilt-well for his 12-h.p. outboard, which would enable the propellor to be lowered for starting on the first wave for a power takeoff

The first cruise of his green and white 22-footer from the beach by the Gearhart hotel produced a good salmon catch

Last season skipper Megrath and a crew, usually numbering four, made more than 20 trips out through the

(CONT. ON PAGE 5)

Warr.-Hammond School Year Set

Schools of the Warrenton-Hammond area will open on Tuesday, Sept. 3. Bus schedules will remain on the same morning schedule as last year. High school students will report at 8 a.m. 7th and 8th graders attending the Fort Stevens junior high will report at 8:35 a.m. Warrenton elementary will open at 9 a.m

Lunch will be served in both the Warrenton grade school and the Fort Stevens junior high cafeterias on the first day of school. Cafeteria service is not available at the high school

Any parent having any question concerning enrollment of students from grades one through six, is invited to call the elementary principal, Howard Egan at 861-1355

Change In Age For Pool Sought

An amendment proposed by attorney Nicholas Zafiratos, acting on behalf of Archie Wirkkula, owner of the Recreation, would lower the minimum age for entering or loitering at billiard parlors at 16 and for employment at 18, if no alcoholic beverages were sold or consumed in the billiard room Wirkkula said the basement billiard room would be used and no alcoholic beverages are sold or consumed in that part of the premises

The Astoria council deferred action on the matter until Sept 3

SENATOR MORSE NEW TONGUE POINT REVIEW BEFORE U.S. SENATE JULY 15-16

Following is a continuation of the remarks of Senator Morse on the Tongue Point Naval Facility as it appeared in the Congressional Record

It is as clear to them as it is to me that a Government use of the property would undoubtedly provide the State with the greatest amount of economic return in the form of jobs and economic expansion in the Astoria area

Only a few days ago the President assured me again that a most thorough survey of possible Federal uses of the Tongue Point property is being made by Federal officials

I am doing everything I can in carrying out the obligation I owe the people of Oregon to convince the administration that Tongue Point should be reactivated for some Federal use The Democratic members of the Oregon delegation are being of wonderful assistance to me If we fail, it will not be because we did not try.

Also, may I point out that if it is finally decided that the property must be sold any business or group of businessmen in the State or anywhere in the country will then have a renewed opportunity to make their best offer for the property

A few days ago I made a brief reference to this subject matter as I discussed on the floor of the Senate the testimony of the Commissioner of Education, Mr. Keppel, before my Subcommittee on Education, which was then holding hearings on the administration's omnibus education bill Commissioner Keppel—as was done by many witnesses during the preceding weeks—called attention to the fact that we must do something quickly about training and retraining men and women who will find themselves unemployed soon because of automation.

The statistics have not been refuted, but have been agreed to by witness after witness Those statistics indicate that if automation were stopped today and if there were no more, it would be necessary to provide 35,000 new jobs a week for some time to take care of the losses of jobs which will continue to accrue because of automation operating at its present level

We all know that automation will continue for years The employment disjuncture which will result almost defies the imagination We must consider not only the loss of employment caused by automation but also the need for new jobs to be created for the increasing number who will go into the labor market week by week The statistics show that it will be necessary to provide an addi-

THE COLUMBIA PRESS

Entered as second-class matter May 9, 1922 at the post office at Astoria, Oregon under Act of March 3, 1879.

HAL ALLEN Editor and Publisher

Member OREGON NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1963 AFFILIATE MEMBER — Oregon 1963 NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

Subscription Rate $2.50 a year in Clatsop, Wahkiakum and Pacific Counties. $4.00 Outside.

1279 MARINE DRIVE, ASTORIA, OREGON

Telephone FAirfax 5-4431

UNITED NATIONS SHIP

There is a new 14,000-ton ship loading at the port docks that you should take time to visit—and you'd be welcome aboard. We were shown around the ship by a young cadet who is assigned to the ship by the British merchant marine. He is a British subject of Chinese descent, and his home is British Hong Kong. He has a good command of the King's English.

We asked him if the ship was British. "No—it is Japanese and chartered by a Portugese company with offices in Hong Kong," he answered.

"Japanese crew?" "No, the crew is all Chinese."

"Chinese officers?" "No, the captain is Irish—the first mate is Australian, and the first engineer is Scottish!"

We looked down at the huge diesel engines undergoing overhaul. "Japanese engine?", we asked. "German," he volunteered, "but built in Japan."

This ship of many nations isn't so hard to find if you go down to visit her at the port docks—look for the American name, "The South Breeze".

It's "one world" and a small one at that we thought, as we helped ourself to a Japanese toothpick made from an Oregon log.

IF YA WANNA DANCE—YA GOTTA DANCE! Everything was going against it—the Regatta association cancelled a planned street dance Saturday night on 12th street in deference to one planned for visiting servicemen in the John Jacob Astor Hotel. Last minute rulings of the state fire marshal voided this so the music of the Blazers moved to the hotel vestibule, the management donated cake and refreshments and well, rain may stop parades and that formal stuff, but IF YA WANNA DANCE — YA GOTTA DANCE!

GRANTS PASS CAVEMEN abducted and held for ransom (briefly) a beautiful damsel in distress. The damsel's weekly newspaper father (also in distress) managed to sell enough back issues to redeem his daughter from the menacing, but water-soaked southern Oregon marauders Saturday afternoon. After reforming from their afternoon and evening of marauding (and entertaining) they received a special award at the band show.

What's Doing
In Clatsop County
By JAMES SCARBOROUGH
County Commissioner

The county court meeting was opened at 10:30 a.m. Aug. 21. Present were Judge Guy Boyington and Commissioners Verne Stratton and James Scarborough.

Mrs. Ramsdale stated that the Olney loop road was very rough and requested some patching and a load of rock spread where the school bus turns around on Labiskie road.

Henry Desler gave a rundown on the Seaside Villa, and stated that the sewer from the Seaside hospital has become a hazard and is overflowing on the Seaside Villa property. The corporation has received no cooperation from the Seaside city council on this problem.

The court moved to purchase the Ford vehicle from Garcia Ford company at $2,474.76. Lovell Auto's quotation was $2,765. This vehicle will be used by the assessor's department. Mr Dickson, county assessor will have the car plainly marked for identification.

A letter was received from the city of Warrenton requesting that Mr. Martin be appointed to the planning and zoning commission.

Mrs Emert of Tolovana Park requests signs for Oford street. This request was granted.

Mrs. Raumbaugh of the Jewell area asked that 150 feet of drain pipe be placed near the county shop building to remove a drainage problem. This will be taken care of as soon as the engineer inspects the site.

The monthly report from the humane officer was received, but no report from the road department.

A letter from Judge Combs stating that the jury chairs are in place and they were viewed by the court—a very much needed improvement completed.

The county courthouse now has a directional board in the hall.

The county engineer stated that Clarence Johnson was ill and would be off work for an indefinite period.

The court ordered the south end of Woodland avenue, south or the Gearhart area be taken into the county road system and asked George Cole, assistant district attorney to prepare the proper documents.

Mr. Sjoll reported on the auction of nine parcels of county land. The minimum bid for all parcels was $7,158.60. The final bid figure was $11,780.

The county court received the minutes of the planning and zoning commission's meeting.

Don Inman has inquired about a small parcel of county property near Mig's restaurant near Seaside for location of a sign.

A letter was received from K. L. Goodwin regarding the possibility of employment in civil engineering in Clatsop county. His letter will be placed on file.

A letter from the state forestry department in regard to the 55,000 acres of timberland, was received. They will discuss the matter with the court later.

We received a request from the 4-H Fair board for a permanent barbecue pit at the fairgrounds. This was okayed and Hiram Johnson will proceed with the project.

The state highway department had a representative in and they are willing to deed the property back to the county for use in the berthing of the Columbia Lightship as a public museum.

Your county court meets at 10.30 each Wednesday morning. Visitors and taxpayers are welcome.

We take nothing lightly

To please you is our accepted responsibility.

Hughes-Ransom
MORTUARY
ASTORIA SEASIDE

New Features At State Fair; Opens Friday

Two innovations will be among the features of the Oregon State Fair, opening in Salem tomorrow, Aug. 30.

A Shetland pony will be given away at every show of the rodeo-horse show, afternoon and evening, except the last two days of the fair. These shows are at 7:30 p m Aug 30 thru Sept. 5, with a 1:30 matinee on Aug. 31, Sept 1 and 2. Ponies limited to children thru age 14.

More big prizes—a Motorola color television set will be given to some lucky octogenarian who attends the fair on "Over 80 Day", Tuesday, Sept. 3. And a plaque will go to the fairgoer, over 80, who has lived in Oregon the longest time.

A new free circus, planned especially for youngsters, will feature elephants and many other animals more than in the past. It will be located in the center of the fairgrounds near the carnival midway.

Jimmie Rodgers and the glamorous Sylte Sisters head the cast of stars who will entertain the public every evening (matinee Sept 1 and 2) in the Salem National Guard armory auditorium.

L&C Teachers Attend Pre-School Local Meetings

Pre-school activities occupied Lewis & Clark district 5 teachers this week. A faculty session was held Tuesday morning with Nat Moore, curriculum director for Lake Oswego district as speaker. Wednesday an in-service program at Astoria high school was joined by the Lewis & Clark teachers.

Registration, except for first grade students, is set for Sept 3 at Lewis & Clark, with students dismissed about 11 45 a.m. Classes will begin Sept 4 for all pupils.

LOCAL NAVY NEWS

Robert F. Earls, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Earls of 26 S.W. Fourth, Warrenton, is undergoing nine weeks basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

LOCAL ARMY NEWS

Two soldiers from Astoria, Privates First Class Charles E. Brock and Edwin G. Fisher, are among more than 75,000 armed forces personnel who participated in exercise Swift Strike III, a U.S. Strike Command exercise in Georgia and North and South Carolina.

The men are regularly assigned to the 2d Infantry Division at Fort Benning, Ga.

Brock is the son of Mrs. Jeanette E. Benson, route 4.

Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E Fisher, route 1, is a graduate of Astoria high school.

The Jack and Jill kindergarten will again operate in one of the Warrenton grade school rooms which has been leased to this organization for the second year. This is a privately run program, and any parent interested in obtaining enrollment information should call Mrs. Henry Balensiefer or Mrs. Clyde Melendy.

Employment News
By R. J. MORRISON

The Astoria local office of the Employment Service made 986 non-agricultural placements on jobs during the 1963 fiscal year, almost the same number as for 1962. An additional fairly large number of agricultural referrals were made to bean and berry harvests, mink, dairy and poultry ranches, and other miscellaneous farm work. Employment counseling to establish vocational interest and goals was given to an average of 20 individuals per month, with aptitude testing provided to about as many more.

Question: How many jobs did the Oregon State Employment Service find for people last year?

Answer: Actually, during the fiscal year just past, the OSES made more than 523,000 placements. This was a record number since the post-war years. This total included more than 80,000 placements in non-agricultural positions including professional, managerial, clerical, sales and service positions. The employment service feels that its stepped-up program of applicant and employer services plus better facilities in which to function have had a lot to do with the increase in placements during the past year. More and more employers are finding that the employment service is the best place to find qualified people for their jobs and more and more employers are using the ES services for all their employment needs. At the same time, better service to applicants thru specialist interviews, counseling and testing, gives jobseekers a better insight to their qualifications and confidence in approaching employers for specific positions.

(Continued from Page 1)

on down'. Mr. Lewis requested to permit a representative of the Attorney General of Oregon to participate in the determination of whether a cease and desist was justified, but the request was rejected, although such a representative was available, if asked.

"The apparently deliberate confusion of TDA and ITEL in both the investigation and the cease and desist order and in the press is unfair to both parties. TDA, we believe, is authorized to solicit memberships and take initiation fees. ITEL is a conventional corporation that plans to apply to TDA for sponsorship of 10% ARA matching funds for a loan to operate Tongue Point as Columbia Free Port and Industrial Park. Its president, Amos E. Heacock, has assisted us in the organization of our own company to make this sponsorship available. However, he is not an officer or director of TDA, merely a member."

According to Haines, financial relationship with ITEL, if any, could only mature after three necessary steps of procedure (a) after registration of ITEL stock with SEC; (b) after the ARA loan was approved and (c) after ITEL secured the management of Tongue Point as Columbia Free Port and Industrial Park.

Square Capers
By "SPIKE" ORDWAY

The big far western square dance is over and we all had a wonderful time in Eugene. I enjoyed meeting old friends. At last count there were 11,108 people present. That is a lot of people!

The sound was wonderful and at some far ends of the floor you could hear the callers, even though you couldn't see them.

Sunday, we drove out to the Clarence Rutherfords and they took Dick and Ginny Lenz from Salem and us way up into their mountain forest—we saw deer that weren't afraid of us as they don't see humans up there. Also a bear cub was trying to get honey. It was a beautiful trip I shall never forget.

Coming up this Sunday, the Sunset square dance council meeting at Fort Stevens State Park at 2 p.m. Picnic area.

The Crowns and Gowns are having their annual club picnic at 10 a.m. Sunday and will toast the council meeting at 2 p.m.

Visiting Ske and Fran Skehan are Fran's sister Katherine and Jack Coe and their two daughters from Loomis, Calif.

This Saturday we danced on a truck that Jim Riggs fixed for the regatta parade. Then we served with other square dancers in costume for the smorgasette.

After the serving we put on grass skirts, mu mus and Hawaiian shirts and leis for the wonderful luau at Clatskanie.

Aloha Oe Pe hea Oe?

Wee Welcome

BIRTHS

A boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Johnson, 7 lbs. 14 oz. Aug. 28.

A girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. David Jeffers, 8 lbs. ½ oz. Aug. 24.

A girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilcox, 7 lbs. 4½ oz. Aug. 21.

A girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Johne Jensen, 8 lbs. 15 oz. Aug. 15.

A boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Beaver, 7 lbs. 6½ oz. Aug. 23.

Obituaries

SINA HELMA IVERSON

Sina Helma Iverson, 79, died Aug. 22 at the home of her grandson, Albert Iverson, 431 Kensington. She is also survived by a sister in Norway.

Daniel Stewart, 65, died Aug 24 at a local hospital. Surviving is his son Danny of Salida, Calif.

Mrs. Emma Haley, 84, died in a local nursing home Aug. 26. Surviving is a son James B. Haley.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD (Cont. from pg 1.)

tional 65,000 new jobs a week to take care of the population explosion. The total need already is for 90,000 new jobs a week.

Various witnesses discussed statistics of the nature I have just stated, but I think one of the very best discussions was the discussion of Commissioner Keppel. It was in the course of that discussion that he made his plea for the development of vocational training centers. It was in the course of the discussion in the hearing room that I said I thought it was important that the administration's attention be called to the need. I especially refer to the Tongue Point installation as a great training center. I had already notified the administration as to the information that had been supplied to me by one of the outstanding men in the field of vocational training in my State, in charge of vocational training in the Springfield (Oreg.) school system. He came to see me about Tongue Point. It was pointed out in that conference that it is made to order for a great vocational training center, where several thousand persons could be trained each year. There was a great facility there for an institution for vocational training.

There is a need for some in other parts of the country, too. That proposal had been made earlier to Mr. Ralph Dungan, whom the President had assigned to follow through on the Tongue Point matter and keep the White House informed as to the potentialities that might develop for the Federal use of Tongue Point.

After listening to Commissioner Keppel the other day, I wrote Mr. Dungan another letter, in which I called attention to various aspects of the Tongue Point problem, with especial reference to Commissioner Keppel's testimony; and I ask unanimous consent that the letter be inserted at this point in the RECORD, and that excerpts of Commissioner Keppel's testimony that I sent to the White House also be printed at this point in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the letter and excerpts were ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

JULY 11, 1963

Mr RALPH DUNGAN
Special Assistant to the President,
The White House
Washington, D C

DEAR RALPH: Yes, it is Tongue Point again. You probably have noted in the press recently several stories to the effect that the Federal Government is concerned about the need for developing vocational training centers to help meet the loss of jobs caused by automation and the employment problems faced by school dropouts.

As I told you in a previous letter, Commissioner Francis Keppel discussed a phase of this problem in his testimony before my Subcommittee on Education. I am enclosing a copy of the hearing record, and I have marked the excerpts dealing with this part of Commissioner Keppel's testimony.

In my opinion, the administration should draw together all of the recommendations of its various spokesmen on the need for retraining centers and then give consideration to the possibility of making Tongue Point a vocational training center for various Federal programs that are in the incubation stage.

This spring, I had a conference with Mr. L John Lipney who teaches in the vocational education department at Springfield Senior High School, Springfield, Oreg. Mr Lipney advanced several excellent suggestions for possible uses of the Tongue Point facility. He feels that it could be used to train foreign service technicians and teacher trainees as a manpower retraining program, and a vocation training school.

You may find the attached copy of my April 15 correspondence with Mr Lipney of some interest in this connection, particularly the Senai brochure and the Sao Paulo photographs.

The thrust of Mr Lipney's proposal is that training of foreign technicians in a residential center in this country could be accomplished more efficiently and expeditiously than in centers situated in their own country. An extremely useful byproduct of this approach would be the fact that the technicians who were trained in an area such as Astoria would carry back home with them excellent impressions of our democratic way of life.

Furthermore, I still think that the Peace Corps and the foreign aid organization should give more favorable consideration to the possibility of using Tongue Point as a vocational training center for young foreigners brought here from foreign lands along the lines of the proposal that Frits Rarig made to us some months ago. I would rather spend some of our foreign aid money training young foreigners in our own country in various phases of vocational training than spending the money abroad.

I am enclosing a copy of a statement I am making in Oregon this weekend on Tongue Point, because with the passage of time, the demands for Federal action are becoming more intensified.

Incidentally, I think it would be very helpful if you had a talk with Senator HAYDEN chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and assured him, as I have, that it would be very helpful if he would keep us advised as to requests that various Government departments and agencies are making for the construction of new installations that might not be needed if they gave consideration to a Federal use of Tongue Point for the same purpose.

Cordially

WAYNE MORSE

Hospital Notes

Patients admitted to St. Mary hospital this week were:

Melvin Wertz, Robert M. Baird, Lee L. Van Domelin, Alex Karsun, Mrs. Martha Macklin, Mrs. Bonnie Johnsen, Mrs. Patricia Spears, Rita Langdon, Russell D. Church, Richard J. Stephens, William Nimtz, Mrs. Mabel Tufts, Mrs. Dorothy Thresher, Sister Rose Catherine, Mrs. Maude Ayers, Mrs. Clara Baker, Mrs. Mary Marie Turner, Mrs. Esther Flato, Master Richard Dyal, Mrs. Nancy Warren, Ralph G. Olsen, Frances Leinenweber, Mrs. Jeanne Shunk, Gerald E. Petersen, Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, Maynard W. Baker, Mrs. Margaret Robinson, Mrs. Barbara Ford.

Patients admitted to Columbia hospital were:

Mrs. Bessie Douglass, Mrs. Emma Svenson, Mrs. Sophia Wiitala, Dimerios Galonos, Gary A. Smith, Rudy Krueger, Mrs. Richard Perry

(Continued from Page 1)

ory, first (only entry).

Boys' Bicycles: First, Dwayne Everson; second, Craig VanVelger; third, Neil Miller; honorable mention, Richard Reiter, Steven Plant

Wagons and Floats: First, Barbie Doll Float, Judy Ann, Patricia Jean, Mary Ellen, Steven Pierce, Nichelle Reges Laferriere, Ken Albarn; second, Dick Jensen; third, Sandra, Lynn, Lynda and Kenneth Schneider; honorable mention, Dorothy and Bill Barton; Gary Starr, Mark Magnuson, Lynn and Jill Ahola, Cindy Higgeen, Greta Johanson.

Miscellaneous: First, Susan Tikka; second, Stephan Litwin; third, David Litwin.

The junior regatta court were the official escorts; elders assisting the youngsters in the colorful parade included Queen Shirley McKnight and the regatta court, AHS band, Mariners drum and bugle corps, Sea Scout color guard and the Jaycee firewagon.

AHS office will receive student fees prior to the opening of school until 3 p.m., Friday.

CHURCH NOTES

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
11th and Franklin

Sunday school 9:30 a.m.; church services at 11 a.m.; Wednesday evening testimony meeting 8 p.m. Reading room open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 11 to 3 p.m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Commercial at 7th
James T. Martin, Th.D., Pastor
9:45 a.m., Bible school
11 a.m., morning worship.
7:00 p.m., youth groups.
8:00 p.m., evening service.
7:30 p.m., Wednesday prayer service

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
11th and Grand
Lee Knoll, D.D., Pastor
11 a.m., Sunday school.
11 a.m., worship service.

BIBLE BAPTIST CHURCH
12th & Irving
David W. Croy, Pastor
Sunday school 9:45 a.m.
Morning worship, 11 a.m.
Teenage fellowship, 6:30 p.m.
Evening gospel hour, 7:30 p m
Thursday—7:00 p.m., choir practice; 8 p.m., Bible study.

JEFFERS GARDENS COMMUNITY CHURCH
East of Lewis & Clark Bridge on Highway 101
Sunday school, 9:45 a.m.
Worship, 11:00 a.m.,
Wednesday prayer and Bible study, Mel Schoessler home, 7:30 p.m.

SVENSEN FRIENDS CHURCH
Dan Nolta, Pastor
Sunday school, 9:45 a.m.
Morning worship, 11:00 a.m.
Senior Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p.m.
Sunday eve worship service, 7.30 p m.
Prayer-Bible study Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.

LEWIS & CLARK BIBLE CHURCH
Warren Frye, Pastor
Sunday school, 9:45 a.m.
Morning services, 11:00 a.m.
Youth services, 6:00 p.m.
Prayer meeting at the home of Ethel Gustafson Wednesday night, 7:00 p.m.

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD
Ninth and Exchange Streets
Carl Henderson, Pastor
9:45 a.m., Sunday school.
11 00 a.m., morning worship.
6:30 p.m., Prayer service.
7 p.m., CA Youth Service.
7 45 p.m., evangelist service.
7:45 p.m., Wednesday, Bible study and prayer

NOTICE OF FINAL ACCOUNT

The undersigned Executor of the Estate of Fred P. Gray, deceased, has filed his Final Account as said Executor with the District Court of Clatsop County, Oregon and Tuesday, September 17, 1963, at 2:00 P.M., in the Courtroom of said Court in said County and State has been set by the Court as the time and place of hearing the account and any objections to the settlement thereof

Ray Lindsay, Executor
Harold T. Johnson
Attorney for Executor
205 Astor Building
Astoria, Oregon 33-37c

Army PFC Ronald W. Slotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Slotte, route 3, Astoria, is one of more than 75,000 armed forces personnel who participated in Exercise Swift Strike III, which pitted two task forces against each other in a month-long mock war which ended Aug. 16.

Slotte, a member of the 82d Airborne Division's 505th Infantry at Fort Bragg, N.C., graduated from Astoria high school in 1962.

order BY phone FOR SPEEDIER SERVICE

Kenmore
Electric Range
$160.00
Sears, Roebuck and Co.
1436 Commercial — FA 5-3321
in Astoria

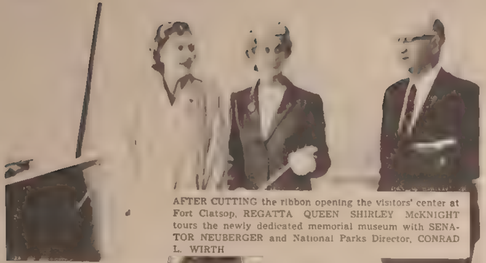
Starts Aug. 30 for 9 full days
COME FOR FUN

More to do...More to view
Gates open 10 00 a m daily

See dazzling floral splendor in the new floral exhibit building. Other buildings bulge with exciting displays 4-H and F F A. Livestock taste tempting foods arts crafts and hobbies

JIMMIE RODGERS IN PERSON, with an all-star cast for the REVUE Twice daily

- ★ Rodeo Horse show (Matinees too!)
- ★ Horse Racing daily (except Sunday) 1 00 p m
- ★ All Oregon Talent show (free)
- ★ Band concerts daily (free)
- ★ Fun filled circus (free)



AFTER CUTTING the ribbon opening the visitors' center at Fort Clatsop, REGATTA QUEEN SHIRLEY McKNIGHT tours the newly dedicated memorial museum with SENATOR NEUBERGER and National Parks Director, CONRAD L. WIRTH

REVIEWING THE CULLABY LAKE activities Sunday were Regatta Admiral "Ed" Ross, Regatta Queen Shirley McKnight and Regatta chaperone Mrs. Deskin O. Bergey. The royal guests received a royal reception from the happy crowd of marine enthusiasts.

Shore Landings Seen By Solons

Continuing operations of Army Reserve troops of the 498th Engineer Command (Amphibious Support), had Senator Maurine B. Neuberger as a spectator Monday at Camp Rilea.

Shore landings starting at dawn Tuesday shuttled 1,500 reservists from ship to beach by landing craft made realistic by explosions of mock mines on land and several explosions in the water, set off by Navy men.

Legislators from both Oregon and Washington were visitors Tuesday. Exercises in establishing a beach head were in order Wednesday and evacuation of the troops will start today after two weeks of training.

Store Bought

The Garber Corporation of Corvallis has announced ther purchase of the Ful-Mon Discount Center in Astoria The store will be operated as one of nine 88c variety stores which the firm owns.

Most of the programs offered 4-H club boys and girls can be carried out equally well on or off the farm

DATES TO KEEP

Aug. 30—State Fair, Salem.
Sept. 3 Schools open
Sept. 30—Clatsop college begins

1963 REGATTA BUTTON WINNERS

NAME	BUTTON NUMBER
Adelaine's Mode-O-Day	[illegible]
Anita's	1156
Andrew & Steve's Cafe	[illegible]
Astoria Apparel	[illegible]
Astoria Business Equipment	[illegible]
Art Needlecraft	[illegible]
Astoria Florist	1792
Astoria Health Food Center	[illegible]
Astoria Office Appliance	[illegible]
Astoria Janitor Supply	[illegible]
Bell Bros Jewelers	[illegible]
Burke's Mens Store	[illegible]
The Cinders	[illegible]
Columbia Auto. Dry Cleaners	3672
Crohn & Karsun	[illegible]
Davy Jones Locker Cafe	[illegible]
Eleanor's Hat Bar	[illegible]
Ekstrom's Jewelers	[illegible]
Erickson Floral Co.	3830
Fabric Shop	[illegible]
Fisher Bros	[illegible]
Firestone Stores	[illegible]
Fiesta Club	[illegible]
Ful-Mon Discount Store	[illegible]
Fur Trader Lounge	[illegible]
Gimre's Shoe Store	[illegible]
Greenberg's Furniture Store	[illegible]
Greta's Gifts	1332
Hallaux Paint Store	746
Halfway House	3809
Hildebrand's	2619
J. C. Penney Co.	1516
Kildall's	796
Kiddie's Korner	2573
Klara Alma's Hat Shop	2078
Kris' News	275
Lawson's Confectionery	1307
Leon's	1164
Link's Sporting Goods	2536
Loop-Jacobsen Jeweler	3858
Merle Norman Cosmetics	2293
Maunula Shoe Store	1778
Montgomery Ward & Co.	1575
Morton's	970
Newberry's	386
Oregon Marine Supply Co.	2962
Owl Drug Store	420
Palo's Department Store	987
Paramount Drug Store	1786
Payne's Mens Shop	3827
Poole's Music Shop	664
Puusti Hardware Co.	3125
Reed & Grimberg	788
Sea Fare Restaurant	411
Sears Roebuck & Co.	2342
Sharer's Jewelers	[illegible]
Smith's Auto Parts	1353
Steinbock's Pharmacy	[illegible]
Sunset Empire Room	2526
Thiel's Fine Foods	[illegible]
Ulaine's-Del Moore Jewelry	775
Utzinger's Book Store	[illegible]
[illegible] Shop	[illegible]
Western Auto Supply	[illegible]
[illegible]dy's Lamplighters Rest.	[illegible]
[illegible] Coffee Shop	[illegible]

OPEN FRIDAY 'TIL 9 P.M.
Reed and Grimberg
1238 COMMERCIAL FA 5-3501

BUSINESS -DIRECTORY-

YOUR HANDY GUIDE TO BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL FIRMS

APPLIANCES

Hunt TV & Appliance
TV Repair Specialists
Authorized RCA Service Headquarters
303 Marine Drive
FA 5-4947

ELECTRICIAN

Electromode HEATING
SNOW'S ELECTRIC
Telephone FA 5-2552
455 Tenth Street
Astoria, Oregon

RESTAURANTS

"ELLSWORTH THIEL'S"
FIESTA CLUB
FAMOUS FOR STEAKS
SEAFOODS — COCKTAILS
1040 Commercial FA 5-6462

MONTGOMERY WARD
CATALOG STORE
Call or Come In
OPEN 6 DAYS A WEEK
1004 Commercial
Shop by Phone
ASTORIA FA 5-361

GARDEN SUPPLIES

LYLE'S Garden Center
Your 1-Stop garden center
ALBERS "Quality-Controlled" FEEDS
288 W. Marine Dr., Astoria
2041 Roosevelt Drive IN SEASIDE

JENNIE'S CAFE
TRY OUR HOME-MADE PIES
WARRENTON

AUTO WRECKERS

PICK UP FIX UP WREXPERTS
Astoria Auto Wrecking
- Open 6 days—8 to 6
- 24-hour Service
- Towing & Parts
- Phone FA 5-4152

392 Olney Ave.
Astoria, Oregon
YOU CALL, WE'LL COME

GIFTS

GRETA'S DISTINCTIVE Gifts OF ALL KINDS
1180 Commercial, Astoria
Ph. FA 5-1771

SUPPLIES

International FARM & GARDEN
Tractors — Power Mowers
Tillers
Small Power Tools
Owen-Peeke Co.
1044 Marine Dr., Astoria
FA 5-2721

BEAUTY SALON

CALL FA 5-3867
And Look Your Loveliest
BABE NOTHWANG
AAQUA BEAUTY SALON
959 Commercial
Astoria

HOUSEWARES

Fisher Bros. Co.
The Lower Columbia's Largest, Most Complete Hardware & Gift Center
1210 Marine Drive
Astoria FA 5-5221

WHERE THERE'S PRIDE THERE'S A KIRBY—
Kirby
SALES & SERVICE
Home Demonstration Gladly
FA 5-1829 2192 Exchange
Astoria

DRUGS

"ASTORIA'S OLDEST AND NEWEST DRUG STORE"
Rx
Rexall
Owl Drug Store
12th & Commercial, Astoria
Ph. FA 5-4311

MONTGOMERY WARD
CATALOG STORE
Call or Come In
OPEN 6 DAYS A WEEK
1004 Commercial
Shop by Phone
ASTORIA FA 5-361

WELCOME TO OREGON
NO JOB TOO SMALL
Quality Tar Roof Coating and Patching
S. A. WALLULIS
1551—6th St., Astoria
FA 5-3835

Prescription Service
ED JOHNSON'S
Paramount Drug
1319 Commercial
FA 5-4541 — ASTORIA

REAL ESTATE

Swanson REALTY
Why not have fun with us when you buy or sell. Call Aubrey Hubbel, Pat Livesley or Harry Swanson.
348 — 12th
FA 5-1733

YARD GOODS

The Fabric Shop
See Our New Fall FABRICS Just Arrived
Notions
253 — 14th St.
FA 5-[illegible]

Best Buy
McCULLOCH MAC 15

Here's your "best buy" in an economy saw that's fast and dependable on even the toughest cutting jobs Full-sized 17" bar, famous McCulloch Super Mac chain as well as a host of other features make the McCulloch MAC 15 the natural choice for cutting firewood or fenceposts, clearing campsites or pruning trees. It will be your choice too, when you see it

$124.95

Only $10.00 per month On Approval of Credit

PETE'S
FARM GARDEN and PET SUPPLY
1136 MARINE DRIVE
FA 5-1919

Have Your Carpeting Beautifully Cleaned In Your Own Home
(OR PICKED UP & DELIVERED)

In a matter of a few hours, we can revive its original beauty and freshness. We use the famous Von Schrader dry-foam method. No moisture goes through to the underside to damage the pile or sizing. There is no odor. Rugs can be used the same day.

BEST-WAY
RUG & UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE CLEANERS
Russell M. Leong
OWNER
PHONE FA 5-3255

HE WHO EATZA SHAKEY'S PIZZA GETS THE HABIT!

Shakey's is a family place! The little ones have a ball along with Mom and Dad. Don't worry about baby sitters. The kids can romp around Shakey's to their heart's content.

ACROSS THE STREET FROM THE POST OFFICE IN ASTORIA

Now Is The Time to protect your shingle roof while warm weather lasts with TOUGH DURABLE TONQUIN RED
(also Natural and Weathered and other colors)
GREATLY EXTENDS ROOF LIFE
J. W. Humphries
PAINTING CONTRACTOR
Phone 861-2787—861-2258
Warrenton, Oregon

OPEN 9 A.M. — 9 P.M.
7 DAYS A WEEK
Ad Prices Good This
THURS. - FRI. - SAT.

Van Camp's Pork & Beans No. 2 Cans	7/$1
Superette Liquid Dishwashing Detergent QT.	49c
Washington Russets U.S. No. 1's Potatoes 10-Lb. Bag	49c
Fresh Cut-up Fryers	39c lb.

MARINE DRIVE Superette
FA5-4162
95 West Marine Drive

study our back-to-school fashions

Lovely new idea in sweaters — classic jacquard V-neck pullover with the surprise of flowers, bordering on the beautiful! 34-40. Under it, a mock-turtle sleeveless shell, back zipper—one of the most wearable sweaters you can own.

$12.95

DICKY
[illegible]

Wear it over a sleek pair of perfectly color-matched pants that Wandamere makes two ways for you who like fully lined flannels or you who prefer stretch with stirrups. Sizes 6-18, 5-17.

$12.95

HURRY! SALE
[illegible]
Stockings
Ends August 31

Morton's
Home Owned and Operated
LADIES and TEENAGE Sports Wear
1108 Commercial St., Astoria, Ore.

EVERY ONE A PRICE WINNER
BLUE RIBBON BARGAINS

'59 Cadillac De Ville Sedan. Full Factory Power Equipment.	$2595	'55 Pontiac Hdtp. Cpe. Auto., A.T., Radio and Heater.	$350
'62 Buick Special 4-dr Sedan. V6, Auto., Radio and Heater.	$2195	'56 Ford Tudor R&H. Overdrive.	$395
'58 Chevy Del Ray Tudor. 6-Cyl., Radio, Heater, Stick.	$945	'56 Ford Sedan A.T., R&H.	$395
'57 Ford Consul Sdn.	$400	'61 Chey Sta. Wagon A.T., R&H., P.S., P.B.	$2075
'59 Chev Sdn. Deliv. V-8, A.T., Heater, New Paint.	$1445	'54 Buick Sedan	$350

LOVELL AUTO CO.
FA 5-4052
13th and Duane
FERRY FARE PAID FOR NORTH SHORE PURCHASERS
In Long Beach See LOVELL'S USED CARS
Ole Johnson — 642-8114

BOTH SIDES OF THE RIVER — BACK IN THE HILLS — DOWNTOWN —OR IN THE BOGS, YOUR BEST BET FOR QUICK RESULTS IS A

COLUMBIA PRESS
Want Ad
TRADING POST FOR THE Lower Columbia

PRINT YOUR AD — CLIP and MAIL TODAY
(5 SHORT WORDS MAKE A LINE)

NAME ....
ADDRESS ....
CITY .... PHONE NO./s ....

The Columbia Press, 1279 Marine Drive
PLEASE ENCLOSE CASH, CHECK OR MONEY ORDER

CHOOSE THE DESIRED AD CLASSIFICATION

AIRCRAFT	78
APARTMENTS FOR RENT	26
AUCTIONS	44
AUTO INSURANCE	[illegible]
AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE	76
AUTOMOTIVE WANTED	80
AUTOS FOR SALE	8
AUTO TRUCK PARTS	75
BOATS AND MOTORS	55
BUILDING MATERIALS	41
BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES	22
CARD OF THANKS	5
COMMERCIAL RENTALS	24
EXCHANGE REAL ESTATE	38
FARM EQUIPMENT	70
FARMS AND RANCHES	36
FLORISTS	4
FOOD AND PRODUCE	[illegible]
FUEL	43
HAY AND GRAIN	[illegible]
HEAVY EQUIPMENT	72
HELP WANTED	14
HELP WANTED MEN	15
HELP WANTED WOMEN	16
HOUSES FOR RENT	29
HUNTER'S ATTENTION	9
INCOME PROPERTY	37
INSTRUCTION	19
LIVESTOCK	61
LOANS AND FINANCE	21
LOGGING EQUIPMENT	74
LOST AND FOUND	17
LOTS AND ACREAGE	35
MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE	45
MISCELLANEOUS RENTALS	23
MISCELLANEOUS WANTED	46
MOBILE HOME PARKS	31
MOBILE HOMES	32
MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT	30
MOTORCYCLES	77
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS	58
NOTICES	11
OFFICE EQUIPMENT	[illegible]
PERSONALS	7
PETS AND PET SUPPLIES	47
POULTRY AND RABBITS	68
POWER SAWS	71
REAL ESTATE	34
REAL ESTATE WANTED	33
ROOM AND BOARD	28
ROOMS FOR RENT	27
SEEDS- NURSERY STOCK	59
SPORTING GOODS	53
TIMBER AND SAWMILLS	40
TRADE MISCELLANEOUS	48
[illegible] FOR SALE	6
WANT [illegible]	[illegible]
WORK WANTED	[illegible]
WHERE TO GO	10

THREE LINES MINIMUM
ONE WEEK	50c
3 Weeks [illegible] — 6 Weeks	[illegible]
FOUR LINES
ONE WEEK	60c
3 Wks $1.20 — 6 Wks	$1.92
FIVE LINES
ONE WEEK	65c
3 Wks $1.50 — 6 Wks	$2.40
SIX LINES
ONE WEEK	90c
3 Wks $1.80 — 6 Wks	$2.88

FA5 4431

CAPT. FRED'S LOG

by Capt. Fred Lawton, Director Marine Safety, Raytheon Company & America's Cup championship sailing master.

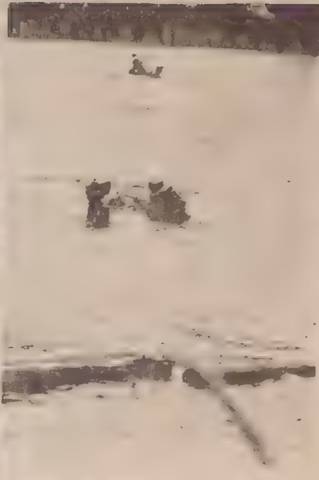
ATTACH FLASHLIGHTS (WITH GOOD BATTERIES) AND WHISTLES TO YOUR LIFE JACKETS THESE SAVED MANY LIVES DURING WORLD WAR II THEY COULD SAVE YOURS SOME DAY.

FOR THE FINEST MARINE EQUIPMENT RELY ON . . .

RADIO SERVICE
FA 5-6351
262—9th, Astoria

SAFETY MAKES A HAPPY SHIP

LIONS CLUB MEMBERS and families were responsible for the success of the SALMON BARBECUE, closing regatta festivities Sunday night. According to general chairman ERIC HAUKE, about 600 enjoyed the feast; this view of loyal salmon devotees was snapped of the eager early birds in the afternoon.



GETTING BACK ABOARD—there were spills and thrills a'plenty for the spectators of the boat program at Cullaby Lake Sunday.

The treasury's school savings program, now getting underway for the new school year, is the "junior" version of the U.S. Savings Bond program It is fundamentally an educational program to promote thrift and good personal money management among young Americans

Finnish Consul Returns To S.F. After Busy Visit

Tuure Mentula, Finnish consul general for the western U.S., left for his home headquarters in San Francisco on Monday after a busy weekend in Astoria.

Mentula's visit was arranged by William Seeborg, representative of the World Council of Oregon, in cooperation with the Finnish Brotherhood and regatta officials.

After an informal reception at the Columbia River Maritime Museum Friday afternoon, Mentula joined regatta officials as dinner guets of Commander George H. Lewis aboard the USS Burton Island, one of the Navy's regatta visitors

Highlight of the distinguished visitor's weekend was the Finnish Brotherhood grand lodge banquet Sunday night at the Cinders where Mentula was guest of honor and principal speaker. Grand lodge officers from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, including grand lodge president Walter Anderson, Astoria concluded their weekend meeting with the Sunday night banquet honoring Mentula.

Astorians To Attend AA Meet

A delegation from Astoria Central group will attend the Oregon State Conference of Alcoholics Anonymous at the Portland Hilton Aug. 31-Sept 1.

An attendance of better than 1,000 alcoholics, their families, friends and others interested in the alcoholic problem is expected. The session will include several open meetings to which the public is invited.

Of special interest to the public is a meeting scheduled Saturday afternoon at 1.30 p.m. in the Hilton ballroom. This will be the first time that an Oregon state conference meeting will include panel speakers from agencies outside AA. Non-alcoholic panel members will be : a circuit court judge, a county commissioner, a director of Christian education, a Washington State university professor, the administrator of the mental health division of the state of Oregon, and a member of the Oregon state alcohol education committee

ASTORIA'S OWN MARINERS, state champion American Legion junior drum and bugle corps, thrilled the crowd and showed what made them the Pendleton winner this year Like the ASTORIA HIGH SCHOOL BAND, who also participated in the regatta band show, the MARINERS, as host musical organizations, did not enter the competition

Open Saturday till 6 p.m.

Firestone VACATION TIME
CAR SERVICE OFFER

Are Your Tires Wearing Unevenly? Brakes Squealing? Car Pulling To Left or Right?

Get all 3 Services for only 9.95 Any American Car

For Safety's Sake Let Us...

1. Balance Both Front Wheels 4.00 Includes New Weights

2. Align Front End 8.50 Replacement parts if needed and torsion bar adjustment not included

3. Adjust Brakes and Repack Front Wheel Bearings 3.50 Plus Seals

All Work Done By Firestone Service Experts

Just say "CHARGE IT" Take months to pay

NEW TREADS
APPLIED ON SOUND TIRE BODIES OR ON YOUR OWN TIRES
WHITEWALLS—ANY SIZE
NARROW OR WIDE DESIGN TUBELESS OR TUBE-TYPE
4 FOR 49.49
Plus tax and 4 trade-in tires

Our New Treads, identified by Medallion and shop mark, are GUARANTEED
1 Against defects in workmanship and materials during life of tread.
2 Against normal road hazards (except repairable punctures) encountered in everyday passenger car use for 12 months
Replacements prorated on tread wear and based on list prices current at time of adjustment

FREE CAR SAFETY CHECK!

1052 COMMERCIAL IN ASTORIA
FA 5-6631

OPEN EVERY NIGHT TILL 6

Ken Hodgkinson Manager

We're headquarters for the SCOUT

AMERICA'S NEW
WORK and PLAY WONDER!

It's a hardtop pickup — an open air runabout — an off-road workhorse — a whole new idea in low cost transportation —costs little to buy.

costs little to buy, less to run!

MATCH YOUR PAYMENTS TO YOUR INCOME

OWEN - PEEKE CO.
1044 Marine Dr., Astoria, Ore.

The COLUMBIA PRESS CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Classified Advertising Rate:

Each Line	15c
Minimum charge	50c

Double rate charged per word on all blind ads

Card of Thanks	$1 25
Classified Disp Col In	$1 26

Classified Deadlines

Classified page closes at 2 p m Tuesday "Too Late To Classify" until 10 a m Wednesday

Legal Advertising Deadline Noon Tuesday

No information on the Classified page will be released prior to publication.

THE COLUMBIA PRESS
FA 5-4431

COWS FOR SALE — Small herd dispersal. Good Guernseys, young to old. FA 5-4074 246 S.W. Clover Lane, Astoria

SAWSMITH radial arm saw, 7 speed, almost new, with extra blades, miter, very good condition. $125. FA 5-4480

FOR SALES and Service on sewing machines and vacuum cleaners, call Singer Sewing Center, 960 Commercial, FA 5-2252 tf

LARGE Meatrola, in good condition, also good wood, and some presto logs FA 5-2685.

WE HAVE a few good reconditioned later model Maytag automatic and wringer washers Guaranteed. Washing Machine Service — Your Maytag Dealer — 147 W. Bond FA 5-6381. 35-1c

YOUNG MILK COW - Good milker — good disposition — healthy. Rt. 2, Box 110

USS ST. CLAIRE COUNTY joined [illegible] TON ISLAND and destroyer USS WATTS as official Navy visitors to the Astoria Regatta last weekend Many visitors took advantage of opportunity to see the vessels at first hand.

The last major holiday of the summer begins Friday at 6 p.m. Unfortunately, in the past, this has been anything but a holiday from traffic death on Oregon highways. Safety officials again have issued a warning to motorists

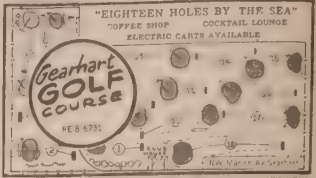
The traffic safety division of the Oregon department of motor vehicles notes that last Labor Day weekend six persons were killed and 220 were injured in 454 traffic accidents recorded during the 78-hour holiday period

FIX 'EM UP NOW FOR BACK-TO-SCHOOL

Expert Orthopedic Correctional Work

the COBBLER SHOP
1121 COMMERCIAL ASTORIA

"EIGHTEEN HOLES BY THE SEA"
COFFEE SHOP COCKTAIL LOUNGE
ELECTRIC CARTS AVAILABLE



Naselle - Grays River Valley Business Directory

Naselle Cafe
HIGHWAY 830
HOME COOKING
That Will Please You
Open 7 Days A Week
Ph. 487-2431 — Naselle, Wn.

L & M Garage
LEONARD & MILLARD
Auto Repair—Sporting Goods
Union Oil Products
Ph. HU 7-3372 — Naselle, Wn.
Open 7 Days

Naselle Auto Body
Naselle, Washington
Body and Fender Repair
Front end Alignment, Towing
Phone 487-3371

Naselle Valley Electric
Lattie and Margie Metcalf
Frigidaire Appliance Dealer
Call Us — We'll Wire You
Complete Electrical Line
Ph. 487-2362 — Naselle, Wn.

TRANSFER YOUR FUNDS TO

FIRST FEDERAL Savings and Loan Association

Where You Earn A Big

4 1/4 %

Safety of Your Savings Insured up to $10,000

Member Federal Home Loan Bank System, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Federal Savings & Loan Assn.
369-12th St. Astoria FA 5-1651

FOR YOU AT CITY LUMBER

DFPA PLYWOOD

HANDY PLANS FREE

CORNER STUDY AREA

Kids need a place of their own for work and storing things. This wall desk will satisfy that need and easily fit into almost any corner of their room.

4' x 8' Prefinished Plywood PANELING $6.72

YOUR HOME IMPROVEMENT HEADQUARTERS

CITY LUMBER COMPANY
2142 Commercial FA 5-4511

SHEEP SHOWMANSHIP with Duane Johnson judging. Judy Reed, judge's assistant, is holding the lamb, while the contestant is carding the lamb.

SHEEP JUDGING of market lambs at the 4-H Fair by Duane Johnson. Showing the lambs are Kathy Berg, who placed fourth, and Jane Jeffries with Sally Reed's lamb, which placed first as grand champion market lamb.

Knappa-Svensen

By ANNE RAMVICK

Their first trip to the west coast is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Leppe from Mentor, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hendrickson from Painsville, Ohio. They have been visiting Mrs. Leppe's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Salmi. A cousin, Leo Hill of Astoria, took them in his commercial fishing boat and Mrs. Salmi took them to lower Columbia points of interest: the Astoria Column, the canneries, and across the ferry to view the bridge construction. From here the visitors went to Richland to visit a brother of Mrs. Leppe and Mrs. Salmi and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Beedle and family visited in Winlock to attend a class reunion of her high school. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelmes Sr., parents of Mrs. Beedle brought Mrs Beedle and youngsters home on Sunday.

Lisa and Douglas Goertzen are visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vlastelicia, while their parents are away on a vacation

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bachman and family are visiting in the area from LeMoore, Calif. They visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parks.

Ready or not, school will be starting in just a few days, the day after Labor Day, and all moms are reminded that first graders must have their physical exam and bring birth certificate to school the first day, if you haven't already shown it to Mrs. Salvon, primary principal.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mattila and six of their seven children were visitors in the area this past two weeks, staying in Astoria and Warrenton with members of the family. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Mason Salisbury. They were neighbors four years ago. Daughter Caroline, who graduated from Fairbanks high school this year, is working there at Sears and entering college in a few weeks so was unable to make the trip. Before returning to Fairbanks, Alaska, the family is going to Michigan to spend two weeks with relatives

After all he's only 88, so why not try this new fangled flying stuff? St. Clair Jones, grandfather of Mrs. Mason Salisbury, took his first plane ride, a long one, from his home in Illinois to come out here to make his home with his granddaughter and family. It didn't tire him a bit so this week he's visiting in Sunset Beach with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jones, and he'll be back this weekend to look around his home town, Knappa.

There will be several young people going to the state fair from here, including Kathy Niemelin and Althea Dybvik to judge in the sewing contest Canning club members Linda Hunt, Kris Niemelin and Laura Erickson. Kris will be taking her lamb to the fair

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Posey on Aug. 11, a baby boy whom they have named Ross Edwin. He has two brothers and two sisters, Sharon, Michael, Thomas and Kay, and five grandparents. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arne Oja and Mrs. Fred Posey. His great grandparents are Mrs. Olive Darling and Mrs. Anna Kalander.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Page, their daughter Tiny from Longview and Toby Holborn went to Portland recently to see the movie "Cleopatra". Tiny will visit here until after the regatta.

Company from far-away Yorkshire, England, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bridge, are visiting their niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Art Puro. They traveled thru Yellowston and California and spent some time in Casper, Wyo. with Mr. and Mrs. James McArdle, step-father and mother of Mrs. Puro, who lived here for awhile Their visa has been extended for six months, so they plan to return to Wyoming for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Jordan and children from Tacoma visited recently at the Arthur Puro home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Flues (Sharon Crown) and their three children from Gladstone visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paul.

Russel Burnard , Issaquah, Wash , a nephew of Mrs. Paul, spent the past two weeks with them

(Continued from Page 1) The COLUMBIA PRESS

Through The Breakers

First of a series on Surf Dory Sport Fishing

By THE BEACHCOMBER

breakers of Gearhart and at Cannon Beach. Wife Carol experienced her "one trip", and son David Lee has hooked two nice chinook.

Megrath's growing business at Dave's TV in Gearhart has limited his fishing activities this season

His statement that surf dorying is safer than crossing the Columbia river bar might not hold true in all cases, as evidenced by a trip last fall when with calm seas, the boat tipped on the way in.

A constant student of the effects of wind and of the sea particularly the surf—upon his boat, Megrath's rules and guides to surf dorying are: (1) Life jackets for everyone. (2) A crew of at least four (two to handle the craft, two to assist with launching from trailer). (3) Condition of sea (as reported in height of waves and frequency by the lightship) is more important than direction or velocity of the wind, for passage through the surf. (4) Caution in calm—(ground swell of calm sea often builds to tall breakers, especially without a breeze to "top" them). (5) Cannon Beach is best launching site of north Oregon beaches (owing to the protection of shoals and rocks; also, usually good beach access). (6) Owing to changeable sea conditions, short cruises early in the day prove most profitable in fish. (7) Put out on any tidal condition—come in at high tide.

Although Megrath's original desire for salmon launched his dory fishing project, a wide variety of rock and bottom fish have helped to fill the fish box. Rock bass, black bass, ling cod, red snapper and perch have been taken

Megrath sees economic benefit to the area in the increasing popularity of surf dory fishing.

(To be continued)

(Ed. Note—We hope to talk to some of the other surf boat fishermen, and to locate information on boat design, and possibly a map or two of some of the fishing grounds before next printing of your Columbia Press-Sunset Shopper).

KATHIE TIKKA shown receiving her grand champion ribbon in Dog Obedience at the 4-H Fair from Lee Brandt, judge and professional dog trainer

—Photos by Paxton Hoag

MARY LAIRD exhibits her senior division dress in the style review at the 4-H Fair Friday night.

RUSSELL GERTULLA winning his second of three trophies at the 4-H Fair. His trophies were the Peter Plyter milk production trophy, the Knappa-Brownsmead 1962 milk production, and H-K achievement.

HAZEL PALMROSE is awarded the grand champion award at the style review by Anne Strachan, county home ec extension agent, and is modeling the coat she made

Bridge Steel Superstructure To Start In November

Installation of the superstructure of the trans-Columbia bridge should begin some time in November, according to state highway department specifications.

Painting of the components, fabricated at mills in the east, will be done at the old Vancouver, Wash. shipyard and brought downriver by barge, according to Walter Grosz, district construction manager of the American Bridge division of US Steel An Astoria office for the operation will be opened in October, Grosz stated

4-H KEEPS PACE

4-H keeps pace with the changing times by catering to city and suburban youth, in addition to the farm and small town members.

4-H Fair Finale

Dairy Showmanship, Novice. Blue - Mary Henningsen, Leslie Daly, Steven Sorenson; Red - Sherri Robitsch, Jim Samuelson, Millie Kangas, John Ramsdell; White - Layne Daly, Michael Saunders.

Dairy Showmanship, Juniors. Blue - Joann Youtsler, Alan Robitsch; Red - Joe Graves, Danny Young; White - Ronald Haynes, Mike Rogers.

Dairy Showmanship, Intermediate. Blue - Ardith Gerttula, Randy Martill, Bonnie Henningsen, Nora Wall; Red - Danny Schumacher, Muriel Saunders, Susan King, Douglas Landwehr, Jerry Robitsch, Philip Samuelson; White - Linda Norman, Marlene Haynes, Karl Magnuson, Mark Magnuson, Randy Simonsen, Dale Slanger, Raylene Stangland.

Dairy Showmanship, Seniors. Blue - Terry Martill; Red Linda Martill, Lane Graves, Wayne Johnson; White - Russell Gerttula, Hazel Palmrose, Marla Hill.

Dairy Goat Showmanship, Novice. Red - Linda Haines, Kathy Haines.

Dairy Goat Showmanship, Junior. Blue - Mike Rogers; Red - Tania Johanson

Dairy Goat Showmanship, Intermediate. Blue - Billy Herold, Nancy Rogers

Dairy Goat Showmanship, Senior. Blue - Sharon Rogers

Beef Showmanship, Novice. Rickie Lahti, David Parks, Philip Nelson, Mike Rogers; Red - Terry Leback, Steve Warila, Susan Olsen.

Beef Showmanship, Intermediate. Blue - Nancy Rogers, Nancy Wahlstrom, Cathy Berg; Red - Jon Cameron, Richard Laird.

Beef Showmanship, Seniors. Blue - Sharon Rogers.

Sheep Showmanship, Novice Blue (Champion), Donald Christensen.

Sheep Showmanship, Juniors. Blue - Mike Rogers (Champion), Bill Reed.

Sheep Showmanship, Intermediate. Blue--Nancy Rogers (Champion), Lorraine Christensen, Brad Hensel, Buster Johnson, Laura Erickson; Red- Ronald Ford, Janet Johnson, Kristina Niemelin; White--Larry Christensen, Sue Ellen Johnson, Mark Magnuson.

Sheep Showmanship, Seniors. Blue—Sally Reed (Champion), Jane Jefferis, Julieann Hensel, Sharon Rogers.

Swine Showmanship, Novice. Blue--Anti Ylipalto (Champion), Gina Maher, Jimmy Herold.

Swine Showmanship, Juniors. Blue--Mike Rogers (Champion), Bill Reed; Red--Mark Johnson, Rickie Lahti.

Swine Showmanship, Intermediate. Blue—Cathy Berg (Champion), Sterling Ficken; White—Sue Ellen Johnson.

Swine Showmanship, Seniors. Blue--Sharon Rogers (Champion), Wayne Johnson; Red--Sally Reed.

Rabbit Showmanship, Novice. White--Thalas Anderson, Linda Haines.

Rabbit Showmanship, Juniors. Red—Judy Bullis; White—Jerri Bullis, Darlene Butler.

Rabbit Showmanship, Intermediate. Blue—Tania Johanson (Champion), Diane Rodgers; Red--Craig Ramvick, Candace Forgey.

Poultry Showmanship, Novice. White--Kathy Haines.

Poultry Showmanship, Junior. Red--Coleen Gray; White--Steven Sorenson.

Poultry Showmanship, Intermediate. Red--Danny Schumacher, Tania Johanson.

Flower Arrangement Contest, Juniors. Blue Deborah Gray (Champ), Anne Schultz; Red--Coleen Gray, Thalas Anderson, Cheryl Kaartinen; White—Susan Helgerson, Elisabeth Laird.

Flower Arrangement Contest, Intermediate Blue--Gregory Wood (Champion), Tim O'Connor; Red Maren Hansen, Laura Erickson, Jennie Donaldson; White—Pam Webber.

Flower Arrangement Contest, Seniors. Blue--Imogene Slanger (Champion); Red--Hannele Ylipalto; White--Edna Gray, Jane Jefferis.

Butterfat Production Contest. First, Linda Martill; second, Judy Henningsen; third, Jerry Robitsch.

Milk Producing Contest. First, Russell Gerttula; second, Randy Martill; third, Marla Hill.

Agricultural Individual Demonstrations, Juniors. Blue—Terry Leback (Champion), Dennis Riggs, Corinne Dorvinen, Gary Fausett, Molly Ficken, Rickie Lahti, Ann Marie Young; Red--Joe Graves, Steven Sorenson, Danny Young, Karin Magnuson; White--Ronald Haynes, Alan Robitsch.

Poultry Judging Contest. Blue--Danny Schumacher, Tania Johanson; Red--Linda Haines, Kathy Haines; White--Coleen Gray

Vegetable Judging Contest. Blue--Sharon Rogers (Sr. Champ), Nancy Rogers (Int. Champ), Gary Fausett (Jr. Champ), Danny Schumacher, Jim Herold, Laura Erickson, Mike Rogers, James Vinson, Gregory Wood, Imogene Slanger; Red--Muriel Saunders, Thalas Anderson, Cheryl Kaartinen, Richard Laird, Elizabeth Laird, Tim O'Connor, Jim Samuelson, Steve Warila, [illegible] Webber, Hannele Ylipalto, Jennie Donaldson; White--Billy Herold, Michael Saunders, Susan Borders, Mary Laird, Dennis O'Connor, Jerry Robitsch, Dale Slanger, Rose Ann Sawyer, David Bartlett, Don Bartlett, Ann Pulletset.

Electricity Identification. Blue--Roble Anderson, Paxton H[illegible]

Agricultural Individual Demonstrations, Intermediate. Blue Greg Wood (Champion), Carl Stultz, Sterling Ficken, Marlene Haynes, Karl Magnuson, Pat Seloover, Janet Beveredorff; Red--Ardith Gerttula, Randy Martill, Sue Ellen Johnson, David Parks, Mark Magnuson, Becky Swanson, Nancy Rogers.

Agricultural Individual Demonstrations, Seniors. Blue--Bernice Amundsen (Champion); Red--Terry Martill, Sharon Rogers

Agricultural Team Demonstrations, Juniors. Blue--Bruce Allen, Jim Herold; Red--Michael Saunders, Muriel Saunders.

Dairy Judging Contest. Blue--Judy Henningsen (Champion), Molly Ficken, Sterling Ficken, Joe Graves, Susan King, Karin Magnuson, Hazel Palmrose, Sherri Robitsch, Joann Youtsler; Red -Ardith Gerttula, Michael [illegible], Muriel Saunders, Leslie Daly, Randy Martill, Terry Martill, [illegible] Henningsen, Douglas Landwehr, Karl Magnuson, John Ramsdell; White [illegible] Martill, Linda Norman, Danny Schumacher, Billy Herold, Marlene Haynes, Ronald Haynes, Mary Henningsen, Mark Magn[illegible] Rob[illegible], Jim Samuelson, Philip Samuelson, Randy Si[illegible] Raylene [illegible], Nora Wall, Danny Young, Alan Robit[illegible] Steve Sorenson, Russell Gerttula

[illegible] Blue -Danny Schumacher [illegible] [illegible]on), Steve Aho [illegible] [illegible] Dennis Vinson [illegible] Danny [illegible] [illegible]

(MORE NEXT WEEK

LOCK AND LOAD AT LINK'S

The Best From Europe
Mannlicher Schonauer
SPORTER TYPE — 30.06 & .308
$198

BROWNING
Safari Grade .308
$164.50

We Give S & H GREEN STAMPS

ELK TAG DEADLINE SEPT. 3

Inspect Your New Big Game Rifle at Link's — Where You'll Get the Highest Trade-In on Your Old Gun

New Model 700 REMINGTON 7 M.M. MAGNUM	$129.95
WINCHESTER MODEL 100 — .243 Cal.	155.00
WINCHESTER MODEL 100 — 30.06 Cal.	155.00
WINCHESTER MODEL 100 — .308	155.00
Winchester Mdl 760 Slide Action Gamemaster .308	115.00
.300 SAVAGE MODEL 99-E	99.95
.300 SAVAGE MODEL 99-DL	127.50
NEW RUGER .44 MAGNUM CARBINE	108.00
30-30 WINCHESTER MODEL 94	81.95

MANY NEW SPRINGFIELD'S 30.06 — .308 — .243

See the new 4X MONOSCOPE at only $29.95

HERE'S JUST A FEW OF OUR MANY USED BIG GAME RIFLES — PRICED FROM $12.50

Like New Condition — 7 M.M. MAUSER	$29.95
PERUVIAN 30.06 MAUSER	$39.95
MAUSER ARGENTINE 6.5 M.M.	$27.50

Link's SPORTING GOODS
1254 Commercial
FA 5-5931

GRAND OPENING
Saturday, August 31
SEASIDE'S NEWEST COMPLETE GARAGE

On Display
The Famous Shelby
COBRA
Powered By Ford

The new famous limited production sports roadster exclusively designed for those knowledgeable few who appreciate great automobiles. 271 HP Ford high performance engine, hand formed aluminum coachwork All-weather road equipment, full instrumentation, Tachometer, adjustable steering column, 72 spoke wire wheels with knock-off hubs, Girling disc brakes, Motor Raceway tires. First showing in Sunset Empire

FREE!
PRIZES
REFRESHMENTS
BALLOONS
GIFTS
FREE!

NOW! AUTHORIZED FORD SERVICE
COMPLETE NEW BODY SHOP

Ernie Garcia's
SEASIDE FORD
South Holladay at Ave. U
RE 8-6852

Get in on the FUN!
We are so sure you'll enjoy receiving the COLUMBIA PRESS each week- we'll return your money after the first 4 issues if not completely satisfied!

CLIP AND MAIL NOW!

— 1 year subscription in Clatsop, Wahkiakum or Pacific County, $2.50 enclosed
— 6 month subscription in Clatsop County $1.50 enclosed
— By mail outside of Clatsop County $4.00 enclosed. (Includes APO or Fleet PO for those in the service)

Name
Address

Mail or bring to COLUMBIA PRESS
Astoria, Oregon

SAFEWAY

Last Long Week End for Outdoor Fun!

VAN CAMP
PORK 'n BEANS
7 No. 2 cans $1

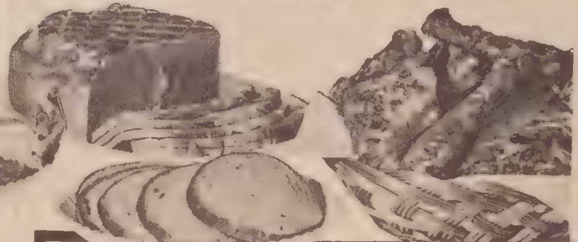
ASTORIA SAFEWAY
CLOSED LABOR DAY
Monday, September 2

Whee! Here comes the long holiday! Get ready for an extra day of fun and relaxing. Whatever you're planning—barbecue, picnic, patio party, family get-together—we've got wonderful foods to help you enjoy the holiday. Come and choose your favorites. Remember, it always pays to shop SAFEWAY!

Cookies	Busy Baker Spice, Oatmeal, Sugar, Choc. Chip. 14 oz.	3 for $1
'Burger Buns	and Coney buns Skylark Pkg. of 8	33¢
Potato Chips	Blue Bell Really crisp. 14 oz. pkg.	59¢
Oven Joy Bread	1-Lb. 6-Oz. LOAVES WHITE or WHEAT	4 for $1
Charcoal Briquets	Satellite. 20-Lb. BAG	99¢



PRICES EFFECTIVE ASTORIA SAFEWAY — THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 30, 31. WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITY.

Ice Cream	Snow Star. Vanilla, Choc., Strawberry, Neopolitan. ½ Gal.	59¢
Salad Dressing	Nu Made 24 oz. jar	39¢
Lemonade	Scotch Treat. Delicious - Economical. 6 oz.	10¢
Paper Napkins	Silk. White or Ass't'd. Pkg. of 60	5¢

SAFEWAY PRODUCE . . . ALWAYS BEST

Watermelons

Red-ripe sugar-sweet beauties.

Each . . . 47c

Cabbage	Local Grown. Head.	9c
Lettuce	Crisp Heads. Local.	2 for 29c
GRAPES	Thompson Seedless	19c lb.
Nectarines	Sugar Sweet.	3 lbs. 49c

SALAD
TOMATOES
1½-lb. TRAY
19¢

CUT-UP FRYERS

MANOR HOUSE
U.S.D.A. Grade A
Flash frozen to protect fresh flavor.
lb. 33c

Canned Picnics	Armour Star 3-lb can	$1.79
Skinless Franks	Safeway or Armour Star Fresh tasty lb.	49¢

All-Beef Franks	Safeway. 1-lb. pkg.	ea. 59c	Swiss Steak	Boneless, waste free. USDA Choice.	lb 89c
Top Round	Boneless U.S.D.A. Choice beef.	lb. 98c	Fancy Bacon	Safeway or Armour Star.	lb 69c
Canned Ham	Hormel Boneless. 3-lb. Can.	$2.49	Turkeys	Fryer-Roaster. Manor House. 4½ to 8 lbs.	lb. 45c

SAFEWAY

© COPYRIGHT 1963 SAFEWAY STORES INCORPORATED

BLUE LAKE
GREEN BEANS
TIME TO CAN OR FREEZE
10¢ lb. 15-lb. Box $1.49

More Holiday Fun Foods

Ripe Olives	Town House. Tall can.	4 for $1
Sweet Pickles	Zippy, sliced or whole. 48 oz	99c
Dill Pickles	Zippy, sliced or whole 22 oz	39c
Instant Coffee	Safeway, pure coffee. 10 oz.	99c
AA Large Eggs	Cream O' The Crop. Dozen.	49c

FLUFF-I-EST
Marshmallows
2 lb. Pkg. for 58¢

•BACK TO SCHOOL BUYS•

Ball Point Pens	Lindy. Black, Red, Blue, Green. Ea.	39c
Scotch Tape	½ inch wide Economical!	39c
3-Ring Binder	Canvas. 1 inch rings. Real buy!	49c
Filler Paper	Wide college rule. 400 count.	77c
Typing Paper	Excellent quality 200 count.	39c
Nylons	True fine lovely hose. Beige or Taupe	2 pr. $1.29

TV MOVIES

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30

9.30 a.m.—"Return to Treasure Island"—4. "Go Chase Yourself", Lucille Ball—12.

1:00 p.m. — "Underwater", Jane Russell—13.

2:30 — "So This Is New York", Rudy Vallee—2.

3:00 — "7 Guns To Mesa", Lola Albright—8.

3:30 — "Hills of Home", Edmund Gwen—5.

4:15 — "Crime of Passion", Barbara Stanwyck—6.

6:30 — "Las Vegas Story", Jane Russell—13.

7.30—"That Midnight Kiss", Mario Lanza—2.

10:00 — "Spitfire", Kathryne Hepburn—13.

11:30—"Whirlpool"—4. "Big Sky", Kirk Douglas—12.

12:00 m. — "Canyon City", Scott Brady—6.

1 00 a.m. — "Lady in the Dark", Rogers, Milland—12. "Sister Kenny", Rosalind Russell -13.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 31

1 30 p m "Room Service", Marx Bros 12

2 00 — "Dr Gillespie's New Ass't", L. Barrymore—5.

2:30 — "You Said a Mouthful"—4. "After Tonight", Gilbert Roland—13.

4:30 — TBA—2.

6:15—"Desert Passage"—13.

8·00 — "Attack Theatre" 2

9 00 — "In Love and War", Robt. Wagner—5. "Fraulein", Dana Wynter—8.

10:00 — "Seven Were Saved" Richard Denning—13.

11:00 — "Calamity Jane", Doris Day—8. "Adventure in Baltimore", Robt. Young—12.

11:15 — "Pinky"—4. "Calif. Conquest"—5. "Lust For Gold", Ida Lupino—6.

1:00 a.m. — "Mighty Joe Young", Ben Johnson—12. "Sinbad the Sailor", Doug Fairbanks Jr.—13.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 1

12:00 noon — "Our Little Girl" -4

2:00 p.m. — "Adventure in Baltimore", Robt. Young—12.

2:30 — "Jackie Robinson Story"—4. "Bugles in Afternoon"—6.

3:00 — "The Yearling", Greg Peck—5. "Trouble Along Way", John Wayne—8.

4:00 — "Thunderhead", Roddy McDowell—2.

4:30 — "Hunt the Man Down", Gig Young—13.

7:00 — "Alex G. Bell", Don Ameche—2.

8:00 — "The Unforgiven", Audrey Hepburn—4-12.

11:00 — "Caribbean", Arlene Dahl—8. "Belles on Their Toes" Jeanne Craine—12.

11:05 — "Flight Command", Robt. Taylor—5.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 2

9:30 a.m. — "As You As You Feel"—4.

1:00 p.m. — "Sinbad the Sailor", Doug Fairbanks Jr.—13.

2:30—"Swamp Water", Walter Brennan —2.

3:00—"Gentle Annie", James Craig—8.

3:30 — "Bataan", Lloyd Nolan—5.

4:15 — "Little Lord Fauntleroy", Bartholomew, Rooney—6.

10:00 — "Gangway For Tomorrow", Robt. Ryan—13.

11:30 — "House of Strangers"—4. "March Hare", Peggy Cummins—12.

1:00 a.m. — "Playmates", Peter Lind Hayes—13.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3

9·30 a.m. — "Top of the World"—4. Morning movie—12

1:00 p.m. — "Sister Kenny", Rosalind Russel—13.

2:30 — "Ghost and Mrs. Muir", Rex Harrison—2

3:00 — "Keep Your Powder Dry", Lana Turner—8.

3:30 — "Young Tom Edison", Mickey Rooney—5.

4:15—"Ride the Pink Horse", Robt. Montgomery 6.

10:00 — "Mr. Lucky", Cary Grant—13.

11:30 — "He Walked By Night"—4.

1:00 a.m. — "Geronimo".—Preston Foster -12. "Annabel Takes a Tour", Lucille Ball—13.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4

9 30 a.m. — "Sea Wife"—4.

10:00 — Morning movie—12.

1:00 p.m. — "New Faces of 1937", Milton Berle—13.

2:30 — "Wake Up and Dream", John Wayne—2.

3 00 "Lord Jeff", Bartholomew, Rooney—8.

3:30 — "Vanishing Virginian", Frank Morgan—5.

4:15 — "Margie", Jeanne Crain—6.

6:30 — "Romance in Manhattan", Ginger Rogers—13.

7:30 — "Western Union", Randolph Scott—2.

10:00 — "Passport to Destiny", Elsa Lanchester—13.

11:30 — "Above and Beyond"—4. "Saigon", Alan Ladd —12.

1:00 a.m. — "Mother Wore Tights", Dan Dailey—12. "Old Man Rhythm", Betty Grable—13.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5

9:30 a.m.—"Cattle Empire", —4. Morning movie—12.

1:00 p.m. — "Romance in Manhattan", Ginger Rogers—13.

2:30 — "Personal Affair", Gene Tierney—2.

3:00 — "Untamed Heiress", Judy Canova—8.

3:30 — "Gaslight". Part I. Boyer, Bergman—5.

4:15 — "A Man Alone", Ray Milland—6.

7:30 — "Hotel Berlin", Faye Emerson—2.

10:00 — "Panama Lady", Lucille Ball—13.

11:15 — "Forbidden Games", Brigette Fossey—6.

11:30 — "99 River Street"—4.

1:00 a.m. — "Gov't Girl", Olivia de Haviland—12. "Valley of Sun", Lucille Ball—13.

TV HIGHLIGHTS

Friday, August 30, 10:30 p.m — PORTRAIT—Governor Hatfield, nationally interviewed from his Salem home by Chas. Collingwood, on 6.

Monday, September 2, 7:30 p.m. — AMERICAN REVOLUTION '63—A three-hour comprehensive examination of the civil rights issue Frank McGee is anchorman, on 5-8.

Tuesday, September 3, 10:30 p.m. — GREAT STARS OF HOLLYWOOD — Henry Fonda narrates this colorful look at Wm S Hart, Clark Gable, Mary Pickford, Marilyn Monroe and Humphrey Bogart, on 6.

TV BASEBALL

Saturday, August 31, 10:15 a.m.—St. Louis Cardinals vs. Philadelphia on 6. 10:30 a.m. Cincinnati Reds vs. Pittsburgh Pirates, on 5-8.

Sunday, September 1, 10:45 a.m.—N.Y. Yankees vs. Baltimore Orioles, on 6.

Tuesday, September 3, 8:00 p.m.—Portland Beavers (last home game) vs. Spokane Indians, on 2.

Warrenton-Hammond

By MRS. ARMAS JOHNSON
Your subscription appreciated

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Warrenton, were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dahl, The Dalles, and their granddaughter, Miss Bess Williams, Baker.

The junior class of the Warrenton First Baptist church held their wiener roast last weekend at the beach. The wiener roast turned into a progressive dinner type party when the weather became too blustery at the beach. The group completed their outing by a hike around Coffenbury lake.

Monday evening was the scene of a personally conducted tour for the district 30 school board of the new addition to their high school. The tour was conducted by Ed Henderickson, construction superintendent for the project. The new gymnasium-auditorium addition will have a 40-foot wide stage which will be a most welcome addition.

Miss Susan Shaw, Arcadia, Calif., recently visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Don Shaw.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Simonsen, West Lynn, welcomed a new baby boy, Michael Robert, born Aug. 11.

Miss Marion Gay Stocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stocker, recently joined the WACs. Miss Stocker is stationed at Fort McCleanan Ala. After finishing her basic training she will attend the public relations and information specialists' school

Miss Robin Gay Cadby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cadby, Hammond, was married to Leonard G. Breen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Breen, Rainier. The ceremony was held at the Methodist church in Seaside. The Rev. Wm. Hoffhines officiated at the ceremony. Mrs Douglas Dunaway, Astoria, sang "The Wedding Prayer", accompanied by Harold Withnell. The reception was held in the church

The couple will reside in Salem after their wedding trip to San Juan Islands and Seattle

KAST - 1370 KC
1000 Watts — Full Time

MONDAY Thru FRIDAY
AM
6:00 News, MBS
6:05 Early Birds
6:30 News, MBS
6:35 Early Birds
6:55 Weather
7:00 Hemingway News, ABC
7:15 Local News
7:20 Early Birds
7:30 UPI Headlines
7:32 Bowling
7:40 Early Birds
7:55 Local News
8:00 West Coast News, ABC
8:10 Early Birds
8:30 News, MBS
8:35 Early Birds
8:55 Daily Reminder
9:10 Breakfast Club ABC
9:55 News MBS
10:00 NW News Weather
10:15 Calls For Cash
10:30 Top O' the Morning
10:45 Trading Post
10:55 News, ABC
11:00 Top O' Morning
11:30 News
11:35 Top O' Morning
PM
12:00 Noon News
12:15 Farm Time—M-W-F Music T-T
12:30 UPI Headlines
12:35 Powerland Stories
12:45 Paul Harvey ABC
1:00 KASTing Around
[illegible] News MBS
[illegible] Hi Neighbor
[illegible] KASTing Around
[illegible] News MBS
[illegible] KASTing Around
[illegible] KASTing Around
[illegible] News-Weather
[illegible] KASTing Around
[illegible] News MBS
[illegible] KASTing Around
[illegible] Fulton Lewis Jr MBS
[illegible] Music in Modern Mood
[illegible] News MBS
[illegible] Music in Modern Mood
[illegible] News Parade Nat NW
[illegible]
[illegible] Music in Modern Mood
[illegible] Hans Weaver Sports
[illegible] News
[illegible] Weatherman
[illegible] Music
[illegible]
[illegible] News MBS
7:05 Platter Party
9:30 News, MBS
9:35 World Today MBS
10:00 Music til Midnight News on hour and ½-hour
12:00 Sign Off

SATURDAYS
AM
6:00 News, MBS
6:15 Early Birds
6:30 News, MBS
6:35 Early Birds
6:55 Weather
7:00 News, MBS
7:05 Early Birds
7:30 News, MBS
7:35 Bowling
7:40 Early Birds
7:55 Local News
8:00 News, MBS
8:05 Early Birds
8:30 News, MBS
8:35 Early Birds
8:55 Daily Reminder
9:00 Morning Melodies
9:30 News, ABC
9:35 Morning Melodies
10:00 NW News-Weather
10:15 Music
10:30 Weekend West, ABC
10:35 Music
11:00 News MBS
11:05 Music
11:30 Weekend West, ABC
11:35 Music
PM
12:00 Noon News
12:15 Saturday Music
12:30 Weekend West ABC
12:35 Music
12:45 Paul Harvey, ABC
1:00 News, MBS
1:05 Saturday Music
1:30 Weekend West, ABC
1:35 Saturday Music
2:00 Local News-Weather
2:05 Saturday Music
2:30 Weekend West, ABC
2:35 Saturday Music
3:00 Local News Weather
3:05 Saturday Music
3:30 Weekend West ABC
3:35 Saturday Music
4:00 News MBS
4:05 Music
4:30 Weekend West, ABC
4:35 Music
5:00 News, MBS
5:05 Music
5:30 News MBS
5:35 Music
6:00 News, MBS
6:05 Music
6:30 News, MBS
6:35 Music
7:00 Platter Party
9:30 News, MBS
9:35 Music til Midnight, News on hour and ½-hour
12:00 Sign Off

SUNDAYS
AM
7:00 News
7:05 Religious Music
8:00 Wings of Healing, MBS
8:30 News, MBS
8:35 Back to God, MBS
9:00 Voice of Prophecy, MBS
9:30 Music
10:00 News, MBS
10:15 Bible Speaks, MBS
10:30 Frank & Ernest, MBS
10:45 KAST Hymn Time
PM
12:00 News, MBS
12:05 Sunday Melodies
12:30 News, MBS
12:35 Sunday Melodies
1:00 News, MBS
1:05 Sunday Melodies
1:30 News, MBS
1:35 Sunday Melodies
2:30 News, MBS
2:35 Sunday Melodies
3:30 News, MBS
3:35 Music
4:00 Music and Prayer
4:30 News, MBS
4:35 Music
5:00 News, MBS
5:05 Herald of Truth, MBS
5:30 Lutheran Hour, MBS
6:00 Billy Graham, MBS
6:30 News, MBS
6:35 Cracker Barrel
7:00 Sacred Heart
7:30 Music
8:00 Layman Hour
8:30 News, MBS
8:35 Music
9:00 Music
9:30 News, MBS
9:35 Music
10:00 Protestant Hour
10:30 Wings of Healing
11:00 Music till Midnight
12:00 Sign Off

SAFE DRIVERS SAVE WITH SAFECO
Safeco's careful, "Preferred Risk" drivers earn lower rates. Call us today for full details!
SAVE WITH SAFECO
SAVE WITH
McNEELEY AGENCY
Phone FA 54451—Insurance, Property Management & Real Estate
254—Eleventh St., Astoria, Oregon

Trade at Home Where Your Money Benefits You!
BUY IN ASTORIA • BUY IN ASTORIA • BUY IN ASTORIA

It Pays to Buy where You Live
Columbia Oil Company
Telephone FA 5-4421
Fifth and Marine Dr.

Johnson Motor Company
Pontiac, GMC and Rambler, Sales & Service
1023 Exchange St.

Abrahamsen Company
Plumbing, Heating & Heating
1062 Marine Dr.

Lovell Auto Company
Chevrolet, Buick & Cadillac, Sales & Service
426 Fourteenth St.

COMPLETE TELEVISION PROGRAMS AUGUST 30 THROUGH SEPTEMBER 5

Channel 2 is on Cable 10—Chan. 4 is on 4—Chan. 6 is on 2—Chan. 8 is on 8

Friday

EVENING

6 00 Expedition 2
Dateline 4
Stan Boreson Show 5
Cartoon Castle 12
Sports Spec 13
6 15 News 6-8
6 30 Bowling-4
Ann Sothern 2
M-Squad 6
Huntley Brinkley 5
True Adventure 8
Enco reporter 12
Movie 13
6 35 News Central 12
6 45 Early Edition-5
Cochran News 12
7 00 Groucho Marx 2
Third Man 5
Death Valley Days-6
Detectives 8
Dead or Alive—12
7 30 Major Preview 2
Cheyenne—4-12
Internat Show 8
Rawhide—6
7 45 Dawn Olson-13
8 30 Sing with Mitch—5-8
Flintstones—4-12
Route 66 6
[illegible] 13
9 00 Navy—13
Dickens-Fenster 4-12
9 30 Bold Journey 2
77 Sunset Strip—4-12
Price is Right 5-8
Halls of Ivy—13
Alfred Hitchcock-6
10 00 News 2
Movie 13
Jack Paar 5 8
10 30 Steve Allen 2
One Step Beyond 4
Portrait 6
Peter Gunn—12
11.00 News—4-5-8-12-6
11:15 Portland Wrestling-6
11:30 News-2
Johnny Carson—5-8
Movie—4-12
Outdoor Sports—13
12.00 Midnight Movie-6
N Y. Confidential-13
12:30 Four Just Men-13
1:00 Movie—12-13

Saturday

DAYTIME

6:45 Prayer and Hymn—8
6 55 News 8
7:00 Town Country—8
7:30 RFD 6 -6
Wunda Wunda-8
7·45 Faith—4
7:55 Farm Report—4
8:00 Televenture Tales-5
Cartoon Time-6
8:10 News —4
8:15 Amer at Work—4
8 20 Cartoons—8
8:30 Across Fence—4
Robin Hood—12
Sky King-6
Ruff & Reddy—5-8
9:00 Adventure—4
Shari Lewis—5-8
Capt. Kangaroo-6
Oregon Traveler—12
9:15 Amer at Work—12
9:30 Danger Zone—12
King Leonardo—5-8
Johnny At Fair—4
Fury—5-8
Alvin Show—6
TV Show of Homes-12
10:30 Baseball -5
Youth In Music—4
Danny Thomas—8
Red Dunning—8
10·45 Baseball—6
11:00 Cartoons—4-12
OMSI—8
11·30 Cecil & Beany—4-12
Merry-G-Round—8
12:00 Bugs Bunny-4-12
Sat Serial—8
Cartoon Capers—12
12:30 Magic Land—4-12
12:45 Lyle Baker Report—12
1 00 My Friend Flicka—4
Baseball 8
1 15 Industry—5
1 30 Lone Ranger—4
2 00 Insight—4
[illegible] 5
[illegible] 6
Comedy Classic—12
Forecast—13
2 30 Movie 4
Burns & Allen—5
Wrestling—12
Movie—13
S F Wrestling 12
3 00 Movie—5
Mighty Mouse—6
[illegible]boat—12
[illegible] 2
[illegible] News—2
Rin Tin Tin—6
[illegible] K 2 Sports -2
Hong Kong [illegible]
Burns & Allen—5
Dick Tracy—8
Roy Rogers—6
Roller Derby—12
Sea War—13
4 30 Of Thee I Sing—2
Cimmaron City—12
Sat Serial—5
Sky King 6
[illegible]playhouse—8
[illegible]
5 00 [illegible] Earth -2
World Sports -4 12
Bowery Boys—5
Holiday 13
Five Fingers—6
5 30 Key to Wonderland—2
Young World—13

EVENING

6 00 N W Dance Fest —5
Man Cochise—6
News Beat-8
Cartoons—13
6 15 Western—13
6 30 View-Point-4
Lone Ranger—2
Weekend News—5
Federal Man-6
Adv. Paradise—8
Treasure—12
7:00 Hopalong Cassidy—2
Fight of Week—4-12
M-Squad—5
Highway Patrol-6
7.30 Sam Benedict—5-8
Lucy-Desi—6
Theatre—13
7:45 Make Spare—4-12
8:00 Attack Theatre—2
M Squad—5
Tombstone Terr.—12
Evergreen Jubilee—4
New Horizons—13
8:30 Joey Bishop Show-5-8
Defenders 6
Hootenanny—4-12
This is the Life—13
9:00 Movie—5-8
Topic—13
Lawrence Welk—4
9:30 Have Gun—6
9:30 Science Fiction—2
Science—13
10:00 Gallant Men—4-12
Hooten Anny—4-12
Gunsmoke—6
Movie—13
11:00 News—2-4-6
Movie—12
11:10 W E Digest 5
11:15 Movie—4-5-6
11·30 Movie—8
Last Mohicans—13
12:00 Wrestling—13
1:00 Movie—12-13

Sunday

DAYTIME

7:15 Prayer and Hymn-8
7:25 News—8
7:30 Religious Town Hall-8
Town & Country—8
8:00 Note of Faith—4
Cuba Telecourse—5
Lamp Unto Feet—6
Wunda Wunda—8
8:10 Farm Report—4
8:20 Daily Thought—4
8 30 Social Security—4
Davey & Goliath—5
Look Up Live 6
Herald of Truth —12
8 45 Accent-4
Dean's Desk-5
8 50 Mahalia Jackson—8
9 00 Hour St Francis—4
Camera —3-6
Workshop—5
Cuba —8
Oral Roberts -12
9 30 Down To Earth—4
Wash Report—6
Ore Driver—8
Gospel Favorites—12
10.00 Faith For Today—4
This Is Life 6
Sound of Bible—8
10 15 Think Oregon-8
10 30 Front Faith—5
New in School—4
Christophers 6
Front Faith—8
Bible Class 12
10 45 Baseball 6
11 00 Frontiers Science—4
11 00 Window on World—5
Christophers—6
Navy—12
To Health—8
Man & Tragedy 8
11 30 Open End—5
Intro. To Poetry—4
Man & Tragedy—8
Playhouse -12
12 00 Televenture—8
4th Ave Theatre—4
Burns & Allen—12
12 30 Mental Health—8
Show of Homes—12
1 00 Challenge Books—8
1 15 Industry—5
1.30 Lone Ranger—4
This Is Life—5
Sir Francis Drake—6
Perspectives—8
Danger Zone 12
2 00 Faith For Today—6
People Are Funny 4
Chicago Music 5
World Report—8
Matinee—12
2·18 Meditation—2
2:30 K2 News—2
Matinee—4
Armchair Theatre—6
Viewpoint—8
3:00 Altars Faith—2
Movie—8-12
3·30 Univ TV—2
Movie—4-5
Oral Roberts -13
4:00 Movie—2
Issues Answers—4
Movie—5
Navy Log—12
A.A. Allen-13
4:30 Air Power—12
Hansel Gretel—4
Let's Face It—6
Movie-13
5:00 Major Adams—4
What's Story—5
The Texan—6
Brotherhood—8
Bourbon St.—12
5:30 Our Miss Brooks—2
Lone Ranger—4
Bullwinkle—5-8
Amateur Hour—6

EVENING

6:00 Challenge—2-4
You Asked For It—12
Meet the Press—5-8
20th Century—6
Almanac—13
Insight—13
6:30 College Opinion—2
Sunday Report—5-8
Mister Go—6
Probe—4
Checkmate—12
Dan Smoot-13
6:45 Manion Forum—13
7:00 Show—2
Kingdom of Sea—4
Ensign O'Toole—5-8
Lassie-6
Davey & Goliath—13
7:15 Christophers—13
7:30 Jetsons—4-12
Dennis Menace—6
Walt Disney-5-8
Hour St Francis—13
8 00 Movie 4 12
Ed Sullivan—6
Church in Home—13
8 30 Divorce Court 2
Movie 4-12
Achievement 13
Car 54—5-8
9 00 Of Thee I Sing 2
Bonanza—5 8
Jo Stafford 6
Dawn Bible—13
9 30 Am Wants Know—2
True Theatre-6
Sacred Heart 13
9 45 Rosary—13
10 00 Dan Smoot 2
DuPont Show 5 8
Candid Camera 6
10 15 Manion Forum 2
10 30 Lyle Baker—2
ABC News 4 12
What's My Line-8
11 00 News [illegible] 4 5 6
Movie 8 12
11 05 Movie—5
11 15 Thriller 4
Restless Gun-6
12 15 Story of 4

Mon. thru Fri.

DAYTIME

MON. THRU FRI.-DAYTIME
5 45 Prayer and Hymn-8
5 55 Town and Country-8
6 00 Atomic Physics—5-8
6 30 American Govt. -5-8
Biography—5-8
6:55 A Note of Faith- 4
7 00 Today—5-8
American Economy-6
7 05 Farm Report- 4
7·20 Thought For a Day-4
7 25 Almanac- 8
Telcourse (M-T-W-) 12
Breadbasket (F)—12
Agriscope (Thur)—12
News Headlines- 4
7:30 Spanish M. W. F.—4
To Earth (Tue.)—4
School (Thur.)—4
Cartoons—12
Weather Forecast- 6
Today—8
7:35 Cartoon Time—6
7·45 Dr Zoom Cartoons—12
8·00 Study Italian (M)—4
Making Music (T)—4
Quest (Wed)—4
Seekers (Thur.)—4
Telescope- 5
Captain Kangaroo- 6
Cartooner Club—8
8 15 King & Odie—12
8:30 Teeny Clown—4
Telescope-8
Romper Room—12
8:45 Heckle Jeckle—4
9:00 Jack LaLanne—4
Say When-5
Mike Wallace News—6
9:25 NBC News- 5 -8
I Love Lucy—6
Mid-Morning News-12
9:30 Movie—4
Play Hunch—5-8
Movie (Ex. Wed.)—12
Port. Panor. (W.)—12
10:00 Price is Right -5-8
Movie (W. only)—12
The McCoys- 6
10:30 Concentration—5-8
Pete and Gladys- 6
11:00 People's Choice—4
TV Bingo—12
First Impression—5-8
Love of Life-6
Short Shows—13
11:30 Seven Keys—4-12
Truth or Consequ.-5-8
Search Tomorrow—6
Kartoons—13
11:45 Guiding Light—6
11 55 NBC News—8
12.00 Ernie Ford—4-12
Movie—2
People Will Talk—8
Wunda Wunda—5
News 6
[illegible] Taylor 13
12 05 Hi. Neighbor-6
12 15 News Break—13
12 25 NBC News—5-8
12 30 The Doctors—5-8
12 30 Father Knows Best-4 12
As the World Turns-6
1·00 General Hospital-4-12
Loretta Young -5-8
Koin Kitchen -6
Life of Riley—12
Movie—13
1 15 Meditation -2
1 30 People's Choice—4
Almanac—2
You Don't Say—5-8
House Party-6
Girl Talk 12
2 00 Day in Court—4-12
Match Game 5- 8
To Tell Truth 6
2 25 Midday Report-4-5-12
NBC News-8
2 30 Jane Wyman—4 12
Matinee 2
Danny Thomas—5-8
Edge of Night -6
2 55 NBC News-8
3 00 Queen for a Day-4-12
Kings Queen—5
Secret Storm-6
Matinee-8
Topics—13
3 25 Mahalia Jackson -5
3 30 Who You Trust—4-12
Movie—5
Password 6
Kartoonsville—13
3 55 News—2
4 00 Cartoonival—2
Bandstand—4-12
Cartoon Circus-6
Elwood & Bozo—13
4:15 Early Show—6
4:30 Rusty Nails—2
Discovery—4-12
Cartoon Corral-8
4·30 Program—13
4:55 Am Newstand—4-12
5:00 Superman—2
Angel or Clutch—8
Captain Puget—4
Stan Boreson—5
Western—13
Three Stooges —12
5:15 Sgt Bilko-8
5:30 Mickey Mouse Club-2
Ann Sothern—4
5:30 Popeye Cartoons—12
5:55 Lifeline-13

Monday

EVENING

6:00 Expedition—2
Date Line—4
Yogi Bear—5
Newscene—6
Rifleman—12
Passport Danger—13
6:15 Cochran News—4
Huntley- Brinkley-8
6.30 Biography—4
Ann Sothern—2
Huntley Brinkley-5
Cronkite News—6
Quick Draw-8
News Central—12
Best of Post—13
6:45 Early Edition-5
6:45 Ron Cochran News-12
7:00 Groucho—2-4
Sgt. Bilko-5
Lawman—12
Trails West—6
Bachelor Father—8
Harbor Command—13
Lawman—12
7·30 Wrestling—2
Dakotas—4-12
Movie—5-8
To Tell Truth—6
Four Just Men—13
8:00 I've Got a Secret-6
Sports Special—13
8 30 Bowling 2
Furry Films 4 12
Vacation Theatre—6
Bold Venture—13
9·00 Stoney Burke—4-12
Comedy Hour -6
Favorite Stories—13
9 30 Bold Journey—2
Art Linkletter—5
Big Picture—13
10:00 News Special-2
Ben Casey—4-12
D Brinkley—5-8
Movie 13
10 30—Steve Allen 2
Outdoor Sportsman-5
Stump the Stars—6
Heck Harper -8
11 00 News Final—4-6-8-12
World Today—5
11 15 Flying Doctor—6
11.30 News Extra-2
Movie 4-12
Johnny Carson-5-8
Pageant—13
12 00 Sweet Success—13
12 30 Marlin Kane—13
1 00 Movie—12-13

EVENING

Tuesday

6 00 Expedition—2
Dateline —4
Touch'e Turtle-5
Newscene—6
Rifleman—12
Corliss Archer—13
6 15 Cochran News—4
6 30 People are funny-4
Ann Sothern—2
Huntley-Brinkley—5
Cronkite News—6
Yogi Bear-8
News Central 12
Sports 13
6 45 Cochran News 12
Early Edition-5
7:00 Groucho Marx-2
Expedition—4
Hennesey-5
Hong Kong—6
Wyatt Earp-8
Lawman—12
7:30 Bold Journey—2
Combat—4-12
Laramie-5-8
Men With Mission—13
8:00 Lloyd Bridge Show—8
Beaver Baseball—2
Rough Riders—13
8:30 Hawaiian Eye—4-12
Empire—5-8
Live Wrestling-13
Talent Scouts—6
9:00 Doug Baker—2
9.30 Bold Journey—2
Untouchables -4-12
Dick Powell—5-8
Picture This—6
This Man Dawson—13
10:00 Gr. Stars Hlwd —6
Movie-13
10:30 News—2
Focus on America—4
Report From—5-8
High & Wild—12
11:00 News Final—4-6-8-12
Steve Allen—2
World Today-5
11:10 KPTV News Final—12
11:15 Happy Time-6
11:30 News-2
Movie—4-12
Johnny Carson—5-8
Johnny Staccato—6
12 00 Ladies' Day—13
12.30 Interpol—13
1:00 Movie—12-13

Wednesday

EVENING

5:45 News—6
6:00 Expedition—2
Dateline—4
Quick Draw Mg.—5
Newscene -6
Men of Annapolis—13
Rifleman—12
6:15 Cochran News—4
6 30 Frontier Circus—4
Huntley Brinkley 5
Cronkite News -6
Outdoor Sportsman-8
News Central 12
Ann Sothern—2
Movie 13
6:45 Early Edition-5
6 45 Cochran News 12
7 00 Groucho Marx 2
Death Valley Days 5
Across 7 Seas 8
Ripcord 6
Lawman 12
7.30 Movie—2
CBS Reports - 6
Wagon Train—4-12
The Virginians—5-8
8 00 Theatre—13
8 30 Going My Way 4 12
[illegible] 6
Three Lives—13
9 00 Kraft Theatre 5 8
Be[illegible] Hillbillies 6
Unexpected—13
9 30 Dick Van Dyke—6
Bold Journey 2
Man Higgins—4-12
Showcase—13
News 2
10.00 Naked City—4
11th Hour —5-8
Reckoning—6
Tomorrow Strength 12
Movie 13
10 30 Steve Allen—2
11 00 News Final 4-6-8-12
World Today-5
11 15 Wrestling —6
11 30 News 2
4-Most Movie—4-12
Civ Rights Mar —5-8
11 45 Western Theatre—13
12 00 Johnny Carson—5-8
1:00 Movie—12-13

Thursday

EVENING

6:00 Expedition—2
Dateline—4
Huckleberry Hound-8
Newscene—6
Boston Blackie—13
Rifleman—12
6:15 Cochran News—4
Huntley Brinkley —8
6:30 Bold Journey-4
Ann Sothern—2
Huntley Brinkley 5
Cronkite News -6
Huck Hound-8
News Central 12
Passport Danger 13
6.45 Early Edition 5
Ron Cochran—12
7:00 Groucho Marx—2
Seven Seas—4
Hootenanny 5
Dragnet- 6
Rebel-8
Lawman—12
McKenzie Raiders—13
7:30 Show-2
Ozzie & Harriet-4-12
Wide Country—5-8
Fair Exchange—6
Mr Dist. Atty —13
8:00 Donna Reed-4-12
Perry Mason—6
Hunt and Fish—13
8:30 Leave to Beaver—4-12
Dr Kildare—5-8
9:00 The Deputy —2
My Three Sons—4-12
Chicago Wrestling-13
Twilight Zone-6
9:30 Bold Journey—2
McHales Navy —4-12
Lively Ones—5-8
10:00 K-2 News Special-2
Nurses-6
The Circus—5-8
Prem. Theatre—4-12
Movie-13
10:30 Steve Allen-2
11:00 News Final-4 6-8-12
World Today 5
11:15 Movie—6
11:30 News-2
Movie—4
Champ. Wrestling—12
11:30 Comedy—13
1:00 Movie—12 13

Brownsmead

By ANNA SARKIE
Your Subscription Appreciated

Plans for the annual Brownsmead community and grange corn feed are well underway with the day set for Sept. 21 (Saturday). Mrs. Roy Salmi, general chairman, has called two meetings so far and has appointed her chairmen and assistants. Mrs. Ida Olsen, chairman of homemade breads; homemade pies, Mrs. Willie Saranpaa and Mrs. Joel Sarkie; potatoes, Mrs. Elva Olsen; salad, Mrs. Howard Fowser; dining room, Mrs. Richard Sorensen and Mrs. Sertus Moore; kitchen, Mrs. Fowser; publicity, Mrs. Sorensen and Mrs. Sarkie; corn cooking, Roy Salmi, Leonard Allen, Murl Klindt and H. O McEntire.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fish held a Barendse family picnic at their home last Saturday evening. Special guests were her cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stout of Detroit, Michigan, who spent the weekend with the Fishes; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hamer of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Campbell of Eugene.

Visiting Brownsmead last Sunday were the former pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church, Pastor and Mrs Thomas C. Kangas and children of Minnesota.

Milton Spaulding and daughter Marion of Costa Mesa, Calif. spent five days as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Allen. He is Mrs. Allen's brother-in-law.

Peter Barendse and daughter Bessie spent last week in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Cye Laugesen of Portland spent Monday visiting her sister, Mrs. Ida Olsen.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sarkie and family were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cole of Longview.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Beckwith spent Friday until Sunday in Pomeroy, Wash. visiting his brother, Mr. and Mrs. John Beckwith. Returning home with them was their son Jimmie who has spent the summer there.

Visiting Mrs. Fred Rudat Sr. for several days last week were her grandchildren, Mrs. Gregory Moore of Portland and Shelley and Jeff Moore of Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Milius of Denver, Iowa visited her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buckner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Saunders were visited by her mother, Mrs. Romey Hager of Spokane and Mr. and Mrs Pius Hager and children of Yakima.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Sahlin of San Selmo, Calif and Mrs. R. E. Hall of Portland arrived on Tuesday to spend 12 days with Mr and Mrs. Hugo Henrys. Miss Nadine Sahlin will join them on Saturday.

The Lutheran church women of Immanuel Lutheran church met last week at the home of Mrs. Verne Vinson. The LCW gave a memorial to the Ella Simonsen memorial fund Next meeting will be with Mrs. Reine Walbom with Mary Deckeback giving the lesson

J. W. Ward of Portland spent several days last week with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gertulla and family.

Arriving here last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore and son Richard of Vista, Calif. to spend several weeks with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sertus Moore.

PP&L URGES AREA IRRIGATORS USE CAUTION

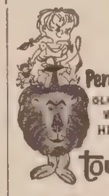
Irrigators are being cautioned to exercise care in moving metal pipes or sprinkler equipment in the vicinity of electric power lines.

Irrigation system pipes should never be upended when near power lines. Power in overhead lines crossing the fields should be turned off or the equipment dismantled so it will not brush against or be entangled in live electric service lines, according to the Pacific Power & Light company.

Another source of hazard is the electric motor which powers the irrigation pressure pump, it was stated. Motors must be properly grounded.

You Name It
We'll Print It
THE COLUMBIA PRESS
1279 Marine Drive
Astoria, Oregon

Floyd Reith & Sons
INSURANCE and REAL ESTATE
Phone FA 5-8211
750 Marine Dr. Astoria, Oregon



Permaglas GLASS-LINED WATER HEATERS are TOUGH!

Don't trust an ordinary water heater ... with an ordinary glass lining ... to stand up under the increased hot water demands of modern living. Be sure your next one is a genuine PERMAGLAS, made by A. O. Smith, world's largest manufacturer of glass-lined water heaters.
ABRAHAMSEN COMPANY
1062 Marine Drive
Phone FA 5-2821

Hildebrand's
FRIGIDAIRE APPLIANCES and FURNITURE
1033 Commercial St., Astoria, Ore.

BUILDERS SUPPLY COMPANY
ASTORIA'S ONE-STOP CENTER FOR BUILDING SUPPLIES
1777 Marine Drive, Astoria
Phone FA 5-3611

GENERAL HOME REPAIRS
CEMENT WORK — CABINETS
BEN IVARIE
175 Willow Lane, Astoria
FA 5-2101

Insurance
In Dependable Companies For All Purposes
VERNE STRATTON
1145 Commercial, Astoria, Oregon

Washing Machine Service Co.
30 Years Experience in Maytag Sales and Service
147 W. Bond FA 5-6381

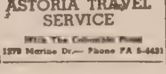
Farmers Ins. Group
R. L. Graves
Astoria District Manager
Phones: Office FA 5-0591, Home: FA 5-0853
1268 Commercial St. Astoria, Ore.

Utzinger's Book Store
Stationery and Office Supplies
Books & Greeting Cards
1232 Commercial — FA 5-2781

Glass Shop
Frank Thorsness, owner
1285 Marine Drive, Astoria, Oregon

Van Dusen Agency
OREGON'S FIRST INSURANCE AGENCY
Phone FA 5-2051
374 Tenth St. Astoria, Oregon

European Travel
CHAS. WIRKKALA
BY AIR OR STEAMER



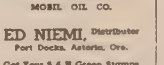
ASTORIA TRAVEL SERVICE
With The Columbia Press
1279 Marine Dr.— Phone FA 5-4431

Retirement & Nursing Home Facilities
Homelike Care in a Christian Atmosphere
Single, Double, Two Bed And Ward Accommodations
Steam Heated, Comfortable, Modern Rooms
For Rates, Write or Call:
ELMER BLOMQUIST, administrator
Phone FA 5-5311
Columbia Hospital
16th at Franklin, Astoria, Ore.

Loop-Jacobsen, Jwlrs.
MOVED
TO 1300 COMMERCIAL
(Across from J. C. Penneys)
BUSINESS AS USUAL
PHONE FA 5-6101

Hallaux Paint Store
"Lower Columbia's Biggest Wallpaper Stock"
129—14th St. Astoria, Oregon

Heating Oil
TELEPHONE FA 5-1872



HEATING OIL
MOBIL OIL CO.
ED NIEMI, Distributor
Port Docks, Astoria, Ore.
Get Your S & H Green Stamps With Your Heating Oil

Shaner's Jewelry
BULOVA, HAMILTON & LONGINES WATCHES, WITTNAUER Cameras DIAMONDS and STERLING
WESLEY SHANER, Certified Watchmaker
923 Commercial St., Astoria, Ore.

Morton's
Home Owned and Operated
LADIES and TEENAGE Sports Wear
1109 Commercial St., Astoria, Ore.

Superior Quality
Whole Milk, Homo. Past. and Raw
A-1-s Skim and Cream
Fresh Eggs — Home Delivery
SEPPA DAIRY
Phone FA 5-4147 and FA 5-6084

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

10:15 A. M. SUNDAY
KAST
The Christian Science Radio Series

You Always Get
— A —
Square Meal
— AT —
Andrews & Steves Cafe
1053 Marine Dr., Astoria, Ore.

Fernhill-John Day News

By BETTY BELCHER

FA 5-2382 — Your Subscription Appreciated

Arley Andre has moved into a new mobile home at John Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Moore, Christine and Janet returned recently from a vacation which was spent in The Dallies visiting Mr. Moore's sister and in Paradise, Calif., where they visited Alline's relatives. The girls also spent a week in Vancouver, Wash.

Mike and Timothy Malinen spent a week in Vancouver, Wash. visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lambert. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert brought the boys home Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Verdun Parker and daughters from California are guests of his parents, the Perry Parkers.

Lorraine and Dennis Secrest were among the many who attended the square dance convention in Eugene.

Betty and Marvin Belcher spent last weekend in Seattle visiting their son Dennis and his family, and Mr. and Mrs. Evertt Noggle, Marvin's sister in Renton, Wash. They also called on Gene and Lael Wedekind, former Fernhill residents.

The Wedekinds have recently purchased a new home in Auburn, Wash. where Gene is employed by GSA. Lael wishes to be remembered to all her friends in this area.

On a camping trip last weekend at Spruce Run park on the Nehalem river, were Zona and Earl Malinen with Sandra Haggbloom and the Einar Rantas of Astoria

Last week was 4-H Fair week, and a busy time indeed for all the youngsters, their leaders and parents. Many ribbons were won by the children for their exhibits, and it would be impossible to name all of them here, but some of the outstanding winners from our community were Becky Van Osdol, Edna Gray, Karen Glover, Marcia Mowrey and Colleen Gray.

The Gro-Mo's Garden club, with Hazel Rogers as their leader, had three champion winners and Sharon Rogers was the winner of the Mrs. Eli McConkey garden trophy

The Fernhill Stockmen will exhibit at the State Fair. They are Sharon and Nancy Rogers and Gina Maher.

Christine Moore was a champion winner in the sewing contest and first year cooking had Roxanna Lizon as champion winner for her cookies.

In forestry, Billy Herold and Jimmy Herold will exhibit at the State Fair. Dennis Riggs, Jimmy Herold and Bruce Allen were blue ribbon winners

Jimmy and Bruce attended the three-day forestry camp at Camp Wilkerson in July and reported having a very good time and said they are going again next year. It is very interesting and educational to the 4-H youngster to attend these camps and important on their overall record Edna Gray was a counselor at Camp Wilkerson this year.

Other winners were Debra Gray, Marcia Mowrey and Joyce Herold.

All these winners, along with all the other red, white and blue ribbon winners, makes a very fine record from our community

Joyce Herold, foreign exchange student from Astoria high school, who is attending school in the Philippines this summer, writes her parents, the Milton Herolds, that she recently took a tour of Corrigidor and also met the President of the Philippines. Joyce will be leaving via jet on Aug. 30, and will be home on the 31st

Sylvia and Mike Mowrey, Marcia and Ronald left for a week's vacation to Redding, Calif. where they will visit with Mike's brother and family.

Brian and Kenny Kandoll, Deep River, Wash. visited their cousins, Bobbie and Jimmy Herold during fair week. They left for home Sunday and Bobbie and Jimmy accompanied them, visiting in Deep River for a week.

Dropping in on Mr. and Mrs. Anson Mowrey last week for a visit were theid old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haynes and daughters Paula and Frances from Gothenburg, Neb

Mabel and Milton Herold made a trip to Deep River Sunday, where they picked up a truckload of various articles from the former home of Mabel's parents. Mabel says she brought back enough antiques to start an antique shop.

Lt. Gordon Wolfgram is attending the National Guard encampment at Ft. Lewis for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erp, who are spending the summer touring Alaska, have sent word to friends here that they are now in Juneau, homeward bound. Mr. and Mrs. Erp are making the trip in their camper

Regular meeting of the Fernhill community water system was held Wednesday evening at the home of Betty Belcher, secretary. Routine business was conducted, with most of the time taken up with making plans for the purchase of a new water meter to be installed on the main line at the headworks. Board members present were chairman Dennis Secrest, Leo Lundman, Carl Hansen and John Perry.

WAITING TO SHOW their pets at the 4-H Kiwanis Pet show are anxious contestants Pets included dogs, cats, rabbits, mice, ducks, turtles, and even earthworms.

Olney

By INGA M. YOUTSLER
Phone FA 5-4974
Your Subscription Appreciated

The D. LaMarrs have returned home from a two-week vacation trip to California. Highlight of the trip was four days in Sunnyvale with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stevens, and meeting their seven-month-old grandson Robert for the first time. They camped at Castle Crag State Park. They drove thru Fort Ord. A stop in Howlitzer to go thru the San Juan Baptiste State Historical Museum they found very worthwhile. Mrs. LaMarr and Patti also enjoyed walking thru acres of flowers at the Ferry Seed company near Gillis. They visited the Mt. Hamilton observatory and the Mission San Jose de Guadalupe before coming home via San Francisco

They ran into hot weather in California with temperatures around Sacramento of 105 to 108 degrees and report the state parks were packed and campers needed to register by 2:00 in the afternoon in order to find space.

Mrs. Ugo Trabucco, Chester, Susan and Tony were in Wheeler visiting with her grandfather, "Pop" Mather.

Next dance of the Olney Teenage club will be Saturday, Aug. 31, with live music.

The Ben Swensons took a short vacation from Saturday to Tuesday going to Mt. Shasta, Calif. and back. On the way home they stopped in Salem to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ledford (Gracie Swenson). Mrs Swenson tells me their son David is stationed in Thailand with the Army Engineers and expects to be there another 1½ years. They are stationed just 30 miles from Laos and living in bamboo huts in the jungle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peterson (Judy Nordlund) of Salem spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Nordlund.

Jerry Nordlund arrived home Aug. 12 from Alaska where he worked this summer as an engineer on a fishing scow.

Bus Schedules

Olney school will open Sept. 3 with classes dismissed at 11 a.m. the first day. School bus schedules are as follows:

High school run—Leave Olney school at 6:30, arrive at high school at 8:00.

Grade school run — Leave King home at 8:15, arrive at Olney school at 8:39.

Little bus run—Leave home at 7 45, arrive at Olney school at 8 45

It's a grandson for Mr and Mrs. P. J. Jessen, born Tuesday, Aug. 20 to Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell (Alice Jessen) of Chicago.

John Christie took members of his 4-H Forestry club to the Wullger-Warilla Logging works to observe the rigging of a spar tree Saturday.

Lewis & Clark

By MRS. ETHEL GUSTAFSON
Phone FA 5-3454
Your Subscription Appreciated

Guests of the Arvo Seppas for a few days were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Canterbury and family and Ann Bergerson of Quilcene, Wash.

PFC Daniel Brandon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brandon, is home on a 30-day leave from Mt. Hood, Texas before leaving Sept. 11 for Korea. He will be on the 38th parallel and will be gone 13 months. He is a missile and power plant expert in the signal corps. When Brandon arrived in Portland, Mrs. Brandon met him and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Max Neff.

Members of the Farm Bureau attended the annual summer resolutions convention which was held at the Gearhart Hotel. Harry Ebsen, who is the county chairman and also the regional chairman this year, gave the welcoming address. He stated that it was a most successful meeting with a good fellowship. A popular feature was the milk bar, where much milk and little coffee was served. 12 ladies from this county furnished the homemade cookies that were served

Mrs. Henderson was in charge of the entertainment which included a hat making contest. One of the events was the appearance of dairy princess Hazel Palmrose

Guests of the Harry Ebsens during the convention were Mr and Mrs Geo Durant and their grandson Mark of Molalla The Durants are convention friends of the Ebsens, having met each other that way some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Gustafson and Vance and Mr. and Mrs. John Pietila enjoyed a weekend of camping and fishing at Olallie lake in the Mt. Hood National Forest. It was very cool up there and the coast felt warm in comparison when they came home Monday night They caught a few fish.

Mr. and Mrs Wm. Abel and daughter Karen of Maracauy, Venezuela left here Thursday after spending a week visiting friends. Abel brought some slides of Venezuela for the Lewis and Clark district 5 school.

Richard M. Seppa, son of Mrs Vera Seppa and the late Hugo A. Seppa, was one of two boys honored in Portland Monday night, Aug. 12 when he was presented a $2,200 scholarship to study at the school of government at Geo. Washington university, Washington, D.C. this year. He will leave for Washington Sept. 10.

Aura Skehan won second place in halter and fifth place in hackamore reining when she showed her horse Royal Fare at the quarter horse show in Canby the weekend of Aug. 16

Guests for a few days at the Skehan home will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Katherine) Coe, Barbara and Susan of Loomis, Calif. This will be their first trip to Oregon.

Guests of the Karl Larsons last week were Mr. and Mrs. James Spaulding, Jammie Sue of Stockton, Calif. and Cheryl Dick of Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen of Portland came to help their granddaughter Suzy Jasper celebrate her 12th birthday Aug. 14

Guests at the home of Mrs. Ethel Gustafson were her aunt, Mrs. Claire Roche and cousin, Miss Barbara Roche of Sacramento, Calif. Miss Roche has been teaching at a school for the deaf. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris and Mrs. Eva Zimmerman of Portland spent several days with the Gustafsons

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burkhart, Helen and Sharon had a vacation that was different this summer. They drove home from Mitchell, Indiana in a 66-passenger school bus. The bus was purchased for Lewis and Clark school district 5 and the Burkharts went to Indiana to bring it back. They were gone two weeks. Mrs. Burkhart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rupp of Cheney, Wn., accompanied them on the trip. Mr. and Mrs. John Labish and Joanne of Cheney came to spend a few days visiting and to take the Rupps home with them.

Mr. and Mrs Erhart Klahr and daughter Betty Lou of Santa Ana spent Sunday night and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Koppisch and with Mrs. Martha Klahr and Erick.

Mrs Elsie Vanderveldt of Portland spent three weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. Martha Klahr.

Guests for the weekend at the home of Mr and Mrs. Alvin Olson were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ridderbush of McMinnville.

John and Stephen Olson are among those who are taking swimming lessons at Tapiola pool.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Neff, Sherry and Keith are now living near Redding. Neff is an operator on the Shasta dam.

Visitors of the H. J. Kujalas were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Morilanen of Hood River

Youngs River

By MRS. M. B. SCHOESSLER
Phone FA 5-1715

It really is good to be back home again. We spent three days in Victoria, two in Vancouver, two in Seattle, and then on to Lind and Warden to visit the Reuben and Richard Schoesslers before starting back.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Phillips and Mike returned this week from a short vacation trip into Washington. They planned to camp in the Olympic National Park, but were rained out; so proceeded to Blaine for a visit with his sister and brother-in-law, the Howard Shope family. From there they took a drive into Vancouver, B.C., which is the birthplace of Phillips, returning home via Poulsbo, where they called on the Don Longs, their former neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli McConkey arrived home Thursday from a trip of several days. They visited in Walla Walla with Mrs. Myrtle Perry, and in Boise with Mrs Charles Peek.

Mrs. Everett Fudge vacationed a week recently in Los Angeles with friends and relatives. She was treated to a tour of Disneyland, Knotts' Berry Farm, and a nearby wax museum. She arrived home in time to attend the far western square dance at Eugene. Larry Fudge also attended.

Well, we have a sequel to the "shaggy dog story" printed in the local paper some weeks back. The friendly little dog with the slight limp has been found in Westport and returned to his young masters, the Shepard boys. Corky, with the waggy tail, apparently strayed onto a logging road and traveled across country from the Olney district to Westport where he was cared for by a kindly good Samaritan for about a week before he was found.

Peggy Anne is the name of the new little miss who arrived Aug. 8 for the David Schmelzers. She is the second grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schmelzer, and weighed in at 7 lbs. 10½ oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schmelzer and three daughters of Kennewick recently made a three-day visit to the home of his brother and family, the Paul Schmelzers.

Mrs. Bill Welch is home and doing fine after a five-day stay in the hospital following surgery.

Eight youngsters from this community will officially begin the first grade when doors open Sept. 3 at Lewis & Clark district 5. They are Michael Bay, Billy Capps, Robert Hahn, David Huber, Debra Kottre, Debby Longtain, Jeffrey Ponsness and Darrel Springer.

Deep River

By MRS. IVAN JONES
Your Subscription Appreciated

A wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. William Hollenbeck (Sharon Demick) will be held at the Naselle Community Congregational church Saturday evening, Aug. 31 at 8:00. Everyone is welcome. Ellen and Art Olson, the bride's parents, expect the honeymooners here Aug. 28 from their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and Fred Hendrickson returned to Seaside last Monday after spending several months at their Deep River residence

Lee Wilcox, John Maynard and the Clarence Hedlund family dined at Ivan Jonses Monday evening.

Visitors at H. Robert Johnson's home Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Raistakka and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jones. Jones' enjoyed dinner with the Johnsons and Willie Saari families.

Mrs. Christine Jokela of Rosburg spent Sunday with Mrs. Hyrkas at Deep River, while Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson were down at the beach

Dennis Hedlund and John Maynard returned to southern California Aug. 23.

Mr and Mrs Herbert Johnson of Portland spent Aug. 18 in the locality, mainly to get their daughters, Valerie and Olise, to return home from their country vacations. The Bill Heidts, Ed Simukkas and Johnsons enjoyed a picnic at the beach near Megler.

The Deep River postmaster, Art Koski and family are enjoying a three-week vacation going to Texas to visit relatives Mrs. Ida Koski of Portland is caring for her son's home while they are away.

Mr and Mrs Norman Anderson of Rosburg have had a month's trip to the east coast New York, Washington, D.C. and Virginia were visited. They expect to be home this weekend

Mrs Paul Polillo of Naselle is on leave from her job with the telephone company for a few weeks Mrs. Bob Miller will substitute during Mrs. Polillo's vacation

The Wahkiakum county fair runs Aug. 29-31. Promises to be a great fair.

The Rod Smiths of Grays River were blessed with a second son on Aug. 23. Christopher Paul weighs seven pounds and two ounces and was born in Longview. His brother Steven and his grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Cecil Axmaker are pretty happy over the little tyke.

Birthday guests of Mrs. Leo Raistakka were Mrs. Keranen, the Bob Johnson family, Mrs. Henry Buhakka, the Willie Saari family and the Ivan Jones'

Buying at Home Is Good Business

Walluski

Call MRS. E. HEINO
Your Subscription Appreciated

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Pryor and family returned Aug. 17 from a two-weeks trip to Minnesota where they visited relatives at Long Prairie and Minneapolis.

House guests at the Herb Howell residence this past week have been their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pierson and five children of Arcata, Calif. While here, Mrs. Pierson (Joan) attended her 20th high school reunion at Gearhart

The Harold Vice family motored to Pacific City recently to take in the dory derby. They will return to Pacific City this coming weekend to camp out till Labor Day. Mrs. Vice's parents, the Cliff Olsons are presently camping there.

The Ray Justins motored to Long Beach last Thursday where they enjoyed clamming and beach combing.

Mr and Mrs. Elmer Moilanen of Hood River were overnight guests at the John Kangas home last Saturday. Mrs. Moilanen is a sister of Mr. Kangas.

The following members of Bessie Justin's cooking class won blue ribbons with their exhibits of muffins: Jamie Waldrop, Helen and Betty Justin. In Swedish weaving, Barbara Seppala received a red ribbon, Nancy Wahlstron, Betty and Helen Justin, blue, witih Betty winning champion ribbon; Sew Waldrop received a red ribbon in sewing. Barbara Seppala was named grand champion in the intermediate style revue. Nancy Wahlstrom received a blue ribbon for her beef animal in showmanship, and a white ribbon in the livestock judging

The weather finally turned out sunny and we were able to fill the swimming pool and have had a good time in it, including the neighborhood kids.

Jeffers Gardens

By MRS. ETHEL GUSTAFSON
Phone FA 5-3454

Your Subscription Appreciated

Mrs. Don Kujala and her father, Tom Young drove to Portland Saturday to meet Mrs. Kujala's grandmother, Mrs. C. H. Young, who arrived by jet. She has spent the last eight months in Cedar Rapids and Clinton, Iowa with friends and relatives. This is the former home of the Youngs.

Mrs. Gearhart Wuori and son Kris are home from a six-week vacation to her homeland of Greece. They made the trip by jet except from Portland to New York, which was made by train.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Staggers and Julie and Cindy of Sunnyside, Wash. are spending two weeks here. Staggers is paticipating in Operation Cascadee at Camp Rilea and the family is visiting Mrs. Staggers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stanley.

Guests of the Glenn Kamms are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kamm and daughter, Mrs. Velma Farril and Lezlie Gail and Ronnie of Vancouver, B.C.

Willis Korff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Korff, and Miss Martha Zwald of Tillamook were married at the St. John's United Church of Christ, Aug 18. Korff is in the army. He and his bride are driving back to Omaha

Americans, primarily school children, are now purchasing U.S. Savings Stamps at the rate of more than 100 million separate pieces per year. The stamps may be purchased by anyone at anytime during the year at post offices.

Shop & Save in the Sunset

* Society for the Prevention of Accumulated Frost

Get a New Refrigerator–Freezer That's ENTIRELY FROST-FREE!

YOU'LL NEVER NEED TO DEFROST AGAIN!

It's true! New frost-free electric Refrigerator-Freezers simply do not form frost! There are no ice-jammed freezing compartments . . . no stuck-tight ice trays . . . and best of all, no messy defrosting, ever again!

You gain more food storage space . . . no frost build-up on freezer walls to rob you of usable room. Your refrigerator-freezer will function more efficiently, too, in a frostless atmosphere which allows freer air circulation.

LOOK FOR THIS TAG on the new frost-free refrigerator-freezers at your appliance dealer's today!

Another BIG electric service value!

Pacific Power & Light Company

Pretty Girls in a Pretty Setting

The [illegible] Regatta court [illegible] princesses were entertained with the exquisite decorations done in the Japanese theme, for the tea the Anchor club gave for them Saturday afternoon at the Yacht club. Beside the lotus pool are shown, from left, Mrs. Charles Gustafson Jr., skipper of the club, Susan Hendrickson, Regatta Queen of 1962, Princess Vicky Wright and Ann Williams, [illegible] Knappa; Pamela See, Warrenton; Susan Hendrickson, Astoria; Imogene Slanger, Jewell; Chirley McKnight, Seaside, and Sally Blissett, Star of the Sea; Mrs. Wil[illegible] and Mrs. Dewey Berges, chaperon for the Regatta court. Mothers of the princesses poured during the afternoon, when women from all parts of the county came to meet the royal court, who were attired in crisp white embroidered organdy frocks with nosegays on ivory fans. Visitors admired elaborate decor that featured an oriental garden with moon gate, hanging paper lanterns and a myriad of dwarfed pine and bonzai trees "planted" for the occasion by Phineas McCoury. The sunny afternoon added to garden atmosphere.

A small segment of the crowd that toured the new Columbia River Maritime museum Wednesday evening, is shown here viewing one of numerous exhibits displayd in renovated former city hall and USO building. Public open-house will be held Friday afternoon.

'Sails All Set' For Regatta at Maritime Museum

[illegible] the historic town of Astoria, and one destined to attract visitors from afar, the Columbia River Maritime museum, opened its doors last night when the board of directors was host to charter members.

The museum, located on the corner of 16th and Exchange, in the large square building that formerly was the city hall, and, during the war years, housed the USO, is redecorated throughout, the spacious rooms lending themselves well to the displays of nautical historians, attractively exhibited. Display cases hold many of the smaller articles, records and bibliophilia, while larger relics of the sea and the ships that sailed them are arranged in novel groupings, revealing a dramatic and artistic plan [illegible]

[illegible] lor" of the museau, is papered in a coarse burlap-like fabric painted ivory, with ivory draperies hung at the tall windows and large white globe chandeliers. The tea table was centered with a massive arrangement of Esther Reed daisies and giant tiger lilies, from the Surf Pines gardens of Mr. and Mrs Harry Clow.

Pouring throughout the evening hours were the Mesdames David Roscoe, Kenneth McAlpin, Forrest Vaughn, Robert Chopping, John McGowan, Ford Knutson, Eric Hauke and George Altstadt. Assisting in serving and greeting the crowd that wandered through the rooms were the Mesdames W Belser, Gearhart; George Fulton, Frank Thorsness, Nick Sculace, Joseph Dyer, Harvey Schroeder, Harry Flavel, Howard Linse, Kenneth Simonsen, Frank Ed Ross, Rolf Klep and Glen Daugherty.

[illegible] nated by the Mesdames Trygve Tetli, Eban Carruthers, Flavel; Schroeder, Ross, Altstadt, Klep, Daugherty and Miss Ann Harvey.

The museum will have open-house for the public Friday afternoon, when the churches of Astoria will be in charge of serving coffee

---

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ MONDAY, AUGUST 26, 1963

Lewis & Clark Were Here First

FORT CLATSOP visitors center—part of a $100,000 development completed this year — was dedicated Sunday. It houses displays and artifacts related to the Lewis and Clark Expedition, which spent the winter of 1805-06 at the site. Fort replica is included in the 125-acre Fort Clatsop National Memorial south of Astoria.

Fort Clatsop Memorial Opens As National Park

ASTORIA (Special) — State and national officials and several hundred spectators Sunday attended the dedication of the Fort Clatsop National Memorial, built on the site of the winter camp of the Lewis and Clark expedition a few miles south of Astoria.

Speakers traced the development of the memorial, noted its historical importance and praised the late Sen Richard Neuberger and others involved in efforts to bring the campsite into the National Park Service system.

Two of the dignitaries noted that Oregon may be getting another park in the near future: The Oregon Dunes National Seashore

Sen Maurine Neuberger, addressing a large audience in the Astoria High School auditorium instead of at Fort Clatsop because of the weather, discussed additions to the park system and described the Oregon seashore as "soon to be."

Dunes Approval 'Sure'

Later, following ribbon cutting ceremonies at the new visitors center at Fort Clatsop, Sen. Neuberger said the seashore legislation would probably come before the Senate as soon as the railroad labor problem is settled. The boundaries of the seashore are still uncertain, she said, but added that "I'm pretty sure it goes to Ten Mile Creek."

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service and main speaker for the dedication, said he was sure the Oregon Dunes National Seashore would be approved in this session of Congress

Queen Cuts Ribbon

"It's not so much a q[illegible]

[illegible] where the boundaries will be," Wirth observed

The visitors center was formally opened when the ribbon was cut by Shirley McKinley of Seaside, queen of the Astoria Regatta, while Sen Neuberger, Wirth, memorial superintendent Charles Peterson and others looked on

The center is part of a $103,000 development which included a residence and other buildings. The memorial became a part of the national park system in 1962 and the major construction was finished this year. About $400,000 has been spent on the entire project Peterson reported

Fort Clatsop was first set aside when the Oregon Historical Society purchased a 5-acre plot in the early 1900s. The memorial now covers about 125 acres. A log replica of the Lewis and Clark fort built by the 30 men of the expedition was erected on the site in 1955

If You Meet a Truckload of Girls, Get Your $1 Ready

Beta Mu assembly of Theta Rho girls club of Warrenton has always played an active part in the Astoria Regatta, entering a float in the parade, acting as ushers and making themselves useful. This year they added to their community service projects the selling of Regatta pins and aready they are covering the county via pickup truck, handing out posters publicizing the coming Regatta and selling pins. Here, Shirley Lanier sells a button to Myron Jones, county juvenile counselor, who was coming down the street from the [illegible]. Linda Garcia, left, and Vicky Tate, right, stand ready to approach the next passerby. In the truck are, from right, Vicki Bryant, Janice May, Elizabeth Davis, Susan Fromong and Cathy Davis. A. S. Haysner drives the truck and the girls are accompanied on their travels by Mrs. Haysner and Mrs. Ralph Bryant, Theta Rho adviser.

One Of These Princesses Will Be Queen Tonight

SALLY BLISSETT
Star of the Sea

SHIRLEY McKNIGHT
Seaside

HAZEL PALMROSE
Knappa

IMOGENE SLANGER
Jewell

VICKY WRIGHT
Astoria

ANN WILLIAMS
Astoria

SUSAN HENDRICKSON
Astoria

PAMELA SEE
Warrenton

Photos by BALL STUDIO

The Columbia Press

1279 MARINE DR., ASTORIA ORE —$2.50 A Year in CLATSOP COUNTY, $4.00 OUTSIDE   THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1963 — 10c COPY — VOL. 38—NO.34

1963 REGATTA ADMIRAL "ED" ROSS, seen at the stern of his new personal flagship, "Mary Carol", named for the two Ross daughters.

Coronation Of Queen Tonight Marks 43rd Astoria Regatta

With true regal pomp and ceremony, 1962 Regatta Queen will relinquish her crown to her successor tonight and the 43rd Astoria Regatta will be officially underway.

Princesses Sally Blissett, Star of the Sea; Shirley McKnight, Seaside; Pamela See, Warrenton; Imogene Slanger, Jewell; Hazel Palmrose, Knappa; Susan Hendrickson, Vicky Wright and Ann Williams of Astoria will speak briefly and the judges, whose identity will remain unknown to the court, will select the 1963 Queen of the Regatta and she will be crowned by Regatta Admiral Ed Ross.

Robert Chopping is master of ceremonies of the coronation. Acting as princesses' escorts and also participating in the event are Mayor Harry Steinbock, regatta vice admirals, Commander G. H. Lewis, of the visiting icebreaker USS Burton Island, Anchor club drill team and the junior regatta court. Rainbow girls will serve as ushers. Invocation will be by Rev. James Martin of the First Baptist church and music by the Astoria high school band, under direction of Ted Marshall

Friday Events Named

A swim meet, sponsored by the YMCA, will be held at Tapiola park at 2 p.m., Friday. Backstroke, breaststroke and crawl races will be held in four age groups in both the boys' and girls' divisions.

The Columbia River Maritime Museum will be formally reopened at 10 a.m., Friday, and tea will be served from 2-5 p.m.

Kiwanis Kiddies Parade

At 6:00 p.m., the Kiwanis Kiddies parade will form on the south side of the courthouse on Duane and march down Commercial, starting at 6:30 p.m., to the armory—all participants will receive ice cream bars following the parade. All children 13 and under are eligible

There will be seven divisions in the parade competing for cash prizes, ribbons and a grand sweepstakes winner will also be chosen. Kiwanis members will judge the entries during the formation of the parade.

Beachcombers Dance Friday

Replacing the queen's ball held in former years, regatta officials have scheduled a Beachcombers' dance, for adults only, at the American Legion Friday at 8 p.m. Music is by the Four Tones.

Races and other games will be featured Saturday in an Optimist youth day program starting at 10 a.m. at Tapiola park. Women in the area are invited to the queen's luncheon Saturday noon at Astoria high school.

A large crowd is expected to view the regatta parade Saturday at 3 p.m. with floats, bands and marching units. A band show at 8 p.m. will feature bands participating in the parade.

Smorgasette To Be Held

Chef Glen Omdahl will prepare food for the regatta smorgasette at 4:15 p.m. Saturday at the armory

The Tri-City Racing association of Corvallis, Lebanon and Salem, in conjunction with the regatta association, is staging races for ski boats, runabouts and hydroplanes Sunday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Cullaby lake.

A parachute jump into the lake by well-known Pacific Northwest jumper Ray Heald will be a feature of the program.

The four-day regatta program winds up Sunday at 4 p.m. with a salmon barbecue at the Clatsop 4-H fairgrounds in Astoria, sponsored by the Lions club. Chef Carl Bondietti, Clatsop county sheriff, will barbecue about 600 lbs. of salmon .

"Water Wonderland" Parade Regatta Climax Saturday

Tuure Mentula, Finnish consul general, San Francisco, will serve as grand marshal of the annual Astoria Regatta Parade, starting at 3 p.m. Saturday, August 24.

The Astoria Jaycee-sponsored event, staged in conjunction with activities of the regatta association, will feature floats, marching units, drill teams and drum and bugle corps from throughout Oregon and Washington, according to Evor Kumpula, chairman of the event.

Parade Route Given

The parade will form in front of the American Can company on West Marine Drive; go east on West Marine to Eighth street and move up one block to Commercial street. It will continue east on Commercial to the 4-H fairgrounds to disband. Special activities will be held at the fairgrounds for all parade participants following its conclusion, according to Kumpula. The reviewing stand will be at Fourteenth and Commercial streets

The new Regatta Queen and her court will make their parade appearance on the Pacific Northwest Bell float, with the theme of this year's festivities, "Water Wonderland".

Band Show Saturday Eve

Many of the parade participants will be featured in a band show to be held at 8 p.m. at Gyro field. Presentation of parade awards will be made at the evening show.

Bullseye—and City Councilman Frank Thorsness goes into the water in the Astoria Jaycees dunk tank, set up at 12th and Commercial. The dunking show Tuesday night was promoting sale of Regatta buttons. Other victims will be on hand Friday at 6 p.m., same location, and it is hoped that more city councilmen will be on the dunking stool Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Lower photo shows Tuure Mentula, Finnish consul general from San Francisco, who will be marshal for the Regatta parade Saturday at 3 p.m.

SF Consul General From Finland Leads Regatta Parade Sat.

Tuure Mentula, Finnish consul general from San Francisco, is due here Friday to serve as grand marshal of the 43rd annual Regatta parade Saturday at 3 p m

Regatta officials said Mentula will speak at the band show Saturday night at [illegible]

Saturday noon he will attend the admiral's luncheon, counterpart to the queen's luncheon, also billed at noon Saturday The men-only admiral' luncheon, open to the public will be held at the Cinders

Reservations may be made by calling C. J. (Zak) Kakrzewski

Sunday afternoon Mentula will attend the salmon barbecue sponsored by the Lions club as will dignitaries participating in dedication of Fort Clatsop National Memorial park earlier Sunday.

Mentula joined the Finnish Ministry of Foreign Affairs in 1946 was named vice-consul in New York City in 1947 erved as consul there from [illegible], was secretary of the Finnish legation in The [illegible] from 1955-57 and in 1961 was named consul general in San Francisco

He is a graduate of the University of Helsinki, is married and has two children

Thorsness Dunked!

One Of These Regatta Princesses To Wear Crown Tonight

ANN WILLIAMS

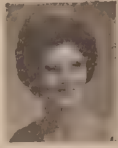
VICKY WRIGHT

SUSAN HENDRICKSON

SALLY BLISSETT

PAMELA SEE

HAZEL PALMROSE



IMOGENE SLANGER

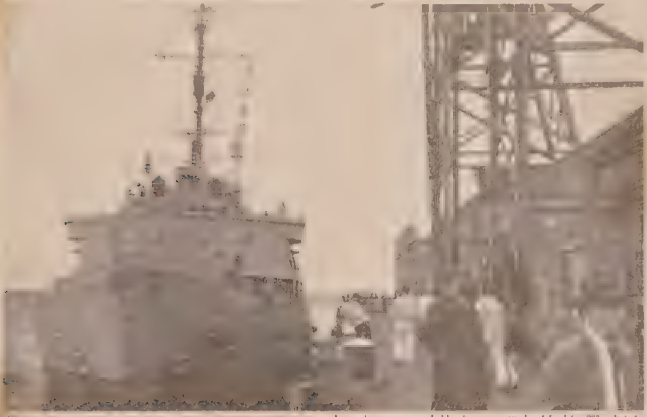
SHIRLEY McKNIGHT

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire

Vol 91, No. 38 Astoria, Oregon, Thursday, August 22, 1963 Single Copies 10c

Navy Icebreaker Here; Open for Public Inspection



[illegible] is the U.S.S. Burton Island, a Navy icebreaker. The ship is here as part of the Astoria Regatta Association festivities this week and will be open for public inspection 1-5 p.m. Thursday through Sunday. The Burton Island is 269 feet in length, displaces 6,000 tons; huge storerooms can hold a two-year supply of food for 233 enlisted men and 17 officers; and the craft is powered by six diesel engines which supply up to 10,000 horsepower, enabling the craft to break ice eight feet thick. The Burton Island was built in 1946 and has made at least one trip to the Arctic every year.

Regatta Schedule

THURSDAY

5:00 P.M.—Admiral's Dinner, Sea Fare.

8:00 P.M.—Queen's Coronation, National Guard Armory.

FRIDAY

2:00 P.M.—YMCA city - Wide Swim meet, Tapiola Pool.

2-5 P.M.—Formal Opening Tea, Columbia River Maritime Museum.

6:30 P.M.—Kiwanis children's parade, downtown Astoria.

8:00 P.M.—Beachcombers Dance for Adults, Legion Hall.

Coronation At 8 For 1963 Queen

The crown of Regattaland will grace one of the festival's eight princesses following coronation ceremonies tonight at 8 in the National Guard Armory.

Anonymous judges will chose the Regatta queen after meeting the princesses at an admiral's dinner preceding the coronation and hearing a brief talk by each of the girls at tonight's program.

Admiral E. Ross will then crown the queen of the 43rd Regatta.

Members of the court are Ann Williams, Vicky Wright and Susan Hendrickson of Astoria high school, Sally Blissett of Star of the Sea; Pamela See of Warrenton, Hazel Palmrose of Knappa, Imogene Slanger of Jewell and Shirley Mc Knight of Seaside.

Chopping Emcee

Robert Chopping will be master of ceremonies for the program, sponsored by the Anchor club under direction of Beatrice Cederberg.

Susan Hendrickson Wakeman, 1962 Regatta queen, ends her reign tonight and will be on hand to offer congratulations to her successor.

Music will be provided by the Astoria high school band and an AHS combo, both directed by Ted Marshall.

The Rev. James Martin of First Baptist church will give the invocation and members of the junior Regatta court will attend the queen as scepter bearers, crown bearers and carry the train of the queen's robe.

Astoria Mayor Harry Steinbock, Anchor drill team, Regatta vice-admiral and the princesses, escorts also participate in the opening ceremonies of the Regatta.

Rainbow girls will usher for the coronation.

Cmdr. G. H. Lewis, captain of the navy icebreaker [illegible] has also been invited to take part in the coronation program. The Burton Island arrived at the Port of Astoria [illegible] Regatta [illegible] Monday.

The destroyer [illegible] is [illegible] to [illegible] of Astoria at 4 [illegible] the Burton Island [illegible] Regatta [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Ed Ross, Mayor and Mrs. Harry Steinbock and [illegible].

Traditionally [illegible] of a queen marks opening of the Astoria Regatta. The new queen will reign over Regattaland for three days of activities ranging from boat races to dinners.

Swim Meet

On Friday's Regatta agenda are a YMCA-sponsored city-wide swim meet for youths, a tea marking formal opening of the Columbia River Maritime museum, [illegible] of the destroyer USS Watts, Kiwanis children's parade and a dance for adults only.

Competition in the swim meet set at 2 p.m. at Tapiola pool will be in four age groups in boys' and girls' divisions. Events include backstroke, breaststroke, butterfly and [illegible] according to Don Muhag of the Y.

Age groups are 10 and younger, 11 and 12, 13 and 14 and 15-17.

Lowell Ford has charge of the meet.

The Columbia River Maritime museum opens its doors to the public at 10 a.m. Friday and a tea marking the occasion is set from 2-5 p.m. in the museum at 16th and Duane.

Kiddies Parade Friday

Decorated bicycles, tricycles, wagons, floats and [illegible] groups will parade through Astoria in the Kiwanis children's parade Friday at 6:30 p.m. Cash prizes and ribbons go to top entries in each of seven divisions according to George Chaney of the Kiwanis club and a grand sweepstakes winner will be named.

The parade will form at 6 p.m. on Duane at the south side of the county courthouse for judging by Kiwanis members. Participants will march down Commercial street to the Armory where ice cream bars will be distributed. [illegible] 13 and younger are eligible.

Final event Friday will be a Beachcombers dance at 8 p.m. at the Legion hall for adults only. Music will be provided by the Four Tones.

Barney Keep To Be Here To Emcee '63 Regatta Band Show

"Ol' Barn," Byron William Keep, Portland's dean of disc jockeys, radio station KEX, will be master of ceremonies for the Regatta Band show slated for Gyro field, 8 p.m. Saturday.

The Regatta Band show, set for Gyro field, 8 p.m. Saturday, will be one of the climaxing events of '63 festivities. Several marching and drill units, bands and other groups will participate. Each unit will be limited to seven minutes to perform their routines.

Barney Keep, "Ol' Barn" to listeners of Portland's radio station KEX, will be master of ceremonies. Keep will present awards to winners of various divisions of competition for the afternoon parade.

Special presentations will be made to the five grand sweepstakes winners of each division. Trophies this year were donated by Bumble Bee Seafoods, 1st National Bank, American Can Company and Pacific Power and Light Company.

Tuure Menula, Counsel General of Finland from San Francisco and grand marshall of the parade, will be one of the guest speakers at the show.

An admission will be charged for the program.

ss in dairy

Regatta Parade Entrants

BANDS

Molalla Buckeroos, Mollala; Astoria High School; Iola's Accordion Band, Milwaukie; Clatsop Scottish Bagpipe Band, Portland Scottish Bagpipe Band.

MARCHING GROUPS

Royal Rosarians, Portland; Ballard Girls' Drill Team, Seattle; 689th Radar Squadron—Color Guard, Mt. Hebo; Milwaukie Unit American Legion Drill Team, Milwaukie; Seattle's Chinese Community Girls, Seattle; Salem Cherrians, Salem; Mt. Scott Rainbowettes, Portland; Beta Mu Theta Rho Girls Club, Warrenton; Eagles Men's Drill Team, Portland; ARC Assembly No. 23, Seattle; Mac-ettes, McMinnville; Women of the Moose, Portland.

FLOATS

Clatskanie VF Dept., Clats-[illegible] The Tree Toppers, [illegible] As-toria; Sunset Empire Square Dance Council, Astoria; Knappa's Dads Club, Knappa; Crabpot, Warrenton; Bet Mu Theta Rho, Warrenton; J. J. Parkers, Liberty Theatre, Portland; Warrenton Jay-C-Ettes, Warrenton; U.S. Coast Guard, Tongue Point; Seaside Loggers Supply, Seaside.

DRILL RIDING

Clatsop County Rodeo Queen's Court.

NOVELTY

Oregon Cavemen, Grants Pass; Astoria Clowns, Inc., Astoria; Mr. Bill and Bob Kyle, Astoria; Garibaldi Fire Truck, Garibaldi; Christmas Caravan Covered Wagon, Vancouver; Gateway Boosters, Inc., Portland; Maddox Dance Studio, Astoria; Historical Auto Club, Seaside; Elks Lodge No. 180, Astoria; JC Fire Truck; The Flintstones, [illegible]

DRUM & BUGLE CORPS

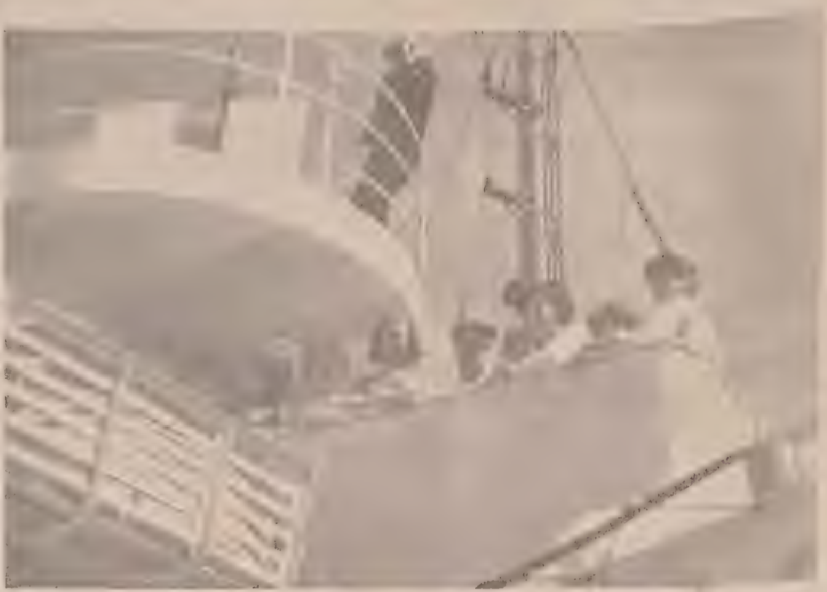
Mariners Junior Drum & Bugle Corps, Astoria; Tillamook Elks Drum & Bugle Corps, Tillamook; Flamingoes Drum & Bugle Corps, Salem.

"Welcome Aboard!" Said Coast Guard Crew Of The Yocona To The Regatta Court

The 20 millimeter gun on the Yocona proved of interest to Princesses Pam and Susan, who are given instructions by Gunner's Mate Felker on the top deck of the ship.

Swabbing a deck has a different "science to it than mopping a floor, Princesses Ann and Imogene discover, under the "tutelage" of Quartermaster Clark, who is very much at ease.

[illegible] and Princess Hazel [illegible] sextant from Lt. Comdr. [illegible] who comes from upper state New York, with Quartermaster Clark standing by. It was sun-bright day and the girls and their escorts climbed up and down ladders from the topside to the innermost corners below to learn how the ship operates.



Ahoy there on the bridge wing! What's going on aboard the Coast Guard cutter Yocona? Girls, that's what, and very special ones. Would the Regatta court like to be guests of the Coast Guard ship for the afternoon, came the invitation from Comdr. Howard A. Linse? WOULD they! It didn't take the eight pretty princesses accompanied by their chaperone Mrs. Deskin Bergey, and Bill Wilson, Regatta board chairman of the court, to don pedal pushers and appear dockside, where they were welcomed aboard with due ceremony, and taken on a conducted tour of the ship, conducted by Lt. (j.g.) Martine Danko, who hails from Nw York. Here, shown on a wing of the bridge are, from left, Princess Imogene Slanger, Jewell; Shirley McKnight, Seaside; Vicky Wright, Astoria; Ann Williams, Astoria; Sally Blisset, Star of the Sea, and Pam See, Warrenton. In back are Ensg. Fred Heath, Detroit; Princess Hazel Palmrose and Susan Hendrickson. Topside, looking down, (where else?), is Raymond Felker, South Dakota, gunnersmate 2 c

The Coast Guard cutter Yocona, stalwart, sleek and slender as a beautiful yacht, but built for search and rescue in the most hazardous seas, is a familiar sight at the Port Dock where a constant state of readiness is maintained, with the seagoing tug class cutter's crew on a two-hour standby most of the time.

Built in 1944 as a salvage vessel for the Navy, it was acquired by the Coast Guard July 1 1946, and based at Eureka, Calif.

In 1950, its home port was changed to Astoria, where it now carries out multi-fold duties, including search and rescue.

Its skipper is gracious and genial Comdr. Howard A. Linse, who came here from Seattle, but who now resides in Gearhart.

Operational radius of the Yocona is 1,500 miles, the Regatta princesses learned. It is 213 feet long, with a beam of 40 feet; a draft of 13 feet, tonnage 1 500 tons and a speed of 15 knots.

Other vital statistics: propulsion, diesel electric drive, four Cooper-Bessemer main engines of 950 horsepower each, main motors 4-GE 765 HP each, twin screw, twin rudders, towing machinery, 2 000 feet of two-inch wire on electric auto tension towing winch, and towing capacity ANYTHING AFLOAT.

A beautiful ship, a stout ship, a brave ship, and a mighty important ship to these waters that wash the shores of Regatta land. And her crew as courteous a [illegible] of men that ever [illegible] a sea. Just ask any [illegible]tta Princesses.

How do you send the message "Greetings, everyone on Regatta land" asks Princess Shirley, of Mike McNutt, radioman second class, whose home is in Sprague, Wash., while Princess Vicky and [illegible] the watch. Just what coded me[illegible]e went out from the [illegible] of the Yocona at that time is known only to the ships at sea, and Radioman McNutt, who isn't telling.

[illegible] something funny about the pilot house control judging from the smiles on the faces of, from left, Lt. Danko, explaining the intricacies of a gyro compass to Princess Sally and Princess Shirley with Delmond Clark, Spokane, quartermaster first class, at the controls.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol 91, No 35 Astoria, Oregon, Monday, August 19, 1963 Single Copies 10c

Queen's Coronation Opens 43rd Astoria Regatta Thurs.

Blazers musical group will play Monday night for a dance in front of Viking Roller rink following a Regatta button sale show. Dance is expected to start about 8 p.m. The group includes (from left) Tom Colaiuta, Buck Owen, Bill Elder and Tim Leigh. In rear is Jim Owen.

The 43rd Astoria Regatta kicks off Thursday afternoon for four days of varied entertainment fare.

It will be a magical day for one of the eight Regatta proncesses, who will be hailed as queen of Regattaland Coronation ceremonies, traditionally first major event of the Regatta, are set Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Armory.

Princesses Ann Williams, Vicky Wright and Susan Hendrickson of Astoria high school, Sally Blissett of Star of the Sea, Pamela See of Warrenton, Hazel Palmrose of Knappa, Imogene Slanger of Jewell and Shirly McKnight of Seaside will speak briefly, before judges who remain anonymous choose the queen of the 1963.

The new queen will then be crowned by Regatta Admiral Ed Ross.

Robert Chopping will serve as master of ceremonies for the coronation, according to Beatrice Cederberg of the Anchor club, who is in charge of the event.

Susan Hendrickson Wakeman, queen of the 1962 Regatta, will surrender her crown to the new queen.

Astoria high school band under direction of Ted Marshall, will provide music during the ceremony, sponsored by the Anchor club. A combo from the high school also directed by Marshall, will play during intermission.

The Rev. James Martin of First Baptist church will give the invocation. Members of the junior Regatta court will serve as scepter bearers, crown bearers and carry the train of the queen's robe.

Also participating in the ceremony will be the princesses' escorts, Astoria Mayor Harry Steinbock, the Anchors drill team and vice-admirals. Rainbow girls will serve as ushers.

All vice-admirals in Astoria who have uniforms are asked to appear at the Armory Thursday at 7:45 p.m. to take part in the coronation.

Set Admiral's Dinner

Preceding the coronation, members of the Regatta board and their wives, the admiral and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steinbock and judges for the queen selection will gather at the Sea Fare for the admiral's dinner at 5 p.m.

Cmdr. G. H. Lewis, captain of the Navy icebreaker Burton Island, which will arrive Thursday for a Regatta week visit, will also participate in coronation ceremonies.

The destroyer USS Watts will arrive Friday, joining the Burton Island to make up the Regatta fleet. Both the Burton Island and Watts will leave Monday.

Personnel of the Burton Island have also been asked to participate in dedication of Fort Clatsop National Memorial park August 25. The Burton Island is slated to leave Seattle for a seven month Antarctic cruise September 23.

Leading off Friday Regatta events is a YMCA sponsored city-wide swim meet at Tapiola pool, starting at 2 p.m. Don Muhlig of the Y said backstroke, breaststroke and crawl races will be held in four age groups in boys' and girls' divisions.

Competition will be for youths 10 and younger, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and 15-18. Lowell Ford will be

(Continued on Page 2)

An afternoon in the sun, with a fresh sea breeze in their hair, aboard the valiant Coast Guard ship Yocona! What a break for members of the Astoria Regatta court! And what a break for the crew of the Yocona. Here they are shown with their host Comdr. Howard Linse, skipper of the Yocona, who invited the court aboard (and did they snap at THAT invitation!) From left, down the ladder, are Susan Hendrickson, Astoria; Pam See, Warrenton, Shirley McKnight, Seaside; Imogene Slanger, Jewell; Ann Williams, Astoria; Hazel Palmrose, Knappa; Vicky Wright, Astoria; Comdr. Linse and Sally Blisset, Star of the Sea. They had cups of hot coffee and glasses of cold milk in the ward room, where they scanned the Yocona's scrapbook, which will now have added to it a picture page of glamour shots. (See page 5.)

A few of the many boats that took part in the races at Cullaby lake Sunday are shown here lined up on beach on northwest side of the lake. The big inboards, foreground, provided many thrills for an estimated 1,500 spectators.

1500 Watch Cullaby Boat Races, Log Roll Competition Sunday

The Cullaby lake boat races staged all day Sunday in conjunction with Astoria Regatta activities were a huge success from the standpoint of an estimated 1500 spectators.

There were no major mishaps in the affair, although Jim Campbell, Warrenton, got the Hell Divers Trophy when his boat flipped on the first lap of the first race. He received no injury. Others who went into the water were Larry Schoner, Corvallis, and Curt Wilburn, Lebanon.

There were 54 boats registered for the nine divisions of racing competition, including five inboards.

Inboard competition was a highlight of the racing events. Carl Jensen, Eugene, nearly suffered major casualty when his inboard craft sustained steering gear failure and slammed into a mud bank near some docking at a high rate of speed. The boat was not damaged and Jensen received only slight injury.

In log rolling competition, Mike Rippet, Seaside, successfully defended the title he won during last year's event. Keith Dyer, Warrenton, was runner-up.

Races this year were sponsored by the Tri-City Racing association of Corvallis, Lebanon and Salem.

The 54 boats registered was considerably more than the 33 which took part in the 1962 races.

Plans for next year include expansion of the races with the improvement of the south end of Cullaby.

Results by Class:

Class "A" Runabout—

David Groves, Astoria, 1st place; Mike Sarkie, Astoria, second place; Tom Hille, Astoria, third place.

Class "B" Runabout—

Richard Perkins, Astoria, first place; Terry Duoos, Astoria, second place; Charles Gundy, Corvallis, third place.

Class "C" Runabout—

Laurel Brown, Corvallis, first place; Ted Wolfe, Corvallis, second place; "Dee" Brown, Corvallis, third place.

Class "D" Hydro—

Robert Johnson, Astoria, first place; Corky Allan, Astoria, second place; Jim Culp, Warrenton, third place.

Class "E" Hydro—

Rod Beach, Albany, first place; Holbrook, Lebanon, second place; John Baker, Lebanon, third place.

Class "F" Hydro—

Richard Cox, Lebanon, first place; Curt Wilbur, Lebanon, sec- ond place; Leon Reger, Corv third place.

Class 'G" Hydro—

Don Mapes, Corvallis, place; Stan Vobora, Corvallis ond place; Roy Taylor, third place.

Class "H" Hydro—

Jim Edgar, Astoria, first Harold Nation, Albany, place, Charles Gundy, third place.

Inboards—

Mead, Eugene, first place; burn, Eugene, second place.

Your Regatta Button May Win A Prize From These Merchants

Adelaine's Mode-O-Day, ladies' hand bag; Anita's, sweater; Andrew & Steve's Cafe, two roast dinners; Astoria Apparel, handbag; Astoria Business Equipment, bond box; Art Needlecraft, learn - to - knit sweater kit; Astoria Florist, $5 plant; Astoria Health Food Center, 2-lb. box pecans; Astoria Office Appliance, useable typewriter; Astoria Janitor Supply, two dozen stemware; J. J. Astor Coffee Shop, two $2 dinners; Bell Bros. Jewelers, necklace set; Burke's Men's Store, T-shirt; Chris' News, cigar lighter; The Cinders, two smorgasbord dinners; Columbia Auto. Dry Cleaners, two loads dry cleaning; Crohn & Karsun, sport shirt; Davy Jones Locker Cafe, two $2 dinners; Eleanor's Hat Bar, one pair ladies gloves; Ekstrom's Jewelers, jewel box; Erickson Floral Co., one plant; Fabric Shop, ladies' apron; Fisher Bros., Coleman camp stove; Frestone Stores, electric percolator; Fiesta Club, two steak dinners; Ful-Mon Discount Store, weather proof lantern; Fur Trader Lounge, two charcoal steak dinners.

Gimre's Shoe Store, house slippers; Greenberg's Furniture Store, table radio; Greta's Gifts, floral hanging basket; Hallaux Paint Store, piggy bank; Halfway House, two $2 dinners; Hildebrand's, boudoir lamp; J. C. Penney Co., ladies' electric shaver; Kildall's, cigarette lighter; Kiddie's Korner, stuffed toy; Klara Alma's Hat Shop, $5 hat; Lawson's Confectionery, one box chocolates; Leon's, ladies' blouse; Link's Sporting Goods, hunting knife; Loop-Jacobsen Jeweler, ladies' compact; Merle Norman Cosmetics, bath powder set; Maunula Shoe Store, one pair tennis shoes; Montgomery Ward & Co., electric steam iron; Morton's, sweater; Newberry's, cosmetic kit.

Oregon Marine Supply Co., book ends; Owl Drug Store, electric clock; Palo's Department Store, sport shirt; Paramount Drug Store, transistor radio; Paynes Men's Store, sport shirt; Poole's Music Shop, record carrier; Puusti Hardware Co., utility table; Reed & Grimberg, six pair ladies' hose; Sea Fare Restaurant, two seafood dinners; Sears, Roebuck & Co., electric toaster; Shaner's Jewelers, silver tray; Smith's Auto Parts, auto polish; Steinbock's Pharmacy, hair dryer; Sunset Empire Room, two chicken dinners; Thiel's Fine Foods, two $2.50 dinners; Ulaine's-Del Mode, Jewelry, identification bracelet; Utzinger's Book Store, cook book; Van's Shop, cobbler's apron; Western Auto Supply, lawn chair; Wendy's Restaurant, two $2 dinners.

QUEEN SHIRLEY McNIGHT, 1963 ASTORIA REGATTA

Photo by Bob Lum

The Columbia

1270 MARINE DR., ASTORIA, ORE.—$2.50 a Year in CLATSOP COUNTY. THURSDAY, AUGUS

Astorians To M Against Anti-Fi

2,000 View Kiwanis Kiddie Parade

With the stormy skies holding back their fury until the Saturday operation, "Regatta Rainspout", the Kiwanis Kiddie Parade was a tremendous success Friday night of regatta week. Chairman Jerry Hibbard estimated that at least 2,000 cheered the parade along Commercial street.

Costumes: First, Dennis LaPlante, Terry McCleary, Mary LaPlante, Sally Talboe, Beverly Bozanich; second, Callen McKinnon, Charlien Hanson, Carrie Reneke; third, Shelley Carlson, Karla Seelig: honorable mention, Susie Deloney, Mary Hendrickson, Kathy Yeager

Girls' and boys' tricycles: First, Debbie, Nada and Eddie Hibbard; second, Peter and Susan Edison, Brent and Bob Seppa, Lisa Holms; third, John Wood; honorable mention, Carol Mastrich, Tod and Mark Gregg.

Girls' Bicycles: First, Sally Mittet; second, Linda Burton; third, Gayle Rodgers, Penny Pinuck; honorable mention, Nancy Backenson, Joan Radich.

Baby Buggy: Pamala Dem-

(Continued on Page 2)

TDA ASKS NEW ARA COMMITTEE

George H Haines, president, Transport Development association, sent the following letter to the Clatsop county court Wednesday:

"It is respectfully requested that the County Commissioners set a date for a public hearing to determine whether a new Overall Economic Development Plan (OEDP) should be drafted for Clatsop County and whether a new ARA Committee for the County should be appointed.

"It is pointed out that the present OEDP does not give proper direction for development efforts to secure Area Redevelopment Administration loans for our county. Although such loan programs have been successful elsewhere the employment and payrolls involved have not been forthcoming here. The group of citizens organized into Transport Development Association are committed to determining why and to take remedial action."

VISITING INSPECTION OF FIELD EQUIPMENT at Camp Rilea. About 175 were counted in busloads of Astoria youngsters treated to a private inspection tour of Operation Cascade Columbia through cooperation of the military command and the chamber of commerce. The tour thru tanks, battle fields and base operations netted no casualties, it was reported.

CARL BONDIETTI, after laying aside the sheriff's uniform and arms for the chef's cap and carving knife, casts a supervisory eye over some of the 720 pounds of Columbia river salmon prepared at the barbecue Sunday at the 4-H fairgrounds. DEL CLARK lends an assist.

—Photos by Paxton Hoag

THE DAILY ASTORIAN Weeken

The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire

[illegible] 39

Astoria, Oregon, Friday, August 23, 1963

Queen Shirley Opens 43rd Astoria Regatta

The 43rd annual Astoria Regatta was officially opened last night by a beautiful, golden-haired queen, Shirley McKnight, and loyal native son Admiral Ed Ross, in as colorful and enthusiastic a ceremony ever to be seen in these parts.

The lovely queen, who was Seaside high school's princess, was crowned by her admiral, Frank Edwin Ross, wsa was born "in the middle of what is now the west end ramp of the Columbia river bridge," whose business and military career took him far from home but who has returned to his birthplace to "be an Astorian again." The Regatta Admiral in his address pointed out that as long as man can remember the [illegible] has been celebrat[illegible] appropriate [illegible] the locality, and that Astoria celebrates "a harvest from the sea." But it is only right to remember that Astoria was founded by rugged individuals who conquered the land, he said, and that our forests had a great deal to do with early day harvests. It is therefore fitting and proper that we include the dedication of Lewis and Clark's Fort Clatsop during this Regatta. "After 39 years away from Astoria, I'm glad to be home," he concluded

Queen Astoria-Born

Queen Shirley, a striking blond of the Grace Kelly type, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A McKnight, whose mink ranch and home is at West Lake where Queen Shirley has lived since she was born in Astoria, July 15, 1945 She is a 1963 graduate of Seaside high school and plans to enroll at Clatsop college this fall to major in business. She has a sister Barbara, a student at Oregon State university, and a younger brother Bill, both present at the coronation

Following the placing of the sparkling crown of brilliants on [illegible] golden bouffant hair-do by Admiral Ross, Mayor Harry Steinbock presented her with her glittering rhinestone scepter, and last year's stately Regatta Queen Susan Hendrickson Workman, who had just ended her reign, gave her an armload of red roses.

The processional of the queen and her court followed exciting moments when the judges tallied their votes and the royal robes were placed on a "near-swooning" princess behind closed doors. Little flower girls Melinda York and Jane Roeser, in bouffant skirted frocks of pastel green organdy, strewed rose petals along the processional way, followed by Darcy Urell and Bruce Johnson, scepter and crown bearer, respectively. Pages holding the queen's purple train were Tim Isaacson and Charles Lindstrom.

Princesses and Escorts

Next in line came the seven princesses and their escorts, each of whom had introduced his princess in glowing terms during the first part of the program. These, in order, were Sally Blissett, and Jim Fawcett, Star of the Sea; Pamela See and Keith Soukkala, Warrenton; Vicky Wright, and Ken Wellman, Astoria; Hazel Palmrose, and Richard Workman, Knappa; Imogene Slanger and Jim Leicht, Jewell; and Ann Williams and Greg Jacobs, Astoria

Queen Shirley's escort, Jolly Steele of Seaside, escorted the Regatta Court chaperone Mrs Deskin Bergey for the coronation processional and recessional, when his princess walked with Admiral Ross. Previous to this, the admiral was flanked by Charles Farmer and Bill Ohlmann, past Regatta association presidents, and Mrs. Bergey had been escorted by Bill Wilson, court chairman of the Regatta association. Mrs. Charles Gustafson, skipper of the Anchor club, had Mayor Steinbock for escort.

Striking Stage Setting

The stage setting, arranged by the Anchor club, in charge of the coronation featured a giant throne, topped by a domed canopy on

(Continued on Page 2)

Finnish Consul Gen. Guest Of Honor For Banquet Here Sun.

Tuure Mentula, Finish consul general for the western U.S with headquarters in San Francisco, will be guest of honor and main speaker for a Finnish Brotherhood grand lodge banquet Sunday at the Cinders

The banquet will highlight a weekend meeting here of officers of the grand lodge.

William Seeborg, secretary of the Astoria lodge, said about 25 officers and their wives are expected.

Mentula is coming here at the invitation of the Astoria lodge. He was to arrive Friday at Portland airport, be met by Dennis Thompson of Astoria, and reach here in time for an informal reception at the Columbia River Maritime museum at 3:30 p.m. by lodge and Regata officials.

Program Arranged

In addition to the banquet, a full three-day program for Mentula has been arranged by Seeborg, a representative of the World Affairs council of Oregon, in cooperation with lodge and Regatta representatives.

The consul general will be grand marshal of the Regatta parade Saturday afternoon, attend the smorgasette and speak at the band show at Gyro field Saturday night.

Mentula, his hosts Seeborg and Thompson, Regatta Admiral Ed Ross, his aide Roy Duoos and Regatta President Al Iverson will be dinner guests Friday night of Cmdr George Lewis aboard the navy icebreaker Burton Island, which is paying a Regata week visit to Astoria.

To Attend Barbecue

Mentula will also attend the salmon barbecue Sunday afternoon and various other activities. He leaves for San Francisco Monday

Lodge officers headed by President Rulolph Laulainen of Longview will come from California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia for the annual meeting. Grand lodge officers met here several years ago, Seeborg said.

Walter Anderson, Astoria lodge president, is vice-president of the grand lodge

Meetings are scheduled Saturday and Sunday at Suomi hall.

'I Crown You Queen of Regattaland'

Regatta Admiral Frank Ed Ross, who returned to make his home in his native Astoria after 39 years, places crown of brilliants on blond tresses of Queen of the 1963 Regatta. Shirley McKnight of Seaside at the coronation ceremonies last night in the Armory, officially opening Astoria's annual Regatta, which is now in full swing for three fun-packed days. In lower picture, taken as royal purple robes were placed on her shoulders first inkling of selection of queen, Shirley, even "in shock" proves to be a beauty.

National Park Service Director to Speak At Fort Ceremonies

Fort Clatsop National Memorial park, culmination of a five-year National Park service project, will be dedicated Sunday at 2 p.m.

Featured speaker for the ceremonies will be Conrad L Wirth, director of the National Park service.

Regatta Queen Shirley McKnight will cut the ribbon at the visitor center, one of the park service projects at Fort Clatsop, to climax the dedication program

Parking for 700 cars during Fort Clatsop dedication ceremonies Sunday afternoon will be provided in fields adjacent to Fort Clatsop, according to Superintendent Charles Peterson.

The fields have been mowed and staked.

Lions, Jaycees, the Clatsop sheriff's posse, state police and National Park service personnel will direct traffic and assist with parking.

Persons attending the dedication will have an opportunity to inspect the grounds and buildings, Peterson said.

The ceremonies will be broadcast live by station KAST.

Charles L. Peterson, Fort Clatsop superintendent, will be master of ceremonies

Also to Speak

Also speaking will be Chandler P. Brown, president of the Oregon Historical society, and Sen. Maurine Neuberger, whose late husband, Richard Neuberger, first envisioned a national park at Fort Clatsop

Congressman Walter Norblad had also been scheduled to speak but announced earlier this week that he would be unable to attend.

The Astoria high school band will provide musical selections under direction of Ted Marshll, the 104th infantry, army reserve, headed by Capt. William Anderson will present and retire the colors and the Rev. Orval Whitman of Astoria's First Methodist church will give the invocation and benediction.

Seating for 500

About 2,000 to 3,000 people are expected to view the ceremonies, including 500 invited guests for whom seating will be provided for the outdoor program.

Invited guests include members of an Oregon Historical society boat-bus tour from Portland which will bring about 150 persons here Saturday afternoon

Fort Clatsop was proclaimed a national memorial by President Eisenhower in 1958 National Park service personnel arrived [illegible] 1960 Since then the visitor c[illegible] a residence for the park sup[illegible] tendent, utility building, pa[illegible] areas, roads and water-ewer [illegible] have been constructed, trails cleared and other improvements made.

Honors Go To Chinese Drill Team

The grand sweepstakes trophy for competition among units at the Regatta band show Saturday night was awarded to the Chinese Community of Seattle girls drill team, who received the news with squeals and an enthusiasm that had them jumping up and down like antimated dolls.

The 46-girl team, in bright red satin costumes elaborately emblazoned with silver sequins, went through a series of intricate drills that had the well-filled armory in a state of constant applause.

The first place trophy for marching units went to the Ballard Girls drill team of 48 girls in white fringed cowgirl outfits; second place prize went to the Ark Rainbow girls of Seattle drill teams and third place to the Mt Scott Rainbow girls.

In drum corps competition, the Optimist Flamingos of Salem carried off the trophy.

Mollala Group Wins

First place in marching band units was won by the Mollala Buckaroos in jeans and cowboy shirts and hats; and second place trophy was awarded to Iola's accordion band from Milwaukie.

The Portland Scottish Pipe band won the Scottish bagpipe trophy, and a special award went to the wild Cavemen of Grants Pass, who did their "drilling" among the startled and delighted people in the audience.

Barney Keep, of radio station KEX, Portland, was master of ceremonies for the band show which allowed spectators to vent their enthusiasm spent up from the "parade cancelled" news that afternoon, when the heavens opened up and [illegible] showers out hope for the [illegible] cancelation of a Regatta parade is a rare oc-

The Astoria high school band directed by Ted Marshall, played for the opening ceremony and the national anthem, and the American Legion junior drum and bugle corps, state champions, also performed Neither of the local bands was in competition.

Mayor Joins Cavemen

The arrival of Queen Shirley McKnight and her court of princesses, with their chaperone and escorts, added to the festivities, and the unanounced arrival of the Cavemen, who inducted Mayor Steinbock into their mystical order, kept things lively Tuure Mentula, Finnish consul general from San Francisco, was a special guest of honor.

Mayor Steinbock presented the mayor's trophy, Deskin Bergey presented the Pacific Power and Light company trophy, and Tom Orwick handed out the First National Bank trophy. Gene Nelson was chairman of the noisy but entertaining band show.

A crowd estimated at 600 by general chairman Eric Hauke attended Sunday's salmon barbecue at the 4-H Fairgrounds. Hauke said 720 pounds of Columbia river chinook salmon was used. Carl Bondietti was head chef.

Lions club members did most of the work for the anual event with wives and children of club mem[illegible] largely responsible for suc[illegible] [illegible]

Regatta Schedule

FRIDAY

6:30 P.M.—Kiwanis Children's Parade, Commercial Street.

8:00 P.M.—Beachcombers Dance for Adults. Legion Hall.

SATURDAY

10:00 A.M.—Optimist Youth Day, Tapiola Park.

12 Noon—Queen's Luncheon, Astoria High School. Admiral's Luncheon, Cinders Restaurant.

3:00 P.M.—Regatta Parade, Downtown.

4:15 P.M.—Smorgasette, National Guard Armory.

8:00 P.M.—Band Show, Gyro Filed.

SUNDAY

9:00 A.M.—Boat Races, Cullaby Lake. Time trials, 9 A.M. to 12 Noon, races 1-4 P.M.

4-7 P.M.—Salmon Barbecue, 4-H Fairgrounds.

A Lovely Queen

Astoria's 1963 Regata Queen, Shirley McKnight, smiles at her applauding subjects of Regattaland after the crowning ceremony Thursday night. She is the daughter of mink ranchers Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McKnight, West Lake, near Seaside. Lower picture proves that, even "in shock" Queen Shirley is a beauty.

64-Unit Parade Set For Saturday, 3 p.m.

A 64-unit parade will wind through downtown Astoria Saturday starting at 3 p.m. from 5th and Marine drive

The parade will follow Marine drive to 8th turn south to Commercial and follow Commercial and Marine drive to 20th where it will disband in the vicinity of the 4-H fair grounds

Police Chief G. T. Arrington said parked cars will be [illegible] from W. Marine and Marine drive from W. Bond to 8th street, from Commercial between 8th and 17th streets and from Exchange street from 7th to 8th. Traffic will be routed via Exchange street.

Several streets will be closed and marked with barricades and signs. The police department will be forced to tow away and impound any vehicles left in these areas, Arrington said.

First Aid Available

During the parade, a first station will be set up at 11th and Commercial. The reviewing stand will be at the intersection of 14th and Commercial

Extra caution and cooperation from spectators was urged by Arrington, particularly when moving in the roadway to watch the parade as it passes.

He said any change of vehicular traffic on the one-way grid pattern will prevail as the parade ends and until traffic clears the area and temporary signs can be removed

The Jaycee - sponsored parade will feature floats, marching units, bands and other entries. Trophies will be awarded for top entries Awards for parade entries will be presented during the band show Saturday at 8 p.m. at Gyro field

Parade entries are as follows:

QUEEN'S DIVISION No. 1:

Police Escort, 689th Radar Squad Color Guard, Mt. Hebo, Mariners Drum and Bugle Corps, [illegible] Mentula, Grand Marshal, [illegible] General, Mayor and Mrs. [illegible] Steinbock, Astoria, [illegible] Mrs. Maurice Pysher, [illegible] Anchor Drill Team, Astoria [illegible] ta Queen Court, Astoria [illegible] Chaperone, Mrs. Deskin [illegible] Anchor Skipper, Mrs. Charl[illegible] Gustafson, Junior Regatta Court, Astoria High School Band, Mac-ettes, McMinnville, Jeanne Maddox Dancers, Elks Lodge No. 180, Sunset Empire Square Dance Council

ADMIRAL'S DIVISION 2

Royal Rosarians, Admiral of the Regatta, Ed Ross, Armiral's aide

(Continued on Page 2)

Thursday, August 29, 1963

LIONS CLUB MEMBERS and families were responsible for the success of the SALMON BARBECUE, closing regatta festivities Sunday night. According to general chairman ERIC HAUKE, about 600 enjoyed the feast; this view of loyal salmon devotees was snapped of the eager early birds in the afternoon.

GETTING BACK ABOARD—there were spills and thrills a'plenty for the spectators of the boat program at Cullaby Lake Sunday.

The treasury's school savings program, now getting underway for the new school year, is the "junior" version of the U.S. Savings Bond program. It is fundamentally an educational program to promote thrift and good personal money management among young Americans

Finnish Consul Returns To S.F. After Busy Visit

Tuure Mentula, Finnish consul general for the western U.S., left for his home headquarters in San Francisco on Monday after a busy weekend in Astoria

Mentula's visit was arranged by William Seeborg, representative of the World Council of Oregon, in cooperation with the Finnish Brotherhood and regatta officials.

After an informal reception at the Columbia River Maritime Museum Friday afternoon, Mentula joined regatta officials as dinner guets of Commander George H. Lewis aboard the USS Burton Island, one of the Navy's regatta visitors.

Highlight of the distinguished visitor's weekend was the Finnish Brotherhood grand lodge banquet Sunday night at the Cinders where Mentula was guest of honor and principal speaker. Grand lodge officers from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia including grand lodge president Walter Anderson, Astoria, concluded their weekend meeting with the Sunday night banquet honoring Mentula

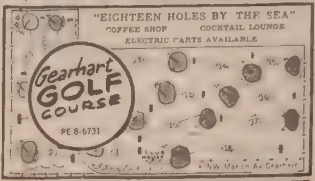
ASTORIA'S OWN MARINERS, state champion American Legion junior drum and bugle corps, thrilled the crowd and showed what made them the Pendleton winner this year. Like the ASTORIA HIGH SCHOOL BAND, who also participated in the regatta band show, the MARINERS, as host musical organizations, did not enter the competition.

USS ST. CLAIRE COUNTY joined the icebreaker USS BURTON ISLAND and destroyer USS WATTS as official Navy visitors to the Astoria Regatta last weekend. Many visitors took advantage of opportunity to see the vessels at first hand

The last major holiday of the summer begins Friday at 6 p.m. Unfortunately, in the past, this has been anything but a holiday from traffic death on Oregon highways. Safety officials again have issued a warning to motorists

The traffic safety division of the Oregon department of motor vehicles notes that last Labor Day weekend six people were killed and 220 were injured in 454 traffic accidents recorded during the 78-hour holiday period

FIX 'EM UP NOW
FOR
BACK-TO-SCHOOL
Expert Orthopedic Correctional Work
the COBBLER SHOP
1121 COMMERCIAL ASTORIA



"EIGHTEEN HOLES BY THE SEA"
COFFEE SHOP COCKTAIL LOUNGE
ELECTRIC CARTS AVAILABLE
Gearhart GOLF COURSE
PE 8-6731

---

regon, Friday, August 23, 1963

Shirley McKnight Chosen

(Continued from Page 1)

stage, flanked on either side by mammoth arrangements of gladioli. Adding to the color of the ceremony were the dresses of the princesses, in light green, ruffles cascading down the back of the full skirts, with which they carried nosegays of yellow and white carnations. Mrs. Bergey's gown complemented the court's dresses in darker green velvet with floating Dior panel from the shoulder in a lighter green chiffon.

The colors were raised by the Coast Guard, after some difficulty with the halyards (through no fault of the Coast Guard): Dan Hall traditionally led the singing of the national anthem and the invocation was given by the Rev. James Martin of the First Baptist church

High School Band Performs

Background music and the processionals were played by the Astoria high school band under the direction of Ted Marshall During the intermission, when the judges' were deciding the queenship, the band kept up a lively concert of popular music for the crowd's entertainment with an added bit of novelty from the band's combo in striped blazers and rah-rah hats

This year's performance was marked by several changes for the better in the evening's performance. The Anchor club's drill team and Regatta vice-admirals, marched in on each side of the auditorium, forming a "flying wedge" on each far aisle instead of up the middle aisle, giving the crowd a better opportunity to view the line of marches of the court and VIP's up the center. Mrs. John Cederberg of the Anchor club, was chairman of the coronation, escorted by Al Iverson, president of the Regatta association.

Notable in the audience were the officers of the USS Burton Island, Navy ice-breaker, here for the Regatta, who attended in dress blues with short white jackets, white gloves and caps, and all the gold braid.

Also notable was the crowd, bigger and more enthusiastic than in previous years.

64 Units in Sat. Parade

(Continued from Page 1)

Roy Duoos, Regatta Association [illegible] Al Iverson, Miss Astor[illegible] Salo, Miss Seaside Jan Ordway, 1962 Regatta [illegible], Susan Hendrickson W[illegible] 1901 Regatta Queen, Ivy B. Archer Portland Scottish Pipe Band, Beta Mu Theta Rho Girls and float, Pacific Power & Light Company float, Salem Cherrians, Christmas Caravan, Covered Wagon Vancouver, Mrs Henningsgaard, Senior Citizen, Women of the Moose Queen, Portland, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Portland.

CAPTAIN'S DIVISION 3

Iola's Accordian Band, Milwaukie, Ballard Girls Marching Group, Seattle, Pacific Northwest Bell, Kappa Dad's Club, Dave Hoyer's Go-Karts, Flintstones, Olympia Crab Pot, Tillamook Elks Drum & Bugle Corp, Seattle Chinese Community Girls, Bumble Bee Seafoods, Inc., Astoria Clowns Warrenton Jaycesses Float, Milwaukie Unit No 180 Drill Team, Seaside Loggers' Supply.

DIVISION 4:

Clatsop Pipe Band, Grants Pass Cavemen, J J Parker, Liberty Theatre, Ark Assembly No 23 Rainbow Girls, Seattle Gateway Booster, Inc., Portland Garibaldi Fire Department, Flamingos, Salem, U. S Coast Guard Float Clatsop Distributing Company Bill [illegible] Bob Kyle Classic Automobiles

DIVISION 5:

Molalla Buckeroos Mt Scott Rambowettes Clat[illegible] partment Firebells Clatsop County Rodeo Association Queen and Court Historical cars (mans cars) Tree Toppers Longview Dangold Astoria Jaycee Fire Engine.

'63 Regatta Moves Into High Gear

Astoria's 43rd annual Regatta moved into high gear Friday following coronation of Queen Shirley McKnight Thursday night

An event filled weekend looms opening Saturday at 10 a m when local youth are invited to compete in races and games at Tapiola park Optimist youth day, an all day program, features sports events for all ages, including special activities for mothers.

All children competing will receive prizes and special awards will go to winners in each event. Optimist officials predicted a large attendance and said more than $100 worth of merchandise prizes would be distributed

At noon, area women are invited to attend the queen's luncheon at Astoria high school and men the admiral's luncheon at the Cinders restaurant

Luncheon Honors Queen

The queen's luncheon honors Queen Shirley her court, Mrs. Ed Poss, wife of the Regatta admiral junior court girls and their mothers, former Regatta queens and past Regatta chaperones Among former queens attending is expected to be Mrs. Ivy Archer of Portland, queen of the 1901 Regatta

Admiral Ed Ross Regatta officials and Finnish Consul General Tuure Mentula will be on hand for the admiral's luncheon

A large crowd is expected Saturday afternoon for the smorgasette, starting at 4:15 p m at the Armory Chef Glen Omdahl and six assistants are preparing varied menu for the event.

Daughters of Norway Catholic Daughters, square dancers, Theta Rho girls, and Girl Scouts will serve at the smorgasette.

400 Tickets Sold

More than 400 advance tickets for the smorgasette were reported sold earlier this week

Bands participating in the Regatta parade Saturday afternoon will compete at 8 p.m in a band show with Barney Keep of Portland radio station KEX as master of ceremonies. Awards will be presented for top parade entries during the show.

Finale of the 1963 Astoria Regatta will be the Lions club salmon barbecue Sunday from 4-7 p m.

Chef Carl Bondietti, Clatsop county sheriff, will prepare about 600 pounds of salmon to feed an estimated crowd of more than 700 Lions club members and their wives will serve at the barbecue to be held on the 4-H fairgrounds

B[illegible] cole[illegible] rolls, coffee or milk and ice cream will also be served

Boat Races Set Sunday

Runabouts, hydroplanes and ski boats will race Sunday on Cullaby lake in a major Regatta event

Boat races with [illegible] 9 a m to noon and comm[illegible] from 1-4 p m., will be staged by Tri-City Racing association of Corvallis, Lebanon and Salem in conjunction with the Regatta association.

Craft competing in the added ski boat race will represent the racing association The high powered 'board ski boats, a special class in use only about five y[illegible] are primarily used to pull water [illegible]

About 40 runabouts and hy[illegible] planes from the Racing asso[illegible] tion will compete in their classes and some local craft are also expected

Races will be staged at th[illegible] end of Cullaby lake and Regatta officials said permission has be[illegible] obtained from the county cou[illegible] to close the area to the public d[illegible] ing the race

Regatta buttons will provide fre[illegible]

Lo[illegible] during the afternoon intermission Preliminaries will be from 11 [illegible]

Among highlights of the race program will a jump into Cullaby lake by Ray Heald well [illegible] northwest parachute jumper [illegible] jump is also planned during the afternoon intermission

Trophies donated by Wullge[illegible] [illegible] will [illegible] to winners in log rolling competition

Boat race winners will [illegible] trophies, to be awarded in each class

County Has Busy Weekend With Regatta, Fort Clatsop Programs

"I crown you Queen of Regattaland!" were the thrilling words spoken by Frank Ed Ross, admiral of Astoria's 1963 Regatta, as he placed a crown of brilliants on the blond head of Queen Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McKnight, West Lake. The ceremony ended a glittering coronation program Thursday night at the Armory, officially opening the Regatta.

Regatta smorgasette at Astoria Armory drew a large crowd Saturday afternoon. Among those sampling array of food was Queen Shirley McKnight (left). (Astorian Photo).

Mrs. Jerry Hibbard (left) comes to assistance of one of her youngsters during the Kiwanis children's parade Friday evening. The Hibbards' D.N.&E. railroad entry won a blue ribbon in the bicycle division.

A prize winner in the Kiwanis children's parade was this Flintstones of Bedrock entry. From left, facing camera, are Ken Schneider, Sandra Watson, Lynn Schneider and Linda Watson.

As lovely as a fairy queen is Queen Shirley McKnight of Regattaland, shown here shortly after her coronation on stage at the Armory Thursday evening. Mayor Harry Steinbock, advising her to "rule wisely and well," handed her a sparkling rhinestone scepter, and last year's lovely Regatta queen Susan Hendrickson Wakeman, presented her an armload of red roses, after relinquishing the Regatta crown.

Daily Astorian photographer George Burkharts-Meier snapped this photo just as Mrs. John Cederberg, Anchor chairman of the coronation ceremony, placed royal purple robes on shoulders of Shirley McKnight, Seaside princess, immediately after judges' decision was received. Startled expression of queen, when she first learned the news, reveals her beauty even "in shock." The three coronation pictures are re-runs of those that appeared in Daily Astorian "black Friday" edition, when engraving machine suffered mechanical failure and staff suffered.

Among guests for Fort Clatsop National Memorial dedication Sunday afternoon were Thomas Vaughn (left), director of the Oregon Historical society, and Leon Minear, state superintendent of instruction, representing Gov. Mark Hatfield. (Astorian Photo)

ICED COFFEE: A cooler in sizzling weather.

Chatting following Fort Clatsop dedication at Astoria high school are (from left in foreground) State Sen. Dan Thiel, U.S. Senator Maurine Neuberger, Charles Peterson, superintendent of Fort Clatsop National Memorial, and Harlan C. Smith, descendant of homesteaders on Fort Clatsop site. (Photo by Daily Astorian).

Charles Dodge (left), treasurer of Clatsop Historical society, greets Robert C. Scott, public services representative of Oregon Historical society, who made arrangements for society's bus-boat tour from Portland to Astoria for Fort Clatsop dedication Sunday afternoon. The tour group visited points of interest in the area, including a stop at the historical museum where Scott is shown signing guest book. (Astorian Photo).

Shown here during YMCA swim meet at Tapiola Friday are boys in the 10 and younger division as they get a good start in crawl competition. It rained throughout the meet but swimmers didn't mind.

Regatta Queen Shirley McKnight cuts ribbon at Fort Clatsop National Memorial visitor center to climax dedication ceremonies. Astorian Photo).

THE DAILY ASTORIAN Weekend Edition
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol. 91, No. 237 [illegible] Oregon Friday May 29 1964 Single Copies 10¢

Meier, Frank Vice-President To Serve As Regatta Admiral

GERALD W FRANK

Gerald W Frank of Salem, vice-president of Meier and Frank company and general manager of the company's Salem store, will be admiral of the Astoria Regatta, August 28-30.

Announcement that Frank has accepted the appointment was made Thursday by the advisory board of the Regatta association.

Frank, a Portland native, is a fourth generation Oregonian. He is son of a former Regatta admiral, Aaron Frank of Portland who held the title in 1936 Stanford and Loyola of Los Angeles universities and has a master of arts degree from Cambridge university in England

He served in the Army in Europe from 1943 to 1946 during World War II

Frank has been one of Oregon's most active citizens. He is chairman of the governor's advisory committee to the Oregon Department of Planning-Development, is vice-president of the Salem area chamber of commerce and of the Oregon Graduate Center for Study and Research He has been actvie in Boy Scout work, the Salem YMCA, Portland Rose Festival, is a Willamette university trustee, and has many other activities

Frank has won numerous citizenship awards, including a US Junior Chamber of Commerce award as one of Oregon's three outstanding young men in 1957. He was named Salem's junior first citizen the same year, has a Boy Scout Silver Beaver award, and several others

Frank belongs to the Elks lodge, Rotary club, and American Legion.

Regatta Court Pays First Visit To Anchor Club

The five Regatta Princesses and their chaperone Mrs. W[illegible] Larson honored the Anchor club by making their first public appearance as a group at the club's recent meeting.

Each attractive princess gave a talk on a different phase of the Regatta and [illegible] Regatta [illegible] the [illegible] of the year for the Anchor club members. Various reports were given highlighting such functions as the coronation of the Regatta Queen to be held at the Astoria high school auditorium Friday August 28 and the Queen's luncheon featuring baked salmon to be held in the high school cafeteria the following day. The [illegible] have been selected for the court also.

Under other business Mrs. David [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] were appointed co-chairmen of a fund-raising project.

A special prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Austin Magill.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with blue and white flowers and glittered butterflies while individual [illegible] featured [illegible] sailboats and candies and rhododendron.

Hostesses were the Mesdames [illegible] George Niemi and Donald Hoyer.

To Chaperone Court

MRS. WILLIAM H. LARSON (Ball Photo)

Mrs. Larson Named Regatta Chaperone

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Mrs. William H. (Inga) Larson has been appointed to the position of guardian of a royal family, according to an announcement of the Astoria Regatta association, which has named her official court chaperone for the summer

Mrs. Larson assumed her new and important office for the first time last night, when she accompanied the five attractive young high school graduates to the meeting of the Anchor club, at which the court members were special guests of honor, making their first appearance in a body since the night of their selection

The Anchor club traditionally, since its founding many years ago, has acted as escorts of the Regatta court, managing the Regatta court tea, the coronation of the queen and the luncheon in her honor

This year's chaperone, who was as "happy and honored" by being chosen official chaperone as her younger charges were on being elected to the court, is "almost" a native Astorian She was born in Telluride, Colo., (near Leadville and Grand Junction she explained), but came to Astoria with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs Michael Seppa, when she was just a year old She graduated [illegible] Astoria high school and then attended the business college here, later working at the Van Dusen Insurance agency

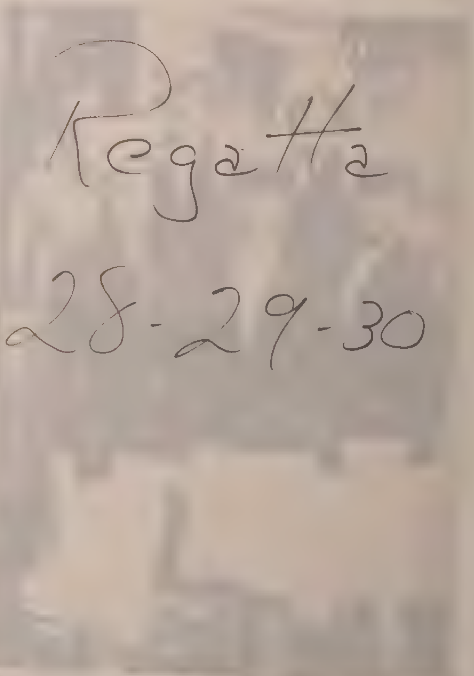
Her husband is in the bent grass seed business and in Mutual Funds investments They have a son William Jr who is [illegible] charge of sales for Bumble Bee Safoods Inc., and a daughter Mrs. Clifford (Doris) Crandall who lives in Denver, Colo. Also she is a grandmother six times, one of the modern school grandmothers who look just old enough to have children of high school age

The Larsons live in the old Seppa farmhouse on the banks of the winding Lewis and Clark river, with green meadows stretching beyond But the original house, almost 100 years old, Mrs Larson said, has been enlarged, remodelled and modernized, still retaining much of the charm and gracious atmosphere of the old home.

Despite the fact that Inga Larson is major domo of her large home in the country, she has found time to take an interested part in community activities and organization. Beside having served as an officer in Netel grange for many years, she is a past president of the Astoria chapter Daughters of the Nile, a past matron of Fern chapter, Order of Eastern Star and of Fern Social club, has served on numerous community drives and is a working member of the Presbyterian church

Now, with her most recent office, she is still contributing to the good of her community. For, despite the honor, thrills and fun connected with her job as court chaperone through all the festivities of the coming Regatta season in August, her duties will entail seeing to the health, welfare and steady nerves of a queen and four princesses, a big contribution to community service in any woman's language.

Court F[illegible] at Luncheon



1964 Regatta
Aug 28-29-30

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire

Vol 92, No 4 Astoria, Oregon Monday July [illegible]964 Single Copies 10c

Parade Features Regatta Royalty

The five Astoria Regatta princesses made their first public parade appearance in the Warrenton Independence Day parade and got a hearty cheer from the many Astorians along the parade route. From left, they are Ginny Sagen, Lorraine Johansen, Zoe Vonna Palmrose, Lucile Johansen and Mary Carol Miles.

8000 View Parade, Highlight Of Warrenton '4th' Festival

MISS INDEPENDENCE, TANYA ROUNDY

WARRENTON — Warrenton's Fourth of July celebration began with arrival of a Coast Guard helicopter Friday and a dance in the evening at the IOOF which featured coronation of Tanya Roundy as Miss Independence of 1964

The event drew about 8,000 people Saturday to watch the parade and afternoon events at the grade school grounds after a large crowd had watched water sports at the mooring basin in the morning

Polewalking and tub races provided amusement for the spectators and many duckings for contensants in the water sports, as did a logrolling contest which resulted in a win Richard Perkins of Knappa Miss Independence and princesses Mary Ann D'Agostino, Donna Little, Peggy Lane and Linda Manke, watched as Comdr. Robert Lawliss, USCG, presented trophies to Perkins and to Keith Dyer of Warrenton who was second. Many of the crowd also visited the helicopter which was on display in downtown Warrenton and a Coast Guard vessel which held open house in the mooring basin A feature of the morning was a demonstration in which the helicopter piloted by Lt. Sauer, USCG, landed in the basin and a crewman entered the water—the helicopter then took off, circled the basin and, after the man in the water set off an orange smoke signal, dropped a line to him and he was hauled aboard as the craft hovered overhead.

Thiel Honor Guest

Sen. Dan Thiel was guest of honor for the hour-long parade which was headed by "Uncle Sam," a U S. Air Force color guard from Mt Hebo and the grand marshal, Comdr Lawliss, commander of the Coast Guard helicopter base at Tongue Point. The parade followed a longer route this year, starting at the approach to the new Youngs Bay bridge and going to the grade school grounds where the flag was raised by the USAF color guard Comdr Lawliss presented trophies to winners in the four divisions of the parade before afternoon events began Divisions and winners were as follows: government departments, first, USAF color guard from Mt Hebo, second, tank unit from Camp Rilea; commercial, first, Pacific Power and Light; second, Warrenton Florist; non-commercial, first, Beta Mu Theta Rho girls club; second, Birkholz Sisters; and bands, first, Portland Scottish Bagpipers, second, Iola accordion band of Milwaukie.

Old fashioned games for all [illegible] began the afternoon festivities at the grade school grounds with a greased pole which defied the climbing efforts of many youngsters almost all afternoon, a tug-of-war and an egg-throwing contest. They were followed by a jump by two skydivers who made perfect landings on the field. The helicopter, which was parked on the field all afternoon, presented a second demonstration of rescue techniques This was followed by a display of motorcycle stunt riding by the Flying Chinooks of Astoria which included a ride through a wall of fire by Dick Springer.

Pigs In Race

The annual Pig-and-Ford race climaxed the celebration. This begins with the contenstants catching a small pig in a pen, after which they hang on to the pig while driving Model A Fords around the track, changing pigs at the end of the third and sixth laps and returning the pigs to the pen at the end of the ninth lap. David (Pogo) Moffatt was winner and John Stratton placed second Keith Dyer, who finished ahead of Stratton, disqualified himself as he had accidentally gone inside one of the course markers. Several imprompute races concluded the afternoon events, and in the last of these Lowell Smotherman and Gary Culp challenged the car drivers to a race against the horses. The challange was accepted and, with Richard (Bud) Haskell and Ken Goudy driving cars and all four contestans carrying pigs, the race was on. Both horses finished before the cars.

Byron Olsen of Tillamook, a former Warrenton resident, was master of ceremonies and Richard Davis was general chairman for the celebration which drew the largest crowd in the seven years it has been sponsored by the Warrenton Area Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes.

Fireworks Viewed

SEASIDE — Seaside's Fourth of July crowd was large, but judged orderly and "sane," with more than 5000 people watching the Jaycees fireworks display on the beach Saturday night.

Watchers lined the Prom, north and south, with hundreds grouped around beach bonfires The fireworks, set off by the Seaside volunteer firemen, provided a 25-minute illumination of beach and ocean, where nu-

Continued on Page 3

Sally Salmon, Court in Parade

Miss Sally Salmon and her princesses dressed up in their best finery Saturday to ride in the July 4 parade at Warrenton. From left, Sheryl Emory, Skamokawa Sue Anderson, Astoria; Queen Sherry Pedersen, Puget Island; Joy Barendse, Knappa; Sandy Jolma, Clatskanie. The girls will appear in many parades and festivals this summer

---

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Friday, July 10, 1964

Regatta Court Feted at Luncheon

Regatta princesses were honored guests at a luncheon given Thursday by the women of Zonta. Pictured in front of Woody's restaurant are (back row, from left) Mrs. William Larson, chaperone; Virginia Sagen, Zoe Vonna Palmrose, (front row Mary Carol Miles, Lorraine Johansen and Lucille Johansen

Completes Regatta Court

MARY CAROL MILES

Star Sea Princess Chief's Descendant

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Fifth and last member of the 1964 Astoria Regatta court of princesses is Miss Mary Carol Miles daughter of Mrs. Roscoe Miles, and a June graduate of Star of the Sea high school.

This member of Astoria's royal family has a nice singing voice and sang with the "Rockettes," a senior girls' quartet at her school. But Princess Mary Carol has no aspirations to pursue a musical career Instead, she will enroll at Pacific Beauty school in Portland in the fall and someday, maybe, have a beauty shop of her own.

Surprisingly enough, (for a princess) she actually likes housework, likes to cook and makes quite a few of her own clothes Her very favorite sport is golfing, but, she confessed, she is "just learning."

She has an older sister, Mrs Gerald (Maurine) Minsker, who lives here; another older sister Joy, a student at Seattle university, who was a princess in the Astoria Sesquicentennial court in 1961; and a younger brother Ross, a freshman at Star of the Sea high school

There is a quiet charm to this fifth princess, who stands five-feet-two-and-a-half, which seems to be an average height for princesses these days. Her hair is dark brown, her eyes repeat the same shade and therein lies a story, of which Princess Carol is very proud, as well she might be

Long ago, on the banks of the mighty river of the west, there was an Indian Chief Concomly, head of all the Chinook tribes, respected by all the other tribes of the northwest and by the white men as well, who had come to these shores Many descendants of this Chinook chief reside in the lower Columbia area, and one of these is Mary Carol Miles, his great, great great, great, great granddaughter, a true princess in her own right.

Joins Festival Court

ZOE VONNA PALMROSE

4th Princess Ready For Regatta Events

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Fourth of the 1964 Regatta princesses to step up for an introduction to the merry world of Regatta is Zoe Vonna Palmrose, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Palmrose, and, like the other three members of the Regatta court previously introduced, a 1964 graduate of Astoria high school.

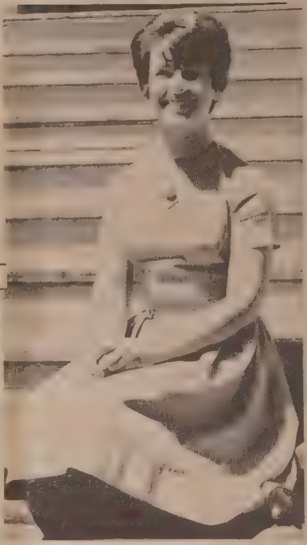
Princess Zoe Vonna was born in Portland, November 21, 1946, but she moved here with her parents when she was only four years old, so she has received all her education here, so far She will enroll at Clatsop college in the fall and later at OSU to start her training as a pharmacist. This may have something to do with the reason Princess Zoe Vonna is working at Steinbock's pharmacy this summer and part-time this winter

Although this serious-minded princess has chosen a career that requires such intricacies as chemistry and its allied sciences, there is a lighter side to her nature, which was revealed in a twinkle to those blue-green eyes behind scholarly horn-rimmed glasses when she was asked "how many brothers and sisters?" She paused a minute, and the twinkle started "Diantha, Steven, Tom, Janice, Marjorie, Frank and Donald," she rattled off. It was then disclosed that all was not such serious thought as scientific formulas and chemical problems in this ash blond head. At home, in the large ("It has to be!") Palmrose house just behind the high school, there is never a dull [illegible] with eight young Palm[illegible] around And it [illegible] nece[illegible] to ask if she is [illegible]

[illegible] job [illegible] of college and a career as a pharmacist, what else does this princess like to do? Water [illegible] and [illegible] keep her five-foot-five [illegible] figure trim. Not much for such activities this summer however For Regatta time last week in Astoria is just a little more than a month away and a [illegible] life for a Regatta princess is growing busier and more exciting by the day

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol 92, No 10 A toria, Orego Tuesday, July 14, 1964 Single Copies 10c

Regatta Princess



LORRAINE RAE JOHANSEN

Princess Lorraine 1 Of Royal Twins

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

It's time again, good citizens of Regatta land, to be introduced to your 1964 Regatta court, and the first pretty girl to be announced by the Regatta association is Lorraine Rae Johansen.

The daughter of Mrs. Ethel Johansen, Youngs River, Princess Lorraine is a shapley little 5-feet-one-and-a-half inches, and that one-half inch is mighty important, incidentally, which will be explained later.

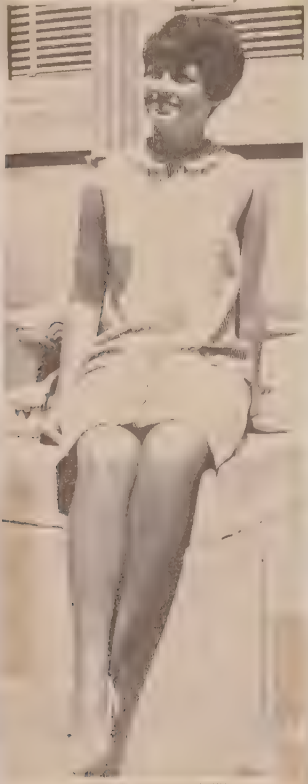
A native of Astoria, she was born June 22, 1946, and her eyes are brown, like her short cropped hair, but they light up when she smiles, as she does when water sports are mentioned, or French fries. But there is more than just surfing and goodies in this pretty head, for Princess Lorraine enjoys reading and serious discussions She hopes after the summer is over, she will attend Clatsop college which is one good reason why she is working part time at J C Penney and company store

At home there are two cats and she has two sisters one older, Jacquie who works in Dr Jon Parpala's office, and Lucille who is neither older nor younger That's right she's a twin! And that's why that one-half inch is so important But more of that later when you meet twin sister Princess Lucille also a member of the Regatta court Two from the same family the same year? Well, what else could the students in the graduating class at Astoria high school do, when it came time to select the Regatta court? Settle for one pretty twin No one could

---

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Astoria, Oregon, Wednesday, July 15, 1964

Festival Royalty



LUCILLE HELEN JOHANSEN

Second Twin Joins Court For Regatta

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

The next Regatta princess to step into the spotlight for an introduction to all the people of this vacation land is Princess Lucille Helen Johansen. And, just to keep the record straight, this is not the same girl whose picture appeared in yesterday's edition, although there is a marked resemblance, as well there might be between twins

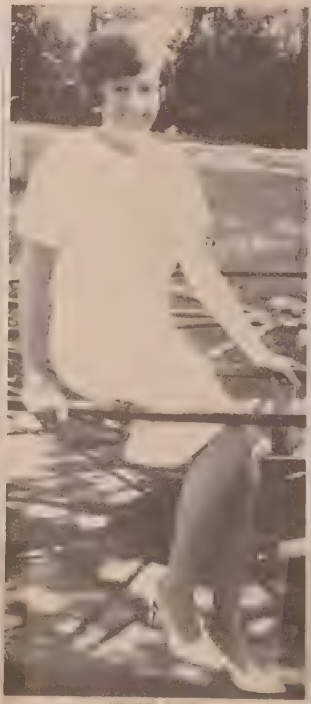
For this second pretty member of the Astoria 1964 Regatta court is also the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Johansen, Youngs River

There is, naturally, much repetition in the biographies of these twin daughters of Mrs. Ethel (Billie) Johansen and the late Kaakon Johansen. For instance, it would be difficult to imagine them not being born in the same place (Astoria), or on the same day, (June 22 1946,) which they were. It would have posed a problem for them not to attend the same schools (Lewis and Clark district 5 and then Astoria high, graduating together this June). And they both hope to enroll at Clatsop college in the school of liberal arts this fall. They share the same older sister Jacquelyn, and two cats at home, "Runt" and "Little One," both like water sports and surfing at Indian beach and the two have been entertaining clubs and organizations through the years as veritable dancing dolls, for they have attended dancing school ever since they were little ones.

But there is a difference between these two almost identical twins. Princess Lucille's eyes are a sparkling Norwegian blue under her fringe of brown hair Princess Lucille is a little more on the quiet side than her sister when out in company, although this is not distinguishable when they are together at home Also, (and here comes the big difference,) Princess [illegible] is one-half inch taller than her five-feet-one-and-a-half twin, making [illegible] two

---

3rd Member of Court



VIRGINIA SAGEN

Princess Virginia Is Real Homemaker

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

May we present Miss Virginia (Ginny) Sagen, third member of the 1964 Regatta court, asks the Regatta association, and exciting as it is to meet royalty, it's also nice to know Princess Ginny.

For the daughter of Stanley Sagen is as friendly a member of royalty as you'd find anywhere Born in Astoria December 12, 1946, she attended Central school and just graduated from Astoria high, planning to enroll at a beauty school in Portland this fall.

She likes boating on the Columbia, but hasn't had a chance to fish yet, but she hopes to soon, and, like the other two princesses alreardy introduced, Lorraine and Lucille Johansen, she loves swimming, water skiing and surfing At home, Princess Ginny is a real little homemaker (not by her own admission, but by enthusiastic admission from the members of her family). "Dad is the chef. I just get things ready and help clean up later," she explained But the other Sagens say that Ginny does more than her share of keeping house, washing and ironing for younger brothers Jerry, a sophomore at Astoria high, Milton (Squeaky), a sixth-grader at Central school, and little sister Wendy, a fifth grader. An older sister Judy is a student at Pacific university.

Their black cocker spaniel, Speck, is "pretty old," 15 years, in fact, and there is a cat ("But we won't talk about that,") she giggled for some secret reason.

Five-feet-five she stands, with her brown hair framing two merry brown eyes. That's Princess Ginny!

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS
44th ANNUAL
ASTORIA REGATTA

AUGUST 27th

6:30 KIDDIES PARADE - Downtown

AUGUST 28th

4:00-6:00 p.m. WELCOME ADMIRAL, Aboard Lightship Columbia at East End Mooring Basin
8:00 p.m. QUEEN'S CORONATION—Astoria High School

AUGUST 29th

11:00 a.m. INTER-NATIONAL CORNER—12th and Commercial
12:00 noon QUEEN'S LUNCHEON—Astoria High School
12:00 noon MEN'S NO HOST LUNCH—Cinders
2:00 p.m. BRIDGE DEDICATION—Young's Bay Bridge
4:00 p.m. GRAND PARADE—Downtown
9:00 p.m. TEEN DANCE—Armory

AUGUST 30th

EAST END MOORING BASIN
9:30 a.m. MARINE PARADE
10:00 a.m. BLESSING OF THE FLEET—Dr. Gross
10:30 a.m. RAINIER SKI BEES
10:45 a.m. GERRY FRANK
11:00 a.m. GEAR DEMO:
Gillnet - Drag - Troller - Crab Fish - Snag Pulling
11:30 a.m. BOAT RACES:
a. O - 150 HP
b. 150 - 225 HP
c. Unlimited
12:00 noon BALLOON RACE

CULLABY LAKE: CORVALLIS AQUA-THUSIAST
9:00-11:30 a.m. TIME TRIALS
1:00-4:00 p.m. RACES

TRAIN FROM PORTLAND ARRIVES AT 11:00 a.m.—S.P.&S. Depot
1:30 to 6:00 LION'S CLUB SALMON BARBECUE—4-H Fairgrounds

BUY A BUTTON---SUPPORT THE REGATTA

August 27-28-29-30, 1964

44th Annual Astoria Regatta

Commission

PURSUANT TO GENERAL ORDERS issued by the Admiral of the 44th Annual Astoria Regatta, be it known that

. . . being found duly qualified, is hereby commissioned, with all special rights and privileges, a Rear Admiral

. . . of the 44th Annual Astoria Regatta, and is hereby being instructed to report for active duty on the 28th day of August, 1964, at Latitude 46° 11′ North, Longitude 123° 51′ West, for assignment to his special command. Dated this First Day of August, Nineteen Hundred Sixty-Four.

Gerald W. Frank
GERALD W. FRANK
Admiral
Astoria Regatta

[illegible] ZAKRZEWSKI
[illegible]
Astoria Regatta Association

Thursday, July 16, 1964 The COLUMBIA PRESS

REGATTA PRINCESSES who spoke at the Zonta Club luncheon last Thursday are shown with their chaperone, Mrs. William Larson, front row, who is standing between the Johansen twins, Lucille and Lorraine. Back row, from left, ZoVanna Palmrose, Ginny Sagen, and Mary Carol Miles.

International Corner Planned For Regatta

A taste of the "old country" will be open to the public during the day of the regatta grand parade, Aug. 29. Plans are being completed for an International Corner to be open from 11 to 6 at 14th and Commercial in the former Bjorklund building.

Eighteen exhibits from other lands are already signed up for display in the basement while international delicacies and coffee will be served by costumed women on the first floor

The International Corner will benefit a deficit in the educational fund for the Clatsop County Association for Retarded Children

Regatta Princesses Speak To Zontas

"Our regatta princesses are talented, capable, cooperative and very sweet!" These were the proud words of Mrs. William Lason Sr., regatta chaperone, as she introduced this year's court at their first luncheon speaking engagement before the Astoria Zonta club last Thursday at the Lamplighter.

Each vivacious princess spoke of a part of the coming regatta events.

Lucille Johansen told of the coronation which will tell us which princess will become the 1964 queen, to be held Aug. 28 at 8 p.m. at Astoria high school.

Mary Carol Miles told about the kiddies' parade which will be looked forward to by all the youngsters of the area Aug. 27 at 6:30 p.m.

ZoVanna Palmrose spoke about the regatta's boating events which will begin at the east end boat basin Aug. 30 at 9:30 a.m. with the blessing of the fleet and the crowning of Sally Salmon and will continue on the waterfront of Astoria and at Cullaby lake for two days.

Lorraine Johansen told of the grand regatta parade in downtown Astoria and will bring floats and marchers from near and far.

Ginny Sagen told of the hootenanny at the armory at 8 p.m. Saturday, and will feature talented performers with audience participation for a fun-filled evening of music with a dance following. The annual salmon barbecue follows the next day, Sunday 4-7 p.m. at the 4-H fairgrounds.

The princesses were neatly dressed in their official suits of white skirt, blue jacket and jaunty white straw hats. Vice president Sally Leino expressed the appreciation of the Zonta club as a service organization for the princesses' service in publicizing the coming regatta.

Frank Gets Certificate As Admiral

Chester Zakrzewski, Astoria Regatta association president gave a bronze plaque with a certificate of appointment as Regatta admiral of 1964 to Gerald Frank of Salem Monday in that city.

Zakrzewski was accompanied to Salem by Mayor Harry Steinbock, ex-Mayor Pet[illegible] and D. O Bergey They formally confirmed Frank's appointment as admiral

Frank is manager of the Salem store of Meier and Frank company and chairman of the state Planning-Development department

The local men also discussed industrial prospects for this area with Frank

---

Barbey Appointed Aide To Admiral For Regatta Here

GRAHAM BARBEY

Appointment of Graham Barbey as official aide to Regatta Admiral Gerald Frank of Salem was announced this week by the Regatta association.

Barbey's duties will be to ensure that the admiral gets to the right places at the right time on his busy Regatta schedule, that transportation and other needs are provided for him

C. J. Zakrzewski, Regatta chairman, said the custom of appointing a staff of rear admirals from various parts of the Northwest is being revived this year More than 200 commissions have been mailed to prominent Northwest citizens this week.

Rear admiral commissions to various local citizens will be distributed later.

Detailed plans for the Regatta are being formed as rapidly as possible, Zakrzewski said The annual festival will be held August 28-30 this year

---

Regatta Button Sale Starts Today

8-17-64

"Regatta Booster Buttons will go on sale today," announced Kirk Tibbetts, Regatta publicity chairman, Monday. The buttons are being sold by the local American Legion Drum and Bugle corps and will remain on sale until August 30. Authorized salesmen will be wearing corps uniforms.

Proceeds from sale of the booster buttons will be divided between the Drum Corps and the Regatta association. In return for selling the buttons the Regatta association will allow the corps to keep part of the profit to go toward purchasing new uniforms.

The local group known as the Mariners, has been Oregon state champion drum and bugle corps since 1962. Since that time the corps has travelled more than 27,000 miles to play for various events and spread goodwill for Astoria.

Anchor Club Logs Plans For Regatta

Final Regatta plans were heard at the recent meeting of the Anchor club held at its headquarters, the yacht club.

First on the Regatta schedule of events concerning the Anchors will be the tea honoring the Regatta court of five princesses and their chaperone, which is hosted by the Anchor club. This will be held Saturday, August 15, at the yacht club, will be nautical in theme and is open to all residents of the area and their guests in town for the Regatta

Reports were also made on coronation of the Regatta queen and the luncheon honoring the queen. The latter event will be held at Astoria high school Saturday, August 29. Reservations may be made by calling either Mrs. George A. Niemi, Mrs. William Malmberg, or Mrs. Arthur Johanson.

At a previous Anchor meeting, Miss Margaret Shannon, Girl State representative from Knappa, was guest speaker

Hostesses for the evening were the Mesdames David Thorsness, Evor Kumpala, Robert Ryding and Malmberg.

Refreshments were served from a hydrangea and taper centered table

---

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Monday, July 27, 1964

Attack Transport to Dock Here for Regatta

The Navy attack transport Union AKA-106 will visit Astoria for the 44th annual Regatta, August 28-30, the Regatta association announced today. The Union, 459 feet long, displaces more than 14,000 tons and has a 63 foot beam. The ship has a complement of 260 enlisted men and 26 officers. AKA—amphibious attack cargo ship, is a combatant vessel designed to transport and land all types of material required for the support of an amphibious assault on an enemy beach. The AKA's main "battery" is its boats, which do all the important job of getting the gear on the beach. The Union can carry eight LCM's, six LCVP's and two LCPL's. The Union was born of World War II in which amphibious operations played a major part. It was commissioned in Hoboken, N.J., April 25, 1945. The Union arrived in the South Pacific just prior to the close of World War II and participated in the landing of the first occupation forces on the Islands of Japan. In 1950 it was on hand when hostilities commenced in Korea. Captain of the Union is Captain William E. Betzer and executive officer is Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Hauber.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol. 92, No. 31 Astoria, Oregon, Wednesday, August 12, 1964 Single Copies 10c

Youngs Bay Bridge Opening, Dedication Set August 29

Ceremony To Be Part Of Regatta

The Youngs Bay bridge will be opened and formally dedicated Saturday, August 29, William Holmstrom, chairman of the Senate and House Highway Interim committee, announced today. The short ceremonies will be a part of the annual Regatta pageantry

Victor Wolf, of the state highway department, Salem, will be here Thursday to meet with Richard R. Baldwin, Warrenton city manager; Harry Steinbock, mayor of Astoria; Sen. Dan Thiel; Holmstrom, and C. J Zakrzewski, president of the Regatta association, to work out details of the ceremonies.

Warne Nunn, administrative assistant, will represent Gov. Mark O. Hatfield at the dedication.

Holmstrom said that although details have not been worked out he visualized the Warrenton delegation on their side of the ribbon and the Astoria officials on the other side. After the ribbon cutting the two delegations would complete the journey across the new bridge.

Harry Woodward, assistant resident engineer of the highway department, said there were still some final adjustments on the machinery for the new bridge and a final check of the electrical system to be done. Weather has held up painting due to rain and wind "There is still another week's painting to be done but we are hopeful the weather will improve so the job can be completed soon," Woodward said.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Oregon, Thursday, August 13, 1964 Single Copies 10c

Members of the committee responsible for transforming the Yacht club into a bit of Marine Land for the Anchor club tea honoring Regatta princesses, their chaperone and mothers, are the following Anchors in their natty nautical togs: From left, the Mesdames Lewis Wright, Vernon Mogenson, Alan Ahola, Paul Tolonen, Stanley Bergstrom and James Scarborough. Tea is Saturday afternoon.

Some of the members of the galley crew of the Anchor club, who are in charge of chow for the annual tea the club gives in honor of the Regatta court each year, are shown here from left to right, the Mesdames Frank Thorsness, Floyd Reith Jr., Bob Jackson, Fred Frederickson, Wes Jacobson and Vernon Mogenson.

Anchor Club Tea For Court Heralds Big Regatta Week

A county-wide invitation inviting all residents of Regatta land to meet the five attractive princesses of the 1964 Astoria Regatta is announced by the Anchor club, which traditionally plays host at a tea.

This first event, heralding the Regatta week later in the month, will be held Saturday from 2-4 p.m. at the Yacht club, where decor will be a veritable "Marine Land," complete with two pretty mermaids, Shirleen [illegible]

Boats to Race on Cullaby

Scenes like this will be featured during the Regatta boat races on Cullaby lake August 30.

Boat Races For Regatta Set Aug. 30

Runabouts, hydroplanes and ski boats will race Sunday, August 30, on Cullaby lake in a major Regatta event.

Boat races, with time trials from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and competition from 1-4 p.m., will be staged by the Corvallis Aqua Thusiasts in conjunction with the Regatta association.

About 40 runabouts and hydroplanes from the racing association will compete in their classes and some local craft are also expected

Races will be staged at the north end of Cullaby lake and Regatta officials said permission has been obtained from the State Marine board to close the lake to the general public during the race

Mayor Buys Regatta Button

Mayor Harry Steinbock buys first Regatta button from Skip Bingham of the Mariners drum and bugle corps. Looking on is Terri Hutchings. (Pak-Zak Photo)

Our Royal Court Amid a Royal Setting

Feminine pulchritude, colorful decorations, sumptuous and delectable tea dainties and a happy crowd made the Anchor club afternoon tea Saturday at the yacht club, honoring the Regatta court, a memorable occasion. Standing at the beautifully appointed tea table, which was in "undersea" shades of aqua and pale green are, from left, Mrs. William Larson, official chaperone of the Regatta court, and Princesses Lucille Johansen, Mary Carol Miles, Lorraine Johansen, Virginia Sagen and Zoe Vonna Palmrose.

Miss Oregon to Appear

Carol Pedersen, Miss Oregon 1964, the former Miss Lincoln County, will appear in the Astoria Regatta parade August 29.. She will arrive with her chaperone in Astoria at 12 noon Saturday. They will be escorted to the Astoria Anchor Regatta luncheon by Mrs. L. Peterson, Mrs. T. Tucker, and Mrs. C. Ericksen, members of the Jay-C-Ettes. Miss Oregon will then attend the ribbon cutting ceremonies for the new Youngs Bay bridge and at 4 p.m. will appear in the Regatta parade.

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Monday, August 24, 1

A Queen's Luncheon Is What They're Planning

Now that the tea honoring the Regatta court is a happy memory, the Anchors are hard at it, completing plans for the luncheon to honor the Regatta queen, whichever lucky princess she may be. Working on arrangements for the queen's luncheon, to be held Saturday, August 29, at 11:45 a.m. at the Astoria high school cafeteria, are the following: seated, front, Mrs. William Malmberg, right, and Mrs. George Niemi, co-chairmen; in back, from left, the Mesdames Arthur Hilton, Vincent Dulcich, Martin Severson, Arthur Johansen, Bill Wilson and David Wullger. Not pictured, but members of the luncheon committee, are the Mesdames Fleming Wilson, Allard Conger, Jon Englund and Ed Ulmer. Reservations for the event, for which 100 have already been received, are to be called in to Mrs. Niemi, Mrs. Malmberg or Mrs. Johansen.

Regatta To Open Thursday

The 44th annual Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival will open with the Children's Parade, sponsored by the Astoria Kiwanis club, at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The festivities will continue for three days and conclude with the salmon barbecue at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Included in the three-day celebration will be the traditional coronation of a queen, speed boat races. A visitation by a Navy ship (the USS Union) and the big land parade. New events will include an international corner and a revival from past years of the gillnet races. A feature of the 1964 Regatta will be dedication of the new Youngs Bay bridge Saturday. Gerald W. Frank, manager of the Salem Meier and Frank store, has been named admiral of the Regatta. Graham Barbey of Barbey Packing company will act as his aide.

Regatta buttons went on sale last Thursday under direction of the Mariners American Legion Drum and Bugle Corp. The buttons will help defray expenses of the Mariners and support the Regatta.

Tot Parade August 27

The Astoria Kiwanis Kiddies parade this year will be held Thursday, August 27, announced George Chaney, general chairman.

All children under 13 years of age are urged to enter this event. Cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded to the winners in each of seven divisions, plus a grand sweepstakes award. Treats will be given to all participants following the parade.

The parade will form at 6 p.m. at the south side of the court house on Duane street. Entries will be judged and the parade will start at 6:30 p.m. and march east on Commercial street. Committee members assisting George Chaney are Clarence Short, judge, Harry Larson, refreshments, and Pat Lavis, publicity.

INTERNATIONAL CORNER - 14TH & COMMERCIAL

SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 1964

(THE DAY OF THE REGATTA PARADE)

FOR

THE BENEFIT OF THE CLATSOP COUNTY ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHIL

The Association for retarded children owes a balance on their 1
Educational Program. They are also beginning a Vocational Rehal tation and Training Program in Clatsop County. This will requi additional financial support, and the income from the Internati
Corner on the afternoon of the ASTORIA REGATTA PARADE will be g
to the Association to further their Program.

We shall have INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITS and a SNACK BAR in the bas
ment level of the former Bjorklund location. The Snack Bar wil feature International Snack Treats - cookies - cakes - krumkaka etc., and of course coffee.

The Finnish Brotherhood, with Mrs. Nancy Mattila as their president, the Sons of Norway, with Mr. Tom Johnson as president, th
Daughters of Norway, Mrs. Conrad Helmersen, president, the Kale Lodge, Mrs. Perttu, secretary, Vasa Lodge, with Mrs. Nilsen as president, are providing the International theme, with costumes food, exhibits, and working committees.

The Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Square Dancers are also assisti us with this luncheon.

We shall also have an exhibit from Waldorf, Germany, our sister city, prepared by Mayor and Mrs. Harry Steinbock and Mr. Willia Seeborg.

Mrs. Anthony Stramiello is preparing the Italian Exhibit.

Bernice Reheil of World Travel, Inc., of Portland, Oregon will have an International Exhibit from her trips around the world. Eighteen nations will be represented in the Exhibit.

ENTRANCE TO SEE THE EXHIBITS IS FREE

THE LUNCHEON, SMORGOSBORD STYLE, WILL BE ONLY $1.00, SERVED FRO
11 A. M. TO 6 P. M., AT 14TH & COMMERCIAL ON THE MAIN FLOOR.

TWO ENTRANCES, ONE ON DUANE ST AND ONE ON COM'L ST

We hope to feature SALMON on our luncheon, and are planning sea
ing space for 500 people.

SALMON FOR ALL CITIZENS COMMITTEE will be there. They will hav
a booth and will answer questions about the Fish Initiative.

JEANNE MADDOX is preparing an International Program, which will presented before the Parade.

COME AND SUPPORT THIS INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL, WHICH IS A BENEFIT FOR THE CLATSOP COUNTY ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHILDREN.

ADELAINE SATHER (General Chairman)

1964 Royal Court

LORRAINE JOHANSEN

ZOE VONNA PALMROSE

MARY CAROL MILES

GINNY SAGEN

LUCILLE JOHANSEN

MRS WILLIAM LARSON
Chaperone

PHOTOS COURTESY BALL STUDIO

GERALD W FRANK
ADMIRAL
Astoria Regatta

C J ZAKRZEWSKI
PRESIDENT
Astoria Regatta Association

Astoria Regatta Board of Directors

C J ZAKRZEWSKI — President
AUSTIN MAGILL — Vice-President
MARQUE MARRIOTT – Secretary
LEE VAN DOMELEN — Treasurer

TOM CAMERON
DALE CURRY
JIM SCARBOROUGH
BEA CEDERBERG
BILL MORRISON
NICK SCULACE
KIRK TIBBETTS
MARV HUGHES
BILL KING
EVOR KUMPULA
VIRGINIA REITER
BILL WILSON

ADVISORY BOARD

D O BERGEY
JEAN HALLAUX
PETER COSOVICH
HARRY STEINBOCK
AL IVERSON

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

44TH ANNUAL ASTORIA REGATTA AND FISH FESTIVAL

AUGUST 27-28-29-30, 1964

AUGUST 27th
6 30 KIDDIES PARADE — Downtown

AUGUST 28th
4 00 6 00 P M WELCOME ADMIRAL, Aboard Lightship Columbia at East End Mooring Basin
8 00 P M QUEEN'S CORONATON — Astoria High School

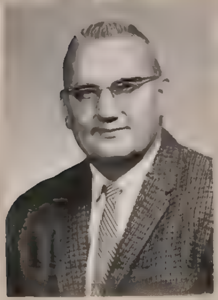
AUGUST 29th
11 00 A M INTERNATIONAL CORNER — 12th and Commercial
2 00 NOON QUEEN'S LUNCHEON — Astoria High School
12 00 NOON MEN'S NO HOST LUNCH — Cinders
2 00 P M BRIDGE DEDICATION — Young's Bay Bridge
4 00 P M GRAND PARADE — Downtown
9 00 P M TEEN DANCE — Armory

AUGUST 30th
EAST END MOORING BASIN
9 30 A M MARINE PARADE
10 00 A M BLESSING OF THE FLEET — Dr Gross
10 30 A M RAINIER SKI BEES
10 45 A M GERRY FRANK
11 00 A M GEAR DEMO
Gillnet - Drag - Troller - Crab Fish - Snag Pulling
11 30 A M BOAT RACES
a O - 150 HP
b 150 225 HP
c Unlimited
12 00 NOON BALLOON RACE
CULLABY LAKE CORVALLIS AQUA THUSIAST
9 00 11 30 A M TIME TRIALS
1 00 4 00 P M RACES
TRAIN FROM PORTLAND ARRIVES AT 11 00 A M S P & S Depot
1:30 to 6 00 LION'S CLUB SALMON BARBECUE 4 H Fair Grounds

GRAHAM
ADMIRAL'S AIDE

ADMIRAL

Pres



C.S. (Zak) Zakrzewski

Chaperone

Mrs W. Larson Sr

Royal Court.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol. 92, No 40 Astoria, Oregon, Tuesday, August 25, 1964 Single Copies 10c

Fun-Filled Days Ahead In City, Regatta Looms

Astorians have a fun-filled weekend ahead of them as the 44th annual Regatta and Fish Festival gets under way. Festivities will begin Thursday evening with the traditional children's parade sponsored by the local Kiwanis club.

Friday afternoon there will be a ceremony welcoming Regatta Admiral Gerald Frank aboard the Columbia lightship No. 88 at the East End mooring basin. Later in the evening one of the five lovely Regatta princesses will be chosen as queen The coronation will be held at the Astoria high school.

A number of activities are scheduled for Saturday. An International corner for the benefit of the Clatsop County Association for Retarded Children will be in operation in the former Bjorklund store at 14th and Commercial. International exhibits and a snack bar will be featured. A smorgasbord luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. International entertainment will take place on the street until the parade.

Several luncheons will take place at noon Saturday. The men's no-host luncheon in honor of Admiral Gerald Frank will be held at the Cinders restaurant. Those planning to attend are asked to notify Regatta Association President C. J. Zakrewski at Pacific Power and Light.

Women may make reservations for the Queen's Luncheon to be held at the high school by calling Mrs. George Niemi, Mrs. William Malmberg or Mrs. Arthur Johanson. The luncheons will be followed by the long - awaited dedication of the Smith Point bridge

Later in the afternoon the grand parade will take place on downtown streets. A teen dance will be held at the National Guard Armory Saturday evening. A contest will be held between two bands, the Del-Rays with singer Dee Springer versus the Checkmates The East End mooring basin will be the scene of much of Sunday's activity. There will be a Marine Parade to begin the day's festivities. This will be followed by the blessing of the fleet by Dr. Carl Gross, minister of Grace Episcopal church.

There will then be an appearance by the Rainier Ski Bees, and a speech by Admiral Frank. There will be a demonstration by local gillnetters of various types of operations in which they are involved. These include drag, troller, crab fish, and snag pulling.

Fish boat races will begin at 11:30 a.m. with boats having 150 horsepower or less in the first race. Boat with 150 -225 horsepower and the unlimited race will be following in close succession. A balloon race will take place at noon

Meanwhile the Corvallis Aqua - Thusiasts will be conducting boat races at Cullaby Lake. Time trials will be held in the morning with races in the afternoon for hydroplanes, runbouts and ski boats. The excursion train from Portland will arrive at the SP&S Depot late Sunday morning The International Corner will again be in operation in the early afternoon The weekend's festivities will be climaxed by the Lion's club salmon barbecue to be held at the 4-H fairgrounds in the afternoon.

The Daily Astorian, Astoria, Oregon, Tuesday, August 25, 19

TV Show to Feature Regatta Court

The Astoria Regatta court was in Portland recently to film a portion of the "Kirby's Almanac" program which will be aired Wednesday at 7:45 a.m. over KATU, channel 2 From left are Zoe Vonna Palmrose, Lucille Johanson, Mary Carol Miles, Kirby Brumfield, Polly Pacific, Ginny Sagen, Lorraine Johanson and official chaperone Mrs. William Larson. The program will feature recipes for cooking salmon.

Anchor Club Geared for Coronation

Next on the agenda for the busy Anchor girls is the coronation of the Regatta queen, to be held Friday, August 28 at the Astoria high school auditorium and plans for this exciting evening, when a queen will be chosen from the five Regatta princesses, were near completion at the meeting of the club Monday evening

Mrs Arthur Johanson and Mrs. Robert Hendrickson have charge of the Anchor drill team, official escorts of the princesses and all the other VIP's in the line of march that evening

After the business meeting, refreshments of ice cream sundaes and cookies were served by the Mesdames Chas. Smith, Charles Gustafson, Robert Nelson and Wallace Nelson Special prize for the evening was won by Mrs. Fred Frederickson

The next Anchor meeting is scheduled for September 21 with associate members as hostesses, but committees for the coronation and queen's luncheon will be busy, busy busy meanwhile

---

Astoria's Mayor Harry Steinbock dons his official Regatta uniform in preparation for this weekend's festivities. The Regatta Association urged all Astorians who possess the official uniform to begin wearing it Thursday to help publicize the celebration.

Regatta Princesses Pay Visit To New Helicopter Station At Tongue Point

A helicopter is a sometime thing, sometime here, sometime there, and here it is being very patient, while five active and interested Regatta princesses clambered all over its sleek pontoons and superstructure. Looking as though they just got rescued, and happy about it, are (from left, standing) Princess Zoe Vonna Palmrose and Princess Mary Carol Miles; seated on pontoon, Princess Lorraine Johansen, and above her, her twin, Princess Lucille, while Princess Ginny Sagen is "at the controls."

Where the buoys are, that's where the girls are found, and here the five chirping little princesses, Astoria's Regatta court, forgot all about dignity and protocol and had a ball at the Coast Guard station just across the way from the helicopter base at Tongue Point. Dwarfing the little ones are the mammoth buoys maintained by the Coast Guard for navigation aids to ships in these waters, as beneath the steel supports stand Princesses Zoe Vonna, Lorraine, Mary Carol, Lucille and Ginny.

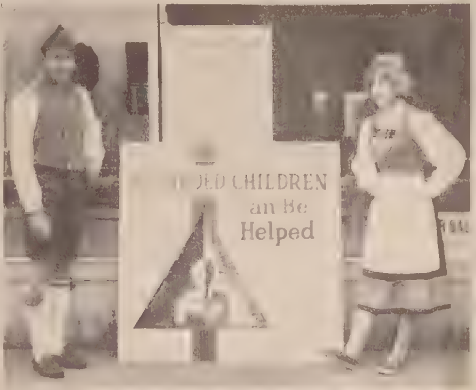
Makes [illegible] the figurehead [illegible] Coast Guard heli[illegible] three of the Regatta princesses, Princess [illegible]y at the nose and Princesses Lorraine, left, and Lucille, right, at the pontoons. All three girls are of Nordic extraction, with the possibility that ancient Norsemen ancestors boasted no more graceful female carvings on the prows of their ships when they sailed the northern seas.

"Regatta Court, meet the new helicopter! And helicopter, meet the new Regatta court!" It was a happy association, as five pretty girls and their chaperone explored the trim, shining "bird" that skims the waters of river and ocean on rescue missions. From left to right, Mrs. William Larson, chaperone, and Princesses Lorraine Johansen, Mary Carol Miles, Ginny Sagen, seated, Lucille Johansen and Zoe Vonna Palmrose.

And who's the sad sack? The five Regatta princesses thought it would be nice for one of them to model a flight suit and helmet, so Princess Lucille was game and this is the result. "Just a little too big," remarks Princess Ginny, to the right of "sad sack," while Princesses Lorraine, Mary Carol and Zoe Vonna chuckled their amusement. (So did 'copter pilots looking on.)

"Come on up," says Princess Zoe Vonna to Princess Mary Carol, who waits for a "boost" into the high cabin of the Coast Guard helicopter. Princess Zoe Vonna's scientific mind was intrigued with intricacies on the instrument panel in the cockpit, and Princess Mary Carol, who boasts the blood of Concomly, ancient chief of the Chinook Indians, was in favor of a sight from the air, via 'copter, of the vast domain once ruled by her famous ancestor.

Regatta's International Corner Features Entertainment, Goodies Of Many Lands



Two Astoria teenagers get into mood of the International Music and Dance Festival to be held in conjunction with the International Corner at 14th and Commercial Saturday. Wearing authentic Norwegian costumes are Pam and Roger Everett. The festival directed by Jeanne Maddox will provide continuous outdoor entertainment from noon until parade time.

Cookies, cakes and krumkaka, all with an international flavor, will be featured at the snack bar which is to be a part of the International Corner at 14th and Duane Saturday. The International Corner and associated International Music and Dance Festival are being presented in conjunction with the Astoria Regatta as a benefit for the Clatsop County Association for Retarded Children. International exhibits and the snack bar will be located in the basement of the former Bjorklund's store. The upper level will be the scene of a continuous smorgasbord luncheon while international entertainment will be provided on 14th street between Commercial and Duane.

The Finnish Brotherhood, Sons and Daughters of Norway, Kaleva Lodge and Vasa Lodge are furthering the international theme with costumes, foods, exhibits and working committees. An exhibit from Walldorf, Germany, Astoria's sister city, will be prepared by Mayor and Mrs. Harry Steinbock and William Seeborg. Mrs. Anthony Stramiello is preparing the Italian exhibit. Bernice Reheil of World Travel, Inc., of Portland, will have an international exhibit from her trips around the world. Eighteen nations will be represented in her exhibit. The exhibits will be open to the public without charge.

Smorgasbord Featured

A smorgasbord luncheon will be served on the main floor of the 14th and Commercial center from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. The luncheon committee will be aided by Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and local square dancers. Also assisting will be the grange and 4-H clubs of Jewell and Theta Rho members from Warrenton. The committee has planned seating space for 500 people and hopes to feature salmon as a part of the luncheon menu. The Citizens Salmon For All committee will have a booth in a corner and will answer questions concerning the fish initiative.

The International Music and Dance Festival, the open air entertainment feature of the International Corner, will be a continuous, colorful spectacle from 11 45 a.m. until parade time. The Festival under the direction of Jeanne Maddox assisted by Bud Heilmann will have sound equipment provided by Dave Newman of Radio Service. The festival will include performances by the following:

11:45—Swedish Dancers of Portland.

12:30—Susan Conboy's Hawaiian Dancers.

1—Sunset Empire Council Square Dancers.

1:30—The Windsors-Knappa Dad's Club.

2 — Portland International Folk Dancers.

2:30—Tillamook Swiss Society-Swiss Dancers.

3—Eugene Highland Pipe Band and Dancers.

At [illegible] following the grand parade, the Princesa drill team from the Filipino Youth Activities group of Seattle will perform. This group is not only the pride of the FYA, but of Filipinos everywhere. The group has received more than 30 trophies and plaques since 1959.

Also during the entertainment there will be a guest appearance by Betty Nyholm, Finnish Lucia Bride of 1964. Miss Nyholm is from Helsinki, Finland. Her appearance was arranged by Dennis Thompson and she is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Sim Vinson. Also making an appearance will be Beverly MacLean, Miss Clatsop County of 1964.

General chairman of the International Corner project and the Retarded Children's Association invited all Regatta-land subjects to view the exhibits, sample the foreign food and enjoy the [illegible] Music and Dance Festival. All proceeds will go to the Clatsop County Association for Retarded Children. The Association still owes a balance on their 1964 educational program and is beginning a vocational rehabilitation and training program within the county. Continuation of the program will require public support of the International Corner.

Bridge Opens to Traffic Saturday

This will soon be a familiar view from cars traveling across the new Youngs Bay bridge which opens Saturday. The center lift span is raised and concrete counterweights near road level. This photo was taken as final clean-up and paint-up was being completed.

Opening Of Youngs Bay Span To Reveal Vistas

Spectacular new vista will be seen by the public Saturday as the dream of many during more than four score years becomes a reality with opening of the new Youngs Bay bridge.

Built at a cost of $2.6 million, the structure cuts more than four miles from the highway 101 distance between Astoria and Warrenton.

Until completion of the new Columbia river bridge, it will stand as the longest bridge in Oregon, stretching 2.05 miles from land to land.

Half of that distance consists of rock fill, 600 feet on the Astoria side and 6000 feet over mud flats on the southwestern end.

A preview ride across the bridge opened up sights never before seen from that special angle by the general public, some of them highly scenic and some emphasizing the engineering which made the bridge possible.

Drawbridge Raises

The driver along the two-lane bridge may find himself delayed briefly if the drawbridge portion in the center is raised to permit passage of a ship on the water below.

This lift span gives a clearance of 85 feet above mean water level. The driver, however, would view the huge concrete counterweight blocks which come down nearly to road surface when the span is raised.

In such an event riders along the bridge would see a section of railroad bridge just to the east, starting nowhere and going nowhere. It would be turned at right angles to the main railroad line.

From a road level 47 feet above the water, the view going either direction is one of lush green hills, of waterways in both directions and of tiny dots of homes or waterfront installations.

Spectacular sunsets are in store for those traveling west at sundown this time of year, with the sun slipping beyond the horizon just across the mouth of the Columbia.

Built over a period of 18 months, the new bridge involved some unusual features.

Concrete piles and beams were not poured on the job but were pre-fabricated by the Ross Island Sand and Gravel company in Portland.

Center Span 4200 Feet

The piles are four feet in diameter outside and have a three-foot hollow section inside.

The center steel span where the lift is located is 4200 feet long. Shore ends of the fills are about 16 feet above mean water level. They average 125 feet wide at the base and are wide enough at the top to provide two 12-foot traffic lanes with 10-foot shoulders.

Prime contractor on the bridge was Peter Keiwit Sons company of Vancouver, Wash. Peak employment at times reached 70 men, but these varied in types of work as the bridge progressed. Actual starting date was February 5, 1963.

Representatives of the contractor said Wednesday there is a "good possibility" the new bridge may have to be closed for a portion of one or two days following the dedication.

Reason given was that weather conditions have delayed completion of some painting and electrical work. However, efforts were being made to meet the Saturday deadline although little hope was seen that it could be done.

As early as 1888, settlers began to dream of a bridge across the bay after sand dunes began to form following construction of the jetty started that year.

Traveled By Steamer

In those days transportation across the bay was by a small passenger and freight steamer named the Electric.

First bridge across the bay was started in 1889 by the old Astoria and South Coast railroad. The company was undercapitalized and ran out of money with still two miles of fill and bridge work to do.

The railroad terminal for a number of years was in the center of Youngs bay. It was near the turn of the century before the railroad bridge was completed.

The highway 101 bridge at the river entrance to the bay came along many years later, with exact date apparently hidden well in annals of the county, but talk and plans of the shorter highway route have continued from early days of the automobile until completion this week.

A Kiddies' Parade sponsored by the Kiwanis club will kick off the festival at 6 30 p m on [illegible]sday Aug 27. That [illegible] the USS Union will dock [illegible] and hold open house during the entire festival.

Friday evening one of the [illegible] princesses will [illegible] Regatta Queen in a ceremony beginning at 8 p m at the high school.

Saturday, visitors to the Regatta will see the 11 a m opening of the International Corner headed by Adelaine [illegible] corner will have international foods, customs and exhibits.

Meanwhile, a men's no host lunch will be going on at the Cinders, preceding the 2 p m Youngs bay bridge dedication.

The Grand Parade with floats, bands and pretty girls will begin at 4 p.m in downtown Astoria. Saturday evening a hootenanny will be held at 8 00 at [illegible] armory and after the singing is over, a teen dance will be held. The Del Rays and Checkmates will appear at the d[illegible]

Sunday, Aug 30, a SP&S tour train from Portland will reach Astoria at 11 a m., just in time to catch some of the gillnetters' demonstration and races at the east end mooring basin. The gillnetters will begin at 9 30 a m. with a marine parade. The Rev Carl Gross of the Episcopalean church will deliver the [illegible] of the fleet at 10 a m and the Rainier Ski Bees will perform at 10:30. Gerry Frank will speak at 10 45 Sunday morning, followed by the gear demonstration and gillnet boat races. The balloon race will be at 12 00 noon.

Sunday afternoon, Cullaby [illegible] will be the center of activity. Corvallis Aqua-Thusiast time trials for motor boats will be from 9 to 11.30 a m. Races will begin at 1:00 and last until 4 00.

The Lions club salmon barbecue from 4 to 7 p m at the 4-H fairgrounds will end the festival Sunday. Tickets for the barbecue are $1 50 for adults and 75c for children under 12.

Regatta general chairman C[illegible] [illegible]akrzewski reports that the response to over 200 admiral commissions sent to people throughout the state "has been gratifying." In addition, at least 400 persons are expected to come on the festival train tour from Portland.

ADMIT ONE

SALMON BARBECUE
44TH ANNUAL ASTORIA REGATTA
& FISH FESTIVAL
AUGUST 29TH, 1964

NOTE: THIS WILL BE THE LAST COLUMBIA RIVER SALMON BARBECUE IF INITIATIVE NO. 4 WINS ON THE BALLOT THIS NOVEMBER

RBECUE
ASTORIA REGATTA
ISH FESTIVAL
AUGUST 29TH, 1964

HIS WILL BE THE LAST COLUMBIA RIVER SAL[illegible] BARBECUE IF INITIATIVE NO 4 WINS ON THE BALLOT THIS NOVEMBER

ADMIT ONE

SALMON BARBECUE
44TH ANNUAL ASTORIA REGATTA
& FISH FESTIVAL
AUGUST 29TH, 1964

NOTE THIS WILL BE THE LAST COLUMBIA RIVER SALMON BARBECUE IF INITIATIVE NO. 4 WINS ON THE BALLOT THIS NOVEMBER.

WHICH ONE WILL BE QUEEN?

LORRAINE JOHANSEN ZOE VONNA PALMROSE INIA SAGEN LUCILLE JOHANSEN MARY CAROL MILES

The Columbia Press

1279 Marine Dr., Astoria, Ore.-$3 a year in county, $4.50 outside-Thursday, August 27, 1964-Vol. 39, No. 35

Dancers To Perform In Streets, Regatta

Dancers from all over the Pacific northwest will be gathering in Astoria Saturday to take part in the International Music and Dance Festival to be held in the street at the International Corner during the Regatta.

The professional international dancers will participate in continuous dancing between 14th and Commercial from noon until Grand Parade time at 4 p.m. Featured will be the Eugene Highland Pipe Band and Scottish dancers, Swedish Dancers of Portland, Susan Conboys' Hawaiian Dancers of Astoria and International Folk Dancers from Portland. Square dancers from the Sunset Empire council and the Windsors from Knappa's Dads club will represent American folk music.

Also tentatively scheduled to appear are the Swiss Dancers of Tillamook Swiss Society.

After the Grand Parade, 45 teenagers in a Filipino drill and dance team from Seattle will perform. The group, directed by Fred Cordova will dance from 5:30 to 6 p.m., Miss Maddox said.

Plans are being made to have Miss Betty Nyholm, 1964 Finnish Lucia Bride from Helsinki, appear at the music festival.

"I think that it is really fabulous," Miss Maddox said. "Everyone has been so perfectly marvelous to work with. I am sure that if they are welcomed nicely, they will return."

Miss Maddox is being assisted with the music festival by Bud Heilman of Knappa. The music festival will be held in conjunction with the international corner's exhibits and salmon luncheon.

44th ASTORIA REGATTA SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Aug 27: 6:30 Kiddies Parade

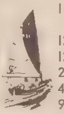
Aug. 28: 4-6 pm- Admiral's Welcome, Aboard Lightship Columbia, East End Boat Basin
8 pm-Queen's Coronation, Astoria High School

Aug. 29: 10 am- Maritime Museum Tour
11 am- International Corner, 12th & Commercial,
12 noon-Queen's Luncheon, Astoria High
12 noon-Men's No Host Lunch, Cinders
2 pm- Bridge Dedication, Youngs Bay
4 pm- Grand Parade, downtown
9 pm- Teen Dance, Armory

Aug. 30: 9:30 am-Marine Parade, East End Boat Basin
10 am-Blessing of the fleet, Dr. Gross
10:30-Rainier Ski Bees
10:45 Admiral Gerry Frank
11 am-Fishing Gear Demonstrations
11:30 am- Gillnet Boat Races
a. Under 150 HP
b. 150-225 HP
c. Unlimited HP
12 noon- Balloon Race

9 am-11:30-Time Trials, Cullaby Lake
1 pm-4-Outboard Races, Cullaby Lake
Corvallis Aqua-thusiasts will perform

11 am-Train from Portland arrives
1:30-6-Salmon Barbecue-4-H Fairgrounds



Regatta President's Official Welcome

By C. J. ZAKRZEWSKI

"We in the Regatta committee hope that everyone enjoys himself. We have tried to make the program so that all are able to participate and have a good time.

"A special welcome to all of the out-of-town visitors: We are happy to have you here and hope you will return to our Regatta again.

"We urge everyone to rummage through their closets, find and get out the Regatta uniforms (dark coats, white pants and yacht caps) and wear them. Or wear a Regatta button

"We'd also like to thank the merchants for donating their 'Welcome to Oregon' pennants. Have fun, everyone."

Mayor Harry Steinbock and Astoria Chamber of Commerce president Harry Swanson Jr. join with the Regatta committee to welcome all visitors and to ask everyone to partake in the fun and excitement during the 44th annual Regatta.

"The spirit and cooperation of our city is apparent for all to view during Regatta time," said Swanson. "We all would be re-

Regatta Queen Chosen Friday

To Be Honored At Luncheon Saturday

Five lovely girls in the limelight—which one will it be?

This is the question all are asking as the coronation of the 1964 Regatta Queen Friday night approaches.

Gracefully competing for the title are lovely Lucille Johansen and her perky twin sister Loraine Johansen, vivacious Zoe Vanna Palmrose, charming Mary Carol Miles and gregarious Virginia Sagen.

At the ceremonies at 8 p.m. Friday at the Astoria high school, each of the princesses will give a short speech and then await the judges' decision. One will be singled out to reign over the Regatta as Regatta Queen. She will be crowned by Admiral Gerry Frank.

Last year's Regatta Queen Shirley McKnight will be on hand to wish the new queen well, as will coronation co-chairmen, Mrs. Charles Farmer and Mrs. Charles Gustafson and decoration co-chairmen, Mrs. Wesley Charner and Mrs. Thomas Edison.

Admission for the coronation Friday wil be $1 for adults and 50c for children.

Saturday, the new Regatta Queen will be feted by women from all over the county at the queen's luncheon at the high school. Miss Oregon, Carol Pedersen, a special guest of the Astoria Jay-C-Ettes, will be present to honor the queen.

The salmon luncheon sponsored by the Anchor club will begin at 11:45 a.m. and will feature salmon. Co-chairmen of the $1.75 luncheon are Mrs. Geo. Niemi and Mrs. William Malmberg. For reservations call Mrs. Niemi at 325-2670, Mrs. Malmberg at 325-5478 ar Mrs. Arthur Johansen at 325-2255 before noon Friday

Navy Transport To Arrive August 29

Ships ahoy, mates. The Navy is coming to town. The U.S. Union will arrive at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 29 to participate in the Astoria Regatta.

During its three-day stay, the attack cargo transport will hold open house with hours to be announced later. The USS Union, commanded by Capt. William E. Betzer, claims San Diego as its home port. But three of the ship's company are from Oregon, one from Lake Oswego and two from Portland.

Regatta president C. J. Zakrzewski noted one similarity from the ship: "As the official motto of the state of Oregon happens to be "The Union", no more appropriate ship than the Union could have been chosen to participate in the Regatta," he said.

ACTIVE AT INTERNATIONAL CORNER-Untiring workers for the success of the International Exhibits and Snack Bar are, from left, Katrina Salo, representing the Finnish Brotherhood; Mrs. Phil Everett, chairman of the Clatsop County Association for Retarded Children; and Mrs. Adelaine Sather, general chairman of the event. Proceeds will go to the Retarded Children's program for the county.

FEATURED SATURDAY during the International Music and Dance Festival are Astoria teenagers Pam and Roger Everett, seen here in their authentic Norwegian costumes. Festival, under direction of Jeanne Maddox, is in connection with snack-bar and exhibits at International Corner, 14th and Duane. A continuous program of varied entertainment will be presented from noon until parade time.

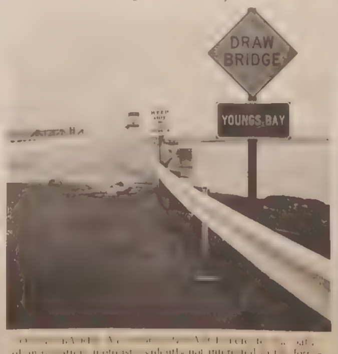
Youngs Bay Bridge To Open During Regatta Festivities

See Photo page 19

Dedication of the Youngs Bay bridge will be an extra attraction during the Regatta this weekend

The dedication will take place at 2 p.m., Saturday, Aug 29 on the Astoria interexchange of the bridge. Main speaker will be Baird M. French from Portland, of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the chamber of commerce reported.

In addition to local officials, Warne Nunn, executive assistant to the governor, will attend the ceremonies at which Oregon highway commission chairman Glenn Jackson of Medford will preside as master of ceremonies. Miss Oregon, Carol Pedersen, will also be present.



[illegible]

New Bridge, Hwy 101 Section Opens Saturday

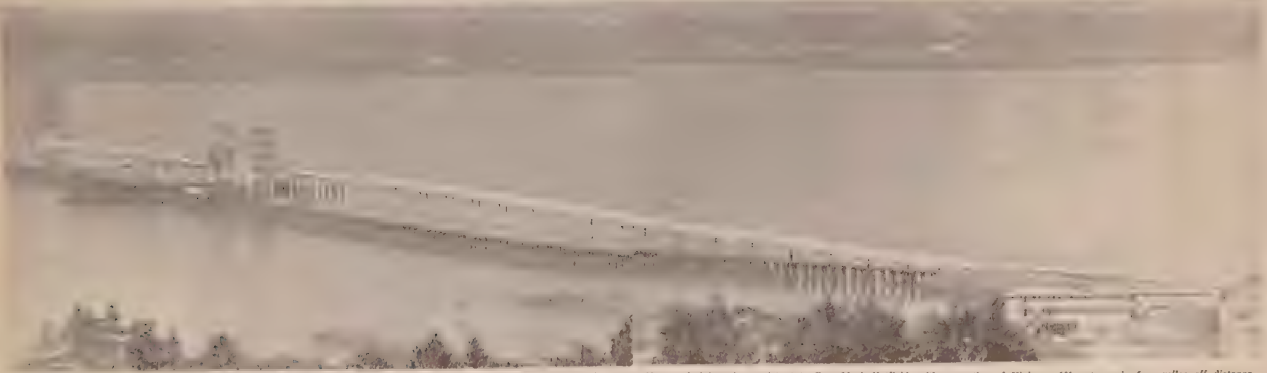


Photo taken in West Astoria looking toward Warrenton shows new Youngs Bay bridge with Warrenton in background. Ceremonies opening new bridge are scheduled Saturday at 2 p.m. as part of Regatta festivities. Ribbon will be cut by Warne Nunn, administrative assistant to Gov. Mark Hatfield, with numerous other dignitaries on hand. The bridge and new section of Highway 101 cut nearly four miles off distance between Astoria and Warrenton. (Astorian Photo)

THE DAILY ASTORIAN
The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire
Vol. 92, No. 43 Astoria, Oregon, Friday, August 28, 1964 Single Copies 10c

Regattaland Poised For 3-Day Festival

Program To Attract Visitors

Members of the Astoria Regatta association have been busy this week making the final preparations for the weekend Regatta celebration. Many guests are expected to be in the city for the festivities. Regatta Admiral Gerald Frank has invited a number of guests to the affair. Among his guests will be Howard Belton, state treasurer; Robert Y. Thornton, attorney general, and Willard Marshall, mayor of Salem. Warne Nunn, executive assistant to Gov. Mark O Hatfield, will act as grand marshal for Saturday parade.

Committee chairmen have put in many hours to insure that event will run smoothly. Some of these chairmen are Kirk Tibbetts, publicity; Marque Marriott, parade; William Westerholm, Don Riswick, Ken Olson and Evor Kumpula, gillnet boat races; Bill Wilson and Bea Cederberg, Regatta court, and Bill King and Marv Hughes, sport boat races.

Hughes announced Friday morning that although many of the entrants in the sport boat races would be members of the Corvallis Aqua-Thusiast group, local participation was invited. Both hydroplane type and family runabout boats are eligible Time trials will be held at Cullaby Lake Sunday morning. Boats will be grouped according to their morning speed and the races will take place in the afternoon. All drivers must be equipped with crash helmets and life jackets. Hughes said he expected about 60 boats to enter the event. Spectators are invited to attend.

Hard working members of Regatta Association include C. J. Zakrzewski, president; Austin Magill, vice president; Marque Marriott, secretary; and

Continued on Page 2

WEATHER FORECAST
Showers and partial clearing through Saturday. Low Friday night 50, high Saturday 64.

SATURDAY TIDES
High 6:38 a.m., 6.0 feet
Low 0:38 a.m., 0.2 feet
High 6:43 p.m., 8.0 feet
Low 12:17 p.m. 1.6 feet

SUNDAY TIDES
High 7:52 a.m., 5.5 feet
Low 1:47 a.m., 0.1 feet
High 7:42 p.m., 7.9 feet
Low 1:16 p.m., 2.2 feet

MONDAY TIDES
High 9:14 a.m., 5.3 feet
Low 3:00 a.m., -0.1 feet
High 8:51 p.m., 7.9 feet
Low 2.36 p.m., 2.7 feet

The Astoria Regatta office opened Friday morning in the chamber of commerce, to be open from 9 to 5 Friday and Saturday both. Manning the office Friday morning were Mrs. Bob Parnell, left, and Mrs. John Day, clad in official Regatta uniforms. Regatta officials appealed to all citizens to don the official garb and wear it through Sunday.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS OF 44th ANNUAL REGATTA - FISH FESTIVAL

FRIDAY

4:00 p.m.—Welcome Admiral. Aboard Lightship Columbia, East End Mooring Basin.
6:30 p.m.—Children's Parade, downtown.
8:00 p.m.—Queen's Coronation, Astoria high school

SATURDAY

11:00 a.m.—International Corner, 14th and Commercial.
11:45 a.m.—Swedish Dancers of Portland.
12:30 p.m.—Susan Conboy's Hawaiian Dancers.
1:00 p.m.—Sunset Empire Council Square Dancers.
1:30 p.m.—The Windsors; Knappa Dads' Club.
2:00 p.m.—Portland International Folk Dancers.
2:30 p.m.—Tillamook Swiss Society Swiss Dancers.
3:00 p.m.—Eugene Highland Pipe Band and Highland Dancers.
5:30 p.m.—Princesa Drill Team: Filipino Youth Activities Group, Seattle.
12 Noon—Queen's Luncheon, Astoria high school. Admiral's Luncheon, Cinders.
2:00 p.m.—Bridge Dedication, Youngs Bay Bridge.
4:00 p.m.—Grand Parade, downtown.
9:00 p.m.—Teen Dance, Armory.

SUNDAY

East End Mooring Basin:
9:30 a.m.—Marine Parade.
10:00 a.m.—Blessing of the Fleet, Dr. Carl Gross.
10:30 a.m.—Rainier Ski Bees.
10:45 a.m.—Gerry Frank.
11:00 a.m.—Gear Demonstration.
11:30 a.m.—Boat Races:
(a)—0-150 H.P.
(b) 150-225 H.P.
(c) Unlimited.
12 Noon—Balloon Race.
Cullaby Lake: Corvallis Aqua-thusiasts.
9:30-11:30 a.m.—Time Trials.
1:00-4:00 p.m.—Races.
11:00 a.m.—Train from Portland Arrives, SP&S Depot
1:30-6:00 p.m.—Lion's Club Salmon Barbecue, 4-H Fair Grounds.

USS Union Hosts Public During Visit

The USS Union, commanded by Capt William E Betzer of the United States Navy, was scheduled to arrive at Pier 1 of the Port of Astoria shortly before noon Friday. As a part of the Regatta celebration the ship will be open for public visits from 1 to 4 p.m. daily through Monday

A more appropriate ship could hardly have been chosen as this year's Regatta visitor. The ship's name alone brings to mind several interesting links between Union and the state of Oregon. The ship was named in honor of 18 counties throughout the United States bearing the name of the Union. One of these is Union county, Ore., located in the northeast part of the state Located in this county near La Grande is the town of Union. In addition the official motto of the state of Oregon happens to be "The Union" Consequently, the officers and men of the USS Union should feel right at home in the Beaver state

Other famous ships of the fleet have borne names related to the state of Oregon are the battleship Oregon and the cruisers Astoria and Portland

The USS Union, an amphibian attack cargo ship, is home ported at San Diego, Calif, but three members of the ship's company are natives of Oregon Signalman Second Class David B Taylor's home is at Lake Oswego Portland is the home of both Boilerman Second Class Franklin D Ramey and Seaman Apprentice Steven W Samuer.

Rites To Feature Ribbon Cutting By Warne Nunn

Young's Bay bridge, along with the north unit of the Astoria-Camp Rilea section of Highway 101, will receive its first traffic Saturday following formal dedication ceremonies at 2 p.m.

Ribbon cutting rites by Warne Nunn, executive assistant to Gov. Mark Hatfield, will be highlight of ceremonies incorporated in Regatta weekend festivities.

Master of ceremonies for the program on the Astoria bridge approach will be Glenn L. Jackson, chairman of the Oregon State Highway Commission.

In addition to the major address by Nunn, other remarks will be given by state Sen. Daniel A. Thiel of Astoria; Rep. William H. Holmstrom, Astoria, chairman of the highway interim committee; A. W. Parsons, division engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, and Astoria Mayor Harry A. Steinbock.

Appearing on the platform during the ceremonies will be Carol Pedersen, Miss Oregon of 1964· Beverly MacLean, Miss Clatsop county, the Regatta court and the Sally the Salmon court.

Music is to be provided by the Astoria high school band.

The bridge, along with the new section of highway, is 3.5 miles long and reduces average traveling time through the county by approximately 11 minutes, the state highway department reported.

While the bridge contract was for $2.6 million, total cost of the project was $4,250,000, according to state highway engineer Forrest Cooper.

Following dedication of the Youngs Bay bridge, it will remain open for traffic during the weekend, but brief-closed periods next week are anticipated, according to Fred Illam, drawbridge superintendent.

Illam said some additional finishing work is required. Tentative planning now is to schedule the closures at times of minimum traffic during working hours, Illam indicated.

Some Showers, Some Clearing Predicted Here

Astoria Regatta fans are going to have to dodge some showers at times, but can expect some fair weather also this weekend, the US Weather Bureau predicted Friday.

A cold trough that has brought rain to the area was nearly gone Friday morning, so the bureau predicted clearing weather for late Friday

But a rapidly-moving storm front was racing across the Gulf of Alaska and will reach this area around 8 to 9 a.m. Saturday, the bureau said.

If the front keeps moving as fast as it has been, it should be gone, with its brief trail of showers, before noon Saturday, the bureau said. This could bring fair weather for Saturday afternoon activities and could also mean fair weather for Sunday's events. The bureau hesitated to make firm prediction for Sunday, however Another storm is hovering around somewhere out there in the Pacific and it could sneak in.

Youth Parade May Draw 500 Astoria Youngsters

Three hundred Astoria youngsters — perhaps 500 if the sun shines this afternoon — are expected to take part in tonight's postponed Kiwanis children's parade.

Showers washed the affair out Thursday night, when it was originally scheduled.

If it clouds up and rains again tonight, the parade will be postponed again until some time next next week. Kiwanis officials said However, the official forcast was for clearing weather this afternoon, so Kiwanians expected the parade will go ahead on schedule.

Entries have been divided into seven groups by George Chaney, parade chairman, and his committee Children have been working for days on costumes, stunts, floats, pet costumes and other projects for the parade

Entries will assemble at 6 p.m on the streets south and west of the cort house prior to marching eastward on Commercial at 6:30 p.m.

Program To Attract Visitors

Continued from Page 1

Domelen, treasurer. ... members of the board of ... Tom Cam... Scarborough ... ll Morrison ... Kirk Tibbetts ... Bill King Evor ... ginia Reiter and ... Deskin O Bergey ... ux Peter Cosovich ... tbock and Al Iverson ... advisory board.

The JC fire truck in the Regatta parade Saturday afternoon will feature several Jaycees throwing out wrapped candy all along the parade route. The organization has obtained ap... ely 45 pounds of candy ... project and hopes that ... d watching the parade ... at least one piece ...

... atta parade Saturday will be quite a long one, according to reports from the Regatta Association.

Parade Chairman Marque Marriott announced that there would be 6 groups having approximately 10 units apiece. They will appear as follows

Regatta Admiral Gerry Frank and Aide Graham Barbey.

Anchor Drill Team
Astoria Ambulance
Astoria High School Band
Astoria Jaycee Fire Engine
Individual Rider — Mabel Baker
Beachcombers.
Beaverton Elks Drill Team.
Oregon State Treasurer How... d Belton.
Beta Mu Theta Rho Girls, Warrenton
Captain W. E. Betzer, USS ...
Astoria Boy Scouts
Bumble Bee Seafoods
Oregon Chefs de Cuisine Society
Clatsop College float
Clatsop County Rodeo Association
Clatsop Forty and Eight
Clatsop County Sheriffs Patrol
Company E, 162nd Engineering Battalion
Clatsop Scottish Pipe Band
Clatsop County Historical Society
Clatsop County Tuberculosis and Health Association
Columbia River Fishermen's Protective Union, Sally the Salmon, float, and court.
Crab Pot Restaurant
Cycl-O-Trons, Portland
Darigold Farms; Clatsop and Columbia Counties' Dairy Princesses
Debs Arrows, Salem.
Deskin Bergey, 1963 Senior Citizen
Eugene Highland Pipe Band
Flamingos Drum and Bugle Corps, Salem
Flintstones, Olympia
...esa Drill Team, Filipino Youth Activities Group, Seattle.
Garibaldi Fire Department
Clatsop Karting Association
...d Marshal Warne Nunn, Executive Assistant to the Governor
Hayshakers Square Dancers.
Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 58.
Howard Johnson Logging.
Junior Mustangs 4-H Riding Group
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Longview-Kelso Junior Drum and Bugle Corp.
Mariners Drum and Bugle Corp.
Robert Fox, Mayor of Hammond.
Astoria Mayor Harry Steinbock
Gerald Gower, Mayor of Can...
Miss Clatsop County 1964 Beverly MacLean.
Miss Oregon 1964 Carol Pedersen
Miss Seaside 1964 Shirlee[illegible] Cole
Milwaukie American Legion Drill Team
Mt. Hebo Radar Station Color Guard
Mt Scott Rainbowettes.
Maurice Pysher, Mayor of Seaside.
... Power and Light Company
Red Cross
Regatta Court.
Regatta Junior Court.
C J Zakrzewski Regatta Association President
Salem Cherrians
Skyliners 4-H Club Drill Riders.
Motorcycle Club, Dick Spring...
... Sam
... Naval Air Station, Oak ... Wash.
... Marching Unit
[illegible]

Astoria Regatta Royalty on Review

The lovely, little queen of the Astoria Regatta, Lorraine Johansen, majestically enters the Astoria high school cafeteria at the luncheon given in her honor Saturday by the Anchor club. Followed by her court of four princesses, she passes the Anchor escort team standing at attention.

Copters Demonstrate Water Rescue

A demonstration of rescuing people from the water is made by two Coast Guard helicopters at the Astoria Regatta this year. Above is one of the copters floating on the water, with a platform in front of the door, on to which a man has just been plucked from the river. The copters also demonstrated lowering a basket to pick up a man.

Admiral Escorts Regatta Queen

Regatta Admiral Gerald Frank escorts Lorraine Johansen down the aisle following her coronation at Astoria high school. (Pa... Photo)

Distinguished Guest, Miss Oregon

Radiant Miss Oregon (Carold Pedersen of Newport) who will represent the state at the Miss American Pageant in Atlantic City soon, was a guest at the Regatta Queen's luncheon, prior to cutting the ribbon at the dedication of the new bridge. With her is her chaperone Betty Hayden who accompanied her on the trip north in her official car.

Crowd Views Regatta Parade

Crowds lined Commercial street, three or more deep on both sides for Saturday afternoon's Regatta parade, as shown in the photo above. Reviewing stand is in lower left corner. Mayor and Mrs. Harry Steinbock are passing, followed by Mariners Drum and Bugle Corps. Rain-soaked streets dried in time for the parade.

Navy Men March in Parade

Marching unit from USS Union, visiting naval ship, joined in Regatta parade Saturday. Union was in Astoria for the Regatta weekend. (Astorian Photo)

THE DAILY ASTORIAN

The Newspaper of the Great Sunset Empire

Vol 92, No. 42 | Astoria, Oregon, Thursday, August 27, 1964 | Single Copies 10c

Children's Parade Tonight Kicks Off Regatta Festivities

Join the FUN

REGATTA

A Kiddies' Parade sponsored by the Kiwanis club will kick off the festival at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday Aug 27. That evening the USS Union will dock in Astoria and hold open house during the entire festival.

Friday evening, one of the Regatta princesses will be crowned Regatta Queen in a ceremony beginning at 8 p.m at the high school.

Saturday, visitors to the Regatta will see the 11 a.m opening of the International Corner, headed by Adelaine Sather. The corner will have international foods, customs and exhibits.

Meanwhile, a men's no host lunch will be going on at the Cinders, preceding the 2 p.m Youngs bay bridge dedication.

The Grand Parade with floats, bands and pretty girls will begin at 4 p.m in downtown Astoria. Saturday evening a hootenanny will be held at 8:00 at the National Guard armory and after the singing is over, a teen dance will be held. The Del Rays and Checkmates will appear at the dance.

Sunday, Aug 30, a SP&S tour train from Portland will reach Astoria at 11 a.m., just in time to catch some of the gillnetters' demonstration and [illegible] east end mooring [illegible]. The gillnetters will begin [illegible] a.m with a marine parade. Rev [illegible] palean church will deliver the blessing of the fleet at 10 a.m and the Rainier Ski Bees will perform at 10:30. Gerry Frank will speak at 10:45 Sunday morning, followed by the [illegible] demonstration and gillnet boat races. The balloon race will be at 12:00 noon.

Sunday afternoon, Cullaby lake will be the center of activity. Corvallis Aqua-Thusiast time trials for motor boats will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Races will begin at 1:00 and last until 4:00.

The Lions club salmon barbecue from 4 to 7 p.m. at the 4-H fairgrounds will end the festival Sunday. Tickets for the barbecue are $1.50 for adults and 75c for children under 12.

Regatta general chairman C J Zakrzewski reports that the response to over 200 admiral commissions sent to people throughout the state "has been gratifying." In addition, at least 400 persons are expected to come on the festival train tour from Portland.

THANKS JUNIORS

To The Editor.

We have completed our 44th annual Regatta and I would like to extend a note of thanks and special appreciation to our junior citizens.

During the entire Regatta festivities they labored long and hard and conducted themselves as ladies and gentlemen at every event. When it came time for relaxation at the dance on Saturday night they continued to conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen with no misconduct of any kind. This dance was no exception since we have had several in the past months where the conduct has always been excellent.

The citizens of Astoria and surrounding communities should be justly proud of these fine young men and womn who have matured enough to conduct themselves so well in our society.

DALE F CURRY
City Manager

Regatta
CORONATION
Friday, August 28
8:00 P.M.
AHS Auditorium
Adults $1.00 Children 50c
This Space Courtesy
DARIGOLD

Ready for coming Regatta events are Whidby Island precision drill team from naval air station there (top photo) and Jaycee and Jay-C-Ette hosts for Miss Oregon (lower photo). Drill team will march in the Regatta parade Saturday afternoon. Preparing to welcome Miss Oregon, Carol Pedersen of Newport, are (from left) Clarabell Erickson, Sue Tucker, Jean Peterson of Jay-C-Ettes and Omer Stephens Jr., JC president. The group will escort Miss Oregon to the queen's luncheon Saturday at noon at Astoria high school cafeteria. Luncheon is open to the public.

THURSDAY

6:30 p.m.—Children's Parade, downtown.

FRIDAY

8:00 a.m.—Arrival of USS Union, Pier 1, Port Docks.
4:00 p.m.—Welcome Admiral. Aboard Lightship Columbia, East End Mooring Basin.
8:00 p.m.—Queen's Coronation, Astoria high school.

SATURDAY

11:00 a.m.—International Corner, 14th and Commercial.
12 Noon—Queen's Luncheon, Astoria high school. Admiral's Luncheon, Cinders.
2:00 p.m.—Bridge Dedication, Youngs Bay bridge.
4:00 p.m.—Grand Parade, downtown.
9:00 p.m.—Teen Dance, Armory.

SUNDAY

East End Mooring Basin:
9:30 a.m.—Marine Parade.
10:00 a.m.—Blessing of the Fleet, Dr. Carl Gross.
10:30 a.m.—Rainier Ski Bees.
10:45 a.m.—Gerry Frank.
11:00 a.m.—Gear Demonstration.
11:30 a.m.—Boat Races:
  (a) 0-150 H.P.
  (b) 150-225 H.P.
  (c) Unlimited.
12 Noon—Balloon Race.
Cullaby Lake: Corvallis Aqua-thusiasts.
9:30-11:30 a.m.—Time Trials.
1:00-4:00 p.m.—Races.
11:00 a.m.—Train from Portland Arrives, SP&S Depot.
1:30-6:00 p.m.—Lion's Club Salmon Barbecue, 4-H Fair Grounds.

Prizes Await Top Entries

Regatta-land children will experience their own special excitement at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the annual children's parade sponsored by the local Kiwanis club. Children up to 14 years of age are invited to prepare a costume, float or other type of parade entry and join the fun in this kick-off event to the Astoria Regatta. In addition to the youthful entries there will be several bands in the parade and the Regatta court will appear.

Cash prizes will be given for first, second and third places in each of seven categories. These are boys' and girls' bicycles, boys' and girls' triycles, costumes, wagons and floats and mixed. Honorable mention awards will also be given when the judges feel they are necessary. A grand prize will be given for the best parade entry.

Judges for the parade are Harold Johnson, Herbert Hacker, Fred Andrus, Ward Quarles, Richard Runyon, Maurice Wilson, Duane Jue, Verne Stratton, George Conatore, Eldon Urbigketi, Clarence Short and George Chaney who is also general chairman of the event.

The parade will begin forming at 6 p.m. on Duane Street in back of the county courthouse. At 6:30 p.m. the parade will begin to work its way up Commercial to 17th street where it will disband. At this time all the youthful entrants will be treated to ice cream by members of the Kiwanis club.

Led by Grand Marshal Warne Nunn, executive assistant to Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, this year's Regatta Parade will begin at 4 p.m., Saturday. Marque Marriott, chairman of the event, announced today that the parade would form Saturay afternoon on West Marine Drive near the American Can Co. It will proceed down Commercial Street to the 4-H fair ground where it will disband. This year's parade will consist of approximately 6 groups of 10 units apiece. "This is a big parade," said Marriott, "and we hope that a large crowd will be on hand for the annual affair."

Howard Belton, Oregon state treasurer, will be among the distinguished visitors for the Regatta. Belton, a Regatta admiral on the staff of grand Admiral Gerald T. Frank, will be here Saturday and will take part in the parade.

Acting Police Chief R. E. Cunningham of the Astoria Police Department said the parade would necessitate several special traffic arrangements. All cars will be cleared from West Marine and Marine Drive from West Bond to 8th street. Commercial street will be cleared between 8th and 17th streets and Exchange street from 7th to 8th will be cleared on both sides.

To Close Streets

There will be complete closures of several streets, according to Cunningham. These will be marked with barricades and signs. Any vehicle left in these areas will be towed away and impounded by the police department. Any change of vehicular traffic routing will prevail following the parade and until the area is sufficiently clear of traffic that the temporary signs can be removed.

The police department requested that extra caution and cooperation be exercised by parade viewers, particularly when moving into the street to watch the parade as it passes. A first-aid stand will be in operation at 11th and Commercial to take care of any emergencies.

Prizes Await Gillnetters In Regatta Boat Races Sunday

Ex-Champions In Competition At East Basin

Four hundred dollars in prize money is available for the free-for-all gillnet boat race Sunday morning at the East End mooring basin, general chairman Don R: wick of Regatta marine events announced Thursday.

There will be three fish boat races, one for boat with engines of 150 horsepower or less, one for boats of 160 to 225 horsepower and the free-for-all.

At stake in the free-for-all will be the Daily Astorian trophy for the first place winner, now in possession of Dan Stephen of Altoona Wash., who won it last year.

Stephan has won this trophy twice. If he wins a third time he wins permanent possession and the Daily Astorian will have to provide a second trophy for future winners.

Nick Marincovich, Astoria, and Wilmer Johnson Jr. Astoria, other past champions, will be among other entries in this year's free-for-all race.

Champ to Enter

John Tarabochia, another former free-for-all champion, will enter the race for boats of 150-225 horsepower this year, with a different boat than the one which brought him his grand championship.

Riswick appealed Thursday to all gillnetters who plan to enter races to notify him as soon as possible.

"Many of them wait until the day of the race to let us know they are competing," he said

Riswick also appealed to all owners of any kind of boat to take part in the marine parade scheduled for Saturday at 9:30 a.m. to start at the East End basin.

"The more boats we have out on the river, the more we will impress visitors with the size and importance of the fishing industry that sportsmen are trying to put out of existence this year," the chairman noted.

Courts to Appear

The Regatta court, Regatta junior court and Sally the Salmon court will all be on hand to appear in the marine parade Riswick said. Joe Dyer and Roy Duoos are supplying the boats to carry the Regatta royalty.

Riswick emphasized that every participant in each gillnet boat race will receive a prize

Blessing of the fishing fleet with the Rev. Carl Gross officiating, will be a 10 a.m feature at the East End basin Sunday following the marine parade.

Wreaths in memory of departed members of the fishing industry will be placed on the water following this rite. Riswick said that anyone who wants to place a wreath is invited to participate.

Fishermen who will enter the races may notify Riswick Kenneth Olsen of the Alaska Fishermen's union, or the Columbia River Fishermen's union office

Riswick published the following rules for race entries

"All boats entering race must pass Coast Guard regulations

"All boat operators must wear life jackets or vests.

"Boats must be of Columbia river gillnet boat type, at least 25 feet long, with one engine which will be classified as standard equipment, excluding superchargers or other contrivances."

WHICH ONE WILL BE QUEEN?

LORRAINE JOHANSEN

ZOE VONNA PALMROSE

VIRGINIA SAGEN

LUCILLE JOHANSEN

MARY CAROL MILES

The Columbia Press

1279 Marine Dr., Astoria, Ore. -$3 a year in county, $4.50 outside -Thursday, August 27, 1964-Vol. 39, No. 35

Dancers To Perform In Streets, Regatta

Dancers from all over the Pacific northwest will be gathering in Astoria Saturday to take part in the International Music and Dance Festival to be held in the street at the International Corner during the Regatta.

The professional international dancers will participate in continuous dancing between 14th and Commercial from noon until Grand Parade time at 4 p.m. Featured will be the Eugene Highland Pipe Band and Scottish dancers, Swedish Dancers of Portland, Susan Conboys' Hawaiian Dancers of Astoria and International Folk Dancers from Portland. Square dancers from the Sunset Empire council and the Windsors from Knappa's Dads club will represent American folk music.

Also tentatively scheduled to appear are the Swiss Dancers of Tillamook Swiss Society.

After the Grand Parade, 45 teenagers in a Filipino drill and dance team from Seattle will perform. The group, directed by Fred Cordova will dance from 5:30 to 6 p.m., Miss Maddox said.

Plans are being made to have Miss Betty Nyholm, 1964 Finnish Lucia Bride from Helsinki, appear at the music festival.

"I think that it is really fabulous," Miss Maddox said. "Everyone has been so perfectly marvelous to work with. I am sure that if they are welcomed nicely, they will return."

Miss Maddox is being assisted with the music festival by Bud Heilman of Knappa. The music festival will be held in conjunction with the international corner's exhibits and salmon luncheon.

44th ASTORIA REGATTA SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Aug 27: 6:30 Kiddies Parade

Aug. 28: 4-6 pm- Admiral's Welcome, Aboard Lightship Columbia, East End Boat Basin
8 pm-Queen's Coronation, Astoria High School

Aug. 29: 10 am- Maritime Museum Tour
11 am- International Corner, 12th & Commercial,
12 noon-Queen's Luncheon, Astoria High
12 noon-Men's No Host Lunch, Cinders
2 pm- Bridge Dedication, Youngs Bay
4 pm- Grand Parade, downtown
9 pm- Teen Dance, Armory

Aug. 30: 9:30 am-Marine Parade, East End Boat Basin
10 am-Blessing of the fleet, Dr. Gross
10:30-Rainier Ski Bees
10:45 Admiral Gerry Frank
11 am-Fishing Gear Demonstrations
11:30 am- Gillnet Boat Races
    a. Under 150 HP
    b. 150-225 HP
    c. Unlimited HP
12 noon- Balloon Race

9 am-11:30-Time Trials, Cullaby Lake
1 pm-4-Outboard Races, Cullaby Lake
Corvallis Aqua-thusiasts will perform

11 am-Train from Portland arrives
1:30-6-Salmon Barbecue-4-H Fairgrounds

Regatta President's Official Welcome

By C. J. ZAKRZEWSKI

"We in the Regatta committee hope that everyone enjoys himself. We have tried to make the program so that all are able to participate and have a good time.

"A special welcome to all of the out-of-town visitors: We are happy to have you here and hope you will return to our Regatta again.

"We urge everyone to rummage through their closets, find and get out the Regatta uniforms (dark coats, white pants and yacht caps) and wear them. Or wear a Regatta button.

"We'd also like to thank the merchants for donating their 'Welcome to Oregon' pennants. Have fun, everyone."

Mayor Harry Steinbock and Astoria Chamber of Commerce president Harry Swanson Jr. join with the Regatta committee to welcome all visitors and to ask everyone to partake in the fun and excitement during the 44th annual Regatta.

"The spirit and cooperation of our city is apparent for all to view during Regatta time," said Swanson. "We all would be re-

Navy Transport To Arrive August 29

Ships ahoy, mates. The Navy is coming to town. The U.S. Union will arrive at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 29 to participate in the Astoria Regatta.

During its three-day stay, the attack cargo transport will hold open house with hours to be announced later. The USS Union, commanded by Capt. William E. Betzer, claims San Diego as its home port. But three of the ship's company are from Oregon, one from Lake Oswego and two from Portland.

Regatta president C. J. Zakrzewski noted one similarity from the ship: "As the official motto of the state of Oregon happens to be 'The Union", no more appropriate ship than the Union could have been chosen to participate in the Regatta," he said.

Regatta Queen Chosen Friday

To Be Honored At Luncheon Saturday

Five lovely girls in the limelight—which one will it be?

This is the question all are asking as the coronation of the 1964 Regatta Queen Friday night approaches.

Gracefully competing for the title are lovely Lucille Johansen and her perky twin sister Lorraine Johansen, vivacious Zoe Vanna Palmrose, charming Mary Carol Miles and gregarious Virginia Sagen.

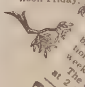
At the ceremonies at 8 p.m. Friday at the Astoria high school, each of the princesses will give a short speech and then await the judges' decision. One will be singled out to reign over the Regatta as Regatta Queen. She will be crowned by Admiral Gerry Frank.

Last year's Regatta Queen Shirley McKnight will be on hand to wish the new queen well, as will coronation co-chairmen, Mrs. Charles Farmer and Mrs. Charles Gustafson and decoration co-chairmen, Mrs. Wesley Charner and Mrs. Thomas Edison.

Admission for the coronation Friday will be $1 for adults and 50c for children.

Saturday the new Regatta Queen will be feted by women from all over the county at the queen's luncheon at the high school. Miss Oregon, Carol Pedersen, a special guest of the Astoria Jay-C-Ettes, will be present to honor the queen.

The salmon luncheon sponsored by the Anchor club will begin at 11:45 a.m. and will feature salmon. Co-chairmen of the $1.75 luncheon are Mrs. Geo. Niemi and Mrs. William Malmberg. For reservations call Mrs. Niemi at 325-2670, Mrs. Malmberg at 325-5478 or Mrs. Arthur Johansen at 3[illegible]5 before noon Friday.



Yo

Dur

Dedica

bridge

tion durı weekend.

The dedica

at 2 p.m. See

y Go

exchange of speaker will

h from Port-

ral Bureau of

e chamber of ed.

[illegible] to local officials, Warne Nunn, executive assistant to the governor, will attend the ceremonies at which Oregon highway commission chairman Glenn Jackson of Medford will preside as master of ceremonies. Miss Oregon, Carol Pedersen, will also be present.

Regatta Royal Robe Is Ready for Regality

A close-up of the royal purple robe, sequin medallioned, which will be draped across the shoulders of a lucky Astoria girl Friday night, proclaiming her queen of the 1964 Regatta, is shown here. Members of the coronation committee of the Anchor club, in charge of Friday night's august and colorful ceremony, are shown holding the velvet robe, from left around the circle, the Mesdames Wesley Shaner Jr., Bryan Johnson, Charles Gustafson, chairman; Tom Johnson, Wallace Nelson, Rolland Gregg, Charles Farmer and John Day. Kneeling on floor is tiny Cindy Nelson, niece of Mrs. Nelson, who already has hopes that some day. . . . Members of the committee not present for pictures are the Mesdames Tom Edison, co-chairman; Bob Ryding, Bob Hendrickson, Don Hoyer, Gene Hallaux and Darrell Hawes. The coronation starts at 8 p.m. Friday at Astoria high school, when one of five pretty Regatta princesses will be chosen queen. Astoria high school band will play, and Admiral Gerald Frank will be introduced

ACTIVE AT INTERNATIONAL CORNER-Untiring workers for the success of the International Exhibits and Snack Bar are, from left, Katrina Salo, representing the Finnish Brotherhood;Mrs. Phil Everett, chairman of the Clatsop County Association for Retarded Children;and Mrs. Adelaine Sather, general chairman of the event. Proceeds will go to the Retarded Children's program for the county.

TOPPLED BARRIER AT BRIDGE ENTRANCE indicates the path of an impatient motorist, evidently not interested in the formal ribbon-cutting ceremony and opening of the new Youngs Bay bridge at Smith Point next Saturday afternoon. New span, appropriately opening for traffic at the close of Regatta week, brings closer relationship between Clatsop communities.

The Oregon MOTORIST

VOL. XXXXIII, No. 8 Official Publication of the Oregon State Motor Association AUGUST, 1964

In This Issue . . .

THREE SISTERS AREA, STATE FAIR . . . Page 2
VANCOUVER, B. C . . . Page 3
MODERN FERRIES . . . Page 4
MEXICAN PILGRIMAGE, HUMBOLDT COUNTY . . Page 5
FREEWAY MUSINGS . . . Page 6
CALIFORNIA AT A LEISURELY PACE . . . Page 7

Astoria Host For Festival August 27-30

Salmon barbecues, parades, a Hootenanny and boat races will highlight the annual Regatta and Fish Festival at Astoria August 27-30.

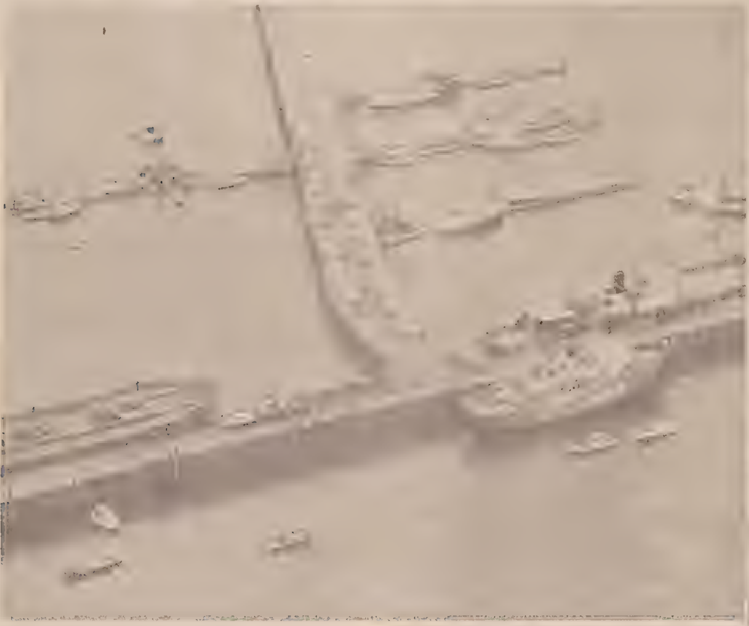
The event is kicked-off with the Kiddies' Parade Thursday evening August 27 at 6:30 p. m., to be followed by the coronation of the Festival Queen at the High School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. Also scheduled to arrive on Thursday is the U.S.S. Union which will tie up at the park docks

Saturday will see the opening of the International Corner in downtown Astoria at 11 a. m. where international foods, costumes and exhibits will be featured. The event will benefit the Clatsop County Retarded Children's Educational Fund. The Queen's luncheon is scheduled for noon at the high school and at 4 p. m. the Grand Parade will start. Saturday evening at 8 p. m. the Hootenanny will begin at the Armory and a surprise is promised for this event

Inboard and outboard boat races will be held Sunday, with time trials starting at 9 a. m. and regular races set for 1 p. m. at Cullaby lake. The Gillnetters will race their boats and demonstrate their skills at the Eastend Mooring Basin, starting at 11 a. m. The salmon barbecue is scheduled for 4 o'clock Sun

The S P & S tour train from Portland is scheduled to reach Astoria at 11 a. m. Sunday morning as a feature of the festival

Astoria's Regatta Ends Sunday With Splashing Good Time



ASTORIA wharf, car and spectator lined, was scene of special helicopter maneuvers Sunday by the U.S. Coast Guard, as part of the activities for Regatta. Waters were placid and soft blue, and gave the Regatta boats no trouble Sunday. Saturday waters were choppy. Astoria Regatta ended Sunday. Rescue demonstration was staged by Coast Guard personnel stationed at nearby Tongue Point.

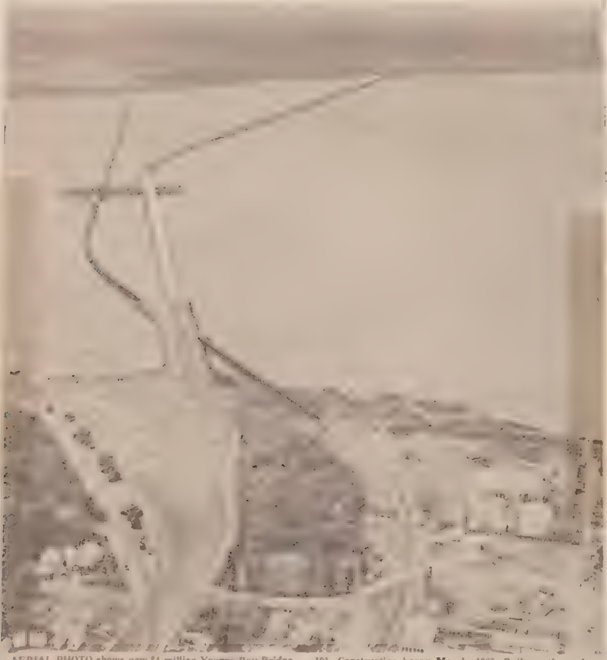
LOG-ROLLING champ of Astoria Regatta is Gil Trucke, 22, (in white trunks), photographed here as he is about to dunk Mike Rippett, 21, Astoria. Trucke, of Gearhart, is a rafter with Crown-Zellerbach Corp. Speed boat races, and log rolling events were conducted at Cullaby Lake. (Regatta photos by Von Wald)

... THAT'S a crayfish. Chris Burgess, 6, puzzles over his catch made Sunday at Cullaby Lake. He ignored thrilling speed boat races to inspect leggy specimen, which he daintily holds by middle. Youngster is son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Burgess Jr. 1300 SW Cedar, Warrenton.

The Oregonian

Second Class Postage Paid at Portland, Oregon ★★★★★ MONDAY, AUGUST 31, 1964 44 PAGES PRICE FIVE CENTS

It's Shorter Over Youngs Bay Now



AERIAL PHOTO shows new $4 million Youngs Bay Bridge at Astoria, dedicated during Regatta fete. Built mainly on a stretch of piling, the two mile expanse cuts distance between Astoria and Warrenton by more than [illegible] miles. Two-lane bridge which spans Youngs River, is on Highway 101. Construction began March, 1963. Railway tie snakes to left. Bridge lifts at center steel cross section, allowing boat passage. There is no auto toll charge. Foreground area is on Astoria side of Youngs Bay. (Von Wald Photo)

1965
REGATTA
AUG 27, 28, 29

Mrs. Oja Selected Regatta Chaperone

MRS. WAYNE OJA

Chaperone, guardian, counselor and constant companion of the Astoria Regatta court this year will be Mrs. Wayne Oja, according to official announcement of the 1956 Astoria Regatta association.

Mrs. Oja has served in the capacity of a friend and adviser for girls throughout the years she has lived in Astoria, which dates from her birth. With the exception of one year she spent in Europe with her mother, and another year when she worked in a telephone office in New York, adjacent to Wall street, she has made Astoria her home.

When her son Donald, who is married and lives in Seattle, and her daughter Gladys, who will be married in June, were small, she was active in Cub Scout Brownie and Girl Scout work. She is guardian for Job's Daughters, serving also as messenger for the grand (state) guardian council of Job's Daughters, and was president of Capt. Robert Gray PTA and Astoria high school PTA when her children were in school.

She is also a past president of Zonta International, was [illegible] Zion Lutheran [illegible] where she has been an active worker through the [illegible] Fern [illegible] Eastern Star and is a past president of the [illegible]

She is bookkeeper for the Portway Machine Works, from which job she has been "fired" several times, she laughingly stated, by her boss, her husband, but he always hires her [illegible]

Gardening and music are her main interests, beside that of [illegible] functions in the [illegible]

When time permits, Wayne and [illegible]via Oja pack up their [illegible] trailer (the kind that [illegible]

Hail the 1965 Astoria Regatta Princesses!

Members of the 1965 Astoria Regatta court are shown at Princess selection dance for high school students in the county Wednesday night at American Legion hall. From left, they are Kristine Johnson, Shelby McCoy and Nicki Frederickson, all of Astoria high school; Susan Mooney, Seaside; Judy Vinson, Knappa, and Cheryl Bettendorf, Star of the Sea. Presidents of their respective high school student bodies announced each princess, and members of the Anchor club drill team, official escorts of the Regatta court, accompanied each girl to the stage. Kirk Tibbetts was MC.

Elfving Parade Marshal

Farewell to the ferries will be theme of the Astoria Rega parade this year, and the Regatta committee has chose Capt. Fritz Elfving, long-time ferry operator, as parade marshal. Here is Capt. Elfving, now retired, taking a nostalgic look through the pilot house of the Tourist No. 3 which he operated for many years.

Bridge To End Long Service Of Astoria-Megler Ferries

Editor's Note The following discussion of trans-Columbia ferry service here is one of various compositions on subjects of local interest prepared as class work by students of Mrs. Vera Gault's English classes at Clatsop college

By MARGARET MOTT

The local ferry business started 45 years ago and has progressed throughout the years Earliest transportation across the river from Astoria to Chinook was by Indian canoes A fish hook was the accepted fare The first ferry boat was established in 1840 by Solomon Smith whose equipment consisted of two canoes hooked together to carry passengers and freight across the Columbia, weather permitting After that, various kinds of privately owned boats were used

Ferry service between Astoria and McGowan, Wash., was assured when Capt Fritz Elfving awarded a contract to Wilson Shipbuilding company in February 1921, to construct a 15-car ferry. The newly-built ferry boat, Tourist No. 1, made its maiden run three months later carrying 14 automobiles. In 1924, Capt Elfving built a second landing at Point Ellice from which he operated until 1933, when a 93-mile gale washed it out. He then moved the ferry landing to its present location In 1922, Capt. Elfving made plans to build a second 20-car ferry, Tourist No. 2. In June, 1931, Elfving christened his third motor ferry, Tourist No. 3.

Capt Elfving had competition in 1928, when the Union Pacific started operating a small boat for passengers only. After two and one-half years of business, Union Pacific sold out to the North Beach Transportation company. In 1934, Capt. Elving bought out the North Beach Transportation company, thus eliminating his only competition.

After seven years of being the first and only ferry at the mouth of the Columbia river, the Tourist No. 1 was taken to Coos Bay to make the run across the Coos river. After a bridge was put in, Capt. Elfving contracted with the State Highway commission to run the vessel across the Siuslaw at Florence, Ore. It was there for four years before being sold to the Puget Island ferry line. The old boat is still at Puget Island, lying up near the landing. The first wheelhouse of the Tourist No. 1 is being used now as the ticket office at the Astoria landing

After all the confusion of the competition and changing of companies, all was peaceful until the start of World War II in 1941. One day as Capt Elfving sat at his desk, several army officers appeared They came from Fort Stevens, and asked to use the Tourist No 2 for the duration of the war From December 7, 1941, the Tourist No 2 laid and tended mine fields at the mouth of the Columbia and operated as a military ferry between Fts Stevens and Canby. At the end of the war, the ferry received an "E" pennant in recognition of its service record

The year 1946 marked end of an era in the ferry business at the mouth of the Columbia river for Capt Elfving. He had owned and operated the ferries as Trans-Columbia Ferry Service for 25 years. Largely through efforts of the late Merle Chessman, the State Highway commission took the ferries over In this year also the Inland Boatman's Union of the Pacific came into being This marked the first time the ferries had been operated with union help In 1948, the state of Oregon built the ferry M R Chessman

From 1947-50, Babbidge and Holt operated the ferries, as contractor. In the early part of the 1950's, Astoria Navigation company was organized to operate the ferries for the state Astoria Navigation company is co-owned by T R. Williams and R C Larson

In the spring of 1963, the Kitsap was bought from the state of Washington

The state of Oregon sends the boats to drydock every winter for maintenance and repairs The small ferries go to Astoria Marine Construction company; the two large ferries go to Albina in Portland By late spring the boats are again in good condition

In the last part of June Astoria Navigation company usually puts on one or two more boats to accommodate the heavy traffic of the summer months They hire extra summer help, too During the busy season, the ferries are happy places as the employees are friendly and cheerful, like one big family

Those who have never ridden the ferries should do so before 1966 ends, for when the Astoria-Megler bridge is completed the four ferries will be sold. Passengers can enjoy fascinating scenery from the ferry The view of the bridge silhouetted against the sunset is a sight never to be forgotten Other sights best seen from the ferries include gillnetting, towboating and the traffic of small boats on the river as well as that of the big ships moving out to the ports of the world So awesome is the scenery from the ferries that tourists often turn artists as they try to capture with pencil and brush the beauties of the boats, sunset, fishing and the gulls over the water

After the Astoria - Megler bridge has been completed, many Astorians will look back with a sense of loss to the days when the ferries were a familiar sight on the river, gliding majestically over their scenic four-and-one half mile crossing

---

Columbia Race Billed For Regatta

A Columbia river marathon [illegible] from Portland to Astoria [illegible] Astoria Regatta feature this year, newly-appointed Regatta Admiral Lawrence Barber, Portland, announced Thursday.

There will be three classes [illegible] runabout class based on piston displacement. There will be one or two classes in the cruiser category, depending on number of entries.

The races are being sponsored jointly by the Astoria Regatta association and Cascade Inboard Racing association. They will be conducted under American Power Boat association rules.

[illegible] prizes will be provided in each [illegible]

We hope for 40 [illegible] boats to [illegible] said [illegible] has not yet been [illegible] Multnomah [illegible] to the [illegible]

The Cascade Inboard Racing association [illegible] Portland [illegible]

This is a brand new racing event [illegible] river [illegible] at the end of the [illegible]

Rules are that open boats must be at least 13 feet long, capable of rough water [illegible] at high speeds. [illegible] must be 23 feet or longer with permanent berths [illegible] and [illegible]

Miss Raindrop Receives New Crown As Queen Of Portland Cup Regatta

Dorothy Morgareidge, "Miss Raindrop of 1965" for the Portland Rainmakers, received a second crown Tuesday, as queen of the Portland Cup Regatta.

The coronation occurred at the luncheon of the South Riverside Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the regatta, to be held Sunday, June 27 in the Willamette River at Willamette Marine Park.

The tiara was placed on her head by Larry Barber, marine editor of The Oregonian, who will serve as admiral of the 1965 Astoria Regatta, Aug. 27, 28 and 29.

Present for the coronation of their 19-year-old queen were the other four members of the Raindrop court, Vicki Rudiger, 22; Juanona Woods, 18; Audrey Mowlds, 19; and Sherry Swartz, 18.

"We Rainmakers have loaned our court to the Kiwanis Club for the regatta because, we believe we are the people responsible for the water that runs in your rivers and makes boating possible," explained Bert Cooper, vice president of the Rainmakers. "After the regatta, we want our court returned to us."

Gene Schmuck, president of the South Riverside Kiwanis Club, announced that Bill Muncey, driver of the Miss Thriftway in Gold Cup races, was the first to enter the Portland Cup regatta, which will feature many of the fastest inboard racing boats on the Pacific Coast

Portland Cup Regatta will feature eight classes of limited hydroplanes, including the very fast 7-Litre class The races will be conducted by Cascade Inboard Racing Association and proceeds will be for the benefit of the Mt. Hood Kiwanis Camp for Handicapped Children. The sponsors hope to attract attention to their campaign for development of a major water sports center in the Smith Lake area north of Portland.

The Astoria Regatta is being revamped this year with a 93-mile high speed marathon from Portland to Astoria, sailing races, outboard and fishboat races, and a cruiser parade planned as maritime features.

CROWNED AGAIN, Dorothy Morgareidge, "Miss Raindrop", gets second tiara in a month as queen of Portland Cup Regatta, this time from Larry Barber, The Oregonian's marine editor, as Admiral of Astoria Regatta this year. Portland Cup high point trophy towers behind. (Von Wald)

Wednesday, June 16, 1965

Barber, Oregonian Marine Editor, 1965 Regatta Admiral

Lawrence (Larry) Barber, veteran marine editor of the Portland Oregonian, will be admiral of the 1965 Astoria Regatta August 27-29.

Barber's appointment was announced Wednesday by the Regatta committee

Also announced was appointment of Joseph M Dyer, longtime head of Astoria Marine Construction company, as official aide to the admiral

Barber will preside over official Regatta functions along with a Regatta queen whom he will crown on opening night of the annual festival

The queen will be elected from among the six Regatta princesses who already have been chosen

Barber, 63, was born and educated in Normal, Ill., and came to Portland in July, 1926, joining the staff of The Oregonian as a reporter Since 1932 he has been marine editor, and may be considered "dean" of maritime writers on the Pacific coast Since 1947 he has written the weekly boating feature, "River Ramblings" in The Sunday Oregonian.

Barber covered several Astoria Regattas as a reporter before World War II and caught "salmon fever" when he hooked his first chinook salmon as a guest on the late Mason Dillard's boat in 1939. The desire to fish prompted him to purchase his first boat, the 19-foot Little Shaver, in 1941, and he moved up in 1947 to the 31-foot Rambler, with which he has made 10 trips up and down the Washington coast between the Columbia river and British Columbia

LAWRENCE (LARRY) BARBER

Barber is a past commander of the Portland Power Squadron, honorary member of several [illegible] member of the Oregon State Marine Board, the governor's Oregon Outdoor Recreation council, the Lower Columbia River Advisory council, the Multnomah County Sheriff's Advisory committee, the board of [illegible] of the Portland Mari[illegible] Museum Inc., Coast Guard [illegible] Florida 73 Inc. and recently has [illegible] serving as a consultant for the marine technology course proposed for Clatsop Community college

ASTORIA REGATTA
OREGON FISH FESTIVAL

ASTORIA REGATTA
OREGON FISH FESTIVAL

ASTORIA REGATTA
OREGON FISH FESTIVAL

LAWRENCE (Larry) BARBER, pictured above, was recently named admiral for the 1965 Astoria Regatta to be held August 27-29.

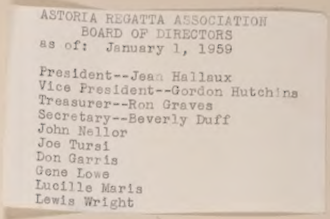
1965 Regatta Admiral Told

The 1965 Astoria Regatta, which will be held Aug. 27-29, will have as its admiral a man who is well known to local residents.

Lawrence (Larry) Barber, 63, was born and educated in Normal, Illinois, and came to Portland in July 1926, joining the staff of the Oregonian as a reporter. Since 1932 he has been marine editor, and may be considered "dean" of maritime writers on the Pacific coast. Since 1947 he has written the weekly boating feature, "River Ramblings" in the Sunday Oregonian.

Barber covered several Astoria Regattas as a reporte before World War II, an caught "salmon fever" whe he hooked his first chinoo salmon as a guest on the lat Mason Dillard's boat in 1939 The desire to fish prompte him to purchase his first boat the 19-foot Little Shaver, i 1941, and he moved up in 194 to the 31-foot Rambler, wit which he has made 10 trip up and down the Washingto coast between the Columbi river and British Columbia.

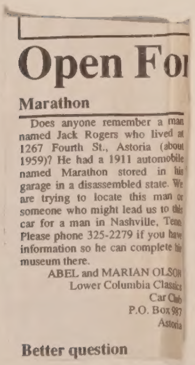
Barber is a past commande of the Portland Power Squadron, is an honorary member o several Portland area yach clubs, and this year is a paid up member of Astoria Yacht club. He is a member of the Oregon state marine board, of the governor's Oregon outdoor recreation council, the lower Columbia river advisory council, the Multnomah county sheriff's advisory committee, the board of directors of the Portland Maritime Museum, Inc., Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 74, Inc., and recently has been serving as a consultant for the marine technology course proposed for Clatsop college.



ASTORIA REGATTA ASSOCIATION
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
as of: January 1, 1959

President--Jean Hallaux
Vice President--Gordon Hutchins
Treasurer--Ron Graves
Secretary--Beverly Duff
John Nellor
Joe Tursi
Don Garris
Gene Lowe
Lucille Maris
Lewis Wright

FABIAN BACHRACH



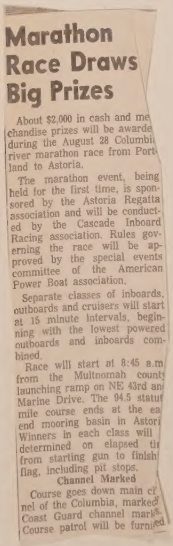
Open For

Marathon

Does anyone remember a man named Jack Rogers who lived at 1267 Fourth St., Astoria (about 1959)? He had a 1911 automobile named Marathon stored in his garage in a disassembled state. We are trying to locate this man or someone who might lead us to this car for a man in Nashville, Tenn. Please phone 325-2279 if you have information so he can complete his museum there.

ABEL and MARIAN OLSON
Lower Columbia Classics
Car Club
P.O. Box 987
Astoria

Better question



Marathon Race Draws Big Prizes

About $2,000 in cash and me chandise prizes will be awarde during the August 28 Columbia river marathon race from Portland to Astoria.

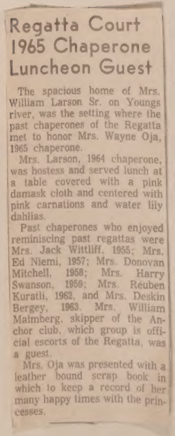
The marathon event, being held for the first time, is sponsored by the Astoria Regatta association and will be conducted by the Cascade Inboard Racing association. Rules governing the race will be approved by the special events committee of the American Power Boat association.

Separate classes of inboards, outboards and cruisers will start at 15 minute intervals, beginning with the lowest powered outboards and inboards combined.

Race will start at 8:45 a.m from the Multnomah county launching ramp on NE 43rd and Marine Drive. The 94.5 statut mile course ends at the ea end mooring basin in Astori Winners in each class will determined on elapsed ti from starting gun to finish flag, including pit stops.

Channel Marked

Course goes down main ch nel of the Columbia, marked Coast Guard channel marks. Course patrol will be furnied



Regatta Court 1965 Chaperone Luncheon Guest

The spacious home of Mrs. William Larson Sr. on Youngs river, was the setting where the past chaperones of the Regatta met to honor Mrs. Wayne Oja, 1965 chaperone.

Mrs. Larson, 1964 chaperone, was hostess and served lunch at a table covered with a pink damask cloth and centered with pink carnations and water lily dahlias.

Past chaperones who enjoyed reminiscing past regattas were Mrs. Jack Wittliff, 1955; Mrs. Ed Niemi, 1957; Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, 1958; Mrs. Harry Swanson, 1959; Mrs. Reuben Kuratli, 1962, and Mrs. Deskin Bergey, 1963. Mrs. William Malmberg, skipper of the Anchor club, which group is official escorts of the Regatta, was a guest.

Mrs. Oja was presented with a leather bound scrap book in which to keep a record of her many happy times with the princesses.